MR BURCK: Your Honor, objection One of the -- two of the entries refer to payments Actually, three of the entries One is a May 2011 payment All the evidence in this case, including Mr Williams, was that that was a loan And then there's a wedding payment of

May 2011 and also a payment May 2012, which, again, all the evidence, including Mr Williams, said that was a loan And this is referred to as a payment on this chart So I think it's a characterization, Your Honor

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, a loan is a payment The jury has heard the evidence about that They can take that for what it's worth It goes to weight, not admissibility

THE COURT: All right The objection is overruled

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Agent Hulser, looking at this chart, can you tell us, the first entry for April 2011 shopping, is that taken from the Jonnie Williams American Express bill, the chart that you showed us yesterday?

A Yes, it is

Q And then the $50,000 and the $15,000, are those to the two checks from Starwood Trust in May of 2011?

A They are

Q And can you tell us, the May 2011 Kinloch Golf, where did you get that total of 2380 24 from?

A From Jonnie Williams' Kinloch statement

Q Now, the next entry down, Smith Mountain Lake from July 2011, did you take that from Mr McDonnell's SOEI?

A That's correct

Q So does that include anything other than the boat rental that was referenced on the SOEI?

A No

Q The next one down, Kinloch Golf in August of 2011, is that also from Mr Williams' bill?

A It is

Q And is that only the golf when Mr McDonnell was there on August 13th?

A That's correct

Q So does that include any of the golf from Sean McDonnell or Bobby McDonnell when Mr McDonnell wasn't there?

A No, it doesn't

Q The next entry down, the Rolex, August/December 2011, where did you get that bill?

A From Mr Williams' AMEX bill, the statement

Q Was that actually the Visa bill that we looked at earlier

A The Visa bill, yes

Q Now, the Kinloch Golf in January of 2012, where did you get that total from?

A Again, from Mr Williams' statement from Kinloch

Q And then the next two, the $50,000 and the $20,000, are those the dollar amounts of the check and the wire from Starwood Trust?

A Yes

Q The next one down, Chatham Bars Inn, can you tell us where you took that number from?

A From Mr McDonnell's SOEI

Q And is that number actually lower than the number of the lodging that was there?

A Yes

Q But did you take this number essentially to try to be conservative on it?

A Correct

Q Now, going down to Kinloch Golf in November of 2012, can you tell us why it says "Caddies Only" there?

A That's only the amount that was on Mr Williams' bill for that outing The rest of the tab was picked up by another member, David Dean

Q And then finally, the Donnie Williams amount, invoiced March of 2013, where did you get that dollar amount from?

A From the invoice Donnie Williams provided

Q And is that total there at the bottom just totaling up everything above it?

A It is

Q Now, Special Agent Hulser, these dollar amounts that we're looking at here, to be clear, do these include anything for the dinner after the Cure By Design event?

A No

Q Does this include anything for the dinner at La Grotta after the Healthcare Leaders Reception?

A No

Q Are you purporting to encompass every single thing of value given by Mr Williams to the McDonnells on this chart?

A No

Q All right Now, do you recall the investigation being reported on in the media at some point in the spring of 2013?

A I do

Q After that time, did the McDonnells give some of the things of value they received from Mr Williams back to Mr Williams through their respective attorneys?

A They did

Q To be clear, from the time of Ms McDonnell's interview with law enforcement until stories hitting the media, were any of the items returned?

A No

Q I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 528 Is this a letter and check from Cailin McDonnell Young and Christopher Young's attorneys?

A It is

Q Or I guess a letter from their attorneys on the first page?

A Correct, the letter

Q And turning to the second page, is that a check from Christopher Michael Young to Starwood Trust?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 528 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, looking at that check on the second page, what's the dollar amount on that check?

A $15,000

Q To be clear, though, Special Agent Hulser, was the $15,000 check from Starwood Trust that was written in May 2011, was that deposited into Christopher Young's bank account?

A No

Q Was the wedding refund from Great Seasons Catering deposited into Christopher Young's bank account?

A No

Q All right I'd like to show you Exhibit 527, marked for identification Is this a letter from Mr McDonnell's attorneys to Mr Williams' attorneys?

A Yes

Q And is the second page a copy of two checks attached to that letter from Mr McDonnell's attorneys?
A Yes
MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 528 into evidence -- or 527, sorry, into evidence
THE COURT: It will be admitted
BY MR FAULCONER:
Q Now, if we could turn back to the first page Is that the letter there that we were talking about?
A It is
Q And going to the second page, could you tell us the dollar amount of the check at the top there?
A $71,837.
Q Do you see there where it says "Full MoBo, LLC loan repayment" in the memo line?
A I do
Q To be clear, did you ever recover any sort of loan agreement showing MoBo, LLC?
A No
Q Do you see there where it says July 18th, 2013, on the second check?
A Yes
Q And what's the dollar amount of that check?
A $52,278 17
Q And is that a check from Maureen McDonnell's account?

A It is

Q And going back to the first page, that's the letter from Mr. McDonnell's attorneys, right?

A Correct

Q Now, did you receive any sort of loan agreement for the $50,000 repayment?

A No

Q Now, Special Agent Hulser, after the investigation went public, did the McDonnells also give certain physical items to Mr Williams through their respective attorneys -- or sorry, certain physical items that they received from Mr Williams back to Mr Williams through their respective attorneys?

A Yes

Q And after Mr Williams received those items through his attorneys, what happened to them?

A They were turned over to the FBI

Q And for some of those items, have there been corresponding exhibit numbers with an (a) at the end that have been offered into evidence as photos during trial?

A Yes

Q Now, I'd like to start with a couple of -- or one item for which we have only a photograph I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 16a Now, Special Agent Hulser, is this a photograph of two iPhones given by Mr Williams to the McDonnells?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 16a into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR FAULCONER: And can we publish that photo?

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Special Agent Hulser, to be clear, am I correct these -- the iPhones themselves were not returned, but a dollar amount was returned to try to correspond to those?

A Correct

Q All right Now I'd like to walk through, with the assistance of the Court Security Officer, some of the physical items, and I'd like to start with what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 8 Special Agent Hulser, is that a Oscar de la Renta sweater?

A Yes, it is.

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 8 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And, Agent Hulser, was this one of the items returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q And could you hold it up for the jury to see?

MR FAULCONER: And, Your Honor, do you want us to just have the Court Security Officer hold those over there and then publish them at the end or how do you want us to deal with this?

THE COURT: I don't see any -- if you mean by publishing, pass them to the jury, that's not going to happen

MR FAULCONER: Right

THE COURT: But they can see it We'll just take and put it with the rest of the exhibits

MR FAULCONER: Got it

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now I'd like to hand up what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 9 And if I could grab also 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14 And Special Agent Hulser, could you tell us, are 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, are those shirts, some with Kinloch logos, that were returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibits 9 through 14 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And if you could just hold those up briefly, Special Agent Hulser

All right Now if I could hand up, with the assistance of the Court Security Officer, Exhibit 15 Special Agent Hulser, is this a painting returned to Mr Williams by the McDonnells?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 15 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now I'd like to hand you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 17 Agent Hulser, are these two pairs of golf shoes returned to Mr Williams by the McDonnells?

A They are

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 17 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q I'd like to hand up what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 23 Special Agent Hulser, is this a Louis Vuitton wallet returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 23 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q I'd like to hand up Exhibit 24 And Special Agent Hulser, is this a pair of earrings returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 24 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q I'd like to hand up Exhibit 25 Special Agent Hulser, is this a Chatham Bars Inn sweatshirt returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 25 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now I'd like to hand up Exhibit 27 And, Special Agent Hulser, is this a carton containing Anatabloc that the McDonnells returned to Mr Williams?

A It is Multiple boxes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 27 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR FAULCONER: All right Now I'd like to hand up Exhibit 28 Special Agent Hulser, is this a Louis Vuitton trench coat returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 28 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now I'd like to do Exhibit 29 Special Agent Hulser, is this a Oscar de la Renta coat returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 29 into evidence

THE COURT: Go ahead

MR FAULCONER: Exhibit 29 we'd offer into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And I'd like to hand up Exhibit 30 Special Agent Hulser, is this two blue dresses, along with a jacket, that were returned to Mr Williams?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit

30 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q I'd like to hand up Exhibit 31 Agent Hulser, is this a Oscar de la Renta dress that was returned to Mr Williams?

A Yes, it is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 31 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q I'd like to hand up Exhibit 32 And Special Agent Hulser, is this a Louis Vuitton purse that was returned to Mr Williams?

A Yes, it is

Q I'd like to hand up Exhibit 34 Is this a yellow dress that was returned to Mr Williams?

A It is

Q And I'd like to hand up Exhibit 35

THE COURT: You need to move in -- you've gone through a series without --

MR FAULCONER: Have I gone through some without admitting, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes

MR FAULCONER: What was the last one that I admitted?

THE COURT: I think you're at 31 or 32

MR FAULCONER: Okay Your Honor, we'd offer, just to make sure we're getting all of them, Exhibits 30, 31, and 32 into evidence

THE COURT: They'll be admitted

MR FAULCONER: And also 34, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Exhibit 35, Special Agent Hulser, is this a pair of Rebecca Minkoff shoes?

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 35 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And were these also returned to Mr Williams, Agent Hulser?

A Yes

Q I'd like to hand you Exhibit 36 Special Agent Hulser, is this a pair of Louis Vuitton shoes that were returned to Mr Williams?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 36 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And Exhibit 37 Is this another pair of Louis Vuitton shoes that were returned to Mr Williams?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 37 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR FAULCONER: And I think the next one might be up with the Deputy Clerk, but I'd like to just to confirm the order in which this went Give Special Agent Hulser what's been entered into evidence as Exhibit 33, the watch

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Well, I guess to try to save a little bit of time, Agent Hulser, was the watch one of the items that was returned to the FBI by Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q Now I'd like to hand up together Exhibits 19 and 22 And, Special Agent Hulser, is this a Kinloch Golf bag for Exhibit 19, as well as assorted golf clubs for Exhibit 22 that were returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 19 and 22 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q I'd like to hand up Exhibit 20 and 21 together Special Agent Hulser, are these -- is Exhibit 20 a UVA golf bag?

A It is

Q And is Exhibit 21 a set of Callaway golf clubs?

A Yes

Q And were these also items returned to Mr Williams and then the FBI by the McDonnells?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibits 20 and 21 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And then I'd like to also hand up Exhibit 18 Special Agent Hulser, is this a Notre Dame golf bag that was returned by the McDonnells to Mr Williams?

A Yes, it is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 18 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Agent Hulser, I'd like to show you on the screen now what's been marked for identification as

Exhibit 529 Is this an inventory of some of these physical items that the McDonnells gave to Mr Williams, through their attorneys, after the investigation went public?

A Yes, it is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 529 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Agent Hulser, in your review of the McDonnells' bank accounts and credit card records, did you ever find any expenses that appeared to be for a Rolex watch?

A No

Q Did you find any expenses that appeared to be for luxury cars?

A No

Q Did you find any expenses or credit card purchases at Kinloch Golf Club?

A No

Q In what was the dollar amounts and the physical items that were sent back to Mr Williams, was there anything included for the boat rental at Smith Mountain Lake?

A No

Q Was there anything included for the dinner at

La Grotta?

A No

Q Was there anything included for the dinner after the Cure By Design event?

A No

Q Was there anything included for the trip to Chatham Bars Inn?

A No

Q Was there anything included for any of the golf that Mr McDonnell played on Mr Williams' tab at Kinloch Golf Club?

A No

MR FAULCONER: One moment, Your Honor

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR FAULCONER: No further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Cross

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Good afternoon, Agent How are you?

A Good afternoon How are you?

Q Fine Thank you

You started working on this case about two and a half years ago; is that correct?

A No, sir I started last May, June time frame

Q Okay But other agents have been working on this case for approximately two and a half years?

A Correct

Q All right And you described a total of eight agents working on the case, obviously, in addition to the prosecution team?

A Yes, sir

Q And that included IRS agents as well?

A One

Q One IRS agent Okay And you, sir, have a -- do you have a CPA degree? Do you have an accounting -- you said you had CPA experience Do you have --

A Yes

Q -- a CPA license?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay And I take it that you all have looked at -- with respect to my client, Mr McDonnell, you've looked at all of his relevant tax returns?

A All of the relevant ones, yes

Q And that would include state and federal tax returns?

A Yes

Q And you've looked at every bank account that he's associated with?

A That we were aware of

Q Well, do you have any -- do you think you found them all?

A I believe so

Q You've looked at every credit card and statements related to credit cards that he's associated with?

A Yes

Q You have interviewed, both inside and outside of the grand jury, all of his children?

A Let me think about that I personally have not

Q Somebody -- somebody on your team I don't mean you personally

A I believe so I'm not sure if every single one of the children has been interviewed, but a number of them have

Q How about the people who are married to his children? Do you recall them being interviewed or put in the grand jury as well?

A Yes

Q How about his sister Maureen?

A Yes

Q And her former husband, Mr Uncapher?

A Correct

Q A number of Mr McDonnell's friends have been interviewed; is that correct?

A I don't know You'd have to tell me who that would be

Q Well, did you interview people who knew him that were not working in the government?

A Yes

Q Did you interview or put in the grand jury all of his staff?

A Not all of his staff, but a good number of people that worked in his office

Q How about all of his Cabinet members?

A No

Q A number of them you've interviewed or talked to as well, though?

A Some

Q All the ones that you thought might be relevant?

A I'm sorry?

Q All the ones that you all thought might be relevant?

A Correct

Q All right Now, getting into -- and basically, you subpoenaed all the documents that you wanted from my client and from his office?

A We've subpoenaed your client and from his office, and we have what we have, what was turned over to us

Q Okay And those included personal notes that my client had made that you all were interested in?

A Some that we've seen

Q Okay Do you have any reason to believe that there are others that you have not seen?

A I don't know I can just testify to what we have seen

Q Okay Now, you've -- you've searched phones, is that correct, phone accounts?

A We've analyzed phone records

Q Okay And you've gotten text message records from my client; is that right?

A Some

Q All right And you did not, by the way, get any text messages or recover any text messages, either screen shots of text messages or the actual text messages, for correspondence or texts between Mr Williams and Mary-Shea Sutherland, correct, relating to the time frame when she wrote her Dear Diary letter?

A The Dear Diary letter?

Q Right Where she references --

A I don't believe it covered -- I don't believe it -- I personally have not seen anything in reference to that

Q Do you know what I'm talking about in terms of her Dear Diary letter?

A I believe so

Q Where she references that she has made a -- she had sent a number of text to Mr Williams that she has made screen shots of, supposedly?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor That's mischaracterizing the letter It says that they were printed out and --

THE COURT: Well, the letter is in --

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Printed out --

THE COURT: -- evidence Go ahead

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Printed out text messages that she referenced in that letter?

A I recall her testimony, sir

Q All right And you have not recovered any of those printouts or any of the texts between the two of them that might relate to that; is that correct?

A No, sir

Q You have not recorded -- or you have not recovered any recorded calls; is that right?

A Correct

Q And you have not recovered any recorded conversations; is that correct?

A Off of your client?

Q Yeah Or of anyone associated with this case

Did you record any phone calls or record any conversations?

A Not associated with this case, no

Q Now, you've talked about a number of phone calls or -- phone calls that you've referenced in your charts that you've gone over?

A Right

Q By "charts," I mean the exhibits that look like this

A Right

Q And you did not reference in those ones -- or very rarely did you reference ones that were more than -- that were less than a minute; is that correct?

A Correct We -- we focused more on the ones that were over a minute.

Q Okay And that's not to suggest that a -- that a one minute or less call could not be significant, correct?

A Correct

Q Now, I believe you also said that in your charts you only included calls that you thought were relevant to the investigation?

A Those calls that were related and surrounding significant events, and they were laid out in a way that would allow the jury to make that judgment

Q All right But you've chosen ones that you've wanted, essentially, that you thought were relevant for your purposes, correct?

A That's correct

Q All right And so -- and you don't have any recordings So there's no way to tell whether other calls that you have not included might be relevant to this case, correct?

A Correct

Q And you testified, I believe, how many calls were there between -- or texts or calls between my client and Mr Williams in 2011?

A In 2011, I think there was one call and five texts In 2012, I believe there was 9 calls and 22 texts

Q Okay And in 2012 --

A Correct that I think it was 5 calls and 22

Q I'm sorry I didn't hear you I was talking over you I apologize

A Yeah No I apologize In 2012, I think it was 5 and 22

Q All right One call in 2011 and -- I'm sorry, and how many texts?

A I believe it was nine

Q Nine texts Okay And then in 2012, 5 calls and 22 texts, correct?

A I believe so

Q And of the calls in 2012, is that when the Chatham Bars Inn trip incurred?

A That's when it occurred

Q And what percentage of the calls or texts in 2012 between my client and Mr Williams surrounded the time frame of the Chatham Bars vacation?

A I can't recall, unless you give me an exhibit that I can look at

Q Well, I don't have an exhibit But would 30 percent of those calls or texts, would that be a fair estimate of the ones that were, in essence, around the time frame of the Chatham Bars event?

A Possibly, but I don't have that data in front of me at the moment

Q And that's not something you've calculated; is that correct?

A I'm sorry?

Q That's not something that you have calculated?

A No

Q Okay In your investigation of my client, did you also conduct any inquiry into his credit scores or credit ratings in 2010, '11, and '12?

A I saw bank records that referenced his credit score So I've seen some documents from the loan analysis

Q All right And those credit scores were excellent at all times?

A I believe so

Q With respect to the credit card statement that you've talked about, and I'll get into this in some more detail, did you calculate at any given time or during, for example, during 2010 or 2011 and 2012, with respect to all of the credit cards for the McDonnells, what sort of excess capacity there was on those cards? And by that, let me give you an example If I have a credit card with a $50,000 line of credit on it and I've got $10,000 in debt to the credit company, I would have $40,000 in capacity

Have you ever made that sort of calculation?

A Not so much a calculation But I have seen the credit limits on the cards in going through the records

Q All right And were you aware that -- that during the time frame of this case, the unused credit limits were in the 175 to $200,000 range?

A Sure I'm sure it would fluctuate

Q Well, I mean, were you aware that there was that kind of credit card capacity for the McDonnells during the relevant period of this case?

A I never calculated the total capacity of credit card availability

Q All right Were you aware that with respect to the credit cards, that in addition to be able to -- to being able to charge an item on the credit card, I go to a store and charge something, that there were convenience checks associated with those credit card accounts? So if I wanted to, instead of buying an item, write myself a check for $5,000, I could do that on a credit card?

A For a cash advance?

Q Yes

A Yes, sir, I am aware of that

Q And those sorts of things were available on those credit cards; is that correct?

A Yep

Q All right Now, with respect to short phone calls, you know, roughly a minute or less or a minute or two minutes, could a lot of calls that are referenced in your charts be voice messages, as opposed to connected calls and conversations?

A They could possibly be

Q All right So when you say call, it doesn't necessarily mean call, as opposed to call or voice mail?

A It means that a call was connected in some form or fashion

Q But either to a mailbox or to a human being?

A Possibly

Q Now, with respect to the Governor's schedule -- and you have looked at the various schedule records for various days in this case; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

Q And have you found times when scheduled events did not occur?

A I'm sure that there are We did hear some testimony about things changing in the schedule periodically

Q Well, in particular, did you find occasions when scheduled lunches with -- that are part of your charts with Ms McDonnell did not occur?

A I'm not aware of any

Q All right And you knew that schedules changed, though, sometimes immediately before events or on the day of events; is that correct?

A We heard -- we heard testimony both ways We heard that sometimes things changed, but we also heard when he was Governor, that oftentimes he did stick to the schedule

Q So you've heard he tried to stick to the schedule, but sometimes things happened, correct?

A Sure

Q Okay Would you take a look at Exhibit -- your Exhibit 568, please

MR ASBILL: Would you pull that up?

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is the credit card -- RFM and MM credit card debt; is that right?

A Correct

Q Did you prepare a chart that showed whether or not any payments, scheduled payments were missed or whether they were current?

A No

Q All right Let's look at 569 This you call "MoBo Real Estate Partners, LLC, Rental real Estate Summary," right?

A Correct

Q And it appears, does it not, that in 2010, the rental income was going up? Is that right?

A It was

Q And there was a slight increase at that time in real estate expenses, however, too, right?

A Correct

Q But the net was below what it was -- the net income rental expense loss was down by roughly $3,000?

A The loss reduced Correct

Q Okay So is this a reflection that the rental market was improving in 2010?

A I can't -- I can't opine on the -- whether or not the rental market was improving But the rental real estate income number for MoBo did increase from 2009 to 2010

Q Well, wouldn't that be a reflection that the rental market was improving if the rental income went up 20 grand?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor Asked and answered

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Let's take a look at 570 This relates to the shopping trip in New York City; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q All right And there's no evidence on this chart that my client was involved or aware of it?

A Not on this chart

Q All right And let's take a look at Exhibit 571 And none of these are items for my client; is that correct?

A I don't believe so

Q Let's take a look at 572 This is the RFM and MM credit card debt from January 2010 to April 2011; is that correct?

A That's correct The combined credit card balances

Q Okay And you don't go down past April 2011, do you?

A No The purpose of this chart was to show where it was leading up to the shopping trip

Q Okay That was your purpose in preparing this chart?

A Well, that was, again, for the determination of the jury and to give them the facts to make their conclusion

Q Okay And there was a high in this chart time frame of approximately $91,000?

A Yes, sir

Q But by April, it was down to roughly $31,000?

A That's correct

Q Is that right?

A It is

Q And all of this, the $31,000 figure, that was all before the 5/23, or May 23, $50,000 loan to Maureen McDonnell, right?

A Correct

Q And did you go back and try to look at my client's financial affairs in any way prior to January of 2010?

A Well, through the analysis of MoBo, going back through 2009

Q Okay MoBo aside Him personally, or the family personally, Mr and Ms. McDonnell, prior to January 2010?

A Our records didn't include much prior to that I mean, that was pretty much when our records began.

Q Well, how about your research, as opposed to your records? Did your investigation go back into 2009?

A No

Q Do you have any idea what happened in 2009 with respect to my client in terms of what he was doing or what he was working at?

A I knew that he was running for Governor

Q Did you know that he had resigned his position as

Attorney General during 2009, in February --

A Yes

Q -- and was not receiving a state salary?

A I knew that he was running for Governor

Q Did you know that he was not receiving a state salary because he was running for Governor?

A I would assume that would be the case

Q All right Let's take a look at 573 These are the overall phone record totals, I guess, of calls more than a minute; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q All right And you calculate, essentially, that the calls between my client and his wife were greater than the calls between Ms McDonnell and Jonnie Williams, in terms of doing it this way; is that correct?

A Calls in excess of a minute That's correct

Q All right Now, did you ever try to -- to calculate the amount of time on the calls between my client and his wife versus the amount of time on the calls between Ms McDonnell and Jonnie Williams?

A I did not

Q So you don't know if the amount of time that my client and his wife spoke, actually spoke on calls, no matter what the number of calls are, you don't know whether that exceeds the amount of time she spent talking to Mr Williams, do you?

A I don't know either way

Q Would that be relevant to you?

A Potentially

Q Let's talk about Exhibit 575 In the middle there, you show a number of one-minute calls, about a half a dozen of them; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q And I just want to use this as an illustrative That's an example of things that could easily be voice messages?

A Could be

Q Okay Let's go to 574 And this is an exhibit about May 1; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

Q And this demonstrates that, in the middle of the page, that my client is texting with his sister about bank options, bank loan options and possible sale of property?

A That's what it says

Q That's what the text says, does it not?

A Yes

Q Okay And those texts were all produced by my client's sister, is that right, or my client?

A Yes, sir

Q Did you find any -- any -- by the way, just in general, did you find any calls or texts or e-mails from my client to anyone at UVA or VCU?

A I'm sorry Could you say that again?

Q Yeah Did you find any calls, texts or e-mails from my client to anyone at UVA or VCU?

A Nothing that's in these schedules I can't say, from all of the records, whether or not that occurred

Q Okay Did you find any calls or texts or e-mails from my client to anyone at the Tobacco Commission?

A Not that I'm aware of.

Q Okay Let's go to 576 This is a May 23rd, 2011, exhibit; is that correct?

A It is

Q Did you match that up against my client's schedule for the day, his calendar for the day?

A His schedule is listed for the day

MR ASBILL: Well, let me pull up RM-0178-0600, which is in evidence Can you blow that up, please

BY MR ASBILL:

Q In your exhibit -- and I just want you to have this in comparison to your exhibit too, have it together in comparison with your exhibit But my question to you is does his calendar indicate that he's in the Patrick Henry Building, not the Mansion?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor The chart says Patrick Henry Building on it

MR ASBILL: Okay

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me ask you this Did you include in your chart a reflection that my client had a meeting with Lisa Hicks-Thomas in the Patrick Henry Building that was supposed to start at 12:15 p m ?

A If you could flip back to the chart so I could make sure

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Can we go back to 576?

A Now, the schedule reports private work time at the Patrick Henry Building at the Governor's Office

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q It doesn't say anything about the meeting with Lisa Hicks-Thomas that you see?

A Not on that schedule

Q On his calendar at all, do you see anything about that meeting?

A The calendar you just had up?

Q Yeah

A Yeah, I did see a reference to that

Q Okay So would it appear that he, during the 12:15 time frame, was meeting with Lisa Hicks-Thomas, according to his calendar?

A I don't know I mean, according to his calendar, that's what's placed on there But I couldn't testify to whether or not he had that meeting or not

Q So you don't know one way or the other?

A I don't

Q All right Let's go to 529 -- excuse me 577 This is a May 29 exhibit, and you reflect in the middle of the page at 9:14 p m , there's a phone call of 1 05 minutes And you say this is the first RFM/JRW cell phone; is that correct?

A Correct

Q But, again, this could be a voice message?

A It's possible

Q All right Let's go to 579 The yellow credit cards, CitiCard, Bank of America, PenFed Visa, these are in my client's name, correct?

A Correct

Q Do you know whether Ms McDonnell has subaccounts on those cards?

A I don't know

Q Okay Let's go to Exhibit 580 Second page Now, this shows deposits and withdrawals from combined accounts of Mr and Ms McDonnell; is that correct?

A Yes

Q All right If the deposits are exceeded in a given month by the withdrawals, then you show that as red; is that correct?

A It's negative Correct

Q It's negative But that doesn't mean to suggest, does it, that the account balances at the end of the month are negative?

A No That's correct It just shows the activity, the ins and the outs

Q It shows the ins and the outs I put in a hundred thousand and I spend 120, it doesn't mean I don't have 20 left in my account, right?

A That's correct

Q Okay Let's go to 581 This exhibit is sort of -- I think may be another example This refers to Smith Mountain Lake The 7/30 entry, Saturday, July 30 entry, shows seven phone calls, right? And one is for almost 8 minutes, and the rest are a minute 32 or less; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q So all of those could be voice mails as well; is that right?

A Well, they are calls that were made So I don't -- I don't know what actually transpired with the call We don't have any recordings

Q Okay And you reference at the top that 7/28, Thursday, that "Outlook event placed on MM calendar for 8/1 " That's -- Mary-Shea Sutherland placed that on Ms McDonnell's calendar?

A She did

Q Okay And this is the exhibit that you have the map of Virginia on and cell phone towers, et cetera?

A Yes, sir

Q All right And on the cell phone tower exhibits --

MR ASBILL: Let me go to the fourth page of this exhibit

BY MR ASBILL:

Q -- you indicate that at 8:12 p m there is a 1 minute and 15 second call between Ms McDonnell and Jonnie Williams?

A That's what the records indicate

Q Okay And that also could be a voice mail, as opposed to a connected call, or connected in-person call?

A It's possible The call was made

Q Okay And at 8:13 there is a call from Jonnie Williams to Ms McDonnell; is that right?

A Correct

Q And you assume that that one connected because it's hard to leave a 14-minute voice message, or at least shoot me in the head if you do that, right?

A (Nodding head)

Q Okay Now, with respect to that call, I mean, do you know what, if any, portion of that my client overheard?

A No

Q Do you know what the sound level is in a Ferrari driving back --

A Unfortunately not

Q -- from Smith Mountain Lake?

A Unfortunately, I don't

Q You would have liked to have taken that trip?

A I would love to drive a Ferrari

Q Now, those pages of that exhibit on Smith Mountain Lake do not show any communications at all between my client and Mr Williams, do they?

A No

Q All right Let's go to Exhibit 582 This is August 1 This relates to August 1, right?

A Yes

Q I think it's a one-page exhibit; is that correct?

A I believe so

Q All right And it ends at 12:14 with Jonnie Williams leaving the Mansion?

A Correct

Q And did you know that at 12:30 Jonnie Williams and Mary-Shea Sutherland had a lunch in which they discuss a job?

A I heard the testimony I can't recall the date when they met

Q All right And there is a meeting that you reflect with Molly Huffstetler; is that correct? Or she arrives at the Mansion at 9:55 a m You reflect that in your chart?

A Correct

Q Okay And is there any place in your chart that reflects an 11:45 e-mail from Ms Huffstetler to Mr Williams with a polite no message?

A Not in this chart

Q Okay And do you know whether or not at -- from any source, calendar or otherwise, that my client was in a Cabinet meeting at 9:41 a m that morning?

A No I have -- I don't have that knowledge

Q Do you know at 10:00 whether or not he's on a phone call with a state senator?

A I do not know

Q Do you recall that Ms Huffstetler testified that she had to wait for at least ten minutes after she arrived at 9:55 to begin the meeting?

A I believe I do recall her stating that

Q Okay So if there's a four-minute call between my client and his wife at 10:01 a m , that would be before as opposed to during the Huffstetler meeting; is that correct?

A If Ms Huffstetler's memory on that is accurate to the minute, yes

Q Okay Now, Ms Huffstetler, do you recall her testifying also that when she sent her e-mail, that the meeting had not yet started?

A I don't recall I'd have to review her testimony

Q If her e-mail is in the record at 10:22 a m , that would mean that the meeting did not start until that time?

A I don't know

Q All right Let's go on to Exhibit 583 This is Kinloch -- or communications surrounding Kinloch Golf; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay So the first one there on 8/5, that's when Sean McDonnell and his friend were playing with Mr Williams?

A They were playing I'm not sure if Mr Williams was playing

Q Okay And then you say, in the next entry on 8/7, two days later, that that's the first cell contact between my client and Mr Williams?

A Since May 29th

Q Okay Do you have that text message?

A No Only what the records indicate

Q And then there's another one on 8/8 And do you have that text message?

A We just have the -- the records that indicate there was a text between the two, between the two cell phones

Q Okay And the same would be true on the 8/13 entry at 9:59 a m ?

A That's correct

Q Okay Let's go to Exhibit 584 This is August 15, 16 time frame And the entry at the bottom at 2:50 p m , and this indicates -- this is a -- this is a text message, is that correct, or is it an e-mail?

A I'd have to look at Government Exhibit 207 I can't remember if that's an e-mail or if it's a text

Q Okay In any event, this is an RFM Travel Aide So this is not my client This is Mr Zubowsky; is that correct?

A That's Mr Zubowsky likely It's -- that's the RFM Travel Aide

Q Okay And whether it's text or e-mail, he sends a message to Mary-Shea Sutherland to the effect, "Can you send me info on the fl" -- that would be First Lady? -- "lunch at the Mansion, the wtop day, so I can ask him Know he's going to ask for details"?

A That's correct That's what it states

Q Okay So he's asking for details to talk to Governor

McDonnell And so -- at 2:50 p m So would it be fair to infer that the 2:47 p m call between my client and his wife did not relate to this?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me talk to you about another event that's not on your chart I want to talk about the date of October 21, 2011, and try to see if I can refresh your recollection quickly This is -- this is the day before the Flint, Michigan, trip that Jonnie Williams testified about

And he basically testified that before -- on the Friday before the event, that's the date I'm talking about, he called and talked to my client and asked him if it was okay for his wife to go to that event, et cetera

Do you remember that testimony?

A I recall that

Q Right And he just wanted to make sure that was okay And my question to you is did you look at any cell phone records of Mr Williams, or any other hard line phone calls from Mr Williams, and determine whether or not there was a corresponding call that corroborated that claim?

A I looked at Mr Williams' records, which were 10,000 pages But if you have something you'd like me to review

MR ASBILL: May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Go ahead

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Would you look on there for October 21 and see if you see a corresponding call?

A What line are you referencing, sir? There's three pages of October 21

Q Do you know what his phone number is or what my client's phone number is?

A I do, but --

Q I can't find any one on there

A Was there a specific one --

Q If you can, that's what I'm asking you to do

A Okay This is going to -- now, what time again?

Q I don't know what time

A 10/21 --

Q Yeah

A -- the date? I don't believe I see one

Q All right Let's move on to Exhibit 589 This is the February 13th to 18th time frame, correct?

A Correct

Q And in this -- on the 16th you reflect -- there's, obviously, an exhibit that says -- a text message that says, "Johnnie Know you have been slammed Do you want me to call your lawyer," et cetera?

A Correct

Q Did you try to match that up with any phone calls that my client made during that time frame, specifically between 11:45 and 12:15 to see what he was doing simultaneously?

A Again, it's not indicated on this chart I'm not saying that that didn't occur, but it's not something that we scheduled

Q Okay With respect to the concept of late night phone calls or e-mails or text messages by my client, did you find a lot of those during the course of your investigation?

A Late night?

Q Yeah Late night, early morning, you know, midnight --

A How do you define that?

Q -- 1 a m , 2 a m ?

A 1 a m , 2 a m ?

Q Yeah

A I mean, I saw some

Q Okay. That was not an infrequent occurrence?

A I never calculated how -- how many times or how frequent it was, but I saw some records that indicated that

Q All right Did you know that during this time frame, my client was planning on traveling out of town on business for four or five days?

A I did not

Q Do you see that?

A I did not

Q Okay Let's go to Exhibit 593 Excuse me Back up to 592 This is the February 27th to 29th time frame, correct?

A Correct

Q And there's a reflection that the -- on the -- in the middle of the page that says, "Gov Ex 345: Meeting; "Topic: Healthcare Group Leaders Reception tonight at the Executive Mansion"?

A Correct

Q And with respect to that quotation, do you recall about what the event was about, et cetera, that that was a -- that topic text was created by Adam Zubowsky, not by my client?

A I don't know who created that, sir

Q Well, let's see if -- see if 593 helps at all

MR ASBILL: Could you go to that one?

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Does that in any way help at all to refresh your recollection?

A To your last question?

Q Yeah If it doesn't, it doesn't I'm sorry

But you don't have any recollection of whether -- how that -- how that notation or that quoted remark about the topic, you don't know who created that or when?

A No.

Q Okay Do you have any reason to believe that my client personally created those kinds of entries?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained He doesn't know, period

We'll stop here for lunch Let's make it 2:05

THE COURT: All right, let's bring in the jury

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, Mr Asbill?

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Good afternoon again

A Good afternoon, Mr Asbill

Q Let me go back to where we broke for lunch. And I think I may have confused you and myself, but I want to go back to Exhibit 592 I believe I was asking you questions about the entry where it says RFM and JRW in the middle of the page and we were talking about the quotation, "Topic: Healthcare Group Leaders "

A Yes, sir

Q Go back up one entry there to Government Exhibit 330 Would you pull that up, please?

And that exhibit through the metadata does reflect, does it not, that it is Mr Zubowsky who on the day before, the 28th, is the one who created the title for that calendar entry?

A Yes, that appears that comes from Mr Zubowsky's account

Q Thank you, sir Let's go to 596. Now, this is MoBo Realty TowneBank Account between my client and his sister; is that correct?

A Correct

Q And that is a two-page exhibit?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay And on the second page in the middle, can we go to that for a second? It indicates on this one, 4-12-12 entry, can you highlight that, please? This shows capital contributions by the two partners totaling $20,000?

A That's correct

Q And in fact, aren't these numbers reversed, namely, that the sister provided 12,500 and Mr McDonnell provided 7,500?

A Unless you can show me some supporting documentation, that's what the chart says

Q Well, you put the chart together, right, from whatever data you had?

A Correct

Q If your data shows a reversal, then that would be the correct entry? That should be the correct entry?

A Well, I believe what's on there is the correct entry, but like I said, if you can show me something different --

Q Okay With respect to this TowneBank account in general, the balance in the TowneBank account is not meant to suggest, is it, that either family's financial health is reflected in this, either the sister or my client?

A The balance in the MoBo account at TowneBank is for that entity, for MoBo

Q Okay And your understanding is that both of the partners contributed funds to it as necessary to operate that LLC?

A They are 50/50 partners

Q But they didn't regularly put or park excess money in that account, correct?

A I'm not aware of that, no

Q Okay And with respect to there was an entry, some of the references, I'm not sure if it is on this page or the page before, you talked about reference to Resource Building Corp expense It may be the previous page Resource Building Corp on 3-27 there at the bottom.

A Yes, sir

Q That was for, your understanding is that's for an upgrade of outdoor space on one or both of the properties?

A Yes I believe the documentation stated something about a cabana and also maybe another improvement in the house

Q Okay And did you assume that those expenses would have been incurred if the partners were financially destitute?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This time frame, the 12th of March that's referenced on a couple of occasions here, were you aware that that was the first day after, in 2012, after the General Assembly completed its work?

A Was I aware?

Q Were you aware that March 12th was the day, the first day after which the General Assembly completed its work?

A I know that the General Assembly meets early in the year I don't know what date they finished

Q Okay Let's take a look at Exhibit 598, please This is in reference to May 18th, correct?

A Yes, sir

Q All right And this is my client and Jonnie Williams going back and forth mostly?

A Yes, sir

Q All right And then all these texts are, they are basically in writing and they are all captured, correct?

A Correct

Q All right Let's go to 600 This is a MoBo Realty snapshot of January through June, 2012; is that correct?

A Correct

Q And again, it is not a holding account, correct?

A It is their operating account

Q Okay And you do not reflect in any of your charts balances, month-end balances for June to October or June to November; is that correct?

A No, this chart is simply January through June

Q Okay And most of the money obviously comes in from rentals, et cetera, during the summer months; is that fair to say?

A That's fair to say

Q Okay Let's take a look at 602 Excuse me, 601 Let me do that one first These are deposits and withdrawals from January to June into the MoBo account, correct?

A That's correct

Q And that time frame reflects an influx of $50,000 relating to -- $70,000 relating to Mr Williams' loans to MoBo?

A It reflects $70,000 in monies that came from Starwood.

Q Okay And is that to suggest that Mr Williams was the only potential source of money to my client or his sister for MoBo?

A No Just the transactions

Q Did you do any personal, did you do any analysis of the personal bank accounts of my client's sister, Maureen McDonnell, or himself in the March to May, 2012 time frame?

A I'm sorry, could you repeat that again?

Q Yes March to May, 2012?

A For who?

Q For both Bob and his sister Maureen Did you look at their personal bank accounts during that time frame to see what sort of cash on hand they had just in their own bank accounts?

A In Mr McDonnell's I did

Q Did you see that he had $50,000?

A It fluctuated in his accounts.

Q And did you see that Maureen, his sister, at one point had at least $70,000 that she got from a cash bonus for her work?

A I don't have records associated with her account

Q Okay Let's take a look at 602-A. This exhibit, correct me if I'm mistaken, shows principal payments; is that correct?

A It does

Q These are principal payments to any lender to MoBo; is that right?

A Mortgages and other loans, correct

Q Okay And in 2012, principal of approximately $80,000 was repaid?

A Correct

Q And that included the repayment of the Dr Davis loan?

A It did.

Q That had been obtained in 2010? The Davis loan was obtained in 2010?

A 2009 and 2010, correct

Q The income from the Dr Davis loan, is that represented here at all?

A No That's only -- that top line just shows money coming in for rentals for the entity

Q All right So does the chart accurately reflect cash flow on MoBo's account?

A The chart accurately reflects the cash shortage by year, which that bottom line, it is labeled Net Cash Disbursements, would be the amount that would have to be paid in through contributions from the partners or other sources

Q Okay

A To make up the shortfall

Q Let's talk about 602-A. This is net cash disbursements, 2009 to 2012 for MoBo; is that right?

A This is the one that we were looking at, correct?

Q I'm sorry, I may have confused myself again Okay, the rental income for the four straight years is going up; is that right?

A Yes

Q And the rental expenses are going down?

A That's correct

Q And the net rental real estate income is positive in 2012?

A The operating income is positive in 2012

Q Okay Let's look at Exhibit 605 This is Chatham Bars Inn expenses

A Correct

Q Now, with respect to the expense items here, this $36,618 is not attributable to my client in its entirety; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q And whatever his share of this was, as reported to him by Starwood or by Mr Williams, was in fact reported by my client on his SOEI report?

A That's what I testified to

Q Okay Let's go to 606. Star Scientific Stock Transactions With respect to this exhibit, the first page of this exhibit that we are looking at right now, you never found a single share of Star stock owned by my client ever, did you?

A Star stock was in Ms McDonnell's name.

Q All right Let me go to 606-A or the next page of this This is your tracking of the ups and downs of Star stock over the time period reflected; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

Q All right And I believe you testified, and correct me if I'm mistaken, that the blue boxes that reflect some sort of text messages between my client and Mr Williams, reflect some or all of the text messages that my client may have sent Mr Williams relating to the stock. Which is it? Is it some or all?

A Well, first of all, there are two texts and two e-mails

Q Okay These four boxes, is that it? Is that all of it?

A No I don't know about, you know, there are other texts and e-mails if that's what your question is

Q Do you have any texts or e-mails that reflect my client commenting on the stock to Mr Williams?

A No, I believe these are the four

Q Okay Now, these blue boxes, do they contain the entirety of the message or just an excerpt from the message?

A I would have to see the actual exhibits that are referenced.

Q Let's look at Government Exhibit 370 Blow that up, please I think what you excerpt is "Stock going great" and there is more text Correct?

A I testified to this entire message earlier

Q I know you testified to the message, but I'm saying it is not on your chart, correct? The rest of the message is not on your chart?

A Correct Just the reference to the stock

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 392 And this is an e-mail; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

Q All right And you have on your chart "Stock looking good and the rest of it is well done Gov " Right?

A Correct

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 395 This is also an e-mail from Mr McDonnell, correct, to Mr Williams?

A Correct

Q And it has "Congrats on the patent for anatabine " That's what's in your chart And "Progress continues" is also part of that message, right?

A Yes, sir

Q Let's go to 396 This is a text message?

A Yes

Q All right And it says, "Good announcements lately Stock looks good. Hope all is well You and Celeste enjoy the Fourth of July Gov "

A Correct

Q Okay Let's go to Exhibit 607 This reflects e-mails or text messages between -- are they all e-mails or texts or both?

A Again, I would have to see the exhibits to answer your question They are either texts or e-mail

Q They are printed messages in one form or another; is that correct?

A Correct

Q Between my client and his wife and regarding Donnie Williams?

A That's right

Q Okay And you picked out these five messages out of -- these were done over a period of two months, right?

A Correct, from December 6th through January 24th

Q Now, does this chart include Ms McDonnell's text to Donnie offering her credit card information?

A Not on this chart

Q But you know that that exhibit exists, right?

A I was here when that was testified to, yes

Q Okay Or does it include Donnie's e-mail to Ms McDonnell attaching an invoice for his services?

A No

Q Or how about a check from Ms McDonnell sent to Donnie paying for his services?

A Not on this chart

Q Okay Let's go to 609 You have a list on 609, "Items from Jonnie Williams to the McDonnells personally and children in presence," correct?

A Yes, sir.

Q This does not include any iPhone of any kind? Is that right?

A This chart does not

Q And you showed a picture or looked at a picture of that in Court today?

A Right

Q Of the iPhone Were those iPhones given to my client?

A Were those iPhones given to your client?

Q Yes

A I believe so

Q Given to my client or given to his wife?

A Oh, I mean, it was given to the family I don't know exactly who they were given to

Q Okay You don't have any evidence that they were ever given to my client, do you?

A No

Q All right And with respect to -- Mr Burck has already made an objection to the use of the word "Payment" for the May, 2011 and March, 2012, and May, 2012 entries Correct?

A I was here when he objected. Yes

Q Okay And even by Mr Williams, these are characterized as loans?

A Excuse me?

Q Did Mr Williams characterize these as loans?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: He has already answered the objectionable question So he can go ahead and answer this

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q All right And the wedding payment, okay, that's another one Now, with respect to the loans, I believe you testified on direct that all of these monies, in essence, the 50, 50 and -- 50, 50, and 20, those three amounts, from May, 2011, March, 2012, and May, 2012, all of those were paid back with interest; is that correct?

A According to the checks, yes

Q All right Now, you talked about -- you can take that exhibit down. You talked about the Virginia State Police interview of Ms McDonnell in 2013 and you talked subsequently about some of the bank transactions, correct?

A Correct

Q And during that time frame, were you aware, I mean, with respect to the February, 2013 time frame, were you aware or are you aware that on the 2nd of February, my client gave a bookkeeper, his bookkeeper, Brenda Chamberlain, total access to all his accounts?

A Am I aware of that?

Q Yes

A I mean, if he did, he did.

Q Well, let me pull up RM-0109-0001 Have you seen this exhibit before?

A I don't know that I have seen this specific e-mail, but --

Q Have you talked to Ms Chamberlain?

A I did interview Ms Chamberlain

Q Do you know that she had on the 2nd of February, excuse me, the 4th of February, I misspoke about the date, that she has got access to all this account information that's referenced in this e-mail?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor Hearsay

THE COURT: Just answer the question. Do you know or not?

THE WITNESS: No, I don't

THE COURT: End of discussion.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Do you know whether or not Ms Chamberlain had access to information from my client that reflected all the Starwood loans?

A I believe, and I can't recall the date, I would have to look at the interview, but I know that she did get information from him about the loans, or about loans from

Starwood

Q In early February?

A I can't recall the date

Q All right Did you know, speaking of February, the 15th is the date of the interview; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And that's Presidents' Day weekend?

A I believe so

Q And the 18th would be Monday, the holiday?

A Correct

Q Were you aware that that was a full workday for the Governor and the General Assembly?

A I wasn't aware of that

Q You never looked at his calendar for that day to see whether or not he had taken the day off or was working?

A I don't specifically recall, you know, his calendar on that date

Q Okay Did you ever compile a list of all the meetings that Governor McDonnell directed his Cabinet members to have over the four years that he was in office? A list of the number of -- did you compile the number?

A No

Q Would you quarrel with a number of about 1,150?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained He hasn't catalogued them. He doesn't know what they are

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q General sense of the volume?

A I have no idea

Q You do know that Mr Williams met once with Dr Hazel, right?

A Yes

Q And once with Molly Huffstetler, right?

A Correct.

Q Any more that you know of with my client's staff?

A I'm sorry?

Q Any more meetings like that with my client's staff, with anyone on my client's staff, that the Governor facilitated?

A Those are the two that I am specifically aware of

Q Okay Let's go back to the Rolex issue for a second. You were in Court when Mr Williams testified about the Rolex, correct?

A I was

Q Direct, cross, redirect, right?

A Correct

Q All right And Mr Williams said that it came from my client, right?

A I'm sorry?

Q Mr Williams testified it came from my client

A What came from your client?

Q The photo of my client wearing the Rolex.

A That's what he testified to

Q Right And you said that the unstated message from my client was, "You've got my chef but I've got your watch," words to that effect

A I believe so. I believe he testified that he saw "Gov" on the Caller ID and what you just stated.

Q And that's what he interpreted the sending of the photo to mean; is that correct?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q That's what he testified to, correct?

A I believe so

Q All right You have looked at the metadata for that photo? Is that correct?

A No, there is no metadata that was turned over to us for that photo

Q There is no metadata for it, from anyone Is that what you are saying?

A There was no -- in the information that we received from your client, there was no metadata attached to that

Q So there is no proof that you are aware of, other than whatever Mr Williams testified to, that my client sent that photograph to Mr Williams; is that right?

A Just based on the testimony

Q That's it Did you ever compile a list or a chart of any kind of all the things that Mr Williams got from the government in return for his cooperation?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q In the quarter century that you have been doing FBI work, white-collar criminal work, and six years as an accountant, that's what I am talking about about the quarter century, have you ever seen a cooperating witness get the kind of deal that Mr Williams got?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. ASBILL: I have no further questions

THE COURT: Mr Burck?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR BURCK:

Q Special Agent Hulser, good afternoon

A Good afternoon, Mr Burck.

Q So you already know that I represent Maureen McDonnell We have been in the courtroom for several weeks, right?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay So I wanted to start by making sure that I understand exactly what your role is You are a summary witness, right?

A Correct

Q And so your purpose is to try to help the jurors better understand the government's case

A Correct

Q And you do that by trying to tie together the evidence, particularly the documentary evidence that has come in over the last several weeks, right?

A Correct

Q And a lot of what you are -- you have to testify about or you are testifying about necessarily deals with inferences, right, because you don't know what people said on various phone calls or texts if you don't have the phone calls or texts recorded.

A That's correct

Q So this is about inferences, right?

A Well, no, it is about presenting the facts to the jury for them to make their own conclusions

Q But you are here to assist them in putting together charts of evidence to assist with inferences

A Well, to assist with evaluation

Q Okay Now, the idea is that the timing and the number of phone calls, texts, et cetera, will help the jury understand what actually happened even though they don't know what was said, right?

A Well, the idea is to connect the dots, if you will, or put those calls and text messages, particularly the ones that we don't have content for, in relation to significant events that are associated with the allegations in the indictment

Q Right Okay So what I am going to do is I'm going to take you through the slides roughly in order, not all of them, because that would take too long, but just some of them. And I'm going to talk to you about some of the evaluation and inferences that seem to be suggested by your slides Okay?

A Sure

Q Start with Government Exhibit 573 That's already in evidence Please pull that up Now, this is the overall phone record totals that you have Publish that to the jury, please That's in evidence Thank you. This is the overall phone records, the total number of calls between, that you calculated between RFM, Governor McDonnell, and Maureen McDonnell in certain periods of time and also between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams during the same period of time, right?

A Right

Q These are for calls that are for over one minute long.

A That's right

Q As you testified, I think on cross, the idea of the one minute is there may be calls that are important that are less than one minute, but we can infer that ones that are longer than one minute are probably more important

A Well, logically there would have been more conversation

Q Right It is the length of time that matters, right, to that? One minute versus five minutes versus ten minutes, right?

A Potentially.

Q Now, you testified as well on direct that this does not reflect the total number of texts that are between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams versus Maureen McDonnell and her husband, right?

A Right We were limited in the scope just due to the records that we have

Q Okay And again, Maureen McDonnell and Bob McDonnell have Verizon phones, Verizon service?

A Verizon Wireless

Q And then Jonnie Williams had AT&T

A Right

Q And Verizon, can you remind us, what's the period of time that they have records back for texts?

A We have text data from September of 2012 through September of 2013

Q Okay And for AT&T you go back further, right?

A About three years

Q Three years So now, this investigation of the McDonnells, you were here for that testimony, Special Agent Hagan said it started around the first or second quarter of 2012, right?

A I believe so.

Q So if you had subpoenaed the records then, you would have had, for the Governor and Ms McDonnell, you would have had text records going back a year prior to that, right?

A If it was subpoenaed on that day, it is my understanding that Verizon Wireless maintains records for one year

Q So that would have roughly been April or so, May, of 2011, right?

A Potentially

Q Okay But that's not what we have We have September, 2012 through September, 2013

A Right

Q For the McDonnells So fair to say that this chart right now, what it tells us is that there were more phone calls between Maureen McDonnell and her husband in terms of total number than between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams during these periods of time It doesn't tell us -- let me ask you that first It tells us that, right?

A This is for phone calls Correct

Q But it doesn't tell us the total number of communications, so we don't know how many communications occurred between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams versus between Maureen McDonnell and her husband, right?

A Correct, because we don't have those records

Q Okay You would agree with me that people communicate nowadays a lot by text

A Yes

Q A lot of text messages and evidence in this case, right?

A I would agree

Q Now, you have reviewed Mr Williams' phone records, right?

A Yes

Q And you have reviewed Maureen McDonnell's phone records

A Yes

Q And you have reviewed Bob McDonnell's phone records

A During those periods

Q During those periods And those records show the duration of each of the calls, right?

A They do

Q And Verizon, I think, rounds up Right?

A They do

Q And so, that's Bob McDonnell and Maureen McDonnell's phone records are Verizon records

A Correct

Q So the total number would be rounded up?

A Yes

Q Okay And then the Jonnie Williams records are specific because AT&T gives you the seconds, right?

A They are more specific

Q More specific. Now, you have reviewed the calls between Bob McDonnell and Maureen McDonnell?

A Correct

Q And you have reviewed the calls between Jonnie Williams and Maureen McDonnell?

A Yes

Q And based on all that information -- actually, before I ask you this question, you subpoenaed, not you yourself, but the FBI subpoenaed those records from Verizon and from AT&T

A Yes

Q Then you provided them to the defense, to Bob McDonnell's lawyers and to Maureen McDonnell's lawyers

A Right

Q And on those records is the time of all these calls

A Correct

Q 1,800 minutes total for Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams, and 1,500 total for Maureen McDonnell and Bob McDonnell

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, is that a question or testimony?

MR BURCK: It is a question

THE WITNESS: I don't know

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Could you calculate that?

A Could I? As I sit right here right now?

Q No, not right now We don't want to take that time. But is that something you could calculate based on the information you have?

A We potentially could sort by that information.

Q Because you can sort by the --

A Add it up, basically We could add it up.

Q It is basic arithmetic, right?

A I would think so

Q Okay So you have no reason to quarrel with me right now, you don't know, but you have no reason to quarrel with 1,800 minutes between Jonnie Williams and Maureen McDonnell versus 1,500 minutes total between Bob McDonnell and his wife

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: The objection is sustained. He has no basis to quarrel, and --

MR BURCK: I'll move on No problem.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 567, please You can publish that to the jury So this is the slide, December 22nd, 2009, this is roughly the time period of the much-discussed inaugural dress, right?

A Correct

Q And you testified, I believe, that there are no records of any phone calls between Jonnie Williams and Maureen McDonnell in December of '09, right?

A We have no, based on cell record information, we have no information that shows that

Q No cell record at all In fact, you don't have any cell phone record of any calls between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams until April of 2011, right?

A I believe that's correct

Q Now, you recall that you were here for Jonnie Williams' testimony, right?

A Yes

Q And on direct and on cross, you were here for both?

A Yes

Q Do you recall that he testified about a phone call he had with Maureen McDonnell in December of '09?

A I recall him testifying about a phone call with Jasen Eige

Q Why don't we show you the testimony of the transcript Please show the witness Page 658

MR FAULCONER: May we approach briefly?

THE COURT: Come on up.

(At Bench)

MR FAULCONER: May we just ask again if he uses something to refresh his recollection that he not say what it is; just give him the document to refresh his recollection?

MR BURCK: I can hand it to him. No problem.

(In Open Court)

MR BURCK: Your Honor, may I approach the witness?

THE COURT: Sure.

(Document proffered to witness)

BY MR BURCK:

Q Sir, I have just given you two pages of transcript testimony of Jonnie Williams Please read both pages, the highlighted sections

A Just to myself?

Q Yes, to yourself, please

(Witness perusing document)

A Okay

Q The second page as well?

A Yes

Q Then I will ask you again: Do you recall, you were here for Jonnie Williams' testimony, right?

A I was

Q Do you recall that he testified about a phone call he had with Maureen McDonnell concerning the inaugural dress in December of '09?

A I do.

Q It was a phone call; is that what he said?

A Yes

Q And there is no record of any such, of any phone call at all between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams in December of '09, right?

A That could have very well been a landline call I don't know We don't have landline records

Q So your testimony is that -- let me ask you this: Do you have a cell phone record of any kind of discussion, any record of any call between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams in December of '09?

A Not a cell phone record.

Q No cell phone record All the records that you have used to put together your charts, right, today, those are all cell phone records, aren't they?

A They are

Q You haven't looked at any landline records

A No.

Q Is there a reason why you decided to point out that you didn't have a landline record in December of '09?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection

THE COURT: He can answer

THE WITNESS: We chose to subpoena cell phone records because that's what they were using

BY MR BURCK:

Q So then when you answered my question about December of '09, about you don't have a landline record, that's just speculation; you have no idea if there is a landline phone call, right?

A I don't

Q All right So we can put that down, too Thank you Let's put up Government Exhibit 570, please Please publish it to the jury Thank you. Now, this is Monday, April 11th, 2011 This is the day that Jonnie Williams testified, I believe, that he received a phone call from Maureen McDonnell asking, in effect, asking, she offered to have him seated next to the Governor at an event in New York in exchange for the shopping trip; do you remember that testimony?

A Correct

Q And here you have a phone call, 7:57 to 8:13, phone call of about 16 minutes between Jonnie Williams and Maureen McDonnell?

A Right

Q That's returning a phone call earlier that day at 5:28, and then there are several text messages in between, right?

A Yes I'm not sure if he was returning a call because we don't have the content But that could be

Q That's sort of the inference, right? That's the purpose of the chart

A Well, I'm just, those are the records

Q Okay Let me ask you to put up Government Exhibit 97, please This is already in evidence This is an e-mail exchange between Monica Block, who was the Governor's scheduler, and Maureen McDonnell on April 11th Is that right?

A Right

Q Turn to the next page There is an invitation, I want to keep this moving, so this was an e-mail that there was testimony about in which Monica Block forwarded an invitation to Maureen McDonnell that she was going to then send on to Jonnie Williams; do you remember that testimony?

A I do

Q This is an invitation to a fundraiser, is it not?

A For a cocktail reception

Q And do you see the "Sponsor" at the bottom, $10,000?

A I do.

Q You see below that, $250 per person?

A Yes

Q And you know what a PAC is, political action committee?

A Yes

Q It is a fundraising vehicle, right?

A A PAC?

Q Right

A I guess that's one of its purposes

Q Okay So the testimony of Mr Williams, again, I think was that he had to pay $20,000 in dresses to attend this event with Mr McDonnell, to have Maureen McDonnell seat him next to Mr McDonnell, right?

A I can't remember his specific testimony, but --

Q That was the gist?

A Basically

Q So he could have just paid $10,000 to be a sponsor at this event

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q You didn't put in your chart that this was a fundraiser, did you?

A In the chart?

Q In the chart, Government Exhibit 570

A No

Q Okay And you don't know, I think you testified you don't really know if Maureen McDonnell or Jonnie Williams was returning Maureen's phone call from earlier that day because you don't know what was in the call, right? You don't know what happened.

A I don't know the content

Q So you don't know, for example, if Maureen McDonnell was calling Jonnie Williams to invite him to an event, right?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR BURCK:

Q Let's put up Government Exhibit 574, please This is a summary chart on May 1st, 2011 This is the day before the testimony that Mr Williams gave that he had a conversation with Ms McDonnell about she could help him if he helped her, right? Remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q So this is the day before, right? Now, there is a Government Exhibit here listed, 107, if you could put that up, please And there was testimony yesterday about the "Forward" line "Forward: Home Run Potential " The top of this e-mail between Maureen McDonnell and Bob McDonnell?

A Correct

Q Can you tell us, is the title of the article, what's the title of that article?

A "Star Scientific Has Home Run Potential "

Q Okay So the forward above that, is it your testimony, this wasn't clear, is it your testimony that Maureen McDonnell changed the Forward?

A No, my testimony is that the Subject line is different

Q Subject line is different But you don't know how that happened.

A No

Q Because you didn't review the metadata

A No

Q You can take that down Government Exhibit 576, please This is the May 23rd, 2011 call Actually, I'm sorry, let me start before that. Government Exhibit 575 This is the day of this supposed phone conversation between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams, right? May 2nd, 2011?

A There's a lot of --

Q I'm sorry, without reference to this, I'm just asking, do you recall if this was the day that Jonnie Williams testified he spoke to Maureen McDonnell about this supposed conversation where she said, in effect, that "If you help me, I will help you"?

A I can't recall the exact date that he stated that But --

Q All right You testified about a series of phone calls on direct between Maureen McDonnell, Michael Uncapher, sister Maureen, Bob McDonnell, and then Michael Uncapher again. There is a call actually listed at 10:44 a m.?

A Correct

Q And you recall the testimony of Mr Uncapher that he spoke to Jonnie Williams sometime in 2011; that the phone, Maureen handed her phone to Jonnie Williams to speak to him. Do you remember that testimony?

A I do recall that

Q And do you remember that Michael Uncapher said something to the effect that, he testified to this, that he said that MoBo needed about 50 to $60,000? Do you remember that?

A I do recall that

Q And do you recall that he said that those words came out of his mouth?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor If he wants to orient to an area --

THE COURT: Mr Burck, just recounting the testimony is not doing us any good.

MR. BURCK: I'm just trying to get him to the context It is a simple point

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Do you mention in this chart that Michael Uncapher said 50 to $60,000 in his testimony?

A No, this chart is just laying out the facts from the phone records

Q Okay 576, please Government Exhibit 576 This is the day, May 23rd, 2011, that Jonnie Williams, again, just to orient the witness, Your Honor, that Jonnie Williams says that he dropped off the $50,000 and the $15,000 checks, right?

A I believe so

Q And you testified about this with Mr Asbill, that there is a schedule there that Bob McDonnell had private work time, and that he was present in the Patrick Henry Building, right?

A Correct

Q And the chart that you created shows that Jonnie Williams was present at the Mansion with Maureen McDonnell at the same time, right?

A I believe that's what the log states

Q Do you recall that Jonnie Williams testified that he didn't recall if it was a phone call or meeting, but he recalled having a conversation with the Governor, right?

A I generally recall that, yes

Q Is there anything, is there anything on Bob McDonnell's schedule on that day that shows he had a meeting with Jonnie Williams?

A I do not believe so

Q Okay Could you just show Government Exhibit 592? Flashing forward a year here, but this is February 27th through 29th This is your chart February 28th, I think you testified that this was the period or this is when the Governor had a meeting with Jonnie Williams about the MoBo loans, right?

A He had a meeting with Mr McDonnell about money

Q About money MoBo

A Yes

Q Right And here, a year later, there is a reference to Mr Williams having a meeting with the Governor, right?

A Right

Q There is something on his calendar, right?

A Right

Q But there is nothing on May 23rd, 2011, right?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, asked and answered

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q You can put that down. Thank you. Let's go to Government Exhibit 51, please Now, you were in Court when several witnesses testified about the August 1st meeting with Molly Huffstetler, my client, and Jonnie Williams, right?

A Correct

Q Please show Government Exhibit 190 This is the calendar invite that set up the meeting with Jonnie Williams with my client on the 1st of August, right? Remember this document?

A Yes

Q And 581, go back to 581, please This is your chart, and you start at 7-28, a few days before "2:04, MSS," who is Mary-Shea Sutherland?

A Yes

Q So you are saying that based on your review of the records, Mary-Shea Sutherland set up or put on the calendar, I should say, the meeting with Jonnie Williams, right?

A I believe so I don't know if you can pull up Exhibit 179

Q Let's do that Before we do that, you created this chart, right?

A Correct

Q So you just don't remember if the chart is accurate?

A There's a lot of charts

Q I understand. So we will look at this document 179 You will see in the bottom area is the metadata

A Correct

Q Does this help refresh your recollection, even though it is in evidence?

A Yes

Q Mary-Shea Sutherland put the calendar invite on Maureen McDonnell's calendar

A Correct

Q Okay Now, your chart, go back to Government Exhibit 581, please Your chart shows, at the bottom, "July 28th, MM and JRW exchange 11 texts," right?

A Correct.

Q Now, let's take a look at the text messages between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams on July 28th, 2011 I think the easiest thing to do is just to hand you a hard copy, although it is already in evidence as RM-0104-09206 through 09210

MR. BURCK: May I approach?

THE COURT: Go ahead

(Document proffered to witness)

BY MR BURCK:

Q Now, these are, this is the phone records for Jonnie Williams, right?

A Yes

Q And these are the texts he received that day, right?

A Correct

Q Let's start by looking at the very first, do you see, and I think they may be highlighted, I think they are highlighted for ease, there is a text at 7:28 a.m., and it is from Jonnie Williams to -- do you know who 6837 is? It is Mary-Shea Sutherland.

A Okay

Q And then right below that you will see that there is a text from Jonnie Williams to Maureen McDonnell at 7:51 a.m., so about thirty minutes later

A Correct

Q Twenty minutes later Then can you look at the next page There are two texts from and to or between Jonnie Williams and Mary-Shea Sutherland, right?

A Yup

Q And that's at 9:25 and 9:26 a.m.

A Correct

Q The next page, there are no texts at all between Mary-Shea Sutherland and Jonnie Williams or Maureen McDonnell Do you see that?

A Correct

Q The next page, there is a text at 4:28 p.m. between Mary-Shea Sutherland and Jonnie Williams, right?

A Correct

Q And then you go to the bottom of the page and you start seeing some texts between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams, right?

A Correct

Q So when you said on your -- and that starts at 7:23 p.m., right? That's what the phone records say

A Correct

Q So on 581, please go back to that, you say there are 11 texts between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams You don't list out when they happened, right?

A Correct.

Q The first one happened at 7:51 a.m.?

A Right

Q And there were ten more in the evening after 7:30, right, or after 7 p.m., right?

A Yes

Q Okay And this chart doesn't list any texts between Mary-Shea Sutherland and Jonnie Williams, even though you do reference the fact that Mary-Shea Sutherland put the item or put the event on the calendar, right?

A Correct

Q Okay Now, let's take a look at the phone calls that day

MR. BURCK: Can I approach?

THE COURT: Go ahead.

(Document proffered to witness)

BY MR. BURCK:

Q These are the phone calls These are Jonnie Williams' phone records?

A They are

Q Okay You will see that at 10:04, and please call up RM-0104-01953, and it will be through 01956 These are his phone records for that day, 7-28-2011, right?

A That's correct

Q And there is a phone call at 10:40 a m. between Mary-Shea Sutherland and Jonnie Williams, right? Two minutes?

A 10:04 a.m.?

Q Right

A Yup.

Q Do you see any phone calls at that point between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams?

A I do not

Q Turn to the next page Do you see any phone calls between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams on that page?

A No

Q Please turn to the next page You see any phone calls there between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams?

A No

Q And do you see any phone calls between Mary-Shea Sutherland, her cell phone, and Jonnie Williams on the Page 01955 which you were just looking at?

A If you are representing that --

Q No, in fact, that's not her phone number

A No

Q And let me ask you: Do you know what Maureen McDonnell's office line was?

A Not off the top of my head.

Q It has been stipulated to, if that's okay with you

MR. FAULCONER: That's correct

MR. BURCK: 3391, which is highlighted in blue

THE WITNESS: I do

BY MR BURCK:

Q That's Maureen McDonnell's office number, right? That's at 1:20 p.m., and that's a phone call, right?

A Right

Q I think you were here when we heard testimony, we have heard about the Ferrari, Smith Mountain Lake Maureen McDonnell wasn't at the Mansion that day, was she?

MR. FAULCONER: That's the day they arrived. There has been no testimony she was already at Smith

Mountain Lake

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, the Ferrari drive from Smith Mountain Lake to Richmond happened that evening

THE COURT: Since neither one of you have been sworn and given any testimony, just ask him a question Either he knows or he doesn't Okay?

MR. BURCK: Absolutely, Your Honor

BY MR BURCK:

Q Do you know if Maureen McDonnell was present that day?

A Do I know?

Q Right

A Present where?

Q At the Mansion that day On July 28th.

A What day of the week is that?

Q I believe that's a Friday

A I don't know what time she would have been there, but potentially

Q Potentially Okay So they drove back in the Ferrari Was that the testimony?

A Correct

Q And do you remember what time of day that was?

A When they drove back? I think it was in the evening

Q In the evening From Smith Mountain Lake to Richmond.

A Correct

Q Okay Now, this call is at 1:20 p.m. Right?

A Yes

Q Do you know if Mary-Shea Sutherland was present in the Mansion that day?

A I don't know where Mary-Shea Sutherland was

Q Okay

MR. BURCK: Please show just for the witness RM-0099-01496 If it is easier, I could just approach the witness and show him. I can just bring this up to the witness

THE COURT: Let's move it along

(Document proffered to witness)

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Sir, that's the Mansion log, right?

A Yes, it appears to be the Mansion log, Executive Mansion, on July 28th of 2011

Q Got it And the Mansion log, does it show that Mary-Shea Sutherland was present at 8:50 a.m.?

A Correct

Q Can you look at the Mansion guest list and scroll down, do you see any reference to anyone seeing 102?

A No

Q Okay

MR BURCK: Your Honor, unfortunately I don't have the exhibit number in front of me, but we would offer this in evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: Just put a number on it

MR. BURCK: RM-0099-01496

THE COURT: What are the last few numbers?

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, RM-0099-01496

THE COURT: All right It will be admitted.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Now, so that shows Mary-Shea Sutherland was present that day? The Mansion log does?

A According to the log.

Q Okay I realize that actually I've been confusing you and me about the day Because 7-28 is not when they drove back in the Ferrari, that's when they went up to Smith Mountain Lake Okay?

A Okay

Q So putting that aside, you saw the 1:20 phone call from Maureen McDonnell's office at 1:20 p.m.?

A On the 28th?

Q The 28th. Right?

A Yes

Q And you have in your chart, show the chart, Number 581 You have a 2:04 p.m., Mary-Shea Sutherland to Maureen McDonnell, she puts a meeting with Jonnie Williams on the calendar, right?

A Correct

Q Did you put -- you do not have Mary-Shea Sutherland's phone records in this chart at all, do you?

A No

Q Is there a particular reason why Mary-Shea Sutherland's phone records are not in this chart?

A I don't have Mary-Shea Sutherland's phone records

Q Do you have Jonnie Williams' phone records?

A I do

Q Do you have Mary-Shea Sutherland's communications with Jonnie Williams that day?

A That day

Q So fair to say it would have been possible to put her communications with him that day in this chart, but you decided not to.

A It is possible to put a lot of communications in these charts, but we had to --

Q You had to choose

A Choose which ones are most relevant to the allegations

Q All right Now, let's go on to the day itself, August 1st Now, on that day, I think you testified a bit about this with Mr Asbill, but that was the day that

Mary-Shea Sutherland had set up a lunch with Jerry Kilgore, on August 1st, 2011, do you recall?

A I don't recall the specific date, but I recall some testimony about that

Q And do you recall -- you don't recall August 1st as the date? Because I can refresh your recollection.

A I'll take your word for it

Q Okay It was at the Berkeley Hotel on August 1st

A Sure

Q There was testimony from Mr Kilgore that this was a standing luncheon with Ms Sutherland and that she brought Jonnie Williams Do you remember that?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Mr Burck, please ask this witness some questions instead of recounting what we have already heard multiple times

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Please bring up Government Exhibit 581, please And please go to Government Exhibit 582, which is the August 1st On this chart, you list Jonnie Williams arriving at the Mansion, right? You don't have the Jerry Kilgore luncheon on here, do you?

A No

Q And you don't have any records of Mary-Shea Sutherland's activities this day, do you?

A No, we don't

Q And Mary-Shea Sutherland and others did testify about their activities on this day, right?

A Sure

Q You can take that down Let's go to Government Exhibit 203 You can publish that to the jury It is already in evidence Special Agent Hulser, you testified about this document yesterday This is Jonnie Williams' credit card information. Right?

A Yes, sir

Q And it is as of July 27th through August 25th of 2011?

A Correct

Q Okay And then you testified yesterday, if you turn to the second page of the document, highlighted, there is a purchase on August 14th. Do you see that?

A Yes, sir

Q And $6,500?

A Correct

Q And that's the day, at least the inference is that's when Mr Williams bought this watch, right?

A I believe the transaction date is 8-14, and the posting date is 8-16

Q Okay Do you recall any testimony that Mr Williams gave about what happened, what he says happened while he was purchasing this watch?

A I recall his testimony generally

Q Do you recall he testified about a phone call, that he phoned Maureen McDonnell from the store and talked to her about what she wanted engraved on the watch?

A I do.

Q And you have identified August 14th as the date that this transaction occurred, right?

A Well, as I stated, the records indicate that the transaction date is 8-14 I don't know when he was actually present and had a conversation and ordered up engraving I don't know if that, August 14th, is the date that he came to pick it up or if he paid that day and picked it up later I don't know

Q Let me ask you this: The document says "Transaction Date," right?

A It does

Q Next to it it says "Posting Date " Right?

A Right

Q What's a posting date; do you know?

A Posting date would probably be the date that, according to this Visa statement, that it was cleared, the transaction cleared, I guess

Q So sitting here today, you don't know if he was present on August 14th in the store to buy the watch

A Correct I don't know what date he was physically in the store I don't know if he was in the store two days It could have been He could have been ordering and picking up I don't know

Q Can you show the witness Government Exhibit 584? This is August 15th through 16th, 2011 You don't have any phone calls listed on August 14th, 13th, 12th, or 11th between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams, do you?

A Not on this chart

Q Did you find any phone calls between Jonnie Williams and Maureen McDonnell on August 14th?

A I don't believe there is any on August 14th But like I stated, I don't know what date he was actually in the store I don't know if it was multiple days So it is kind of hard to tell

Q Hard to tell What about August 13th? Any phone calls that day?

A I can't recall, but there were communications both before and after the 14th, both cell and text

Q But no phone calls on the 14th itself

A Not that I recall

Q Okay And is there a reason why -- so the reason why you don't have any phone calls listed for the Rolex purchase, why is that? Why didn't you put any phone calls in for that?

A We didn't create a chart for that

Q Didn't create a chart Okay Let's talk a little bit more about the Rolex itself Government Exhibit 444, please There has been a lot of testimony about this This is the picture that was recovered from Jonnie Williams' phone, right?

A That's my understanding, yes

Q I think yesterday you testified that you saw other photos that matched it, right?

A Correct

Q Can you show the witness Government Exhibit 274, please And I believe you testified that if you go to the, I think you said the eighth photo?

A I believe so

Q That one? That's a match for the one that was on Jonnie Williams' phone? Is that what you testified?

A Mirror image

Q Mirror image Just flipped, right?

A Yes

Q Okay Look at the bottom of that document Blow up the bottom of that document There is a Bates stamp MPM-042255 That's a Bates stamp, right?

A Correct

Q That's how us lawyers produce documents in response to subpoenas; is that right?

A Yes

Q Who produced this document?

A According to that Bates stamp, Maureen McDonnell

Q I did My law firm did, right, for her?

A Yes, sir

Q So this photo came from Maureen McDonnell's production?

A Correct

Q You can take that down

MR BURCK: Your Honor, I'm actually coming to a conclusion pretty quickly here

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Government Exhibit 606 This is a history of the stock purchases and repurchases and sales by Maureen McDonnell, right?

A Correct

Q Okay And it says that Maureen McDonnell, she sold her shares, 6,522 shares on December 20th, 2011, right?

A Correct

Q You have been here for testimony about the SOEI, right?

A I have

Q Do you recall that there has been testimony, I think everybody has agreed in testifying that Maureen McDonnell did not have a requirement to file an SOEI, right?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, could you ask it again?

BY MR BURCK:

Q There has been a lot of testimony about the SOEI requirements, and that as to the First Lady of Virginia, Maureen McDonnell didn't have an obligation to file an SOEI

A Correct

Q Bob McDonnell did There has been a lot of testimony about that, right?

A Sure

Q And is there a reason why on this chart that you don't make a distinction between the McDonnells, who owned the shares and who sold the shares and who rebought them? Is there any reason why you didn't specify that?

A No reason.

Q No reason. So Maureen McDonnell bought the shares, right?

A She did

Q She sold the shares?

A She did.

Q And she rebought the shares

A Correct

Q You can take that down Government Exhibit 586

This is January 19th, 2012 This is, according to your chart, Jonnie Williams arrives at the Mansion at around 11, he leaves at 1 p.m. In between, you have that Bob McDonnell had scheduled a lunch with Ms McDonnell, Executive Mansion. Right?

A   Correct

Q   And you also had testified or put in your chart that Michael, that means Uncapher, calls Maureen McDonnell?

A   Correct

Q   And this is the discussion about MoBo that we heard Mr Uncapher testify about?

A   I believe so, yes

Q   This is where she handed her phone to Jonnie Williams; is that right?

A   Correct

Q   Now, please call up, again, this says that Mr McDonnell was at lunch with Ms McDonnell in the same period that Jonnie was at the Mansion, right? Isn't that what the chart says?

A   That's what his schedule says

Q   That's what the chart says, too, right?

A   Yes

Q   Can you please show Government Exhibit 295 It is already in evidence The bottom e-mail is from Michael Uncapher to Bob and Maureen McDonnell You testified about this "Bob. For MoBo, I talked with your Mo last week and she had me talk to the guy who was helping us " That's Jonnie Williams, right? "The guy who was helping us?" And this is on January 25th, 2012 Right? And then the e-mail above that, blow up the one in the middle, please It is dated January 27th, 2012 Right? And it is Bob McDonnell to his wife "Maureen who are we talking about that is helping us and talking to Mike?? Jonnie?"

Right?

A Yes

Q Your chart, on January 19th, 2012, doesn't mention this e-mail, does it?

A The chart?

Q The chart

A Unless it references an exhibit, but I don't believe so, no.

Q The chart is on January 19th, and there is a lunch between Maureen McDonnell and the Governor listed, right?

MR. FAULCONER: Asked and answered.

MR. BURCK: Small point

THE COURT: You promised me you were closing

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, I have only a handful of documents left

THE COURT: Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: The chart is dated January 19th, I believe, correct?

BY MR BURCK:

Q It is The chart is and the activity, yes

A The chart is dated January 19th?

Q It is Show the witness, please, 586.

A Correct But the e-mail is dated January 27th

Q Which is eight days later

A Correct

Q Okay You can take that down. Government Exhibit 587 This is a, you testified about this, these are phone calls between Maureen McDonnell and Jasen Eige, right? And also e-mails, like the one in the middle, Jonnie Williams, Jr to Maureen McDonnell. This is, again, an e-mail we have heard a lot about where Maureen McDonnell got an e-mail from Jonnie Williams, Jr at Jonnie Williams, Sr 's request and then she forwarded it on, right?

A Uh-huh

Q Can you show the witness, also, Government Exhibit 588 This is February 8th and February 9th, again, more calls, communications between Maureen McDonnell and Jasen Eige, right?

A Correct

Q Jasen Eige was the Governor's lawyer, right?

A Governor's counsel, correct

Q Governor's counsel So this chart shows that she was forwarding information to the Governor's lawyer about VCU and UVA and JHU from Jonnie Williams, Jr , right?

A She forwarded it to Mr McDonnell and Jasen Eige, correct

Q The Governor and Mr Eige, right?

A Correct

Q She tries to call him, she reaches him, on February 9th at 3:07 to 3:10 Looks like about a three-minute phone call

A Correct

Q She is talking to the Governor's lawyer about this issue, it appears We don't know, but that's what it appears to be?

A I don't know

Q That's in the chart

A Right

Q Can we move on to Government Exhibit 593 This is a series, I think it is actually 593, 594, and two pages on 594 Let's start with 593 Text at 11:52, March 6th, 2012 This is all in relation to MoBo, right? Maureen McDonnell to sister Maureen, "Mo, I've tried to call you and sent you the above text Need to talk You will be receiving a check written out to MoBo tomorrow by overnight delivery Don't deposit."

A Right

Q That's in your chart Please put up 594, Page 1 Maureen McDonnell to Sis Maureen at the very top, 2:27 p.m. "Hello Have you received my messages? Know you have been traveling and got back Friday Need to talk to you Anxious friend waiting for me to confirm you received FedEx valuable package " Is there any reason why you didn't say the anxious friend is Jonnie Williams? That's supposed to be inferred, right?

A This is the actual --

THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

BY MR BURCK:

Q Do you know who the "anxious friend" is? I withdraw that "Anxious friend," the testimony has been that that would be Jonnie Williams

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: The objection is sustained Mr Burck, the witness can only put what's on the document If he started changing it for his inferences, it wouldn't be any evidence. So don't ask a ridiculous question

MR. BURCK: You are right, Your Honor

BY MR. BURCK:

Q The "anxious friend" at 2:27 is from Maureen McDonnell to sister Maureen, right?

A From Maureen to sister Maureen at 2:27 Correct

Q Okay Then go to the second page At 7:19 p.m. This is from Maureen to sister Maureen. "I left you messages because I worked on this loan for a year, not Bob I needed to speak to you directly, not Michael Why do you always do that to me? But you could return Bob's call "

Fair to say that the message seems to be upset, angry?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Go on to Government Exhibit 607 This is the Donnie Williams situation And this is on, I'm just going to focus on a couple things You testified that -- well, you were here for Donnie Williams' testimony, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And you recall that he testified that Maureen McDonnell said several times at least that she had offered to pay?

A That was his testimony

Q Is that in your chart?

A No.

Q Okay Is there a reason why it is not in your chart?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Do you recall that he also testified that it was his choice not to send invoices or total the costs?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection.

THE COURT: We don't need you to recount his testimony

BY MR BURCK:

Q Do you have any idea why that's not in the chart?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Do you recall that Ms McDonnell and the McDonnells actually paid for Donnie Williams, for the work that was done on the house? Do you recall that?

A I recall that statement

Q That's also not on the chart, right?

MR FAULCONER: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR BURCK:

Q Government Exhibit 608 This is the day of the interview of Ms McDonnell, right?

A That's my understanding, yes

Q Okay And that day, I think you testified there were no further contacts between Maureen McDonnell and Jonnie Williams

A No further cell phone contacts according to the records that we have

Q Because there were further communications between them, right?

A I don't know

Q There were two There is one, there is a letter, right? That was sent to her -- that was sent to him by her, handwritten letter?

A There was testimony about the handwritten letter, correct

Q And that was after the interview, right?

A Correct

Q And can you put up Government Exhibit 506? And maybe it is the next page Do you recall this document? This was a text from Jonnie Williams to Maureen on March 31st, 2013 It says, "Celeste and I are proud to be your friends"?

A Correct I recall his testimony about that

Q Okay And just a couple more, Your Honor, and then I'm done Government Exhibit 572 Credit card debt The history of this debt is 74,000, this is your chart, 74,000 and then it goes down to 31,000 in April of 2011?

A Correct

Q Fair to say that this shows a significant decrease in credit card debt prior to the alleged conspiracy?

A That's right

Q And then lastly, Government Exhibit 609 This is the list of things of value from Mr Williams to the McDonnells, right?

A Correct

Q And I think you testified that, for example, the Chatham Bars Inn, September, 2012, $7,383 14, do you see that? That was actually reported on the Governor's SOEI?

A It was

Q But that's not listed on this chart, right?

A I'm sorry, what was your question?

Q The fact that it was listed on the SOEI is not reflected on this chart, is it?

A No, but that was my testimony

Q Right

Q The last question I have is, is there a government exhibit for all the things that Governor McDonnell is supposed to have given to Jonnie Williams? Do you have a government exhibit for that? Do you have a chart for that?

A There is no chart for that

MR. BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor No further questions

THE COURT: Redirect?

MR. FAULCONER: Your Honor, this may take more than just a minute or two. I don't know if you wanted to take a break.

THE COURT: You are breaking my heart All right Let's take 15 minutes, and we will get started with this

THE COURT: All right Government

MR FAULCONER: Thank you, Your Honor

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Agent Hulser, do you recall some questions on cross-examination about totaling up communications between Jonnie Williams and Maureen McDonnell?

A I do

Q I'd like to show you what's been already admitted into evidence as Exhibit 573 And just to be clear, Agent Hulser, does this chart include any communications between Mr McDonnell and Ms McDonnell during lunches at the Executive Mansion?

A No

Q Any communications during dinners at the Executive Mansion?

A No

Q Any other communications when the two of them are traveling on their schedules?

A No

Q All right Do you also recall some questions about Government's Exhibit 568? This was the chart about credit card debt?

A Yes

Q And do you recall Mr. Asbill asking you about Mr McDonnell having resigned his position as Attorney General that year?

A I do

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I'd like to, using the Elmo, if we can, show the witness a copy of what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 636

THE COURT: All right

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Agent Hulser, did you obtain tax records that included W-2s for Mr McDonnell's income from the years 2009 to 2012?

A I did

MR FAULCONER: And if we could scroll up just a little bit, or pull that down a little bit

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Could you tell us what's shown on this W-2 in terms of income and source in 2009?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Oh, Your Honor, could we offer Exhibit 636 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

A Yes The source for this W-2 is Huff, Poole &

Mahoney, PC, and the Medicare wages are 129,964 50

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, you were also asked about Exhibit 97

MR FAULCONER: If we could bring that up I'm sorry Switch back I apologize

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q If we could go to the second page of this document There where it has the dollar amounts and names listed, is there any dollar amount for a seat next to the Governor there?

MR BURCK: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled

A No, there's not

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right I'd like to now talk a little bit about -- on this one, I think we're going to be starting not with the Elmo and then go to the Elmo If we could start with Exhibit 581, which has been already admitted

Now, do you recall Mr Burck asking you a lot of questions about July 28th, 2011?

A I do

Q And do you recall being asked about this Outlook event at 2:04 p m on July 28th, 2011?

A Correct

MR FAULCONER: Oh, sorry Could this be published to the jury? I apologize

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right And do you also recall Mr Burck asking you about a phone call on that afternoon, sometime in the afternoon time frame, on July 28th, 2011, between Jonnie Williams' cell phone and Maureen McDonnell's office phone?

A Correct

Q All right Now, using the Elmo, and keeping in mind July 28th, 2011, I'd like to start by showing you, using the Elmo, what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 640 Special Agent Hulser, is this a July 2011 calendar for Ms McDonnell?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 640 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR FAULCONER: All right Now, if we could go down to July 28th on this document

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And I don't know if we can zoom in on the Elmo at all, but do you see there what the first entry on July 28th, 2011, is, what the time is there?

A 8:30 p m

Q Now, is there any -- so there's -- I guess there's no entry before 8:30 p m at Smith Mountain Lake, correct?

A Correct

Q All right Now, if I could show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 641

MR FAULCONER: Now, if we could zoom out on this one

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Is this a page from Ms McDonnell's cell phone bill covering the date of July 28th of 2011?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 641 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Agent Hulser, if we could, and with Ms Taylor's assistance, if we could zoom in a little bit on July 28th, 2011, there And that -- the first column that lists the city and state, is that the origination location of Ms McDonnell's cell phone calls on that day?

A It is

Q And could you tell us, on July 28th, from 10:40 a m all the way down until 6:02 p m , what's the origination location on Ms McDonnell's cell phone calls?

A Richmond, Virginia

Q And what's the first time at which the origination location changes to somewhere other than Richmond, Virginia?

A 6:52 p m

MR FAULCONER: And if we could go back quickly, away from the Elmo, to Exhibit 581

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Is that a little under five hours after that Outlook event was set? Right?

A Correct

Q All right Now I'd like to ask you about a couple of questions that Mr Asbill asked about August 1st, 2011 And starting with the regular -- with Sanction, the regular system, I'd like to pull up the chart that's been admitted as Exhibit 582

All right Now, Agent Hulser, do you recall being asked by Mr Asbill about a scheduled call by Mr McDonnell at 10:00 with a legislator that day?

A I do

Q But this chart here, I think he asked you, it shows a 10:01 a m call from Ms McDonnell to Mr McDonnell for four minutes, right?

A Correct

Q All right Now, with the assistance of the Elmo, I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 639

MR FAULCONER: And with the assistance of the Court Security Officer, I'd actually like to hand up an unredacted copy of this document because it deals with the phone number, Your Honor

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Agent Hulser, is Exhibit 639, is that one of these schedules for Mr McDonnell?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 639 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, going down there to the 10 a m time frame, do you see there where it has a call scheduled with Senator Houck, or Houck, at 10 a m ? Right?

A Yes, sir

Q And does that list a phone number on there?

A It does

Q And does the copy you have have the whole phone number on there?

A Yes

Q But it ends in 2439, right?

A Correct

Q All right Now, I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 637 And with the assistance of the Court Security Officer, I'd like to hand you an unredacted copy

MR ASBILL: I object, Judge

THE COURT: To what?

MR ASBILL: To this, unless he asks whether there's any evidence that there wasn't a hard line call

THE COURT: The objection is overruled

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, is this document, what's been marked as Exhibit 637, is this a cell phone bill covering the date of at least the beginning of August 1st, 2011, for Mr McDonnell's cell phone?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 637 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Agent Hulser, I'd like to, with Ms Taylor's assistance, zoom in there on the 8/1 time frame, right around 10 a m Now, could you tell us, from looking at the unredacted version, whose phone number is listed there at 10:01 a m ?

A Ms McDonnell's

Q And is that that four-minute call that you put on your chart?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: And, Ms Taylor, could you zoom in just a little bit on 10:01 and 10:05?

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Special Agent Hulser, I see that there's that call from 10:01 Is the next call down there 10:08 a m ?

A It is

Q And can you tell us whether that number matches the number listed for the legislator for the 10 a m call on the schedule?

A Yes, it does

Q And how long does that last?

A Twenty-two minutes

Q Now, do you also recall some questions from Mr Asbill about any documents that you have with Mr McDonnell facilitating meetings between Mr Williams and individuals who work in the government? Do you recall that?

A Yes

Q I'd like to show you Government's Exhibit 231, which has already been admitted

MR FAULCONER: Sorry Switching back over

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And turning to the second page of this document, is this a briefing form from the August 30th, 2011, event?

A It is

Q And scrolling down, do you see there John Clore, a VCU employee, listed on that document?

A I do

Q And going to the second page, is John Lazo, a UVA employee, listed on that document?

A He is

Q Now, I'd like to show you what's been entered into evidence as Exhibit 629 And do you recall, turning to the third page of this document, this document related to some of the people who ended up on the Healthcare Leaders Reception invite list?

A I do

Q And is Dr Clore, a VCU employee, listed on this document?

A He is

Q All right Now, I'd like to show you what's been -- or actually, do you recall being asked by Mr Asbill a couple of questions about Jonnie Williams testifying about getting a call the day before a October 22nd, 2011, trip?

A Yes

Q And do you recall that he showed you a bill for October 21st and asked you if there were any calls between Mr Williams and Mr McDonnell on that day?

A Correct

Q All right Well, I'd like to show you first, using the normal system, what's been already admitted as Exhibit 208 And zooming in on the middle e-mail there, can you tell us -- there's a direct number for Adam Zubowsky listed in the middle Can you tell us what the general number is listed to the left where it just says "Office"?

Q And if I could show you what's been admitted as Exhibit 291

MR FAULCONER: And if we could go forward to the next page, and then the next page, and then the next page

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right And there in Katherine Harris' signature block, what's the number there listed for office?

A The same number

Q All right Now, with the assistance of Ms Taylor and handing an unredacted copy to you, I'd like to hand you a copy of what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 638 Now, Special Agent Hulser, is this an excerpt of Mr Williams' cell phone bill that goes just a little further back to October 20th, 2011?

A It is

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit

638 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Special Agent Hulser, could you tell us, what number Mr Williams' cell phone calls on October 20th, 2011, at 12:59 p m for 1 minute and 26 seconds?

A (804)786-2211

Q And do you know who, if anyone, that call was forwarded to, if anything, when it was called in to that office number?

MR BROWNLEE: We object Forwarded to This calls for speculation here This number is a general number Thank you

THE COURT: How would he know that?

MR FAULCONER: I'm simply asking if he knows, if the phone records say anything about a forward

THE COURT: The objection is sustained

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Agent Hulser, is that the same number that was on those two e-mails we just looked at for Zubowsky and for Katherine Harris?

A Yes

Q Now, Mr Asbill also asked you about calls over one minute between Mr McDonnell's cell phone and

Mr Williams' cell phone Do you recall that?

A I do

Q Or I'm sorry Mr McDonnell and Mr Williams I'd like to -- and do you remember him asking you about a lot of those being in proximity to Chatham Bars Inn, the trip?

A I do

Q I'd like to show you what was admitted as Exhibit 577

MR FAULCONER: And this is back onto our regular system now

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Is this, shown here on May 29th, 2011, one of the other calls over a minute between Mr McDonnell and Mr Williams?

A It is

Q And is that the same day as the golf at Kinloch?

A Yes.

Q I'd like to show you what's been admitted as Exhibit 595 There shown in the last two rows, are those two more of the calls between Mr McDonnell and Mr Williams that are over a minute?

A That's correct

Q And is that the date that the $50,000 check was deposited?

A It is

Q Now, I'd like to show you Exhibit 598 And is that, shown there at the top, another one of the calls over a minute between Mr McDonnell and Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q And is that four days before the $20,000 wire?

A That's correct

Q Now, last couple of questions here On -- if I could show you what's been admitted as Exhibit 554 This is the document that shows February 15th, 2013, is the scheduled interview between Ms McDonnell and law enforcement; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q Now, keeping that February 15th date in mind, I'd like to show you what's been admitted as Exhibit 496 And turning to the second page of this document, is this the invoice from Donnie Williams?

A It is

Q And going back to the first page where the e-mail is, can you tell us, is that e-mail with that invoice sent before or after the interview with law enforcement?

A After

Q And Mr Asbill asked you about all of the loans from Ms Williams being repaid with interest Was that before or after media reports about this investigation?

A After

MR FAULCONER: One moment, Your Honor

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR FAULCONER: No further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

Thank you, sir You may stand down

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: Anything else from the government?

MR DRY: No, Your Honor The United States rests

THE COURT: All right

All right, ladies and gentlemen The United States has rested That means that they have completed their presentation of their evidence And let me tell you how this is going to impact you We have some legal stuff to do, to talk about after the government has rested And rather than having you all sit around while we're going through these legal matters, I'm going to let you all have some time off

Now, this is what we are going to do You all are going to have tomorrow off Friday is good for you You're going to be able to start your weekend early and get some rest and be kind to yourselves I wish I could go with you, but I -- I can't because we're going to be working tomorrow The lawyers and I will be working But

I want you all to have a terrific weekend

We'll be starting back on Monday at 9:45 Monday morning at 9:45. Again, please don't review any media items related to this case Don't discuss the case with anyone or allow anybody to discuss it with you And you all, above all, be safe and be blessed, and we will see you on Monday morning at 9:45

THE COURT: Okay I'd like to get started on these motions tomorrow at 10:00, if we could do that That should be plenty of time I've got a 12:00 hearing as well But we'll get started at 10, and I think that's more than enough time Anybody got any complaint with that? Okay 10:00

(The trial adjourned at 5:08 p m)

THE CLERK: Day fifteen, Case Number 3:14CR12: United States of America versus Robert F McDonnell and Maureen G McDonnell The United States is represented by Michael Dry, David Harbach, Jessica Aber, Ryan Faulconer, and Richard Cooke Robert F McDonnell is represented by Henry Asbill, Timothy Taylor, and Ryan Newman. Maureen G McDonnell is represented by William Burck, Heather Martin, Stephen Hauss, and Daniel Koffmann. Are counsel ready to proceed?

MR. FAULCONER: The United States is ready to proceed

MR BURCK: Maureen McDonnell is ready to proceed

MR. ASBILL: Mr McDonnell is ready to proceed

THE COURT: We are here to deal with the Rule 29 motions I'll hear from the defendants in any order you prefer

MR. NEWMAN: Good morning, Your Honor May it please the Court, my name is Ryan Newman I will be arguing on behalf of Mr McDonnell

Mr McDonnell is entitled to judgment of acquittal on all counts charged by the government in this case. He is entitled to a judgment of acquittal on Counts One through Eleven, the public corruption counts, because the government has failed to produce any evidence of a legally cognizable official act Mr McDonnell is also entitled to a judgment of acquittal on Counts Twelve and Thirteen, the false statement counts, because Mr McDonnell's loan documents are not actually false as a matter of law

I want to begin with the false statement charges, Counts Twelve and Thirteen. Now, the government claims that Mr McDonnell's loan documents, the personal financial statement to TowneBank, and the refi loan application to PenFed, are false because they omitted certain loans made by Jonnie Williams But an omission doesn't automatically constitute a false statement. An omission makes a statement false only if the information that was omitted was required to be on the form in the first place If the information is not required to be on the form, then leaving it off does not constitute a false statement, and a false statement is a required element of an offense under Section 1014

The government, however, has produced no evidence that the omitted loans were required to be listed. It simply offered into evidence the loan document, and then had an official from the bank testify that the loan from Mr Williams wasn't on the form. But that's not enough. The government has to establish beyond a reasonable doubt that the information that they claim to be omitted was required to be on the form. And in this case, Mr McDonnell's bank documents are not false because the omitted loans were not required to be disclosed

Now, to understand this completely, we need to walk through what loans we are talking about exactly So there are three that are at issue There is the May 23rd, 2011 loan, $50,000 loan to Maureen McDonnell There is the March 6th, 2012 $50,000 loan to MoBo And a May 22nd, 2012 $20,000 loan to MoBo

Now, the government has suggested that these loans are really just loans to Mr McDonnell But there actually isn't any evidence of that Let's take first the May 23rd, 2011 $50,000 loan to Ms McDonnell The check was made out to Ms McDonnell The Starwood ledgers identify the loan as a loan to Ms McDonnell Ms McDonnell deposited the money in her personal bank account Mr Williams testified that Ms McDonnell had told him that she needed to borrow the money And most importantly, Mr Williams never testified that Mr McDonnell had ever agreed to be jointly liable for the debt Mr Williams only testified that he wanted Mr McDonnell to know about the debt, to know about the loan.

There is also no evidence that Mr McDonnell ever signed a personal guarantee So because this loan was a loan to Ms McDonnell, the only way that Mr. McDonnell can be liable on it is if he guaranteed the loan. But under Virginia law, that requires a writing, a separate contract He would have to enter into a written contract to personally guarantee a loan to a third party It is also important to bear in mind, Your Honor, that under Virginia law, a loan to one spouse is not automatically a debt to the other as well

As for the other two loans, the March 6th, 2012 $50,000 loan to MoBo, and the May 22nd, 2012 $20,000 loan to MoBo: The $50,000 loan, that check, was also made out to MoBo Realty, attention to Maureen Uncapher, which is Mr McDonnell's sister But she is also a MoBo partner The money was also deposited into a MoBo bank account Same thing with the $20,000 loan That was a wire transfer right into a MoBo bank account, attention to Michael Uncapher, who manages or at the time managed MoBo's affairs for Mr McDonnell and his sister

In addition, Mr Williams testified that he knew the loans were for property that were managed by MoBo So he understood that this was, that the loan money was for MoBo operations

Again, Mr Williams never testified that Mr McDonnell had somehow agreed to be jointly liable on a

MoBo loan So the only way that Mr McDonnell can be liable on that loan is if he personally guaranteed the loan And again, under Virginia law, that requires a writing He would have to enter into a contract signed on the dotted line, assuming liability of the loan. He did not So none of these loans are actually personal liabilities of Mr McDonnell

Which brings us to Count Twelve, the TowneBank charge The government claims that Mr McDonnell omitted at least $50,000 in liabilities to Mr Williams from his personal financial statement that he submitted to TowneBank. Now, on the personal financial statement form, there's two options for the borrower to check. He can check that it is an individual financial statement, or he can check that it is a joint financial statement with the spouse On this particular form, Mr McDonnell checked that it was an individual financial statement So that would exclude any liabilities that belonged solely to Ms McDonnell And as I've just established, because the $50,000 loan, May 23rd, 2011 loan to Ms McDonnell was solely her obligation, it was not a personal liability of Mr McDonnell, and he had no obligation whatsoever to put it on the personal financial statement So his omission of that loan is not false It was actually proper In fact, it would have been false had he included that liability on his personal financial statement, because it is not one of his liabilities

Same thing with the MoBo loans. Those loans are obligations and liabilities of MoBo, not a personal liability of Mr McDonnell So as well, inclusion of that loan on his personal financial statement would have made it false The omission made it true And so the government is just off base by charging this offense And as a matter of law, those obligations were not required to be on the personal financial statement and he is entitled to a judgment of acquittal on Count Twelve

Now, on Count Thirteen, this is the PenFed refi application, the government claims, similarly, that Mr McDonnell omitted $120,000 in liabilities to Mr Williams from his refinance application to PenFed. Now, unlike the TowneBank personal financial statement, this application was submitted jointly with Ms McDonnell But even so, those MoBo loans don't need to be on this loan application, because that is an obligation of the limited liability company, not a personal obligation of Mr McDonnell or Ms McDonnell So they had no obligation whatsoever to include that as a personal liability, and in fact, had they done so, that would have been false Under Virginia law, it is clear that the obligations of a limited liability company cannot be imputed to the members And the only way for Mr McDonnell to have been personally liable for that loan is if he would have executed a written agreement, a personal guarantee, assuming liability of the loan.

That brings us to the $50,000 loan to Ms McDonnell Now, the government hasn't offered any testimony why that loan should have been included. The only testimony on the record right now is the testimony of Nan Bolt, a PenFed employee And she testified that the final application, which the bank approved, did not include that loan. And it didn't include the loan because no payments were actually due So the bank did not regard the omission of that loan as needing to be on the form and its omission didn't make the form false

So for those two reasons, because Mr. McDonnell was not obligated to list personal liabilities -- because he was not obligated to list the liabilities of a limited liability company, and because the $50,000 loan to his wife wasn't required to be on the form according to the testimony of the PenFed officers, the omission of those two liabilities did not make the application false, and Mr McDonnell is entitled to judgment of acquittal on Count Thirteen, the PenFed count, as well

The bottom line, Your Honor, on the false statement charges is that the liabilities of Maureen

McDonnell and the liabilities of MoBo are not personal liabilities of Mr McDonnell So he had no obligation to include those liabilities where he was required to list personal liabilities on a loan document Virginia law makes that clear The testimony of the bank witnesses makes that clear as well And Mr McDonnell is entitled to acquittal on both of those counts

The second thing I would like to talk about are the most significant counts in this case, the counts pertaining to public corruption Mr McDonnell is also entitled to a judgment of acquittal on all corruption counts, including the conspiracy count as well And the reason is that the government has not offered any evidence that the Governor, Mr McDonnell, promised or performed a legally cognizable official act The government has now had an opportunity to put on its case Over the course of nearly three weeks, we have heard a lot about gifts and loans, the alleged quid in this case But we have heard very little, virtually nothing, about what constitutes the official acts, the quo

Now, we have already laid out in great detail our view of the law in our motion to dismiss And so I don't want to belabor that with you because I'm sure you already are very familiar with our legal arguments But I do want to make a few important points

In denying our motion to dismiss, this Court made very clear that the question before the jury was whether Mr McDonnell's conduct in fact constituted, quote, the corruption of official positions through misuse of influence in governmental decision making

The Court's focus on the misuse of influence in governmental decision making is key Because it is the use of one's office to make or influence governmental decisions that separates a legally cognizable official act under federal corruption law from any act otherwise performed by a public official in the official's official capacity The Supreme Court has made clear that not every action that a public official takes on the job, not every action that a public official takes in his official capacity, is an official act

To perform an official act under the law, an official must take an action or make a decision on a matter pending before him. Every case, as far as I can tell, I feel like I've looked at a lot, that has applied this definition has involved, at a minimum, an attempt to influence a governmental decision; either the exercise of governmental power itself, or an attempt to influence another governmental decision maker in exercising governmental power

In this case, Your Honor, the government has produced no evidence, none, that Mr McDonnell attempted to influence any pending governmental decision.

Mr Williams and others have testified that Mr Williams wanted funding He wanted funding either from the Tobacco Commission or from the state budget to fund independent clinical studies of anatabine at UVA and VCU But there is no evidence, none, that Mr McDonnell asked or directed anyone to include a line item in his budget for anatabine research You heard testimony from Mr Kilgore, who said that there -- a meeting wasn't even called. There is no evidence that Mr McDonnell asked or directed any employee, administrator, or official at UVA or VCU to research anatabine or to submit an application for funding from the Tobacco Commission And there is no evidence that Mr McDonnell lobbied anyone at the Tobacco Commission, called anybody up, wrote a letter, anything, to lobby in support of anatabine research.

Now, viewing the facts in the light most favorable to the government, and based on yesterday's testimony in which the government appeared to identify, and it can be quite difficult to identify exactly what the official acts are in this case, but to the extent that they tried to set them out yesterday, it appears that there are at least four, really only three, because one of them is outside the scope of the conspiracy The first quo or official act that was identified yesterday was the meeting with Secretary Hazel But that happened well before April, 2011, and it is not part of the charged conduct The only other three potential official acts were a meeting with Ms Huffstetler in early August of 2011; a luncheon at the Mansion with a brief appearance by the Governor on August 30th, 2011; and an opportunity to attend and invite guests to a Healthcare Leaders Reception at the Mansion in February of 2012

These are not official acts in any meaningful sense, because all they provided Mr Williams was access to various governmental officials But the Supreme Court has made clear that mere access is not corruption And in fact, there is no evidence, when you look at the facts of each of these events, that Mr McDonnell attempted to influence anyone to take any particular governmental action in favor of Mr Williams He didn't tell Ms Huffstetler to do anything for Mr Williams other than go to the meeting He didn't tell her to respond favorably to whatever it was that Mr Williams proposed. He didn't tell her to take any -- to use her authority or powers as a governmental official to do anything for Mr Williams other than to listen to him.

At the luncheon on August 30th, Mr McDonnell didn't tell the UVA and VCU researchers in attendance that they should go research anatabine He didn't direct them to do that He didn't ask them to do that In fact, he asked probing questions about the efficacy of it. He expressed skepticism about it He did generally support Mr Williams, but all politicians do that But he didn't direct any public official to do anything He just showed up at the event

The third official act: Mr Williams had an opportunity to attend and invite guests to a Healthcare Leaders Reception at the Mansion Again, Mr McDonnell didn't direct any of the Healthcare Leaders in attendance who happened to be public officials to do anything for Mr. Williams He didn't direct them to research anatabine He didn't ask them to do so, either He exercised no influence over any of these officials He didn't direct them to do anything And it is not even clear, Your Honor, that there was a matter pending before them at the time, which is an element of the official act definition.

In fact, it is important to bear in mind that no application was made to the Tobacco Commission And if you recall Mr Kilgore's testimony, the process for even getting UVA and VCU to act really didn't get off the ground. There was no meaningful decision to be made at that time There was no decision pending for

Mr McDonnell at that time And even if there was, he took no steps to influence anybody to make a particular decision one way or another And absent that, there just isn't an official act

And the Government's entire legal theory really boils down to this: That an official act can be merely arranging a meeting or attending an event But if that's the case, then virtually anything a public official does in his official capacity can be an official act and can be a basis for a federal investigation, a prosecution, and throwing a public official in prison

Your Honor, that's unprecedented. You will search in vain through the Federal Reports and not find a case remotely like this one I haven't been able to find one Because every case involves someone exercising governmental power in some way, either the award of a contract, a regulatory approval, hiring an employee, something that exercises governmental power All the government has here is a meeting, a luncheon at the Mansion, inviting guests to a Healthcare Leaders Reception And the Governor doesn't even ask or request or pressure anyone to do anything for Mr Williams And that's why Mr Williams never got anything Never He didn't get what he wanted. He wanted funding That never got off the ground. Why? Because Mr McDonnell wasn't doing anything to influence anyone to take governmental action on Mr Williams' behalf

The other thing that's important to keep in mind here, too, Your Honor, is that accepting gifts under state law is perfectly lawful Accepting campaign contributions is perfectly lawful. If it is the case that a mere meeting can be an official act, then any time a public official arranges a meeting for anyone who has provided that official something of value in the past, whether it is a campaign donation, or in the State of Virginia, whether it is a gift, which again is perfectly lawful under Virginia law, can be the basis for a federal investigation and prosecution, and the only thing that will protect a public official is the prosecutorial discretion of government attorneys, government prosecutors That's it

I recall when the government argued in the motion to dismiss hearing that they said, "Well, whether arranging a meeting is an official act is a matter of context It is all about context " I remember this was repeated over and over again. What that really means, what the government is really telling you, Your Honor, is that, "Well, we will know it when we see it " Because it is not, and it won't be evident to anyone else The government cannot articulate a clear principle to apply

And so all we are left with is prosecutorial whim, prosecutorial discretion.

There is one other point that I want to make Because throughout this trial, you have heard testimony to the effect that, "Well, Mr Williams, he just wanted credibility for his product He just wanted to be close to public officials so that that could afford him some sort of legitimacy or credibility " You have heard about this halo effect That is completely irrelevant in terms of determining whether a particular action by a public official is an official act Whether there is that kind of effect or not has nothing to do with the core inquiry, and that is, whether an action or decision is being taken on a pending matter And there is not a shred of evidence that Mr McDonnell took any action or made any decision on a matter pending before him. There is no evidence that he influenced anyone to take a decision, to make a decision or take a particular action on a pending matter

These charges, Your Honor, should be thrown out Mr McDonnell is entitled to a judgment of acquittal on all of the public corruption counts

That's all I have, unless you have any questions

THE COURT: Thank you very much Mr Burck?

MR. BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor Good morning Your Honor, I'm not going to spend much time on Counts One through Eleven and Thirteen. We join Governor McDonnell or Mr McDonnell's reasoning in his Rule 29 motion on the One through Eleven The only thing we would point out, of course, which you heard me say many times in Court: She is not a public official, our client isn't So the official acts must have been taken, if they were taken, by Governor McDonnell And if there is no evidence that support the official acts for him, there can't be for our client as well And we also don't believe there is any evidence that suggests that she tried to influence him to corrupt his office So our view, again, is that our client rises or falls on the Rule 29 motion with the Governor

On Count Thirteen, which is the only bank fraud charge that she is charged with, the evidence in this case has been clear that there was no evidence that she actually knew anything about the information that was being provided to the bank, PenFed, as part of the application process Nan Bolt testified that she had to be reminded, as you recall, Your Honor, that Ms McDonnell was on the phone And she testified that she didn't say much if anything And she also testified that all the information she received came from the Governor, all the e-mails, everything that was presented in evidence, everything came from the Governor Nothing came from Ms. McDonnell

And there is, of course, an intent requirement there And the only thing that links Ms. McDonnell to the bank fraud charge in Thirteen is the fact that she did sign the application. But we don't believe that is sufficient, given the evidence here, that she had nothing to do with the actual provision of information, and there is no evidence she actually even knew what was in the application.

So Your Honor, what we really want to focus on today is really Count Fourteen, which is the obstruction count And she is the only one, of course, charged in this count, and this relates solely to the letter, the handwritten note that Ms McDonnell sent to Jonnie Williams with the box of dresses that she returned to him in March of 2013 And there are several points we want to make on this I'll just go through them step by step

The first point is that there is no evidence at all, Your Honor, that this letter was even false Mr Williams testified on cross, and also on direct, about the letter, and he did say that it was a fabrication. But if you recall, I asked him specific questions about what was false about the letter, tried to take him through the letter, and he essentially refused to answer and just said, "It is a fabrication " So the question then is to look at the letter itself and try to understand what it is that the government believes was false about this letter

The only things that are in the letter -- the indictment alleges that the letter suggests there was a prior agreement between Mr Williams and my client to have these dresses returned. On its face, the letter doesn't actually say anything like that There are two lines in the letter that are actually relevant to this point And the first one says, "I truly hope your daughter will now be able to enjoy these lovely outfits and show them off on many grand occasions " That's one line On its face, there is literally nothing in the letter that suggests, in that line, that sentence, that suggests there was an agreement between Ms McDonnell and Mr Williams

In the second line, this is the only other thing in the letter that appears to be relevant, "If not, I'm sure there are many exemplary charitable organizations like we talked about who would welcome the opportunity to auction them for a wonderful cause " Now, that sentence literally says that "there are many exemplary charitable organizations like we talked about " The "like we talked about" refers explicitly in that sentence to the charitable organizations And there has been testimony in this case about a charitable organization that

Mr Williams, Mr McDonnell, and Ms McDonnell all went to in September of 2011, I believe it was, the Cure By Design event, which was a fashion industry charitable organization for cancer research. And it was literally about the fashion industry and about dresses, and Ms McDonnell had to walk down a runway Brad Kroenig, Mr Williams' friend, the male model, came in order to assist her with that process, to give her some assistance on that process And this is in evidence, that in fact Mr Williams attended such an event with Ms McDonnell So there is no question that there is evidence in the record that there were charitable organizations that they talked about.

But what this sentence does not say is there was an agreement The first point we want to make is, there is nothing literally on the face of this letter that is false

The next point is that there was no federal grand jury investigation of Ms McDonnell or Mr McDonnell at the time that she sent this note There is no dispute on that In fact, there has been testimony that there was no such investigation There was, in fact, a state grand jury investigation, and there was a federal grand jury investigation of Mr Williams on a securities fraud, but there was no actual grand jury investigation, federal, of our client, my client, or Mr McDonnell, at the time she sent this note

Now, we are not arguing, because the law is clear, that there doesn't have to be a federal grand jury investigation at the time that the obstruction occurs And the defendant doesn't have to know that the grand jury investigation is itself a federal one No question about that The law is clear on that But that's not our point The point here is that there were two other grand jury investigations that were not the ones that are in this case that were pending at that time, and one that is in this case did not exist So the question then becomes, what was her intent with respect to that letter for a federal grand jury investigation.

And the law is very clear from AGUILAR, from SCHWARZ, which is the Second Circuit case that is the leading case interpreting AGUILAR, that she has to have a specific intent to obstruct this federal grand jury investigation, Your Honor And I think the easiest to way for us to convey just how -- it seems to be abundantly clear to us that she is entitled to dismissal of this charge as a matter of law We look at the SCHWARZ facts, and this is the Second Circuit case And in that case, Your Honor, the defendant had been served with a federal grand jury subpoena for documents, had been served with that subpoena And it was for that federal grand jury that he was alleged to have obstructed. He was then interviewed two days later by federal investigators about the conduct being investigated by that same federal grand jury And in fact, the defendant himself had initiated the meeting, had actually reached out to the federal investigators after receiving the subpoena to talk to them. And during that interview, he made false statements

And the question then was, for the Second Circuit, was were those false statements intended; was there sufficient evidence to show the nexus requirement, that they were intended to obstruct the federal grand jury, which this defendant knew about, in fact, had received the grand jury subpoena and was talking to the investigators who were involved in that grand jury investigation

The Court of Appeals said no, it wasn't enough. They said that AGUILAR does not allow that to be sufficient nexus And the reason they said that was because the defendant himself had not been asked to testify before the grand jury Even though he knew about it, even though he had a grand jury subpoena, and even though he was talking to federal investigators, he had not himself been asked to testify, and there was no evidence that the investigators, who he was talking to, who were investigating on behalf of the grand jury, gave him any indication that they would repeat his statements to the grand jury

So the two facts that they relied on to say this was not enough was the fact that he was not himself asked to testify, and the investigators had not said, "I'm going to tell the grand jury about what you said." And that was enough in SCHWARZ and in AGUILAR, which has similar facts, the Supreme Court case, to say this is not a sufficient nexus Because again, the key is that the defendant has to have a specific intent to actually obstruct this federal grand jury investigation in this case, a prospective one, but it has to be this one And that's what's missing entirely from this case There has been literally no evidence on this

And just to put a finer point on it, Ms McDonnell, unlike the SCHWARZ defendant, who the Second Circuit said can't, you can't convict of this charge, had received no federal grand jury subpoena at all from anyone Nothing from this case, nothing from Jonnie Williams, nothing in the state grand jury Nothing She had received no indication from anybody that her note was going to be provided to any grand jury Mr Williams, there has been no evidence in this case that he had received a federal grand jury subpoena relating to this case, because, of course, it didn't exist at the time He had received a federal grand jury subpoena relating to his securities case But there is also no evidence she even knew about that

Your Honor, at a fundamental level, she wasn't aware of a federal grand jury investigation because there wasn't one at the time

So in fact, there was no federal grand jury proceeding So we have a situation in which Ms McDonnell is in a position where she knows even less, even has less notice of any kind of federal grand jury investigation than the defendant in SCHWARZ And the Second Circuit said that is insufficient, and the Supreme Court of the United States has said the same thing

So Your Honor, our view is that on this final count for Ms McDonnell, on Count Fourteen, there just is no possible way that she could be convicted of this under the law, because there is literally no evidence at all of her specific intent to obstruct this federal grand jury investigation, which did not exist at the time, and of which there is no evidence that she had any awareness of any prospective one, either So Your Honor, that's all for us Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: Thank you very much Government?

MR. FAULCONER: Thank you, Your Honor I think where I'd like to start is where Ms Aber started with her opening statement to the jury, which is that this is a fundamentally simple case We did put on three weeks of evidence And when Your Honor decided the motions to dismiss in this case, what you had in front of you were the allegations in the indictment Over the course of the last three weeks, we have provided evidence to support every single allegation in that indictment and more So the standard that you are looking at here, which Your Honor knows well, is whether any rational trier of fact could find the essential elements of the charges beyond a reasonable doubt viewing the evidence in the light most favorable to the prosecution. And so that means that for any factual dispute that's out there, if there is any evidence to support that factual dispute in favor of the government, Your Honor has to go with that evidence at this stage

So Your Honor, I'm happy to walk through all of the counts, but I think the first thing I'd probably say is, is there any particular area that Your Honor wants me to focus on?

THE COURT: No

MR. FAULCONER: Then taking some of these arguments that the defense has made in the order that they made them, starting with the false statement counts, at the end of the day, the allegations that they have made, or the arguments that they are making about the false statement claims, are really just factual disputes Whether or not this loan was to -- whether or not the first $50,000 loan was to Ms McDonnell or Mr and Ms McDonnell is a factual question. Whether or not the next two loans were loans to MoBo or to the McDonnells together is a factual question.

Now, they say, "Well, there's no facts saying that these were loans to the McDonnells together " But Your Honor, there's roughly a dozen if not more places in the record from Mr Williams alone, just his testimony, where he said he was loaning money to the McDonnells Page 682 of the transcript, Lines 4 through 6 He describes that he is writing the checks to these entities or to Ms McDonnell, but that the loan is to, the first loan was to the McDonnells together Page 483, Line 10, that the $50 000 loan was to Mr McDonnell Page 374, Line 24, that the loan was to the McDonnells Page 799, Lines 1 through 3, again, the loans to the McDonnells

And Your Honor, later on, I won't provide every single record cite for these, but there's general conversation during Mr Williams' testimony about loaning money to the Governor generally on Page 791, again on Page

832 And I think one passage that's particularly helpful on this point, that's worth reading here about the first $50,000 loan, was actually during Mr Asbill's cross-examination of Mr Williams on Page 1171 And this really encapsulates what the issue is here Mr Asbill asked: "You viewed this $50,000 loan to MoBo as another loan you were making to Ms McDonnell at her request Answer: I viewed this $50,000 loan as what I viewed the first one as They were in trouble financially, and I was helping their family out Question: And that first loan was to her, was it not? Answer: The first loan was Question: Okay Answer: The first loan, the check was made out to her, but the loan from my perspective was to both of them."

So at the end of the day, Your Honor, the fact that there are some moments where people referred to, "Oh, the Ms McDonnell loan," the one where the check was made out to her, or "the MoBo loan," the one where the check was made out to MoBo, that doesn't mean that the loan was actually to that entity

And really, at the end of the day, the best evidence that we have of who this loan was actually to is Mr McDonnell's own handwriting On the false statement for Count Thirteen, this is the PenFed loan application, after his wife is interviewed by law enforcement, Mr McDonnell goes to that loan application, which is written in plain English It says "Liabilities," "Disclose your liabilities " What does he do? He writes "$50,000 loan, Starwood Trust Or "$70,000 loan, Starwood Trust " "$50,000 loan, Jonnie Williams " Now, remember, the $50,000 loan, that was a Starwood Trust check So in Mr McDonnell's own mind, he is not putting, "Oh, that's Starwood Trust " He is putting "Jonnie Williams" there But more importantly, he is listing those two loans on this as liabilities of him and Ms McDonnell That's what he thought at the time

And so at the end of the day, what we are sort of left with here, Your Honor, is this curious situation where the defense's argument is essentially, "This was such an undocumented loan, there was so little paperwork on this, that we can just say after the fact, 'Well, it was whatever we wanted it to be '" But when you actually look at the testimony from Mr Williams and when you look at Mr McDonnell's own concession on this application, it was a loan to the McDonnells together

And when there was some of this conversation going back and forth during Mayor Sessoms's testimony, I believe probably the most pressing point was the one Your Honor made, where you interrupted Mr Sessoms and said, "Hang on, if somebody is liable for something, you want to know about that, right?" And Mayor Sessoms said, "Yes, we do. If somebody is personally liable for something we want to know about that." That's essentially what we have here on these loans It is a factual dispute The defense can make this argument to the jury, but it is not one that should result in a motion to dismiss

The last thing I'll say on this one, Your Honor, is that they have raised a couple of times that there is this point of, "Well, there has to be a written personal guarantee " First off, I don't think you can interpret Mayor Sessoms's testimony, especially if you are viewing it in the light most favorable to us, that if somebody had a billion-dollar loan out there but it wasn't in writing, the bank would say, "We don't care " But taking that aside, the defense, when you actually read their pleading closely, concedes that the written personal guarantee is only necessary, and this is on Page 9 of their Motion for Judgment of Acquittal, they say Mr Sessoms made clear, for instance, that corporate or LLC debts are not required to be disclosed on a personal financial statement in the absence of a written personal guarantee But that presumes that it is a corporate or LLC debt Which, again, is the factual question that should be resolved by the jury

Briefly to address Mr Burck's point on Count

Thirteen for Ms McDonnell's signature on the false loan application: I'll give him some credit for creativity on that one, but I don't think that you can say with the standard that we have here that simply because you signed something, you are not responsible for the statement that was made She signed under the part of the loan application that says, "I read this; all the information is accurate " The information wasn't accurate She knew about the other $120,000 in loans The mere fact that it was Mr McDonnell and not her who tried to cover it up after the fact doesn't excuse her of liability And so I don't really think that argument gets much traction.

To move next, Your Honor, to the obstruction count: Again, on this one, I think Mr Burck, again, is being creative with this argument here But the note does not have to be false in order for there to be adequate evidence of the obstruction count The obstruction count is not a false statement to law enforcement It is not a false statement to a bank. We do not have to prove that there was any specific literally false statement in that note.

Now, to be fair, there was a false statement in that note When you read that statement, and Mr Williams testified, and this is on Page 1021 and 1022 of the transcript, again, I think during cross-examination, where

Mr Williams says, "This is a fabrication " Well, when you actually look at the standard that's required for the obstruction, it is whether or not you are trying to obstruct, impede, or influence the grand jury proceeding And sending a note that is misleading to somebody, even if you can't necessarily -- if you can parse out some of the grammar of it in different ways, sending somebody something that can be characterized as a fabrication, and again, Your Honor has to credit that testimony at this point, sending a fabrication to somebody is certainly something that can be designed to obstruct, impede, or influence the grand jury proceeding

Now, to address Mr Burck's argument about Ms McDonnell not having the appropriate intent or there not being enough evidence of the nexus Again, Your Honor, the question is what is the "this" that she has to have the intent to obstruct And the law makes clear, as Mr Burck conceded, that there doesn't have to be a grand jury proceeding in place at the time of the obstructive conduct He also conceded, as he must, that at the time of the obstructive conduct, the defendant doesn't have to know whether that was federal or state in nature

So what is the "this" that the defendant has to be knowing that they are potentially obstructing? The "this" is the investigation into the relationship between the McDonnells and Mr Williams, into the potentially corrupt relationship And as of the time of the law enforcement interview when she was asked about and then she lied about the payments and -- or the $50,000 payment, the written contract, and the catering check, at that point in time she knew that law enforcement was looking into what we now know was the bribe scheme

And then she goes over and she gives Mr Williams' brother this box with the letter and the dress And even prior to handing him the box and the letter and the dress, his testimony was that at some point prior to that, she said she was going to go down to the FBI and try and clear all this up, or something to that effect And so, Your Honor, in that situation, she clearly knows what the "this" is And if the parameters of the statute mean anything, what they mean is that -- those being the parameters saying you don't need the grand jury proceeding and you don't need to know it's federal -- it's to address precisely this type of argument

If you know that somebody is investigating your potentially corrupt relationship with a bribe payer and then what you do, especially in a crime like this where intent is the question, what was your intent, and you then go and you say, "Well, I'm going to give him a note saying, well, this is really all just a loan all along This wasn't a gift," of course that's something that's designed to obstruct that proceeding Otherwise, Your Honor, they wouldn't always be making the point, "Well, this" -- "these were loans to Mr McDonnell or to the McDonnells or to MoBo or to whatever "

Well, they keep raising the point that it was a loan to try to say, "Well, that lessens the corrupt intent because it wasn't as valuable of quid " Well, that's exactly what she was trying to do there, and that's exactly what she was trying to do with that note And there's adequate evidence in the record from which a reasonable jury could find that she was trying to obstruct an official proceeding

So then lastly, Your Honor, to move to the corruption charges This is grounds that we have, obviously, covered before And to take Your Honor back to the order that you wrote in denying their motion to dismiss, Mr Newman raised one of the quotations that Your Honor had to CARSON But what he didn't mention was Your Honor's citation of UNITED STATES v JEFFERSON, which is the case that's actually controlling authority here

Now, what Your Honor said about that is that in JEFFERSON, it enumerated among the defendant's official acts, quote, attempting to facilitate and promote ventures between foreign governments and the businesses who were paying

And so the situation that we had there was a congressman attempting to promote business ventures between a business and a foreign government So we had a congressman and the United States Congress over here, business ventures between a foreign government and a business, and a congressman trying to cross over and influence that

What we have here is the Chief Executive of the state engaging in a corrupt relationship with Mr Williams in which he was accepting things of value in return for helping Mr Williams obtain research studies and government assistance to promote his product So, Your Honor, I think one thing that's important to keep in mind in this situation is that we don't have to prove that a single official act was ever performed, merely that that was what was promised, that was what the exchange was here But we have proved that there were official acts performed

Now, in JEFFERSON, the matter of cause that the Fourth Circuit found sufficient as pending before Congressman Jefferson was described very, very broadly as African trade issues and that the particular official acts alleged there were actions or decisions on that matter of African trade issues

Now, how many witnesses, Your Honor, have we heard get up here and say, "Virginia business and economic development, Bob's For Jobs"? Virginia business and economic development is a matter of cause that was pending before Mr McDonnell as Governor of Virginia But if you even define it more narrowly as obtaining research studies or influencing the universities, that's a matter of cause that's pending before him as the Chief Executive

And then, essentially, the situation we get into with this argument is that, as with many other things, Mr McDonnell wants to focus on everyone's conduct but his own He wants to say, "Well, I didn't cause any other people to do official acts I didn't cause Sharon Krueger or Dr Lazo or Dr Clore" -- "I didn't, you know, shove them into a corner and tell them, 'You must do this '"

But, Your Honor, look at his own conduct of what he personally did The Chief Executive ordered his Cabinet subordinate to send somebody to a meeting on less than 12 hours of notice That was an official act Mr McDonnell appeared at an event that he knew other government employees had to spend a bunch of time preparing Sarah Scarbrough told you, "I'm a government employee I have to RSVP, lists, e-mails " Remember her testimony where we went through what had to be nearly a dozen different e-mails about invite lists

He knows that that's what's going on behind the scenes to set that up, and then he shows up at that event And they keep trying to say, Your Honor, that, "Well, Mr McDonnell didn't say X or didn't say Y at the lunch, launch," whatever it was The fact of the matter is he didn't have to say anything Merely hosting that event in the context of knowing that Mr Williams wanted to obtain those research studies and knowing that he was the Chief Executive of the state, the boss for those state employees who were present at that event, that alone was enough for that to be an official act, even if he merely walked in, sat down, smiled, and walked out

And the same is true when you go to the Healthcare Leaders Reception the next year Now, there he did specifically acknowledge one of the doctors associated with Star Scientific And on that one, Your Honor, we know that state funds paid for the Star Scientific individuals that were there That came straight out of taxpayer funds

And then a couple of weeks later when Mr McDonnell is at a Cabinet meeting, pulls out a bottle or a pill of Anatabloc and says, "You should really meet with these people " Again, that's an official act in that context when he knows that what Mr Williams wants is all those people to help him in state government with getting these research studies

And, Your Honor, at the end of the day, they want to focus a lot on all the things that Mr Williams didn't get And I've just gone through a number of the things that he did get But I think it's important to remember why Mr Williams didn't get some of the things that he didn't get It was because of other government officials who weren't being paid It was because of independent people at UVA or it was because of independent staffers who weren't aware of all of this, who weren't being paid to do things, who they might have said no But, again, it's not about whether other people took official acts after Mr McDonnell took his official acts He took official acts in response to all of these things, and that's why there's sufficient evidence as to him

To correct one brief aspect of Mr Burck's argument, just because it was in their pleading The defense for Ms McDonnell has said a couple of times that Mr McDonnell has to be found guilty in order for her to be found guilty on the corruption charges That's not true With respect to Counts One through Five, and that's the conspiracy to commit honest-services wire fraud, the three honest-services wire fraud counts, and the conspiracy on the Hobbs Act count, none of those five counts require Mr McDonnell to be guilty in order for Ms McDonnell to be guilty

And the reason for that is just basic law But she can conspire with Mr Williams, independent of Mr McDonnell, in order to commit honest-services fraud or she can scheme with Mr Williams, or on her own, to commit honest-services fraud With respect to the Hobbs Act count, she can conspire with Mr Williams to commit Hobbs Act extortion

The only counts where Mr McDonnell's culpability are required as a prerequisite to Ms McDonnell's culpability are the Hobbs Act counts -- the substantive counts, Six through Eleven, and that's only because the theory there is an aiding and abetting theory But on the conspiracy and the scheme charges, those don't have to be successful There doesn't actually have to be a public official involved You can merely conspire a scheme with somebody else Obviously, our position is that we have more than adequate evidence that Mr McDonnell is just as guilty as Ms McDonnell at this stage of the proceedings, but I just wanted to make that technical point

If I may have one moment, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Sure

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR FAULCONER: Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

Brief rebuttal, if you'd like

MR NEWMAN: Okay, Your Honor On the false statement charges, the government essentially agrees that if these are, in fact, loans to MoBo and loans to Maureen, as opposed to personal liabilities of -- of Mr McDonnell, then we are -- would be entitled to judgment of acquittal on those counts Their disagreement is on the question of whether or not these loans are solely loans to MoBo and Maureen McDonnell and not to Mr McDonnell

But the only evidence that they can offer of that is the testimony of Mr -- of Mr Williams as to what he thought he was doing, but there's no testimony as to what -- what Mr McDonnell's understanding was There's no testimony of that Mr Williams doesn't say that -- that -- that Mr. McDonnell understood that he was assuming Ms McDonnell's loan as a -- as a personal liability It just talks about what Mr Williams thought that he was doing

And at the end of the day, the objective evidence in the case demonstrates that the check was made out to Ms McDonnell, not to Mr McDonnell It was deposited in her account, not a joint account

THE COURT: The problem with that argument is the standard that I have to apply You glide very glibly over Mr Williams' testimony, but I can't I mean, the standard that I have to apply is giving the government the benefit of every reasonable inference And if the person who's providing the financial gain to someone else sees it as a loan, that's evidence that it's a loan That doesn't mean that it is, but that's evidence that it's a loan And so if there's evidence of it, then one can infer that it's a loan

So I -- your argument here is not being very helpful because you want me to simply ignore it I mean, that's a great jury argument I wouldn't believe this guy if he had 20 bishops in support of his testimony, if that's your argument But that's an argument for the jury, not at this stage It's not very helpful

MR NEWMAN: Well, I mean, the question -- the issue is not whether the government has any evidence that might be favorable to it The question is whether a reasonable jury could -- could convict on the evidence that exists, viewed in the light most favorable to the government And it's not clear to me, Your Honor, that just because Mr Williams thought that he was giving the loan to Maureen and -- and Governor McDonnell, that that was necessarily --

THE COURT: Well, a reasonable juror who --

MR NEWMAN: -- understood by the parties to be a joint obligation

THE COURT: A reasonable juror who has an open mind can either accept or reject the testimony of a witness That's -- I mean, that's fundamental So all 12 of these people who get to decide this, they can believe Mr Williams or they can decide not to believe him or they can accept whatever portion of that testimony they deem appropriate So it just can't disappear because you want it to disappear

MR NEWMAN: Fair enough, Your Honor

Well, then given that, then I'll move on the official acts argument that the government made I want to just briefly mention JEFFERSON because if you actually read

JEFFERSON, it's nothing remotely like this case Because there was no question that Congressman Jefferson was influencing others to actually exercise governmental power, obtain regulatory approvals for people, have contracts awarded Whether it was the Department of the Army or a foreign government, the fact remains that Congressman Jefferson was using his office to influence other decision-makers to take -- to exercise governmental power for the benefit of the bribe giver That's just not -- that's not the case here The -- there is no evidence of Mr McDonnell influencing anyone to exercise any governmental power to make any decision for the benefit of Mr Williams

And so what is particularly extraordinary about the government's position is they really are making the argument that merely arranging a meeting or attending an event can be an official act that would support a bribery prosecution That's unprecedented, Your Honor There's nothing in the case law that supports that And, in fact, it would be directly at odds with -- with SUN-DIAMOND where the Supreme Court made clear that not everything that an official does in his official capacity is an official act under the statute But the logic of the government's position would reduce every action that a government official takes to an official act that can support and be a basis for a bribery prosecution And that simply -- that simply can't -- that simply can't be the law, and there's no support in it for the case law And it would revolutionize American politics because it would make every public -- it would cast a pall of criminality over a public official anytime they do anything; arrange a meeting for a donor, or in the State of Virginia, arrange a meeting for anyone who has given them a gift That will create at least enough suspicion to launch federal prosecutors and investigators on a public official

The line must be clearer than that The government has to come forward with some evidence that the public official attempted to influence another public official, at a minimum, or took the action himself to exercise governmental power And there's just no evidence of that here

But the government's position truly is that asking, you know, Ms Huffstetler to attend a meeting with Mr Williams, that's it That was an official act, and that can be the basis for a prosecution There's no support in that for the case law That's certainly not what JEFFERSON says Because in JEFFERSON, you actually had attempts by Congressman Jefferson to influence certain outcomes in meetings, to influence other public officials to take actions -- to exercise governmental power for the benefit of the bribe giver

The government also made the point about the -- the Healthcare Leaders Reception and that state funds were used But that's not part of the analysis The question is whether or not there was an action or a decision on a matter pending before the official. So whether state funds are used is -- is irrelevant because there are countless things that officials do in their official capacity that might require the use of public funds but still wouldn't satisfy the official act definition

That's all I have, Your Honor, if you don't have any further questions

THE COURT: Thank you very much

Mr Burck, do you have anything?

MR BURCK: Your Honor, very briefly. Just three short points, Your Honor On the Counts One through Eleven, the government's argument that Ms McDonnell could be held -- could be found guilty even if Mr McDonnell were acquitted, that runs counter to the way they have actually charged this case and how they have presented their evidence All the evidence in this case has been that Mr McDonnell and Ms McDonnell were working in concert So we believe that if -- there cannot be -- it would be insufficient evidence to find that she did this, even under their theory of this case, if he didn't do it So that's our basic point there We can argue that at the jury instructions conference, Your Honor

And the second point dealing with the bank fraud As I understand Mr Faulconer's argument, this would be a strict liability crime if all you had to do was sign a document The point here, Your Honor, is that -- that the evidence that they have presented is not merely that she just signed a document It's that somebody else did all the communication and provided all of the information to the bank relevant to that application that they say is false So it's not just that she signed it It's that they haven't presented any evidence that she had anything to do with the actual provision of evidence -- or information So that's the reason why we think -- it's not a strict liability crime So you have to look at what they have actually provided

The third point, Your Honor, is on Count Fourteen, the obstruction count The -- starting with the falsity issue, I don't think Mr Faulconer conceded it wasn't false, but he did say that it doesn't have to be false Now, the problem with that is the evidence they presented through Mr Williams, he couldn't explain what was false about it All he said was that it was a fabrication He did not explain what was false about the -- about this document The indictment makes an allegation on that front, but Mr Williams did not And that's insufficient for this jury

But more importantly, Your Honor, on the nexus requirement, Mr Faulconer didn't even bother to mention AGUILAR, the Supreme Court, or SCHWARZ, the Second Circuit And these are not factual issues These are legal issues

And Ms McDonnell -- there is no evidence in this case, and I don't think there's any dispute, that she did not receive a grand jury subpoena prior to sending that letter, that she did not know of a grand jury proceeding in a federal case because there wasn't one, and that Mr Williams did not have one

The point is that both AGUILAR and SCHWARZ are a hundred percent clear that she has to have a specific intent Not that the letter might be provided to the federal grand jury, but that it would be And there is absolutely zero evidence in this record of that

Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right This is what I'll do The motions will be denied in all particulars I will write a memorandum of explanation

Thank you all very much I appreciate it

Government's Response in Opposition to Defendant Robert F McDonnell's Renewed Motion for Judgment of Acquittal (Oct. 14, 2014) (Dkt. No. 532) 804

THE CLERK: Day eighteen, Case Number 3:14CR12: United States of America versus Robert F McDonnell and Maureen G. McDonnell The United States is represented by Michael Dry, David Harbach, Jessica Aber, and Ryan Faulconer Robert F. McDonnell is represented by John Brownlee, Henry Asbill, Daniel Small, James Burnham, Christopher Iaquinto, and Timothy Taylor Maureen G. McDonnell is represented by Heather Martin, William Burck, Stephen Hauss, and Daniel Koffmann. Are counsel ready to proceed?

MR. DRY: The United States is ready to proceed.

MR. BROWNLEE: Mr McDonnell is ready to proceed

MR. BURCK: Maureen McDonnell is ready to proceed, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Let's bring in the jury, please

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

Good morning, ladies and gentlemen. Good to see you back. And for the record, we unfortunately have lost another juror Juror Number 389 had a family emergency out of state, and obviously, we are praying for him and we pray God's mercy and grace upon him and his situation. But we have to push on. All right. Defense?

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you, Your Honor We call Brenda Chamberlain.

BRENDA CHAMBERLAIN,

called as a witness by and on behalf of the defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Good morning

A Good morning

Q Would you please state your name and spell your first and last name for the court reporter?

A Brenda Chamberlain, B-R-E-N-D-A, C-H-A-M-B-E-R-L-A-I-N

Q Where do you reside, ma'am?

A Suffolk, Virginia

Q And do you have a small business that you run?

A I do.

Q What kind of business is that?

A Bookkeeping

Q Okay Can you give us a little bit of a sense what you do within your bookkeeping business?

A I take people's records that they provide me and input them into QuickBooks and categorize them. And bank statements, credit card statements, I provide payroll service, quarterly reports, financial statements

Q Okay How long have you been doing that?

A A little over ten years

Q Okay And can you give the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, describe briefly the types of clients that you have?

A I have everything from wholesale nursery, real estate, plumbers, electricians, construction companies, churches

Q About how many clients do you have?

A I have 28 companies between 19 clients

Q Okay And I believe you talked briefly about that, but in essence, is your job as a bookkeeper to collect information from your clients and then put them into QuickBooks and then submit them to the accountant; is that correct?

A That's correct, yes

Q Give us a brief summary of what is QuickBooks

A QuickBooks is a financial software that organizes, once you put the information in, it will prepare reports for you, profit and loss, balance sheets

Q Then that's, what you put into QuickBooks, then you submit it to the accountant; is that right?

A That's correct

Q Is it fair to say in doing your job it is important for you to have full access to all your clients' information?

A Yes, sir

Q Now, in obtaining information from clients, can you kind of give the ladies and gentlemen of the jury a sense of how do they give the information to you, what are their options?

A They can either mail it to me, some clients I do go to their office, but the ones that I do in my home they either mail it, I have access to their online accounts, I will go and pick up their information.

Q Okay Let me talk a little bit about, you mentioned, I think, the second one was access to online accounts Tell us exactly what that means when you do that for your clients

A A client can give me access where I can't actually transfer money or anything like that, but I can see all their records, the bank statements, any transactions within the account.

Q Okay. About how many of your clients give you access, of the 28, how many actually give you access to their online records?

A I think there's four or five.

Q Okay So fairly small amount?

A Yes

Q Okay Is that the easiest for you when you can just go in and see it all?

A Yes.

Q Okay Now, it is fair to say that you were the bookkeeper for an entity called MoBo

A Yes, that's correct

Q MoBo is an entity that's owned 50/50 by Bob McDonnell and his sister, Maureen; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay How did you become involved with MoBo?

A An accountant I work closely with, Daniel Cook

Q Is Mr Cook the accountant for MoBo?

A Yes.

Q Okay And do you get many referrals from Mr. Cook?

A Probably about 50 percent of my clients

Q Okay And when did he refer MoBo to you, do you remember?

A I believe it was 2009

Q Okay And when you came on board to be a bookkeeper for MoBo who was your kind of point of contact at MoBo?

A Michael Uncapher

Q Did you also become the bookkeeper for an entity called Blue Ridge Heaven?

A Yes

Q Who was the point of contact for Blue Ridge Heaven?

A Michael Uncapher, also

Q When you came on in '09 for MoBo, what year did you begin working on it?

A 2008

Q So they had to finish 2008 What was the kind of condition of the books when you came on in '09?

A They were just incomplete. I needed to go back and, I believe that is when I set up QuickBooks I put the company on QuickBooks

Q So when you got them in '09 they weren't even on QuickBooks?

A No

Q In comparing MoBo to some of your other clients, is it bigger, smaller?

A It is a medium-sized company There's not a lot of transactions

THE COURT: Could you move the mic down and a little closer to you?

THE WITNESS: Is that better?

THE COURT: Maybe you have to move. Okay. Go ahead.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q So I asked you about how big is MoBo compared to other clients

A I would say a medium size

Q Medium size Okay Now, and you said that Mr Uncapher was your point of contact at MoBo You knew that Mr Uncapher was at that time married to Bob McDonnell's sister, Maureen; is that right?

A Yes

Q Now, did Mr McDonnell have any kind of day-to-day management responsibilities at MoBo up until 2013?

A No

Q Up until first of 2013, had you ever talked to him?

A No.

Q Before coming here today, have you ever met him?

A No

Q Okay And Mr Uncapher then remained your point of contact and the person you worked with until about the beginning of 2013?

A It was the fall of 2012

Q Okay Now, you met -- when did you first meet Mr Uncapher when you came on in 2009?

A I had a meeting with him and Dan Cook and one of his associates

Q Okay. And what was Mr Uncapher's kind of primary responsibility with regard to MoBo and working with you?

A To provide me the data I needed to create the QuickBooks, the bank statements

Q Okay So his job was just to funnel the information to you.

A Correct

Q So you could do your job.

A Correct

Q Give us a sense of how well he did that in your view.

A He was very sporadic Sometimes the books would go three to six months before he would get me the information.

Q Okay So he was not on top of it, fair to say?

A No

Q Okay Let me show you an e-mail, RM-2043, just for the witness.

A Yes

MR. BROWNLEE: I can't see it, but that's fine, I've got it here

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Is this an e-mail from you to Mr Uncapher in September of 2011?

A Yes

MR. BROWNLEE: Your Honor, I would move RM-2043 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Just give us a sense of this. It is an e-mail chain We can put it up. Give us a sense of what's going on here in this back and forth between you and Mr Uncapher?

A I was just trying to get the data so I could update the QuickBooks He just was not providing it to me and I was at a point where I wasn't even sure if he wanted my services any longer

Q If we look at the final e-mail you sent to him in September, could you just read the first three lines?

A "I have not heard from you in some time Your accounts are extremely in need of updating I have not received updated information since April If you are no longer interested in having me keep your books, please let me know, so that I can get you the most updated copy of your companies and paperwork and I can receive any outstanding payment that is due "

Q Okay So example of him, it is just difficult to get information from him.

A Yes

Q Okay We can take that down. And let me show the witness, if I may, RM-2060 Now, is this an e-mail chain You are on it with Dan Cook, the accountant, and Michael Uncapher?

A Yes

MR. BROWNLEE: We move RM-2060 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Can you tell the jury just a little bit about what this e-mail is?

A The e-mail says Daniel Cook was sending an e-mail to Michael stating that I was going on vacation and that I needed the information as soon as possible so that he could complete the tax return for 2011

Q Okay So again, another example of just difficulty getting the information out of him.

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Please don't do that

MR. BROWNLEE: Fair enough, Your Honor We can take that down.

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q I'd like to switch and talk to you a little bit about the books of MoBo. Can you explain the process for reviewing and updating the books?

A The data I'm provided, I take that, input it and categorize it within QuickBooks For MoBo, they had a managing realty company, Sandbridge Realty, that would provide statements every month of all rental income and any expenses that they had for the properties Management fees, linens, maintenance, that type of thing I would take that and input it as well, reconcile the bank statements

Q So you got information from Sandbridge Properties, the property management company?

A Yes

Q Then you got information from the owners themselves

A Correct

Q And from --

A Michael Uncapher provided that to me, yes, at that time

Q And then from there, you put it all into QuickBooks and submitted it?

A Correct

Q It is fair to say that these books were pretty simple?

A Yes

Q Okay Let's show the witness RM-0243 And what is this, ma'am?

A This is an e-mail to Bob McDonnell and Maureen McDonnell I am attaching the final financials for 2012 plus a current P&L and balance sheet for the first quarter of 2013

Q You sent this e-mail?

A Yes.

MR. BROWNLEE: We move in, if it is not already in, it is also titled Government Exhibit 513

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q On this e-mail chain, it has Dan Cook, that's the accountant, correct?

A Yes

Q Who is Tara?

A She is an accountant within his firm.

Q You said these are the profit and loss statements through 2012?

A Correct

Q Now, if we could pull up, if you go to Page 9 and blow up the net income, it is in about the middle Now, tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, what is net income?

A Net income is the difference from your income less your expenses.

Q All right Now, is net income different than an operating budget?

A Yes

Q How so?

A I mean, operating budget is a budget that you enter to work your expenses to.

Q Okay And if you look here on the net income, it has negative net income at the bottom for each of the years; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Does that include depreciation?

A Yes

Q Okay And depreciation, what is depreciation?

A Depreciation is the, for instance, when you purchase a car, every year the value of it is reduced. That is depreciation.

Q So that is an expense every year that's added to your net income; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q Okay. Now, if you look up, move up and show "Depreciation," I believe it is the third under "Expenses." If you could blow that up And for 2009 through 2012, they have depreciation in the $66,000 range every year; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, is that sometimes referred to as a paper loss?

A That would actually be an accountant question. I would assume so, because it is not actual physical money that is going out

Q So if we were to back out the depreciation expense for these years, and then go and look at the net income, would that affect the actual net income?

A Yes.

Q Okay And so if you backed out depreciation, for instance, for 2012, would MoBo actually have a positive net income?

A Yes

Q You can take that down Thank you Now, you indicated that sometime in 2012, Mr McDonnell became involved, more involved in MoBo; is that correct?

A The first time I spoke with him was in 2013

Q Okay And do you understand, do you have some sense of why he became involved?

A From what I understood, there was a separation between Michael Uncapher and Mr McDonnell's sister, Maureen

Q Okay Was there a call set in February of 2013?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: Can I show RM-2061 to the witness?

THE COURT: Go ahead

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Is that an e-mail between you and Mr McDonnell's staff scheduling this conference call?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: We move RM-2061 into evidence.

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Who else was on this conference call? The date was -- what was the date of this call?

A February 2nd.

Q Was that --

A Saturday

Q It was a Saturday. Okay Who was on this call?

A Myself, Mr McDonnell, his sisters Maureen and Eileen.

Q Give the ladies and gentlemen of the jury a sense of what was discussed in that call

A We were discussing the best way to have me obtain the information that I needed to do the books for both MoBo and Blue Ridge Heaven. Whether we should have online access, which I suggested as the easiest way due to our locations

Q Okay Did you discuss any of the books themselves, the underlying data?

A Not the data, no

Q Do you recall discussing any loans?

A We discussed the fact that if I couldn't see the information online or I had additional questions, that I would be sending e-mails to find out what the answers would be

Q Okay Now, at that time, had Mr Uncapher given you any information for 2012?

A No.

Q So was that kind of the first order of business, was to get that?

A Yes

Q All right And you talked about requesting online access. What did you mean by that?

A So that I could go directly into their bank account and look at the transactions, obtain the bank statements.

Q On the phone, did Mr McDonnell agree to do that?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: Your Honor, could we pull up RM-2062?

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Is this an e-mail from Mr. McDonnell on February 4th, 2013, to you?

A Yes

Q All right

MR. BROWNLEE: We move in RM-2062

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Now, tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what this is

A He was providing me access to his TowneBank account.

Q So the call was on February 2nd, Saturday, and then two days later you received this e-mail from Bob McDonnell; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Let's just look at it. If you could just read the first sentence there

A "Brenda, as discussed I authorize you to have online access to the TowneBank account for MoBo Real Estate Partners, LLC for the limited purpose of providing regular bookkeeping services for the corporation Please go to townebank.com and click down-business plus login on left margin There are then two login numbers as follows:"

Q Then he gives you his username and password so that you can access the records

A Correct

Q And then the last sentence of this e-mail beginning with "I sent " What does that say?

A "I sent the Sandbridge Realty statements last night I will try to get you my note on owners contributions soon but you will likely see them in February-May 2012

Q So he is telling you he will follow up with some information.

A Correct

Q And just so -- and that is sent February 4th, 2013; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, do you recall a few days after that, actually, let me, if I can -- could we pull that back up, 2062? Sorry, it wasn't on my copy If you go up, did you respond to him?

A Yes, I did.

Q What did you say?

A "Thank you I will get to work on this within the next few days "

Q Okay And do you recall, did you in fact use the username and passcode and actually go into these accounts?

A Yes

Q Do you remember how long?

A Within a week, to make sure I had access

Q All right You can take that down. So when you would have access to the account, let me, if I can, pull up RM-1454 And is that an account for March of 2012?

A Yes

Q Okay And so when you would go into these accounts, is this something you would see?

A Yes, that's the bank statement

MR. BROWNLEE: We move in RM-1454, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q If you look down on March 12th, it has a deposit for $50,000 Do you see that?

A Yes

Q Okay And on this type of online service, can you click on that line and have the check actually pop up and the deposit slip?

A Yes

Q Do you have any independent recollection of doing it for that particular --

A No, I don't, I'm sorry

Q But your testimony is that this system allowed you to do that

A Correct

Q Okay And if we could pull up RM-1521 Do you see that?

A Yes

Q Okay And is this another similar statement for May of 2012?

A Yes

Q This is what you would have seen when you went online?

A Yes

MR. BROWNLEE: We move in RM-1521

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q If you look in the middle there, if you could publish that, for May 22nd, there is a wire transfer of $20,000;

is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay And that says Starwood Trust; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay And you would have been able to see that in the early part of February of 2013

A Yes

Q Okay You can take that down Thank you.

Q This username and passcode that Mr McDonnell provided to you, that was after only the first time you spoke to him; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And at that time, had you ever met him?

A No.

Q Okay. In your interactions with him, did he ever refuse to answer any questions you had?

A No

Q Okay And did TowneBank have certain security policies that required the owner to change the username and passcode from time to time?

A Usually it is every 90 days, and it has security questions.

Q And when they wc change it and you would go back to him to get the updated, he always gave it to you?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, I think you testified that you had a conference call on February 2nd with Mr McDonnell and his sisters; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay And then two days later he gave you the access, and did you receive two e-mails from him, one on February 18th and then one on February 19th, a few hours later?

A Yes

Q Okay Can we pull up RM-0242?

THE COURT: I didn't hear the number

MR. BROWNLEE: 0242, RM-0242

THE COURT: All right

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Did you receive this e-mail from Mr McDonnell at about 5:16 p.m. on the 18th?

A Yes

Q Okay.

MR. BROWNLEE: We would admit RM-0242

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

MR. BROWNLEE: Can we pull up RM-0245?

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q And is this the follow-up e-mail that you received a few hours later at about almost 1 a.m. on the 19th?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: We move for admission of RM-0245, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Let's show that one What is Mr McDonnell -- let's do it in order here 0242 If we could blow that one up. What is he telling you here?

A Do you want me to read it?

Q You can just summarize it for us

A He is telling me of some loans that were made to MoBo

Q Okay And did you view this as the response to the prior conversations and e-mails?

A Yes

Q Okay And on the 19th, the one sent a few hours later, is this just greater specificity of that prior e-mail?

A That's correct

Q Okay You can take that down Now, is it fair to say that you continued to have communications through e-mail and phone call with Mr McDonnell as this process developed?

A That's correct

Q Let me show you RM-2063 And do you remember this e-mail from Mr McDonnell?

A Yes

Q Okay And this is dated March 4th, 2013?

A That's correct

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: We seek the admission of RM-2063.

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q And again, is this just additional information provided by Mr McDonnell to you?

A That's correct

Q Let me ask you on the last sentence, he asks -- if you could just read that last sentence for us

A "Brenda, I also would ask you to put your billing rates and arrangements in writing to me and also your standard confidentiality agreements to protect all the financial information we provide and is given via access to the bank statements Thanks so much. Bob."

Q Okay Let me just ask, at that time, had you actually had, understood what your rates were and how to contract between them?

A We didn't have any written contract, no.

Q So he was seeking that information.

A Correct

Q And then the confidentiality agreement, did you ultimately prepare one of those?

A I prepared a letter of agreement I don't normally do confidentiality agreements with my clients

Q Okay But that was ultimately done

A Correct

Q And did that in any way limit your access to the TowneBank records?

A No

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: Your Honor, thank you. That's all we have

THE COURT: All right. Anything, Mr Burck?

MR. BURCK: Very briefly.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Good morning My name is Bill Burck and I represent Maureen McDonnell, the wife

A Hi

Q I just want to make sure that as of the period of February of 2013, do you recall having any interactions with Maureen McDonnell, the wife, about any of your work for MoBo or for Mr McDonnell?

A No.

MR. BURCK: That's it Thank you

THE COURT: All right Government?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Good morning, Ms Chamberlain.

A Good morning

Q Now, I'd like to ask you a couple of questions to follow up on some questions from Mr Brownlee about the process that you use. Now, you said that as a bookkeeper, you are typically compiling information and then passing it along to the accountant, right?

A Correct

Q And some of the information that you rely on will be from the rental management company, right?

A That's correct

Q You also rely on information from the banks.

A Correct.

Q And when there is something that isn't obvious on the face of a document, you ask the clients that you have for clarification about that

A That's correct

Q Now, typically, you don't go beyond those sources of information and try to independently verify what your clients tell you, do you?

A No, I do not audit

Q Now, each year based on the information that you got from MoBo Realty, you would take that information and then you would put it into QuickBooks, is what you said, right?

A Correct.

Q And again, that's just based off of the information that you get either from the realty company, the bank statements, or from the clients

A Yes

Q So I'd like to talk a little bit about what MoBo's finances were like over the course of 2009 to 2012 You would agree with me that one of the sources of income for MoBo was rental income from renting the property.

A Correct

Q But you would agree with me that that money alone wasn't enough to cover all of the cash outflows in MoBo from 2009 to 2012

A I believe that to be true I don't have it in front of me. I don't know

Q So when there wasn't enough money from the rental income, one of the sources of additional money was something called owners capital contributions, right?

A Loans from the owners, yes.

Q And when we say loans from the owners, that means Mr McDonnell, right?

A And Maureen

Q And Maureen, the sister

A The sister Yes

Q But that's not outside, the owners are not outside third parties.

A I don't make a difference between owner loans and outside loans They are all just listed as loans

Q Got it From your perspective as the bookkeeper, the owners are Mr McDonnell and his sister, Maureen McDonnell

A That's correct

Q If their owners capital contributions aren't enough to make up whatever difference there might be, another source would be a third party outside loan, right?

A Yes.

Q When it came to those third party outside loans, as far as the terms or parameters of that kind of loan, you would rely on what the owners would tell you, right?

A Correct

Q You didn't go talk to those third parties to verify it

A No.

Q So I'd like to look at what was previously admitted as RM-0243 I think we need to switch over to the defense system. If we could zoom in on the top half of this Ms Chamberlain, this is the e-mail we looked at earlier where you were forwarding the final 2012 and the first quarter of 2013 financials for MoBo, right?

A Correct.

Q This was sent to Mr McDonnell and his sister, Maureen McDonnell

A Correct

Q Now, attached to this is a number of spreadsheets that basically lay out the books as you put them together for that time period, right?

A Yes

Q And one of those is a comparison from 2008 on to 2012, right?

A Correct

Q I'd like to turn to Page 6 of this document if we could. And zoom in on just the bottom half Now, zooming in on the bottom half, this is showing a list of the liabilities of MoBo over time, right?

A Yes

Q Now, you would agree with me that the liabilities of MoBo over time for each and every one of those years goes up, right?

A Yes.

Q We have also heard some testimony about whose money would be put into MoBo to make up cash shortfalls There is an entry for Mr McDonnell's owners contributions, right?

A Bob McDonnell, yes

Q And there is also an entry for sister Maureen McDonnell's owners contributions?

A Correct

Q Over the course of time, by 2012, they had each made more than $75,000 in owners contributions, right?

A Yes

Q And the difference between their two owners contributions was less than $4,000; is that right?

A I'm sorry, say that again.

Q The difference between them, I think for Mr McDonnell it was about $76,000 or so?

A That's correct

Q For the sister it was about $80,000 So it was about a $4,000 gap.

A Yes

Q Now, in addition to those loans, there is also a liability on there for somebody named Dr Paul Davis Right?

A Correct

Q But that loan, it shows up in only 2010 and 2011, right?

A Yes

Q It is then paid off in 2012, right?

A Correct.

Q Now, I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 499 I think we need to switch back over Sorry, I don't have anything Sorry. Looking at Exhibit 499, this is a fax from Mr McDonnell, right?

A Yes

Q It is addressed to you?

A Correct

Q It is dated, I think, March 20th of 2013

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer Exhibit 499 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Ms Chamberlain, the first page of this document, can the jury see it, just to make sure? The first page of this document is a handwritten fax cover sheet, right?

A Correct

Q Now, if we could turn to the last page of this document This is a note that was attached to this fax, right?

A Yes

Q And this is regarding the payoff of the Dr. Davis loan?

A Correct

Q And you are aware from this as well as the other work that you did that that loan was paid off at the end of 2012, right?

A I believe that's correct

Q And here where it is talking about "Total payments," it is addressed to Maureen. You understood that to be sister Maureen McDonnell, right?

A Yes

Q Where it says, "Total payments made by Michael in 2012," you understood that to be Michael Uncapher?

A Correct

Q Now, again, with this loan, though, this is a note that was sent to you. You didn't have any conversations with Dr Davis, did you?

A No

Q Now, Mr Brownlee also asked you some questions, and we are going to flip back over to the other system and go back to RM-0243 Mr Brownlee also asked you some questions about what the cash flow situation was like in 2012 relative to depreciation. Do you remember that?

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: But, I'm sorry, Your Honor, we need to pull up Exhibit 499 again. I'm getting a little sideways on this I apologize

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q All right, if we could go to Page 4 of this document

Now, you would agree with me that there is handwriting on this; this is a draft of the profit and loss sheet, right?

A Correct.

Q And the handwriting over on the left, do you see there where it has a comment about principal?

A Yes

Q You would agree with me that any payments made towards the principal amount on a loan, that doesn't go into that Ordinary Expenses column, right?

A That's correct

Q And you would agree with me that over to the right, there is also a comment about "Capital improvements, repair from resource." Right?

A Yes

Q And you would agree with me that capital improvements to the property, those also don't go onto that Ordinary Expenses part of the profit and loss statement, right?

A That's correct

Q So those sorts of things, principal payments and capital improvements, those are still cash outflows from the bank account, right?

A Yes

Q But they don't go on to the Ordinary Expenses there in a separate part of the books

A That's correct

Q All right Now, you would agree with me that the first time that the Starwood loans ended up on MoBo's books were for the tax year 2012, right?

A Correct

Q But you didn't actually prepare the books for that year until 2013, right?

A That's correct

Q Now, I'd like to show you what's been admitted as RM-2062 So switching back over again. Now, this is the document that Mr Brownlee showed you from February 4th of 2013, correct?

A Yes

Q Now, if we could zoom in on the lower portion, the lower part of that e-mail Now, it says there at the bottom, "I will try to get you my note on owners contributions soon." That's what that says, right?

A Yes

Q It doesn't say anything about third party loans, does it?

A No

Q In this e-mail, any of these exchanges, there is no reference to Jonnie Williams, right?

A No.

Q There is no reference to Starwood Trust

A No

Q And there is no reference to the terms of any loan with either of those individuals or entities

A No.

Q Now, I'd like to show you what was admitted as RM-1454 This is the bank statement from March of 2012, right?

A Yes

Q And you said to Mr Brownlee that you don't actually have any independent recollection of looking at this statement

A I can't remember it, no.

Q But you would agree with me that on this document it doesn't say anything about Jonnie Williams, does it?

A No.

Q And when you look at a document like this and you see a transaction, you don't actually know just from looking at it whether it is a loan or somebody renting the property, do you?

A Yes, because it didn't come through Sandbridge Realty

Q Right But you don't know what the terms of any loan would be from whatever the deposit is

A Correct.

Q And you don't know whether or not there is any paperwork for a loan just from looking at the bank statement, do you?

A No.

Q I'd like to show you what was previously admitted as RM-1521 1521 Now, this is that statement from May of 2012, right?

A Yes.

Q And it says there that there is a $20,000 transaction from Starwood Trust, right?

A Correct

Q But again, it doesn't say "Jonnie Williams" there, does it?

A No.

Q It doesn't say what the terms of any loan were?

A No

Q It doesn't say who the loan was actually to

A No.

Q All right Now I'd like to show you another e-mail that was previously admitted, that's RM-0242 Now, this is that e-mail from February 18th of 2013, correct?

A Yes

Q Now, you would agree with me that in this e-mail, it again says, "Looked at the accounts this weekend on the owners capital contribution," right?

A Yes

Q Then this e-mail references loans of $20,000 and $50,000 from a third party to the LLC. Right?

A Yes
Q It doesn't say what that third party is, does it?
A No.
Q It doesn't say the name "Jonnie Williams" here?
A No.
Q It doesn't say the name "Starwood Trust" here
A No.
Q You would agree with me, Ms Chamberlain, that typically, if you look at the bank accounts and you see a transaction and you don't know what it is, as a bookkeeper, what you will ask your client for is, "Hey, tell me who this was from and what the terms were," right?
A Yes
Q And this e-mail that we are looking at here, this isn't actually providing any of the kind of information that you as a bookkeeper would actually be asking for, is it?
A Other than there was loans on the books, yes
Q But it is not providing you any detail about who it was to.
A Correct
Q And what the terms were.
A Correct.
Q All right Now I'd like to show you what was previously admitted as RM-0245 Now, this is the e-mail from February 19th of 2013, right?

A Uh-huh

Q Is that a yes?

A I'm sorry, yes

Q Just for the court reporter Now, this e-mail, again, it is from Mr McDonnell, right?

A Yes

Q And it says, "I want to update you on owners capital deposits," right?

A Yes

Q Under that, under where it says, "owners capital deposits," it lists "12,500, Bob."

A Yes

Q Then it lists "50,000 loan Starwood."

A Yes

Q Now, here, this is your handwriting on this document, right?

A That's correct

Q And you write in "Loan, three-year loan."

A Yes.

Q This was based off of a conversation you had with Mr McDonnell, right?

A Yes

Q Now, before that time, before this e-mail, you didn't know anything about what Starwood Trust was, did you?

A I saw it on the bank statements, where the wire was, but I didn't know who Starwood was at that time.

Q Earlier, you said you don't actually recall looking at the bank statement, right?

A The wire, yes You saw the wire from Starwood on the bank statement

Q You saw it in Court today But at the time, you don't actually recall looking at the bank statement

A I mean, I've seen the bank statements when I printed them out and downloaded them, so I had to see that it was Starwood.

Q Right But Ms Chamberlain, this e-mail is from Mr McDonnell saying Starwood, right?

A Correct

Q And earlier we saw the e-mail from February 18th in which he refers to a third party, right?

A Yes

Q And if you had asked him, "Hey, what is this Starwood loan," the response would have answered that question.

MR. BROWNLEE: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q You said that the question you would have asked if you had looked at it and seen "Starwood" would have been, "Who was this and what are the terms?" Right?

A Yes

Q The e-mail from February 18th that says, "Third party LLC loans," that doesn't say who the third party was, does it?

A No

Q And it doesn't say what the terms were

A No.

Q It is not until this e-mail of February 19th that there is anything in your paperwork about the actual terms of that loan, right?

A Yes

Q Same down on "$20,000 Starwood loan" that's also from this e-mail from February 19th.

A Yes

Q And in this e-mail on February 19th, it doesn't say "Jonnie Williams," does it?

A No

Q Your handwritten notes of this conversation doesn't say, "Jonnie Williams "

A No

Q Until after these e-mails, you didn't actually have any loan from Starwood Trust in your QuickBooks for MoBo, did you?

A No.

Q Now, I'd like to switch over to the other system and show you what has been marked for identification as Exhibit 642 Do you see that e-mail on the screen?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, the top e-mail is actually the e-mail we were just looking at from February 19th, right?

A Correct

Q And the bottom e-mail is the response from you on February 20th.

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer Exhibit 642 into evidence.

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Zooming in on that bottom e-mail, Ms Chamberlain, in response to Mr McDonnell's e-mail, the second line or third line down there of your e-mail says, "I remember MoBo had a loan to Dr Paul Davis " You write that, right?

A Correct

Q That's something you knew about from before in 2010 and 2011.

A Yes

Q Then you write, "Is this someone different from Starwood?"

A Correct.

Q As of even this February 20th e-mail that you send, you still didn't know whether there was any difference between Dr Paul Davis and Starwood Trust, did you?

A That's correct

Q All right Now, Mr Brownlee also asked you some questions about an e-mail regarding a confidentiality agreement I'd like to switch back over to the other system and show you RM-2063 You would agree that in this document at the end, Mr McDonnell asked you for a confidentiality agreement, right?

A Yes

Q Now, Mr Brownlee asked you some questions about you sending a letter agreement back. And you did that, right?

A Yes

Q But you never actually signed a confidentiality agreement, did you?

A Not at that time.

Q Okay Now, in this e-mail he asked you for a confidentiality agreement Had you ever been asked for one before?

A No.

Q I'd like to switch back over to the other system, and I apologize, Your Honor, and show you Exhibit 763, which has been marked for identification, it has not been entered Now, this is an e-mail exchange between you and Mr McDonnell the following day on March 4th of 2013, right?

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: And Your Honor, we would offer Exhibit 763 into evidence.

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Ms Chamberlain, the bottom e-mail here, this is the -- your response attaching the letter agreement, right?

A Yes

Q And then that's where you say that this is the first time you have ever been asked for a confidentiality agreement, right?

A Correct.

Q And then up on the top, Mr McDonnell responds to that, right?

A Yes

Q And he says, "Thought you might have a standard confidentiality form since you have much personal financial information for our family " I read that correctly, right?

A Yes.

Q Now, I'd like to switch over, I think, hopefully one last time, Your Honor, to the other system and show you Exhibit 643

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Now, this is an e-mail dated March 9th of 2013, right?

A Yes

Q And this is an e-mail from Mr McDonnell to you.

A Correct

MR. FAULCONER: Your Honor, we would offer Exhibit 643 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Now, Ms Chamberlain, looking at the bottom of this e-mail, this is after those e-mails about the confidentiality agreement, right?

A Yes

Q And at the very bottom of this e-mail it says, "Also the 3-12 and 5-22 loans from Starwood are loans to MoBo, LLC directly like other loans handled in past years," right?

A Correct

Q But again, Ms Chamberlain, you never spoke to anyone from Starwood, did you?

A No.

Q You have no independent way of verifying whether that information there is accurate

A What information?

Q Well, the only information you have about whether or not that was actually a loan to MoBo is based on what the clients tell you, right?

A Yes

Q You never spoke to Mr Williams

A No

Q You never spoke to anyone affiliated with Starwood Trust

A No.

Q In fact, you never got any sort of loan documentation like we saw earlier for the Dr Davis loan about Starwood, did you?

A No.

Q Now, showing you, or recalling back to the document that we looked at earlier, we saw a February 18th e-mail that referenced the loans from a third party, the LLC Do you remember that?

A Yes

Q And at that time, February 18th, when you got that e-mail, you were not aware that Ms McDonnell had been interviewed three days prior by law enforcement, were you?

A No

Q At no point in this conversation from the February

18th to the February 19th to the March 3rd and 4th e-mails about the confidentiality agreement, at no point in that conversation did Mr McDonnell tell you anything about his wife being interviewed by law enforcement, did he?

A No

Q And on February 18th itself, when Mr. McDonnell sent you that e-mail referencing the loans from the third party, the LLC, he never told you anything about sending in an updated loan application to Pentagon Federal Credit Union that same day, did he?

A No

Q We have talked a lot about these transactions But just to be clear, Ms Chamberlain, you weren't at any meetings between Jonnie Williams and Mr. McDonnell, were you?

A No.

Q You weren't at any meetings between Jonnie Williams and Dr Bill Hazel, were you?

A No

Q You weren't at an August 30th --

MR. BROWNLEE: Objection

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q You haven't had any conversations with Mr McDonnell at any time about Mr Williams' product, have you?

A No

MR. FAULCONER: One moment, Your Honor No further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Ms Chamberlain, you were, prior to coming here, you were interviewed by the prosecutors and investigators on two occasions; is that correct?

A Yes

Q In fact, Mr Faulconer came out to your house and interviewed you, is that right?

A That's correct

Q You were subpoenaed to testify for the government in this case, correct?

A Yes

Q Last week you came to the courthouse and sat outside --

MR. FAULCONER: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained. Members of the jury, we have heard this stuff before. Obviously, if they would talk to you before you come in here, you will talk to them. And both sides will do that So I don't know what this line of questioning is supposed to establish. Ask something that's relevant

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you, Your Honor

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Let's move to Government Exhibit 513 If we could look at Page 6, the balance sheet If you go down to "Liabilities " For 2012, the loans from Starwood are on the balance sheet; isn't that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay You put them there; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And you put them there because you got information from Mr McDonnell; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay Let's pull up just for clarification Government Exhibit 642 And in this e-mail I want to make sure that we have the order of it right because sometimes it works the other way The top e-mail to you from Bob McDonnell providing you this information was written first; is that correct? It was written on February 19th.

A Correct

Q And then the e-mail at the bottom in which you are responding thanking Mr McDonnell for the information was actually written in response to that

A Correct

Q Okay. You can take that down Thank you Let's look at Government's 763 Blow up the top part of that.

Ma'am, this is an e-mail from Mr. McDonnell to you; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay And Mr Faulconer had you read the top part about the standard confidentiality agreement; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Can you just read Mr McDonnell's last sentence to you?

A "Obviously you have full permission to access the TowneBank account and pass all our info on to Dan Cook "

Q Dan Cook is the accountant?

A That's correct

Q And he prepares the tax returns

A Correct

Q Okay If we could pull up RM-2062 Mr Faulconer had -- if we could highlight the lower part of that Now, this e-mail was in response to the conference call on the 2nd of February; is that right?

A Yes

Q And in this e-mail, he is providing you full access to the TowneBank accounts; is that correct?

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor He is leading

THE COURT: The objection is sustained

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q And we have looked at this, but I want to ask a question. If we could pull up RM-1521 And this is what you would have seen, is that true, when you went into the account?

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: This is what she was able to see if she went in

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q That's correct?

A Yes

Q And if you go back to 2062, can you go to up above that and your response? That's your response It says, "Thank you"?

A That's correct.

Q What did you say there again?

A "Thank you. I will get to work on this within the next few days "

Q And do you believe that you did in fact go into these accounts over the next couple of days?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you, Judge

THE COURT: All right. Thank you, ma'am. You may stand down.

(Witness stood aside)

MR. BROWNLEE: May this witness be released, Your Honor?

THE COURT: As far as I'm concerned.

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you.

THE COURT: Call your next witness

MR. ASBILL: Your Honor, the defense calls Janet Kelly

JANET KELLY,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Good morning

A Good morning

Q Would you please tell us your full name and spell it for the court reporter?

A Sure. Janet Vestal Kelly, J-A-N-E-T, V-E-S-T-A-L, K-E-L-L-Y

Q Do you know the folks back here to my right?

A Yes, sir

Q Do you know the folks over on this side?

A Most of them, yes

Q All right Do you know my client, Mr McDonnell?

A I do

Q How do you know him?

A I have worked for Governor McDonnell from before he was Governor I started in 1999

Q Okay

A Off and on.

Q Let me get into -- we will get back to that in a second. But tell us about your educational background, please

A How far back dc you want me to start?

Q College

A Okay I went to Liberty University, and majored in government and minored in philosophy, and then I went to Regent University, and I'm six credits short of getting a Masters degree in Public Policy I dropped out to work for the Governor

Q And how about your work background? Before you started to work for the Governor, could you tell us anything about that, please?

A There wasn't a lot I worked in a Gateway computer store and taught software, Microsoft Word, Microsoft Excel, those kinds of things I have been in politics as a volunteer for a really long time I worked almost full time on a campaign in North Carolina when I was 16 So volunteer capacities mostly in politics

Q All right Are you married or single?

A I am married

Q And have you gone by any other name other than Janet Kelly?

A Yes, Janet Polarek.

Q If there are e-mails in this case that have "Polarek" on it or "Kelly" on it, both would be you?

A Yes

Q All right And let's go back and tell us how you met Mr McDonnell

A Well, I moved into his district in 1999 I had been really political my whole life I think it is the only thing I'm good at. So I was studying government at Regent, and that's why I was there I got a new voter letter, which means I moved into his district, and was just really impressed. I don't think I had ever gotten a letter like that before And he sent it to all new voters and just said, "If I can ever be helpful to you in state government, please let me know " I just thought, I had a really good first impression based off that letter And a few weeks later I read a positive news article about him. And I was married at the time, and just told my husband that "I think that he would be somebody that I would work for "

Q Did you meet him in person at some point?

A I did. He signed up to teach a class at Regent, and I thought that would be a good way to get to know him. I'm pretty selfish with my time, so I didn't really want to work for somebody unless I thought they were a good person. So I signed up for his class and he was my professor for one semester with a political leadership class.

Q Okay And during that class, not just as a professor, did you get to spend any time with him outside of the classroom?

A I did. About two months in I signed up to be an intern in his legislative office as a volunteer I was definitely low man on the totem pole.

Q Low woman?

A Low woman, yes, sorry, on the totem pole And just did everything from, my job was calling people who he couldn't come to events for them and telling them he couldn't come in a nice way

Q And you said you went as a volunteer, so you did not get paid for that position?

A I didn't. Quickly after that, though, he got an opponent and so I moved over to the campaign, which was a paid position

Q What do you mean "he got an opponent"?

A I'm sorry He was currently, he had been in the House of Delegates at that point for eight years And someone had told him that they weren't going to run against him, so the field looked clear But then that person changed their mind and decided to run against him, so he had an opponent for the general election in November in 1999

Q You worked on that campaign in 1999?

A I did.

Q Was the campaign, was Mr McDonnell's campaign successful?

A It was

Q All right Thereafter, did you continue to work for Mr McDonnell or did you stop working for him?

A I was his legislative aide that session in the 2000 General Assembly session right down the street And then he only had one position that was already taken, so after that session, I went to work for Victory 2000, which was the Presidential campaign, the Senate campaign and the local Congressional campaigns down in Hampton Roads

Q All right Did there come a time when you resumed working directly with Mr McDonnell?

A Yes After I went to Capitol Hill I moved back to Lynchburg where I went to college, and in 2002 I contacted him and said -- we still stayed in touch fairly closely throughout that period of time -- but in 2002 I called him and said, "Hey, if you ever decide that you want to run for statewide office," which would have been Attorney General, "let me know I'd love to help you however I can."

Q Did there come a time when he took you up on that offer?

A He did I started doing all of his political work along with Phil Cox at that point, and over the next two years, just laid the groundwork for his run for Attorney General and ended up being his Campaign Manager in 2005 for his race for Attorney General

Q Campaign for Attorney General?

A Campaign for Attorney General

Q That was what year?

A 2005

Q When was the election?

A November of 2005

Q And was he successful in that election?

A Barely

Q What was the spread?

A It is a win 360 votes after a very tense recount

Q All right And after he was elected Attorney General, did you continue to work for him or did you stop?

A I continued to work for him. I went into the Office of the Attorney General I was the Director of Administration, the sort of Chief of Staff role on the non-legal side

Q And Chief of Staff role in that position, what does that mean? What were the, in summary, what were the duties of the Chief of Staff?

A Essentially anything that wasn't a lawyer function in the Office of the Attorney General So the Information Technology, Budget, Human Resources Also, the political role I managed the press, helped to manage the press operation at that point Anything that didn't fall under the legal work was my responsibility

Q And you did not have a legal degree, correct?

A No

Q And in going forward from that time when you were the Chief of Staff for him, non-legal Chief of Staff for him in the Attorney General's Office, going forward, did you continue to work for Mr McDonnell when he ran for Governor?

A I did. When when he was Attorney General I stayed in the office for about 18 months I was going through a divorce, I got mono for what would have been the second time

Q That's enough sharing about that.

A So I stopped working for six months, and then went back to work for him as a consultant in 2008 doing fundraising And then during the 2009 campaign I was his Director of Operations, which was sort of a similar role in the Attorney General's Office on the campaign

Q Was there a difference between Director of Operations on a campaign versus being Chief of Staff for someone who was in office?

A Yes There was a huge difference But it was a similar role I don't know if that's unclear But I was in the campaign -- wasn't the campaign manager, so I didn't call the shots as much on the campaign as I did in the Attorney General's Office Phil Cox did mostly that But I was part of the senior staff on the campaign.

Q What were your specific duties on the campaign in terms of the difference between your role in the campaign versus your role when my client was Attorney General?

A I was sort of a jack of all trades on the campaign, a pinch hitter, whatever needed to happen. I dealt a lot with the First Lady on the campaign. I would help with debate preparation. I got the office set up, a lot of the logistics, office space, phones, computers, technology, all of that kind of stuff on the campaign, and then once that was sort of set up I moved on to other things

Q And during the campaign, can you give us an idea of, you know, of what your time commitments were?

A Well, campaigns are pretty brutal So it -- it was a very intense time Campaigns you can work similar to the Governor's Office; 12, 14, 16, even 18 hours a day You're up early You're out late

Q Okay And what was -- what was the level of personal interaction or personal contact, whether it be face-to-face or by phone or by text or by e-mail, with Mr McDonnell when he was running for the governorship?

A When he was running for Governor, I would say it was multiple times a day We would either see each other or talk to each other or e-mail each other or text each other We had -- you just -- you have to be constantly communicating with someone during a campaign So --

Q Did you travel with him?

A Occasionally, yes

Q All right Now, when he became Governor, did you continue to work for him?

A I did I became Secretary of the Commonwealth in -- I was sworn in in January of 2010

Q Was that a Cabinet position?

A It is

Q And what -- what is the Secretary of the Commonwealth, or what are the duties of the Secretary of the Commonwealth? Would you please tell the folks what that means?

A Sure The Secretary of Commonwealth's chief responsibilities are finding volunteer folks to serve in Board and Commission appointments across the Commonwealth So there are 4,000 Board and Commission appointments Everything from the Board of Nursing to the Virginia Tech Board of Visitors All the public universities have Boards of Visitors

I also oversaw the Governor's reforms on the Restoration of Rights issue for nonviolent felons I managed the Conflict of Interest, the Constituent Services, Notary, Authentications And my office was also the office that accepted Statements of Economic Interest on behalf of the Commonwealth for many state officials.

Q Where was your office, the Secretary's Office, physically located?

A The Governor's Office is on the third floor My office is on the fourth floor in the Patrick Henry Building

Q And how far away is that from the Mansion?

A The Patrick Henry Building?

Q Yes

A Oh, gosh I'm terrible with distances Really close I can see it a stone's throw Two hundred feet?

Q Okay Now --

A That's a guess

Q While you were Secretary of the Commonwealth, would you tell us about your day-to-day contact, if it was day to day, with the Governor?

A Sometimes it was day to day The Board and Commission cycle runs on annual deadlines So all of the Board and Commission appointments were up a thousand -- about a thousand every year on June the 30th So from April to June, I would see him a lot because we had a lot of work to do Other times of the year, depending on the topic, obviously, we would interact and I would see him Definitely saw him more compact during those times of the year.

And I would just say that the interactions that we had, once he was Governor, were much more professional There wasn't a whole lot of time for chatting and that kind of thing So -- it was more professional interaction than personal interaction at that point

Q All right. When he traveled as Governor, would you travel with him or was that --

A Sure.

Q Okay Would that be frequent or infrequent or somewhere in between?

A Well, I was a single mom for half the time I was there So I tried to be good about that, and I -- I don't know Maybe an average of once a month

Q All right

A More often at some points, but about an average of once a month

Q Were you personally knowledgeable about my client's day-to-day activities or day-to-day schedule when he was Governor?

A Yes I handled his schedule and been part of his schedule since 1999, with the few exceptions of when I wasn't working for him So I stayed active in that process

Q When you say being part of his schedule, would you tell us what you mean?

A Sure There was a scheduling team that would have meetings There was a Chief Scheduler, and she controlled the calendar, his calendar, at least --

Q Who was that? Can you tell us her name? I'm sorry

A Sure Monica Block started And then Katherine Harris, and then Emily Rabbitt Those were the three schedulers throughout the duration

Q Please I'm sorry for interrupting. Will you please continue

A That's okay I don't remember where I was.

Q You were telling us about the scheduling process

A Oh, okay So the scheduling process is that the scheduler would be the incoming recipient of all the thousands and thousands of invitations that the Governor would get across the course of the week or month, and she would enter them into a spreadsheet It was really her role to sort of separate the reasonable events from the unreasonable events, the ones that he would attend versus the ones that we could ask someone else to attend on his behalf

So they would compile a spreadsheet, bring it to scheduling meetings We would discuss which ones would be good events for him to attend, you know, if they were close, far away All the decision-making processes that you would assume would go into that process

And then the scheduler would take those back, run most of them by the Governor, make sure that he was comfortable with everything that we recommended And then she would put everything on the calendar She would put things on the calendar Sometimes she just put things on the calendar She didn't run them by him I would say it's more rare for her to run them by him

Q Okay So during this time frame -- I guess we're up to, what, 2009 or '10?

A '10

Q 2010, basically You know, based on the level of contact that you've had with the Governor that you've described here, did you feel that you knew him well?

A Sure Absolutely

Q How about his family?

A Yes

Q All of them or some of them or --

A I know the First Lady well I know Jeanine really well And probably as it goes down in age, less well With the boys in college, we didn't hang out much

Q Who is Jeanine?

A Jeanine is the Governor and First Lady's oldest daughter

Q All right And do you know the middle two girls as well, the middle two women?

A Yes

Q And the younger men?

A Yes

Q All right And you said you knew Ms McDonnell too; is that correct?

A Absolutely

Q And did you have interaction with her during the campaign itself?

A I did

Q And thereafter, did you have interaction with her when you were Secretary of the Commonwealth?

A I did When I became Secretary of the Commonwealth, it was a little bit of a strained time in our relationship I've always --

Q Whose relationship are you referring to?

A My relationship with the First Lady The campaign was sort of the first time that I saw, on a frequent basis, some of the challenging behavior that I'm sure the jury has already heard about And it was very hard for me. I'm personally very fond of Maureen And it was very hard for me to -- to work with her on a day-to-day basis, and it really affected our relationship, our personal relationship

And by the time the Governor offered me the Secretary of the Commonwealth job, which he was in a position of offering it to me, I just said, "Listen My relationship with the First Lady has deteriorated past the point of common sense at this point " And so I asked him, in order to make sure that I was doing my job well in the Secretary of Commonwealth's Office, that I not be the main contact with her and for her in the Governor's Office

Q Okay We'll come back to that in a minute Let me ask you this question You knew -- you know the terms -- what was the term of the governorship, in years?

A Four years

Q All right And that -- it's a one-term job Is that it?

A It is

Q And did that fact that it was a one-term job for four years, did that have any impact on the day-to-day activities of Mr McDonnell's governorship?

A Yes A lot He would start counting down the days as soon as he got in We all --

Q Counting down the days until what?

A Until the end of his term Which created this probably borderline unhealthy anxiety of all of us because we knew that we only had four years to get everything accomplished And there was this sense of urgency that wouldn't have existed otherwise if there had been a two-term Governor But the second you're sworn in, the next campaign for Governor starts So -- it's just how it is in Virginia, and it definitely affected his work ethic

Q You mean the campaign for someone else?

A Yes Exactly You can't run again

Q All right With respect to the -- to the countdown to the end of the four years, essentially, were there -- in broad terms, can you tell us, what the priorities were of Governor McDonnell's administration?

A He had a lot of things that he wanted to accomplish, but the number one thing, without question, that we talked about on the campaign and that drove everything that we did in the Governor's Office was Bob's For Jobs There were lots of things that he wanted to do He was not the kind of Governor that, you know, when he won, you had to sit with him and he goes, "Okay Well, let's talk about what it is that you want to do " He already knew going in He had been in the legislature for 20 years and had notebooks and notebooks and notebooks prepared Policy wise, I think he had 80-odd bills his first session, which is enormously more than any other previous Governor

Q Would I be accurate in saying that the policies that he wanted to implement were also ones that were talked about during the campaign?

A Yes Bob's For Jobs was the slogan of the campaign We even had a bumper sticker And we didn't have bumper stickers in the Governor's Office because I don't know that that would have been appropriate, but that was absolutely the number one priority He got a weekly briefing every week that talked about the net number of jobs that had been created since the previous week to make sure that we were going in the right direction

You know, there's a dozen or more Cabinet positions Only one of them is the Secretary of Commerce, which is chiefly responsible for jobs But the Governor had a way of infiltrating that entire philosophy of Bob's For Jobs into every secretariat If it was education, it was workforce development "Let's talk about how to make sure that our college graduates are prepared coming out to the workforce " If it was healthcare, it was, "Let's make sure that our quality of care is good and that, you know, any biotech discoveries are turned into economic development opportunities " If it was -- transportation was a big one "Let's make sure that people can get to and from work in a safe and quick way " That kind of thing It inflated, I'd say, more so than any other issue Absolutely infiltrated more so than any other issue

Q Let me ask you this You've talked about the Bob's For Jobs Were there any other slogans in the campaign that you were aware of?

A Not that I can remember

Q Okay Any other slogans that developed or any other sort of mottos or slogans that developed after he was elected about how to achieve the goal of Bob's For Jobs?

A There was one year that -- well, we did all kinds of things to promote Bob's For Jobs One year we had --

Q Well, let me be more precise

A Okay.

Q Anything about how the administration is supposed to go about achieving --

A Oh, sure Yes He -- well, the first thing would be the scheduling process Those kinds of events got priority in the Governor's Office If it -- you know, if he had one event that he was invited to at the same time he was invited to another event and one was on, I don't know, opening a museum and one was on opening a business, he would go to the one that opened a business That's a good explanation So he would prioritize them scheduling wise He would do a ton of events, ribbon cuttings, tour plant facility openings

One year the Secretary of Commerce's Office had a Year of the Entrepreneur, where they highlighted different entrepreneurs every week or month Things like that We were very creative. And we had a -- a business contest in the office to bring in college students who were business majors to talk through and judge them on their good ideas and things like that

Q Okay I think that's enough in the way of examples, basically The -- when you were in the Cabinet position that you've described, was that personally a stressful job for you?

A Yes. Any job in the Governor's Office is going to be stressful Any job in the Governor's Office is going to be stressful

Q Long hours in that job?

A My -- one of the reasons that I took that job is so I could maintain some semblance of a work/life balance, again, since I was a single mom I was probably the only person who -- because I knew what it was like working for the Governor, that was -- I was probably the person that was most insistent about maintaining that balance Which is virtually impossible, and I still probably didn't do a great job at it Everyone -- with the exception of me, everyone else in the Governor's Office worked 12, 14, 16-hour days, repeatedly, all the time In session, it was even worse

Q Did you have a cell phone, a cell phone or multiple cell phones?

A Yes I had a personal phone and a BlackBerry from --

Q And --

A Two laptops.

Q And did you take those home with you at night?

A Most of the time

Q Would you be -- even though you were trying to maintain this work/life balance, would you get interrupted at home by the Governor?

A Yes

Q More frequently than you wanted?

A Sometimes The only time I remember being especially bothered by it was when I was in the middle of bath time, and I was worried I would drop my phone in the tub But other than that, it was okay

Q Okay Among the Governor and his staff, basically --

A My daughter's bath Just for clarification

Q Among the Governor's staff, who worked the hardest?

A Oh, the Governor By far

Q How did -- you know, from your perspective, both with respect to you and, to your knowledge, of others, how did Mr McDonnell treat his staff? What was he like to work for as a boss?

A He was extraordinarily gracious, very understanding of those bath time moments in life where you didn't -- or couldn't work. He would always, even though I know he was busy, he would always ask how we were doing, ask about our day, our significant others, whatever He -- so that's on a personal level

On a professional level, he was very driven He was very clear in what he wanted us to do I think he did a good job and a much better job as Governor of delegating those responsibilities out His legislature reputation -- legislative reputation was that he was a micromanager I think once he became Governor, he just knew that that wasn't possible So it was good for us to be able to do things on our own

He was very goal driven, results oriented He came in with a campaign promise matrix with over a hundred, almost 200 campaign promises and would have us look at that periodically just to make sure that we were doing what he said he would do as a candidate It could also be frustrating to work for him

Q Why?

A He was not great at setting priorities So you would have a meeting -- you know, we knew Bob's For Jobs was a priority So that's a given But he also had another thousand things that he wanted to do as Governor And so you would have a meeting with him You'd come out with a to-do list of 25 things And you would say, "Well, which one should I" -- "where should I start? Which ones do you want done first?" And he would just say, "All of them "

Q Okay I think, if I understand your testimony, you've described him as being, you know, gracious personally and direct with respect to job responsibilities?

A Yes He -- I mean --

Q That's a yes or no

A Yes

Q Okay And with respect to being direct on people's job responsibilities, I believe you said something, he made it clear what he wanted done; is that right?

A He did Can I just -- I just have something else to add. I don't feel like I was -- I don't feel like I told the whole truth on that last answer

Q Tell us the whole truth

A Okay He -- I would just say he's -- obviously, I haven't had a lot of other bosses besides him So you'll have to ask the other witnesses when they come forth, but based on conversations and, you know, my own experience personal experience, I would say that he was definitely -- despite -- it was a good tough on us, and we -- I loved working for him And it was -- it was an honor

I mean, there wasn't ever a time when he made me feel uncomfortable There was never a time when I questioned his motives I -- there was never a time when I was like, you know, "I can't believe he got elected " I mean, it was just -- he earned that job He deserved that job, and he did a great job So working on that team was, you know, the honor of a lifetime Besides my personal accomplishments, professional accomplishments, honor of a lifetime Okay. Thank you

Q Let me ask you specifically about the issue of if the Governor had a priority and was talking to you or others in your presence about implementing it, so, you know, something within your purview, and he wanted it to be implemented and he asked you to do it, what would happen if you didn't accomplish what he asked, or did that ever happen?

A No It happened to me He was very -- he was -- let me make -- can you repeat the question?

Q Yeah What I'm asking you about, if he made his priorities, he made his -- what he expected to be done clear to you, and I'm asking you if you didn't do what he asked you to do, then what was his response?

A Sure

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor Could we approach on the scope of character evidence at this point, please

THE COURT: I don't see this as character evidence

MR DRY: I believe --

THE COURT: You all can come on up, but --

MS ABER: Thank you, Your Honor

(At Bench)

MR DRY: They have identified her as a -- both as a fact and character witness to us, and now they are about to elicit a bunch of specific act evidence about how nice he was or whatever, which is not relevant and has nothing to do with this case

THE COURT: This particular question, in my estimation, has to do with how he directed the people who worked for him and what he would -- how he would behave if what he wanted them to do was not done

I gave you the freedom to put on your case He -- he behaved in particular kinds of ways in terms of how the message got over to the folks that he wanted things done So he's got the right to bring that up

MR DRY: Your Honor, on the communication point, that's fine What we don't want to do is get into a wholesale, "Hey, on this instance did somebody offer him something, and you saw him refuse," because that's all --

THE COURT: We're not there yet

MR DRY: Okay

THE COURT: Obviously -- well, Mr Asbill, knows how to put on character evidence, and I will restrict that

MR ASBILL: We'll get to that at the end of my examination specifically I'm looking at in terms of directives and action

THE COURT: And I think you're just fine with it

MR DRY: Thank you, Your Honor

(In Open Court)

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Ms. Kelly, I want to go back See if I can remember my own question When Mr McDonnell wanted something done, he wanted one of his goals or whatever implemented, and he asked you or asked somebody in your presence to do that, if they did not achieve whatever it was that he was asking about, what was his -- if any, what was his subsequent response? Just in general I'm not talking about specific examples I'm just talking about in general about that

A He had high expectations of us So when he told us to do something, he expected that it would be done If it rose to a level of importance -- well, you told me not to give examples

If it rose to a high level of priority, like jobs, then if people weren't performing, he would be upset And his version of upset is sort of that fatherly, "I'm really disappointed that he didn't do this What is it that you need help with? How can" -- "can we get you help to do it?" It wasn't like a badgering But he expected it to be done If it wasn't done, he -- he -- I don't want to use the word impatient I'm trying to come up with a precise word But he didn't have much tolerance for people who didn't get results is probably the best way to say it

Q And with respect to the intolerance that you described, would that be expressed in an angry way --

A No.

Q -- or yelling or screaming or --

A Never

Q -- red writing or all capitals on e-mails?

A Now, he does love some red pens But no, not even then. That was more for corrections

Q He didn't write loud?

A No Not to me, at least

Q All right So you've described that he would try to work with folks to help them if they weren't performing, essentially --

A Yes

Q -- correct?

Now, with respect to -- we've talked a little bit about the -- about dealing with you and dealing with the staff as you know it Did he deal differently with members of the public?

A I mean, they didn't work for him So he was -- I don't know how to answer that He -- generally, no He's the same person all the time I think he was probably a little bit more gracious and more -- what you would expect a Governor to act like to a normal average citizen?

Q All right You've talked about the -- him not being able, once he became Governor, he wasn't able to micromanage as much as when he was Attorney General; is that correct?

A Right

Q And in general, is that just because of the difference in the scope of the jobs?

A Absolutely
Q All right Now, did Mr McDonnell, when he was Governor, to your knowledge, have any other responsibilities aside from being the Governor of the Commonwealth?
A Yes He -- he had responsibilities He wore a lot of different hats He has -- obviously, he has a wife. He has five children So he wore the dad hat He wore a brother hat He wore a friend hat

He also was on the Republican Governor's Association Executive Committee, which is basically a part-time job, or could be up to a part-time job at some points in the year
Q Let me stop you right there with that particular job
A Sorry
Q You said he was on the Executive Committee?
A He was on the Executive Committee, I think, before -- you have to serve on the Executive Committee, and then in 2012, he became Chair
Q What are the general duties of somebody on the Executive Committee of the RGA, if you know?
A I'm not sure that I can really speak with much authority on that Q Okay How much time, in your estimation or from your observations, did that require? What percentage? Do you have any sense of that at all --

A I don't.

Q -- of his time --

A Not on the Executive Committee I know as Chairman, it was significant I mean, it was essentially another -- again, another part-time job In some weeks, it was even more

Q When did he become Chair?

A 2012

Q Okay In the beginning of 2012 or at the end or where?

A I think they're elected in November of 2011 for the following year But that's a guess

Q All right And do you know whether or not that particular job or part-time job required travel?

A Oh, yes Your chief responsibilities when you're on the Executive Committee, in general, I won't -- is making sure that other Republican Governors across the country get elected. And there are 25-ish other Republican Governors So that would tell you a little bit about what the duties are

Q Okay You've talked about the dad hat, the brother hat Where was he -- how about many siblings does he have? Do you know?

A There are five children total So he has four siblings

Q And where does he rank, in terms of age, oldest to youngest?

A I think he's the oldest I can't believe I don't know that, but he's the oldest He also -- his dad passed away during his term And I know he was the Executor of his estate, and that took a lot of time as well

Q All right Did he have any responsibilities, to your knowledge, with your Virginia GOP?

A Oh, yes When you're the Governor, you're the functional head of the Republican Party And they have a Chairman and they have an Executive Director, but you are the figurehead, if you will

Q Is it just a figurehead position, or does it require real work?

A Oh, no It requires real work

Q Like what?

A Traveling to events, getting people elected, going to see, you know, Republican women's clubs Things like that.

Q Okay. With respect to Mr -- you know when Mr Romney was running for president; is that correct?

A Yes 2012

Q Did my client have any responsibilities in connection with that?

A Yes He was the Chair of Romney's campaign in Virginia

Q And was that a figurehead position or more than that?

A No No, it was not That was realtime

Q Okay Okay Do you know or do you have a rough estimate, I won't hold you to an exact figure, of how many employees there are who work for the Commonwealth?

A About 100,000

Q Do you have any idea what the annual budget is?

A Somewhere about -- around 90 billion every two years

Q And would I be accurate in saying that basically the Governor's job is to be CEO of the Commonwealth?

A Yes That's an accurate description

Q Now, in terms of the concept of business promotion, can you tell us, to your knowledge, about were there any differences basically between existing Virginia businesses and businesses that are not now in Virginia but were not then in Virginia, but may want to come to Virginia?

A Was there a difference?

Q Was there a difference in terms of trying to promote the Bob's For Jobs idea with respect to presently in-state businesses versus out of state or foreign companies?

A Well, there were differences in approaches, obviously, just logistically because of geography But I think the general consensus was, you know, retaining the companies that we have is just as important as drawing new companies in So there was an active and aggressive approach on both

Q Okay. Now, was it generally difficult for a Virginia company or a company that might be interested in coming to Virginia to get a kind word from Governor McDonnell?

A No, not at all I mean, Hilton moved here Northrop Grumman moved here I mean, that was part of his job Absolutely

Q Were there any areas of the state that were economically depressed that were a focus of the Bob's For Jobs idea?

A Yes Specifically, the southside/Martinsville area. It had an unemployment rate in the 20s during the campaign And so the Governor promised that either he or the Lieutenant Governor, who, actually, for the first time, he had named Chief Job Creation Officer, that either one of the two of them would visit the Martinsville/southside area once a month during his term.

Q And Martinsville/southside area, were there any particular problems economically with that area?

A Yeah The manufacturing, because of some of the Free Trade Agreements, I mean, we had seen a ton of jobs go overseas It was really economically depressed, obviously the tobacco industry is not what it used to be either So -- which was a chief source of jobs So basically, everything, except for healthcare, that was a chief source of jobs in that area had dissipated for one reason or another

Q And did that include textiles?

A Yes Manufacturing, textile, furniture All those kinds of things

Q Tobacco?

A Tobacco

Q And what was the problem with tobacco, in terms of economics?

A People thought it was bad for you

Q Okay And so as a result, did tobacco production go down?

A Yes

Q All right Did that have any impact on jobs in that region?

A Oh, of course Yeah I mean, when an entire industry is ruled to be unsafe and unhealthy, it tends to have an economic effect

Q Okay We've talked about your relationship with the Governor in terms of the job responsibilities, essentially Did you have any role in helping him select other staff?

A In the Attorney General's Office or at the Governor's Office?

Q No I'm talking about while he was Governor

A Yes. After he became Governor, was elected Governor in November of 2009, actually, even before the election, I had helped form a transition team, pre-transition team, that prepared him and prepared his team to put people in place And after the election, I was named Deputy Transition Director for Personnel, which meant I was in charge of helping him form the Cabinet, making recommendations for Cabinet positions, Deputy Cabinet positions There were 300 political appointees, about, in Virginia So I was in charge of that process and making recommendations to the Chief of Staff and to the Governor.

Q And that would be Martin Kent, the Chief of Staff?

A Yes And Transition Director was Phil Cox And then once Martin Kent was named, it was Martin Kent So one of the two of them, given the time frame on the transition

Q So you would make recommendations to both of them; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And, in general, I'm not talking about individual employees, but were there general qualities or characteristics in folks that you were looking for?

A Yes The -- the biggest thing that I remember from that point in time was that the Governor wanted the best and brightest I think he probably said it 50 times You know, it didn't matter how -- you know, how badly the person wanted the job, how badly they thought they needed the job or should get the job He wanted people that were the best and brightest I remember one Cabinet secretary, we interviewed over ten people for just one job

Q For one secretariat?

A For one secretariat

Q All right With respect to the folks that you all were you looking for, were you looking for yes, men or yes, women or were you looking for independent folks?

A No, definitely not

Q Definitely not which ones?

A Definitely not yes, men or women He wanted people who could think for themselves, who were definitely qualified He wanted people who had a temperament to serve, which meant, you know, they kind of played well in the sandbox with others And they had a good way about them and outgoing, that sort of personality type as well As well as people who were extremely driven, like he was, and results oriented, like he was

Q Is Dr Hazel an example of one person?

A He's probably the biggest example of independence on the Cabinet

Q All right Now, in -- in administering this sort of appointments process that you've described, were there donors or gift givers or friends who wanted appointments, and if so, would they contact you?

A Yes All of the above And yes, they would contact me or my office

Q And was the fact that they were a donor or a gift giver or a friend of some sort of the Governor or you make any big difference in the hiring process?

A No We just drove to put the best person in each slot Some Boards were really easy to fill Some were not But my job was regardless of what that situation was, to put the best person who was qualified, who had that, again, the same temperament, previous Board experience Those kinds of things

Q Did you ever have to disappoint folks who thought they were donors or gift givers or friends who wanted a job?

A A job or an appointment?

Q Yes

A Yes

Q Did Mr. McDonnell ever ask you to appoint or hire, in any position, anyone affiliated with Jonnie Williams or Star Scientific?

A No

Q To any Board or any position of any kind?

A No

Q Did he ever ask you to appoint anyone to any position that you didn't think was fully qualified for that position?

A No

Q Were you allowed to make a lot of independent decisions on these things or did you have to double-check with the Governor on every appointment or every hire?

A At the beginning, he was really involved, the first year And then as the administration went on, he trusted us to make more of the decisions because his time was just impossible to schedule

Q All right With respect to your recommendations, if you had recommendations for important positions, for example, for a Cabinet secretariat or a high-ranking position, essentially, were these things that you would discuss with my client?

A Yes

Q All right

A Yes

Q And were you all in sync most of the time or some of the time or what?

A Yes Definitely -- I'm trying to think if there was an exception But no Generally, no I can't think of an exception where I took someone to him and he was just appalled that he had wasted his time That never happened

Q Okay Getting back for a second to the issue of the scheduling for him while he was Governor "For him" I mean my client, obviously. Did he -- did he personally set that schedule on a general basis?

A No, not on a general basis He would -- I mean, if it were -- this is bad for staff But if it were up to us, we would have probably scheduled him 24/7 And so, you know, sometimes he would push back and just say, "This is too much I need to spend time with my kids this time and time " But most of the stuff that he would put on the calendar was family oriented, not professional necessarily

Q Okay So the staff would essentially try to set the schedule for him --

A Yes

Q -- is that fair?

All right How many people had access, how many -staffers had access to his schedule or his calendar?

A A dozen or so That's a guess

Q And generally speaking, you know, I don't know if you can name them all, but generally speaking, what were their positions, what were the positions of the people who had access to his calendar?

A The Chief of Staff, the Counselor to the Governor, the Deputy Chief of Staff, the Deputy Counselor, the Scheduler, the Travel Aide, the press team I did The First Lady's Office, the First Lady I'm sure I'm missing someone, but that's generally it

Q All right Would all the senior staff basically know about his schedule or be able to access it if they wanted to?

A Yes We could see it

Q How -- did they have to go and find some book somewhere and look at it or how would they have access to it?

A No We all had -- we used Microsoft Outlook So it was parallel to -- parallel is the right word -- parallel to our calendars on our screens

Q Okay Now, with respect to, did the Governor attend a lot of events when he was Governor?

A Yes.

Q All right And in -- in connection with the attending events, would there be some sort of a briefing book to basically advise the Governor what the event was about?

A Yes He -- he had a scheduling book, it was a briefing book, that he would have daily, or sometimes every couple days if he was traveling out of town And it had, you know, a general synopsis of the calendar And then it had tabs for each event And every event, ideally, had I guess a three or four-page -- it could be longer -- briefing form for that event that sort of told him what to expect, who was there, how many people were going to be there, if there was a podium or not, what the attire was, what the weather was supposed to be like that day All of that kind of information.

Q Logistical information about how to get there and back and that sort of thing as well?

A Not so much that, because EPU took care of that

Q Okay Now, the events, I mean, did the Governor typically arrange those events himself or were these ones that were arranged by others?

A No The majority of the events were arranged by us, staff

Q All right With respect to these events, these are some that he would attend or some that he would host or both?

A Sure

Q Okay With respect to hosting events, do you know whether or not he reviewed and edited invitations to those events?

A That would have been rare

Q Who would ordinarily be responsible for that?

A Monica Block She would sit down with him, along with a spreadsheet, and go through things with him But I don't -- I don't think that he went through invitation by invitation. Certainly not all of them

Q Okay. And did the Governor basically -- in terms of these briefing books that told him about events, how much, in advance of the actual event itself, would he typically have access to some sort of briefing about the event?

A Well, he, ideally, would get the book the night before So theoretically, he could have looked at it the night before It was much more customary for him to be in the car just, because I was traveling with him and he would say, you know, "Where are we going again? What am I doing again?" And, you know, we'd look through the book, and it was very last minute most of the time

Q Okay With respect to events, did you attend and participate in PAC events?

A Yes, sir.

Q Okay Other types of fundraisers as well?

A Oh, yes

Q Any other types of fundraisers?

A Like for nonprofits and things like that?

Q Yeah

A Yes

THE COURT: Okay Mr Asbill, we're going to take a break

MR ASBILL: Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Fifteen minutes

(Recess taken from 11:38 a m. until 12:03 p m)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right Mr Asbill

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Good afternoon

A Good afternoon

Q I want to go back to one point that you touched on a little earlier I think -- correct me if I'm mistaken, but I think you said that with respect to your job as Secretary of the Commonwealth in the idea of appointments, that there were approximately a thousand of those that had to be made when my client became Governor or during the course of his governorship?

A A thousand a year

Q A thousand a year So 4,000 over the four years?

A Yes

Q So that's not including duplication, right?

A No I mean, it's -- it could be a little bit short of 4,000 or a little bit over 4,000, but it is about 4,000 Board and Commission appointments It's a big job

Q Okay Now, among those, and I'm certainly not going to get into detail, but was the Tobacco Commission one of the Boards to which my client could appoint someone?

A Yes, sir

Q How about the UVA Board?

A Yes, sir

Q How about the VCU Board?

A Yes, sir

Q How about the VCU Health Systems Authority?

A Yes

Q And how about were there any other related Boards of VCU or UVA, Education Boards of any kind?

A Well, there was the State Board of Education

Q Yes

A Yes The State Board of Education, which managed the K through 12 system And then SCHEV, which generally -- State Council of Higher Education in Virginia is SCHEV That is responsible for higher ed colleges and universities. Every public college and university in Virginia has their own Board of Visitors

Q All right Any other health related sorts of Boards or Commissions that you all made appointments to?

A Oh, yes There are dozens of Health Boards

Q All right

A And they are divided by secretariat

Q Okay Now, we talked, as we broke for the last few minutes, we talked a little bit about PAC events and going to PAC events Do you recall a PAC event in December of 2009 in New York City?

A I was not there

Q Do you know about that event?

A Yes

Q All right And if I represent to you that Mr Williams has testified that he had to pay thousands of dollars in clothing for Ms McDonnell in order to be able to get a seat next to the Governor at that event, are you aware of that testimony from --

MS ABER: Objection First of all, that's --

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me ask you this Was it generally difficult to get a seat next to Mr McDonnell at a PAC event?

A It wasn't difficult, no But that's typically the worst seat in the house because he doesn't sit down at events, typically He's moving around He won't -- generally, didn't even eat at his seat We would pack up a to-go box for him So that's not the seat in the house that you want if you're going to get a good seat to be able to talk to him

Q Okay With respect to the idea about -- or do you have any knowledge, personal knowledge of Mr McDonnell calling folks on their birthday?

A Yeah.

Q And what's your knowledge of that?

A In the Attorney General's Office, he called every single staff person on their birthday, with probably a few exceptions But that was his general rule

Even in the Governor's Office, he would call staff friends on his calendar It's -- there's -- just about every day has someone's birthday on it to remind him He called my uncle on his 60th birthday Things like that

Q All right Do you know whether or not the Governor ever called folks who were not staffers or related to staffers on their birthdays?

A Well, my uncle didn't work in state government. So that would be an example Friends, family members. Yes

Q All right Was that something that cost money in order to get to the government to do -- excuse me -- to get the Governor to do that?

A No.

Q In terms of the concept of meetings, did the Governor refer people to others within the government for meetings, the staff?

A Yes The Governor would, and his scheduler would, and scheduling team would as well

Q Do you have any idea of the sort of rough number of meeting referrals that Mr McDonnell made while he was Governor?

A I would guess it's in the thousands, just based on the number of requests that we got

Q With respect to that concept, the number of requests, how did that come about? How would the Governor generally get requests for meetings?

A The -- the person who wanted an event would e-mail the scheduler or a scheduling address, generic scheduling address That was how scheduling requests came in

Q I'm talking about not events per se, but meetings with somebody --

A Oh

Q -- in other words, a meeting with a Cabinet secretary or one of his Deputies or things of that nature?

A It would come in different ways They could e-mail They could contact the scheduler The Governor could run into them at an event Another Cabinet secretary could run into them at an event. It just depends on -- it depended on the event.

Q And were there reasons why the Governor would refer those to someone else as opposed to taking the meetings himself?

A Yeah. There could be a variety of reasons He just knows that his schedule is busy and he may not have time He may want the person, depending on the topic area, to meet with the expert on that topic in any given field And sometimes he just didn't necessarily think it was a good use of his time, didn't want to do it, and so he would ask someone else

I mean, the general rule in scheduling was unless the Governor has to do it, let's get someone else to, just because his time was so -- his schedule was just impossible to manage some days

Q When you were out with the Governor at various events or traveling with the Governor, would you -- did you experience or see people trying to get meetings, would come up and ask him if they could meet with somebody in state government or meet with him?

A Yes

Q And would he make an individual decision or would he say yes or no on the spot, or was there any sort of reflexive response?

A More often than not, he would say yes And we had to keep him from giving out his cell phone number as well So he was really inclusive in that way

But most of the time, if someone would asked for an event or for a meeting, he would say, "Yes Call my office Here's Monica's card " Actually, I think he had

Monica's information on his business card that he would give out So he would say, "Call Monica, and we'll have someone meet with you or I'll meet with you," or whatever

Q If he got a card from somebody, do you know what he did with those cards?

A Yes Going back to 1999, when I first started working for him, he would use business cards as a constituent response tool He would take notes on the back of them And, I mean, some days he would come back with, you know, a two-inch stack of cards At least he did on the campaign And he would write notes on the back of them Adam would make sure that they got farmed out to the appropriate staff person, depending on what the request was You know, it could be anything from they want a proclamation for foster care month, or it could be something benign It could be something more important like a meeting, like to talk to a Cabinet secretary Something like that

Q All right When Mr McDonnell referred a meeting to someone on his staff, do you know whether or not he had any general expectation about how the person he referred it to was supposed to conduct the meeting?

MS ABER: Objection

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q In the administration, as between the Governor and the staff, whose job was it to say no to someone about a meeting?

A Well, in politics, there's just a general rule that the boss gets to give good news and the staff gives the bad news That was certainly my case in the Secretary of the Commonwealth's Office, because I still have people that are upset with me for not getting what they wanted So generally, if we could say no, we said no We were always supposed to do it in a polite way

Q Okay And was that an independent decision that you were entitled or authorized to execute?

A The vast majority of the time, yes

Q All right The concept of e-mails or documents coming from the Governor that he had taken a look at that said, some notes, see him on it, what did that mean?

A That's another McDonnell-ism that he developed over the news "See me " Whenever I saw that, I took it to mean to talk to him about it if I had time But 99 percent the time, I would just handle it however I saw fit without ever talking to him because there was never time

Q Did he also use other notes like "FYI" or whatever?

A Uh-huh

Q Or "Take Action"?

A Most the time -- yeah, take action Or he would just write the direction right on the sheet But most of the time it just -- you could figure out what to do based on the letter itself

Q Okay The letter itself, coupled with whatever note there might be on it?

A Right

Q Okay We've talked a little bit about donors and your dealings with donors Are you aware of whether or not Mr McDonnell had an operative philosophy about dealing with donors, both when he was AG and running for Governor and as Governor?

MS ABER: Objection

THE COURT: She can answer that Overruled

A The overriding philosophy that I saw, and it's because he told me -- there was one night we were traveling back late, and it was more -- we had, obviously, a mentor/mentee relationship And I would ask him all kinds of advice, and I would just say, you know --

MS ABER: Your Honor, I object only in the hearsay

THE COURT: Sustained It's -- she can, because of her relationship with him, express the philosophy that she understands But to talk about what he told her is objectionable So --

A Okay I --

BY MR ASBILL:

Q I hope I ask this right What was the philosophy, if you know it?

A Sure The philosophy was that if you can't take someone's money and vote against their bill the next day, then you shouldn't be in politics

Q Did you ever witness Mr McDonnell, in dealing with any donor in any way, did you ever witness at all him making anything that you thought was an improper commitment to any donor?

A No, sir

MS ABER: Objection

THE COURT: Overruled

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me talk to you about the concept of the Statements of Economic Interest I believe you said that you had some responsibility for that within your secretariat?

A Yes My secretariat is basically a clearinghouse for the forms We accept them and file it

Q Is this for all of state government or some limited part or what?

A It's not for all of state government I would say for most of the state government?

Q All right And then did you have --

A In the Governor's Office, it's all of the Governor's Office

Q All right So you would have -- you would have access to it or they would go to you? I'm not sure if I understand what you're saying

A There was a staff person whose job it was to collect the forms, and whenever people would turn their forms in, they make sure that it got to that staff person

Q Okay And so you're familiar with the SOEI forms, I take it?

A Yes

Q And you're familiar with the language on the forms?

A It's a long form, but yes

Q All right And the instructions on the forms?

A Yes

Q All right And have you, yourself, filled out those forms?

A I have

Q And as someone who had the responsibility for -- do you have the responsibility for administering and monitoring those forms at least with respect to the Governor's staff and perhaps broader?

A Yes We monitored them for completion, not accuracy

Q Okay That was up to the individual filer?

A Yes

Q All right And did you ever participate in advising -- or let me ask you this From your perspective, from filling out the forms and from the work that you've described, were there definitional issues or difficult issues in terms of interpreting the instructions on the form?

MS ABER: Objection

THE COURT: Overruled

A Yes Some of the language isn't clear I mean, I know I've had personal trouble and had to go to our counselors, our attorneys, in the office and ask them questions about exactly what does this mean, what does that mean There aren't many definitions in the code to accompany the form so it can be vague I found -- I find the form to be vague in some places and, therefore, confusing and creates a lot of questions sometimes

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you ever personally give any advice to Mr. McDonnell with respect to any issues on those forms?

A Most of the time I went through staff So indirectly, indirectly, yes

Q When you say "through staff," who would that be?

A His attorneys, counselors in the Governor's Office.

Q By name?

A Oh Mike Conrad, Jasen Eige

Q Okay. Do you recall Matt Conrad asking you at one point for your definition of a personal friend?

A He did

MS ABER: Objection Hearsay

THE COURT: Overruled

A He did. He asked me what my definition of a personal friend was. And I had worked on the Hill for a year, and I really appreciated the federal system because it was much more black and white than the Virginia system You can't -- if you're a registered lobbyist, you can't give a personal friend that you've known for years and years and years a wedding gift without going through a private Commission, Ethical Commission on how to --

Q You can't give a personal friend or you can't give a public official?

A Well, if the public official is a personal friend

Q Right Okay

A Sorry. So if you have been friends with someone for 20 years, but they're a public official and you're a lobbyist, you have to go through and get permission from a Commission in order to give that person a gift The federal system is very black and white The Virginia system is not It's more gray

Q Okay With respect to some of the issues in this case, you are aware, I take it, that loans and gifts from Jonnie Williams are a general topic of this case?

A Yes

Q All right Were you aware of any loans or gifts relating to Mr Williams or his company that Mr McDonnell disclosed on his SOEI forms?

A Yes It -- I, at least one year, if not more, would do an analysis of what previous Governors had gotten And so, yes And I would review the Governor's forms So yes, I'm familiar with those gifts

Q All right With respect to this issue about dealing with SOEIs and your indirect consulting, did you ever have any direct consulting with the Governor about his forms or just indirect through Matt Conrad or Jasen Eige, as you've described?

A I don't remember any direct consulting with the Governor about his forms

Q Okay You know, in general, on any issue with respect to the Governor and doing your job basically, had he ever refused to talk with you about anything?

A No Not until the investigation was made public, and he was advised by attorneys not to do so

Q Okay Are you aware -- obviously, I know you don't work in the Mansion. But were you aware of, you know, the EPU protecting the Governor?

A Yes

Q Is that the protection service protecting the Governor?

A Yes

Q And to your knowledge, would they be with him all the time or some of the time or what?

A They were with him all the time, especially when he travels Their office is about 30 feet from his And then they have an office in the Mansion as well

Q You say 30 feet from him You mean in the Patrick Henry Building?

A Yes In the Patrick Henry Building, they had an office about 30 feet, 20 to 30 feet from his office And then in the Mansion, they had an office as well

Q In the Mansion in the office, do you know whether that was staffed just during working hours or --

A No It was 24/7 Cameras The whole bit

Q Okay Do you know anything about P O Boxes, post office boxes, and if so, whether or not the Governor had one?

A Yes. Part of my job as Secretary of the Commonwealth was to manage the constituent services component of the Governor's Office So anyone that sent a letter or an e-mail or a thought, a phone call, anything like that, was under my purview And at the very beginning of the administration, he had his personal mail sent to the Mansion, or possibly to the Patrick Henry Building But what that means, in either case, is that it gets screened and some sort of radiation, I believe, and, at the very least, opened and looked through for security purposes And, obviously, that would make me uncomfortable It made him uncomfortable

So he approached me and Pam Watts, his assistant, to figure out a solution, and we tried to have some other way to have that happen that -- where his mail, you know, bills, medical things, were getting opened And there just wasn't a way around that So he asked Pam Watts to open up a P.O. Box

Q Do you recall, in time, when that occurred?

A It was fairly early on in the administration, based on my recollection

Q Okay Why not just have mail sent home to, you know, the Governor's former residence?

A I think it's because it was about 30 minutes away, and he just wasn't there that often

Q All right You continued to work through -- you know, work for the Governor through the end of his term; is that correct?

A Sorry Yes, sir, I did

Q And that was, obviously, after the -- after stories broke in the press about the investigation?

A Yes, it was

Q All right Do you recall the last Cabinet meeting of his governorship?

A I do It was probably the -- one of the top five memories that I have from the Governor's Office, which is saying a lot because it was such an honor to work there

It's a little rare, in Virginia politics, for the entire Cabinet to stay together as long as we did We had one Cabinet secretary that left after about 18 months, but other than that, everyone stayed until the last six months of the administration I think we had one Cabinet secretary that left kicking and screaming because she got a judgeship, which you can't turn down One left to pursue an opportunity That meant that she had to prep for session So she couldn't stay until the end And then one left because her dream job opened up that fall as well But other than that, we all stayed together

And I know in my own case, I had job opportunities coming in starting in about spring of that year, of that last year And at the very beginning when I got a call, one of the calls, I didn't know what was going on in the investigation But after a few months, when I realized that people might think that I would leave If I left, it would reflect negatively on him and people might think, "Well, I think he did something wrong," or whatever I decided to stay until the very end I wanted to stay I didn't want to leave

But even if that job offer --

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor, to the narrative

THE COURT: Sustained

A Sorry

THE COURT: The question related to the last meeting

A I apologize

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me try to specifically direct you with respect to the last meeting When was it, and where was it?

A It was the Governor's Office in the third floor of the Capitol

Q Okay And were all the Cabinet members assembled at that meeting?

A They were

Q How many is that total?

A About 15 to 20 people were there I think some assistants were there too

Q And, generally, what went on at that last meeting?

A The Governor thanked us all for our service He -- each of us got an opportunity to say thank you It was a really emotional meeting I saw grown men cry that I had never seen before and don't ever want to see cry again We all got an opportunity to just talk about how -- what an honor it was and how this was a very special team and we probably wouldn't ever work with another team like that again

Q Okay Let me go on to another topic Do you know Mary-Shea Sutherland?

A Yes

Q How is it that you know her?

A I knew her through politics before the Governor's Office, and then I was part of the committee that interviewed her and hired her to be the Mansion Chief of Staff

Q To be the Mansion Chief of Staff or --

A First Lady's Chief of Staff

Q -- First Lady's Chief of Staff?

You say "the committee " How many folks were part of that committee, and who were they?

A Me, the First Lady, Martin Kent, and then Betsy Beamer, who was a former Secretary of the Commonwealth who was helping advise us on some hiring issues.

Q And what sort of qualities or background or experience were you all looking for in terms of hiring someone for that position?

A I think we all thought it was really important that we have someone that had a lot of work experience On the campaign, there had been a lot of, you know, right-out-of-college folks, and I don't think that the First Lady had the respect, probably for good reason, just because they were green right out of college

And so we really wanted to get someone that had a lot of work experience that could manage a staff well Since Maureen didn't have management -- previous management experience, that had really good judgment, that would help the First Lady with whatever she needed, that would sort of help her navigate the landmines that are just inherent in that job

Q All right And when Ms Sutherland was hired, were you confident at that point that she had those requisite skills?

A I was

Q All right Let me move on to the First Lady I want to talk to you about her for a minute Are you -- do you know whether or not she's interested in nutraceuticals, and if so, how long that interest has maintained or when it started?

A The very -- one of the very first things I ever learned about Maureen that she was interest -- she sold vitamins on the side. That was in '99 And then certainly throughout my time of working for the Governor, she legitimately believes that nutraceuticals, vitamins are good I've actually bought vitamins from her before, and they really did work for me because I had some illness

And so she really believes that they work I think that she was always sort of on the cutting edge of trends of, you know, this could be the greatest thing since sliced bread kind of stuff, and -- some of it was a little dubious, but overall, I definitely think that she believed that they worked

Q All right During the campaign for Governor, you had contact with her on a fairly regular basis during that period of time?

A Yes, sir

Q Any difficulties in your relationship with her?

A Yes I touched on this a little bit earlier I think this answer needs some context, if that's okay

Q Please Tell us about your relationship with her

A Just stop me if I get too off topic

Most political wives stair step up to being First Lady You know, their husband is in Congress or -- it's -- it's not so quick of a jump

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor I'm sensitive to context, but --

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Tell us about --

THE COURT: You really just have to answer the question

THE WITNESS: Okay I'm trying

BY MR ASBILL:

Q If you had any difficulties in your relationship with her, please describe, in general terms, what those difficulties were

A Okay My difficulty in answering the question comes from the fact that I don't want to just pile on

Q Just please answer the question

A Okay

Q I understand If you need to take a second, take a second There's some Kleenex next to you there if you need it

A Okay Thanks I hope I don't need them

So difficulty on the campaign She was very difficult, very demanding, very diva-ish She was -- she didn't have a good grasp of what my job was So -- you know, I'm working a lot during the campaign, and so to call Maureen back, every time I would get a call, it would just be like, "Oh, how long is this? How big of a mountain out of a molehill is this problem," you know, that kind of thing And so it -- it really hurt our relationship It -- she didn't grow into that role easily at all, and it showed She didn't handle the stress well She would freak out at little things and just generally take it out on other people when she was upset

Q Are you talking about -- when you say "take it out" or "freak out," are you talking about anger issues?

A Yes, sir

Q Were they reciprocated by you?

A Oh, no No

Q What about in terms of communications with respect to the accuracy or the veracity of the communications between the two of you?

A She was the kind of person that when she told you something, you always kind of felt the need to verify it with someone else first if it didn't seem entirely right She would exaggerate and embellish Those kinds of things

Q All right Let me move on to when my client became Governor

A Okay

Q The issues that you've described between you and Ms McDonnell, did they improve, get worse, stay the same?

A Well, they improved the first few months because I had kind of made it clear to the Governor that I didn't think it was wise that I be her chief contact any longer And I was finding my sea legs She was finding her sea legs in the Mansion So it was great for a while And then -- wait What was the question again? I'm sorry

Q Well, I said did the relationship, essentially, or the issues that you've described, did they get worse? Did they get better? Did they stay the same?

A Well, okay They got better with me They didn't get better with others When we would have scheduling meetings, Mary-Shea would, you know, kind of frequently tell us, "Okay This is what happened this week, and it wasn't good And this is who got yelled at yesterday, and that wasn't good either " So --

Q Okay Let me ask you this question. You said -- you described, in general, the difficulties that you had during the campaign And in going forward, in taking the job as Secretary of the Commonwealth that you've described, did you ever have any conditions about whether or not you were willing to take that job?

A Yeah I mean, I -- I just told them flat out I couldn't do my --

Q I'm sorry You told who?

A The Governor. I told the Governor flat out, when he offered me the Secretary of the Commonwealth's job, that I couldn't work with Maureen.

Q And, obviously, you went forward How did that happen?

A Well, about six months in, after a scheduling meeting, Mary-Shea was talking to me and she was like, "Look I'm really worried about the First Lady This isn't normal behavior, and I'm concerned that" --

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor, to hearsay

THE COURT: Sustained

A Okay

BY MR ASBILL:

Q What is it -- what is it that -- I mean, what were the factors that influenced you to go forward and continue to work for the Governor, including working with the First Lady?

A There were some concerns that she was suffering from an illness And then not long after that, I was having a conversation with the Governor He had had a rough night the night before He looked like it And she called in the middle of our meeting and was screaming at him because I didn't call her back the day before

And it dawned on me that she was yelling at him at night for things that had happened that day And I don't know why that hadn't dawned on me before, but it just hadn't So at that point, I just realized that he can't do his job as Governor if he's going home and getting yelled at because of things that are happening during the day

So I sort of reinserted myself into the situation to see what I could do to help and was sort of more of a mitigating factor at that point, and the staff would come to me when there was a problem more so than they did before

Q Why, if you're the Secretary of Commonwealth -- and you don't have an office in the Mansion, right?

A No

Q And then why, if you're the Secretary of the Commonwealth, would -- you're talking about Mansion staff or you're talking about Cabinet staff coming to you?

A Mansion staff

Q Why would Mansion staff come to you? You know, you're not in the same building, et cetera, and that's not your running of the Mansion Why would the Mansion staff come to you?

A Well, I was on senior staff So I think that's the first reason I think that I tried to be a good listener to them I think that the main reason was because all of us knew hat we had to come up with a good way to work through the issues that were going on And because of my long-standing relationship with the Governor and his family, they thought that I was a good person to do that, and I offered my help to do that

Q So without getting in the details of the conversations, would Mansion staff come to you fairly frequently about issues within the Mansion that related to the First Lady?

A Yes, sir

Q All right Do you know somebody by the name of Jim Burke?

A Yes

Q And who is he, and how do you know him?

A He's a management consultant with Virginia Commonwealth University He has a degree in some sort of health background, psychology, psychiatry, something like that And we had used him in the Attorney General's Office to do a management consultant seminar with our senior leadership team, and we -- the Governor -- I can't remember whose idea it was, one of our ideas, to bring him in to help with the First Lady's transition, excuse me, once Mary-Shea left As Mary-Shea was leaving, he was brought in to help the First Lady and the Mansion staff reorganize

Q This would be -- do you know when she left? Can you give us a time on that?

Q Yeah

A The fall of 2011.

Q Okay And did -- you said this was an idea Did Mr Burke, in fact, come in?

A Yes, sir. Along with a woman named Linda Pierce, the two of them

Q All right And these were management consultants from VCU; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And, in general, what was the idea? What were they trying to help with or trying to deal with?

A We wanted to create an environment where there was less instability, where there was less anger, where people who worked in the Mansion felt more able to do their jobs without being afraid of being criticized if they made a mistake We wanted to create a good structure so that the First Lady kind of had what she needed I don't know that we got it exactly right the first time so we were trying to correct course

Q Okay And was that -- was that effort successful or not?

A No, not exactly

Q What do you mean?

A Well, none of t' things really helped I do think that we were able to -- I do think that we structured the staff in such a way that was more helpful, but I don't --

I didn't see any of the other things really improving.

Q Do you know whether the Governor was in favor of bringing in Burke or he was opposed to it or what?

A Yes, he was in favor

Q Now, with respect to the Governor and his wife in terms of their relationship, publicly persona of the relationship, can you tell us what your observations were of that?

A Yes I think publicly they were very affectionate They didn't get to spend a whole lot of time together So they would hold hands and that sort of thing I was always curious as to why, because their -- the substance of their marriage, to me, didn't seem to back up that affection necessarily And I just sort of chalked it up to the McDonnells just being affectionate people I mean, they are very huggy They're very -- you know, if there's a two-seater couch, there's five of them on it So I just kind of chalked it up to that and him not wanting to hurt her feelings in public and maybe even a little aspirational, like --

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor. Speculation

THE COURT: Sustained

A Okay I apologize

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you think he loved his wife?

A Sure

MS ABER: Objection

THE COURT: She can answer the question

A Sure I think he loved his wife

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This year, June, did you attend a birthday party, a joint birthday party for Mr and Ms McDonnell?

A I did

Q And where was that?

A At their house in Wyndham

Q And when was it?

A When? In June

Q When in June?

A I don't remember

Q And --

A Sorry

Q -- do you know how that -- or did you have any role in how that party came to come into existence or come to be planned?

A Well, the staff wanted to do a birthday party for him, and I was talking to some of the girls about it, his daughters about it And they just said, "I think we're going to end up doing a joint party for both of them, because they both turn 60 this year "

Q All right

A Other than that, I didn't have any role

Q And you say you attended that party Were you there most or all of the time?

A I was there at the beginning I left about halfway through

Q All right And while you were there, did you observe Mr and Ms McDonnell interact?

A No

Q Prior to June of this year, were you ever at the McDonnells' house for any reason?

A Sure

Q A social event of any kind?

A This year?

Q Yes, this year

A Yeah We went, my husband and I, and another couple and another one of our coworkers So five of us guests went over to their house for dinner

Q When was that?

A Maybe May Spring

Q Okay And during that dinner, can you tell us how, if at all, the Governor and his wife interacted?

A Not very much that night at all. She stayed inside most of the time. I just assumed she wasn't feeling well But they didn't interact much And the other couple kind of commented on why weren't they -- why wasn't she hanging out with us

Q Okay You've talked a little bit, I don't want to get into specific details, about the concept of yelling Did you ever hear the yelling between the two of them or whatever? Did you ever hear the Governor yell at Ms McDonnell at any time ever?

A No I've never heard him yell at anyone

Q Now, do you have any personal knowledge, any knowledge of any kind, of secretive behavior by the First Lady?

A Yes She -- it was sort of well-known that she would hide things, shopping, things like that, when she would go shopping that -- one trip I know she hid stuff on the plane before --

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor, to lack of foundation I don't believe this is coming from her personal knowledge

THE COURT: Objection sustained But you can -- go ahead and lay a foundation, if you can.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Yeah I mean, what is the basis? Did you see this behavior or if you know anything about it, how is it that you know it?

A The staff person -- I can't remember which staff person told me that

Q Okay So you didn't personally observe the --

A I did not

Q Did you ever shop with her or travel with her when she had been shopping?

A Not when she was First Lady

Q Not when he was First Lady? All right.

A Not that I remember

Q Okay

A No

Q With respect to the Governor's interactions with his wife while he was Governor, were you aware of any situations or instances in which the Governor told her no, she couldn't do something that was important to her?

A Yeah She -- that was important to her?

Q Yeah Specifically relating to nutraceuticals

A Yeah The most -- the biggest thing he told her that she couldn't do, because it was important to her, was not to sell them at events And once he became Governor, he told her that she couldn't continue her vitamin business while he was Governor

Q Do you have any knowledge of what her reaction was to that?

A Oh, I don't think she liked either one

Q With respect to -- I don't want to get into any more details You've talked about sort of general issues or general problems With respect to those problems, was the Governor aware of the problems, generally?

A Sure

Q And did he try to take action or did he just ignore them?

A No He took action I think his hope was that Jim and Linda would really be able to help deal with and address some of those issues I had told him about conversations that I had with her as well So no, I wouldn't say that he ignored it

Q All right Let me talk about Jonnie Williams When is -- did you ever meet him?

A Sure Yes

Q When?

A I met him once for the first time at The Homestead at a political event, staff retreat, or PAC retreat

Q And that's -- that's -- that's a PAC event, The Homestead PAC event?

A Yes, sir

Q All right And did you have any interaction with him either before or during that event?

A I had interaction with him during the event It was the first time I had ever met him Adam Zubowsky, the Governor's Travel Aide at the time, introduced me to him And it was kind of an odd interaction He said, "Hey, Janet, nice to meet you " And I was wearing what I thought was a really pretty dress, and he said, "Nice dress " And then he leaned over, and Jeanine was standing next to me, the Governor's daughter, and he said, "And, Jeanine, your earrings look beautiful " And then he leaned back over to me and said, "I had to compliment her since I complimented you because I don't want to cause any problem between the two of you " It was kind of odd

Q Where did he sit -- during the PAC, was there a dinner --

A There was

Q -- that Jonnie attended?

A There was

Q And where did he sit?

A He asked me to seat him next to Dr Hazel, Secretary Hazel And I went up to Secretary Hazel and said, "This guy Jonnie wants to sit next to you " And he said, probably with profanity, "No "

And so I went back to Jonnie and just said, "He can't sit next to you Can you sit next to John Hager? He's a former before tobacco executive " And so that's where he sat

Q All right And let me move -- before I move on from there, I want to go back for one second to were you aware of any serious problems among the Mansion staff folks in the January 2012 time frame?

A Yes, sir

Q And in general, what was the nature of that issue?

A If I'm not mistaken, that's when they all threatened to quit in mass

Q Let me show you what has been marked as RM-32 and ask you to take a look at this exhibit Take a look at this exhibit and tell me whether or not it's something that you have that you're familiar with

A Oh, thank you Yes

Q And are you familiar with this particular exhibit in realtime? And by that I mean in the January 30th, 2012, time frame?

A Yes, sir

MR ASBILL: Okay I move the admission of RM-32

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is a roughly one-and-a-third-page letter; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

Q And it's signed by whom?

A It's signed by the entire Mansion staff alphabetically by first name

Q Okay These would be all the people that worked in the Mansion at the time?

A I can't see the second page

MR ASBILL: Well, flip to the second page

BY MR ASBILL:

Q There it is

A That's the majority of her staff Yes

Q When you say --

A Like the maid might be missing But other than that, that's pretty much everyone

Q When you say "her," who are you referring to?

A The First Lady

Q And the letter is addressed to who?

A Ms McDonnell

Q I'm sorry To Ms McDonnell?

A Ms McDonnell

Q And what is the thrust of the letter?

A The staff, I know, grew increasingly frustrated and disappointed with their work experience as a result of some of the anger that was going on in the Governor's Mansion And something happened that was just the straw that broke the camel's back And I got a call that they were coming over to see Martin, the Chief of Staff, with a letter to basically say we had had enough, and if this happens any more, we're quitting All of us together are quitting

And I had red flags going up all over the place for a variety of reasons, but the first one was that I told them to come to my office because I didn't want anybody else to see them walking through the third floor in mass

So they came to my office Martin came upstairs We had a discussion with them By that point, Jim Burke had already discussed the letter with them We told them that it was completely understandable as to why they wrote the letter, that we were sympathetic to the sentiments of the letter, but the letter would be -- I know the word that he used was counterproductive

He just didn't feel like that she had -- and I agreed with him She just didn't have the capacity to receive the letter in the spirit in which it was intended I think she was sort of pathologically incapable of taking any sort of responsibility So what good did they think this letter was going to do

Q Let me, without -- this is going to be -- it's in evidence, and the jury will get a chance to read it But I want to go down to a particular section of it Two paragraphs from the bottom on the first page

A "If you are unhappy"?

Q No

A Oh I got it

MR ASBILL: Yeah Down to the next paragraph, please Where the highlighted -- or the bolded text is from the people who wrote this letter Would you please highlight that

A Oh.

BY MR ASBILL:

Q I'm sorry My tech person

A I'm like, I can't do that I don't know how to do that

Q I didn't mean you personally

A Okay Good

Q Was this the sentiment of the letter writers as well, aside from whatever criticisms they might be leveling in the letter?

MS. ABER: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is what the letter says, right?

A Uh-huh

Q Do you have any reason to believe that that wasn't a genuine comment?

A No

Q All right With respect to the issues in this letter that you say you reviewed in realtime, from your personal knowledge, were any of the issues that were addressed in this letter, in this sort of mass resignation letter, were any of these, from your perspective, untrue, overblown, not fair?

And take your time and read it if you need to, if you don't remember it immediately Take your time and read it before you answer my question

A I can't see it

Q And I can give you a hard copy if you'd prefer

A That would be great Thank you

MR ASBILL: May I approach?

A What was the question again?

BY MR ASBILL:

Q I'll go back to my question I think I can remember it

A Sorry

Q My general question about it is with respect to the things that are expressed in the letter by the folks who signed the letter, to your personal knowledge, were these things that they were saying accurate, fair?

A Yes, sir

Q Thank you Let me go back --

MR ASBILL: You can take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me go back to the Jonnie Williams issue, and you've just talked about the PAC, basically, and what happened there Did there come a time after that event when you had another personal meeting with Mr Williams?

A It wasn't a meeting, but there was an event in South Carolina where the Governor was endorsing Mitt Romney, and I wanted to go Maureen and Jonnie were flying down on the plane So I flew with them to the event, and then I flew back with Mr Williams

Q All right And who else was on that plane?

A Jonnie, the First Lady, me, and the pilots

Q Okay

A My best recollection

Q All right And on that trip or on that flight, did you have any observations of any interaction between Ms McDonnell and Jonnie Williams?

A Yeah It was about a three-hour flight They -- it was -- you know, obviously, they were friends They were -- appeared to be fond of each other She was very good -- it was sort of a team act on, you know, talking about --

Q I don't care what they're talking about How did they interact with each other?

A It was -- it was kind of flirty. It was very, very, very friendly. It was a very relaxed environment

Q Okay Did you have any personal interaction with Mr Williams on that plane?

A Yes.

Q And what was the nature of that?

A On the way down or on the way back?

Q Either

A On the way down, I mean, it was just a three-person conversation So that was my interaction

On the way back, Ms McDonnell was not on the plane So Jonnie and I had three hours, give or take, on the plane ride back And we talked about Anatabloc a lot We talked about family life, whatever, a lot. He was very, very salesman-like in his efforts to get me to buy Star stock on the plane back I didn't But he definitely wanted me to buy Star stock was what I remember the most from that flight back

Q What was your reaction to that?

A Well, I thought it was a good idea at first because Mary-Shea had been talking about what a great product it was I know she had bought stock And I went home that night and prayed about it, and I just didn't have a good feeling So I didn't

Q Okay Do you know anything from personal knowledge about the New York City shopping trip that occurred in December of '09?

A I think most of the details that I know about that trip are -- were not in realtime

Q You learned later from someone else?

A Yes

Q No personal observations? Okay

Do you know anything personally about the Mansion lunch event that is the subject matter -- one of the subject matters of this case? Were you involved in any way with the planning of that?

A No

Q Okay In realtime, did you have -- I mean, did you hear anything that caused you to be concerned in any way about it?

A I was part of a conversation with Martin and Jasen and Tucker and Matt Conrad after the lunch, and we had sort of a postmortem on what happened and what kind of event it was and how -- you know, we sort of came to the conclusion that it wasn't a big deal because Jonnie Williams was giving away money at that point

Q Do you know whether or not the -- do you know what the Governor's role was in initiating it or planning it or when he learned about it or the nature of it?

A No I don't know that he had any role

Q All right The Healthcare Leaders event that -- on February 29th, 2012 Do you know anything about that event?

A Yes I am on the loop, the e-mail loop or the e-mail chain for events that come from the Mansion So Sarah

Scarbrough would typically initiate those events, and then I would be on -- I would get the invite list Things like that

Q So you were able to see the invite list, essentially, for that event?

A Yes, sir

Q And do you know whether or not the Mansion, or folks within the Mansion, typically got to add guests to those types of events?

A Yeah I would add guests to those kinds of events all the time I didn't in this case I could have theoretically said, "Hey, I want my doctor to come" or something like that Unless it was a like Garth Brooks event, or something like that, where a celebrity was at the Mansion, we had a lot of leeway I mean, the Mansion held 300 people So --

Q All right If you wanted to add your own personal doctor to an event like that, is that something that you would have to vet or clear with Dr Hazel?

A No.

Q Okay With respect to -- to those types of events or Mansion events like that, do you know whether the Governor was -- typically was involved or deeply involved in deciding who gets invited to those events?

A He was typically not invited in things like that unless it was like a Christmas party That kind of thing

Q Okay You've testified about your relationship with my client, and I want to ask you some final questions

A Okay

Q Do you think you know him really well?

A Yes

Q Do you think you know his heart?

A Yes

Q Is he someone who's quick to see ulterior motives in other folks?

A No

Q Do you think he's someone who gives people the benefit of the doubt?

A Yes

Q Do you have a personal opinion about whether or not he's an honest man?

A Yes

Q What is your opinion?

A He is one of the most honest people I know

Q What does -- what does that word mean to you?

A It means that when they say something, you take it at face value that you believe it, you don't have any reason to question it It means that if he says he's going to do something, he does it. It means that he's trustworthy It means that if I tell him to keep something in confidence, he's able to do that, if he agrees to It means that he is clear with his expectations

Q Okay Do you have an opinion about whether or not he's a truthful man?

A Yes

Q What is your opinion?

A Very similar to the last answer, which is that I never question what he tells me I don't feel like I have to double-back with anybody to verify it in any way

Q Do you have an opinion about whether he's someone who obeys the law? Is he a law-abiding man?

A Yes

Q Now, do you know other people who know him?

A I do

Q And, you know, best estimate, how many people do you know who also know Bob McDonnell?

A Probably thousands

Q Do you have any idea what their opinion is of him with respect to the character traits that you've just described your having personal opinions about?

A Yes I think that out of everyone -- well, there's -- there's different communities of people

Q Describe those communities of folks who know him

A So there's the political community of, you know, elected officials There's the political community of people like, you know, lobbyists, government affairs representatives, former electeds, those kinds of folks, reporters, campaign workers That's the biggest group, volunteers And then there's the third group of people that I know that know him that aren't related to politics in any way, at least by choice Their spouse might be in it or whatever Friends of mine that have just met him over the years

And I think the common thread in all of those communities, because there's a different -- there's different dynamics operating in each of them, is that he's -- if they had to elect the Boy Scout of the year, Mr Honest, it would be him in every single one of those categories

Q Would you work for him again?

A Yes, I would I'd work with him in a heartbeat If I would work for him I think -- I want to work for him again I just think that he has some work to do I think that it would be very difficult for me to go back under the circumstances that existed in the Governor's Office with his marriage I think that --

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor It's a narrative response

THE COURT: She's answered the question She would work for him again

MR ASBILL: Thank you Please answer questions from other counsel

THE COURT: All right Mr Burck, are you going to have any questions?

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, I will have some questions

THE COURT: All right It's 1:00 We'll go ahead and stop now for lunch And if you all would come back at 2:00, make it 2:05, 2:05, we'll get started with the afternoon session

THE COURT: All right

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, just briefly, Your Honor, on behalf of Ms McDonnell, we would like to move for a severance of the trial at this stage We have two alternatives from our perspective -- and I'll explain the reasoning in a moment -- but either to sever Ms. McDonnell from the trial, or to sever the obstruction count, Count Fourteen. And the reasoning is that the evidence that is coming in today from our co-defendant tends to go to Ms McDonnell's veracity or the appearance of her veracity by various witnesses The evidence as it is coming in is helpful to certain counts from our perspective, which goes to the conspiracy counts, and the alleged conspiracy between Mr McDonnell and Ms McDonnell; but at the same time, it is harmful, we believe, to Count Fourteen, which is the obstruction count and her truthfulness So, Your Honor, we would move to have her severed at this point, or in the alternative, to have the obstruction count severed.

THE COURT: That motion will be denied. Bring in the jury, please

THE COURT: Just so you will know, we are going to take more frequent breaks, probably on the hour, and we will probably leave a little early today.

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, Mr Burck?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Good afternoon, Ms Kelly

A Good afternoon.

Q My name is Bill Burck and I represent Maureen McDonnell

A Nice to see you.

Q I just have a few questions for you. If you wouldn't mind calling up RM-0032, which is already in evidence, the second page Blow up the top paragraph, please Thank you Ms Kelly, you testified about this letter, and this was the letter from the staff members laying out their concerns and their problems with Maureen McDonnell's management There is a sentence at the very beginning of this second page: "We have heard you say many times now that this wasn't your vision for your life." Do you see that?

A Yes, sir

Q You weren't a signatory on this letter; is that right?

A I was not

Q Do you recall having any conversations with Ms. McDonnell in which she said anything along those lines to you?

A Yes She would say, "I didn't sign up for this," "This isn't what I wanted," it wasn't anything that she ever thought she would sign up for

Q "This" was what?

A Being First Lady

Q Did she tell you why she was unhappy being First Lady?

A Yes Let me see if I can recap it nicely and quickly It was stressful She was not a public speaker. She often had to speak in public when she went out, and that was generally not something she was comfortable with. Let me take the "generally" out It was not something she was comfortable with. That's just not how she envisioned her life at all, according to our discussions.

Q Okay. And you mentioned, or you testified about Jim Burke, who is, of course, no relation to me But you testified about conversations you had with Jim Burke and his role in coming in to help with management consultancies, basically?

A Yes, sir

Q Do you recall, did you ever speak to Mr Burke and Maureen McDonnell about the problems that the staff were having with her?

A Sure

Q Can you tell us --

A Together?

Q Together

A I don't remember I know I had several conversations with him, her individually I had several conversations with him individually. He had conversations with her individually But I don't know if the three of us were ever together

Q Let's just talk about then the conversations you had with Maureen McDonnell, just the two of you, about the problems the staff were having Tell us about when those conversations occurred, and what did each of you say?

MS ABER: Objection, hearsay

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR. BURCK:

Q You had conversations with her in approximately what time frame about these issues with the staff?

A When Mary-Shea was leaving and the new staff was coming in, it was in that time frame, or maybe shortly after the new staff had come in It also could have been when this letter was written, along that time span

Q What did you say to her, not what she said to you, but what did you say to her?

A I told her that I was worried about her; that I thought that she was not handling her job in a way that was healthy I thought that she was not handling stress well, and it was manifesting itself in anger, that it was wearing the staff down. I acknowledged the very difficult position that she was in It is not easy being First Lady I acknowledged that she had, she was going through a period of grieving that she may not have recognized. She lost both of her parents within the year of becoming First Lady She lost essentially both of the last of her two children to empty -- to being an empty nester In addition to that, she essentially lost her husband to his job. So it was a lot for her

Q You testified that Mr McDonnell was a very busy man, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And it was difficult to get on the schedule; is that fair to say?

A Yes

Q Did Ms McDonnell have trouble getting on his schedule as well?

A Yes

Q Did she complain about that to you?

A Yes.

Q Frequently?

A During that time period, yes

Q And the time period is when you were --

A From about August of 2010, well, really until the investigation started and we couldn't really talk about things anymore

Q Okay

A I'm sorry, when the investigation was made public.

Q In 2013 Okay Did you ever have any conversations with Ms McDonnell about her relationship with Jonnie Williams?

A No

Q And you testified that you witnessed some of the interactions between them on the flight that time Did you ever remember any conversations with Jasen Eige or anyone else at the Mansion about the relationship between Jonnie Williams and Ms. McDonnell?

A Yes. It was in the context of, you know, "Should we be concerned about this in any way?" And the gist of the conversation was, "He never asks for anything, so we are not concerned."

Q When did that conversation occur, if you recall?

A Around that same time frame

Q 2010 through 2013, sometime in that period?

A Yes

Q And just one final set of questions for you. Flite, F-L-I-T-E, do you know what that is?

A Yes

Q Can you tell us what that is?

A I'm not going to get the acronym right

Q Was it the First Lady's Initiatives Team Effort?

A Yes, it was

Q Can you tell us what that was?

A The first lady had four pillars to Flite, things that interested her And a lot of First Ladies come in with a platform. The previous First Lady had foster care. Maureen decided then instead of putting forward her own platform, she would highlight the contributions of Virginians in four areas And I might get them wrong or not get them all, but it was healthcare, women in business, veterans, military families, and then the wine industry

Q Wine industry

A I think those were the four.

Q So can you explain to us, you were the Secretary of the Commonwealth, was it unusual for a First Lady to have initiatives like that as part of her duties as the First Lady?

A No.

Q Were the goals of these initiatives to be lined up with the Governor's goals?

A Yes

Q Was it unusual for Cabinet members or staff of the Cabinet members to meet with the First Lady to discuss those initiatives?

A No

Q That was something that was commonplace?

A Right

Q One of the initiatives you mentioned was healthcare or health.

A Right

Q Can you tell us a little more about that? What was that all about?

A Well, I think that that was something that she had been previously interested in, especially preventive healthcare. She had had a breast cancer scare when she was younger, so it was definitely something she believed passionately in, and it was a nice way to tie in your existing passions with the Office of the First Lady

Q Those existing passions were for nutraceuticals; you testified about that?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: That's it, Your Honor Thank you.

THE COURT: All right Government?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MS ABER:

Q Good afternoon, Ms Kelly

A Good afternoon.

Q Now, you first met Mr McDonnell back in 1999?

A I did.

Q You were taking a class in graduate school at Regent that he was teaching; is that right?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q And I think you have told the investigators at least that you felt like you had an instant connection with Mr McDonnell

A I did.

Q At that point he is a state delegate; is that right?

A Yes

Q And is it fair to say you were so sort of taken by him that you dropped out of graduate school to go work for him?

A I don't think that's necessarily fair, because I waited a year to do so But when it became clear that I couldn't manage my duties at school and get good grades, I started getting B's, which was not okay with me, and then managing my duties on his campaign, I just said, "Listen, I'm going to graduate school because I want to work in politics I'm working in politics; I don't need to go to graduate school anymore "

Q From that point forward as you testified on direct, you basically have worked for Mr McDonnell since 2000-ish, 2001?

A 2002

Q And pretty consistently since 2002, Mr McDonnell has been sort of the centerpiece of your career; is that right?

A Sure

Q And I think you said it was an honor to work for him?

A Yes

Q You loved working for him; is that right?

A Yes

Q Okay And I believe you said you share both a work relationship with him and a friendship.

A I do.

Q You consider Mr McDonnell to be a mentor, right?

A I do

Q And you are one of his closest confidantes, essentially

A Yes, I am.

Q That's why the position of Secretary of the Commonwealth was sort of a member of senior staff as opposed to other Cabinet Secretaries who didn't have that kind of relationship with him.

A Sure

Q But despite that, you didn't know that Mr. Williams had given $50,000 to Maureen McDonnell back in May of 2011, did you?

A I did not know

Q You found out after the investigation hit the papers, right?

A That is correct

Q Same thing with the $50,000 to MoBo in March of 2012, you didn't know about that

A Did not know

Q You didn't know that Mr McDonnell was personally negotiating a loan with Mr Williams in February of 2012, did you?

A I did not know

Q You didn't know about the $20,000 to MoBo in May of 2012, right?

A I didn't We didn't discuss personal finances when we met

Q You didn't know about the Rolex he got at Christmas in 2011, right?

A I did not

Q You didn't know about, you may have known that Mr McDonnell was golfing, but you didn't know Mr Williams was paying for it at Kinloch, did you?

A No.

Q But you did know about the $15,000 that Mr. Williams had given Cailin McDonnell for her wedding; is that right?

A In quasi realtime.

Q Sort of around --

A Before the investigation was made public, yes

Q That's because Mary-Shea Sutherland told you, right?

A It is

Q And that was sometime roughly between June and October of 2011?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q And Ms Sutherland told you that she wasn't sure that Mr McDonnell knew; is that right?

A Yes That is correct

Q And so you took that bit of information and brought it to Martin Kent; is that right?

A Yes

Q Ms Sutherland also told you that she owned Star Scientific stock, right?

A Yes.

Q But you did not know that Ms McDonnell had stock in her account, right?

A No.

Q For Star Scientific And you didn't know whether Mr McDonnell owned any Star Scientific stock?

A I did not know.

Q You never talked about that with the McDonnells?

A No.

Q Now, in reference to Star Scientific and Mr. Williams, I think Mr Burck asked you about whether you all had any concerns on staff about Mr Williams Do you remember that?

A Yes, the conversation with Jasen Eige?

Q Yes

A Yes

Q So are you telling us that if the staff had known that Mr Williams was asking for something, you might have had some concerns?

A I think that we would have had concerns if it had been legitimate state business

Q So if you had known that Mr Williams wanted something from Mr McDonnell, that might have been a red flag for you guys

A If we had known he wanted, for example, economic development grants, a board appointment, things like that, yes, I think that would have raised a red flag

Q Now, you talked a bit about scheduling And I think you said that Mr McDonnell was very accommodating of folks who wanted meetings; is that right?

A Generally speaking, yes

Q When he ran into people at events and so forth and they wanted meetings, he tried to make that happen, right?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q He referred them to one of the schedulers consistently, right?

A Or his Travel Aide, but yes

Q The Governor didn't personally reach out to ensure -- didn't personally reach out to the requester to make sure their meetings took place, right? He pawned that off on a scheduler or Travel Aide

A Yes, unless he ran into them again and it came up in conversation that they didn't get the meeting they wanted. Then yes

Q Now, I think you said that Mr McDonnell always made it a priority to schedule family time

A I think that the more precise way to say it is he always made it a priority to try to schedule family time

Q It was hard to get on his schedule, wasn't it?

A There were so many competing interests, that it was hard to maintain a good work/life balance It was impossible to maintain a good work/life balance I think is a fair way to say it

Q I think you previously said to investigators that he probably attended less than one half of the events to which he was invited; is that accurate?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q In reference to that August 30th, 2011 event at the Mansion, Mr McDonnell made time to attend that one, right?

A He did.

Q I think it is fair to say you guys had what you called a postmortem, the senior staff did, about the event afterwards, right?

A We did

Q That was because you all had some concerns about the event, right?

A It was The other members of the senior staff were on e-mail chains I wasn't on I walked into the conversation So that's the context, but yes

Q And in essence, you all sort of agreed that the launch/lunch, whatever we may call it, was okay because Mr Williams was giving money to state universities

A Yes, ma'am.

Q But you had those concerns even though you weren't aware of any of the loans or gifts at that point that Mr McDonnell had gotten from Mr. Williams

A That's right.

Q And you were concerned about the event even though you weren't party to any conversations that Mr McDonnell may have had with Mr Williams about Anatabloc.

MR. BURCK: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

BY MS ABER:

Q You weren't party to any of those conversations?

A I was not

Q You had concerns about the event even though you weren't party in any conversations that Mr. McDonnell may have had with Mr Williams about studies at Virginia state universities; is that right?

A Say that again.

Q You still had concerns about the event, even though you were not party to any conversations that Mr McDonnell had with Mr Williams about state universities doing research on Anatabloc.

A Right I was not party to those conversations

Q You weren't party to any conversations that Mr. McDonnell had with Mr Williams about Tobacco Commission funding?

A I was not

Q Now, I think we talked a little bit about, you talked a little bit about Statements of Economic Interests and how your office, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, collected them; is that right?

A Yes.

Q But you are not a lawyer?

A I'm not a lawyer

Q And you referred folks, filers who had questions, to lawyers, right?

A Generally speaking, yes

Q And those would be folks like Matt Conrad and Jasen

Eige, right?

A Yes

Q Now, in 2006, while Mr McDonnell was the Attorney General, is it fair to say he sort of lost some of his Statement of Economic Interests paperwork?

A Harken back to the recount when I was doing two jobs. A box went missing, so we didn't have all his complete records that year. There was a press story about it It was embarrassing, the whole bit

Q It is fair to say as a result of that incident you had no more role in his SOEI?

A Happy to relinquish it

Q It is fair to say from that point on you had no role in Mr McDonnell's filing of his SOEI, right?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q Now, I think you testified on direct that Mr McDonnell is the same person all the time in reference to his relationships or his appearance before staff and the public Is that true?

A He is not a duplicitous person.

Q I'm not saying duplicitous, but are you saying he acts the same out in public as he does to staff members?

A I'm saying he is not a duplicitous person

Q Okay Now, finally, I believe on direct you talked about a flight in South Carolina with you and Mr Williams and Ms McDonnell; is that right?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q On Mr Williams' jet

A Yes, ma'am.

Q And that was in January of 2012, right?

A Yes

Q Now, investigators, we asked you last year if you were aware of any rumors that Ms McDonnell and Mr Williams were having an affair. Do you remember those questions last year?

A I do remember that question.

Q Do you remember your answer was no?

A I said I wasn't aware of any rumors, which is true.

Q If I can stop you there, because this is a yes or no thing

A Sure

Q Did you in fact laugh when investigators asked you that question?

A I don't remember that The only thing I remember is saying in some ways I wish I had because that would explain everything

Q Do you also remember investigators asking you specifically about that flight in South Carolina?

A I'm sure you did, but I don't remember exactly

Q Well, I can remedy that Let me show you a document, but let me offer a sort of vulgar turn of phrase Do you recall -- not too vulgar, Your Honor -- do you recall being asked questions about a term you may have used in reference to Mr McDonnell?

A Wait

Q Mr Williams Not about Mr. McDonnell Do you remember a turn of phrase in reference to Mr Williams about the inner circle with which he may have been held in the Administration?

A Sure

Q We won't use the phrase here in Court

A You mean "Big freaking deal, too."

Q So sort of unwind this a little bit Do you recall investigators asking you about whether you had used such a term, "big freaking deal," to describe Mr Williams' place in the Administration?

A I remember saying that to him, and I remember telling you all that that was a polite way of making him feel important, that he was a friend of the Governor's, et cetera, et cetera Yes

Q So you remember us talking specifically about that flight, right?

A I do, yes

Q And at no point in that discussion did you ever describe the interactions between Mr Williams and

Ms McDonnell as flirty, right?

A You didn't ask

Q You never said anything in any of the course of your interviews to suggest that Ms McDonnell had a crush on Mr --

A I did not

MR. BURCK: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled

BY MS ABER:

Q Just to be clear, because I keep mixing my surnames At any point in our conversations in the course of the investigation, you never said anything to investigators about whether Ms McDonnell had a crush on Mr Williams

A I did not

Q You never described any flirty behavior

A I did not.

Q This is the very first time we are hearing about that today, right?

A It is

MS. ABER: One moment, please, Your Honor Thank you, Your Honor I have no further questions.

THE COURT: Anything else, Mr Asbill?

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Did you know anything about my client's loans with

SunTrust or PenFed or credit unions?

A I did not

Q Did you know anything about his loans with Dr Davis or his father or anything else?

A No, sir

Q Did you know anything about his balances on credit cards or capacity on credit cards or any of those things?

A No, sir

Q Did you discuss personal financial issues with him?

A No.

Q Now, with respect to appointments that you made, et cetera, not knowing these things, did you still make appointments to boards or commissions that related to the banking industry, credit card industry, those sorts of things?

A Yes I don't know that there are any boards that have those types of qualifications offhand, but if there would have, I would have If there were, I would have

Q All right. Did you know about approximately $100,000 worth of flight, F-L-I-G-H-T, donations that Mr Williams had made to various campaigns or otherwise had given planes or plane rides to Mr. McDonnell while he was Governor?

A I don't know that I would have known the amount, but I knew that he had a plane and was someone that politicians frequently used, yes

Q You flew on his plane, correct?

A Yes

Q Did you know that the Governor had flown on the plane?

A Of course, yes

Q And that those were donations of some sort either to the PAC or whatever?

A Yes

Q All right With respect to the postmortem that you have described after the August 30th, 2011 lunch, and the postmortem discussion afterwards that you all talked about, were the concerns coming from you all about the Governor or were the concerns coming from the First Lady's Office, or both?

A They were mostly from the First Lady's Office It originated with her office, and so I think that one of the staff members had been over to the lunch and just said, "That wasn't exactly what we were told and exactly what we thought it was going to be," so that was the concern.

Q Okay You were asked a series of questions by Ms Aber about were you party to various conversations that supposedly occurred between Jonnie Williams and my client regarding the Tobacco Commission or anything else that he may have been interested in. First of all, you are not aware of any such conversations, period.

A No.

Q So you don't know whether in fact any of those conversations ever occurred

A I do not know.

Q And so obviously you would not know, if they occurred, when they occurred. Correct?

A Absolutely correct Yes, sir

Q So you couldn't place them in time because you don't know anything about them in terms of pre-August 30th lunch or after August 30th-lunch, or ever

A Correct

MR. ASBILL: Thank you I have no further questions

THE COURT: All right. Thank you, ma'am. You may stand down.

(Witness stood aside.)

Call your next witness, please

MR. BROWNLEE: Your Honor, we call Mr Neal Noyes to the stand.

NEAL NOYES,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Good afternoon.

A Good afternoon.

Q Would you please state your name and spell your first and last name for the court reporter?

A Neal Emerson Noyes, N-E-A-L, N-O-Y-E-S

Q Sir, are you currently employed?

A I am not

Q Are you retired?

A I am.

Q Before you retired, what was the last job that you had? What was the last job you had?

A I was Executive Director of the Virginia Tobacco Indemnification and Community Revitalization Commission

Q Is that commonly known as the Tobacco Commission?

A The Tobacco Commission.

Q And what did you do before you were the Executive Director of the Tobacco Commission?

A For about 30 years I worked for the United States Department of Commerce, Economic Development Administration. Most of that as the Economic Development Representative here in the Commonwealth of Virginia

Q Okay When were you first appointed to be the Executive Director of the Tobacco Commission?

A June 1st, 2006

Q Who appointed you to that position?

A Former Governor Kaine

Q And then when Bob McDonnell was elected Governor, were you reappointed to that position?

A I was

Q Okay Can you tell us when you retired?

A I stepped down as Executive Director on August 9th, 2013

Q Okay Can you tell the Court and the jury, what is the mission of the Tobacco Commission?

A There are twin mandates One was the indemnification of former growers, that is, transfer payments to people damaged when the quota system was ended by federal legislation. The other is the economic revitalization of southern and southwestern Virginia, the tobacco-dependent areas

Q And in that, the second mission with regard to -- is there a grant process that the Commission oversees to distribute the monies that the Commission took in?

A There are multiple programs, and there are very carefully defined processes with due dates for applications and subcommittees that consider some types of applications, an Education Committee for education applications, Southern and Southwestern Economic Development Committees for the local economic development

There is a Special Projects Committee that does access to healthcare, medical research, that sort of thing And there's several There's different programs But there is a definite application process

Q Where does the money come from or where did the money come from that serves to found the basis for the grants?

A The Master Settlement Agreement between the 48 attorney generals, I believe it was 48 attorney generals back in 1999, I think it was

Q So this money --

A Virginia receives a share of that annually

Q So the tobacco companies settled with the governments and this is where the money comes from.

A That's right, yes

Q You mentioned the Commission itself Are there pretty extensive rules on how the Tobacco Commission functions?

A Yes, there are

Q Okay And in order to apply for one of these grants that you talked about, can anyone apply or is it limited?

A No There are certain eligible applicants, non-profits, not-for-profits, sub state units of government and their designated entities, such as, you know, Industrial Development Authority, 501(c)(3)'s generally under the IRS Code, like co-ops are eligible, that sort of thing

Q Are public universities eligible?

A Absolutely

Q Okay Approximately how many grants on average does the Commission award every year?

A Well, it has varied year to year, perhaps as many as 120, 125, and more recently it has been down to 80, 85.

Q Okay In order to receive a grant, do one of these public entities have to go through a formal application process?

A That's correct They do

Q If you can, give us a sense of what that application process is If I'm a public university and I want to try to apply for a grant, what do I have to do?

A Well, you can make application online. You can do that, the process is do-able electronically, or you can do it handwritten or typed out There are due dates established, and applications received that are complete by the due dates are reviewed by staff There is a staff summary and a staff recommendation that goes to the appropriate Commission subcommittee That subcommittee then debates funding on those applications and makes a recommendation to the full Board. Both at the subcommittee level and at the full Board level, a majority vote is required in order to move an application forward.

Q Okay Let's talk a little bit, when the staff and the committee is looking at a particular application, what factors are they looking at to see if these are applications that may -- people may want to pass on?

A It is a little different for the different programs. But, you know, the availability of the non-Commission matching share is one We certainly look at the eligibility of any applicant, make sure that they have their IRS certification We look at the scope of the project, see if it makes sense relative to the requested amount

Q Okay. You talked about once the committee has done its work and the application is submitted, then it has to get a vote by the full Tobacco Commission Board; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q How many people are on the Board?

A 31

Q Okay And is there a Chair?

A Yes

Q During your time --

A The Chair is voted on by the full Board, the Chair and Vice Chair both

Q During your time as Executive Director, who was the Chair of the Board?

A Well, former Senator Charles Hawkins was the Chair for the first few years that I worked for the Commission, and the Honorable Terry Kilgore, who is a delegate, is currently the Chair and and was later

Q How long has Mr Kilgore been the Chair?

A I think he is in his third two-year term. So four-and-a-half, five years

Q Okay So you have to have a majority of 16 to be able to pass; is that correct?

A To move anything, yup.

Q Now, you mentioned matching funds Are matching funds a requirement of any application?

A In all the programs Right

Q So explain to the jury --

A All the programs, with the exception of financial aid that goes to the community colleges and the four-year programs We don't have a match from either the applicant or the students for that

Q But for everything else, you have to have a match; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q Explain to the jury what that means

A It means funds or something else of value that matches up for the project purposes that's available and committed to the project So it can be cash, it could be in-kind services. Sometimes when we work, for example, with universities, it will be faculty time dedicated to a particular project That sort of thing

Q Okay Now, if an applicant doesn't know the precise amount that they need for their project, can they apply for a smaller amount, and then if they are successful, reapply later on?

A We have, yes, that happens There are a number of projects that we have done that have had more than a single grant award

Q Okay So these things can be awarded in stages; is that correct?

A Right As long as they have accomplished what they said they were going to accomplish in the first grant, if they think they are going to apply a second time, yes

Q Let me talk a little bit about your role as Executive Director Can you describe briefly for the jury what is your role as Executive Director of this Commission?

A It was day-to-day management of the Commission staff and the different programs that the Commission operated I had a lot of liaison work with members of the Board, Commissioners, the 31 individuals Most especially the Chair, Vice Chair, and the subcommittee chairs But I interacted with pretty much everybody over the time. Three of the members of the Commission are members of the Governor's Cabinet, so I from time to time would interact with the Administration through those secretaries

Q Okay Is that the Secretary of Commerce and Trade?

A Yes

Q And the Secretary of Agriculture?

A And Finance

Q And the Secretary of Finance

A Yes

Q Okay. Now, with regard to the grant money, do you play a role in either signing off or authorizing payments?

A Yes The Executive Director is the only staff member authorized to sign for a disbursement of Commission funds

Q So no money gets spent unless you sign it.

A That's correct, unless I'm gone for some period of time, and then there is a formal process where I would designate a different person. I may have done that once in seven years

Q Okay Now, during your time at the Tobacco Commission, did you regularly attend the Board meetings?

A I believe I attended every Board meeting and every subcommittee meeting

Q Okay Now, let me turn your attention to the company Were you familiar with a company called Star Scientific?

A I was not really familiar until I read in the newspaper about it

Q Okay. So back in 2011, 2012, did you know anything about --

A No, I really didn't

Q Okay. Are you familiar or were you familiar at that relevant time with a compound called anatabine?

A No

Q During your time on the Tobacco Commission, were any grants awarded to Star Scientific or any of their related entities?

A No

Q Were any grants awarded that related to studies of anatabine or a product called Anatabloc?

A No There were no applications and no grant awards

Q Okay That was my next question.

A No grant awards, no disbursements

Q There was never even an application

A No, sir

Q Okay Now, are you aware of any other eligible entity ever applying for a grant related to funding studies of anatabine or Anatabloc during your time?

A No, sir

Q Okay If you can recall, did the topic of Star Scientific or anatabine ever come up during a committee meeting that you attended?

A Not during a committee meeting, no.

Q Okay Now, let me switch gears just a bit Can the Governor of Virginia order the Tobacco Commission to award grant money to any particular entity?

A No It requires 16 votes in the full board meeting in public session for any new grant to be awarded.

Q Okay If the Governor or one of his staff members wants to present an option or some recommendation to the Commission, is there a formal process for the Governor or the staff to do that?

A The Governor is always welcome to attend any of the Tobacco Commission's meetings or to talk with any of the staff or members. The three Secretaries would presumably act as surrogates in introducing something or perhaps arguing for favorable consideration.

Q Okay And during Governor McDonnell's time as Governor, did he ever come to the Commission and put a proposal out or support funding to go to something?

A I recall one instance where the Governor appeared to encourage the Commission to consider an application It was for an entirely different project, and it was done, the Governor's request was done in Executive Session, per Commonwealth Code, because we were dealing with proprietary financial information

Q Okay But that was -- was there a transcript of that taken?

A Not in Executive Session, no

Q Okay But his appearance there was public; is that correct?

A Oh, indeed Indeed. Yes It was a called meeting and meetings have to be called three days -- published announcement three days ahead of the meeting

Q Okay But if the Governor --

A We wouldn't have had to publish that the Governor was going to be present, just that there would be a meeting

Q Okay Let me show you, if we could pull up just for the witness RM-0241 If you will go to the next page Actually, if you go to page 22. If you would just blow up his opening remarks there. Now, have you seen these before, Mr. Noyes, just Governor McDonnell's opening remarks there?

A I was present

Q Okay And does this memorialize what he said to the Commission with regard to this Kleiner Perkins?

A This appears to be This is what I remember.

MR. BROWNLEE: We move in RM-0241 into evidence

MR. DRY: No objection.

THE COURT: Okay.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Now, with regard to the -- but even if the Governor were to come and talk about whatever, there would still have to be a vote; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay Best of your recollection, did Governor McDonnell ever come and talk to you all about Star Scientific or Anatabloc?

A No, sir

Q Okay

Q Now, at some point within this investigation, you were interviewed; is that correct?

A That's correct Yes

Q And after you were interviewed by the investigators, they asked you to see if you could find any records or e-mails or anything; is that right?

A That's correct, yes

Q And you and your staff conducted that review; is that right?

A That's correct

Q And I understand you found a couple of e-mails; is that right?

A Not at the time Some weeks later, one of my staff came to me and said, "Look what I found."

Q Let me show you that Let's pull up RM-0987 Actually, if we could put that down and first I want to pull up RM-0613 And is this kind of the cover e-mail forwarding this information to FBI Agent Kennedy?

A After an e-mail was found by Mr Pfohl, I asked him to notify the FBI folks

MR. BROWNLEE: RM-0613, we would move that into evidence

MR. DRY: Objection on that e-mail Judge, we don't mind the e-mails at the time, but the e-mail from Mr Pfohl and Mr Kennedy cc-ing the witness has no relevance to any of the witness's testimony

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q So this is an e-mail from Mr Pfohl, who works with you?

A Yes He was Director of Grants Programs

Q And this is in October of 2013 And this is basically you all following up with Agent Kennedy about the e-mails that you found.

A Yes It was

Q Okay. And if you look at the fourth line down where it says "The gist "

A Yes

Q Okay If you could read that out loud, please

A "The gist of the e-mail exchange was that UVA was having an exploratory (their word) teleconference call with Star representatives about potentially applying for our R&D funds, but the e-mail exchange ended between us and UVA in November 2011 prior to UVA's conference call with Star "

Q And then the last clause

A The last piece, " and we have no further record of any dialogue between us and UVA, or between UVA and Star "

Q Okay Thank you. You can take that down If you will pull up RM-0987 Is this one of the e-mails that was found from July of 2011?

A Yes I've seen this before

Q Okay

A But did not remember it until after I saw it back in, when was it, July

Q All right

MR. BROWNLEE: We move in RM-0987

MR. DRY: He is not on this e-mail, Your Honor Objection, hearsay He is not on this e-mail

THE COURT: Overruled.

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q You can take that down. And then, oh, if you could just publish that I apologize This is one of the e-mails that you forwarded to the Agent; is that correct?

A I'm not sure of that. I don't know if that one was forwarded.

Q Fair enough We will take that down And then let me pull up RM-1933 And was this one of the e-mails that they found and identified and that was ultimately turned over?

A I believe it was Yes

Q All right If you go down to the last part of this, this reference is Tim Pfohl?

A Yes

Q He worked in your office?

A Yes He was Grants Program Director

Q And then Mr Parrish was at UVA?

A That's correct

Q You were not on this e-mail; is that correct?

A I'm not on that e-mail

Q Fair enough Now, if you go up, and there is -- where it says "Neal Noyes" right in the middle, it says, "Received business plan, no plan now to change funding cycle or avoid normal vetting process "

Did you have any memory of receiving this business plan or looking at it?

A You know, I didn't at the time I was interviewed. I think it was in March of 2013. I have a vague memory that there was a document on my desk. I don't know how it got there, and I don't recall ever reviewing it

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: We can take this down, Your

Honor All we would do, Your Honor, there's some other attachments We would just move the first page of RM-1933 into evidence

MR. DRY: No objection.

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q I just have a couple things I want to make sure we are clear Did Bob McDonnell ever contact you about Star Scientific or about anatabine for the Tobacco Commission?

A No, sir

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you

THE COURT: Mr Burck, do you have anything?

MR. BURCK: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. DRY:

Q Good afternoon

A Good afternoon

Q Just a few questions Now, Star Scientific, as a for-profit entity, for-profit entities, I think I understand, they could not make grant applications directly to the Tobacco Commission, correct?

A That's correct, yes, sir.

Q Okay But the Tobacco Commission could grant, could make grants to in-state research universities like VCU and UVA, right?

A Yes

Q And in fact, in the past, the Tobacco Commission had provided such research grants to UVA and VCU; isn't that right?

A Yes, sir

Q And that grant could have been for a new compound that was derived from the tobacco leaf; that's conceivable, right?

A Indeed.

Q Okay That would be in furtherance of the mission of, you know, of providing money to tobacco-dependent areas that had been economically depressed; that would be in furtherance of the type of mission the Tobacco Commission might look for, right?

A It would depend on the specifics of an application, but yes, conceivably

Q Okay Now, let's look at, can we pull up Government Exhibit 647, please And just to be clear, this version of this e-mail is not in evidence. I believe that a different version that you were not on was entered. But this is an e-mail from Robert Lockridge to you, correct?

A That's what it appears to be, yes.

Q That's on July 12th, 2011?

A That's what it says, yes, sir

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 647 into evidence.

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q Now, first of all, do you know who Rob Lockridge is?

A I don't recall ever talking with him, and I don't recall the meeting, the introduction that he refers to

Q Okay

A Doesn't mean it didn't happen. I just don't recall

Q Fair to say, this is more than three years ago, right?

A Yes

Q So I believe you were asked about Star Scientific But as you sit there today, do you realize that the reference to Star Science is most likely a reference to Star Scientific?

A I don't know Star Science It could very well be

Q Okay Now, was it unusual for UVA and VCU, they got grant applications before, right?

A Yes

Q Was it unusual for them to reach out to the Tobacco Commission before they made a grant application to just kind of give you guys a heads up, "Hey, this is what we are thinking"?

A Oh, no, not particularly

Q That would be part of the process, right?

A Not the Commission's process, but it would be not unusual at all to have discussions ahead of an application

Q Kind of take the Commission's temperature, informal process, "This might be coming down the pike," right?

A Yes

Q Okay Did you know who, who is Ned Stephenson?

A Ned Stephenson is Deputy Director of the Virginia Tobacco Commission

Q Do you know who Christopher Nolen was?

A I'm sorry, I don't I don't know

Q Let's look at Government Exhibit 646, please Just blow up the top, please. This is an e-mail -- Ned Stephenson --

MR. BROWNLEE: He is asking about an e-mail that he is not on. I don't know why he is commenting on an e-mail that he never got or wrote

THE COURT: Go ahead.

BY MR. DRY:

Q Ned Stephenson worked for you, correct?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government would move Government Exhibit 646 into evidence

MR. BROWNLEE: We object This witness is not on this e-mail, either sending or receiving

THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

MR. DRY: Ned Stephenson works for him, Your Honor The only thing we are trying to show is that the --

MR. BROWNLEE: May we approach?

THE COURT: The objection is sustained and we don't need to approach. Ask something else

BY MR. DRY:

Q Okay Were you aware that there were inquiries into Ned Stephenson in July of 2011 regarding getting Tobacco Commission funding from Star Scientific?

A I don't believe so, no No, it would not have been unusual for Ned to have had discussions with potential applicants Sometimes they would talk with Ned, sometimes they would talk with me or Tim or the field staff That wouldn't have been unusual But I'm not familiar with this at all

Q I believe you talked about the due dates for various grant applications. Can you kind of walk us through on the R&D portion of the Tobacco Commission, what were some of the due dates that applicants would have to meet?

A Well, typically, there were three cycles a year And depending on when the next R&D committee meeting was set, we would back that off approximately two weeks so that members of the subcommittee could receive the staff assessment and recommendation, and then another month or so for the staff to actually conduct it, so a due date would be approximately six, seven weeks ahead of the next scheduled meeting of that committee.

Q And were these due dates, were they typically the same year after year?

A No, they could vary They could vary In some circles, we passed by and didn't have a due date

Q Okay Sorry, can we switch over to the defense system and can you bring up Defense Exhibit RM-1933, which is in evidence, I believe. And can we go to the top e-mail That's from Phil Parrish to you?

A Yes, it is.

Q And who is Phil Parrish?

A He is a researcher at the University of Virginia

Q Okay I'm sorry, who is Tim Pfohl?

A He is Grant Program Director at the Tobacco Commission.

Q What's the date of this e-mail, sir?

A November 29th, 2011.

Q And then can we go to the bottom e-mail? Now, in this, it is from Mr Parrish to Tim Pfohl And they are talking about the potential for anatabine and they are talking about Jerry Kilgore So is that consistent with what would typically happen, where there would be an informal process before the actual grant application would be sent in to you guys, that UVA would be giving you a heads up of something that they were considering as kind of an informal heads up; is that accurate?

A It happened. It wasn't typical particularly.

Q It wasn't atypical, though, either, was it?

A No As I said, it happened.

Q Can we go up, please, in the e-mail And then Mr Pfohl forwards that to keep you informed and tells you that he hasn't heard anything from Star directly; is that right?

A That's true.

Q And you hadn't heard anything from Star directly, either?

A No

Q But you don't know if Star had been talking, or if Star or their attorneys had been talking to UVA other than this call, right?

A That's the only indication I think I ever had about that

Q Okay Here it says, "Good news is we have some time before the next round of R&D apps are due in March, though the company may want to move more quickly as always " Would that be March of 2012, sir?

A Yes, probably Because there is a full Board meeting in May, at the end of May Those are set up as part of the entire system of the Commission. We know exactly, it is the final Thursday of certain months

THE COURT: We are going to take a break. Fifteen minutes

(Recess taken from 3:04 p.m. to 3:20 p.m.)

THE COURT: All right, let's bring in the jury

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, Mr Dry?

BY MR. DRY:

Q Bring back up 1933, please I think that's where I left off. And I think we were in the middle of the document I think where we left off, you were saying that there was a normally-scheduled full committee meeting that annually happened in May?

A That's correct

Q So when it says, "The next round of R&D's are due in March," that would be the typical --

A That would be the six, seven-week process.

Q That would be, May of 2012 would be when the full committee would be meeting?

A Yes

Q Okay If we could go up to the top e-mail, please And this is from Phil Parrish to you, correct, and Tim

Pfohl?

A That's correct.

Q And that last sentence there, it says, "There has been no decision yet regarding UVA teaming with them."

It would have been a pre-condition for this for UVA to have signed off on actually making the grant application directly to you, correct, to the Commission?

A If UVA was going to be an applicant, they would have had to have signed off, yes

Q Star Scientific wouldn't be an applicant

A No

Q I believe -- I just have a couple more questions I believe you were questioned about whether the Governor has actual authority over the Commission decisions, correct? Do you remember those questions from Mr Brownlee?

A Yes, I do

Q And bottom line is, he doesn't get a formal vote, right?

A Three Secretaries have votes

Q But not him personally

A But not the Governor personally, no.

Q But is it fair to say that if the Governor is expressing support for a grant application, you are going to hear him out, right?

A Absolutely

MR. DRY: Nothing further Thank you, sir

THE COURT: Mr Brownlee, anything?

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Just to follow up Mr Dry In order to be eligible for a grant from the Tobacco Commission, an application must be filed; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q Okay And in this case, as far as you are concerned, no one on behalf of Star or for the study of Anatabloc or anatabine ever applied to the Tobacco Commission; is that right?

A That's correct, sir

Q And just to be clear, with regard to Mr Dry's last question, neither Bob McDonnell nor anyone on his staff ever approached you and lobbied on behalf of Star or anatabine for any application to the Tobacco Commission; is that correct?

A That is correct, sir

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you, Judge

THE COURT: Thank you, sir You may stand down

(Witness stood aside.)

Call your next witness, please

MR. BROWNLEE: Your Honor, may he be released?

THE COURT: Absolutely.

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you. Call Laura Fornash, please.

LAURA FORNASH,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Good afternoon Could you please state your name and spell your first and last name for the court reporter?

A Sure Laura Fornash, L-A-U-R-A, F-O-R-N-A-S-H

Q And Ms Fornash, did you just last year work in the Administration of Governor McDonnell?

A Yes, sir, I did.

Q Okay Could you please tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, give us your educational background, where you went to school, and some of the initial jobs you had leading up to your time with the McDonnell Administration?

A Yes, sir I worked for Virginia Tech for 20 years I received my undergrad and graduate degrees from Virginia Tech, and I held a variety of administrative positions there during my 20-year span of time

Q Where do you work now?

A The University of Virginia.

Q What is your job there?

A Currently, I'm the Executive Assistant to the President of the University

Q Okay And did there come a time several years ago where you joined the Administration of Governor McDonnell?

A Yes, I joined the Administration of Governor McDonnell in 2010

Q What position did you hold when you first joined?

A I started working for him as the Deputy Secretary of Education

Q Okay How long did you do that?

A I was in that position from 2010 until about July of 2011

Q Okay Who was the Secretary of Education when you were the deputy?

A Gerard Robinson.

Q And did there come a time in 2011 when Mr Robinson left the Administration?

A Correct. He left the Administration about July of 2011 to pursue another position out of state

Q Okay And at that time, did you consider applying to be the Secretary of Education?

A Initially, no

Q Okay. Did there come a time when you changed your mind?

A A couple weeks after that

Q And so you did apply, and did you have a conversation with Governor McDonnell about the appointment?

A After I was appointed, I really, the majority of my communication about the position was with Martin Kent, the Chief of Staff

Q Okay And at what point -- when were you appointed Secretary of Education?

A I was appointed August 23rd of 2011 to be Secretary of Education.

Q Now, had you been active in the campaign --

A No, sir

Q -- of Governor McDonnell? Had you been a donor to the campaign?

A No, sir

Q So you came in as the Deputy and then were elevated from that position?

A Correct

Q Can you give the ladies and gentlemen of the jury a sense of your duties as Secretary of Education for the State of Virginia?

A Sure. As Secretary of Education, I was responsible for providing general oversight to our higher education institutions, as well as policy guidance for K-12 institutions, and then also was responsible for a number of our state agencies, the State Library of Virginia, and a number of our museums, the Fine Arts Museum, Gunston Hall, Jamestown-Yorktown.

Q Also, did you serve as the liaison for the Administration to universities such as UVA and VCU?

A Yes, sir.

Q Tell us a little bit about some of the duties you did with regard to being that liaison.

A Sure For Governor Bob McDonnell, we were very focused on a higher education agenda, so we worked very closely with the higher education institutions We created a Higher Education Commission to really look at increasing educational attainment of the citizens of the Commonwealth, and so we brought in the presidents of the institutions as well as business leaders to talk about how do we raise the educational attainment of the citizens of the Commonwealth. It was really important that we were working closely with our higher education institutions, to understand enrollment growth, what would be feasible. The Governor was also very much focused on tuition, and really wanted us to communicate a strong message of managing tuition increases, making sure that we kept them very low, because we knew that if tuition continued to rise, that that would prevent access to our higher education institutions So there was a lot of conversation and dialogue in working with our higher education institutions

Q Okay Understanding that you were the liaison, can you give us a sense of how much control either you or the Governor through you actually had over the public universities in Virginia?

A I guess I'm not sure I would describe it as control per se Probably a strong hand in policy guidance and encouraging the institutions to respond to the priorities that were important to our Administration.

Q Okay But the universities had a Board; is that correct?

A That's correct And so the Governor made appointments to the Board, and those were the individuals that typically would help carry out those policy items that were important to us

Q And in your interaction with the boards and the leadership of the state universities, were they fairly autonomous?

A Most definitely They wanted to be even more so

Q Okay. Fair enough. Let me move to a little bit of your duties as Secretary How often was it or did it happen when you would take meetings with potential constituents or constituents on behalf of, at the request of the Governor or members of his staff?

A Fairly regularly

Q And would you give us a sense of how regularly that would be?

A My calendar was full of meetings throughout the day Typically those could be meetings with constituents, whether it was individuals from our higher education institutions, our K-12 stakeholder groups, or individuals that were interested in partnering with the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Q On that last one, when you talk about partnering, does that include private companies?

A It could, yes, sir

Q And I think that with regard to campus security, were there private companies that were interested in helping and then having contracts with the state with regard to those things?

A Sure. That would probably be a good example Given the incidents that occurred at Virginia Tech, there seems to be always new companies that were creating technologies or devices that would help college campuses be more secure. Microsoft would be another example of a company that the Commonwealth of Virginia partnered with during our Administration

Q Okay And these meetings, some of them came from the Governor's Chief of Staff?

A Correct

Q And some of them came from the Governor himself; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

Q And when the Governor would send you some of these requests, did they routinely come late at night or early in the morning?

A All of the above

Q Okay And it was by text or e-mail or phone calls?

A Correct

Q Okay Now, when you were asked to take these meetings with stakeholders or companies or whomever, can you describe for the jury a little bit about what your understanding, your obligations were, your expectations were from Governor McDonnell?

A You know, when I was asked to take a meeting, I typically felt like I was an ambassador of the Governor, and asked to do that at his request, that he believed in good public service, and so it was our responsibility to make sure that we met with individuals who had an interest in partnering with the Commonwealth And so really my focus was on follow-up and to see if there could be some opportunities where the Commonwealth could partner with whatever particular entity or idea this person may have

Q Fair to say, your job was to listen and hear folks out and then would you be kind of empowered with your own independent judgment to make a decision one way or the other?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay. Was it common for you to take no action after these meetings?

A Occasionally

Q Okay Now, in your interactions with Governor McDonnell, when he wanted you to do something, was he fairly clear on telling you he wanted -- would you understand when he wanted you to do something?

A Yes, very clear

Q Okay And sometimes, is it fair to say he would ask you to do things that may not be all that popular, specifically with the VEA there was an issue; is that right?

A Correct The Governor felt --

MR. FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor, relevance.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Let me move to another topic In your working with Mr. McDonnell, and remind us once again, when were you appointed as Secretary of Education?

A August of 2011

Q Before that you were the Deputy?

A Correct

Q Did Mr McDonnell ever ask you to do anything with regard to the public universities on behalf of Star Scientific or Jonnie Williams?

A No, sir

Q Okay Did he ask you to do anything with regard to the research of anatabine or Anatabloc?

A No, sir

Q While you were Secretary or Deputy Secretary, did he ever mention anatabine or Anatabloc?

A No, sir

Q Now, while you were Secretary and Deputy Secretary, were you aware that Star executives were telling UVA and VCU administrators that Governor McDonnell supported certain things with regard to Anatabloc?

A No, sir Never heard of Star

Q Did anyone from those universities, either VCU or UVA, ever come to you and say, "Hey, we are getting pressured" or anything like that with regard to these issues?

A No, they did not

Q Okay Now, in your time working with Governor McDonnell, did he ever ask you to do anything you viewed as unethical?

A No, sir

Q Okay

MR. BROWNLEE: Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Mr. Burck?

MR. BURCK: Just very briefly, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Good afternoon, Ms Fornash. My name is Bill Burck and I represent Maureen McDonnell Did Maureen McDonnell ever advocate to you on behalf of Star Scientific or Jonnie Williams?

A No, sir

Q Did she ever ask you to ask universities to perform any research?

A No, sir

Q For anatabine or anything like that?

A No, sir

Q Did you have any contact with Ms McDonnell at all about Star Scientific or Jonnie Williams or anything along those lines?

A No, sir

MR. BURCK: That's all

THE COURT: Any questions from the government?

MR. FAULCONER: No, Your Honor

THE COURT: You may stand down Call your next witness

(Witness stood aside)

MR. BROWNLEE: Richard Brown

RICHARD BROWN,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Good afternoon, sir

A Hi

Q Could you please state your name and spell your first and last name for the court reporter?

A Richard Darrell Brown. R-I-C-H-A-R-D, B-R-O-W-N

Q Do you go by Rick?

A Ric, R-I-C.

Q What is your present position in state government?

A I'm Secretary of Finance for Governor McAuliffe

Q How long have you been the Secretary of Finance?

A Since August of 2008

Q Okay Can you give the jury a little bit about your educational background?

A I've got a B.A. degree in Economics from the College of William & Mary, Master of Commerce from the University of Richmond, and my 44 years in state government, a number of different positions

Q Give us a sense of some of the positions you have held leading up to being appointed Secretary of Finance

A Just about every position in the Department of Planning and Budget from Manager of Commerce and Trade Agencies to Education Policy Analyst to overall Associate Director for all the budgetary policy, putting together the budget and the legal documents, Deputy Director I was in the front office of the Department of Planning and Budget for 20 years

Q And what year were you appointed Secretary of Finance?

A Secretary of Finance, August, 2008

Q Who was Governor at that time?

A Governor Kaine And I was reappointed by Governor McDonnell and then reappointed by Governor McAuliffe

Q Can you give the jury a brief description of some of your duties as Secretary of Finance for Virginia?

A Okay I have four big agencies underneath me, the Department of Taxation, the Department of Planning and Budget, the Department of Treasury, and the Department of Accounts I'm the chief liaison or financial officer for tax policy in the Commonwealth, for cash management and debt policy for the budget We put together the Governor's introduced budget as well as all the explanatory documents, and the chief accountant for the state is under me, the State Controller

Q You mentioned the budget. Let me talk a little bit about the budgetary process in Virginia When does the General Assembly pass the major -- its budget?

A The General Assembly comes in on the second Wednesday in January In a long session they are in for about 60 days, so they will be through mid-March. And that's when they would usually enact it if they don't extend.

Q And is it a biennial budget?

A It is a biennial budget. It starts on July 1st of the even-numbered year and goes to June 30th of the next even-numbered year, so July 1st of 2014 we started a brand new biennial budget, which will go to June 30th of 2016

Q So now, your role as Secretary of Finance is to essentially prepare that, the Governor's budget, the Administration's budget to submit to the General Assembly

A Yes When the Governor introduces House Document Number 1, a tentative bill for the appropriations for the biennium, and then the General Assembly, usually, the two chairs of the money committees introduce that bill and then it becomes a legislative bill

Q So I understand the dates, so in December, late December of, let's say, 2011, you will then, the Administration will submit its budget to the General Assembly

A That's correct We have to submit by December 20th of each year, either the long budget or amendments to the existing budget

Q And then they've got a couple weeks to review it and then they submit it for review by the General Assembly right when they come back in, say, January of 2012.

A Yes The General Assembly will accept it, technically it gets introduced on the first day of the session, but right after the Christmas holidays They usually have public hearings on the budget before they go into session.

Q Okay And then the General Assembly must evaluate it, amend it, do whatever they do to it, and they have to pass it before they leave and it becomes effective in July of that even year?

A A budget bill, unlike other legislation, is effective upon passage by the General Assembly and signatured by the Governor In the long session, where it is effective July 1st of 2014, we actually put an effective date in it so it doesn't take place immediately In the short session it takes place immediately upon passage

Q Let me have you focus a little bit on the process of getting it to the General Assembly Is it fair to say that at some point there is a document for review, and then you and other stakeholders come to a conference room and go over the budget of Virginia in preparing your yearly budget?

A Yes Basically, the process is almost overlapped now from year to year It starts with the agency strategic planning and plans and builds up to their individual budget requests We will get budget requests from legislative study commissions that are reporting out along the way from gubernatorial task forces, interested parties that write in, and then it will be individual probably initiatives that are sort of sponsored by Cabinet Secretaries or policy staff of the Governor

Q How big, for the record, how big is the biennial budget in Virginia?

A The one that was just passed is $99 billion. $2 billion of that is capital outlays, so about $97 billion in operating Last Friday, we announced a little revenue problem Friday of about $2 billion, so it is more like $95 billion at the present time

Q How big was the budget when Governor McDonnell was Governor?

A About 84 or 85

Q Now, in the preparation of the budget to be submitted to the General Assembly, what role does the Governor play in that?

A All the agency requests come into the Department of

Planning and Budget The Department of Planning and Budget is structured along functional bases, and those analysts specialize in various areas, and they analyze the request, each one of those requests, as well as the analysis goes before the Governor

Q Fair to to say that the agencies, Department of Education, Department of Health, they all have a request?

A Yup

Q And then you can get requests from --

A Interested parties that may write in, we try to keep a complete inventory, whether they are legislators, whether they are, you know, associations, American Lung Association, whatever, that writes in.

Q Okay And then legislators, they have their own requests?

A They have their own requests

Q And private parties can have their own.

A Sure

Q Now, with regard to, the budget that is actually submitted, how close, generally, is that to the one that's actually adopted?

A The General Assembly usually changes it, maybe 200, 300 million, a few hundreds probably more likely Sometimes it is even less than that It is probably, talking about the budget, there's really two budgets in the Commonwealth. One is what we call the non-General Fund side, which is actually bigger, it is 60 percent of that $99 billion, and that's made up of earmarked money It is earmarked by law for programs as well as federal money Then there is a General Fund side of it Currently that's about $37 billion. And that is the general tax dollars that are at the discretion of the Governor and General Assembly to appropriate and distribute. And almost all of the discussion goes, as you may imagine, about that side, the 40 percent, because that's the discretionary side

///

///

///

Q Okay. So the nondiscretionary, the Medicaid, those things are kind of fixed?

A Yeah, because they are either contractual or federal government dictates or law says they have got to go to Transportation or whatever

Q All right So of this 37 billion that's the actual -- that the people can actually have an impact on, what you're saying is the General Assembly would typically only tinker with about 200 million of that?

A Yeah Yeah, about 10 percent or so

Q Pretty small amount?

A Uh-huh

Q Okay Now, with regard to the preparation of this budget for Virginia, how much influence does the Governor have over how that 37 billion is allocated?

A In the introduced bill, it's -- almost everything that goes in it is at the Governor's discretion There are very lengthy meetings, starting in earnest after Labor Day, probably peak Friday after Thanksgiving into the first week of December And they can go for very long sessions --

Q Okay

A -- over a multitude of items

Q So fair to say if there was a cause or an entity or whatever that the Governor supported, would it be easy for him to get that put in the budget?

A Sure

Q Okay Also within the budget, the Governor has certain funds that the General Assembly will fund up to a certain amount, and then he has discretion, once it's funded; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q Okay And is one of these the Governor's Opportunity Fund?

A Yeah It does have some rules and regulations established by that And it's administered by the Virginia Economic Development Partnership --

Q Okay

A -- using those rules. But the Governor has final sign-off on it.

Q Okay So once the General Assembly funds that fund, then the Governor and his secretaries -- in this case, it would be Secretary of Commerce; is that right?

A It would be Jim Cheng

Q Mr Cheng They would have discretion on how those funds are spent?

A Yeah, within the established regulations of the fund.

Q Okay Now, you have sat in on a lot of meetings with Bob McDonnell to go over Virginia's budget; is that correct?

A Yes, indeed

Q Okay And is it fair to say that when he wanted a project supported, he was clear to you that that's what he wanted?

A I would say that

Q Okay And if he wanted to get something done, even when it wasn't necessarily popularly supported, he made it clear and he got things done; is that right?

A Yeah He would keep with it

Q Okay Do you have any examples of that?

MR HARBACH: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained We don't need any examples

MR BROWNLEE: Okay

BY MR. BROWNLEE:

Q Let me go to the heart of this In all your meetings and all your time preparing budgets for the State of Virginia, working with Bob McDonnell, did he ever ask you or did anybody on his behalf ever ask you to allocate any money for Star Scientific or Jonnie Williams?

A No

Q Okay Did he ever discuss with you allocating any money for Star Scientific or Mr Williams?

A No

Q Did he ever mention to you the research of something called the anatabine?

A No

Q Okay In all your time working with Mr McDonnell, did he ever ask you to do anything unethical?

A No

MR BROWNLEE: Okay Thank you

Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: Mr Burck

MR BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor Just one question, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR BURCK:

Q Good afternoon My name is Bill Burck I represent Maureen McDonnell

A Okay

Q Does the First Lady of Virginia have any control whatsoever over the budget of the Commonwealth of Virginia?

A No Other than her influence on her husband

MR BURCK: Thank you

Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: Anything from the government?

MR HARBACH: No thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

Thank you, sir You may stand down

THE WITNESS: Okay

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: Call your next witness

MR ASBILL: James Cheng

JAMES CHENG,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Good afternoon

A Good afternoon

Q Would you please tell us your full name, and spell it for the court reporter?

A James S Cheng C-H-E-N-G.

Q And, Mr Cheng, could you tell us about your educational background, please

A I have an undergraduate degree, a BS in computer science from Old Dominion, a MBA from UVA Darden, and a Georgetown law degree

Q When you say MBA from Darden, that's the University of Virginia School of Business?

A That's right

Q All right And a law degree from Georgetown?

A That's right

Q All right Tell us about your professional background

A I've been a government contractor I started out -- I'm 54 years old Out of school, I worked for my dad in his government contracting business down in Virginia Beach After a while, I started my own government contracting business in IT, information technology, computers and networking things like that Started my own company in 1995

Q What was the name of that company?

A CHM, Computer Hi-Tech Management

Q And what did you do from there?

A In -- I started that in 1995 I grew it to around 550 people, around 90 million in revenues And I sold it in 2005

Q And what do you do now -- or what did you do after that?

A After that, I traveled a little with my wife But I also got into investment and angel investment, helping start-ups, new companies, mostly high tech, and for a short amount of time, before I joined the state government, I was the President of a company called Totus, an efficient lighting/LED type company, a start-up

Q All right And you said at some point you joined the state government?

A Absolutely I had the great honor of being asked to be Secretary of Commerce right after Governor McDonnell won the election I actually wasn't appointed until, of course, inaugural day

Q That would have been 2010?

A 2010 January 2010

Q All right Tell us about your relationship with Mr McDonnell before you were appointed

A Well, I grew up, of course, out of state But all my adult life, I've lived in Virginia, for 34 years, and the first part of that, I lived in Virginia Beach My parents lived there, and my dad was very active in Virginia politics and local politics And so he would invite me to go to some of the events that happened, and there was a young delegate and several fast up-and-coming state delegates and senators But one that was especially noted was Bob McDonnell

Q So when did you first meet him?

A Sometime in the mid-'90s We went to a lot of events, and Bob McDonnell was there. And my dad was very active and he showed me, you know, a lot of folks or introduced me to a lot of folks in state government

Q Okay In terms of your position as Secretary of Commerce and Trade, when did you leave that position?

A This January, when the new administration took over.

Q All right And are you still doing private investing at the present time?

A That's right I do private equity investment I'm associated with three or four small investment firms I invest in mostly high tech start-ups Things like that I sit on several Boards, helping these small companies

Q Boards of private companies or --

A Private companies Nonprofits too

Q Do you still practice law at all?

A I do I'm of counsel to a small law firm out of -- on the West Coast They are primarily a patent law firm

Q Okay Do you do any teaching?

A In fact, I'll be teaching a class in entrepreneurial finance at UVA, the engineering school, starting end of the month

Q All right With respect to your job as Secretary of Commerce and Trade, tell us what your duties and responsibilities were in that position

A Well, primarily, I had basically 13 agencies, about 1500, maybe up tc maybe 1900 employees, at any one time These agencies would be responsible for things like housing, horse racing, other economic development things, like Virginia tourism That was one of my agencies And small business, like the State Small Business Administration, if you're familiar with that, helping small businesses It was call the Department of Business Assistance at the time The name has changed since then And also the VEDP, the Virginia Economic Development Partnership, the Tobacco Commission, and about 12, 13 agencies altogether, and several Boards associated with them.

Q All of those reported to you, essentially, or not in a direct line, but -- or in a direct line?

A Well, they reported to me And, of course, some things still, of course, had to go to the Governor Things like that, yeah

Q Okay Now, in that capacity as Secretary of Commerce and Trade, did you -- how often would you receive a request from companies that were seeking the Governor's support for some economic project?

A Well, it would happen all the time It would be from all over It would be directly from companies It would be from perhaps delegates or state delegates or state senators or localities It could come from anywhere

Q All right And in general, what sort of things were these companies asking for?

A They are looking for support from the state government For example, we have several programs at VEDP, the Economic Development Partnership, that would give them a package if they moved their company from out of state to this state But also companies that wanted to grow in this state That was a big part of what we wanted to do was help our existing companies grow

Q Okay Did you often have to tell these companies that wanted something no?

A Well, it happened all the time We -- we would be -- the folks that would review and vet, and sometimes I'd call other departments in, or other departments would know about it and come in and we'd talk about it And sometimes they were perfectly great companies, but they just didn't qualify for the programs that we had to provide them assistance, like either funding or maybe space or rent or other things

Q All right And when you told a company that wanted something no, did you believe you were doing that with the support and endorsement of the Governor or was that on your own or what?

A Well, absolutely You know, the Governor was very supportive of everything we did Of course, we were -- our job was to increase jobs It was creating jobs, creating opportunities for people in this state So we did everything we could to try to help companies grow Because they employ our people They pay taxes. And so was that a very, very important part of the job, was the whole point of the administration, in the beginning especially The Governor campaigned on Bob's For Jobs on increasing opportunities, increasing jobs for people in our state

Q Okay Did the Governor ever ask you to attend meetings with constituents or look into requests from them?

A Oh, all the time In fact, the Governor would often go to a lot of meetings without me, unfortunately I didn't go to all of them In fact, probably very few of them. He'd go to out-the-state meetings, meetings across the state And I'd get all these -- when he comes back, I'd have a pile on my desk of maybe business cards with his, frankly, illegible writing on it, and I'd have to decode in his red pen what he wanted. Usually it was "Call this person He thinks he wants to move to Virginia", or "Please talk this guy into moving to Virginia " And so I'd get these things Or maybe someone would send him a memo and he'd write on it, "Please check on this " It would happen all the time. A big part of my job was talking to constituents and finding out if there was anything we could do to help them

Q Did y u ever -- in that capacity, did you ever talk to people or consider requests from folks who you knew to be donors or friends of Bob McDonnell?

A Well, I'm sure I did Like I said, I was involved in Virginia politics So I sort of knew some of the people that were generally donors And, of course, most of these were business owners, and I don't think it's any surprise if I say that most business owners are Republicans like me, the Governor, and the administration generally were But -- so I would not be surprised at all. In fact, I was pretty sure some of them were donors But we didn't treat them differently We were nonpartisan when it came to creating jobs It didn't matter And the Governor said himself on several occasions, "It doesn't matter if they are blue or red jobs All jobs matter to us " And we knew he meant it And I think in my department, the history has always been that the Secretary of Commerce, we try to stay as neutral as possible We want to help everybody that comes to us

Q All right Would the fact that someone had loaned money to the Governor or given him a gift ever influence your decision on anything that that person may want from the Governor?

A No Never. Never

Q All right Did the Governor ever discuss his personal finances with you?

A He never did

Q And vice versa?

A I did not I did not discuss anything like that

Q Okay So he never informed you that he took out a loan of any kind; is that right?

A No, he didn't

Q And you never told him you did either, or did you ever?

A I didn't talk to him about my personal finances either.

Q All right Did he ever talk to you about his personal relationship with his wife?

A No We didn't talk about that

Q Is your family or your -- are you married?

A I'm married, yes

Q And did you ever talk with him about your wife or your personal relationship with her?

MR. DRY: Objection Relevance

THE COURT: Overruled

A Oh, sure, we did I mean, we certainly talked about our lives in general, but just mostly happy things And especially in the first part of the administration, the first two and a half, three years, we were really so busy I barely had a chance to sleep We were all over the state, all over the world trying to -- mostly with the Governor Sometimes w [illegible] not -- without him But we were all over the country, all over the world, trying to sell Virginia, trying to bring businesses here or try to help our current businesses expand

So we really didn't have a whole lot of time to talk anything but business, but we talked generalities And I knew his -- I knew about his family I knew he had weddings coming up and things like that.

But what happened to me was I had a child My wife of 25 years and I had a baby, one and only baby, halfway through the administration So I got some really great pointers on child rearing and things like that He had five of his own and so, obviously, a lot of experience And so yeah, we talked about good things, and very little time to talk about anything else He was very, very busy, kept us very busy He was a great leader, and he pushed us and pushed himself too

Q I'm sorry. I didn't mean to interrupt you You say you traveled with him locally, is that right, or in Virginia?

A We would do -- well, we had a lot of road trips You know, every year, at least a few times, we'd go out and talk to businesses, have road trips Of course, overseas We did a lot of trips out there too

Q All right When you say "overseas," where did you travel with him?

A Well, I was very fortunate As Secretary of Commerce, we were the ones that took him overseas, and we had, I think, 11, 12 overseas trips We went all over Europe, Asia, China, Japan, Korea We even went to Canada and California and places like that, trying to sell Virginia, trying to sell Virginia businesses We'd take Virginia businesses with us sometimes Sometimes we'd go to events hosted by Virginia businesses So we're doing everything we can to increase the visibility of Virginia all over the world

Q All right And on the trips abroad when you were traveling with the Governor, how many hours a day would you actually be in his presence or spend with him?

A I'll tell you, there are times where I spent 24 hours straight with him, you know, from plane ride over, then right to work. We would spend weeks together on end

And I'll tell you, that was very different than traveling locally around the state because you're in the same time zone I felt that when we traveled overseas, you know, he would actually have a little bit of time off because sometimes -- and he was always on the phone, talking to some important business, state business. But overseas, because of the time difference, a lot times there was nobody to call back home because everybody was asleep So that was the only time that he could rest

Q Okay With respect to attending -- you attended a lot of events, I take it, with the Governor?

A I absolutely did A lot of events with the Governor and a lot on my own.

Q Okay And when you attended events with him, do you have any knowledge of how much in advance of the event he would know about the event he was attending or know any kind of detail about the event?

A Well, there were many times I was pretty sure, in fact, he didn't have any time to look at his schedule or he wouldn't even know what event was next I mean, one typical example, especially in the beginning of the administration when we were all trying to advance his agenda of jobs and job creation, I remember going, many times, you know, in a -- in a state car, state vehicle, his vehicle, I'd be sitting with him and he'd be asleep We'd do four or five meetings or events a day. And he'd -- the only time he had to sleep -- I knew he didn't sleep the night before The only time he had to sleep was between those meetings And I knew he hadn't looked at the notes yet because -- he'd wake up as we were pulling up I'd sometimes have to shake him a little bit He'd wake up He'd say, "Jim, what's next?" And we'd open up the book, and he'd look at it

But you know what, he always came through. He just skimmed through the pages, marked it up, throw it away, walk in and make a great speech and do a great event in front of a forum, maybe hundreds of people, or visiting a company or something like that He knew exactly what to say once he got there, even though he just woke up It really surprised me I learned a lot working with him that way.

Q Okay What are some of the ways in which he would exercise his powers or influence on other officials to -- government officials to promote business and economic development in Virginia?

A Well, we had, certainly, a lot of tools The most obvious one is the legislative He'd pass a bill or make a change to current law through the legislatures. And that would be either through law or through the budget on an appropriation or perhaps an Executive Order

Q Okay What is the Economic Contingency Fund?

A Oh, Economic Contingency Fund That was a small pot of money -- not that small -- maybe over a few million over a biennium that he would dip into on his own at any time

Q And do what with it?

A He could grant it to a company

Q On his own?

A On his own

Q And he had a couple million dollars every two years with which to do that?

A I seem to remember that was the amount It wasn't my money so I -- I couldn't track it that well But I did know about it, sure

Q Okay What about executive or administrative actions? Could he take that -- could he take those to assist a company or help a company if he wanted to?

A Administrative actions like Executive Orders or like the GOF Fund He had a little bit of, now the GOF is the Governor's Opportunity Fund It was generally run by -- or not run by, but generally, it was in my budget, but one of my agencies, the VEDP, the Economic Development Partnership, they would be the ones that would generally recommend what would happen to that and make recommendations, the amount But every biennium, the Governor had about a million dollars that he could grant, grant a company, just give them the money

Q No oversight?

A No, no oversight But we would generally would give an opinion or something like that

Q Okay You said, I believe in the beginning of your testimony, that the Tobacco Commission also reported to you, essentially; is that correct?

A Yes, they did The staff reported to me The commissioners, the people that sat on the Board, reported to nobody. So they reported to their constituents if they were senators or delegates, and about half of them were The other half were from the population that were in the formerly tobacco-growing regions of Virginia And there were several ex-officio people that sat -- from the Cabinet that sat on this Commission also, including me I also sat on the Commission But the staff were the ones that reported to me

Q All right So you were actually a member of the Board of that Commission?

A Yes, I was

Q Okay Now, with respect to the idea of proposing legislation if the Governor wanted to help a business out, basically, do you recall any specific examples of him doing that?

A Oh, absolutely We did that all the time The two I can think of right now were based on promises made by past Governors, and we had to fix some inequities in our -- for example, our tax code to help a large insurance company out I mean, it was only to benefit them, but that was -- I don't remember if that included both an appropriation and legislation too

Another one helped a very, very large bank, and that, I know, included both legislation to change some wording in a good law, but also an appropriation to -- to allow a category of chiller, you know, like in a computer room chiller, air conditioner, to be allowed as a tax break

Q All right Do you recall any -- any legislation relating to electric utility regulation?

A Sure All the time for companies like Dominion and some of the electric cooperatives It happened all the time

Q How about bioscience, health research kind of companies, any --

A Well, there were several efforts on there Of course, we wanted to stimulate companies and encourage companies that were in high tech and especially bio life sciences So two things were created

One was a CRCF, Commonwealth Research and Commercialization Fund And that was a pot of money, several million dollars, that was meant to help companies that would take something that was right out of a lab or universities that was coming out of a lab and help commercialize it And eventually some day that they'll hire people and create more jobs

The other one was the -- specifically targeted to bio and health sciences That was the Virginia Bio and Life Sciences Research Corporation, a corporation that was funded with about $5 million in state money And that was to go and help give grants to universities working possibly with companies to help them finalize research and, again, take it to commercialization

Q Okay As far as you know, did Mr McDonnell propose or advocate for any legislation aimed at helping Star Scientific?

A No No, not at all

Q All right In terms of recommending appropriations, one of the topics that you've discussed in -- in terms of economic development, do you have -- do you recall any examples of him doing that sort of thing for an organization or for a company?

A Oh, absolutely We had -- for example, in 2012, it was the 200th anniversary of the War of 1812 Makes sense And Op Sail was going to be a huge event in Virginia, in Norfolk, the harbor, and they needed money for economic development in marketing the event and hoping lots of people come here from all over the world to spend their money And so we would get tax money for it And I think about a million dollars he appropriated for that

Q What about a company named Genworth?

A Oh, Genworth Yeah, that was the example I gave earlier I may have said it to too quickly That was a tax inequity for Genworth That had been going on for a while I believe it was about $7 million that we appropriated over time to help a tax inequity so Genworth would stay in our state, because they found out that there's something about our tax code that made it less competitive than some other state So that amount of money was put in to make it fair for Genworth to stay here

Q Okay On the topic of proposing appropriations in the budget for the benefit of a company, to your knowledge, did my client ever do that for Star Scientific?

A No, he never did

Q All right The Economic Contingency Fund that you talked about, did the Governor have to get approval from the General Assembly to make grants from this fund?

A No, he did not

Q Okay And what's an example of him doing something with that fund that would assist a company either in Virginia or one coming to Virginia?

A Well, there are a couple that -- one was World Cycling Foundation Bringing that huge event, you know -- cycling may not be big here, but it's huge all over the world -- bringing that to Virginia

The other one is the Redskins A lot of money came for the Redskins, to help them stay in Virginia Otherwise, they'd move somewhere else, and we wouldn't want that to happen. And that money was appropriated, and as, you know, people in Richmond know, that was a big success and brought a lot of money here

Q Okay. With respect to that fund, the ECF Fund, to your knowledge, did Mr. McDonnell ever authorize a grant from that fund to Star?

A No, he didn't No.

Q In terms of executive or administrative action, do you recall any examples of the Governor using that vehicle to assist a company?

A I don't -- I'm trying to think of the -- the administrative vehicle, like the GOF or something like that or --

Q Well, any Executive Orders relating to job creation or economic development or anything of that nature Do you recall him doing any of that?

A Well, we had a lot of Executive Orders, and the first one was the creation of a Economic Development and Job Creation Commission

Q Again, any relation to Star with respect to that --

A No

Q -- ability to help out?

A No.

THE COURT: I need to stop and take another break It will be 15 minutes

(Recess taken from 4:14 p m until 4:31 p m)

THE COURT: All right Bring the jury, please

As I told you earlier, we're going to stop at 5:00 no matter what the situation is If we finish with this witness before 5, we will stop then

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right Mr Asbill

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Mr Cheng, I want to talk to you about the VEDP, the Virginia Economic Development Partnership?

A Yes

Q And is this -- the Governor's Opportunity Fund, that's part of it, or I'm not sure I understand?

A The Governor's Opportunity Fund, actually, is set in my budget, underneath the Governor VEDP has a separate Board and also President and a corporate -- it's like a corporate -- regular corporation except it was funded by the government

But the GOF was something that they used as part of their economic development tool kit, and they would make recommendations to me, and I would make recommendations to the Governor The Governor had final say in these things

Q And how much money did the VEDP have in discretionary funds available to promote business and economic development in Virginia?

A Well, it was around 24 million for a biennium, and that was -- and it was increased from previous governors and previous budgets as part of our economic development efforts by the Governor

Q Okay And correct me if I'm mistaken, but would -- that organization, the VEDP, would provide grants to companies that were thinking about coming to Virginia? That's one of the things they could do?

A Yes They would do things like that They would help both companies that were coming to Virginia -- they could work a package, and including the GOF, also workforce development funds, and a whole tool kit of different incentives, some tax incentives and some other things But they would be the ones that were primarily responsible for bringing companies in from out of state, but also for helping existing companies in Virginia grow

Q All right And you say -- the VEDP, is that governed by -- you said it's governed by a Board, is that correct, or is it?

A Actually, the Board, in the Virginia code, all they are supposed to do is appoint the President of VEDP And they are -- they function sort of independently to keep politics out of it and things like that In fact, the Board is mostly appointed by the Governor, but certain slots are reserved for the legislature And so it's a very large Board I'm ex-officio -- or I was ex-officio on it, the Secretary of Commerce, the Lieutenant Governor, the Secretary of Technology and others, Secretary of Agriculture probably also They were also on the Board, ex-officio

Q Let me see if I understand this The Board selects the President --

A Yes

Q -- correct?

And does the President ultimately report to you?

A Yes

Q Okay And when you say "ex-officio," will you tell folks what you mean by that term?

A Oh, ex-officio Because of my office, I would have a seat on the Board because of other folks So when I leave, the new Secretary of Commerce, he will sit on their Board, and he does now

Q Okay And so the President recommends grants, essentially, to you? Is that how this works?

A The President, through his -- through his people, and -- they will do evaluations of companies They'll do return on investment They'll make sure the taxpayers benefit from all the incentive packages we put together They are the ones that come up with all the numbers And they generally will give us a package that says, "We recommend this much to be given to this company to do these things "

Q And then in turn, you would consult with the Governor and make recommendations to him?

A Yes

Q All right And could he impact that organization in any way if he had a particular company or project in mind? Could he also impact it?

A Absolutely He -- I know that he went there at least a couple times to talk to them But mostly to encourage them and tell them what a great job they are doing and things like that Or he would impact it by telling me, "Hey, I really want this to happen," or something like that Or one of the other Board members too

Q All right. And the Governor ultimately approves grants from the VEDP?

A For that GOF Fund, yes

Q Okay And were grants given out to small companies, large companies, medium-size companies?

A Oh, sure We work from the smallest companies -- of course, they had to reach a certain threshold to qualify for certain incentive packages But we dealt with little, tiny companies The first one I did was Morgan Lumber, a small lumber company All the way to huge companies, like Amazon, Microsoft and companies like that

Q Okay Do you recall -- I know you've talked about the World Cycling event, et cetera

A Sure

Q Do you recall a VEDP -- excuse me, VEDP grant to a Virginia company ICF?

A Absolutely ICF actually got, I believe, two grants because they won -- they are a tech company like I was before my, you know, government job They are a government contracting company and also a tech company up in Northern Virginia They had a nice expansion, and they got some incentive package for that

And then we heard that they were looking to go somewhere out of state to set up a data center or some call center or something like that And the Governor helped, and he stepped in and said, "Hey, look You know, we have some great land outside of the area you're looking at right now that could fit your bill, and we may even have an incentive package for you " And it actually happened, and it was one of the biggest announcements on the southern part of the state, I believe it was Danville, or something like that It was a great announcement for that area and great announcement and great success for Virginia economic development too

Q Okay In terms of large companies that may have gotten grants, do you recall whether or not Northrop Grumman got any?

A Oh, several large companies Northrop Grumman was one of the first And it was big in the media The media was all talking about it It was a very exciting deal for us because it meant getting a company from California to come to Virginia And it was certainly one of the biggest successes we had, and it was very public And I think for all the right reasons, they chose Virginia over several other states, and that was a big success And the Governor was in -- personally involved with all of that

Q Do you recall a company called Sabra Hummus getting a grant?

A Oh Well, that was a -- one of our first big successes very early on in the administration It was a very exciting grant Sabra, they're -- if you go to the grocery store, if you like hummus, you know, the chickpea dip, that's all produced in Chesterfield, Virginia

And it was such a great deal, and they joint ventured between a company called Strauss Foods, the second largest food producer in Israel, and PepsiCo, one of the largest food producers, of course, in the United States, a joint venture between them And it was a very exciting announcement They had a ribbon cutting

We invited them to -- the Governor invited them to the Mansion Ofra Strauss, the Chairman of Strauss Foods, one of the 50 most influential women in the world. Plus, Indra Nooyi, the chairwoman and still current chairwoman of PepsiCo, came and had breakfast with us and told us how great Virginia was And we kept on selling them, "Hey, you've got to bring more things to Virginia " So we had a nice breakfast for them at the Mansion, and then we had a ribbon cutting and all sorts of celebrations, plant tours and things like that

Q At this breakfast that you mentioned, that you've discussed, were there any Virginia researchers there?

A Oh, yes We had -- in fact, part of the whole deal was that even though that hummus, you know, the chickpea dip, was being made in Virginia, the chickpeas were coming from all over the world, from Ethiopia, from Utah Why can't we have chickpeas that could be grown here in Virginia to benefit Virginia farmers, and the reason was because that chickpea just wasn't -- just didn't work in the machine right And so we said, "You know what We'll get a little grant for you to fund research to come up with a chickpea that could be used in the machinery that you have in your company " And so we had Virginia State working on it We had Virginia Tech working on it We even had a UVA professor So we had professors and researchers from Virginia State and Virginia Tech there, and also from UVA also at that breakfast

Q Okay And with respect to this fund, to your knowledge, did Mr McDonnell ever ask for or approve any grants for Star Scientific?

A No No, he didn't

Q All right The Tobacco Commission, we've talked a little bit about that and the fact that you were a Board member on the Commission Who was the chairman of the Commission when you were there?

A Terry Kilgore, a delegate from Southwest

Q All right And you were on that Commission the entire time you were Secretary of Commerce and Trade?

A That's right

Q All right And if Mr McDonnell wanted the Tobacco Commission to give a grant to someone, is that something that he would talk about or consult with you on?

A Well, there are several occasions where that did happen And the most -- there are a couple of them Most notable one that I know --

THE COURT: The answer is yes

MR. DRY: Objection, Your Honor

A Oh, yes

BY MR ASBILL:

Q I'm sorry.

A Sorry

THE WITNESS: Sorry, Your Honor

BY MR ASBILL:

Q I'm sorry. So you say it is something that he would consult with you on? That's right?

Did he ever consult with you or ask you anything about the Tobacco Commission with respect to Star Scientific and trying to get a grant from the Commission for Star?

A No No

Q All right Did he ever appear before the Commission or, to your knowledge, contact directly, indirectly, any way, anyone on the Commission or anyone who worked for the Commission with respect to Star Scientific?

A No Not that I know of, no

Q All right Were there other types of ways, other than these organizations that you've discussed, basically, for the Governor to try to promote Virginia businesses? And I'm thinking of things like press events or site visits or things of that nature Were those things that you did to promote Virginia businesses with the Governor?

A Absolutely We did that all the time I mentioned earlier, we had road trips, and a lot of them would be to promote Virginia businesses on the way, you know We have them several times a year within the state

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor Objection, Your Honor, to the narrative answer

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR ASBILL:

Q You say you would do these sorts of events with the Governor? Is that what you are saying?
A Yes Yes, I would
Q All right And did you ever do any event relating to Star Scientific?
A No
Q Go to their operations or their site facility or work on a press release for Star Scientific?
A No
Q Okay Did Mr McDonnell ever ask you to do anything at all in any way, shape or form for Star Scientific or anyone that worked for you, to your knowledge?
A No, he didn't
Q All right Did he ever ask you to do anything or did you ever see him do anything that you thought was in any way unethical or improper?
A Absolutely not
Q And knowing everything you know now, would you work for him again?
A I absolutely would
Q And let me ask you, finally, with respect to the Bob's For Jobs issue, is that a bumper sticker or was that real?
A It was absolutely real I have the scars to prove it and the lack of sleep to prove it He had all of us working Not just me Lieutenant Governor, other folks Absolutely

MR ASBILL: Thank you, sir

I have no further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: Mr Burck

MR BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR BURCK:

Q Good afternoon, Mr Cheng My name is Bill Burck, and I represent Maureen McDonnell

A Good afternoon

Q Are you familiar with a program called FLITE, F-L-I-T-E?

A Sure.

Q First Lady's Initiative Team Effort?

A Yes

Q And did you meet with Ms McDonnell and her staff, back in 2010, to start talking about some of the initiatives that would relate to you?

A We did We did have a few meetings with that, yes And it would probably be through Virginia Tourism

Q Right It was tourism It involved the wine industry as well?

A Absolutely It would be the wine tourism side of the wine industry

Q Okay And you testified about a number of trips that you took with the Governor overseas, domestically, around Virginia Did Ms. McDonnell go on some of those trips as well?

A She did.

Q Particularly international trips?

A She went to Asia with us and Europe with us Yes, she did Not all of them, but she did

Q And on those trips, did she speak at the events that you were promoting Virginia businesses?

A She did She would often make toasts and represent both the wine industry and also the movie industry and other things for Virginia Tourism

Q Okay And in those speeches, would she mention the names of the Virginia companies?

A Oh, absolutely. Sure We had all the wine companies there, and a lot of them were there And she mentioned all their names and everything

Q All right And do you recall if she went on a trip to Italy and to California, for example, to sell Virginia wine?

A She did I didn't go on the Italy trip, but I think I was on the California trip

Q Okay And was there anything unusual about the fact that she was speaking at these events, from your perspective?

A Nothing unusual.

Q In fact, that was what she was there for, right, to help promote --

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor Leading

THE COURT: Go ahead and lead Get it

BY MR BURCK:

Q In fact -- that's -- that was what she was there for; isn't that right?

A Absolutely She was there to represent the industry and help promote it

MR BURCK: Your Honor, I think that's it for me Thank you

MR. DRY: Just a few questions

THE COURT: Government

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR DRY:

Q Secretary Cheng --

A Yes, sir

Q -- you mentioned something about the Redskins, keeping the Redskins in Virginia Do you remember what year that was?

A I don't But it was probably -- it was early on in the administration, sort of the middle of the administration Sure

Q Would that be 2011?

A I don't remember the dates exactly because they are all sort of running together, but it's pretty easy to find Yes

Q And the Governor was involved in that effort to keep the Redskins in Virginia?

A I believe so Yes Sure

Q And you had conversations with him about that, right?

A Sure

Q Okay Now, as Secretary of Commerce, who do you report to?

A The Governor

Q And who has the power to fire you?

A The Governor

Q And he's the only one, right?

A I imagine if he told Martin Kent or Chief of Staff to fire me, he could do that too So --

Q He might pass the message, but it's his authority to fire you, right?

A I would imagine so.

Q Okay Now, the Governor asked you to take meetings with businessmen That wasn't unusual. I think you testified about that extensively, right?

A Right

Q And those businessmen, they would meet with you, and they would want the state to -- the state government to help their businesses, right? That's the purpose of the meetings?

A All the time Yes

Q Okay And after those meetings, it wouldn't be unusual for you to go back to the Governor and report back on how the meeting went and what they wanted and what your thoughts were, right?

A I don't know that -- you know, he gave me a lot of people to call and all that I don't think it -- you know, we'd have monthly meetings and things like that And it wouldn't be unusual for him to ask But it wouldn't be a formal request or anything like that from him Very few

Q I guess my question is the Governor asked you to take a meeting with a businessman Are you saying that you didn't report back what the businessman wanted and what your thoughts were on that meeting?

A Some of them were on business cards, and some of them there was really nothing to report back And some of the big ones, he would text me in the middle of the night or something like that and ask me how that deal was going over at VEDP and things like that, and I'd answer him

Q Okay So at least occasionally you would report back, "Hey, I had that meeting that you asked me to have, and this is the result"?

A Occasionally, sure But remember, especially in the beginning of the administration, it was very, very busy and we had very little time for follow-up with the Governor We could barely even get time with him most of the time

Q And I think that you testified that you didn't talk about personal finances with the Governor, right?

A I didn't talk to him about personal finances

Q Okay But are you saying that it wouldn't have influenced you if somebody was a donor, right? When you're meeting with a businessman, it wouldn't have had anything to do with if he was a donor to the Governor's campaign, right?

A I imagine a lot of them were But we didn't care It was bipartisan. And we'd help A lot of them would come at us from other sources, and we'd help them regardless if they were Republicans or Democrats or whatever

Q Well, are you saying, as you sit there in that witness box, that you wouldn't have wanted to know if -- you wouldn't want the Governor to tell you if you were having a meeting with a businessman that had given him $120,000 in personal loans? That wouldn't have mattered to you at all?

A I don't think it ever happened to me So I couldn't tell you But he -- we -- you know, the Governor was so busy I don't even know if he remembered that he gave me those cards, or who they had And we would have weekly meetings and tell him the progress that we're making on the deals that we knew we were working on

Q Sir, I think that's a different -- you're not answering my question, sir

A Okay Please

Q What I'm asking is would you have wanted the Governor to tell you, "Hey, that businessman that I asked you to have that meeting with, by the way, he just gave me $120,000 in personal loans"? Would that be something that you might want to know about?

A I don't know that I would want to know about that because, you know, we don't care

Q Okay

A We just want to do the best for our constituents

Q You mentioned Sabra Do you have any knowledge of whether Sabra gave Mr McDonnell any money for his daughter's wedding?

A I don't know

Q Okay Do you know whether Sabra gave a 50,000 loan to his wife?

A No idea

Q Now -- but you've donated to the Governor, right?

A Yes, I have

Q And, in fact, you donated $24,500 to the Governor for his campaign for Governor, right?

A Probably over time That's probably right

Q Okay And, in fact, you've donated to the Governor's legal defense fund, haven't you?

A I sure have

Q And that was $15,000, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Nothing further

THE COURT: All right

Anything else?

MR. ASBILL: No, sir

THE COURT: All right

Thank you, sir You may stand down.

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: All right We're going to stop here, and we will get together tomorrow at -- 9:45 again tomorrow

Let me give you this admonition once again Please don't discuss the case with anyone or allow anyone to discuss it with you, and don't review any media items relating to this case And I hope everybody has a good and safe evening, and we'll see you here tomorrow

THE COURT: 9:45

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, good morning. Good to see everybody back I want you to know that I lifted each one of you up in prayer last night, and we are certainly glad to see that you are back.

All right, call your next witness, please.

MR. SMALL: Thank you, Your Honor Bob McDonnell calls Maureen Uncapher McDonnell

MAUREEN C McDONNELL,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F. McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SMALL:

Q Would you state your name and spell it for the court reporter, please?

A Maureen Carney McDonnell M-A-U-R-E-E-N, C-A-R-N-E-Y, M-C-D-O-N-N-E-L-L.

Q And you are Bob McDonnell's sister, correct?

A Yes, I am.

Q Before I go into some background, let me just ask you, when did you first learn about this investigation? Do you recall?

A I learned about it, it was the night before Easter in 2013 Bob had gotten the kids, his siblings, on a phone call to let us know that there would be an article coming out the next day in the Washington Post about a gift and et cetera

Q Later that summer, did you, without going into the details, did you read in the newspapers that the investigation also involved MoBo, the real estate investment?

A I did.

Q And what did you do as a result of that?

A I had read about items in the paper about MoBo and about my brother, and so I had asked my counsel at the time if I could go talk to the prosecutors, because I wanted to talk about my brother and who he was, and I also wanted to hopefully clear up some matters about MoBo. As the managing partner and fully involved in the LLC, I felt like I had a lot to say and wanted to share it with them.

Q All right So you asked to go see the prosecutors?

A I did.

Q And did you?

A Yes, I did.

Q Tell us about that

A I went in in August --

MS ABER. Objection. Relevance, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained. Ask the questions that matter

BY MR. SMALL:

Q Without going into detail, you went in and saw the prosecutors, correct?

A I did.

Q You were interviewed for five hours?

MS ABER: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR SMALL:

Q You also testified in front of the grand jury, correct?

A I did.

Q So tell us a bit about your background. What was your education beyond high school?

A I graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1987 with a business degree

Q Do you have any other degrees or certifications?

A Yes. I was with IBM for many years out of college, and I attended a Client Executive certificated program at Harvard Business School, which was about an 18-month program.

Q Do you have a family, ma'am?

A I do have a family, yes

Q Children?

A I'm divorced, but I do have a six-year-old little girl

Q You were not here for your ex-husband, Michael Uncapher's, testimony, correct?

A I was not

Q And after college, just briefly, you said you went to work for IBM?

A Yes, I did.

Q Tell us, where was that and for how long?

A After I graduated from Notre Dame, I moved up to

Chicago for ten years I started my career with IBM as a marketing sales representative And I was moved, I was promoted to Ohio after ten years, and served there for almost six years before I left IBM.

Q And I'm not going to go through the history, but at the time you left IBM, what was your job title?

A It was Client Executive for the state of Ohio.

Q You had people working for you?

A I did.

Q How many?

A With employees and business partners, probably about 25

Q And when you left IBM, what was your, approximately what was your annual compensation?

A Oh, depending upon the year, it was between maybe 250 or $300,000

Q Where did you go to work next?

A I left IBM to move back to Virginia My dad was aging and had Alzheimer's, and I wanted to be closer to home, so I moved to Virginia Beach and I assumed an appointment at Regent University

Q For any of us who aren't familiar with Regent, what is Regent?

A Regent is a private, a Christian faith-based -- it was predominantly a graduate school at the time, but they have a pretty large undergraduate population now

Q How long were you at Regent?

A About five-and-a-half, six years

Q When you, again, I'm not going to go through the whole progression, but what was your title and position when you left Regent?

A Vice President of Advancement and University Relations

Q When you left Regent, what was your annual compensation, approximately?

A Again, it depended upon the year, but it might have maxed at around $300,000 with bonuses

Q Okay And what year did you leave Regent?

A I left in April of 2008 when I had my child, my baby

Q When did you next go back to work?

A I took some time off because I was ill following the pregnancy for quite a while But I began working I established a little consulting firm and I began working in the end of 2009

Q Where did you go to work?

A Initially, I had a client that was, it was a local ministry and church, and then I had picked up a couple of other political candidates, notably a Congressional candidate

Q Okay What was your next full-time employment?

A I began working with Amerigroup Corporation in June of 2010 I was still finishing my time on the Congressional campaign in 2010. And so I was working frankly both part-time, which truly were both full-time jobs, and I assumed a role full-time at Amerigroup in January of 2011

Q What was your position at Amerigroup?

A My last position, I started in health reform and public policy as the Vice President, and my last position was the Vice President of External Communications

Q We will come back to the compensation at Amerigroup a little later But when did you leave Amerigroup?

A Actually, this month. I left in the beginning of August of 2014

Q Why did you leave?

A Some very large measure, because of some restructuring post-acquisition. My company was acquired by a large commercial insurance company in December of 2012 And through that time, there's always duplicative functions, and so I left recently and just am enjoying some time with my daughter for the next several months

Q Okay Where did you grow up, by the way?

A I grew up in Alexandria, actually, the Mount Vernon area of Northern Virginia

Q How many siblings?

A Four

Q Where did you fit in the progression?

A I was the youngest of the five

Q And where did Bob fit in the progression?

A Bob's the oldest

Q So growing up, what kind of relationship did you have with Bob?

A Well, he went to college when I was about six, so I was his baby sister I always looked up to him. And I would help my mom package, you know, care packages when he was at Notre Dame, as I think any little sister may do. But when I was at Notre Dame as a young adult, and I was going through a few things at school there where Bob and I started to form a very solid and a very strong friendship.

Q Let me just skip ahead for just a minute So there are five siblings, correct?

A Well, there are five children, yes

Q Five of you total Other than Bob, did any of the others go into politics?

A No

Q Can you just give me a very quick rundown of who did what?

A Sure So after Bob, my sister, Nancy, is the next. And she is a pre-school teacher in Lynchburg And then my sister, Eileen, she was a Special Agent for the Defense

Department, for DOD for many years, and now is a contract agent And my brother, Ken, was an Air Force officer for 23 years, and retired from the Air Force three years ago. He is a physician, he and his wife are physicians And now he is the medical director of an international medical group

Q And how long were your parents married?

A They were married 43 years up until the time of my mom's passing in 1994

Q And what did they pass on to you and Bob about marriage?

A Well, they passed on a lot of things Each had their own gifts that they shared with us and really formed us as children But my mom and dad, we grew up in a very, I don't want to say stringent, but a very traditional Catholic household. And divorce, divorce wasn't an option. When you say, "I do," you say it forever And so my dad really instilled in us the respect for institutions such as the love of country and military service, the love of family, the importance of marriage, the importance of education, and the like.

Q When you came out of college, you were asked in the grand jury about, the phrase was, I'm trying to find the page, but the phrase was "boot camp," you went through a little boot camp with Bob after college Tell us about that

A I called it a boot camp It was after I graduated from Notre Dame And again, Bob and I, as I said, during my college years became very close. Because of the age difference, both between my dad and I, my dad was 50 when I was born, and Bob and I were about 11-and-a-half years apart, I really in some respect looked at him as being my mentor and almost a surrogate dad So I went down to see he and Maureen in Virginia Beach for a couple weeks before I moved to Chicago And the purpose of that was to really get me ready to start my life And I remember we bought my first car together, a little Honda Civic He let me negotiate that, which was pretty neat We talked about the importance -- once I moved to Chicago, I had a whopping $500 in my bank account, and he talked about the things I needed to do such as get involved, find a church right away, get involved in the community, volunteer, join the local Notre Dame club, and he also helped me put together just kind of a quick budget to think about where my expenses would go as a 21-year-old moving to a big city with not a very large starting salary, he helped me with that as well

Q Over the years, you have continued a close relationship with Bob?

A Yes, I have

Q Tell us about that

A Well, I would consider, you know, as an adult, when I started my career, Bob quickly became my best friend. And not because he was my brother, but I would have chosen him to be, I did, I chose him to be my best friend, because I admired him greatly I respected the way he lived his life I thought he had such great character and had such a great demeanor, much like my mother did. I idolized my mother She was an angel And of all the kids, I think Bob was most like her So I really connected with him, particularly after my mom passed away I was in my twenties when she died, so he really became that go-to person for me on so many things in my life, for guidance, for counsel on career issues, on relationships and the like

Q And did your communication with him change at all when he became Governor?

A Yes, it did

Q How so?

A We went from talking probably a few times a week to maybe a few times a month or a few text messages a month. And his time, he just didn't have time for a lot of things And it was difficult, because I used to be able to pick up the phone and call him at a moment's notice or text him, and he would respond right away But that really waned, so much so I would typically schedule time with his assistant to see him or I would get his schedule most days and I would see when he would be in my area in Chesapeake or Virginia Beach, and I used to tease him that to see my brother, I have to buy a ticket to an event if I want to see him because it was very difficult

Q Okay Now, tell us a little bit about your brother, your best friend, in terms of his principles

A Well, sure I think, you know, I consider this of all my siblings, we were all raised under the same roof, and we have those core values deeply instilled in our formative time as kids But I think Bob, probably of all of us, really took that to heart and really walked the talk in terms of the commitment to your family, the commitment to service and public service, which both of my parents had some background in serving in their own ways

I think, you know, Bob is probably the most unmaterialistic person in the universe, much like my mom, in that his slippers had duct tape on them. And when he was running for office, I remember my mom and I having bought him a few ties and tried to clean him up a little bit because he had holes in the bottom of his shoes. He just didn't really care about such matters. And so I always just looked at him as being a role model for me and just a guy who had great character and integrity, and particularly when nobody was looking I think that's important

Q What do you mean "particularly when nobody was looking"?

A Well, I mean, the way he lived his life was to just do the right thing And some people would just do it or say the right thing when others were around, but he believed that to his core in terms of being ethical And so he would always do the right thing publicly or privately

Q You were asked in the grand jury if Bob could be detail-oriented or a micromanager Do you recall those questions?

A I do

Q Tell us about that Can he be detail-oriented and a micromanager?

A He and I are probably a lot alike in this way in that we can be very detail-oriented if we want to be, and if it is a priority and if we have time to be So whatever the matter may be, if it has captured our attention sufficiently, then yes, we can be on some things, but on others, not

Q Okay. Let me ask you some questions about Bob's wife, Maureen. When did you first meet Maureen McDonnell?

A I met Maureen when they started dating I must have been, I don't know, maybe seven or eight I was just a little girl And she would babysit me from time to time. When she would come over to the house, of course, during their courtship

Q You were asked in the grand jury --

MS ABER: Objection to the form.

THE COURT: Just ask the question. You don't have to harken back.

MR. SMALL: Sure

BY MR. SMALL:

Q How would you describe Maureen McDonnell?

A Well, you know, I think there are two sides to Maureen. And, you know, sometimes you are not sure which one you are going to get, which one is going to show up. She can be very sweet and very tender And notably, I think I shared with the prosecutors that I'll never forget when my mom was dying in Walter Reed, she was in the hospital, and Maureen was with me as Bob and all the kids were, but she was -- it just stood out for me, she would rub lotion on my mom's legs and pray with her and just rub her head and make sure -- she was very tender with my mom, and I'll never forget that sweetness But the other side of Maureen can be very manipulative, can be very unpredictable, can be deceptive

Q And tell us what you mean by "manipulative "

A I have known, as I said, I've known her for over 40 years And I think through the course of that, those experiences, I have just witnessed, heard, witnessed, there were just a number of examples or situations where I've seen her hide things from Bob, you know, conceal things from Bob, try to work a situation to her benefit, and so -- and not be truthful on occasion about that But it would be one way with the family or other people, and then be very different when she is around Bob publicly

Q And were there times where she was unpleasant or angry?

A Yes I saw plenty of those, yes

Q Do you recall an incident in the spring of 2012 at one of the MoBo properties?

A I do

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor, to this specific character testimony

MR. SMALL: Not character

THE COURT: Go ahead

THE WITNESS: We had, as we typically do in spring and certain times of the year, we had maintenance at the beach properties which were quite fun, frankly, and there was such a weekend that I was there with my then husband and daughter and Bob and Maureen and I think Jeanine and her then boyfriend, Adam, and other family members Typically, we would -- a lot of the family would come There was one particular evening where we had worked all day and taken a little break for dinner And we were just enjoying sitting around the kitchen after dinner. And throughout that evening, I felt some, you know, there were comments throughout the evening that were very pointed that Maureen made toward me And it put me on edge. We had all been working hard. This was my house, too. And I just -- I let them go But later that evening when we were sitting around we were talking about having to come back to the property at some point And I lived about 45 minutes from the property I was working full-time, had a young child, just trying to glue my marriage back together at that point, and I just said it would be difficult for me to come back, and I don't even remember what I was to bring or deliver to the property, but it would be hard. And she quipped that, "Well, if the Governor and First Lady can make time to come now and make time to come, surely your schedule is not as busy as mine." And she made a couple of other comments I had just had enough and I went upstairs My husband and my daughter were already upstairs sleeping And I went upstairs and I just started crying And my husband woke up and he said, "We are getting out of here I'm tired of you feeling uncomfortable around her, and we are not going to sleep here " Bob then came up and apologized and asked me to stay He pleaded with me just to stay And we did. And my husband had commented to Bob, you know, about how she hurt me, and this wasn't the first time And he said he was working on it, he was trying to get her help.

Q Okay. Were you also aware of Maureen's involvement with nutraceuticals or vitamins or whatever, supplements?

A Oh, yes I think I characterized her in the grand jury and pretty much routinely as kind of, affectionately, as a vitamin nut in that back to that boot camp, she had given me, her contribution to the starting my life was she had given me a bunch of vitamins, I think it was Shacklee at the time, I don't recall the brand that she was promoting, but she had given me a whole array of vitamins to take with me But that's been the narrative There are a number of different brands since then that she has promoted. But she has always been incredibly passionate, almost to the point of great irritation, about the importance of vitamins and nutraceuticals.

Q Okay. What did you observe about the relationship between Bob and Maureen?

A I think publicly, it seemed to be pretty --

Q Can I ask you to push the microphone back just about an inch or two, because I think we are getting a little feedback. You can actually move it up.

A Okay Is that better?

Q Go ahead Thank you

A Okay That's better?

Q That's fine

A So, you know, I saw a lot in 40 years And I think like any couple married that long with five kids, you know, you certainly have your ups and downs That would be fairly normal But you layer on top of that being a political family and Bob being gone a lot, you know, I saw a lot of strain on the relationship. And I think after he became Governor, it went, kind of went from bad to worse

Q What do you mean by that?

A Well, the points of tension that I observed, or unhappiness, I think, on the part of Maureen when we were together privately, had greatly increased, frankly I don't think she was particularly happy with her role as First Lady, and that led to some anger But I just saw so many times that the communication was broken, whether it be me coming to visit and Bob would literally be on his way to the airport on occasion, and she didn't even know I was coming, and I would get a note from her that in some cases I wasn't welcome to come So I just think that I noticed that there was an increasingly terrible communication issue, particularly after he became Governor

Q Do you recall an incident in November-December of 2011 that really highlighted the lack of communication to you?

A Absolutely I had experienced my initial separation from my husband. We had separated once and tried to reconcile and finally ended in divorce. But the first time in 2011, I had responded to the Christmas party at the Governor's Mansion, and I responded with "One," with me attending, and Maureen had written me a text to say, "You can bring Emma, you can bring your daughter, so both you and Michael can come " And I thought that was really odd, and I wrote back and I said, "Maureen, perhaps Bob hasn't told you, but Michael moved out of the house In fact, we were separated."

Q How long before that had he moved out?

A Well, she responded, actually, she responded and said, "Oh, my God, I didn't know. When?" I said, "It was five-and-a-half or six weeks ago " And it was a long time, and I was shocked that she didn't know that Bob's little sister, he was one of my first phone calls the night that Mike and I separated I would call him crying So I was really quite surprised she had no idea we had separated.

Q Maureen and Bob lived in the Executive Mansion; is that correct?

A They did.

Q And did she -- how did she describe that life or how did she describe the Executive Mansion to you?

A I think she felt trapped there

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: In fact, she had sent me a text I think it was October of 2011, it was late 2011, that she was having a vitamin party I don't remember what it was I didn't go But she was having some type of a vitamin party in Virginia Beach Bob was there for an event She came along And she invited me to come and bring my friends And she said, "I'd like to see you before I have to go back to that prison mansion." And I really felt like, that made me sad that she said that But I really felt like that's the way she looked at being First Lady and living under a microscope, living in the Mansion

BY MR. SMALL:

Q Let me just, before we move on, there has been some testimony about a 60th birthday party. Were you present for their 60th birthday party earlier this year?

A Yes. In fact, I hosted it. I hosted the Virginia -- we had one in Virginia Beach or Chesapeake at my residence.

Q Without going into a lot of detail, what did you observe about the two of them at the birthday party?

A Bob came down first, and it was quite a while after the party began before Maureen showed up And she came down, meaning they were up in a bedroom changing She had come down and stayed with a couple of ladies in the kitchen, and I really honestly didn't see them together most of the evening until I welcomed guests, et cetera, and then they came together I asked them to come together

Q And did they at some point do a dance together?

A They did. It was shortly after I had the microphone, I welcomed the guests to my home and thanked them for coming to the party to celebrate my brother's 60th, and I think Cailin, Bob's daughter, had them come to stand next to me And then the DJ started shortly after I made comments, Bob made a couple of comments, and Cailin had asked the DJ to play a particular song, I believe, and asked the two of them then to dance And everyone was around, so the two of them then danced to that particular song

Q Did the fact that they danced together that one dance change your view of the relationship or the communication?

A Not at all I think it actually reinforced it because it was a public display, and we were in public there, and so it didn't change it at all

Q Now, let me switch topics I want to ask you in some more detail about your own finances We talked about some of the historical numbers But in 2012, you were working at Amerigroup; is that correct?

A I was

Q And can we show the witness RM-0077, please? Do you recognize this as your W-2 for 2012?

A Yes

MR. SMALL: I offer it into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: What's the number again?

MR. SMALL: RM-0077

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. SMALL:

Q What does that reflect in terms of your total wages for 2012 from Amerigroup?

A $529,594 87

Q And did you have additional income that year as well in 2012, some additional income from other sources?

A I did. About $30,000 or so

Q So your total income for the year was approximately $560,000; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q Now, did you receive compensation from Amerigroup in a form other than wages and bonuses?

A I did. Like a lot of large companies, I had -- my plan as a Vice President had a very nice contribution from the company to the 401(k) retirement plan; but moreover, part of my compensation was restricted stock grants based on performance and the performance of the company in the prior year So that was a pretty significant part of my compensation in my four years there

Q Okay So I take it that accumulated over those four years; the amount of stock you held accumulated over those four years?

A Yes

Q By, let's just take the end of 2012, do you recall about how many shares of Amerigroup stock you owned by then?

A I owned about, roughly about, give or take some, about 7,000, 7,000, and it was a mix of stock options, restricted stock grants, and shares purchased through the employee stock purchase program where you purchase at a discount

Q How much at the end of 2012, how much were those 7,000 or 8,000 shares worth?

A Well, so they were worth, I think the vested or exercisable or those that -- the SPP shares were immediately vested, that might have been about 250, 280. And the unvested or unexercisable stock was maybe another

250 or so

Q So just so we are clear, some of the stock that -- you got stock through these different company programs, and some of it was restricted for a period of time; is that correct? I'm oversimplifying, I know But is that essentially correct?

A Yes It had different vesting schedules So they vested quarterly and appropriately over a period of time

Q So you held 7,000 or 8,000, but as of the end of 2012, you couldn't cash out all of those Correct?

A That's right There were some that had not yet vested or were not yet exercisable based on the vesting schedule

Q So you could have cashed out about a quarter million dollars' worth of stock at the end of 2012, correct?

A Roughly

Q And then you had about another quarter million dollars that was going to vest over the next couple of years, correct?

A Correct

Q In fact, some of that quarter million vested January 1st of 2013, right?

A Some did. I don't remember how many shares, but some did.

Q All right So in addition to the stock accounts, you mentioned retirement accounts Actually, how many retirement accounts, 401(k)'s do you have?

A I have three.

Q Okay And essentially, one from each of the companies that you worked for, correct?

A That's correct

Q I'm going to come back to those documents in a little bit But did your brother, Bob, have, not detail, but some sense of your financial situation?

A Absolutely. In fact, you know, part of us being so close, as I said, I looked to him for some career advice, and I always talked to him before I accepted a job. And so he knew what I was negotiating in terms of salary or overall compensation from my first job to my last job.

Q Okay And if he needed money, did he know that he could come to you?

A Absolutely And he had.

Q Tell us about the time he had when he was in law school

A I was in Chicago at the time, starting my career with IBM, and I was probably 21 or 22, I was young. It was my first year or so there And he was still in law school. But I remember getting a call that things were pretty tough. Bob had a couple of kids at that point, and was going back to school full time, and he had two or three jobs on the side, as did Maureen, trying to make ends meet. But it was difficult And so he had asked me if he could borrow $2,000 to help, and to help them through a difficult period. And I wasn't making a lot of money at the time, relative to today, but I was glad to do it because I supported his move to go back to school

Q At any time, was there any question that if Bob needed money, he knew where he could go?

A He knew where he could go He could come to me or, frankly, my family is very blessed; my other siblings have been very blessed to have experienced some financial success All of us have, much more than my parents realized.

Q Let me switch and ask you about MoBo. Can we pull up RM-0502, already admitted. Do you recognize 502 as a certificate for MoBo Real Estate Partners LLC?

A Yes

Q What was MoBo Real Estate Partners, LLC?

A MoBo Real Estate Partners was, we established this as kind of an operating entity to kind of manage the cash, if you will, or the finances of, at that time we had one beach rent property and then we purchased another, but it was really kind of an administrative vehicle for us to pay bills -- we had a checking account for MoBo -- and to file as an LLC from a tax standpoint

Q You can take that down. Thank you Let me just go back. So you bought, you and Bob together bought beachfront property in 2005, correct?

A It was a semi-oceanfront property But yes, in Sandbridge

Q Okay How long had you been thinking about buying beach property, I'll call it, beach property, vacation property, before then?

A Okay Me personally?

Q Yes

A Well, Bob and I actually looked together Like I was in, I believe I was in Chicago still at the time in 1996 or 1997 I came down to visit him in Virginia Beach, and we went down to the Outer Banks and we just had looked at some property, some land, actually, back then But we didn't purchase anything then. When I moved to Virginia in 2002, beginning of 2003, I actually started looking on my own in Sandbridge

Q Can I just interrupt you?

A Sure

Q Why were you interested in beach property?

A Well, there were a couple of reasons You know, one is my accountant had indicated I should probably invest in something other than stocks and bonds that I had to balance out my portfolio, that it wouldn't hurt me to add real estate to it. And I had all this equity in my primary home. And he said that was truly a sleeping asset, I might want to use my equity there to reinvest But I think the bigger issue for Bob and I is, we had, you know, as kids, we went to North Myrtle Beach every year, before I was born. My parents took all the children on a family vacation. And we stayed in this wonderful little modest cottage, and we had such amazing memories every year at Myrtle Beach. And my parents later bought a small beachfront condo, and again, we had incredible memories of using the place, using the property, and we would go a lot in the off-season and spend Thanksgiving or over Christmas or spring break I would go down there as a kid. It created such a nice set of memories and a gathering place for our family to enjoy So Bob and I had talked about wouldn't that be, you know, a great thing for us at some point in time to have that for our families

Q Did you consider doing this by yourself?

A Yes

Q In fact, that's what your accountant recommended, correct?

A Yes

Q Why did you decide to do it together with Bob?

A Well, I actually had picked out the house, and then told him about it. I was looking for a while. And so I asked him if he wanted to go, to go in with me on it I was fine doing it on my own financially, but I thought given our dream, if you will, or given what we experienced as kids, I thought it would be great to partner with Bob on this And we would create a wonderful place for his family, his five kids, and my future family. I wasn't even married at the time But just a great place that we could go work on together

Q Okay So let me be clear. So whose idea was it to go in together and do this?

A Well, me I guess I talked him into it I was going to do it on my own and I asked him to participate.

Q Who found the house?

A I did.

Q And as between you and Bob, who did you consider to be primarily responsible for coming up with money for that property if it was needed?

A Well, me I wouldn't have done anything unless I knew that I could withstand it financially.

Q And did you have any worries at all that you could withstand it financially?

A No, not at all

Q Did you ever lose a single night's sleep worrying about MoBo?

A I didn't lose a night's sleep worrying about MoBo.

Maybe other things, but not MoBo And not money actually either, to be candid.

Q And so did you go into MoBo as a profit-making venture?

A No That wasn't the intent I mean, sure, we had hoped that over time, there's only so much beach property, and so we were hoping over the long term it may be an appreciable asset, that we would see some long-term gain. But we knew, we had the pro forma, which accounts for the revenues and expenses less any one-time major capital We looked at the pro forma, and we knew we weren't going to be making money from the outset But it was palatable for us to look at what the out-of-pocket might be, because it was a place that we were going to vacation there ourselves, use it for a lot of family events, which we did. But no, the goal was really the gathering place that I described and a place to create a lot of memories for our family and frankly, all of our extended family All of our siblings used the property, too

Q And you had a couple things in there let me just go back to What is a pro forma?

A Oh, sorry. The pro forma was an estimate, when we first bought the property, it was an estimate, again, of the rental income and, you know, typical expenses But most pro formas don't take into account a major capital expense like a roof replacement or an HVAC replacement, anything that's a major one-time expense So we looked at that, and we looked at that when we bought the property But it is maybe important to share that after we bought the property, we immediately embarked after the rental season on a pretty significant reconstruction. We added onto the property We renovated and added another floor to the property

Q This is back in 2005, 2006?

A 2005

Q Just before we leave that, so I'm clear, who actually put a pro forma together? Was that something you did or someone else did?

A I believe the realtor did at the time and showed it to us, because the house was owned by one of the co-owners of the property management, the real estate company, so he had a very good indication of just the run rate of what the expenses, what the rental revenue looked like, and so we used that as a basis for what we could experience

Q Okay And that pro forma showed essentially a gap between what the rental income would be and what the expenses would be, correct?

A Yes I believe that the pro forma showed that the rental income would cover the debt service, I believe, but not all of the expenses And again, certainly not fully covering expenses after we put the addition on.

Q Okay Do you recall what the original pro forma, before you put the addition on, what was that gap, do you recall?

A Gosh, I'm sorry if I'm not perfectly clear on this, because we put the addition on so quickly, but I think it might have been, you know, anywhere from 30 to 50 or 40 to 60 I'm sorry I remember after the addition it was about 40 to 60 at that time

Q That's 40 to 60 basically every year?

A 40 to $60,000 total pretty much every year

Q When you bought the property in 2005, your brother Bob was running for Attorney General, correct?

A Yes

Q And you knew that that would involve essentially a cut in pay from being in private practice of law, correct?

A Yes

Q Did you have any concerns based on that about bringing him in as a partner with MoBo?

A No.

Q Why not?

A As I said, I think I felt comfortable if I had to, with what I had in my portfolio, that I would have been -- I certainly could have been qualified for the loan on my own, and could manage it financially without him.

Q All right So let me just understand the structure MoBo itself did not own the properties, correct?

A That's correct The properties were in Bob's name and my name and the loans were in our names

Q MoBo itself did not take out the mortgages on the property, correct?

A Right The mortgages we received from the various banks were in Bob's name and my name

Q MoBo, I think you described it as essentially an operating entity or managing entity, correct?

A That's correct

Q But did MoBo, MoBo didn't have any employees, did it?

A No.

Q Essentially, it had a bank account, right?

A That's right We had a checking account

Q Do you remember, do you recall whether that checking account paid interest?

A It did not pay interest

Q So would there be any reason to keep a lot of money in that account?

A No. We didn't keep money, we didn't keep a lot of money in that account at all It was almost kind of a zero balance account, if you will But when money was deposited, of course, we didn't take it out of there, but we didn't keep a lot of money in that account

Q And you used the term a little earlier "cash flow " Tell us what you meant by that as it relates to that account

A Well, you know, it is a seasonal rental market, and so there was a lot of money being put in the account because of the rental revenue starting about the end of June every year, and would go until perhaps the end of September The course of the rental revenue was paid in arrears, so we had some very robust months where we maintained a large balance But from a cash flow perspective, there were leaner months, of course, where we needed to put money into that account Whether through loans or personal resources, we needed to supplement that account to maintain the bills, and generally that took place in the off season, which would be anywhere from December, January, February, that time period.

Q Okay In fact, most of your loans were roughly in, or either loans or capital payments in were roughly in the February-March range; is that fair? That's when you would have to put money into the account?

A Generally It just really depended upon if we had any major capital issue, meaning we had one year we had bed bugs, we had carpets replaced. We had a few big expenses And sometimes that would necessitate getting a loan earlier, putting money in earlier I think 2009, we might have put something in in December or had a loan in December

Q So just as an example, let me show you Exhibit 600, already admitted. And this is a summary chart, Ms McDonnell, for MoBo Realty for 2012 So you said that the balance would be down during the winter And is that reflected here?

A Yes

Q And then it reflects funds that were put into the account during the off season, correct?

A Yes

Q And then it reflects that by June, those funds had been pretty much spent, correct?

A Correct.

Q And June, you said, is when the real money would start coming in after that, right?

A That's right

Q And most of your rentals came through an agency, like a real estate agency, right?

A Yes

Q So you would know pretty well in advance that you would be having money come in.

A Yes We can look at the bookings and see when, yes

Q So there wouldn't be any reason to have a lot of money sitting in that account in June because you knew money was coming in

A Correct.

Q So does this pretty accurately reflect the cycle that you were expecting with MoBo?

A Yes, that looks like a pretty typical year for MoBo.

Q You can take that down. Thank you. So MoBo, you bought the property and you started MoBo in 2005 Who handled the bank account, the books for MoBo?

A My -- he was my fiance' at the time, who is now Michael, who was in here recently He handled the books from MoBo's inception up until the end of 2012

Q Okay Why did you decide to have him do that?

A First of all, you know, I think he had the most -- he had probably the most time of all of us, to be very honest, with my job and my brother's job And between he and Maureen, he was, I think, the most willing and had the best skills to do that And he frankly had, he had operated his own small business or LLC. And he volunteered to do it, and we thought that was a great solution, again, keeping it in the family. He was willing to do it And so he really had that kind of assignment As you sort of divvy up things among couples, that was his role

Q Okay For the first several years, how did that work?

A It was great He did a very good job He was very meticulous about documenting. He actually had these great notebooks with all bank statements, all expenses He had the budget for the year He had a profit and loss statement for the year. He was very good the first few years at managing the business

Q Could we bring up RM-0035, previously admitted? Do you recognize this as the loan transaction history from TowneBank?

A Yes

Q And you have had a chance to review this document, correct?

A Yes

Q I'm not going to go through it then page by page, but am I correct that for the first four or five years, from 2005 until early 2009, there was not a single late fee with TowneBank for MoBo; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q Okay Thank you. You can take that down What changed in 2008-2009?

A A lot changed in my life and my ex-husband's life I got pregnant in 2007, and as I mentioned, had my child in 2008, late April And personally, I had a very difficult pregnancy I was on bedrest for seven months. And full bedrest, meaning confined. I was in the home, aside from doctors' visits, for about four of those months just laying flat all day And after I had the baby, I was sick. I was in the hospital for a while right after having the child and was, frankly, in and out of the hospitals for probably over a year I saw 50-some-odd specialists, went to the Mayo Clinic, went to UVA. I just had some significant medical issues personally And then my husband was going through, he was taking a lot of time away from work. We had an infant and I was ill, so his business started to deteriorate at that time as well

Q And what about your marriage?

A The marriage was a little difficult The communication became tough I think it was a lot of stress on the marriage, having a newborn and having me be ill and not able to help out a lot. So Michael not only took care of me, but he took care of our young child, too.

Q And as a result --

THE COURT: Excuse me RM-0035 needs to be admitted. You need to move RM-0035 in.

MR. SMALL: I'm sorry, Your Honor, I move into admission RM-0035

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR. SMALL: I had a note it was admitted Scratch that note.

BY MR SMALL:

Q So from 2009 forward, and I'm not going to go through all of it, fair to say there were a lot of bank late fees, correct?

A There were.

Q And I'm going to talk a little bit about it, but did you have a full sense of how many late fees there were at the time?

A No.

Q When you later found out, how did you feel?

A Not very good Not very good. I felt angry I felt like there was no excuse to have those late fees, because personally, I had the money, we had the money, that there would be no reason to have such late fees, had I known that we needed to put money in the account in a timely manner

Q In fact, am I correct that you have used the term you were horrified when you found out?

A I was horrified

Q What were you horrified about? Why were you horrified, I should say?

A Well, you know, I think it goes back probably in some manner to growing up in that family with my dad living through the Depression and here we are --

MS. ABER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: That, you know, I really took pride and I always paid my bills on time You know, I've always paid my credit card at the end of the month. So to have late fees just was inexcusable It is not as though I didn't have the money I just didn't -- I didn't know about it I wasn't following that. At that point in my life, MoBo was the least of my priorities, and I think probably the least of Michael's, too. There wasn't a lot of line of sight on when we needed to put money in, and that became a source, a bit of -- many other things, but a bit of a source of frustration for us

BY MR. SMALL:

Q So essentially this was a planning issue. You needed to know in advance to put money in, correct?

A Absolutely And I expected him to tell us

Q And as a result, in addition to the bank late fees, were there also some other bills that got paid late?

A There was one, yes, there was one that I recall that was a water bill that was like, I think it was $100

Q Let me just interrupt Can we show the witness RM-0659? Do you recognize this as an e-mail to you on May 18th, 2009?

A Yes

MR. SMALL: Offer it into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q Going to the bottom, if we can highlight the bottom. Who is Mary O'Brien?

A She was a representative from Sandbridge Realty, the rental property manager She was in charge of, as you can see, Guest Services, that department

Q This went to you as well as to your brother, correct?

A Yes, it did.

Q It says, "Dear Bob and Maureen: The water was shut off for nonpayment at ECP " What's ECP?

A ECP is the acronym for East Coast Palace, which is the second property we bought in 2006 And it is a very -- it is sort of a joke, a play on words It is not a palace by any stretch. It is a 60's vintage ranch, very small, very modest, very simple home across the street from our initial property

Q And I'll come back to that in a minute It says, "The amount delinquent from public utilities is $108 " Is that correct?

A Yes

Q Do you have any question in your mind that you would have been able to pay a bill for $108 in May of 2009?

A No question I could have paid the bill

Q And did the bill in fact get paid?

A Yes

Q All right If you can back out from that and go up to the top And this is an e-mail from your brother, correct?

A Yes

Q It says, "Mo is sending check today for 5,500 Can we pay " That was essentially to Michael, correct?

A That's right I can't see who it was sent to, but I assume

Q You were essentially sending some money in to cover bills, right?

A That's correct

Q And had you noticed before that bill got delinquent, you could have just as easily sent it in then, right?

A Correct.

Q Okay We can take that down Thank you. And you also, am I correct, received notice of some of the late fees, correct? Not all of them, but some of them.

A There were some e-mails, I believe, that I've seen about the late fees Yes

Q To your knowledge, how long a grace period did TowneBank give before they imposed a late fee?

A Oh --

Q If you know

A I don't think it was very long I want to say it was maybe a couple weeks A couple weeks And it was a couple weeks And I think over 30, they did report to a Credit Bureau I believe I misspoke in the grand jury and I said that I had reports on this In fact, the reports to the credit agency was through TowneBank, but it was a loan that I had co-signed for my ex-husband that he didn't pay, just to share that with you.

Q So your ex-husband had taken a loan for his business, correct?

A Yes

Q And he had failed to make payments on that loan. And those got reported on your name, correct?

A Well, they did, because I was -- the bank would not lend him money but for me co-signing

Q Okay But as to the loans on these beach properties, did you ever miss a payment beyond 30 days, to your knowledge?

A Not to my knowledge

Q Now, do you know Brenda Chamberlain?

A Yes

Q Who is she?

A Brenda is our bookkeeper for MoBo.

Q Okay And during the time that Michael was managing the account, who was responsible for providing Brenda Chamberlain with the information she needed?

A Michael was the sole point of contact for Brenda

Q And did you find out at some point that he wasn't doing that, either, on time?

A I did later, much later

Q Okay Call up RM-2043 I believe this is already admitted And you see this is an e-mail You were not copied on this e-mail; is that correct? To your knowledge?

A No. I don't see that I was copied.

Q But it is an e-mail from Michael to Brenda Chamberlain in September of 2011, correct?

A Correct

Q I'm sorry, the other way around It is to Michael from Brenda Chamberlain. Forgive me. And it says, "I have not heard from you in some time Your accounts are extremely in need of updating "

Did you realize at that time in September of 2011 that the accounts were in such bad shape?

A No.

Q And prior to, or up through this period, up through 2011, to your knowledge, what was Bob's involvement in the day-to-day accounts and cash management for MoBo?

A He wasn't involved. If you mean any of the financial or bill paying or anything like that, he wasn't involved at all

Q Okay You can take that down. You mentioned earlier -- oh, I'm sorry, I missed one thing I asked you about buying the first house in 2005, but I don't think I ever asked you about the second house So forgive me, let me just circle back on that for just a moment Did you in fact buy a second house?

A Yes, we did

Q And when was that?

A It was in 2006

Q Why did you buy a second house?

A Well, again, I was interested in buying the second house and particularly one that was, again, it was a small one on the oceanfront that perhaps at some point we could tear down and build. And I liked the fact that given how big our family is and the proximity to our house, it is literally across the street from each other, that that would be an ideal home for us to purchase And frankly, it is such a small, modest house, it didn't obstruct our view from the semi-oceanfront, so I thought it was just a great opportunity for us to purchase that property, or for me

Q Did Bob go along with your idea?

A He did. He did.

Q And I take it that also, that second purchase would also have added somewhat to the gap between expenses and income, correct?

A Yes, it would have There was a limit to which you could rent that house It is a small house. And generally, probably a single family, maybe a couple of families So yes, there was a cap to that.

Q And did your family or extended family use that smaller house as well from time to time?

A Yes They used both properties quite a bit

Q Now, you mentioned earlier, you said something about loans to fill this gap. Was it always part of your plan to use loans to fill the gap if you wanted to?

A We just made a fundamental decision at really the inception that it made more sense to us, made more business sense to borrow the money, generally, to fill that gap, either from a bank or from an individual, for the business as opposed to using our own resources based on the interest we could realize by keeping those resources invested. The cost of money was cheaper, if you will So it made the most sense to do that

Q All right. Did you get loans every year or just certain years?

A Not every year, no, just certain years

Q Okay And do you recall, when was the first time -- you bought the property in 2005 When was the first time you took a loan from an individual to fill the gap?

A That would be 2007 We took a loan from my dad.

Q Do you recall how much?

A I believe it was $60,000

Q All right And did you then take another loan in 2008 from your dad?

A We did.

Q How much was that?

A That was $50,000

Q So we are right at that 40 to 60 range that you were talking about, correct?

A Yes.

Q Now, so that's 2000 -- I'm sorry That's 2007 to 2008 We move up -- try to move through this fairly quickly Move up to 2009 You talked already about some of the things that had been going on in your life during that time What was going on in the real estate market during that time?

A It -- it had really -- it had really plummeted It really tanked I think not just the vacation property, but everywhere It was the recession, and the whole housing market had really taken a dive And certainly the beach -- the beach community did take a particularly -- I think maybe a particularly hard hit, but everybody was feeling the pinch at that time

Q You made a comment at one point that you -- you and Bob joked to keep from crying about that What did you mean by that?

A Well, we just had to laugh about how, you know, how inopportune our timing was that we're -- you know, don't follow our guidance You're supposed to buy low, sell high, and we bought at the peak And so we -- you know, there was a lot going on in our lives at that moment, but it really was a reflection on our timing was not so great And we would -- we'd -- you know, we'd just sort of joke about that

Q And in addition to joking about it, did you -- during 2009, did you do something about it or explore doing something about it?

A Well, we did I mean, knowing that the housing market had come down, but, again, I think at that point in time I was just going back to work I was -- I had, I think, gotten a lot of my medical issues under control by the end of 2009 And we just wanted to test the market And frankly, you know, I was certainly -- MoBo was not my priority anymore I had a husband and a child and a demanding job

So we went ahead and put the properties both on the market just to test the market And we put them both on because Bob preferred one and I preferred the other, and so we just wanted to float them out there to see if there was any appetite or interest in either one of the properties

MR. SMALL: Can we call up Exhibit 48, previously admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q Let me start -- this is an e-mail chain So you have to start at the bottom with e-mail chains to go in time. The first one is an e-mail dated April 24, 2009; is that correct?

A Yes, it is

Q And tell the jury, who is Tom Bucker, if I pronounced that correctly?

A Yes Tom and his wife, Gail, are -- well, they are not with Sandbridge any longer, but they were two realtors, or a husband and wife team Really great successful realtors from Sandbridge Realty

Q Okay And he starts his e-mail off saying, "Aloha, Maureen " What was that all about?

A Well, my husband and my baby and I were in Hawaii at the time My daughter's first birthday was the day after, on April 25th, and my husband's birthday was the 29th And so I surprised them with a trip, about a ten-day trip to go to Maui

MR SMALL: And if we can -- Victoria, if we can back up and go up to the next e-mail

BY MR SMALL:

Q Is it fair to say you responded later that day, correct? Actually, I'm sorry You didn't respond You sort of copied Bob and Michael with this e-mail, correct?

A Yes, I did I didn't respond to Tom I responded -- I sent it on to them

Q Okay

MR SMALL: And if we can go down to the sentence line, the sentence that begins "I'd list " And just highlight that sentence

BY MR SMALL:

Q Would it be fair to say that "list" is probably "like"?

A Like Yes Uh-huh

Q Okay. So, "I'd like to get it listed ASAP to relieve some financial pressures " What did you mean by that?

A Well, I think, again, I -- you know, MoBo wasn't my priority anymore, to be honest with you, and, you know, I think it wasn't -- you know, I'm not sure if it was my husband's or not Evidently, now I know it really wasn't, but I felt like it just wasn't an important part of my life And, you know, the -- when you look at some of -- as I was learning from Tom a little bit about the market and -- I just thought, you know, it's probably better just, if we could, if it makes sense, if it's the right price, then let's -- you know, let's sell one of the properties and maybe just keep the other and just simplify a little bit more

Q Did the downturn in the market also affect rentals?

A Very much so

Q How so?

A Well, I remember that year that Sandbridge had sent some mailers to us, or e-mails or mailers, to say -- and we had conversations -- that they were encouraging all property owners to reduce the rental revenue by about 20 percent because people weren't coming to vacation

Again, that was -- that was in the middle of the recession Folks weren't coming Gas prices were -- they weren't driving We have a lot of folks that drive down because they're coming with multi -- they are multiple families

So across the board, I think most of the property owners -- I know we did -- reduced our rental revenue And so that attributed to a gap And I guess when I -- you know, I think about financial pressures, the revenue was lower that year versus the prior And so --

Q Okay

A -- that's -- that's --

MR SMALL: And then if we back away and go up to the last -- the top e-mail

BY MR SMALL:

Q This is your brother Bob responding to you, correct?

A Yes Well, I think that's my e-mail to - I assume it's me Yes

Q Okay And he's talking about different options First he says, "Ouch," right?

A Yes

Q And you talked earlier about laughing to keep from crying I take it that's -- you took that as a comment on the market, right?

A Yes

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR SMALL:

Q And he goes on to talk about -- I'm not going to go through the whole thing --

A Uh-huh

Q -- but to talk about different options for possibly selling the properties, correct?

A That's right

Q Okay Let me just be clear When you're having this discussion and you reference financial pressures, you're on vacation in Hawaii, correct?

A Yes

Q And you've got significant amounts of money in various stock and other accounts, correct?

A I did, even in 2009 before I started working for Amerigroup Yes

Q So financial pressures, was that referring to you felt you were under pressure?

A No I -- I've really been blessed I don't think I've ever felt financial pain before in my life as an adult

Q All right So --

MR SMALL: We can take that down Thank you, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q So I take it the houses went on the market

MR SMALL: Let's go to GX 49, previously admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q This is now four months later, in August of 2009 And --

A Excuse me I can't see that -- can you --

MS TARAKTCHIAN: Oh, sorry

A Very well Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q There we go And this is an e-mail from you to your brother Bob and Michael, correct?

A Well, now I can't see it at all Thank you

Q There we go This is an e-mail on August 23rd, 2009, from you to your brother Bob and Michael, correct?

A That's correct

Q And it's again talking about the various sale options, right?

A That's right That's right

Q And it says in the first line, "Just spoke with Betsy " Betsy is the real estate broker you mentioned before?

A She's a broker, but she's also the co-owner of Sandbridge Realty and -- and Atkinson Realty Yes

Q All right "Just spoke with Betsy about the sales market for" -- "for relative to our homes What she suggested is brutal. She suggested we drop" -- essentially drop the price if we really want to sell, correct?

A Uh-huh Yes

Q So when you use the word "brutal," what was brutal in your mind?

A Well, brutal was the -- it was a commentary on the real estate market and the fact that the market had dropped not just for us, but everybody, that just -- you know, an absolute -- a couple-hundred-thousand-dollar drop in a list price was a pretty big -- pretty big drop So --

Q So no question at that time the real estate market was brutal?

A The real estate market was brutal I think for everybody, but notably for a vacation property for second homes

Q Now, even though you used this fairly dramatic language --

MR SMALL: If we can back up and go to the response

BY MR. SMALL:

Q How quickly does your brother respond to your e-mail on August 23rd?

A Well, it doesn't look like he did, if I'm reading that right It looks like I sent him another one Am I -- oh, no I'm sorry

MR SMALL: No That's the wrong document, Victoria You've got to go back to --

A Okay

BY MR SMALL:

Q Okay So how soon does he --

MR SMALL: Oh, I'm sorry No There's a -- there's one in between Scroll down Scroll down There we go The middle one Now I'm lost

BY MR SMALL:

Q All right And so --

THE COURT: Let's take a break

MR SMALL: Okay Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: Fifteen minutes

(Recess taken from 11:13 a m until 11:31 a m)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right Go ahead

MR SMALL: Thank you, Your Honor

BY MR SMALL:

Q Ms McDonnell, it's always bad luck to go backwards, but I just want to go back very quickly to 48

MR SMALL: If we could call that up, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q On the top e-mail that we were talking about after "Ouch " I'm sorry I got distracted, but it goes on to say, "We need to walk away with 1 5 to break even Our 3 loans total about 1 5 also We can't come up with money" -- or "$ to sell "

What did that last sentence mean to you?

A I would -- I think -- I think it's referring to we didn't likely have money in the MoBo account to come up with the dollars to sell, or I interpreted that for me is we don't want to have to bring money to the closing table to the tune of six figures There was no impending event to sell so -- so, yeah, I mean, I -- could we? Yes, I could have liquidated some things, but we didn't need to

Q If for some reason you absolutely had to come up with money to sell, could you have done that?

A Yes

Q But is that something you and Bob wanted to do?

A No As I -- well, as I stated, we just were really doing a test to the market for both properties to see what the market would bear But there was no impending event that would necessitate us selling either property at the time

Q All right So let's go back to where we were, which is 49

MR SMALL: And I need to apologize to Victoria I gave her the wrong advice

BY MR SMALL:

Q We talked about the -- this is actually a two-page chain We talked about the first one in time, which is the one where you said, "What she suggested was brutal," talking about the market And then there's a follow-up e-mail And the problem is --

MR SMALL: Can we do it, just quickly, Victoria, side by side? Because the "To" and "From" are actually on the other page Scroll down to the bottom of the -- can we scroll down to the bottom of that page that's on the left There you go

BY MR SMALL:

Q All right So the e-mail that starts on the -- on the top of the second page, you see, is from you to Bob Do you have that in your mind?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR SMALL: So now -- now let's go just to the second page and highlight that e-mail, if we could

BY MR SMALL:

Q So you send Bob an e-mail on August 26 Now, the original e-mail you had sent was on August 23rd?

A That's right

Q So this is now three days later?

A That's right

Q Why are you sending this follow-up?

A Because he didn't respond to the first one

Q Okay And you're trying to get his attention, I guess?

A I was trying to get his attention because it involved potentially spending a fairly good amount of money, and I just wanted to get his attention to have him weigh in on the AC situation

Q Was that a common problem during this period of time to get him to focus on MoBo?

A Yes, it was

Q So three days later you send this and you say, "Bobby What are your thoughts on this? I just got another call from Betsy for status " And then you go on to ask him about an issue with the air conditioning, correct?

A Yes

Q And it says, "The AC went out yesterday at Sunseeker Al said it will be 4,500 to replace I sent my guy out and he's ordering a part to repair instead of replace Should be a lot less $," right?

A Right

Q So now there are two issues on the table here One is the issue regarding sale, and the other is an issue regarding air conditioning, correct?

A That's right

MR SMALL: So if we go to the other page, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q And you see at the bottom there is a response from your brother, correct?

A Yes There's --

Q This is later that same day, August 26?

A Yes

Q Now, you had posed two questions One related to the sale of the property, right?

A Right

Q Am I correct that he basically ignores that one?

A He didn't respond at all to that one Right

Q And then the other question was a choice between basically a cheap way to do the repair and a more expensive way to do the repair?

A That's right

Q And by responding --

MR SMALL: Where did it go?

BY MR SMALL:

Q By responding, "Let's replace," he's suggesting that you choose the more expensive way, right?

MS ABER: Objection

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR SMALL:

Q Okay The -- and then you have a follow-up e-mail and you remind him that you had asked a question about the price, correct?

A Well, that's right Because he only answered one of the questions, and I wanted to get his take on whether we wanted to make a price change on the listing.

Q Okay And if you go to the next e-mail, you send him again, much later that day, an e-mail saying, "Per the attached notes, I will go ahead and have Gail lower the Sunseeker price"; is that correct?

A That's correct He didn't respond So I made the decision and gave him the opportunity to object to that

Q Okay And so finally, on this sequence, that evening, about 9:00 that night, he responds and just says, "Ok"; is that right?

A That's right

Q Okay

MR. SMALL: We can take that down Thank you, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q Okay. So that's August of 2009 Now go forward another four months to December of 2009

MR SMALL: Can we bring up Exhibit 51 already admitted?

BY MR SMALL:

Q Now, going -- again, from the bottom up, the oldest up, the first e-mail in this sequence, am I correct, is an e-mail from Michael, your ex-husband, on December 4th of 2009, correct?

A Correct

Q And he says, "Any luck finding a magical partner "

Did you know, at the time, what he was talking about?

A Well, yeah That's -- that would be his terminology for it But there was some discussion about a couple that would -- that were friends of Maureen's who may be interested in -- in investing with us They -- they -- they had some real estate in different places, and they might be interested in becoming part of -- part of these two properties

Q Okay And who originated that discussion? Do you know?

A With the couple?

Q Well, who told you about it?

A I believe Maureen did --

Q Okay

A -- initially

Q And did you come to find out who that couple was?

A Yes

Q Who were they?

A Dr -- the late Dr Paul Davis and his wife, Betsy

Q Okay And we'll come back to Dr Davis in a minute But then if we go up to the next part of this e-mail chain, am I correct that you basically kind of reply all with some more dramatic language? Is that fair?

A Well, I did Because it looks like my -- my -- Michael sent a note to Bob and Maureen and me, and there wasn't a response And oftentimes I would then send it on to Bob to try to get his attention, and admittedly, I'd use a little inflammatory language or caps, in this case, to try to get him to pay attention to an e-mail, which typically was effective when I used that -- that method

Q All right So let's go through it, then It says -- you're forwarding his reference to a magical partner And you say, "In other words, we are in trouble and we need to act NOW " What did you mean by that?

A Well, what I meant by that was we needed to -- we needed to deposit money in the MoBo checking account And that could come in a variety of ways, either through a loan or personal resource, or what have you. But per my husband's indication, you know, we just needed to -- we needed to populate the account, move money, or get a loan.

Q We talked earlier about this timing issue of needing, come December and January, to get money into the account Is that what you are referring to?

A Yes That's right

Q Okay Then it says, "We can look into a short sale, but we need to come with a buyer first " Tell us what that was all about

A Yes There's another note that I've seen in -- throughout this process, where I was reporting out to Bob and Michael about a call I had with Betsy, again, the co-owner of the property, of the real estate company And she was giving me assessment, kind of a market landscape, of what was going on in Sandbridge, and she mentioned the prevalence of short sales at the time

I had heard of short sale I never really knew -- frankly, what the mechanics of one was And she was explaining that to me at the time And in that note, not this one, but I had -- I was sharing a bit about how it works, just because I was reporting out on several things that she mentioned

Q And what was your understanding of what a short sale is, just briefly?

A Well, that you identify, you have someone in mind, a buyer in mind, or identified, and they -- there's a negotiation with the bank, and you may not pay the full amount of what is owed on the property So I -- I did my best to try to just, again, share the conversation I had with Betsy with both Michael and with Bob Well, I guess Michael is not on here, but Bob

Q And the next paragraph -- next sentence, rather says, "I understand short sales will not hurt our credit, unlike bankruptcy " Have I read that correctly?

A Yes I think that's what she communicated to me, and I passed that along

Q Were you, at any point in this time, considering bankruptcy?

A No No

Q Okay And did you have any further -- after this December 4th e-mail, to your recollection, did you have any further discussion or communication with your brother on the idea of a short sale?

A No We -- we never talked about a short sale, aside from my e-mails on it

Q Other than this e-mail, relaying the conversation with Betsy, is that something you ever seriously considered?

A No

Q Okay. And then finally he responds up at the top, "Not yet " I assume responding to "magical partner"?

A Yes

Q "Working on a couple of ideas"?
A That's correct
Q Okay
MR SMALL: You can take that down Thank you
BY MR SMALL:
Q So you mentioned that you had been told that Dr Davis and his wife were interested in buying the property Did they ever -- did they end up buying the property?
A No, they didn't
Q What ended up happening?
A Maureen had asked Michael and I to prep show them the property to see if they were interested in buying it or becoming, as I said, a partner or a co-investor And they ended up -- they ended up not -- not doing that, but they liked the property, and they -- Dr Davis, I believe, offered to -- to loan us -- loan us some funds at the time
Q Okay And did that happen?
A Yes, it did
Q Who negotiated that loan? Do you know?
A I believe Bob -- in terms of the terms of the loan?
Q Yes
A Yes Bob -- Bob negotiated that with Dr Davis
Q And do you remember what the terms were, roughly?

A It was five years, and it was -- it was 7 and a half percent, which I believe was based off of a -- an NFCU, or a credit line that we had looked at through our credit unions, which was 7 9. So --

Q In 2014, that sounds like a high interest rate?

A Yes

Q Do you recall, was it a particularly high rate back then?

A I don't believe it was I think at the time, the loan -- as I said, an option of taking maybe an equity line from other properties or other things, I believe it was around 7 9 If -- I may be incorrect, but I think that was the basis for it It was somewhere in that ballpark

Q How much money did Dr Davis agree to loan you in -- or loan MoBo, I should say, in total?

A The total loan was 50,000.

Q Did he do that in one check or in multiple checks?

A He did it over a -- over three different months And I recall my -- my husband had spent time with him to show him some of the financials And I recall that he preferred to provide the checks at the moment or the month needed as opposed to a lump sum

Q Okay When did he provide the first check?

A It was in December of 2009

MR SMALL: Can we call up Exhibit 55, please, already admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this the -- the first check to MoBo from Dr Davis?

A That -- that -- that is a check to MoBo from Dr Davis, yes

Q Okay And --

MR SMALL: Thank you, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q Who picked up that check?

A My -- my husband and daughter and I went over to their house on -- on a weekend in December and picked it up -- and picked it up from -- from Dr Davis and his wife

Q Did you just show up and pick up the check? Or just tell us -- tell the jury what happened

A Well, it was -- it was -- it was great I believe that's the first time I actually had met or had any formal meeting with Dr Davis I'm sure he had been at various community events that I had attended, but he -- he was very warm and gracious and gregarious And he and his wife invited us in, and we spent about four hours there We had lunch My little girl wasn't very old at the time, and they had grandkids who were about the same age

So we actually had a lovely afternoon And he showed us his art collection and other things, and it was -- we just had a really good social afternoon with them of, again, about -- we spent about four hours there

Q He had an art collection there at the house?

A He did He did

Q And then at what point during the -- this afternoon did he give -- turn over a check?

A It was at the very end In fact, we -- we -- it was -- Betsy, his wife, and I were cleaning up the kitchen, some of the dishes And he and Michael, which I think was pretty true to -- his culture to deal with the man on things So he had given -- I think when we were cleaning it up, he had given my husband the check

Q And did you see the check at the time?

A No

Q The check is for 9,900 Do you know why Dr Davis wrote it in that amount?

A I don't

Q Did he or Michael ask him to write it in that amount?

A No No.

Q Okay All right But effectively for you, that was a $10,000 loan to MoBo, correct?

A Yes

Q And then am I correct, there were two other checks from Dr Davis to MoBo?

MR SMALL: If we can call up Exhibit 59, previously admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q Do you see this check for 20,000 on February 6, 2010?

A Yes

Q And do you know whose writing that is on the deposit slip?

A It -- it's not my husband's, and it's certainly not mine It looks like Chris Beale "Ok Per Chris Beale " Chris was the Vice President of the bank at the time who was our main contact at TowneBank

Q Okay

MR SMALL: And then -- take that down and go to Exhibit 61, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this the third check for, again, for 20,000? This time March 15th?

A That's correct

Q And, again, do you recognize the handwriting on the deposit slip?

A That would be that -- that's Michael handwriting, my husband's

Q Okay

A And if I may point out, I think I had -- in my grand jury, I had some of the dates of the checks wrong I don't think I saw the checks then So my apologies I just wanted to mention that

Q Okay Thank you

Can we -- at some point when you visited Dr Davis, was there any documentation for this loan, the first time in December of 2009?

A Oh, no No No

Q At some point, though, did you all sign a short promissory note?

A We did We did

Q All right

MR SMALL: Could we call up Exhibit 60, already in evidence

BY MR. SMALL:

Q And is this the promissory note that you all signed?

A Yes, it is

MR SMALL: And if I could just go to the third line -- I'm sorry, or fourth line, rather

BY MR. SMALL:

Q It says that the note shall be amortized over a five-year period with monthly payments in each of the five years So this was a five-year note, correct?

A That's correct

Q So it was not -- it's dated March 15th. So it would not be due until sometime in 2015, correct?

A Correct

Q Still wouldn't be due today?

A That's correct

Q You all paid it several years ago, right?

A It was fully paid off at the end of 2012

Q All right We'll come back to that in a moment

Did you have -- actually, let me focus on that for just a moment So this was signed --

MR SMALL: You can take that down, Victoria Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q It was signed in March of 2010 It's not due until March of 2015 You were making payments on it during that time, though, correct?

A Yes, we were

Q Okay But did you have some discussions in early 2012 about paying it down early?

A Yes Yes

Q And what do you recall about that?

A Well, you know, I remember the -- by that time, a couple years later, the interest rates had started to come down, and so that 7 and a half percent started to not look so good at that time And -- and we also had, at that point in 2011 and 2012, some money coming in from my dad's estate He had passed away in late 2010 So, you know, we had talked about, "Let's get into a more" -- you know, "Let's look to pay this off And whether we wait for some of the proceeds from my dad's estate or convenience checks or something like that, but let's look at a way to pay this off, given the rate "

Q Okay

MR. SMALL: Can we call up, just for the witness, RM-1457

BY MR SMALL:

Q And do you recognize this as an e-mail chain back and forth involving yourself and your brother?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Offer into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And starting at the very bottom, this appears to be an iPhone message on April 4th, 2012, from your brother, correct?

A Yes

Q And he says, "Mo, please verify again that you can pay 15K on April 15 to pay off Dr Davis If so, I will send you 10K from me and another loan check for 13,000 to pay the full amount to Dr Davis Mike, can you verify that?" Have I read that correctly?

A Correct

Q So this is what you're talking about that you were going to pay off Dr Davis?

A Yes

Q All right And then there's another e-mail in the middle I'm not going to go into that right now But going to the -- skipping up to the April 4, 10:28 e-mail You sent an e-mail, am I correct, saying, "Planned on using the proceeds from the stock you mentioned for this Not sure when that is happening but will plan to do 12,500 " And just to be clear, what is the stock that you're referring to on April 4th, 2012, here?

A My dad had, in his will, he had left me 600 shares of Texas Industries And Bob was the executor So that stock was being, evidently, held up in probate It was a slower process, and it wasn't transferred to me, you know, until a little bit later than that But I was expecting it a little earlier And so I was just going to use that money to pay back Dr Davis

Q Okay And then just quickly, at the top your brother Bob responds He says, "Great Stock transfer slow Lawyer working on it Transfer from you to Boo "

Who is Boo?

A Boo is my sister Eileen's nickname She was very involved in my dad's care at the end of his life and his -- his estate

Q So we've got Mo and Bo and Boo; is that right?

A We all have nicknames, Dan

Q Okay But he says, "Won't be done by mid-April Do we need to wait a month or can you float 12,500 for that mid-April payment?" Have I read that correct?

A That's correct

Q Do you remember how that was resolved? Did you, in fact, put up 12,5 for the mid-April payment?

A Well, I believe what we actually did -- and I had it on one of the notes that I had seen during the grand jury, which was Bob went ahead and paid off his portion We did -- MoBo did -- we did take a bit of an express check loan, I think, for maybe 5,000 And then -- and so I needed -- I was left to contribute my portion to MoBo to pay off Dr Davis, which I did by the end -- by the end of the year I did it a little bit later A few months later

Q All right So then that's 2010 Let me just move quickly to 2011 You continued to have more and more late fee issues with Michael, correct, in 2011?

A I do understand that

Q And the -- and you were having -- am I correct you were having some discussions also about refinancing the loan -- not the loans to MoBo, but the loans -- the mortgage loans on the properties themselves, correct?

A Yes, we had

Q Why were you trying to refinance those properties?

A Well, you know, I think when we purchased them in 2005 and '6, respectively, we were in a cash -- kind of a cash flow friendly, interest only loan, which was the predominate loan product in Sandbridge And with the passage of time, the rates had dropped, and we were interested in getting into a better product for the long term for us so we could actually build some equity in the properties

Q And you understand the term "loan to value"?

A Yes

Q What is that? Just briefly, what's that mean to you?

A It's usually indicated in a -- in a percentage in terms of the property value and then how much a lender will loan against -- against that value

Q And still in 2011, fair to say that a lot of the properties in Sandbridge had loan to value issues, correct?

A I think many of them were under water They had negative loan to value issues, yes

Q All right And let me just briefly touch on, you mentioned your father's estate When did your father pass away?

A He passed away on November 2nd of 2010

Q All right And without going into detail, were there problems with the will and with the estate?

A There were a lot of problems My dad had -- had created the will 12 years prior, and many of the accounts that were noted there hadn't been updated in 12 years So many of the accounts were investments, IRAs, and the like, stock. We had decided, as a family, to -- to liquidate to pay for his care So, therefore, when it came time, after his passing, a lot of the accounts were no longer in existence

Q Okay Who was the executor of that estate?

A Bob

Q And was he able to sort out all these different accounts and come up with an equitable distribution among the five children?

A He was It took quite a bit of time to sort out the accounts, but yes

Q And who did he, as executor, give the lowest percentage distribution to among the five children?

A He was among the lowest Yes

Q He was the lowest?

A He was among the lowest Yes.

Q Now, in addition, is it -- is it fair to say that Bob put in a large number of hours working on this estate?

A He did He -- I -- just from what he shared, I'd imagine probably hundreds of hours on the estate

Q Was it your understanding that he also hired some outside people to help, out of his own pocket?

A He did He had to retain our counsels -- counselors He was not an estate attorney So he got some help from some folks that know that well

Q Is it your understanding that the executor of an estate is entitled to a fee?

A Yes

Q What fee is it your understanding?

A I'm not sure if my dad -- I think he may have expressly stated that in the will But it was 5 to 10 percent

Q Just very roughly, how much was the estate, the total value of the estate?

A It was between 700 and 800,000

Q So 10 percent fee of a 7 to $800,000 estate would be 70 to $80,000, correct?

A That's correct

Q And Bob was entitled to that fee, correct?

A Yes, he was

Q Did he take it?

A He did not

Q Did you or your siblings ever talk to him about that?

A We did We had a call, actually, with the four -- with the four -- the four kids, without Bob And then later in a subsequent call with Bob, we -- we had asked him, or strongly suggested, that he go ahead and take that fee He's put in a lot of time and late hours Sometimes we'd get e-mails in the middle of the night, all hours of the night So we had strongly suggested, as he figured out the financials, to deduct that fee

Q Okay What did he do?

A He didn't listen to us He didn't deduct the fee

Q Let me change subjects, if I may

Have you ever met Jonnie Williams?

A Never

Q Have you ever spoken to him on the phone?

A No

Q Ever received any gifts from him?

A No

Q Were you aware, during this time, during 2011, 2012, that he had given gifts to Maureen and the kids?

A Not at the time No

Q Were you aware that he had paid for golf?

A No

Q Would you have ever asked, "Gee, Bob, who paid for golf"?

A I wouldn't even know he went golfing No So no.

Q You attended Cailin's wedding, correct?

A Yes, I did

Q Were you aware what gift Jonnie Williams gave at Cailin's wedding?

A No

Q Did that subject ever come up?

A Not until I read about it in the paper much later

Q In Christmas of 2011, were you aware that your brother Bob got a watch for Christmas?

A I knew he got a watch from his wife We were up there at -- we had a -- kind of a tradition of spending New Year's up there, just Bob's siblings And I just vaguely recall sitting at one of the dining tables, and he mentioned that his wife bought him a watch for Christmas

Q All right And did you know any of the details of how much it cost or anything like that?

A No I -- no I wouldn't know that I wouldn't ask that

Q From your conversation with him, did he know how much it would cost?

A No

MS ABER: Objection Speculation

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR SMALL:

Q And did you ever see him wear it --

A No

Q -- after that?

A No

Q All right So regarding Jonnie Williams, did you -- turning to the spring of 2011, did you have a conversation with Bob's wife Maureen about the beach properties?

A We did We did have a conversation It was April -- it was the day before Easter Again, April 9th And I know that date because I had a -- it was -- I had a birthday party for my little girl that day, and then that afternoon, evening, I had a shower, pre-wedding/engagement party, if you will, for Cailin and Chris at my home And Bob and Maureen attended

Q Tell us what you remember about the conversation

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor This is after the investigation It's hearsay

MR SMALL: Spring of 2011?

THE COURT: The objection is overruled

MS ABER: Oh, I'm sorry Then I misheard I apologize, Your Honor

BY MR SMALL:

Q Let me go back So spring of 2011, correct?

A Yes

Q Okay Tell us about that conversation

A Well, it was -- I can't remember if it was between -- not that it matters -- if it was between the two parties Because it was crazy going from, you know, Toy Story to a grownup thing

But Maureen and I were sitting at the table, around my kitchen table And there were a lot of people around, of course, family, but the two of us were just having the conversation And we were talking about the properties, and she mentioned that she had -- she had some good friends who might be interested in purchasing the property They were looking at places in -- or had interest in places in Croatan Beach as well as Sandbridge Beach And Croatan is a very nice, sort of resort, slash, residential community in Virginia Beach

Q Okay Did she tell you who it was that was interested in buying?

A I do remember the name, which was the first time I heard his name, of Mr Williams

Q Okay Were you aware also that in 2011, Maureen had had a conversation with Michael and Jonnie Williams about Jonnie Williams buying the property?

A Yes I -- I believe -- I knew they had a conversation about that

Q Okay To your knowledge, did anything come of that in the year 2011?

A No I think much like the Davis -- the Davis situation, I believe that they wanted to prep see it sometime And I did recall that they were out of town I don't know that I even knew where they lived, but they weren't local, and that perhaps either Michael or I could show them the properties at some point that was convenient

Q All right So going forward to 2012, were you -- did you become aware from your husband that he had had another conversation with Maureen and Jonnie Williams about potentially buying the property or investing in the property?

A I did know that they had spoken again But please recall that late 2011 and early 2012, my husband was out of the house and -- for a period of time But he was still -- he was still -- it was more amicable, in some manners So he was still managing the books

Q Let me ask you, during this time, did you and Bob need another partner?

A No

Q Why were you interested in having that discussion, then, to bring in another investor or another partner?

A Well, I think -- I think that, again, like the Dr Davis situation, I think MoBo had just, frankly, for both of us, we had -- it had become much less of a priority for us, based on what was going on in our lives.

Q Do you recall when or -- when the conversation with Jonnie Williams about investing or buying turned into a conversation about a loan?

A I can't pinpoint the precise time But in conversations with Maureen, I -- you know, I knew I hadn't been asked to take him to the property And I think that, you know, at some point, I don't know if it was before or after, Michael was on the phone with him again It really became more of a loan as opposed to a purchase interest

Q And it --

MR SMALL: One second, Your Honor

BY MR SMALL:

Q In March of 2011, you went on vacation, correct?

A I did I went on vacation --

Q I'm sorry. What did I say? March of 2012 March of 2012

A Oh Yep Sorry I --

Q Did you go to Jamaica in March of 2012?

A I did

Q Okay

A I did

Q Was that a vacation, or what were you doing there?

A It was my daughter's spring break from preschool, and so Michael and I and Emma went to Jamaica It was -- I sort of would call it a reconciliation trip, if you will

He had been out of the house from November of 2011 to -- to the beginning of March, late February, of 2012 And so we wanted to go away as a family and -- and try to work through things and try to work on our marriage and just have some great family time during her spring break

Q And while you were away, did you receive some text messages from Bob's wife Maureen?

A Well, I didn't have my phone with me I didn't get an international chip But when I came home, I saw that I had some messages from her

Q Okay And they were messages -- what were the messages regarding?

A The messages were about if I had received a package from -- there was a friend sending a package, an important FedEx package, and did it come, did I receive it

Q All right Did it indicate what was in the package?

A I believe the text indicated it was a check Yes

Q And did it tell you what you should do with the check?

A It did not Well --

Q Did it say anything about don't deposit it?

A Oh, it did say that. It said to please call first so we can -- you know, call first because I don't know what it was for --

Q Okay

A -- and to talk to her

Q So do you recall, roughly, when you returned from Jamaica?

A I do remember It was -- it was Friday I came back late Friday on March the 9th

Q Okay And later that weekend, did you have some further texts with Bob's wife Maureen?

A I did She was -- she was quite eager When I came back -- when we came back into the country and I got home, I was sick I had some sinus infection So I went to bed straight Friday night, and I slept until -- literally, I stayed in bed until about Sunday morning, at which time I -- I believe it was Sunday morning I started to respond to her And I apologized that I didn't have my phone and that I had been ill since we returned from the trip

Q Okay And there were a series of texts back and forth for the next couple days, correct?

A Yes

Q All right So to make this a little easier, there's a summary chart that I'm going to show you

A Okay

Q And use that to walk through

A Okay

MR SMALL: Can we pull up 594, already admitted, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q So generally, it looks like red is Maureen texting and white is you texting Is that fair?

A Yes That's what it looks to be Correct

Q We have a color guide

A We have a color guide Yes

Q All right So at about 2:27 p m , Maureen sends you an e-mail -- or text, rather, saying, "Hello! Have u rec'd my msgs? Know u've been traveling "

That was to Jamaica, correct?

A Correct

Q "& got back Friday Need 2 talk 2 you! Anxious friend waiting 4 me 2 confirm u rec'd FedEx valuable package Pls call "

Had you, in fact, received a FedEx package?

A We had -- again, I was -- my husband had gone through the mail when we got home Friday I was in bed He had, indeed, found, with all the other mail that we had gotten, a FedEx

Q So you had gotten home on Friday, the 9th And this is now Sunday, the 11th, correct?

A Correct

Q And you respond a little bit later, "Mo, so sorry Got back Friday nite and have been sick Just got out of bed for first time now Yes, hit FedEx" --

A I think that's auto correct It should be "got " I Think that was an auto correct

Q Okay "Yes, got FedEx package Should I not deposit? Love, Mo " And that's responding to her earlier text saying don't deposit, correct?

A Correct

Q Okay Then she responds, "No I asked u to call bcuz we need to talk first U don't even know what it's for and what agreement & arrangement I've made He didn't want to write to MoBo &" -- something

A It continues down below

Q Okay It continues below "I talked him into it He's been calling all week needing to know it got there He preferred to write to me & I handle loan w u "

And you respond, "Mike and I will call shortly "

A Correct

Q Is that correct?

A That's right

Q And then what happened next?

A We called from -- excuse me We called from my husband's phone because mine -- I remember mine needed charging, and -- and we -- we called Maureen at that time together

Q And what happened?

A He said, "Hello," and she did not want to speak to

Michael She wanted to speak to me And then the phone -- then we -- she hung up

Q So she hung up on Michael?

A Yes

Q All right And then you get a text saying, "We'll have to wait till later bcuz Bob's fallen asleep," correct?

A Correct

Q And then going to the next page, later that evening, it's still Sunday evening, you send a text to your brother Bob, right?

A That's right

Q You said, "Hey, Bobby I'm leaving church Mike called Mo earlier and got disconnected "

Is that correct; that they were disconnected?

A I think that was my polite way of saying she hung up on us

Q Okay "She said we needed to talk about check when you woke up Pls call now if you'd like "

And then a little bit later he calls you, and there's a 22-minute call, correct?

A Correct

Q Now, was the principal topic of that call MoBo?

A No I don't recall it was at all I was -- I was not -- I was basically just perplexed Well, there were a couple things I was perplexed by the bizarre messages and why she hung up And I'm sure I vented to him a bit about it was really odd I didn't understand it And -- and I believe we were beginning to just talk about my trip I mean, remember, it was -- it was a time of reconciliation for my marriage and my husband, and would have been of the personal nature, predominately, to talk about -- about the trip

Q Fair to say -- fair to say at that time, 6:15 p m on Sunday, the 11th, MoBo was not high on your list of priorities?

A No MoBo wasn't high on my list of priorities then, and for a long time Correct

Q All right And then there's a second short follow-up call Do you remember anything about the follow-up call?

A I don't recall The three-minute call?

Q Yes

A No I don't -- sorry I can't remember that

Q And then a little later, Bob's wife Maureen sends you a text It says, "I left u msgs bcuz I worked on this loan 4 a year, not Bob I needed 2 speak 2 u directly, not Michael Why do you always do that 2 me? But u could return Bob's call "

Have I read that correctly?

A That's correct

Q So you had called Bob, but the call to Mo, Maureen, she had hung up on, correct?

A That's correct

Q Okay And then you weren't a party to these other e-mails(sic) after that, correct? You don't know what those were all about?

A No No

MR SMALL: All right Take that down

BY MR SMALL:

Q So the next day, what happened?

A So the next day, it was Monday, the 12th, I suppose I was going back to work after being gone for ten days or so And, you know, I, frankly, still -- I remember Michael and I didn't -- still did not know what to do with the check completely We hadn't talked to -- hadn't -- I hadn't talked to Maureen And -- but I believe he -- he had taken it He had gone ahead and taken it to work with him that morning

I remember talking to Bob that afternoon, and I know we have just -- I don't know if you have it, but there's a precise time I talked to him in the afternoon briefly

Q Sure

MR SMALL: Can we call up 595, already admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q This, again, is one of these summary charts --

A Yes Okay

Q -- that's list calls and texts?

A Okay Yes There it is

Q All right So at 2:36 p m , this is now Monday, the 12th?

A Yes

Q There is a two-minute call between you and Bob Tell us about that call

A So that call was -- Bob had -- Bob had phoned me, and I -- Maureen was in the background I recall very clearly because it was a very short call because she was -- she was not -- she was livid She was very upset that -- I just heard some of the narrative that we saw earlier; that she worked on the loan, not Bob, and I couldn't call her back but I could talk to him, and more of that And she was very loud in the background So much so the call was quite abbreviated And --

Q I believe you said in the grand jury that she was screaming in the background; is that correct?

A She was She was screaming in the background I could hear her very loudly She wasn't on the phone I don't know if he had it on speaker or not, but her -- she was very upset in the background And -- and Bob had asked if he could just call me back It was very distracting She was angry And I had -- I had thought that this was the call where we talked about the loan more specifically, but I was mistaken I think I shared that in the grand jury But it was the call a little bit later that day

Q All right So you had two calls that day?

A Yes, we did

Q Both about the loans, but the later one, you think, is the one where you had time to go through the terms?

A Yes Because we did not talk, if I remember It was a very -- she was yelling a lot and, "She didn't call" -- you know, "She didn't call me Why is she calling you? I worked on it I arranged this She doesn't even" -- I mean, there was just a lot of that And it was very distracting for Bob and I to attempt to have a conversation at that time

Q How did the call end?

A He said, "I need to call you back, Mo " She was yelling, and he needed to call me back

Q And then right after that, he sends you a text saying that, "Call me Just want to finish our call"; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And then there's some further back and forth, and you weren't involved in any of these things with JRW, Jonnie

Williams, correct?

So --

A No

Q -- at 6:02 did you have a longer call just with Bob?

A We did I -- and I -- we had made plans to talk around 6, and I was off work at that time driving home And at that time we talked We talked for -- we talked for a while Obviously, we talked for 40 minutes, over 40 minutes And I think at that time we had a little greater opportunity to -- I talked about a lot of things, frankly I think I talked to him a little more about Michael and some of the activities while we were away, and on our vacation together, and how that was going on the marriage But during that discussion, we also had an opportunity to talk about -- about the loan

Q And did you later send Bob a text --

MR SMALL: We can take that down Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q -- send Bob a text kind of following up on these calls?

MR SMALL: Can we see RM-0015-0004, please, just for the witness And the text on Tuesday, March 13th, at 11 51 p m If you could highlight that Blow it up a little bit That one right there in the middle The long one

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this the text that you sent to Bob the next day to follow up on that call?

A It was And --

MR SMALL: I'd offer that page, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q So this is a text from you to Bob the next day, Tuesday, right?

A That's correct

Q "Hey, Bob Hope you have fun in FL "

Was he taking a trip for some reason?

A Well, he and his wife were going down to Florida, were going away for a few days, and -- yes, he was going away

Q Then you say, "Called Mo yesterday and left msg and texted today No response Not sure where to go from here Really don't like this relational tension dividing our families or this unsettledness Still don't know why Mo hung up on Mike and I when we called on speaker Sunday It doesn't need to be this hard Makes me sad "

What is the relational tension that you're talking about there?

A Well, I mean, honestly, I had this strange -- these strange messages from her, and all I wanted to know is for my husband, do you put the check in or not And it just seemed like it was just an odd and sort of an irrational series of texts And then for her to hang up on my husband and I and then -- you know, and then be screaming so much in the background when I was trying to have a conversation with Bob about it Because if you recall earlier, she said we can't talk now because Bob is asleep

So, you know, I just didn't understand why this was so complicated and difficult And in that conversation the evening prior when I spoke to Bob at 6, I recall he had asked me -- he had to -- he had to be with Maureen for a few days, and he said, you know, "It would be very difficult if she's angry and in a bad mood So could you please reach out to her and call her and text her and just try to smooth things over," which is what I did

And I was just telling him I called her yesterday I called her, which was Sunday -- or I'm sorry, on Monday, and then I left a message and texted on Tuesday, but she didn't respond to me

Q When you -- when he asked you to please reach out because it would be difficult --

A Yes

Q -- because they were going to be together, what did you say in response?

A Well, I -- I said I would do it I mean, I said -- I think he asked me to kind of, you know, be the stronger person and reach out and just try to make amends about, you know -- and try to diffuse some of her anger and hear her out

Q All right Now, you said a minute ago --

MR SMALL: You can take that down Thank you, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q You said a minute ago that there was -- in one of the calls on the 12th, you had written some notes on what you and Bob had talked about in terms of the terms of the loan with Jonnie Williams Do you recall that testimony?

A I do

MR SMALL: Can we pull up RM-0237 just for the witness

BY MR SMALL:

Q And are these the notes -- or, rather, is this the page that has the notes on them?

A Yes, in the upper -- kind of the upper right-hand corner It was a work notebook that had a lot of other things on it

MR SMALL: Offer that, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR SMALL: All right So car we blow up the upper right-hand corner

BY MR SMALL:

Q The rest of the page, am I correct, doesn't have anything to do with MoBo or Jonnie Williams or any of this stuff? Right?

A No In fact, the 4:30 --

Q Where were you when -- I'm sorry Go ahead

A I'm sorry No The 4:30 is -- my child had soccer practice, that 4:30 appointment So no, it had nothing to do with it

Q Where were you when you had this call and took these notes?

A Well, I would have been driving home at that time It was 6 -- it was 6:02 or 6:00 in the evening And my recollection is that I was driving, and I had pulled over at some period because I would have grabbed -- I grabbed my notebook, which is my work notebook, in my briefcase that was on the passenger seat And I just opened it just to have something to write on, which was open to that workday

Q Okay And can you just walk us through -- first of all, are you taking down something that's already been proposed or something you and Bob were going to propose? What is it that you're writing down? Do you recall?

A Well, my recollection, again, is that it was something we were talking about for the loan, the $50,000 loan, and what the terms may be And, you know, we had already had -- or looked into what the rates would be for express checks And I don't believe -- I don't believe that he had yet proposed this to Mr Williams I don't think it was set For me, this is -- we were talking about what it might look like, which was -- you know, 2 and a half percent was, I think, Bob's rate for -- or excuse me, my rate for an express check I think his was lower with his cards, 1 9 or 2 percent But mine was 2 5 so that's what I --

Q Can I just interrupt you just in case --

A Yeah

Q Just so we're clear, what is an express check? You've used that term once or twice

A Yes It's an express check or a convenience check, which is an opportunity for -- a lot of credit card providers have -- they offer you low interest checks just to write on the account I think AmEx, Visa, Sears, a lot of them do that for a period of time at very low interest rates

Q Okay And so you were aware at this time, in March of 2012, what you could get as an interest rate on your express check -- express checks?

A Yes

Q And what was that?

A Well, mine was -- mine was 2 and a half It was 2 and a half percent

Q Okay All right And is that -- was that sort of the source of this number?

A Yes That was for -- what I wrote down is what an express check would be for me It would be 2 and a half percent

Q Okay So -- does it also say what the term is?

A Well, it says 3 -- or I think I scribbled 30, but it was over 3 And there would be a -- kind of a balloon payment at the end of 3 years, in March of 2015 --

Q Okay

A -- is when -- when it was due

Q And March of 2015, that's the same end date as the Davis loan had, right?

A Yes, it did

Q Although the Davis loan was not a balloon It was a periodic payment?

A It was a monthly

Q Okay And fair to say the rate is considerably lower than the Davis loan rate, correct?

A It is much lower And it was -- it was a couple years apart from -- from negotiating that --

Q Okay

A -- but yes

Q And did you discuss with Bob why you would do a balloon on this rather than a periodic payment?

A I remember him mentioning, I think Maureen had also mentioned at some point prior, that Mr Williams may want to come, he and his wife or family, and use the property or use it for business associates

Q Uh-huh

A And that if they did have such usage, then at the end of the term, that that would be the market rate or the prevailing rate for the nightly -- or whatever term of stay he had So it would be netted against that

But also, I believe, he -- I know there was some discussion to wait until, you know, Bob wasn't a public servant and -- and he was earning -- you know, there was an opportunity for us down the line where Maureen would probably be going back to work and Bob would be working as well in three years

Q Let me just expand on that

A Yes

Q Did you have -- you had, it sounds like, discussions with your brother Bob of what the future might hold when he -- his term for Governor ended at the end of -- essentially the end of 2013, correct?

A Well, effectively, he left office the -- yes, the beginning -- the beginning of, you know, this year

Q And financially, what did that mean?

A Well, you know, I think that --

MS ABER: Objection Speculation

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR SMALL:

Q And did you also -- there's a reference there to 4:30? I'm sorry

A That was my child -- my daughter's soccer practice at Thoroughgood Elementary School

Q Okay

MR SMALL: We can take that down

BY MR SMALL:

Q Now, you had -- you were aware that you could get an express check at basically about the same rate; is that correct?

A Yes Yes

Q So is there any reason why you or Bob were doing a loan through an individual as opposed to doing a loan through the express check?

A I preferred -- frankly, I preferred a loan through an individual versus through an institution, an institutional loan or, frankly, a loan that would be through the bank Because as I testified a little bit ago this morning, I had some late payments that were reported from TowneBank for my husband, a loan I co-signed for my ex-husband, and

I was very sensitive to my credit at the time My credit was still quite good by any standard, but it had a couple of blemishes because of those late payments from my ex-husband

Q Okay So the late payments on the -- your husband's business loan -- were you aware of the late payments at the time --

A No

Q -- they happened?

A Not at the time that they happened I found out -- I found out later when my credit was pulled

Q All right And you found out later that those late payments had hurt your credit?

A Yes I think there were maybe a couple of delinquencies over 30 days that had been reported

Q Okay So during this period of time, then, you were trying to fix your credit basically? Is that fair?

A I just didn't want to open any additional credit, any card or any line against the credit or any have any debt on my credit report Correct

Q Fair enough All right So you did take -- Jonnie Williams did end up loaning MoBo $50,000, correct?

A He did initially loan MoBo $50,000, or the check was actually from Starwood, I believe Not -- not a personal check from him

Q Okay And then -- I'm sorry Let me just check one thing Okay

And then are you -- was there a second Jonnie Williams loan also in 2012, in May of 2012?

A There was

Q And how much was that? Do you recall?

A That was for $20,000

Q All right Do you remember why you and Bob wanted a second loan?

A We were -- we were renovating the property We were actually -- we had a renovation that was about $22,000, a major capital improvement and, frankly, I think the first of that kind since we owned the property to make it more of a year-round event house We built out an outdoor living area to have more outdoor space and made some other very nice enhancements that would make it, again, more of a four-season rental

Q Okay So MoBo got loans from Jonnie Williams in 2012, in March and again in May; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And during this time, you were employed by Amerigroup, correct?

A Yes

Q And, in fact, right at this time, am I correct that you got a very large bonus from Amerigroup?

A I did On --

MR SMALL: Can we bring up RM-33, Page 1 only?

BY MR SMALL:

Q Is this your essentially pay stub for that bonus?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Offer it into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q So let me just, very quickly, try to track through this If you go down to the first number on the top right, it says --

MR SMALL: No A little higher up A little higher up No Up above that There you go There you go

BY MR SMALL:

Q It says, "MJO Bonus " Do you recall what MJO was?

A It's a -- it stands for Major Job Objective And they are basically your goals for the year, your particular goals for the year that you're measured against

Q And the bonus was $70,000?

A The bonus that year was $70,000

MR SMALL: And if you go back, just scroll up a little bit, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q You can see --

MR SMALL: A little further

BY MR SMALL:

Q -- the date of this was March 9th of 2012, correct?

A Correct

Q That's literally a couple days away from the Jonnie Williams loans, correct, the first one?

A Yes This was -- it was an automatic deposit into my checking account on March the 9th, which is the Friday we returned from Jamaica

Q Okay

MR SMALL: And let me just, very quickly, scroll down a little bit

BY MR SMALL:

Q And you can see on the -- where am I looking here?

MR SMALL: Yeah That's fine

BY MR SMALL:

Q What is ESPP?

A It is -- it stands for Employee Stock Purchase Plan The ability to buy company stock at a discount through payroll deduction

Q So is it fair to say that you chose to use part of that bonus to buy more stock?

A Yes, I did

Q Okay And I guess the question is why did you choose to not use that bonus, you know, instead of a loan from Jonnie Williams or anyone else?

A Well, you know, we sure could have, but it made more sense for me to invest the money, to take out the stock deduction and my 401(k) deduction of 4,200, just to put that money away The interest rate was much better through those investment vehicles of my own personal resources versus a 2 or 2 and a half percent loan that we may have gotten through express checks or through an individual

Q Now, let me just switch for a minute There are a couple of financial documents, Ms McDonnell, that I just want to get in through you, just very quickly, because we have a summary witness that I need to bring them in for

MR SMALL: If I might, if we could bring up RM-31, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this -- you've had a chance to review -- you've had a chance to review your 2012 tax return; is that correct?

A Yes, I have

MR SMALL: I'd offer into evidence, Your Honor, the 2012 tax returns

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And also RM-266 And you've had a chance to review your 2011 tax returns, correct?

A Yes

Q And these are your 2011 tax returns?

A Correct

MR SMALL: I'd offer 266, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And finally, 265 Have you had a chance to review your 2010 -- I sound like a broken record I'm sorry

A Yes, I have

Q -- 2010 tax returns And are these those tax returns?

A Yes, they are

MR SMALL: Offer that into evidence, 265, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q A couple of other quick things while we're on the financial issue What is Think Mutual Bank?

A It is formerly known as IBM Employees Federal Credit Union It was the original bank that I did business with when I started with IBM when I was 21 and still have accounts there today

Q And focusing, again, on sort of late 2012 --

MR SMALL: Well, could we bring up 275, RM-275, just for the witness, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this your statement from Think Mutual Bank for December 31st, 2012?

A Yes It's a copy of that statement

MR SMALL: Offer that into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And just briefly, what is the -- what is the ending balance?

MR SMALL: I think we have to scroll down, Victoria If we could No Yeah At the top of that page I'm sorry Top of that page, if we can blow up that box

BY MR SMALL:

Q What was your ending balance in this account in 2012?

A At the end of 2012, it was $118,210 48

Q All right We talked about, earlier, the stock where you had, at the end of 2012, roughly 250,000 that was vested and another roughly 250,000 that was coming up that you owned but hadn't been vested yet, correct? Do you recall that discussion?

A We discussed that, yes

Q All right In addition to that stock account, did you also have several 401(k) or similar retirement accounts?

A I had three -- three retirement accounts Yes

Q All right I'm just going to run through those very quickly You told us earlier that you had worked at Regent University, correct?

A Correct

Q And you had a retirement account from that work?

A I did

MR SMALL: Could we call up RM-264, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a statement -- you've had a chance to review your statement from the Regent 401(k) -- or 401(a), I guess it is, plan, because it's a nonprofit, right?

A It's a 403(b)

Q Okay I got all the numbers wrong Okay

MR SMALL: But anyway, I'd offer that into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And at the top of Page 2, it shows this to be --

MR SMALL: Well, just blow up the numbers, if you would

BY MR SMALL:

Q It shows an ending balance --

MR SMALL: Okay I'm -- go back You're right I'm wrong

BY MR SMALL:

Q It shows an ending balance of $439,835; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q And that was at the end -- or actually, September 30 of 2012, correct?

A Correct

Q All right And so -- get my pen So Regent is 439,000 Okay And you told us earlier you worked at IBM for a fairly long period of time, correct?

A I did

Q And you also had a 401(k) from IBM?

A Yes

Q And at the end of -- or in late 2012, same period we're talking about, you still had that 401(k)?

A I did It, obviously, was inactive since I was no longer employed, but I still had the money in there, yes

MR SMALL: Can we call up RM-254?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And have you had to chance to review your statements from the IBM 401(k)?

A Yes, I have

MR SMALL: Offer that into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR SMALL: And if we can blow up just that top box, just quickly?

BY MR SMALL:

Q Am I correct that in September 30 of 2012, your ending balance on that account was 257,000 and change?

A Correct

Q So IBM 257 Okay And did you also have a third 401(k)?

A I did, with my current employer, Amerigroup

Q Right And I --

A Yes.

Q I don't think I have that document here, but in late 2012, roughly what was the balance with that 401(k)?

A It was right around 50,000 It wasn't significant at the time

Q Okay You hadn't been with Amerigroup as long in 2012, correct?

A That's correct I hadn't been there very -- it was just a couple years

Q So approximately 50,000 was the balance?

A Uh-huh Yes

Q Okay All right So let me talk a little -- thank you I'm sorry to go through all that But let me go back just briefly, if I might, to MoBo And specifically, we talked about the loan in March of 2012 from Jonnie Williams And I want to take a look at that and MoBo's account for that period And there's another summary chart

MR SMALL: If we could bring up 596a, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q Okay And, Ms McDonnell, I know you didn't make this, but this is a summary of MoBo's account at TowneBank during, essentially, part of March and April of 2012, correct?

A Correct

Q So -- and you see the entry for the loan from Starwood Trust, correct?

A Yes, I do

Q And that went straight into MoBo's account, correct?

A Yes It was written for MoBo and went straight into the checking account

Q And it was used for MoBo expenses, right?

A It was used for MoBo, yes

Q So let's -- let's talk a little bit about -- there are a couple of items here I want to touch on First of all, if you look right under the Starwood Trust entry, there's an entry that says "Transfer to BRH " What was going on here?

A BRH stands for Blue Ridge Heaven, and it was a rental property that I'm the majority owner of with my sister Eileen and my brother Bob, who is a minority owner, in Wintergreen And my ex-husband also managed the books He ran the finances for that property And unbeknownst to us, he had taken some liberties to move some money around among the accounts And specifically on this chart, there appear to be two different transactions where he moved money out of MoBo into BRH, one in the amount of the thousand and then, it looks like the very next day, in the amount of 4,500

Q And did you later find out that he was then transferring some of that money to himself?

A Yes, I did

Q So on this page there's the $1,000 transfer to BRH and the $4,500 transfer to BRH And at that time, I take it you and Bob weren't aware that those transfers were happening?

A No

Q And you hadn't authorized any such transfer, had you?

A No, we did not

Q Okay All right And then if we can -- down at the bottom of this page, on March 27th there's an entry for Resource Building Corp for 16, almost 17,000 Do you see that?

A Yes, I do

Q What's Resource Building Corp?

A That is the builder, or the contractor, that we hired to put the -- that addition I spoke of, the $22,000 capital improvement That is the -- that is a payment to that -- that contractor who did the work at the property

Q So let me be clear This wasn't, you know, the roof had blown off in the hurricane and you had to repair That was upgrades and additions, correct?

A That's correct We wanted to make it more of a four-season, as I said, and really increase outdoor living space of the property by building out a cabana and some other upgrades

Q So if money was tight, you could have just said, "Let's do that next year," right?

A Yes, we could have

Q Okay But you and Bob both agreed to do it this year, right?

MS ABER: Objection to leading

A Yes

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR SMALL:

Q Who decided to do this upgrade this year?

A We both did We talked about it And I was very much in favor of the improvements that -- again, we hadn't done any major improvement in a while, and we were really excited about enhancing the attractiveness of the property and maybe attract some more off-season corporate rentals and the like

Q Okay And then you see just above that, there's a payment to Dr Davis, right?

A Yes Uh-huh

Q That's one of the monthly payments on the -- his loan, right?

A That's correct

MR SMALL: And then if we could go, Victoria, to Page 2 of this document

BY MR SMALL:

Q There are a couple entries here 4/4 to Bob McDonnell for $744 53 And then Jeanine for a hundred And then -- I guess just those two

A No There's one to me

Q Oh, I'm sorry There's one to you for $245 87

A Uh-huh

Q What's going on there? Why is MoBo writing a check to you and Bob and Jeanine?

A That was following one of our maintenance weekends there where we went to Home Depot and purchased a whole bunch of supplies, paint, stain, paint brushes I believe that weekend we -- which we did a lot with all the decks there We did a significant amount of power washing, et cetera

So what our bookkeeper had said, when we have an expense like that, to try to keep things clean to -- we pay for it out of pocket and have MoBo reimburse us for such expenses

Q Okay So somebody goes to Home Depot, buys something, and then submits a receipt and gets reimbursed, right?

A That's right

Q Okay So that was just for accounting purposes, basically?

A Yes Right

Q Okay

A And because we were 50/50 He spent more than I did So we just wanted to keep that --

Q All right And then lastly, we saw on the prior page one of the monthly payments on 3/26 to Dr Davis But then on the next page -- go back -- at the bottom on 4/30/2012, there's a large payment to Dr Davis, $20,504 What's that all about?

A Right That was -- as I said, we paid -- MoBo had paid Dr Davis off and paid off a great percentage of that loan And then what remained was -- was my portion that I wanted -- I wanted to wait a little bit We -- my husband had talked to Dr Davis and told him we were going to wait a little bit to -- we were just going to wait a little bit to pay him off

Q All right And if you go up to 4/12, this is you and Bob putting money in essentially to pay off Dr Davis, right?

A That's right And I -- I can't -- I can't firmly attest to this, but I think I might have already put in 5,000 If you just look at the numbers, I think there was another time that I had put in 5, and so Bob put in more this time

Q Okay All right

MR SMALL: Thank you, Victoria You can take that down

BY MR SMALL:

Q Let me switch topics, if I might And who is Brenda Chamberlain?

A Brenda is our bookkeeper for MoBo

Q Okay And prior to the end of 2012, who had been the main contact with Brenda?

A My -- my husband Michael

Q And so with all the problems that arose, did that change in 2013? What happened?

A Well, it did But it changed because my husband and

I had our last and final separation on October the 4th, 2012 He left the marital residence and didn't return until we were ultimately divorced

Q Okay Directing your attention to February 2nd, 2013 Did you participate in a call with Brenda Chamberlain?

A I did Yes Yes

Q Who else was on the phone?

A Bob was on, and my sister Eileen

Q Okay And just generally, what do you recall about that conversation?

A Well, it was -- it was Christmas of that year that I finally had gotten all of any files that I had on -- on MoBo or the mountain house, the BRH I had all the files together, and I brought them up to Bob and Eileen at Christmastime And they were -- they were each taking over the finances of those two properties So Bob would be running and managing the finances for -- for MoBo, and Eileen would do the same for BRH

Q Okay

A And the call we had in February was to -- to talk to Brenda about a number of things But one of the things that we realized at that point were the books were -- were a complete disaster And so we -- you know, I had never talked to Brenda, I don't believe, before that Eileen and Bob hadn't But we wanted to get with her to get -- to get a lot of the books straight, give her access to the accounts and the like

Q Okay And so what was -- on that call, tell us about that call itself What was discussed, to the extent you can remember, on that call?

A Sure I remember we talked for a while The call must have been 40 or 45 minutes I think it was on a Saturday afternoon And we had talked about -- first of all, there were -- we had identified what we sort of called these mysterious transactions, some of those transfers from the MoBo to the BRH, and then some of the transfers directly to my husband and some checks written to him from the business accounts So we -- we were trying to get our arms around that, or Bob and Eileen were

And also, we were talking about -- Bob had made a lot of requests to Brenda for different reports and historical data And we talked about how she had worked with Michael, and she, admittedly, vented quite a bit about it wasn't that clean, particularly the last few years And so I do remember at that account, she mentioned Michael would make copies of checks and statements, and he was supposed to be sending them to her on a monthly basis

And at that time, Bob had said, "Well, why don't we just" -- "why don't we just give you electronic access to all the accounts and that way you don't have to go through me or any of us Just go ahead and log on to the bank accounts, you know, on your own You're our bookkeeper "

Q And what did Brenda say?

A "Sure "

Q Okay Let me be clear Had you ever met Brenda Chamberlain personally before this call?

A I still haven't met Brenda Chamberlain I've talked -- she was on that call But no No

Q To your knowledge, had your brother Bob ever met Brenda Chamberlain before this call?

A No In fact, when we saw some of those JesMat transactions, he didn't know what that was I mean, I think he knew we had a bookkeeper, but not -- no He had never met her

Q JesMat turned out to be the name of her --

A That's the name of her company, yes

Q Company or whatever Okay And so neither of you had ever met her?

A No

Q Did you have any reluctance in giving her the passwords and numbers for your accounts?

A No Not at all

Q Okay Okay During the call, was there any discussion of loans to MoBo?

A Yes I -- you know, to the best of my recollection, I do remember -- and she would have been familiar with the loans that we had from the institutions to MoBo And I do -- I do recall -- again, I was driving I didn't take notes during the call But I do recall that we discussed some of the -- the other loans to MoBo

Q From individuals?

A From individuals

Q Okay

A My recollection serves that we did discuss that

Q When you say "institutional loans," there was a credit line from way back when for MoBo?

A There was -- there was a credit line through TowneBank that we had But what I mean is just a status, kind of an amortization schedule of some of the other institutional loans we had with -- with Bank @Lantec or, you know, other -- the other banks

Q And as we said earlier, those institutional loans were on the properties? They weren't actually MoBo But it was the business that MoBo was managing?

A That's exactly right

Q Okay

A They were in my name and Bob's names, those institutional loans

Q Okay So she agreed that you would -- or that Bob would give her the numbers and passwords to the account And how was the -- how did the call end?

A Well, she had a lot -- she had a lot of to-dos, I recall And Bob had the to-do to send her all the passwords and to e-mail all of that information And then she had some documents And she had a lot of work to do to help us make sense of, frankly, both accounts Not just MoBo, but the BRH account That was also askew because of the transfers that were going on

Q Okay So that call was on February 2nd

MR SMALL: Can we call up RM-2062, already in evidence

BY MR SMALL:

Q This is an e-mail on Monday, February 4th; is that correct?

A Yes

Q So going back from that Saturday -- oh, okay The -- February 2nd, the call was on a Saturday, correct?

A It was on a Saturday

Q Okay All right So this is Monday, February 4th And you are copied -- this is from Bob, right?

A Correct

Q And it's at a little after midnight on -- actually, it's Sunday night, Monday morning, right? 12:23 a m ?

A That's correct It's Sunday night So it's, well, effectively, the next day, but Monday morning, yes

Q Okay So someone is up working late?

A Yes Yes

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor

BY MR SMALL:

Q And it says, "Brenda As discussed, I authorize you to have on-line access to the TowneBank account for MoBo Real Estate Partners, LLC for the limited purpose of providing regular bookkeeping services for the corporation " Did I read that correctly?

A That's correct

Q And is that what you had agreed to do in the February 2nd conference call?

A Yes

Q Okay And then there are instructions and names and passwords And then at the bottom it says, "Let me know if you have any problems "

A Correct

Q Did I read that correctly?

A Yes, you did

Q And then it also indicates that he's sending her Sandbridge Realty statements, right?

A That's right

Q And those would be the statements that would reflect rents and the brokerage fees and that sort of thing?

A Exactly We'd get monthly statements that they e-mailed to us that has all of that and every other expense, yes

Q Okay And he also promises to get some further information on owners contributions, correct?

A Correct Uh-huh

Q Okay And by the way, you have an account -- or one of your businesses, I think, has an account with TowneBank; is that right?

A Yes We had a -- I had an account there with my husband, a joint account, when we were married And I had my consulting business account with TowneBank as well

Q And you would access it, from time to time, on-line, your account?

A I would access those accounts I -- not the -- not MoBo But yes, I'd access those

Q But on your accounts, when you would access them on-line, did TowneBank have the feature where if you see an entry, you can click on it and it will bring up the backup?

A Yes

Q Okay So -- okay And for these TowneBank statements, the loans from your father would have gone into this account, right?

A Correct

Q And the loans from Dr Davis -- I say "loans " The three payments from Dr Davis went into this account, right?

A Yes

Q And the loans -- two loans from Jonnie Williams went into this account, right?

A From Starwood went into the account

Q From Starwood?

A Yes

Q So as of February 4th, 2013, Brenda has access to all -- everything that is there in TowneBank, right?

A Correct

Q Okay Now -- and Bob promises a number of other things And did he continue to provide her with additional information?

A Yes I presume he -- I'm sure he did And I did too in terms of the owners contribution Because what we also wanted to do this time is actually file taxes on time, which was important We hadn't for years And --

Q You anticipated where I was going

A Oh

Q Thank you

A Okay

Q That's quite all right

The normal tax filing day is April 15, right?

A Correct

Q Everybody knows April 15th

A Yes

Q But you can file for an extension, and that will move it to October 15th, right?

A Yes

Q And is it fair to say that every year prior to this because Michael was -- at least in the recent years, because Michael had been slow on the accounting, you had to file for extensions?

A Yes

MS. ABER: Your Honor, I have to object to the leading here

MR SMALL: I can go slow, Your Honor I'll back up

THE COURT: Are you almost finished?

MR SMALL: No I've got a little more, Your Honor But we can take a break at this point if you wish

THE COURT: We'll stop here for lunch

If you all could come back at 2:15, we'll get started with the afternoon session

(The jury left the courtroom)

///

///

(Luncheon recess taken from 1:05 p m. to 2:15 p m.)

THE COURT: All right, bring in the jury, please

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, go ahead.

BY MR. SMALL:

Q Good afternoon, Ms McDonnell

A Good afternoon.

Q Let me just close out a couple of things First, we talked about the Davis loan being paid off Do you recall that testimony?

A Yes, I do.

Q Could we call up Government Exhibit 499, already admitted, Page 6, please When the loan was paid off, we saw earlier the $20,000 in 2012 Did you eventually get a receipt from Dr Davis?

A Yes, we did.

Q And is this the receipt you got from Dr Davis?

A Yes

Q And it says, "MoBo Real Estate has paid off the entire $50,000 loan with interest at seven-and-a-half percent"; is that correct?

A Correct

Q All right So the checks were made out to MoBo, correct?

A The checks were made out to MoBo. yes

Q Deposited in MoBo's account and used for MoBo expenses, correct?

A Correct

Q And the payoff receipt is to MoBo, correct?

A Correct

Q All right And then just to close out MoBo, did you get every year a balance sheet and profit and loss from Brenda Chamberlain on MoBo?

A Yes, she would have copied, sent it to us and to our accountant

Q If we could call up RM-0244 Is this the balance sheet and profit and loss for MoBo for 2013?

A I think so. There we go Yes, it is

MR. SMALL: Offer that in evidence, Your Honor

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor We object because this is for the totality of the year 2013 and the conduct in this case only goes, the relevant conduct is in February

THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

MR. SMALL: May we approach? I need this for the summary witness That's all I need it for

THE COURT: Come on up Let's make this quick

(At Bench.)

MR. SMALL: Your Honor, we are simply using the

2013 as part of our summary charts to show the progress of MoBo, that the rental income --

THE COURT: But that doesn't make it relevant

MR. SMALL: It is certainly relevant to the extent that we are talking about MoBo and how it moved forward from year to year and what the finances were And 2013, the first half of 2013, is certainly within the time period here We don't have -- if we had a first four months of 2013 balance sheet, it would be different

MR. DRY: Your Honor, they have an expert Their expert can go through the numbers with the relevant time period. Now what they are trying to do is put in financial records that will mislead the jury about a bunch of payments that were made after the fact

THE COURT: The objection is sustained. Your guy can talk about exact dates, and if he is not able to put that together, that's his problem. Thank you.

(In Open Court)

BY MR. SMALL:

Q All right You can take that down. You had a relationship -- let me switch to another topic -- you had a relationship with PenFed Credit Union; is that correct?

A Correct Yes

Q And how long had you known the folks at PenFed prior to 2013?

A I can't quite pinpoint when I became a member, but I have been a member for many years I don't recall the exact year

Q And in 2013, were you going through with your brother, Bob, the process of trying to refinance some loans with PenFed?

A Bob and my sister, Eileen, and I were going through a process of trying to refinance a lot of properties, some personal, the mountain house and the two beach houses

Q And who did you -- who was your main contact at PenFed?

A Nan Bolt was my main contact

Q Nan Bolt?

A Nanette Bolt

Q And in late January, early February, did you have a conference call with Nan Bolt and your brother about that refi?

A We had our first conference call with my sister was on, and my brother and Nan, and several other members of the PenFed team. And it was, I believe, January 23rd was the first call with all of us together

Q All right And as a result of that call, did you send in some documents to begin the process?

A I did. I had a subsequent call with her that afternoon with, I believe, Larry Blake, and each, Eileen and Bob, also had calls separately sometime during that day, I presume, but to begin to give her information so she could populate an application. And then she did request a number of documents from us, from me personally

Q Okay And can we call up for the witness only RM-0263, please? After that call in late January, did you send her a draft application?

A Yes So from the call we had, she had populated the application and she sent me what was the first of what became many iterations, but sent me the first draft to begin to edit

Q And you sent it back to her with some comments, correct?

A I did There was a lot wrong, including my birthday, for example, which --

MR. SMALL: I offer that into evidence, Your Honor

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor Relevance, first of all, because Ms McDonnell can testify about what Ms Bolt told her, but her own actions as a result of that conversation are irrelevant

THE COURT: Overruled.

BY MR SMALL:

Q Can we publish that? So fair to say, I'm not going to go into a lot of details, but there were a number of blanks here, were there not, a number of things missing?

A There was a whole lot missing And I have a number of notes here and it really began the process There were some loans that were not mapped properly with some debt, meaning some property addresses and debt were not in alignment, and there were just a lot of things that were not accurate that I had to begin to correct

Q And when you say began the process, how long did that process go?

A Well, personally, with Nan, with PenFed, I closed four mortgages And the process began, what kicked off in my first touch with her in late January, I probably, I had a communication with her until the beginning of July, throughout those months

Q And so this was part of the beginning of that process

A It was the very beginning of the process

Q All right And have you at my request, have you reviewed your cell phone records for the six months after this?

A I have, from the end of January to the beginning of July

Q And do those cell phone records reflect that process going forward?

A Yes, they do

Q Tell us about that

A Well, I talked to Nan -- you know, it was interesting; I knew that I talked to her all the time, with frequency And when you asked me to look at that, I actually calculated the number of calls I made to Nan within a period of time, and we had on my cell phone alone, not -- at the exclusion of conference calls and my work phone, I talked to her plenty there -- but on my cell phone alone I had 158 calls from the end of January, beginning of February, until about the end of June There might have been one into July

Q So after this draft was sent in, you had 150 phone calls with Nan Bolt

THE COURT: That's what she just said.

MR. SMALL: I know that

THE COURT: Then why ask the question again?

MR SMALL: Because I have a follow-up question.

THE COURT: Then ask the follow-up question.

We are not going to be here all day for you to repeat questions

MR. SMALL: Thank you, Your Honor

BY MR. SMALL:

Q Did you also look at how many of those calls were lengthy?

A Yes

Q Tell us about that

A I would say it was evenly split There were some that were messages left or that you could tell because it was one or two minutes in duration But many of them were, several of them were 20 minutes, 30 minutes, I think, 40 minutes There were some very lengthy calls we had during that time period.

Q During those calls, did you talk with Nan Bolt about the loans that, the individual loans that MoBo had received?

A Yes I talked to her about them, just the two of us, but I also talked to her about them with my brother on the line on a couple of occasions

Q What did she tell you?

A She told me that the loans to the business from an individual, that it wasn't necessary to list those business loans on my application.

Q Okay And did you have that discussion with her once or more than once?

A We had it a few times As I said, I had it with her and when she said I didn't need it, I didn't really worry about it too much, she is the lender, but we had a couple of joint calls when it came to the property in Sandbridge, and that was brought up again We wanted just to get clarity on that with the loan to my dad and the loan to

Williams, and then I recall Bob had a different LLC loan for Racehorse or his law firm that he was wondering whether he had to list or should list

Q After you had those discussions about the loans from these individuals, did the bank put those loans on the closing documents or no?

MS ABER: Objection.

THE COURT: She can answer

BY MR SMALL:

Q Did the bank put those loans on the closing documents?

A No.

Q They did not?

A They did not

Q Okay Call up RM-0284 just for the witness, please Actually, you know what, let's not bother with that We will go on

Okay, at the end of 2012, did you receive a large payout from the sale of Amerigroup, the company that you were working for that you testified had gotten acquired?

A Yes, I did.

Q About how much was that?

A Oh, gosh, I want to say that it was at least $150,000 or so.

Q And did you have a discussion with your brother, Bob, about using that money to pay off some of these individual loans?

A I did. I had a lot of free -- I shouldn't say free, available capital Before I invested it I just thought it would be good to discuss with him if we wanted to pay down any of the loans that we had, which at that time, you know I paid off Dr Davis then, so I had asked do we want to pay off Williams or do we want to start to pay down my dad more with the capital that I could bring to the table, before I tied it up in investments

Q What did he say?

A Well, you know, he said, you know, "Probably not yet " It is not, the interest rate is low, and just again the basic theory is we could -- more interest, I could earn more interest on that money by investing it myself as opposed to paying it down. My dad's loan was a decent rate, and as was the Williams loan.

Q Moving forward to July, 2013, after the investigation broke, did you in fact pay back the loan?

A The loan to --

Q Jonnie Williams

A Yes, we paid it back last summer

Q How easy or difficult was that?

A It was quite easy Would you like to know specifically?

Q Sure

A So I took a withdrawal from my IBM 401(k) with the 60-day rollover option, and I sold some of my Amerigroup stock within 60 days, and I just replenished the account and opened an IRA with that So it was -- it was a couple of phone calls and they wired the money into the account and it was pretty -- it was rather painless to do that, yes

Q Okay And just a couple more questions, Ms McDonnell

A Okay

Q We have talked about some of the problems or issues that you had or observed with Bob's wife, Maureen. Let me ask you: When you raised those issues with Bob, generally what was his reaction?

A He was -- he defended her and supported her, generally speaking

Q Okay And was that fairly consistent?

A Yes

Q Okay Through these transactions, did you ever have any sense of financial desperation?

A For me personally?

Q For you personally or for MoBo.

A Neither

Q Did you need Jonnie Williams' loans or did you decide to get them?

A We decided to get them. It certainly wasn't the only option. It was just one of the first

Q And through these transactions, has your -- have your views of your brother's integrity changed at all?

A Not one bit

MR. SMALL: Nothing further Thank you, Ms McDonnell

THE COURT: All right Mr Burck?

MR. BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Good afternoon.

A Good afternoon.

Q I just wanted to you ask just a few questions about Dr Davis

A Sure

Q I think you testified that it was Maureen McDonnell who introduced you to Dr Davis and his wife?

A I believe she did. Well, we actually met him, I met him and had a conversation with him initially when we went to pick up the check, but she talked about him in terms of introducing his name She had talked about him with me

Q So fair to say that Dr Davis and his wife were friends of Maureen McDonnell's?

A Oh, yes, they were They were friends of both my brother and his wife.

Q Okay And this was in 2009, 2010, that Dr Davis gave the loan?

A Yes

Q $50,000 loan to MoBo?

A Yes

Q And at that point, fair to say that Ms McDonnell was the one who suggested Dr Davis as a potential investor or creditor in MoBo?

A That's correct

Q Now, fast forwarding to 2011, you testified about a conversation you had with Maureen about Jonnie Williams

A Correct

Q In roughly April of 2011?

A Yes

Q And she described him as a friend?

A Yes

Q And also, in that conversation, she was describing, she was suggesting him as a potential investor or purchaser of the properties

A That's right

Q So fair to say that she introduced you to Jonnie Williams as well as a potential investor in MoBo, two years after Dr Davis

A That's correct Introduced by way of mentioning his name I never met him.

Q Right And then in 2012, when there was actually a loan from Mr Williams, she was involved in those discussions as well We have seen the texts

A Yes

MR. BURCK: That's it for me. Thank you.

THE COURT: All right Government?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MS ABER:

Q Good afternoon, Ms McDonnell

A Good afternoon. Yes, thank you.

Q I'd like to start at sort of the end of what Mr Small was asking you about in reference to Pentagon Federal Credit Union. I think you said that you spoke with Ms Bolt quite frequently; is that right?

A I did.

Q And just to clarify, though, when you were talking to Ms Bolt, you were refinancing more than one loan, right?

A I was I had four that I had closed during that period.

Q That was your personal residence and Sandbridge and Blue Ridge Heaven as well?

A Yes, and I have another rental property in Virginia Beach that I own personally

Q And in reference to when Ms Bolt said whether or not Starwood Trust or personal loans needed to be included on the forms, you are not exactly sure when she said that, are you?

A It is a good question. I recall that, I believe we broached that sometime in February, and when we were still going through the process of the application, and she said that "When you fill out one it is going to populate all the others," so we didn't have to revisit all the different applications, but one set of data and finances would carry over

Q Okay I'd like to show you something in the hopes of refreshing your recollection.

(Documents proffered to witness)

Ma'am, if you could take a look at the green sticky note, just read that to yourself See if that refreshes your recollection as to when Ms Bolt first made those references

(Witness perusing document)

MR SMALL: Page?

MS ABER: 82, 12 through 14, as well as 83, 15 through 19

BY MS ABER:

Q All right?

A That's really consistent, Ms Aber It was

February-March, I just don't remember exactly when. There were so many conversations, they start to bleed together There was one when Bob and I were on the phone together with her I can't give you the precise date of that It would be in February or March.

Q Of 2013?

A Yes

Q Thanks If you don't mind, can I please have those back?

(Documents proffered to counsel)

Now, changing topics, ma'am, and sort of starting at the beginning of this, you and your brother purchased the first Sandbridge property in 2005; is that right?

A That's right

Q And you all paid approximately $1 15 million for it?

A That's correct

Q And MoBo is not on the title of that property, is it?

A No

Q You and your brother are on the title; is that right?

A Yes

Q And you both purchased another house across the street in 2006, right?

A We did.

Q You did. Okay I think you described that as a very small, very modest home; is that right?

A Correct

Q But the purchase price was approximately $850,000; is that right?

A That's right

Q Now, MoBo is not on that title, either, correct?

A Correct

Q And you and your brother are on that title as well, right?

A Correct

Q Each, as I understand it, you and your brother, each put in 50 percent of the downpayment for each of those houses; is that right?

A That's right, as I recall Yes

Q And you both purchased, unfortunately, these homes at the top of the market; is that right?

A Well, I think it went up a little bit after we purchased them, but there were still some speculative buyers who actually flipped the property in the year after that, but that wasn't our interest

Q But you all didn't use cash to buy these houses, right, for the downpayments, no cash?

A No, we wouldn't have used cash for that

Q Because you both took out home equity lines of credit from your primary residences to buy those houses, right?

A Yes As I mentioned on direct, that was, my accountant/financial planner thought it would be wise to use the equity in my home to do that

Q Your brother did the same thing with his primary residence, took the line of credit to make the downpayment on the two Sandbridge houses, right?

A I believe so But we will need to verify that with him. I believe so, though.

Q That's somebody else's opportunity

A Okay

Q Now, you and Mr McDonnell were each personally responsible for those mortgages on the two Sandbridge houses, right?

A We were both personally responsible and signed the notes in our names for those two mortgages, yes

Q Right So if the houses had foreclosed or you defaulted in some way, it would be you and your brother personally on the hook, right?

A I don't think that would have been an eventuality, but yes, it would have been our liability

Q It would not have been MoBo's liability, right?

A It would have been the liability of Bob and of me

Q Now, as you talked about extensively, the rental income unfortunately did not cover all of the expenses associated with these houses, right?

A That's correct As we projected they wouldn't, yes

Q It didn't cover every year what I think you said was a significant event, like bed bugs, right? Or painting? Is that correct?

A Painting was maintenance, it wasn't a significant event A significant event would be somewhere in the five to ten thousand unforseen. We have never had bed bugs but once in nine years, and the HVAC system, something that is of fairly major capital expense that is typically not included in a pro forma

Q Something like that unfortunately happened pretty much every year with the Sandbridge houses, right?

A I think we talked about that before, and we did have some unfortunate luck when it came to, I don't know if it was every year, but it became with some frequency that we needed to do that

Q And almost immediately after purchasing, at least one of the properties, I think you tried to do a third-floor living space; you tried to add on to increase rental income, right?

A We did add on because we looked at the market, and there were not at that time in 2005, there were not any large homes in Sandbridge. And so what we had built was a very, it was a large home, it was one of the two largest in terms of the sleeps number in Sandbridge And so we really had a unique kind of a distinctive property in that rental pool for a while until a lot of others were torn down and built up. But there was an intention in doing that to have a large home, not only to accommodate our huge family, but also for renters

Q Now, the estimates you got up front, I think you called it the pro forma, indicated that the rental income would cover the debt service; is that right?

A I believe that's right And when we first looked at the property, that it would cover the mortgages, just not necessarily all the other expenses associated.

Q Right And you ended up having a 50 to $60,000 shortfall pretty much every year, right?

A Yes I think I said anywhere from 40 to 60 There is a range in which there would be a shortfall, yes

Q But that was more than you had planned on, right, at the outset?

A You know, I don't know that I would necessarily say that I think Bob and I discussed what was palatable for us would be it might be anywhere from 20 to 30--excuse me, 40 to 60, so 20 to 30 out of pocket each year, or loan each year It was somewhere in that range, if I am to look back to the 2005-2006 time frame

Q So by 2009, you and your brother talked about putting the Sandbridge houses up for sale, right?

A We did, as I mentioned earlier Just the properties weren't really a priority for us anymore with a lot of things going on in both of our lives

Q And let's take a look again at Government Exhibit 48, please Now, starting at the bottom, you may recall this is the e-mail between you and Mr Bucker, the successful real estate agent, about potentially putting the houses on the market, right?

A Correct

Q I want to direct your attention to the e-mail above that, in which you write, "As I think you discussed briefly, I'd like to list it," something along the lines of "I'd like to get it listed ASAP to relieve some financial pressures " Do you see where you wrote that?

A Yes

Q Now, you are not saying that MoBo is not a priority for you, are you, there? At least that's not the words on the e-mail, right?

A Well, this is a pretty quick e-mail I was just wrapping my intent around what I was asked about this earlier, which is it just wasn't a priority and my husband's business was not doing particularly well I was doing fine, but yeah, I mean, there were a lot of pressures associated with MoBo, with the properties So yes

Q Financial pressures, right?

A Well, I think there were a lot of pressures, including my husband's need to try to maintain this and run a business, and I was sick, and there were a lot of things going on in our lives It just wasn't top of mind for us

Q But you would agree with me sitting here looking at this very brief e-mail, as you say, that it doesn't say, "Hey, brother, I'm really busy" or "I have other priorities " The reason you say that you would like to have it listed ASAP is to relieve some financial pressures, right?

A Well, again, I think that this was the period that the rental had dropped about 20 percent, so we were feeling more than the pro forma would indicate We didn't completely predict, and I'm not sure who would, but the recession in 2009 And so as I said, the rents, across the board, were discounted. There was probably in that period a little bit of a bigger gap. But, you know, what isn't stated here is that I could have put money in, I just chose not to When I say financial pressure, it was in the MoBo account, not for me personally, yeah

Q Let's look at your brother's e-mail at the top there, please

A Sure

Q Your brother writes that "We can't come up with money to sell " Now, your testimony, I believe, was that just referred to the MoBo operating account That's what you took that to mean But that you have the money; is that right? You could have made it work? Correct?

A Absolutely If that was the only option and the last resort and we had to sell the properties, then I had assets that could be easily liquidated to bring money to the close I just didn't want to.

Q And in order to liquidate those assets, that would be, for example, your retirement account, right?

A Or stock.

Q Or stock Okay And that would come with penalties potentially, at least from the retirement account, right?

A Well, again, I did that when we paid the loan back last summer, so to me, it wasn't changing my lifestyle I wasn't changing anything for me It wasn't a pain point for me to do that

Q I'm not sure you answered my question, though. Would withdrawing money from your retirement account cause you to pay penalties?

A I would assume so I have never withdrawn money with penalties I suppose I could. I don't know what they are I withdrew money, but I repopulated it so I didn't have any penalties

Q What about tax ramifications? Would withdrawing money early from a retirement account have tax ramifications potentially?

A Sure But to be honest with you, if I looked at my asset mix, I probably would have sold stock That could be done in a day So if I had to, that would have been my first option. The last resort would be to look at my couple retirement accounts I would have sat down likely with my accountant and gone through what is the best way to do it without tax penalties and issues and other ramifications I would have gotten some help to guide me through that process

Q Okay I'm actually going to ask you a yes or no question on this one Yes or no. As of this point, had you already taken approximately $110,000 in loans from your father?

A Yes

Q Okay And so you thought it made good business sense not to withdraw the retirement money or whatever other assets you had, and instead take the loan from your father

A It made fine business sense, and he and my family were fine with that He had, as you know, a large estate that we talked about earlier, and the interest rate was fine, and so it was, my family was all supportive of that

Q You didn't have a written loan agreement with your father, did you?

A We didn't at that time And I think there's a lot that Bob and I have done and we have done with the business between the two of us or family that we haven't had a written loan agreement There's two of us, and we have a very tight family who really trusts each other So it is not uncommon that I wouldn't have had a tight loan agreement that day with our dad. We did later, but not at that moment

Q How much later?

A Oh, I think it was when -- I think it was when, after he passed, because he passed in 2010 As I said, these loans were in 2007 and 2008 One of the reasons, they were netted against the proceeds of the estate So in other words, in some measure, the exact amount that's owed was netted against what we would have each gotten as part of the estate, if that makes sense

Q So if I'm understanding you, you all didn't make payments back to your father before he passed?

A We did make some payments, and we did have some payments made initially, and then we had this conversation with my sister, who had power of attorney, that we were going to net against the estate proceeds at the time, whenever he would pass, and that was perfectly acceptable

Q So both you and your brother paid back this loan from your father as a net against his estate, as a reduction from his estate

A We did. It gets a little complicated, because we still have an asset, my dad's house, that has not been liquidated So we have -- there is a percentage that we all have for that, so we do still have a balance of the loan that we pay twice a year, basically

Q Okay Changing topics, I'd like to bring up Government Exhibit 49, which I believe is just a couple months after -- this is admitted. I'm sorry This is just a couple months after Exhibit 48 that we just looked at Let's take Page 2, please I'd like to take a look at the bottom e-mail there Now, you write, I think you testified you had been talking to Betsy about the potential for the sales market and you write there, "What she suggested is brutal " Did I understand your testimony correctly earlier that when you wrote "brutal" you didn't really mean brutal?

A No, I meant brutal, but I meant, you know, the market clearly was brutal Everybody who tried to sell or had property probably felt that in 2009, and particularly in a vacation community So what she suggested overall and basically her assessment of the real estate market in Sandbridge was, it was a brutal market And for me, and again, I suggested that, you know, I used some pretty strong language at times, that's who I am, and to say it was brutal, I think to drop it -- just looking at the sheer percentage of drop for a property, that was a big drop That was just my word choice, that the market was brutal and that was a pretty big drop

Q Looking at the second paragraph, you write, "We will either need to take a hit on the sale price or come up with $60,000 in a few months to make it through another off season "

A Right

Q Those are pretty much the two options, either you ponied up $60,000 or you took a reduction on the sales price of the houses Is that fair to say?

A Tell me the date again, please, of this

Q August of 2009 You can back out

A It is fine Again, we had the properties for now four years from the time we purchased the first one, so it was just here we go again, we are back into the cycle I was kind of coming out of my medical issue at that point, and I think it was, you know, MoBo is not the top of mind for me These are not the priorities of my husband and I any longer, and we need to start thinking about a loan is what that means We are thinking about moving cash into the MoBo checking account, or there is an option, we could sell or lower the price And so we moved forward with getting a loan that year

Q So let me take you to Government Exhibit 51, please, which has been admitted. This is the "magical partner" e-mail

A Oh, sure

Q I want to start at the bottom there, please, and then scroll up to the top. So Mr Uncapher asks you and your brother and your sister-in-law whether you all have had any luck finding a magical partner, right? As I understand, if we scroll up, you, I believe, testified that you wrote this sort of emphatic e-mail because you were concerned your brother hadn't responded; is that right?

A Well, that's right As I said, I think during this period, you know, I'll be very candid that I used some pretty strong language or used caps, which is not my traditional style to get his attention. And he hadn't responded. And so I needed his attention on this

Q You realized, though, that you are only responding about an hour after Mr Uncapher sends his magical partner e-mail

A Yeah. I don't know if there was communication prior to that that I'm not seeing, if Michael had any other communication with Bob on that But no, I mean, I find that sometimes frankly both Michael and my brother -- excuse me, my brother and I would both ignore Michael's e-mails He is not the only one This got my attention, so, and it was, yes, it might have been an hour, but I wanted to put my commentary on it before I sent it on to Bob

Q Just so I'm clear, because I guess I'm a little confused now: Are you saying when you wrote "We need to act NOW" with "now" in all caps, it was not actually an urgent situation in which you needed to act?

A I will tell you just the history, in August of a given year

Q I don't mean to be rude, but the history part, this will go on for a long time

MR. SMALL: Objection.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

BY MS ABER:

Q I guess the question on the table is, when you write, "We need to act NOW" in all caps, is it your testimony here that you did not believe that you needed to act now, urgently?

A I would like to see the bank statement, but I'm sure we had money in it We needed to start thinking about the slow season, which started in December So it wasn't an August situation, but come December and January, we would have needed to put money in the account

A Sometimes those things take a few months to plan to get a loan. So --

Q The references to short sales and bankruptcy in this e-mail, your testimony today is that you never talked about a short sale of these properties with your brother

A We never talked about it There were two e-mails, this and another one you had showed me in the grand jury, that mentioned it when I was reporting out on my call with Betsy But we had never had a conversation aside from what I wrote about a short sale It was never entertained. I never looked into it more

Q Your testimony is that you and your brother never discussed bankruptcy as well

A No, we didn't Never

Q Now, in reference to getting your brother's attention, you can take that down, please, I think on direct you testified that you talked maybe once a month with your brother; is that accurate?

A No, I think I said that we had gone from talking a few times a week to maybe actually talking a few times a month. We would text But the communication dwindled quite a bit, I would say, and I'm just giving you a swag on that I know we certainly didn't talk as much as we had in previous times when he wasn't Governor

Q Would it surprise you to know that from December of '09 through April of 2013, your cell phone bills show approximately six communications per month of phone calls?

A No I mean, I said a few I don't know how many I haven't looked at that But when I think about the way we used to communicate for the 20 years prior to that, it was much more frequent I would go visit him a lot We would communicate quite a bit So six would absolutely be in range, sure

Q I believe in reference to some of the other e-mails we have seen, you said you were trying to get your brother's attention because MoBo was really not at the top of either of your priority lists in the 2009, 2010, 2011 period. Is that accurate?

A It wasn't at the top of my priority list in that period when I was struggling with health and a lot of other issues in life were getting in the way

Q It remained, as best you could tell, at the top of your brother's priority list?

A One more time?

Q MoBo remained at the top of your brother's, among the top of his priorities; is that right?

A Gosh, I can't really speak for his priorities I don't think so If I were to say what I know he was doing in that period of time, I can't imagine it was something he thought about every day He would have to speak to that

Q Let me bring up Government Exhibit 710, please, which has not been admitted. Is this an e-mail exchange between you and, the top one specifically, between you and Mr Uncapher and your brother, Mr McDonnell?

A I'm sorry, I need to read it, but I need it a little bigger if you don't mind Can you scroll down to the bottom, please?

(Witness perusing document)

Q I have a paper copy as well

A Oh, you do?

Q Uh-huh.

A Thank you.

(Document proffered to witness)

MR. SMALL: Do you have a copy?

MS ABER: Not on me, sir They are in the binders behind you, I believe

BY MS ABER:

Q So this is an e-mail exchange again roughly between you and your brother and your ex-husband in March of 2011, and the bottom reference is a wire transfer; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay

MS ABER: I'd like to move Government Exhibit 710 into evidence, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MS ABER:

Q Starting at the bottom, ma'am, as we scroll, March of 2011, that's before your ex-husband left the scene and control was handed over to your brother, right, of the books?

A Yes He maintained the books until 2012, the end of 2012

Q So this bottom e-mail, though, reflects that your brother is directing a wire transfer to be deducted in relation to MoBo; is that correct?

A He is And I would imagine it is in response to something Mike had asked us to do because we would do that, I would do that for my account, too, if we needed to put money in. I did that on occasion.

Q If we can scroll up, I'd like to take note of what your brother specifically writes. "I directed the following," he writes "She is going to inspect both houses fully and report to me on the conditions and ideas for improvements We need to replace the rest of the bed comforters and probably the hall carpet She is getting the estimates " The e-mail goes on to reference maintenance agreements he dealt with, spring deep cleaning, air filter service, June pest control He even ordered curbside recycling barrels Is that all in there?

A It is And what would be interesting to note is if this is following one of our March visits, because if he was on the ground, generally, when we would meet at the house for maintenance, we would meet with the property manager, Sandy Munden was one of them. Mo, mentioned here, is one of them. I would come up with a similar list if I were there You just do inventory of what needs to be done So yes, this looks normal to me

Q In fact, you were very involved in the maintenance and upkeep of these houses, right? Personally?

A Well, we did, as I said, and I believe we might have talked about it in the grand jury or in August, that we would go and actually make it a pretty fun weekend and maintain the properties And it was very therapeutic for Bob, as he said. It helped him try to feel normal, to put his hands in the dirt and plant and power wash for 18 hours under the moonlight I didn't prefer it, but he did. So yeah, we would have a great time working hard to maintain the properties

A We would do it a couple times a year

Q Okay Changing subjects, please Dr Davis Now, fair to say, yes or no, that you and Mr McDonnell had decided to take private loans to help with the shortage of cash? Illiquid cash?

A Yes As I said earlier, we just made a fundamental decision to take loans as opposed to liquidate the resources that I had or he may have had.

Q Okay And in reference to the Dr Davis loan, I think you testified that your brother negotiated the terms with Dr Davis; is that right?

A Correct

Q Now, originally, Dr Davis agreed to give you all this money even without a promissory note signed, right?

A I would imagine so I wasn't involved in when we would have a promissory note, but we indeed signed one when we got the last payment in March of that year, I believe

Q So if I could bring up 55, please, which has been admitted, Government's 55 So when you and your then husband went to pick up this check, I believe you said you had a nice social experience at Dr Davis' home, you had not yet signed a promissory note, right?

A That's correct

Q And Dr Davis also gave your then husband, Mr Uncapher, $100 in cash. Do you remember that?

A I see that I see that that was the case as well, yes And he mentioned it once we got in the car

Q So in total that day, you had $10,000 Correct?

A Correct

Q But you ultimately requested more money from Dr Davis, right?

A Well, as I said, I think the discussion was really about a $50,000 loan, but to be paid over three months when the money was needed as opposed to an up-front of 50 It was going to be 10 and 20 and, yes, 20 So yes, correct

Q You can take that down. So you got another 20 in February of 2010, correct?

A Correct

Q 20,000, I mean.

A Correct

Q And Dr Davis at that point wanted a written agreement, right?

A Yeah, I do believe that we had discussed memorializing the agreement, and I think by the time -- I mean, we were friends I became very friendly with he and his wife at that point, went to their Christmas party So I don't think there was any urgency It was a gentleman's agreement And I think both whether we asked for it, and I'm not sure if we didn't, or his accountant, it was a joint effort to get the promissory note created

Q Could we bring up Government Exhibit 60, please, which has been admitted? This is the promissory note you signed with Dr Davis in March of 2010, right?

A Yes

Q And at the bottom, that has both or all three signatures of your brother, Mr Uncapher, and you, correct?

A That's correct

Q Scrolling up to the top, that $50,000 amount of the note, that's for all of the payments we have just discussed, right?

A That's right And that's after they were all received, right

Q And noting your signature at the bottom, you were personally liable to pay this note, right? Among the three of you, you were all personally liable

A You know, I apologize, I'm not really a lawyer But it was -- the loan was to MoBo and made to MoBo, put in the MoBo account, and I signed this as a principal of MoBo. So --

Q Is MoBo referenced on here somewhere?

A No, it is not I mean, I really didn't -- but the check wasn't made to me It was made to the business and used for the business and paid back by the business and receipted by the business So honestly, I signed it, but this is a friend we did business with, and I don't think at the time I made a big deal whether MoBo was on there or not, to be honest with you.

Q But the first time you met Dr Davis was back when you picked up the check in December of 2009, right?

A Yes I had heard about him prior to that, and again, we may have -- I may have -- he may have been pointed out to me from across the room at a social event or political event, but I hadn't actually had a conversation and gotten to know him until that point from my recollection.

Q Now, Dr Davis, unfortunately, passed away this year, right?

A Yes

Q If we could bring back up, please, Government Exhibit 60 Could you read for the jury the first line of the third paragraph, please?

A "Each person liable hereon, whether as maker, endorser, surety, guarantor or otherwise --"

Q You can stop there It is legalese

A Yes

Q You can take that down, please Now, let me ask you this: At the time you picked up Dr Davis' first check in December of 2009, were you an employee of the Commonwealth of Virginia?

A Was I an employee of the Commonwealth of Virginia in 2009?

Q Did you work for the state in December of 2009?

A No.

Q So you did not have to file a Statement of Economic Interests, right?

A I've never filed one, no No

Q Okay Changing topics now: Is it fair to say from time to time as you talked about there were late fees on these loans? Meaning that -- meaning the bank loans?

A There were late fees, as we have discussed.

Q Okay And let me bring up specifically RM-0659, a defense exhibit that's been admitted. Now, ma'am, this e-mail at the bottom is in reference to the water being shut off that you talked about on direct

A Uh-huh.

Q It was sent to both you and your brother; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And after the water was shut off, neither you nor your brother thought about putting the bill on autopay?

A You know, I've got to be honest, I don't know if public utilities have autopay I assume they do But we didn't, honestly, my husband had things on autopay on occasion, but no, it just isn't something we thought about The thing we thought about is we need better planning and line of sight from the person keeping the books, who was my husband. This is inexcusable for $100

Q But your husband, was he being compensated for helping out with MoBo?

A No, but I wasn't, either We put a lot of money into -- a lot of time and sweat equity into it But that was part of the agreement I was married to him. And I earn -- I was working and this was his part and contribution for this LLC

Q But he wasn't a partner in MoBo. He, I mean Mr Uncapher, was not a partner in MoBo, right?

A It was Bob and I Yes

Q Now bringing up Government Exhibit 90, please And this has been admitted. At the bottom there is an e-mail from Mr Uncapher to you and your brother in March of 2011 breaking out the various loans and what would be due Am I correct in reading this that there were four loans for the two vacation properties?

A Yes And I believe one is actually a line of credit Uh-huh.

Q And are these interest only loans?

A You are dating me back to 2011, and I would have to pull all the terms of each of those notes, but I know the NFCU one is not an interest only It is a home equity against the property And these other two, I don't believe, are interest only I'm sorry, I would have to see all of them to tell you the rate and what the terms of the loan are Okay?

Q In reference to Bank @Lantec at the bottom there, you all hadn't negotiated with Bank @Lantec about all the late fees that were accruing, right?

A Well, there is a communication that I was on vacation for a week and I rode down with my husband and talked to somebody there so we could kind of get a handle on it, and I think there was a communication that the rate changed and we played -- there were a couple of them where we paid the previous mortgage. it had adjusted, and we had paid the previous, so we had an issue there

Q When you went to the Bank @Lantec location to negotiate the fees with Mr Uncapher, you had your brother on the phone, right?

A We patched him in for some of that meeting, yes, absolutely

Q You can take that down, please In fact, Mayor Sessoms was very kind to keep calling you all personally about the late fees, right?

A Well, now, this is Bank @Lantec

Q TowneBank, separate bank. Mayor Sessoms, he personally called you to say, "Hey, you are running behind."

A I will say that he called me I don't know that he ever called my brother But he called me, I would say probably, I don't know how many times, but a handful of times over the duration when Michael was managing the property because just -- I think he got the sense that maybe Michael, we weren't aware of it and so he would personally call me And then we would take care of it

Q In fact, Mayor Sessoms called you on, I believe, the day of your father's funeral to advise you of a late fee?

A He had called me the day of the funeral and to let me know that Michael had committed, had talked to the person, I think it was Chris Beale at the time we looked at earlier, had talked to him about providing a deposit that wasn't in and he called to let me know that that wasn't in. So he did bring it to my attention and I took care of it when I was back in town

Q So I believe your father passed in November of 2010, right? But there were still many more late fees at TowneBank after that time, right?

A Well, I have recently become aware of the totality of those late fees, but based on that knowledge, yes, there were other late fees after that time

Q The statements went to your Chesapeake house, right? From TowneBank?

A They went to my Chesapeake house and my husband was generally home and he got the mail He got the business bank statements, yes

Q But I guess, after you are getting these calls from Mayor Sessoms, you don't say, "Hey, brother, let's put this on autopay, I don't think Mr Uncapher can handle the bill paying," why did you not do that?

A We had a couple of conversations, particularly as I said when life got a little busy after the baby and priorities changed. Bob and I had a couple of talks to say, "Should we move the responsibility of all the finances away from Michael?" Because we did have some concern about the late fees We had talked about a few people, some family members, some not, somebody close enough to us that we could give authority to the books that we could really trust to get it done So we had conversations But I will tell you that we would have a conversation, and I would go back to my, you know, 18-hour days and he would go back to his probably 22-hour days, and I didn't do anything about it to make a change And when we talked to Michael about it, he did say, "I got it, it has been busy, I'm going to take care of it," and he was very believable We believed he would. I trusted that he would.

Q Okay I'd like to talk about loans as part of your business model, because I think you have said a couple times that that was sort of what you planned on from the outset, right?

A Mostly we did. There were times we put our own resources in.

Q That was kind of the two options, right, you either put money in personally or you borrowed money from other folks, right?

A Or what we tried to do as well, which was increase the rental income and cut expenses so the gap was smaller Yes Exactly

Q And I think you told the jury that it just made more business sense to take out loans based on interest; do I have that right?

A In some measure, I mean, a lot of measure, it did. I think just what we had discussed is instead of tapping into our personal resources, as an LLC it made more sense, some of the OPM or the other people's money, you borrow it at generally, it may be a lower rate, but you generally borrow money as opposed to depleting your resources and rather invest those Yes

Q You would agree with me, though, that the OPM, as you called it, the other people's money that is the cheapest of all is the one that does not require any monetary payments

A I'm sorry, I want to make sure I'm understanding your question, please

Q The cheapest loan is one in which you don't have to pay anything back, right?

A Well, I don't know of a loan at some point that doesn't have a balloon, whatever the term is, but a loan, by virtue of it, I would think you would have to monthly, annually, at the end of a certain period, sure

Q Now, you and your brother found it difficult to get conventional bank financing, right, for the MoBo properties?

A We refinanced one the last year We did a lot of refinancing So that wasn't an issue

Q Let me bring up Government Exhibit 644, please, which has not been admitted. This is an e-mail between you and a woman named Theresa Swann at Bank of America Do you see that?

A I'm not on that e-mail It was between Bob and --

Q If we could scroll up and show her the forward, please Do you see where you are the forward?

A He sent it to me

MS ABER: I move 644 into evidence, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MS ABER:

Q Turning to Ms Swann's e-mail to your brother, she writes: "Governor: I have completed my research, and as you suspected, we find ourselves in a precarious position with regard to loan to value and the ability to refinance " Then she goes on to explain that "Essentially, you all are ineligible for traditional straight vanilla financing like we would do here in the first mortgage origination office " Is that correct? Did I read that right?

A I'm reading it with you. Sure That looks correct

Q And you had difficulty getting banks like Bank of America to refinance because the loan to value ratio on these properties was off Right?

A You know, Ms Aber, I don't want to speak inappropriately, because I wasn't personally involved, when I see the copy of millions of e-mails probably or hundreds, thousands I've gotten over MoBo in the period of time Honestly, I know Bob and my husband were looking at getting some feelers out about refinancing, because as I said earlier, we long knew we wanted to move off the interest-only products for all the properties and getting into paying down equity So this was the beginning of that process that culminated in 2013 But I don't recall to my knowledge during any of this even filling out a loan application. I think they were just looking to see what was possible at that time So I'm sorry, this doesn't really resonate fully with me I know they did a little bit of looking in with some institutions, but I wasn't fully -- I'm copied, but I wasn't involved in a lot of that process

Q But yes or no, as of at least 2011, you and your brother were trying to refinance the MoBo mortgages

A Well, sure We were looking into getting into a better product, sure

Q So in the meanwhile, you looked to other private lenders, right? Like Mr Williams, correct?

A During this period? I'm not sure

Q Let me put it this way: In 2012, did you and your brother take two loans from Mr Williams? I think you talked about that for about an hour

A Well, we did. We had two loans from Starwood in 2012, yes

Q Okay And in fact, you used at least part of the loan from Mr Williams to pay off the loan, part of the loan to Dr Davis, right?

A Yes, you could look at it like that when you look at the transaction, either that or to pay for the upgrade It is sort of funny money in the books, but yes

Q But you and your -- let me bring up RM-1457, please, which has been admitted. If we could start at the bottom e-mail, please This is April of 2012 Your brother is speaking to you as Mo to talk about how to pay off the remaining amount to Dr Davis

A Sure

Q If we could go down to the next page I'm sorry, Ms Taylor It appears your brother is asking you to come up with $10,000 as well Is that right? We can scroll up

A Yes I think this is one we saw earlier

Q Yes, ma'am?

A Sure

Q And if we could go, in that particular line there, your brother is saying that he will send you $10,000 from him and another loan check for $13,000 Is that loan check another one of those convenience checks you talked about? Those credit card checks?

A Yes, I believe it was I think it was -- I think below that I saw it was a 1 9, he talked about that, I can't see the narrative, but I think he talked about where that was coming from, yes

Q If we could back out Is it fair to say that you could not produce the $10,000 at that time to pay off Dr Davis?

A I could have, yes

Q Did you have it liquid, ma'am?

A I had liquid assets, yes, but I chose to -- I talked to Dr Davis and he said, "Oh, just wait until you get the stuff from your dad's estate and just pay me then." And so it was fine I paid him periodically and I just waited to get the proceeds from my dad's estate

Q And you ultimately paid him off about eight months later in December of 2012?

A Yes, that's correct

Q And I think you testified earlier that you just wanted to wait a little longer to pay him off; is that right?

A Yes

Q Now, changing subjects to the Starwood, Mr Williams' loan. Just to confirm, you had discussions with your brother about the loan terms of the $50,000 March, 2012 loan, right?

A That's right

Q And you talked with your brother about the duration of the loan, right?

A That's right

Q And he told you that it wouldn't be due until March of 2015; is that right?

A That's what I recall, yes

Q He told you in his discussions with Mr Williams, they had agreed that the loan would not be due until after your brother got out of office

A I believe -- I don't know if he told me that or Maureen I remember thinking, well, he would be out of office So whether I inferred that or he said that, but I recall thinking he would be out making money, she might be working, and that made sense to me

Q Now, I think on direct you talked about your finances around this time and that you got a bonus roughly in March of 2012; is that right?

A That's right

Q Now, your brother was, as we have said, 50/50 in MoBo, right?

A Yes

Q He was equally responsible for MoBo, right?

A Correct

Q And did he get a bonus in March of 2012? Do you know?

A Ms Aber, I really don't know We would have to talk with him. I'm sorry, I don't know what he had. I do know he had some funds in the bank, but I don't know the origin of them. I wouldn't expect as a public servant he would be getting a bonus

Q Now, in reference to the $50,000 check that you came back from vacation and found the FedEx --

A Yes

Q -- it was made out to MoBo, right, the check?

A Yes

Q And you got texts from Ms McDonnell, your sister-in-law, about the check that had been Fed Ex'd, right?

A Yes

Q And turning to Government Exhibit 594, please, Page 2 On the evening of March 11th, you texted your brother and mentioned that you needed to talk to him about the check Is that right?

A I did, following -- Maureen said he was asleep and all of that, so I texted him, yes

Q And four minutes later you talked to your brother for 22 minutes, and then you also then speak again for one minute shortly within the hour Is it your testimony today that the $50,000 check you received payable to MoBo was not part of that conversation at all?

A I think that -- what I recall, we didn't talk about the terms, if that's what you are asking I don't recall that I recall me being upset about Maureen, and I recall reading some of the text messages, and I just said that "This is strange, this is weird, I don't know what's going on " I also recall that would have been the first time I had talked to him in ten days since I was out of the country, and I'm quite sure we did spend a lot of time on the phone, likely in that conversation and others, talking about my marriage I had just come back after ten days of trying to make it work with my husband, and I'm sure we talked about that, too.

Q So did you or did you not talk about the $50,000 check that just appeared at your house?

A Well, I probably would have said, I mean, I believe I would have said, "We have this check, she asked me if we have the check," I'm sure I read him the text messages about that

Q Okay You can take that down. You also got a later loan from Mr Williams in May of 2012, right?

A Correct

Q But there was no written loan agreement for either of these two loans with Mr Williams, right?

A Correct

Q And you understood that Mr Williams' loan was no different than your father's loan to MoBo, right?

A I'm sorry, in what way?

Q Pretty much the same deal, right, your father lent money to MoBo for you two and Mr Williams loaned money to you two for MoBo Same kind of thing, right? Apples to apples?

A I think it was probably similar to the Davis loan It was a friend. Probably more my dad was our father, obviously, so in terms of having some friends that were interested in buying the property or becoming investors that ended up loaning us money, there were a lot of similarities from that standpoint and initiated by Maureen. But as we know today, the terms obviously were different in those two loans, and interest rates

Q Is it fair to say that you felt that the Williams or Starwood loans looked and felt a lot like the loans from Dr Davis?

A Well, as I said, I think the way they came about were similar in terms of Maureen having friends, and again, looking at buying the property, potentially, and they ended up not wanting to purchase or become an investor but rather loan us money And it was, they were more informal, both of them, because we were borrowing money for the business from friends They weren't my friends, but if they are friends of my brother and his wife, then that's good enough for me, like the Davises were

Q MoBo, whatever it is, it was losing money every year, correct?

A We had an operating cash flow shortfall every year, which we knew, yes

Q And at the time of the loans with Mr Williams, you never talked to Mr Williams about the terms of the loan, right?

A No, I never met Mr Williams, as I testified.

Q And the beach properties were not held in MoBo's name, right?

A No. The mortgages from the bank

Q And the title is not in the name of MoBo, right?

A No, it was, again, MoBo was more of just kind of a pass through, an operating entity for managing properties and paying bills

Q No employees at MoBo?

A No

Q Zero assets belong to MoBo, right?

A Right It is an LLC just with my brother and I as the two principals

Q But basically you are telling the jury that Mr Williams was giving a loan to an entity that had lost money every year and had zero assets Is that your testimony?

A Well, I mean, the entity was just a bank account and an article of incorporation. Obviously, Bob and I had assets, but we didn't keep any assets in MoBo as we looked at, so no, we didn't keep a lot in the bank account and we didn't keep assets as MoBo.

Q Because MoBo was you and your brother, right?

A We are the two principals of MoBo, but I think from a tax and legal standpoint, it is different Again, I'm no lawyer, but it is different, yes

MS ABER: One moment, please, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

MS ABER: I have no further questions Thank you.

THE COURT: All right Any redirect?

MR. SMALL: No questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Thank you, ma'am. You may stand down

THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor

MR. SMALL: May she be excused?

THE COURT: Sure

MR. DRY: Just give us a day We might have some more for her

(Witness stood aside)

MR. CONROY: We call Kathleen Scott

KATHLEEN SCOTT,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. CONROY:

Q Can you please state and spell your name for the court reporter?

A Yes, my name is Kathleen, K-A-T-H-L-E-E-N, Taylor, T-A-Y-L-O-R, Scott, S-C-O-T-T

Q Now, Ms Scott, how long have you known the McDonnell family?

A I think about eight or ten years I met the family when the boys, when the family moved to Richmond and they joined my son's soccer team.

Q And during that time, did you ever interact with Ms McDonnell?

A Yes, I did.

Q And what types of interactions did you have with her?

A For the first few years mainly on the soccer field. We both would sit on the bleachers together and watch our sons play

Q Did Ms McDonnell ever discuss with you the topic of nutraceuticals or vitamins?

A I think she asked me if I was interested in coming to a party on a couple different occasions for her New Skin that she was interested in, but I never attended.

Q And did there come a time when you actually went to work with Ms McDonnell at the Governor's Mansion?

A Yes, there did.

Q When was that?

A That was in late October of 2011

Q And what was your title there at the Mansion?

A Special Assistant to the First Lady

Q And what were your duties?

A I had all different kinds of duties I helped her run errands I was kind of a link between her and her family, having known the children. I helped with that kind of thing I helped with organizing things in her office, and private quarters and throughout the Mansion I helped plan events I followed her anywhere she went if the Governor and the Governor's photographer wasn't there, taking pictures and logging what we had done during the day and uploading things to the website

Q And you said that that began in about October of 2011?

A That's right

Q And how long did you stay at the Mansion?

A For 21 months

Q 21 months So that would be summer of 2013?

A That's right

Q Okay And during that time frame, how often did you interact with Ms McDonnell?

A Most days Most every day

Q What was she like to work with?

A Um, hot and cold. Some days she was wonderful and sweet and caring, and some days it was very, very difficult And we never really knew what we were going to get

Q Did she ever exhibit any signs of anxiety or nervousness?

A Absolutely Absolutely In fact, she was, I knew her as an anxious person even before I went to work for her at the Mansion. But, you know, I just kind of attributed that to having five kids and maybe having more on her plate Her husband was very busy, and you know, I thought, I didn't really think it was something that I couldn't help her with.

Q With how would she exhibit those signs of nervousness?

A She bites her fingernails, she picks, you know, at her arms, at her chest Just very anxious Obviously anxious

Q How about, how did she get along with the staff?

A Again, sometimes it was great, and she was sweet and caring, and sometimes it was dreadful

Q Did she ever discuss with you why she had these types of interactions with the staff?

A No, she would say if she was displeased with someone's behavior or lack of -- she often talked to me about the housekeeper really not living up to what -- the standards that she expected

Q Did she say anything about whether or not she was displeased in general?

A With life?

Q With the situation at the Mansion.

A Yes You could tell that she just really did not particularly want to be there It really wasn't what she wanted to be doing with her life And so she took it out oftentimes, oftentimes she would drag her feet when she had to go somewhere and she didn't really want to be there, and that was when we would have to endure her wrath

Q Did she have any kind of inconsistent reactions to attending public events?

A Yes Oftentimes, she would be happy to accept an invitation, and then as the date would draw near, she would become more anxious and worried about having to speak. And the closer that the date came, the worse it escalated. And that's often when whatever we did really couldn't -- we couldn't make her happy

Q So let's turn to a few specific events Was there a time when you tried to help Ms McDonnell organize her personal space?

A Yes I'm an organizer And I feel so much more comfortable if there is order around me. And I thought that maybe if I could help her organize her space, that she would feel more calm. So when I first started out, probably within the first month of being there, I helped her do her vanity, which is in the private quarters You could see, she is very, very busy She and the Governor went a lot of places And when she would come home, she would switch pocketbooks and she would have been given trinkets and items while she was there and she just would dump them in the vanity area. So over time it accumulated. I spent a lot of time going through everything in the vanity I put the acrylic bins and sorted make-up and pins and jewelry and boxes and pocketbooks and all that kind of thing

Q And you said this was in the first month that you had started?

A Yes

Q So you started in October of 2011 This would have been sometime around November of 2011?

A That's right It was maybe the second or third week in November

Q Was this vanity a place where both Mr and Ms McDonnell would store their personal items or it was only Ms McDonnell's space?

A It was just hers He had an entirely different section away from where her area was

Q His cufflinks were somewhere else?

A No, it was just her things

Q When you were doing this organization, did any items stand out to you in particular?

A Well, on the vanity itself, there was an iPhone in a box. I noticed that, so I left that there And there was all kinds of jewelry, some costume, some not So yeah, that stood out But there were, you know, 25 pocketbooks and 50 tubes of lipstick. So it was a lot of stuff

Q Did you in that drawer with jewelry and other items, did you come across a watch?

A Yes, I did come across a watch.

Q Can we pull up Government Exhibit 33-A, please? This is already in evidence, Your Honor Now, Ms Scott, does this appear to be the same watch that you saw in the drawer?

A Yes

Q And when you saw this watch, describe how you came across it

A It was, there was a narrow drawer at the top of the vanity that was filled with, you know, lots and lots of stuff, cram packed, and there was some costume jewelry and other trinkets and stuff And this was, I think, in the back. And I thought, "Oh, my goodness, this is a nice piece of jewelry, maybe I need to separate it " So I put it in a box and put it up high in a safer place

Q So when you first came across it, was this watch in a Rolex box?

A No

Q Was there any kind of documentation or paperwork with the watch?

A Not at all

Q And so the watch, you placed it -- the box you placed it into, where did you find that box?

A There were lots and lots of nice boxes and boxes that you could tell that she kept for things, and I just put it in a watch box that I found up high and put it there It was not a Rolex box.

Q And as you observed this watch, did you make any observations about what type of condition it appeared to be in?

A To me, it looked worn. It didn't look new It didn't look to be, you know, it wasn't shiny and new It looked used.

Q You can take that down Thank you. So what was Ms McDonnell's initial reaction to the work you had done to organize the vanity?

A She was thrilled. She had been out of the country, and when she came home and she opened the doors, she was absolutely thrilled. I was so pleased to have made her happy, and was really hoping that, you know, my efforts were going to pay off So initially, it was great

Q Did she later have a different reaction?

A She did. The very next morning, I was to go and pick up a flag to bring to the Mansion because -- it was a UVA and Tech flag, and I wanted to do one of those House

Divided and put it out and maybe even have pictures when the kids came home for Thanksgiving And so I was stopping by to pick up this flag, which was really fun. And I got a call from her and she was irate and she told me that there was no way she could possibly get ready for the Tax Tribute ceremony, it is an annual ceremony, there was no way she could get ready for the event because nothing was where it used to be and that I had completely ruined her day and that there was no way she would be able to attend. And I don't believe she did attend.

Q Is that Tax Tribute ceremony, is that typically the day before Thanksgiving?

A That's right

Q Okay Were there any items in particular that she said she couldn't find?

A Probably at that time, I think it was make-up It was related to trying to get dressed to go to the ceremony

Q Did she subsequently contact you again to tell you there were other items that she couldn't locate?

A Yes, yes, yes

Q What were those?

A Maybe a week or so or maybe, I'm thinking it was probably the next week, I was in a staff meeting with my team, and she gave me a call And everyone was in my office having the meeting just because I had a better space for it And she was very, very upset and said that, you know, what had I done with the watch, where was the watch, had I taken the watch. And I said, "No, no, I did not take the watch. The watch is in a box. I just took the box that was empty and stuck the watch in it and put it up high for safekeeping " And she hung up the phone and I didn't hear anything more about it

Q Did you ever speak with Ms McDonnell about the source of the watch?

A I never did

Q Let's switch topics Did the staff at the Mansion ever take any steps to seek help about the working environment there?

A Yes, we did.

Q What steps did you take?

A At different times, we consulted with the team that had pulled us all together, Jim Burke and Linda Pierce from VCU We reached out to them on a number of occasions and just said, "You know, we are really struggling here, can you work with us and help make it better?"

Q Can I stop you for a second? Who is Jim Burke from VCU?

A He is part of a team that was, I believe, hired early on to put our team together And I think the First Lady hired him I don't know his title at VCU I think he is a PhD. that worked with us to get -- sorry

Q No, that's fine I guess, what were you hoping might happen when you started talking to Mr Burke?

A We were just hoping to get some help in dealing with the highs and lows and the hots and colds and never knowing what we were going to get We had so much to do. The First Lady really had created some great projects and her pillars, as she refers to them, they were worthwhile efforts But we were spending so much time with minutiae, and dealing with, you know, personality that we couldn't get our job done And so we were hoping that they would step in and maybe help us with her so we could work more efficiently

Q Were you hoping for any kind of meeting with Ms McDonnell where you all would resolve this?

A Yes, absolutely

Q What suggestions did Mr Burke offer for how to deal with Ms McDonnell moving forward?

A Well, we really weren't getting very far in getting help And I think we were really exasperated. And he looked at us and said that "If you just think of her as a five-year-old, that you are dealing with a five-year-old, then maybe things will go better "

Q Did he refer you to any particular reading material?

A He did. He did He really believed that she was suffering from some form of mental illness

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained Could you move that mic down and a little closer to you?

(Witness complied)

BY MR. CONROY:

Q And did the staff take any other steps other than talking to Mr Burke?

A Yes, we did. After a particularly difficult day, we all sat together in one of my co-worker's office and we put together the letter to Ms McDonnell hoping to help turn things around a little bit Because every one of us, we loved working together as a team. We loved working at the Executive Mansion It was such a privilege And what we were doing was all good stuff and helping really, really good people, highlighting great things going on in the state And we wanted to continue to work But it was so difficult, the conditions were so bad, that we thought, "Well, this is the last ditch effort " And we decided as a team that we would all go, you know, if it got so bad that one of us had to leave, that we would all leave So we just said, we kind of stated our terms, and where we were coming from, in the hopes that things might improve

///

MR CONROY: Can we pull up RM-0032? And this is already in evidence, Your Honor If we go just blow up the top

BY MR. CONROY:

Q Ms Scott, is this the letter that we were just talking about?

A Yes, it is Yes

MR CONROY: And if you can flip to the second page

BY MR CONROY:

Q And three signatures down, is that your signature?

A It is

Q So who did the staff give this letter to?

A It was either to Martin Kent or Janet

Q Okay Did you ever discuss --

MR CONROY: You can take this down Thank you

BY MR CONROY:

Q Did you ever discuss these issues or Ms McDonnell's -- your challenges with dealing with Ms McDonnell, did you ever discuss that with Governor McDonnell directly?

A No, we didn't

Q Did you ever think about taking that step?

A I did I did Many, many times And I really think that if there hadn't been -- there was really no way for me to be able to get to him alone And so everyone would have to know, and I really didn't want -- you know, I felt like we were friends when I was going in there I was a friend of the family I knew the children well

But I really wanted to be a professional, and I didn't know that -- if I should text Governor McDonnell and say, "Can you meet me and talk " You know, I just -- so I decided just to try to do what my teammates wanted to do I wish now that I had done that

Q Okay Let's switch topics briefly During the time you worked at the Mansion, did you ever hear the name Jonnie Williams?

A Yes Yes In the beginning mostly

Q Did you ever have a chance to observe how Ms McDonnell acted when the topic of Jonnie Williams came up?

A I could tell that she, you know, liked him very much, liked the attention that she got from him, that he made her feel special You could tell She would light up when she talked about him

Q And this is something you observed at the Mansion?

A Not often Maybe a time or two In a conversation about somewhere she had been

Q And, Ms Scott, did you meet with the prosecution team here back in September of last year?

A Yes, I did

Q And was that prior to any meetings you had with the attorneys for Mr or Ms McDonnell?

MS ABER: Objection to relevance

THE COURT: Sustained

MR CONROY: Can we approach, Your Honor?

THE COURT: We can't approach You're doing a perfectly fine job, but now you're talking about who talked to whom That doesn't have anything to do with anything

MR CONROY: Okay Thank you

THE COURT: So let's finish up

BY MR CONROY:

Q Now, Ms Scott, did you ever notice any personal items that Ms McDonnell kept stored in her office space rather than in her private residence?

A Yes There were a few items of clothing that were hanging on the back of her door that were still in bags

MR CONROY: Can we pull up Government Exhibit 34a, please And this is already in evidence

BY MR CONROY:

Q Ms Scott, does this appear to be one of the items of clothing you saw on Ms McDonnell's door?

A Yes I believe so

Q Do you remember about when you saw it?

A I saw it when I first started working there She was very kind and let me share her office in the beginning, and I believe that they were on the door then

Q Okay And do you know about how long these items of clothing were there?

A A long time I don't know if they were there when I left or -- but they were there a long time

Q Okay

MR CONROY: You can take that down

BY MR CONROY:

Q Now, did you ever have a chance to see Mr and Ms McDonnell interact with each other?

A Yes, I did Often

Q And what was that like?

A They were good together most of the time And most of the time that I saw them, though, was when we were preparing for a public event, folks coming to the Mansion, and we were hosting an event there

Q And can you describe, in general terms, what her behavior would be like and what his behavior would be like?

A Well, both, you know, always had a lot on their plate But as I said earlier, when there was an event, she became very, very anxious, and the hours or minutes that led up to that event were always the most difficult of the day Whereas the Governor, we never noticed any difference And if he had a second, he always shook our hands and let us know -- sometimes a hug -- and let us know that we were really helping a lot and he appreciated everything that we were doing

Q And in these situations, did Governor McDonnell communicate with Ms McDonnell in the same way that he communicated with others?

A If we were in the public -- you know, if we were all downstairs and getting ready to receive guests, it was all -- all the -- yes, he treated her the same The only time that I saw any different was, you know, in private Oftentimes it was when they were trying to go somewhere, and she would, you know, be anxious and often fuss at him

And one particular time, I -- I had to join them in the private quarters trying to deliver a piece of luggage And she was anxious about having to get out of town and telling him that he really needed to get on it and pack his things and, you know, ranting and raving about this, that, and the other And he was trying to read the paper, watch the television about what was going on in the news that morning, and get to work so that he could wrap up and then go somewhere later in the day And truthfully, I could tell that, you know, packing was the smallest thing on his agenda

Q And what was Governor McDonnell's reaction to this conversation?

A He usually just tuned her out

Q And so then -- a moment ago you mentioned other times when they would be preparing for public events When they would appear at these public events, ould their behavior change at all?

A They were a great team once -- once the crowds arrived And I think everybody rose to the occasion, and you could sense a kind of, you know, sense of accomplishment throughout the evening And they were great hostesses, both of them

Maureen just struggled with getting ready and when everybody was coming But once they were there, she was wonderful And people loved her because she was gracious and kind and seemed to be enjoying it, even when it had to be excruciating because they were on their feet for so long

Q Now, did you ever observe any kind of correlation between the Governor's travel schedule and Ms McDonnell's anxious behavior?

A Yes No doubt When he would be gone or had to be gone for long periods of time, her anxiety increased, and her need for control was much worse And she would focus on minutia, like bath mats and whether or not the floors were clean and the blinds were twisted the right way, that kind of thing It just -- he could kind of keep her calm and together, and when he was gone, that's when we knew that we probably would hear from her

Q And did you ever observe Ms McDonnell using the Governor's name to get something done?

A Yes And I think it was often just, you know, totally out of frustration when she wanted things done and, you know, they weren't being done quickly enough for her But she would use the Governor's name

But the one -- probably the worst case of it was with the -- putting the Anatabloc in the spouse's gift bag during the NGA meeting during the summer

Q What do you recall about that?

A Well, the Governors and their spouses were coming to Richmond because -- or to Williamsburg because we were hosting And each -- I think there was actually a gift basket that was in their hotel room initially that was filled up and would meet them -- you know, would be there for them when they arrived

And she -- the First Lady hoped to put the Anatabloc in that basket, but they were completely sealed up and delivered to the -- to the hotel, and we could not open them up and put the Anatabloc in And then she said, "Well, let's put it in the spouse's gift bags that they would receive " And I believe -- you know, our entire team raised concerns that that really wasn't the thing to do And she said, "Well, the Governor wants it in there " And I think we all knew that that wasn't the case

Q Did you have any basis for thinking that this request actually came from the Governor?

A I knew that it didn't come from the Governor

Q Did Governor McDonnell ever ask you to add Anatabloc to gift bags at any event?

A No No

Q In your nearly two years working at the Governor's Mansion, did Bob McDonnell ever ask you to do anything inappropriate or unethical?

A No Never

MR CONROY: One moment, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Sure

MR CONROY: No more questions

THE COURT: All right

Counsel for Ms McDonnell?

MS MARTIN: Thank you, Your Honor Briefly

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Good afternoon

A Hi

Q I want to talk for another minute about Jonnie

Williams You never saw Ms McDonnell and Mr Williams personally interact, did you?
A I did not
Q But you did see her reactions either when she had just been with him or when his name would come up; is that correct?
A That's right
Q And you had previously described her as being gaga over him when you spoke with the prosecutors last September; is that right?
A Probably She seemed enamored with him, infatuated I think he made her feel special
Q Now, you -- on direct examination, you mentioned that the First Lady had created some great projects that were worthwhile as the First Lady Are you talking about the FLITE initiative?
A I am Yes
Q Is that the First Lady's Initiatives Team Effort?
A That's right
Q And what was your role in FLITE?
A Most of her events that she attended were in some way related to FLITE Either they were in the health and wellness area in support of the military, wine, film and tourism, or women in business So they were the four pillars that she identified as areas she would focus on

So when she said that those were the areas that she was interested in, folks started to contact her about -- about their organizations So we would go to different events or folks would come to the Mansion And in -- during those events, I helped prepare for them, attend them I took photos while we were there I wrote up a kind of blog about what we had done there, submitted it to the papers, oftentimes, to talk about what we were doing

Q And could you just briefly explain to the jury what the First Lady was doing to promote these four areas, including the military and women's initiatives?

A She just was trying to highlight all the good things that were already going on in the state of Virginia So we did events Like we went -- we had a baby shower for Operation Homefront that she attended that were for spouses or -- or soldiers And they -- they were given gifts, and she spoke And there were a multitude of events like that

Q And what about the Virginia wine industry?

A Oh, she toured many, many different wineries and just helped to bring Virginia wine to the forefront Like I said, we were trying to do the same thing in Virginia that was done in California

Q So notwithstanding the fact that working at the Mansion was sometimes difficult, was this a positive thing that you took away from working at the Mansion?

A Absolutely Absolutely It was a privilege to get to do all these things and to learn about all the great things that are going on in our state I've got to say, I was living in my bubble in suburbia, and it was wonderful to be exposed to all these different things

Q Now, in this role, you were able to sometimes attend events with the First Lady; is that correct?

A That's right

Q And some of those included Mansion events; is that right?

A That's right

Q And was it customary, from your perspective, for the First Lady to be able to invite her own guests to events that were held at the Mansion?

A Absolutely

Q And did she do that with some frequency?

A Yes

Q And did she do it for a variety of events that were held at the Mansion?

A Absolutely

Q And were any of those invitations ever on the later side of things?

A Absolutely And she -- what would happen was that as the event would draw near, she would realize that she'd left out someone, and she would want to extend the invitation even at the last minute

Q And were some of these invitees her personal friends, from your observation?

A Probably, yes And oftentimes, too, if there were spots to fill, that she would realize, oh, well, so-and-so might like to come and join in

Q And from your observations, could Ms McDonnell's reaction to the role of being First Lady be summarized as one of resentment?

A Absolutely Absolutely And I -- I think, too, you know, some days it was -- she was thrilled I mean, sometimes we had such amazing successes that she was on top of the world And, you know, we all celebrated and that was great But it's hard to keep the momentum and the pace, and she -- that's when she would become depressed

Q Did you have any observations of the source of her resentment?

A Well, I think, you know, she -- she didn't earn a salary She wasn't the elected official

Q Did she ever talk about a loss of privacy?

A Absolutely

Q What did she say about that?

A Well, I think -- I think she would have loved to have been able to get in the car to go to Target or to, you know, run to CVS on her own

Q And from your observations, did she have that ability?

A No No She completely lost her privacy

MS MARTIN: No further questions

THE COURT: All right

Government?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MS ABER:

Q Good afternoon, Ms Scott

A Hi

Q Did the Mansion staff periodically have staff meetings?

A We did

Q And that happened even after you all sent in your resignation letter?

A That's correct

Q Which didn't actually end up causing anyone to resign, right?

A That's right

Q Mr McDonnell, he periodically came to those sort of staff meetings, didn't he?

A With my team of five, no

Q Did he ever come over to the Mansion?

A Yes, he did come over to the Mansion
Q Did Martin Kent ever come over to the Mansion?
A Yes, but rarely
Q Okay Did Janet Kelly ever come over to the Mansion?
A Yes, but it wasn't -- it wasn't even a weekly thing or a monthly thing We saw them on occasion
Q Just to check in on you guys, right?
A Yes
Q Okay And in reference to the National Governors Association event, that's the summer of 2012, right?
A Yes
Q In Williamsburg?
A Yes
Q And the gift bags we're talking about for spouses had -- had Anatabloc?
A Uh-huh
Q And Virginia wine, right?
A Yes
Q And some other Virginia trinket, right? Do you remember what it was?
A I don't I'm sorry
Q That's okay Peanuts or something? Something Virginian, right?
A Probably Yes
Q Okay Now, Mr McDonnell was the head of the National Governors Association at this time, right?

A I believe so

Q But you never talked with Mr McDonnell specifically about these gift bags, did you?

A No

Q Okay

MS ABER: One moment please, Your Honor

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MS ABER: Thank you, Your Honor I have no further questions

THE COURT: All right Anything else?

MR CONROY: No, Your Honor

THE COURT: Anything?

All right Thank you, ma'am You may stand down

THE WITNESS: Thank you

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: All right We'll take our afternoon break

(The jury exited the courtroom)

(Recess taken from 4:04 p m until 4:23 p m)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: Call your next witness

MR SMALL: Thank you, Your Honor Bob McDonnell calls Allen Kosowsky

J ALLEN KOSOWSKY,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR SMALL:

Q Good afternoon, Mr Kosowsky

A Good afternoon

Q Would you tell us your name, and spell it for the court reporter, please

A Yes My name is John Allen, A-L-L-E-N, Kosowsky, K-O-S-O-W-S-K-Y

Q What's your current employment, sir?

A I'm a CPA, Certified Public Accountant

Q Give us briefly your educational background, if you would

A Certainly I graduated from American International College in Springfield, Massachusetts, in June of 1969, with a bachelor of science in business administration, with a major in accounting I attended some courses at the University of Connecticut's MBA program, which I did not complete And I completed a certificate program at the University of Pennsylvania Wharton School of Business, the Wharton Fellows Program

Q And what kind of certificate was that?

A It's Executive Education

Q And you have a number of other certifications and licenses; is that correct?

A Yes, I do

Q Let me just ask you, I'm not going to ask you about all of them, but just a couple You are a Personal Financial Specialist; is that correct?

A Yes I hold that designation from the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants

Q And tell us what that means, to be a Personal Financial Specialist

A It's a practice specialty that I was awarded a number of years ago for those of us that spend a lot of time advising individuals, their companies and the like, with -- with ordinary financial estate, retirement planning kinds of matters

Q All right And you're also a Certified Valuation Analyst --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

And what is that, just briefly?

A Certified Valuation Analyst is a credential offered by the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts It started out principally being involved in business valuations, valuing privately-held business interests, such as they might be, and it expanded to include areas such as forensic accounting and the like

Q All right And the last one I'll just mention You're an Accredited Business Valuator; is that correct?

A Yes That's a similar certification offered by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, again, in the area of business valuation and, to some degree, forensic accounting

Q Sir, have you testified as an expert witness in federal district court before?

A Yes, I have

Q And also in state court?

A Yes, I have

Q Approximately how many times have you been certified as an expert witness?

A Well, it's been a long career It's certainly more than 25, probably approaching 50

Q And have you also been appointed by different courts as a receiver or fact finder?

A Yes I've been appointed as a receiver in federal court, receiver of business interests, as well as receiver in state court, and as an administrator in probate court to replace executors removed by probate judges

Q And finally, you're also an arbitrator, are you not, for the American Arbitration Association?

A Yes I'm a commercial panelist with the American

Arbitration Association

Q And just briefly, what does that involve? What does that mean?

A For example, arbitration is a shortened method of litigation sometimes, as you may know In my particular case, I'm involved in complex commercial litigation Right now, I'm sitting on a panel involving an accounting malpractice case with two other arbitrators where we would sit, hear evidence, listen to witnesses, and render decisions

Q Okay And just briefly, you also have appointments to -- or you've been appointed to various -- to Boards of Directors of various entities; is that correct?

A Yes

Q One is Thor Industries?

A Yes

Q What is Thor Industries?

A Thor Industries is the largest domestic manufacturer of recreational vehicles in the United States It's based in Elkhart, Indiana Its stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange It's approximately a 3-and-a-half-billion-dollar-a-year revenue business I sit on the Audit Committee I'm the appointed independent financial expert for purposes of the New York Stock Exchange, NSCC rules And I'm also Chairman of the

Nominating and Governance Committee

Q And you also are or have been on the Boards of several financial institutions, banks and other financial institutions?

A Yes I'm presently serving as a Director and member of the Audit Committee, Nominating Committee and Compliance Committees of Naugatuck Financial Corporation, which was the holding company of Naugatuck Valley Savings and Loan, a 500-million-dollar community bank based in Naugatuck, Connecticut

Q And as an expert witness, were you retained in this case by the defense, by Bob McDonnell?

A I was

Q And I assume you're charging a fee; is that correct?

A Yes, I am

Q Can you tell the jury, what is the fee that you're charging?

A Any normal rate is $525 an hour I have offered Governor McDonnell a courtesy discount of 20 percent off of my standard rates for myself and my staff

Q Why did you offer the 20 percent discount?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR SMALL:

Q You're not a personal friend or otherwise of Bob

McDonnell, are you?

A No

Q Okay So that had nothing to do with that?

A No

Q Okay The -- tell us, if you would, what your understanding of what you've been asked to do in this case

A I've been asked to perform a number of forensic accounting duties in this matter, including, but not limited to, reviewing a number of the extensive financial records that have been produced to date, bank records, credit card records, mortgage applications, tax returns, e-mails attendant to many of those documents

Q And specifically, have we asked you to review documents relating to Bob McDonnell's finances?

A Yes

Q And also documents relating to his sister Maureen McDonnell's finances?

A Yes

Q And finally, documenting relating to MoBo, LLC --

A Yes

Q -- finances?

A Yes That's right

Q And have you also reviewed testimony in this case?

A Yes, I have

Q Tell us what -- you haven't been sitting through the whole trial; is that correct?
A No I have only been in attendance today for the testimony of Maureen McDonnell
Q All right And in addition to her testimony, what other testimony did you review by way of transcripts?
A I read the -- some testimony of Jonnie Williams, testimony of Michael Uncapher It's slipping my mind One other I apologize
Q Did you read the government's summary witness?
A Oh, yes The -- yes The FBI agent, right
Q All right
A I apologize
Q And just as a general matter, what categories of documents have you reviewed in the course of your work?
A As I stated just a moment ago, I've been reviewing bank statements, credit card statements, tax returns for the Governor, for Maureen McDonnell his sister, for MoBo, for a variety of other entities that the Governor had interest in, records pertaining to Mr Jonnie Williams, e-mails, bank applications
Q In your work as an expert witness and your other work, are you, from time to time, asked to review an individual or an entity's financial soundness?
A Yes

Q And what is -- tell me what that means, "financial soundness "

A Well, what I think it means in -- certainly in this case, is to evaluate whether or not an individual, in this case, Governor McDonnell and his wife, would have had a positive net worth, for example, and would their financial affairs, you know, support -- support that conclusion

Q And just briefly, as an expert witness, what types of cases do you get called on to render those kinds of soundness opinions?

A Frequently, in a consulting the capacity, in other white-collar crime and criminal tax matters That's unusual something that's asked of me to look at It's clearly a case, often in divorce cases, to evaluate the financial condition of one spouse or the other and the ability of that one spouse or the other to pay alimony, support, and other obligations

Q All right And based upon your review -- well, I'll come to that later

The -- all right So then -- and have we also asked you to summarize and assist in preparing charts summarizing some of the information you reviewed?

A Yes We've prepared a number of demonstratives

Q All right Let me first address Bob McDonnell Did you review tax returns for Bob McDonnell?

A Yes, I did

Q And based on those tax returns, did you assist in preparing a chart reviewing his income by year?

A Yes, I did

MR SMALL: Would you call up for the witness 274-3?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this the chart that you assisted in preparing?

A Yes, I did

MR SMALL: Offer that in evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted What's the number again?

MR SMALL: 274-0003

THE COURT: Thank you

MR SMALL: Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q And so is this what you found as to annual income for Bob McDonnell and his wife for the period 2007 to 2012?

A Yes This is a simplified version that ties out to the adjusted gross income figure on their tax returns

Q Okay And so it has, at the top line, Wages That was principally Bob McDonnell's wages from his positions in state government and elsewhere?

A Yes That's right

Q And in 2009, where it goes down, is it your understanding -- am I correct that he resigned his position as Attorney General in order to run for Governor?

A That's my understanding

Q Okay And then in 2010, he assumed the position of Governor, correct?

A Yes

Q Okay And then the Business Income, is that largely income generated by Ms McDonnell?

A Well, it's a combination, Attorney Small, of Ms McDonnell's Schedule C from her business It's the combination of some small interest and the like, as well as their various -- various investments in the real estate partnerships that the government(sic) was a participant in, as well as income that was reported based upon payments that were made for various retirement accounts

Q Okay

MR SMALL: Okay You can take that down Thank you, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q And as part of your review, did you also review credit card accounts?

A Yes, I did

Q Now, you indicated before that you reviewed portions of the testimony of Jonnie Williams; is that correct?

A Yes, I did

Q And in particular, did you review a portion of the testimony where Jonnie Williams -- Page 679, counsel -- stated that Bob McDonnell's wife Maureen had told him they were in financial trouble and they had tapped out their credit cards?

A That's my recollection of what that testimony was

Q And based on your review, is that correct? Had they tapped out or maxed out their credit cards?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor, on asking him to comment on Jonnie Williams' testimony

MR SMALL: I'm not asking him to comment on Jonnie Williams' testimony

THE COURT: He can answer the question

A No

BY MR SMALL:

Q Well, let's go through that, if we could

MR SMALL: First of all, can we pull up, just for the witness, 274-0005?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And did you review and pull together the credit card statements and balances for Mr and Ms McDonnell?

A Yes, I did

Q You also reviewed the chart from the government's summary witness with some of this information on it as well; is that correct?

A Yes That's right The chart reflects that the last entry, and my recollection of Agent Hulser's chart, was April of 2011

Q Let me just interrupt you and ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q Now that everyone can see it, Mr Kosowsky, let me go back So this reflects the combined credit card balances starting in January 2010 and going through August of 2011; is that correct?

A That's right

Q And the government's chart 572 ends after April -- or April or May of 2011; is that correct?

A Yes

Q So you just continued it for a couple more months?

A Yes, I did

Q All right And so am I correct that this reflects that the credit cards reached a peak, credit card balances reached a peak in August of 2010? Is that correct?

A That's right $90,928 41

Q And then what happened?

A From that moment on, from that -- from that month end on, as one can see, the balances were progressively decreasing

Q All right And you're aware of the testimony that Jonnie Williams made a loan to Maureen McDonnell, Bob McDonnell's wife, that was used in March or April to pay off some credit card bills?

A That's right

Q And so is that -- is it your understanding that explains at least some of the drop from April 2011 to May of 2011?

A Yes, it does

Q Okay But prior to April of 2011, am I correct that the total balances had already been knocked down by approximately $60,000?

A Yes That's right The simple arithmetic of subtracting 31,876, call it 32,000, from $91,000 It was decreased by some $59,000 in that time frame

Q And after May of 2011, am I correct that the total balances continued to go down?

A Yes

Q So that by August of 2011, their total net -- total credit card balances were about 5,000, $6,000?

A About $6,000 Right

Q Okay All right So when -- all right So when we talk about credit cards --

MR SMALL: Your Honor, I haven't formally asked Mr Kosowsky to be qualified as an expert because we had the prior hearing, but I would ask that he be admitted as an expert at this time

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, may we approach?

THE COURT: Do you have any --

MR FAULCONER: May we approach on that, Your Honor

THE COURT: Come up

(At Bench)

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I have a copy of your order here, and Mr Kosowsky has said nothing different from what he said during the DAUBERT hearing He's added nothing He's clarified nothing Your Honor's order said that it was based previously, in part, on speculative expert interviews and future earnings We have no problem with him giving the same type of testimony that Agent Hulser does, but he's added nothing to the calculus to allow him to be an expert And I don't think opining on soundness -- I mean, he can calculate, but on opining on soundness really doesn't have much

THE COURT: No I think he can -- I'm going to allow him as an expert I think he can talk about the soundness issue That's the only thing that he can talk about

MR SMALL: Yeah That's all I have

THE COURT: But let's make sure we don't get outside of that All right And I --

MR SMALL: I spent the break cutting my outline back

THE COURT: I suspect that we should be able to handle this on cross

MR FAULCONER: Thank you, Your Honor

MR SMALL: Thank you

(In Open Court)

MR SMALL: We would, Your Honor, offer Mr Kosowsky as an expert witness

THE COURT: He will be received

MR SMALL: Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q All right So let's -- in addition to just the balances, if we're talking about whether the credit cards are maxed out, what's the other factor that we have to look at?

A You have to look at the available credit

Q Okay And did you, in fact, review the credit card records to look at the available credit?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Could we call up, just for the witness, please, 274-0007

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this -- is this a chart reflecting credit limits for Bob and Maureen McDonnell?

A Yes

Q Just before you go into it, I just ask that it be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR SMALL: Thank you

A Yes At or about May 1st, we were using -- I was using the statements they were in the April cycle

BY MR SMALL:

Q All right And did you use May 1st because Jonnie Williams' testimony that they were tapped out? He said it was May 2nd, 2011, that he had that conversation?

A I believe that's right

Q Okay And so what did you find, in terms of credit card limits, as of May 1st, 2011?

A When I went back and looked at the statements and totaled them, as they are listed here, the several credit card accounts he had, it shows an aggregate total of $204,690 of available credit

Q All right And so did you then do the calculation as of May 1st, 2011, to compare credit limit with what the balance was at that time?

A Yes

MR SMALL: I ask that we pull up, just for the witness, 274-0008

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this that comparison?

A Yes This is the comparison utilizing the value at the end of Agent Hulser's chart, the 31,876

Q If I could just interrupt one second

MR SMALL: I would offer it into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR SMALL: All right Can we publish that? 274-00 -- thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q All right And so you took the total credit limit and then the combined credit card balance?

A Yeah Simple subtraction showing that there was additional credit available of -- what you see there 172,000 and change

Q As of May 1st, 2011 --

A That's right

Q -- there was that amount of credit available?

A Yes

Q Okay All right So we looked at income, and we looked at credit cards Did you also look at cash available?

A Yes

Q And how did you do that?

A By reference to the bank statements at or about the same time period

Q Okay

MR SMALL: Can we call up for the witness 274-0009?

And ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q So tell us, tell the jury, what is 0009?

A This is taking the balances as they were on the bank statements at or near that date of May 1st, 2011

Q Okay And what did you find?

A That in total for the three accounts, there was some $12,861 26 available

Q All right And did you also -- this is basically a snapshot, correct?

A It's a snapshot at a moment in time, yes

Q Those numbers can go up and down regularly, or easily?

A And they did, and they will

Q Okay So at our request, did you take one or two other snapshots at other dates that are relevant to the case?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Can we pull up for the witness

274-0010, please, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a snapshot on March 11, 2012, right near the time of Jonnie Williams' loan to MoBo, LLC?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q So as of March 11, 2012, right near the date of Jonnie Williams' loan, what did you find?

A The total -- and this includes an additional account for MoBo, which is listed there at $1562 09, that at that moment in time, there was total cash available of $67,000

MR SMALL: And lastly on this, can we call up, just for the witness, 274-11, 0011

BY MR SMALL:

Q Did you also take a snapshot, if you will, of May 21st, 2012, which was the date of the second Jonnie Williams loan to MoBo?

A Yes

MR SMALL: I ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And what did you find as of the date of the second Jonnie Williams loan?

A Well, as you can see in a comparative way, the sum the four accounts, again, including MoBo in this schedule, shows total cash available of $41,813 81

Q All right And -- so those are bank accounts Did you also look for savings and retirement accounts?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Can we call up, just for the witness, 274-0012?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a chart as of the end of the year of 2012 reflecting retirement accounts?

A Yes These are the Governor's retirement accounts

MR SMALL: Ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q So what did you find, in addition to the bank accounts that we looked at, in terms of his retirement accounts?

A Well, as of the end of the year, as of December 31st, which was the available statement, the total there, as you can see, is $209,763 86

Q Based on your experience, if someone is in --

MR SMALL: You can take that down, Victoria Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q -- if someone is in financial difficulty, would they generally be trying to maximize cash available?

A Oh, yes

Q And what does that mean? What do you mean by that?

A Well, the maximization of cash available, in my experience with individuals in trouble, one of the first things, generally, to go, sadly, is they might stop participating in their 401(k) plans, for example, where they were making contributions That would be one thing Certainly, the other area would be normal to tighten one's belt on expenses --

Q All right

A -- such as they may be, or other spending

Q In other words, optional or discretionary spending?

A Right Like discretionary whatever, you know, how you might otherwise want to spend your money if you could

Q So did you take a look at those issues as they relate to Bob McDonnell?

A Yes, I did

MR SMALL: Call up 274-0001

Ask that that be admitted

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we object May we approach on this one?

THE COURT: Come on up

(At Bench)

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, this is a -- sorry This is a chart that shows charitable contributions We have no problem with the dollar amount of the charitable contributions for each year, but putting in the specific charities that he contributed to is highly prejudicial and no relevant purpose

MR DRY: We informed them of this this morning

THE COURT: You need to take that out I guess he can talk about his bottom line, but they don't need to see that

MR SMALL: All right

(In Open Court)

MR SMALL: One moment, Your Honor

Okay We would then offer redacted 274-0001

Any objection?

MR FAULCONER: No objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

BY MR SMALL:

Q So what did you find during the years 2008 to 2012 in terms of optional or discretionary charitable expenses?

A Well, as they are summarized here, taking these from the tax returns of the McDonnells, I would point out there's one very small $100 discrepancy in the year 2011 When I went back and looked at the actual receipts that were presented to me, they totaled $4180, whereas $4280 was deducted on the tax return I can't explain the difference, but it's not material

But as you can see they are in two categories One is monetary, cash; checks, obviously And the second would be in-kind donations, which I think we all would know to be sort of typical things like Goodwill and, you know, your thrift shops and that sort of thing, which would not be cash

Q All right And so, for example, in the year we're talking about, 2012, am I correct that this shows $5,575 in cash charitable donations?

A Yes

Q Cash or check, obviously?

A Yes Yes, to charities

Q All right And --

MR SMALL: Thank you You can take that down

BY MR SMALL:

Q And then I think you mentioned you also look at other discretionary expenses, including donations or -- not donations, but contributions to a voluntary retirement plan; is that right

A Yes That's right

MR SMALL: Can we call up 274-0002?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a summary of what you found regarding Bob McDonnell's deferred compensation plan?

A Yes This is a tabulation from his W-2s

MR SMALL: Offer that into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

A From his W-2s for the amounts of contributions that he made for the years 2008 through 2012 There was no contribution in 2009 because that's the year he had resigned as the Attorney General position, and his compensation was very -- was not all that much for the first couple of months

BY MR SMALL:

Q All right He resigned as Attorney General in order to run for Governor That's your understanding?

A That's my understanding

Q Okay All right And so, again, in the year 2012, there was a voluntary contribution of $22,500 to the deferred compensation plan; is that correct?

A Yes That's right

Q All right So --

MR SMALL: You can take that down

BY MR SMALL:

Q -- based upon your review, including what we've summarized, did you reach an opinion as to Bob McDonnell's financial soundness?

A Yes I felt that his financial affairs were sound

Q And next, you also looked at sister Maureen If I use "sister Maureen," you'll know who I'm referring to?

A Yes, I will Thank you

Q And going in sort of the same order as we just did, did you look at her income over a period of time?

A Yes, I did

MR SMALL: Could we call up, just for the witness, 274-0004?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this the -- is this what you -- the chart reflecting her income over a several-year period?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Offer that into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And so you found that she had quite substantial income over that three-year period; is that correct?

A Yes You can see the totals there 329,000, roughly, in 2010 293 in 2011 And 557,000 in 2012 556 rounded down

Q All right And did you also -- you also looked at her -- her assets; is that correct?

A Yes

Q You didn't look at real estate specifically You were really looking at liquid assets; is that correct?

A That was my emphasis

MR SMALL: Can we go to 274-0013?

Ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q Tell us what this is

A This is a summary of sister Maureen's equivalent retirement accounts and her cash account in the year 2012

Q And just taking it one step at a time, the total you reached here is 815,000; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Now, you were here today for sister Maureen's testimony, correct?

A Yes

Q You have two 401(k)s or (a)s listed here Do you recall her testifying that there was a third 401(k) or (a)?

A Yes

Q And do you recall what she said?

A My recollection is she said she had a third 401(k) account, where I did not have a statement, with an estimate amount of about $50,000 is my recollection

Q All right So would that 50,000 be added, then, to the 815 to reach the total?

A Yes

Q And you also heard her testify about stock that she had received from her company?

A Yes, in two pieces Right

Q And what do you recall from that?

A That she had two pieces of -- of stock-based compensation One was participating in her employee stock plan and secondly were stock options that she was entitled to, some of which had vested And she had estimated the value of the stock plans --

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor, to him summarizing her testimony I don't think she specified a date on that

MR SMALL: She did, Your Honor

THE COURT: No She testified to that

But these are the figures that you're adding to your previous calculations now?

THE WITNESS: Yes, Your Honor

THE COURT: Go ahead

A It was approximately $250,000 of value then And then the -- she had remaining stock options that would vest periodically on January 1st of each year Somewhat complicated because of the Amerigroup purchase, I guess But she had estimated that unvested value at about 250,000

BY MR SMALL:

Q And by vested, does that mean that they could -- they could be sold then and there, correct?

A Correct

Q So if you're looking at her financial position as of 2012, which of those two, I guess, pieces of 250,000 each would you include into this 815,000?

A Well, I would add in the 50,000 for the third 401(k), assuming it's documented And then I would add in the 250,000 for the vested portion So adding 300,000 would say $1,115,000 of -- of value in assets And then the contingent value of the unvested portion would increase that by another 250,000 --

Q Okay

A -- as a range

Q All right So as of 2012, then, sister Maureen had over a million dollars in liquid assets, correct?

A That would be a fair appraisal

Q Okay And based on your review of her finances, do you have an opinion as to her financial soundness in 2012?

A She looked pretty sound

Q Now, MoBo -- your understanding is MoBo is a -- is a business between these two parties, correct?

A Yes

Q So did you look at the combined assets of these two people?

A Yes, I did

MR SMALL: Can we call up 274-0014?

Ask that that be admitted

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a rough look at the liquid assets of these two people in 2012?

A Yes It's a -- it's a simple addition for the purpose of looking at it as, you know, the two together

Q And would you -- to correct it based on sister Maureen, would you add the same 300,000 that you had added to the prior chart?

A Yes

Q So the -- the total liquid assets of these two folks would be approximately $1 4 million; is that correct?

A That's right

Q All right And then you and your --

MR SMALL: You can take that down for a moment

BY MR SMALL:

Q In your work, you have evaluated a number of real estate investments and real estate businesses, correct?

A Yes, as well as having been a participant in a number of them

Q And I -- am I correct that two of the goals of a real estate investment are to cover the interest costs and to pay down the debt?

A Well, that's -- together would be one goal Yes

Q Okay And did you take a look at MoBo to look at those -- either two goals or one goal, however you want to say it?

A Yes I tested both

MR SMALL: So if we could call up 274-0016, please, just for the witness

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a look -- just looking at Gross Rents versus Interest Expense, just carrying the debt; is that correct?

A That's right

MR SMALL: Ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And so what did you find?

A Well, as one can see very readily, the gross rents, which are taken from the tax returns, and the interest expense as well, the gross rents more than cover the interest expense And the differential is shown in the bottom line that, as one can see, over time, the gross rents, starting in 2008, were 190,000 They dipped in 2009, as was the case with the great recession and everything else Began to go back up, steady state, went up a bit more in 2012 to the $211,000 figure

The interest expense, at the same time, as you can see, was steadily -- steadily decreasing from 2010 onward -- actually, from 2008 down to 2009 and '10, when it stayed about the same And then it dropped again in 2011 and 2012

MR SMALL: Can we call up, just briefly, 274-0017?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this simply a graphic look at the gross rents, as you say, going up and interest expense going down?

A Yes That's what the chart shows

MR SMALL: Ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And it's your understanding that interest expenses were going down, in part, because there was refinancing of some of the debt?

A That's right

Q Okay

A And if I may add that the interest rates on some of the adjustables were also decreasing over time

Q Okay All right And did you also look at the repayment of mortgage principal, not just the interest?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Can we call up the redacted version of 274-0015, please, just for the witness

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a graph with your analysis of the payment of the mortgage principal?

A Well, this is -- the title is a little bit off The mortgage principal is cited for each of the four years, 2009, '10, '11, '12, for each of the three banks What's missing is the differential of what the balances were in 2009 versus the balances in 2012 So it's -- the title is a little off in this redacted version

Q Okay

MR SMALL: Ask that that be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q All right So what -- going through each of these loans, what does it reflect as the Bank @Lantec mortgage?

A Well, as one can see, the Bank @Lantec mortgage started with a balance of 920,000 in 2009 And then by 2012, it has been reduced to 903,355, or roughly $16,000 less, principal

Q And what about the Navy Federal Credit Union loan?

A Same arithmetic It started at 310,542 Ended the year 2012 at 272,816, or a reduction of roughly 38,000

Q And finally, the TowneBank?

A The TowneBank started at 722,372 And that is a combination, Attorney Small, of the two

Q Okay

A I thought it was Down to 705,100 So it's a $17,000 reduction

Q All right So all three mortgages, some of the principal has been paid off; is that correct?

A Yes That's right

Q Okay Did you calculate the total? I don't want to put you on the spot here

A That's okay 16,000 and 38,000 is 54, and 17 is $71,000

Q Okay

MR SMALL: All right You can take that down Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q And did you also look at the overall picture of MoBo expenses and income?

A Yes, I did

MR SMALL: Can we pull up the redacted version of 274-0018?

BY MR SMALL:

Q And is this a -- a review, a summary review of those numbers?

A Yes This is --

MR SMALL: Just ask that it be admitted, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR SMALL: Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q Go ahead, Mr Kosowsky

A Once again, this is redacted So the title needs to change to 2009 to 2012 The rental real estate is shown there on the top line The rental real estate expenses are all of the expenses from the tax return, with the exception of depreciation, which is a noncash charge So one would think of those as the cash expenses And the differential on the bottom is the -- is the cash loss

Q All right And going to each of those items, just briefly, fair to say that the rental income has increased every year, 2009 through 2012?

A Yes, it has

Q And the rental expenses has varied a bit, but over all, it's gone down between -- from 2009 to 2012?

A Well, the rental real estate expenses would include the interest expense

Q Okay

A So as we just saw, the interest expense was going down So you have, fortunately, rental income going up and interest expense going down So it helps the bottom line

Q All right And based on your review, did you come to an opinion as the financial outlook for MoBo?

A Well, based upon this trend, it looked like they were moving in the right direction to manage their income potential to the maximum, based upon what they were trying to do from what I heard today from Maureen McDonnell, as well as the other steps that they took to take advantage of lowering the interest rates on the various loans they had as well as to manage expenses as best they could

MR SMALL: May have one moment, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Sure

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR SMALL: Nothing further

Thank you, Mr Kosowsky

THE COURT: Mr Burck?

MR BURCK: No questions, Your Honor Thank you

THE COURT: All right

Government

MR FAULCONER: Thank you, Your Honor

Thank you, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Mr Kosowsky, you said on direct examination that you're being paid for your time here, right?

A I'm being compensated for the time charged, yes

Q And I think you said that your normal hourly rate is $525? Is that what you said?

A Yes

Q And that you're referring offering a 20 percent discount for your testimony here?

A Not for my testimony here For all of my work to date

Q And could you just give us an estimate of about how much time you've spent both in your preparation and also even including the time that you've been sitting here in court today?

A Well, I arrived here at about 7:00 Sunday evening So a couple of hours Sunday evening Pretty much all day yesterday working on demonstratives and the like, as well as sitting here today

Q So I must have misspoken I'm asking for dating back to the beginning of your engagement in this case --

A Oh My apologies

Q -- a total up until now, about how many hours?

A Oh, I would say between my time and my staff time is probably 175 hours, maybe approaching 200, given the time I've spent here

Q And about how much of that time has been your own personal time?

A I would say about two-thirds

Q So about, what, 150, 160 hours?

A No I would say about 120 hours would be about my time, give or take

Q And you recall having testified at a prior hearing in this case, right?

A Yes, I did

Q And at that time -- I think it was about July 15th; is that right?

A That's right

Q And as of that date, you had spent 100 hours?

A So it's -- it would probably be about 140 or so

Q Okay So about 40 hours last month?

A Between that service at that particular hearing as well as, you know, the time now

Q Okay So are we talking somewhere in the ballpark of $80,000 total?

A I don't think -- no No It wouldn't be $80,000 No Because my staff is much less

Q What would you give it as a ballpark?

A Well, that might be right That might be close Yeah Somewhere between 60 and $80,000, I would say

Q And I guess today, what time did you come into the courthouse this morning?

A 9:30

Q Okay So today we're talking, I don't know, about 3 or $4,000?

A Well, it's seven or eight hours So $3,000, give or take

Q And you also testified earlier that you've been an expert in a number of trials, right?

A Yes, I have

Q And I think Mr Small asked you if you had testified in federal district court before, right?

A Yes, I have

Q And you said somewhere in the range of, I think, 20, 25, somewhere in that ballpark?

A That was a combined total of federal and state, sir

Q Can you tell us how many of those trials have been criminal trial in federal district court?

A In federal district court, there was one criminal trial that I testified in Most of the -- virtually all of the criminal work that I've done has resulted in pleas

Q So this trial here today is your second federal criminal trial?

A That would be right

Q And fair to say that the prior one probably wasn't as high profile as this one?

A I think they're all high profile

Q But it's fair to say that part of the way you get business is through word of mouth, right?

A Well, that's true But I'll be 67 in January, and I'm winding things down

Q All right, sir Well, you said also that one of the things that you did in this case is that you sat through Ms Uncapher's testimony, right?

A Ms McDonnell, yes

Q Yeah Sister Maureen, as we've referred to her?

A Right, sister Maureen

Q And you also said that you reviewed Mr Uncapher's testimony, her ex-husband?

A That's right

Q And part of the reason you did that is because they're both involved with MoBo, right? They were at various points in time?

A Yes Mr Uncapher, in his capacity as a manager, bookkeeper, whatever, payer of bills

Q And sister Maureen McDonnell, she was one of the two partners of MoBo, right?

A Yes She's one of the two principals, right

Q Now, you also said something that I thought was interesting so I made sure to write it down You said that you relied on some of Jonnie Williams' testimony, right?

A That's right

Q Could you tell us who it was that decided which parts you would rely on and which parts you wouldn't?

A Well, the testimony that was given to me were the two, two or three pages as an excerpt from his testimony That was given to me by counsel

Q Okay And so when defense counsel gave you only two or three pages of Mr Williams' testimony, did you ask for the rest of it?

A No, I didn't ask for the rest of it

Q So you don't know whether any of that testimony provides additional context that would undercut your conclusions, do you?

A I don't know

Q Now, you also said that -- so we talked about sister Maureen McDonnell We talked about Mr Uncapher, and we've talked about Mr Williams But you've actually spoken to Mr McDonnell as well?

A I did speak to Mr McDonnell, yes The Governor

Q And at the prior hearing -- you didn't say it on direct examination today, but at the prior hearing in this case, you actually said that you relied on statements from Mr McDonnell in forming your conclusions about financial soundness in this case, right?

A At that hearing I did, yes I believe I did

Q And at that prior hearing, you actually also said that you took notes during your meeting with Mr McDonnell?

A I thought I had Yes

Q In fact, I think you said, "I'm sure I did at the time "

A And I was mistaken

Q All right And so then after the hearing, you were actually asked to provide those to counsel, right?

A Yes, I was

Q And you didn't provide any notes after you were asked for them?

A I didn't provide them because I didn't have them

Q Instead what you did was provide a summary, right?

A I think I did by way of an e-mail, yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I'd like to show the witness what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 653 And I think we have to do this using the Elmo

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q It will come up on the screen in just a second

A Okay

Q Do you see that there, sir?

A Yes I'm reading it

Q Have you had a chance to read that?

A Yes, I have

Q And is this an accurate summary of the summary you put together with defense counsel?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we offer Exhibit 653 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Mr Kosowsky, it took you about how long to read that just now, about a minute or so?

A A couple minutes, right

Q You agree with me that you had previously testified that your conversation with Mr McDonnell lasted somewhere in the range of 30 to 45 minutes, right?

A I think that's what the video conference was It was a video conference with a number present, including the Governor

Q But your testimony here today is that there was no information discussed in this 45 minutes that is not on this single piece of paper?

A Well, it's possible that I just don't remember it, but that's what stuck out in my mind Those were the goals that I had at the time to understand

Q All right

MR FAULCONER: We can go ahead and take that down

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, to be clear, Mr Kosowsky, you testified a little bit about financial soundness, right?

A Yes

Q And you said that you came to the conclusion that Mr McDonnell, sister Maureen McDonnell, and MoBo were all financially sound in some form or another?

A In their entirety Yes

Q But you'd agree with me that you didn't do any independent appraisals of their real estate properties, did you?

A No, I did not

Q One of the things that you took into consideration in determining that financial soundness in an entity called Racehorse, LLC, right?

A Yes

Q And essentially what Racehorse is is it's Mr McDonnell's share in a law firm that he used to work at, or at least in the entity that owns the property, right?

A I believe it's an office building

Q And how did you come to the valuation for what Racehorse was worth for Mr McDonnell?

A I just used the K-1 capital account value at that time

Q So you essentially took whatever he told you and just used that?

A No I took the K-1 from the -- from his tax records, which is a common practice

Q But you didn't independently verify what that was actually worth?

A No I saw no need to

Q And with respect to Racehorse, it's not just that that's an asset that Mr McDonnell had That's actually something that produced income for him, right?

A It produces taxable income, and it also produces cash distributions

Q Right But I think the valuation of Racehorse, if I remember correctly, is somewhere in the range of 200, 225,000, right?

A I don't recall his capital account being that No

Q But you'd agree with me that if he -- whatever it was, if he sold that interest in Racehorse and got rid of it -- right? -- it's off the books --

A Right

Q -- he wouldn't have whatever income stream comes from it on annual basis, right?

A Well, in its place, he would have had whatever cash he received, which he would probably seek to use in some other way, by way of investment or otherwise

Q Right But regardless of what he does with that cash, he wouldn't have the continuing income stream year after year?

A Not from that No

Q And you didn't do any sort of independent market analysis to figure out how much cash he would have gotten from selling that, right?

A No No

Q Now, one of the other things that you said that you looked at was some retirement accounts, right?

A That's right

Q But to be clear, you didn't calculate what the penalties would have been for withdrawals from those retirement accounts, did you?

A Well, the Governor is over 59 and a half So there wouldn't be any penalties

Q There certainly would be potentially tax sequences to some of them, right?

A It would be taxed as regular income at whatever rate he might -- whatever rate bracket he fell in Yes

Q And certainly if you withdraw money from those retirement accounts, then they won't be growing anymore, right, or at least the money that you pull out won't be growing in the stock market?

A Well, it won't be growing in that But, again, if you took the cash out, paid the taxes and took that cash and reinvested in something else where the returns might be equal to what it would have been getting pretax, you know, who knows I mean, that's speculation

Q Well, to be clear, sir, you're an expert, right?

A I've been admitted as an expert here, yes But --

Q Okay And you're --

A But I'm not an investment expert

Q Okay And so -- you said something just a moment ago about Mr McDonnell being 59 and a half and not having penalties You were in court when Ms Uncapher, Ms Sister Maureen McDonnell, testified that the 60th birthday party was this past summer, right?

A Right

Q And so you'd agree with me that about Mr McDonnell was not 59 and a half yet in 2011 or 2012, right?

A Right But he is as of now

Q Right But you're aware that the money from Mr Williams came in 2011 and 2012, right?

A That's right

Q And at that time, there would have been penalties associated with withdrawals from those retirement accounts?

A Depending upon when he took it out

Q But you didn't go and figure that out, did you?

A I didn't see any need to

Q Now, I'd like to show you what's been admitted already as Exhibit 513 Now, if we could -- you're familiar with this document, right? These are the final financials for MoBo for 2012 We can flip through it for a moment if you need to

A I don't remember I may have seen it

MR FAULCONER: If we could flip to the second page of that document?

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Does that appear to be the balance sheet as of December 31st, 2012, for MoBo?

A Just going from recollection, you know, the numbers look pretty close Yes

Q All right

MR FAULCONER: Now, if we could flip forward to, I think, the sixth page of this document, and if we could zoom in on the bottom half

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Mr Kosowsky, you were in court earlier today for sister Maureen McDonnell's testimony, right?

A Yes

Q And you remember there being some testimony about her saying, "Well, if there's a shortfall in MoBo, I could just make up the difference We wouldn't necessarily need any money from Mr McDonnell," something to effect, right?

A That's right

Q Now, you'd agree with me that here listed in the loans for MoBo, as of 2012 at the far right, sister Maureen McDonnell had contributed $80,101 56, right?

A Well, that's what's been recorded as loans, but it may not be everything that preceded the year 2008 that may have been recorded as a capital contribution

Q But at least as of 2012, the loans paid in by sister Maureen McDonnell were about $80,000?

A That's what it says

Q And as of 2012, the total loans paid in by Mr McDonnell was about $76,000, right?

A Yes That's what it says

Q So you'd agree with me that in terms of the total loans that were paid in by the two of them, it was pretty close to 50/50, right?

A As this is depicted, yes

Q All right Now, Mr Kosowsky, I'd like to start going through some of the charts that you showed us a little bit earlier today And I'd like to start with what was admitted as -- and I think on our system it's referred to a little differently, but you know which ones I'm talking about, right?

MS TAYLOR: Yeah

MR FAULCONER: All right So if we could go to Page 2 Actually, you know what For this one, I think we need to switch over to the defense system because there was a change this morning, Your Honor Okay So this is RM-0274-0002 All right And this has been admitted If we could publish it

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Mr Kosowsky, you talked to us a little about there being voluntary contributions in four of these five years, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And in 2009, what's the dollar amount that you have there?

A Zero

Q You would agree with me, Mr Kosowsky, that you leave out that there was a $9,000 withdrawal from the account that year, right?

A Well, this wasn't designed to talk about withdrawals This was designed to talk about contributions from his W-2

Q But you'd agree that withdrawals reduce the balance in the account, right?

A Oh, sure

Q And you'd agree with me that in 2009, there was about a $9,000 withdrawal?

A I don't recollect the exact amount I know there were some withdrawals that took place over the years

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I'd like to hand a document to the witness to refresh his recollection

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, sir, if you could turn to the page of this document, there's a little yellow sticky note at the bottom right-hand corner that says 306 on the Bates stamp

A Yes I have it, sir

Q And if you could take a look at that, and let me know if that refreshes your recollection about the withdrawals from the account in 2009?

A Yes There's an indicated distribution of $9,105 50 that took place at some point in time during the year

Q And that's not shown on this chart of yours, is it?

A No

Q Now, you would also agree with me, Mr Kosowsky, while you still have this document, this chart here says Deferred Compensation Plan, right?

A Right

Q But you'd agree with me that there's actually two different accounts that are part of the Commonwealth of Virginia retirement accounts for Mr McDonnell, right?

A That's right There are two

Q One is called a deferred compensation plan, a 457?

A That's right

Q And one is called a 401(a), cash match plan?

A Right

Q But this plan here only refers to the deferred compensation plan?

A Yes

Q Now, that date there, April 30, 2012, can you tell us how you picked that date?

A I think that was a statement that was available that we were able to find

Q But you'd agree with me that the quarterly statements typically come on -- at the end of March or the end of June, right?

A I don't know

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I don't know if you want to break before I move on to the next chart

THE COURT: All right We'll go ahead and stop there

All right We made it through another day, and we still got 12 jurors So life is good Again, please don't discuss the case with anyone or allow anybody to discuss it with you, and don't review any media items related to the case And as always, be safe, and we will see you tomorrow Let me make sure I think it's 9:45, but let me take a look All right 9:45 We will see you in the morning

(The trial adjourned at 5:30 p m)

All right, good morning Government?

CROSS-EXAMINATION (Cont'd)

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Good morning, Kosowsky

A Good morning

Q Now, yesterday we spoke briefly about some of your conversations with Mr McDonnell, right?

A Yes

Q About how many times total would you say that you have spoken to Mr McDonnell?

A Well, aside from the video conference, there was one other very brief encounter I had with him coming into the hearing back in July And since then, in the course of the last couple of days, I've just said hello

Q So about how many times do you think you have seen him in person?

A Well, in person would be one time in July, and what would be Monday, Tuesday, and today

Q So about four or five times total?

A That would be right

Q Now, to be fair, if we could pull up what was admitted yesterday as Exhibit 653 This has been admitted already, if we could publish it. This is that document summarizing the video conference that you had with Mr McDonnell, right?

A Yes, that's right

Q To be fair, even though you have only spoken to him a couple of times or met him a couple of times, you did discuss his father's estate with him, right?

A I'm not sure if it was with him or with counsel I just don't remember specifically

Q Well, here, the second bullet point in your summary of your conversation with Mr McDonnell makes a reference to his father's estate, right?

A Yes, that would refresh my recollection. It probably happened at that video conference

Q And you also talked in that video conference about sort of the tension between Mr Uncapher and sister Maureen McDonnell and some of the impact that that had on finances, right?

A Yes, we did

Q But Mr Kosowsky, despite discussing some of those personal things with Mr McDonnell, Mr Small asked you a question yesterday which was, I think he asked you, "You're not a personal friend or otherwise of Bob McDonnell, are you?" Do you recall that?

A I think he did ask me that, yes

Q And you answered, "No."

A That's right

Q And why was that?

A This is a complete business relationship There is no personal relationship whatsoever

Q And you in your profession, you are a businessman, right?

A Of course

Q And in your testimony here today, you are testifying as an expert

A That's what I have been admitted to do, yes

Q And when one of your clients approaches you, essentially what they are saying is, "You have knowledge or expertise that I, the client, don't necessarily have and I'd like you to help me out with that," right?

A Well, it is not generally done through the client It is probably done 99 percent of the time through counsel asking for that assistance

Q Got it But essentially, what the counselor is saying is, "You have some skill or some ability that I don't have, but you can share it with the jury," right?

A Often it is, you know, having the financial accounting knowledge and otherwise to assist counsel in giving legal advice

Q Now, when you as the expert witness, when you are hired or retained, you are not necessarily doing that because you are financially desperate, right?

A Oh, no

Q And when you agree to do it, the money that you get in exchange for the work that you do, you can spend that on whatever you want, right?

A Well, I pay my own salaries and bills, yeah, sure

Q And here, I think we talked about it yesterday, it is somewhere in the range of 60 to $80,000 total, right?

A That would be the total fees probably charged to date, yes

Q Now, I assume, you are not from here in Richmond, are you?

A No, I'm from Connecticut

Q And so I assume you stayed over last night, right?

A I did

Q And that, again, was paid for through your compensation as an expert?

A It would be one of the billable expenses, yes

Q And since your testimony yesterday, about how many more hours of work did you do since we left here yesterday?

A None

Q And yesterday, I asked you about how many federal criminal trials you have testified in, and you said one You recall that, right?

A That's correct, right

Q But to be fair, you did say that you had worked on several criminal trials, right?

A I've worked on quite a number of criminal matters, some of which have gone to trial

Q And on how many of those criminal matters were you hired by the government?

A I've never been hired by the government

MR. FAULCONER: So I'd like to now go to one of the charts that we talked briefly about yesterday, and that's RM-0274-0002 This has already been admitted. I think it is just RM, not RFM. If we could switch over to the defense system. Let's go back over to our system. We have it

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Mr Kosowsky, you recall us looking at this chart yesterday, right?

A Yes

Q And this is based off of some of the retirement statements, right?

A Yes The contributions are from the W-2's of the Governor and the account value is a total account value of the accounts he had in total as of that date

Q With the assistance of the Court Security Officer, we looked at this briefly yesterday, but I would like to hand up a paper copy of Exhibit 662 Now, sir, this is a stack of retirement account statements for Mr McDonnell, right?

A The title page says 457 Deferred Compensation Plan.

Q If you flip through those, you recognize the pages here as pages from his retirement statements, right?

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer Exhibit 662 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Now, I think we can probably do this without having to put it up on the Elmo by just you and I looking at these numbers If you could turn with me to the blue sticky note, there's little tabs you see on the right?

A Yes

Q Do you see the blue one that says 3-31-12?

A Yes

Q If you could turn to that one --

MR. SMALL: Which exhibit is this?

MR FAULCONER: This is Bates stamped 0367, about two-thirds of the way back

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q You see that is the statement ending March 31st, 2012 for the Deferred Compensation Plan, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And the balance that's listed on the Deferred Compensation Plan for March 31st, 2012, is $34,009 75. Right?

A Yes, that's right

Q Now, the dollar amount that you have here on your chart for deferred compensation says 192,300, right?

A That may be That's maybe misleading It is really the total accounts, both accounts

Q So when you say here on your chart "Deferred Compensation," what you really mean is deferred compensation plus the Cash Match Plan, right?

A Plus whatever the 401 plan was or the 403 plan.

Q If you turn to the orange sticky note, the next one, March 31st, 2012, this is 370 Bates stamp.

A Right

Q That's the remainder of that balance, right?

A Yes, $158,043 35

Q But you would agree with me, sir, that on here where you have Deferred Compensation and you have that account number, you are listing out the voluntary contributions, right?

A That's right

Q But there were no voluntary contributions to that Cash Match Plan, were there?

A Not that I found, no

Q Now, one of the things that I think you said yesterday, sir, was that one indicator of financial soundness or one factor that goes into that is that if somebody is contributing to their retirement, that tends to indicate that they have some disposable income, right?

A Yes

Q But you would agree with me, sir, that in 2009 here on your chart there are zero contributions, right?

A That's right

Q And then it increases a little bit in 2010 to $2,100, right?

A That's right

Q But then the big increase is really in 2011 and 2012, right?

A Yes That's what the chart shows, yes

Q And it is about 14,000 in 2011 and about 20,000 in 2012

A 14,400 and 22,500, sir

Q Mr Kosowsky, you are aware that the 14,400 in 2011, that was the same year that the McDonnells received $50,000 from Jonnie Williams?

A It is the year that Ms McDonnell received the $50,000

Q We will get to that later, but it is the year that a $50,000 check went into Ms McDonnell's bank account, right?

A At some point in time, yes

Q And the 2012 figure there, that's the same year that $70,000 from Mr Williams came into the MoBo Realty account, right?

A That's true

Q And this balance that we have of 192,300 that you are looking at here, I think you said earlier that if this was withdrawn before Mr McDonnell got to 59-and-a-half, there would potentially be penalties associated with withdrawal from this account, right?

A Under the tax law there is a ten percent early withdrawal penalty

Q But, sir, you said yesterday that you never went and actually looked at the terms of this account to determine exactly what the tax or penalty consequences would have been, right?

A No, I relied on my tax knowledge

Q But you never calculated it, did you?

A No I saw no reason to

Q And after I asked about it yesterday, you didn't calculate it overnight?

A No.

Q So sitting here today, you can't tell us exactly how much out of that 192,000 Mr McDonnell would have had to pay in penalties or taxes if he had actually chosen to tap into this account, do you?

A Well, to be clear, at what moment in time? Generally speaking, just as a principle, prior to his turning 59-and-a-half, he would pay a ten percent penalty of the amount withdrawn, plus whatever tax happened to result from including that in his income for that year, however that calculated out

Q So when you say "whatever tax" and "however that calculated out," that's a calculation that you never did.

A No.

Q So I'd like to go to RM-0274-0012, which has already been admitted. This is essentially showing those same two plans but later in that year, right?

A That's correct

Q And that earlier chart, I think, if I'm correct, was about $192,000, right?

A Yes

Q And that was April 30th of 2012?

A I think that's right

Q And you are aware that on May 22nd of 2012, $20,000 from Mr Williams went into the MoBo account, right?

A Yes

Q And this retirement account, by the end of 2012, after that payment from Mr Williams, has gone up by about $17,000, right?

A Yes, from the April 30th date, that would be about right

Q And sir, just so I'm clear, the title of this chart that you have here says "RFM Additional Savings "

A Yes

Q Sir, you are obviously aware that these plans, these aren't like a normal savings account where you can just pull money out without a penalty, right?

A No, I understand that

Q But it doesn't say that on your chart, does it?

A It doesn't specifically say that in the header, but to be clear for the jury, it is the summary of the two retirement accounts as we would look at them.

Q If we could flip forward to RM-0274-0013, which has already been admitted. Now, this is the same, a similar sort of analysis that you did for sister Maureen, at least the first two rows, right?

A Yes, sir

Q Those are the two retirement accounts that you talked about reviewing the records for with respect to her

A Yes, sir

Q Now, to be clear, again, those top two accounts, those are the ones that would have tax consequences or penalties associated with withdrawals, right?

A Oh, yes

Q And sir, I noticed on this chart, the first two rows say 9-30-2012, right?

A Right

Q The bottom row for the cash account says 12-31-2012

A Yes, sir

Q That number there that you have, you didn't calculate what that number would have been on 9-30-2012 across all three accounts, did you?

A Unfortunately, those records were not made available

Q You didn't calculate it for what it would have been all on 12-31, 2012

A Again, unfortunately those records were not available I sought them, but they were not available

Q But to be clear, sir, you also testified yesterday about sister Maureen McDonnell mentioning some additional accounts, right?

A That's right

Q You never reviewed any paperwork for those additional accounts

A Right, which is why I didn't include them in the chart

Q But you added them in during your direct examination yesterday, right?

A Based upon the testimony, yes

Q We can take that one down Based on your review of the accounts, that was sister Maureen's retirement Can you tell us in total how much money sister Maureen transferred into Mr McDonnell's bank account from 2009 to 2012?

A I don't know.

Q But you do know that Mr Williams gave $50,000 that went into Ms McDonnell's bank account, right?

A That's correct

Q And the $70,000 that went into MoBo's bank account

A That's right

Q So I'd like to talk a little bit then about MoBo Realty I'd like to show you what's been previously admitted as RM-0274-0015 Now, sir, this is the chart that you showed with respect to mortgage principal paid by MoBo, right?

A Yes

Q And looking at this chart, essentially what you were saying was, "Hey, look, the principal amounts go down on each of these loans and so that means they are doing something good, they are paying down principal," right?

A Right

Q And each of the ones that you show here, they go down over time, right?

A They do

Q But, sir, it is true that this chart does not include some loans on which Mr McDonnell and his sister didn't pay down any significant principal, right?

A Correct These are the mortgages as opposed to the other loans, which were not documented as mortgages, to my understanding This is secured debt

Q Well, sir, keeping in mind that figure you have for TowneBank there of $705,000, I'd like to turn to what's been already admitted as Exhibit 604 Sir, do you see the fourth line down there?

A Yes

Q That's a TowneBank mortgage, home equity line of credit, right?

A Yes

Q That's not included on your chart, was it?

A No, it is not

Q And on that one there was only $74 paid down in principal over four years, right?

A That's right Because it was a line of credit that remained static over time, except for the $74

Q And these other loans that are listed here, the Maureen Uncapher loan, that's sister Maureen McDonnell, that balance goes up over all four years, right?

A Right And while it might be characterized as a loan, I would look at it as capital

Q But on their books it is a loan, right?

A As characterized

Q And John McDonnell listed the next one down, there is no principal repaid from '09 to 2012 on that loan, was there?

A That's right

Q The Bob McDonnell line there, that number goes up over the course of the last three years, right?

A Similar to his sister, yes And again, I would view that as capital

Q But it is on their books as a loan.

A I understand.

Q I'd like to show you what was previously admitted as RM-0274-0016 Sir, this is the chart that you showed us showing the gross rents for MoBo and then interest expenses over time, right?

A Yes, sir

Q But you would agree with me that interest expenses are not the only expense -- not the only cash disbursement out of the MoBo account, right?

A Oh, no, of course not

Q All right So this chart that we are looking at here, this doesn't include principal like we saw in that other chart, does it?

A No, it doesn't

Q And this doesn't include something like maintenance, does it?

A No That wasn't the intent of the chart

Q And it doesn't include repairs, does it?

A No

Q Doesn't include something like professional or realty fees?

A No

Q It doesn't include any costs for capital improvements

A No.

Q Well then, I'd like to show you the next page, I believe, RM-0274-0017, previously admitted. So sir, here, what this chart was showing was the blue line is basically the rents for MoBo, right?

A Correct

Q Then the red line down below, that's the interest expense

A Yes

Q But that red line doesn't include, as we just talked about, any of those other expenses or cash disbursements from the account

A Correct, that wasn't the intent of the chart

Q Go to RM-0274-0018 Now, this is a chart that does show some of the disbursements from the account in the rental real estate expenses row, right?

A Yes, it shows all of the disbursements with the exception -- all of the disbursements that would enter into the calculation of taxable income except for depreciation, which is a non-cash charge And then there would be at least two other general categories of disbursements that one would think of One would be the mortgage principal reduction and capital expenditures to the extent that they were made over time Just to give it a holistic view

Q So to try and figure out what that sort of holistic view number would be, let's look at what's been previously admitted as Government Exhibit 602-A. Now, sir, you would agree with me that this chart shows basically the same first three rows from the chart we were just looking at, right?

A That's right

Q But then this chart actually includes those other two things, loan principal repayments and capitalized expenses, right?

A Yes

Q I have a calculator here, just because I know you do this for a living, but I don't I'd like to total up what the three amounts are and make sure we get a total on that

A Which three amounts are you talking about?

Q Let's start with rental real estate expenses That's $206,600

A Okay

Q If you add that to 79,395, that gives you about $285,995, right?

A 286 to be rounding it simple

Q Then if you add on 30,040, that gives you about

$316,000, right?

A That's right

Q If we could go back to RM-0274-0018 0017 Sorry You would agree with me, sir, that the total figure we just calculated of $316,035, that would be off the top of this chart, right?

A I'm sorry, what was it again? If you'll just repeat that, please

Q The number we just calculated of the total cash disbursements in 2012 was $316,000 or so, right?

A For those categories, right

Q And that number, if you actually compared it to this blue line here, would be off the top of this chart

A Yes, it would Sure, of course, because the top on the left-hand axis, the top is 250 You would have to bring it up to 325 for the sake of argument

Q Got it So then the difference between those two things, between that blue line and the line that we would add if we were doing all the cash disbursements, that gets made up for through either owners contributions or loans from third parties, right?

A Either loans or contributions, that's right That's the other source of cash that would fund the differential

Q So that would be something like the John McDonnell loan from the father, right?

A Early on, yes

Q Or later on, something like the Dr Davis loan?

A Correct

Q Or even later on than that, something like the Jonnie Williams loan.

A Correct

Q So let's move away from MoBo and look at Mr McDonnell's income I'd like to show you what was previously admitted as RM-0274-0003

A Yes

Q This is the chart that you showed us about Mr McDonnell's income, right?

A Correct

Q You said that 2009, I think, when you were asked about it, you said that that year where the wages go down, that was the year that he resigned to run for Governor, right?

A That's my understanding, correct

Q But you would agree with me, sir, that when you actually look at the adjusted gross income, the adjusted gross income for Mr and Ms McDonnell is actually higher in 2009 than it was in 2008, right?

A That's right

Q And if we could go to what's been previously admitted as 636 Zoom in on that This is the W-2 for Huff, Poole

& Mahoney from 2009, right?

A I believe so, yes

Q And that $123,173 87, that's income that Mr McDonnell got from that source, right?

A Those are his wages from that firm, yes

Q Of course, you yourself don't know how many hours he actually billed through Huff, Poole & Mahoney, do you?

A I don't know

Q You do know he was running for Governor that year.

A That's what I was told, yes

Q If we could go back to RM 0274-0003 You would agree with me that the number you have here for adjusted gross income, this doesn't include any withholdings for tax purposes, does it?

A No, of course not

Q And this doesn't include any fixed expenses, does it?

A No, it would not include any fixed expenses It is simply income, except for whatever the share of taxable income or loss was from the various partnerships that he was a member of

Q Exactly So this chart isn't actually showing how much disposable income is left after fixed expenses and taxes, is it?

A No, it wasn't intended to do so

Q You did review Mr McDonnell's tax returns, right?

A Yes

Q So you are aware of how much, at least in expense, he had to pay in mortgage interest alone on his personal residence every year, right?

A Oh, sure

Q With the assistance of the Court Security Officer --

MR. FAULCONER: Your Honor, on this one I'd like to use the Elmo for what's been marked as Exhibit 663

THE COURT: All right

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, you agree with me that this is one of the source documents from the taxes for Mr McDonnell, right?

A Yes

Q You agree with me that this is something that was pretty common; he would put things in handwriting and give it to his tax preparer

A Yes, he did

MR FAULCONER: We would like to offer what's been marked as Government's 663 in evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q On this page, Mr Kosowsky, if we go down a little bit as I slide this up, do you see there in the bottom right where it says "Interest"?

A Yes, I do.

Q And it says "PFCU Home 40,454 " Right?

A That's right

Q It says "NFCU Home, 10,126 "

A Yes

Q So that shows Mr McDonnell's note here, total mortgage interest for 2009 of $50,580, right?

A That's right

Q So, sir, if we could go back to RM 0274-0003 You would agree with me that if you take $50,000 off of 190, that takes us down to 140, right?

A Sure

Q And then you are also aware, I won't go through the calculations here in Court, but that he paid somewhere in the range of about $58,000 worth of deductions or withholdings -- not deductions, sorry There were about 58-or-so-thousand-dollars' worth of withholdings that year

A I'll take your word for it

Q Does that seem about right?

A I would have to look at the W-2's, but I think there were at least the two W-2's, maybe three, and then there were some retirement distributions, and I don't recall whether there was any withholding on them or not

Q Got it If we assume somewhere in the range of 50 to $60,000 worth of withholdings, plus the $50,000 in mortgage interest principal on the personal residence, that could well bring that number down to around under $100,000 left in disposable income, right?

A Yeah, that's about right

Q Now, sir, of course what we just talked about was just mortgage interest on the principal residence, right?

A Correct

Q We didn't talk about any other sort of mandatory expenses

A What would they be? Go ahead

Q Didn't talk about anything related to raising children or food or expenses like that, did we?

A Oh, no. Living expenses, you mean.

Q Right So you never calculated what actually were Mr McDonnell's month-to-month or year-to-year fixed expenses, did you?

A Well, characterizing them as "fixed" means they are never going to change There may be categories that might be fixed, but the amounts could vary from time to time

Q Got it But in terms of the amounts varying from time to time, you don't know how much they would vary because you didn't calculate it

A No.

Q But you would agree with me that once you figure out whatever that fixed expense is and you compare it to the income, what that leaves you with is disposable income, right?

A That would be what would be left over, that's right

Q Disposable income That's the sort of money you spend on things like vacations, right?

A Could be

Q Sort of money you spend on things like luxury clothing?

A Possibly

Q Luxury watches?

A Possibly

Q Golf?

A Sure

Q But this chart here, this doesn't show how much disposable income the McDonnells had for those things, does it?

A No

Q You also never calculated how much money for those things the McDonnells got from other people, did you?

A No, I did not

Q You never reviewed Mr McDonnell's SOEI's, did you?

A No, I've never seen them.

Q When you interviewed him, you never asked him about any gifts from people he said were his personal friends that weren't on his SOEIs, did you?

A No

Q All right So if somebody doesn't have enough disposable income to do whatever they want to do in terms of vacations, golf, watches, one of the options that they have is to put those types of expenses on their credit card, right?

A It is an option.

Q I'd like to show you RM-0274-0007 Now, sir, this is one of the charts that you talked about yesterday, right?

A Yes

Q And this showed as of May 1st, 2011 what you calculated Mr and Ms McDonnell's credit limits to be

A That's right From the statements Those were the limits per the cards

Q To be clear, sir, credit limits, can you tell us, would you consider unused credit limit to be a liquid resource?

A Well, it is a resource, sure I mean, it is an available line of credit that one could use as long as the credit line remains outstanding, sure

Q But would you consider it a liquid resource?

A Well, it would be liquid -- you have to differentiate between what might be a cash advance amount, and cash advance amounts are generally less allowed than the credit limit So you could perhaps max out your credit card by buying things, but if you wanted to take a cash advance, generally the cards or the lines of credit reduce that by maybe about ten percent

Q Sir, maybe to go at this a different way --

THE COURT: I would like an answer to the question Do you consider credit capacity to be liquid?

THE WITNESS: Yes It is a liquid resource, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q But you agree that cash would be a better liquid resource, right?

A Oh, sure

Q Now, I think, if I'm correct, Mr Kosowsky, you have also previously characterized loans as a liquid resource, right?

A Well, if you have a line of credit, that is a liquid resource, sure

Q But typically, sir, you agree with me you wouldn't characterize a debt as an asset, right?

A Oh, no

Q But credit card charges, that's debt, right?

A Sure

Q Loans, that's debt?

A Right

Q And debt typically isn't something that you refer to as a liquid asset, right?

A No You wouldn't characterize it as a liquid asset But to the extent that there is a line of credit that allows you to draw on it, that is money that is available to you So that's a liquid resource, to answer Your Honor's question

Q Okay Just so we are clear for the record, could you define exactly in your expert opinion what you believe the term "liquid" to mean?

A Well, liquid means that it is readily available, that one can access it virtually on a daily basis, you know, something that you can get right away

Q So from your perspective, liquid resource would include any mortgage?

A No It would not include any mortgage It would only include, for example, a home equity line of credit where you had available credit that you could draw upon if you needed it That would be the liquid resource amount

Q But if you use those types of liquid resources, like a line of credit or credit card, that creates additional debt, right?

A Sure

Q And then that puts you in a worse financial position than you were before you used that liquid resource, right?

A Well, sure, you have to pay it off or have some way to discharge it over time

BY THE COURT:

Q How is it that you determine that this is a good thing, that it shows a sound financial situation by creating debt?

A Well, Your Honor, I think the point here is that the Governor had the ability to access credit to meet his obligations

Q What I am hearing from you, he had the ability to create a debt

A He did

Q And that made him better off

A Well, it meant that the credit institution saw him as creditworthy, and that he could use that debt as he saw fit in his business enterprises or personally

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q So sir, let's compare this debt that we are talking about here to the debt that the McDonnells incurred from Mr Williams With the assistance of the Court Security Officer, I'd like to hand up to you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 660

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I'm going to have to go back to the Elmo on this one

THE COURT: All right

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Actually, Mr Kosowsky, just to help us keep track of things, I'd like to hand up to you a copy of your charts that we have been looking at And specifically, I'd like to direct your attention to the page that has those credit limits listed on it that we were just looking at a moment ago Okay?

A Sure

Q All right, sir Now, looking at the stack of documents that I handed up to you that's Exhibit 660, you would agree with me that these are pages from the credit card statements from May of 2011, right?

A I'm looking at them quickly, sir They appear to be

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer Exhibit 660 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR. FAULCONER: Your Honor, if I may publish it on the Elmo?

THE COURT: Go ahead.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Now, sir --

MR FAULCONER: I may need Ms Taylor's help on this one I learned I shouldn't try to do that Ms Taylor is better at that, I think, Your Honor

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, looking at this document, sir, the first page, this is the PenFed Visa account, right?

A That's right

Q Now, on the chart that you have for the credit limits, the number for that account ends in 0124, right?

A That's right

Q Now, on this bill here, the account number there in the middle left, that says the account number is actually 8647, right?

A Right

Q But to be fair, the credit limit of $20,000, that matches what's on your chart, right?

A Yes, sir

Q All right Now, on the front page of this document, do you see there where it says "Interest Charge" on the right side, $26 71? Is that right?

A Yes

Q And then if you go down below that, you see that it says that "If only the minimum payment " if we can just slide that up a little bit, Ms Taylor A little bit further "If only the minimum payment is made on this card it will take 17 years to pay it off," right?

A That's right

Q And "If $309 per month is paid, it will take three years to pay it off "

A Yes

Q If we can flip to the next page You see there where it has the interest charge calculations, right?

A Right

Q And it says that purchases on this card will be 12 49 percent interest, right?

A Right

Q Same with cash advances?

A Well, same for cash advances, and then a balance transfer cash rate is 2 9 percent

Q 2 99 percent, right?

A Right

Q You would agree with me that every one of those rates is higher than the two percent three-year loan from Mr Williams, right?

A Oh, sure

Q So let's go to the next card The next card on the next page is the Bank of America card, right?

A Right

Q Now, the Bank of America card, this one ends on the statement in 2576, right?

A Right

Q On your chart, I think it says 1342, right?

A Yes

Q Now, regardless, the credit limit available is the same as what's on your chart, right?

A Right

Q And here, I think that if we go to the second page of this document, this shows the balance transfer rate of 9 99 percent, right?

A Right

Q And cash advance of 17 99?

A Right

Q Purchases, 9 99

A Right

Q All of those are higher than a two percent rate from Mr Williams, right?

A Oh, sure

Q Now, it does show there a zero percent promotional APR, right?

A Right

Q And that's for essentially something similar to a balance transfer or a convenience check?

A Probably

Q But to be clear, sir, you have never heard of a promotional APR that lasts for three years, right?

A No They generally don't

Q But the Mr Williams loan, that was a three-year balloon note, at least according to your understanding

A That's my understanding, correct

Q Let's go to the next card. This is the Citi card, right?

A Right

Q And this one shows here, if you look at the interest charged on the May, 2011 statement, it shows interest charge of $13 46, right?

A Correct

Q If you go to the next page, that shows an APR for purchases of a little over 12 percent, right?

A Right

Q And advances of a little over 20 percent?

A Right

Q And again, both of those are higher than a two percent from Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

Q So let's go to the next one This next card, this one shows on the first page, it looks like a pretty small interest charge of only $8 that month, right?

A Right

Q If you go to the next page, this shows purchases -- sorry, APR for purchases of over 17 percent

A Yes

Q And all of the rates shown on this one are bigger than a two percent rate, right?

A Yes, they are

Q And typically, all of these cards would require some sort of minimum monthly payment

A One would expect, sure

Q Now, going to the next one, this is the Sears MasterCard, right?

A Right

Q And this one shows an interest charge that month of about $20, right?

A Yes

Q If you go to the next page, this one shows over 25 percent for either purchases or cash advances, right?

A Right

Q And it does show a little bit lower for a balance transfer, right, 3 99?

A Yes It is quite a bit lower, 3 99 percent

Q Regardless, that's still double two percent, right?

A Sure

Q If we go to the next one, this is the USAA Visa, right?

A Yes

Q And this one, if we go to the second page, this shows interest charges of about 7 75 percent, right?

A Yes, sir.

Q That is larger than a two percent three-year balloon payment, right?

A Right
Q Then I think we are almost to the last one here The next page, that's a Costco card, right?
A Yes, I think that's correct
Q And if we flip forward one page, then one more page, we see there that this one is 27 percent, right?
A Right
Q And if we go to the next one, this is another Costco card, right?
A Yes Some confusion on this, but --
Q And then if you -- and again, these cards would typically require some sort of minimum monthly payment, right?
A Correct
Q Okay Now, you can set those aside We will come back to some of those statements in just a moment But I'd like to show you what was previously admitted back on to the regular system -- thanks, Ms Hancock -- what was previously admitted as RM-0274-0005
A Yes, sir
Q Now, this is that chart that you showed us of credit card balances over time, right?
A Yes
Q Now, I'd like to show you for purposes of witness identification only, this is a page that hasn't been admitted, RM-0274-0006 Now, this is a version of that chart that you showed us yesterday, but this is actually on a graph, right?

A Correct

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer RM-0274-0006 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, sir, essentially what this is is the same list of credit balances and dates, but put on a graph over time, right?

A Yes, sir

Q Now, on this chart, you have added on a little box and an arrow that says "JW Loan To MM." Right?

A Right

Q Now, to be clear, sir, you never saw any paperwork showing that that was a loan to Maureen McDonnell, did you?

A No, other than the deposit into her account I mean, that was the only documentation that I believe I saw

Q So what you essentially saw was the check and where it was deposited

A Right

Q Now, sir, yesterday you said that you reviewed some portions of the transcript of Mr Williams' testimony,

right?

A That's right

Q I don't know exactly which pages you reviewed, but I'd like to show you a couple more I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 805 Now, Mr Kosowsky, this says at the top of this document that this is a page from the cross of Jonnie Williams, right?

A That's correct

Q And looking at this page, this is not a page that you reviewed before you created that other chart we were just looking at, was it?

A No, it was not furnished to me

Q Well then, I'd like to read, and you just read along with me and tell me if I'm reading this correctly, from Lines 6 through 13 of this

MR. FAULCONER: Your Honor, I'll just read from it so we are not entering the whole page Is that okay?

THE COURT: All right

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q On Line 6, Mr Williams says, "Answer: I viewed this $50,000 loan as what I viewed the first one as, they were in trouble financially and I was helping their family out Question: And that first loan was to her, was it not? Answer: The first loan was Question: Okay Answer:

The first loan, the check was made out to her, but the loan from my perspective was to both of them "

Did I read those passages correctly?

A Yes, you did

Q Now, sir, if we could go back to RM-0274-0006, this one has been admitted So you hadn't read that page of that transcript, or at least it hadn't been given to you before you put this on your chart, right?

A No

Q All right Now, I'd like to go back a page to RM-0274-0005 And what I would like to do, sir, here, is focus on where you got some of these numbers from. Now, you say in your numbers here that in May of 2011, the balance was $14,334 63, right?

A That's my recollection, yes

Q All right

MR. FAULCONER: Now, Your Honor, I'd like to switch back over to the Elmo

THE COURT: All right

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q And sir, this is Exhibit 660 These are the May statements we just looked at, right?

A Yes

Q I'd like to walk through each of these statements and total up what the balance was for each month And I have a calculator here that I will try to do it on so I don't get anything wrong You would agree with me that the first balance there is 10,638 83, right?

A Yes

Q If you turn to the next one, you agree with me that that next balance is 9,900, right?

A Yes

Q If you turn to the next one, you agree with me that this one says 817 11, right?

A I'm just trying to find it

Q Sorry

A Yes, I see that

Q If we go to the next one, this one shows a balance of 694 94, right?

A That's right

Q If you go to the next one, this one shows a balance of 5,780 67, right?

A Correct

A Correct

Q All right, going forward to the next one, this one shows a balance of $2,806 36, right?

A That's right "New balance," it says

Q Now, going to the next one, this one shows $459 09

A Correct

Q Then the last one shows the new balance of $100,

right?

A Yes, new charge of $100

Q Now, sir, you would agree with me that the numbers we just totaled up are well over -- are just a little over $31,000, right?

A I think that's what the total was on your calculator, right

Q If we could go back to RM-0274-0006, the number that we just calculated for May would be over that line for $30,000, right?

A Yes

Q But you have the number for May as down there less than $20,000, right?

A Right

Q And, sir, based off of the calculations we just did, your number for May is not correct, is it?

A No, because I'm looking at it at the end of May So --

Q Hang on, sir You put here on your chart "May 23rd, 2011, JW Loan To MM." And you put that arrow at around $15,000, right?

A Yes, that's right

Q But, sir, I'd like to show you what's been already admitted as Exhibit 127 This is a payment from Mr. McDonnell on May 24th, 2011 to one of those credit cards for $10,638 83 Right?

A Right

Q And this was paid with money from the $50,000 from Mr Williams, right?

A Right

Q Now, I'd like to show you what's been previously admitted as Exhibit 132 Now, this is a check for $9,900 to the Bank of America credit card that was on your chart that we were looking at just a moment ago, right?

A That's right

Q And this is May 25th, 2011

A Right

Q And this was also paid with the money from Mr Williams

A Correct

Q If we could go back to RM-0274-0006, now, those two payments alone that we were just looking at, the 10,600 and the 9,900, that totals more than 20,500 paid from Mr Williams' loan, right?

A Right

Q But you have Mr Williams' loan listed here where the credit card debt is less than the amount that they paid with Mr Williams' loan, right?

A No, I don't think -- I think that's misinterpreting the schedule We are looking at the balances as of April coming down through that May time frame And there were also additional charges that took place, you know, during that same month as we were just looking at the credit card statement So that's after, I see that as after the payments from Mr Williams' loan

Q Sir, to be clear, we just calculated that before Mr Williams' payment there was more than $30,000 in credit card debt, right?

A Correct

Q Here, you have Mr Williams' loan listed where the credit card debt is less than 20

A Well, it is listed that way, but I was using some of the payments in reducing that credit card balance ultimately to a lower number at the end -- at the end of May

Q Let's look at what your chart shows here. It does show from the line that's just over $30,000 a pretty steep drop down to somewhere in the range of 14 or so, right?

A That's right

Q And sir, you would agree with me that drop results from the $20,000 that was paid from the loan from Mr Williams, doesn't it?

A In large part

Q So that arrow for "JW Loan To MM," that should be on the other side of that steep decline, right?

A Yes, it probably could be, sure

Q Should be, sir, right?

A For fairness, sure

Q All right Now, sir, I'd like to talk about how exactly one of those two credit cards that we were just looking at was actually paid off If we could go back to Exhibit 132, which has been previously admitted. So this is the $9,900 payoff of the Bank of America account, right?

A Right

Q And you are aware that this credit card was in Mr McDonnell's name, right?

A I don't remember that it was in his name or in her name I looked at them as being together

Q So you treated them as essentially one and the same.

A Right

Q Now, I'd like to go to what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 808 Now, sir, this is the December statement for that Bank of America credit card, right?

A Yes, December 16th -- well, it says December 16th, 2010

Q December of 2010

A Correct

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer Exhibit 808 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Now, sir, this December, 2010 statement, and we are going to go over just a couple of these, this one has Robert F McDonnell listed as the name on the account, right?

A Right

Q Now, if you could look down into where it has transactions, it actually shows that in December, 2010, that credit card is paid off down to zero, right?

A Right

Q But down below that, it does show that the total interest charged in 2010 on this credit card was what?

A $1,434 94 for the year to date

Q So now I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 807 Now this, sir, is the statement for that same card for April of 2011, a couple months later, right?

A Yes

Q And this would be the statement before the May statements we were just looking at

A Yes

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer Exhibit 807 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Now, sir, this credit card is still in Mr McDonnell's name at this time, right?

A Yes, it is

Q Now, if you look down in the transactions section, if we could zoom in just on that, that shows a transaction date of April 13th, 2011, right?

A Yes

Q And what it shows is a balance transfer and it says "USAA," right?

A Right

Q Then it shows an amount of $10,000 Right?

A Yes

Q Essentially, what that is is a balance transfer from a USAA credit card over to this one

A That's what I believe it is, yes

Q Now, it also shows below that that there is a balance transfer fee for doing that of $400, right?

A Right

Q And $400 into 10,000, that's a four percent fee, right?

A Correct

Q And so essentially what this shows is that there was a balance transfer over to this card and they had to pay a four percent fee to do that, right?

A Right

Q Well now, I'd like to go to what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 809 Now, this is the April, 2011 statement for that USAA card, correct?

A Yes, I believe that's what it is, Attorney Faulconer

MR. FAULCONER: We would offer 809 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Now, if we can zoom out just a little bit If we can go to the -- zoom in on the Summary of Account Activity Do you see there where it lists payments as $12,101 62?

A Yes, I see that

Q Now, real quick, if we can go to what's been marked as Exhibit 806 This is a check from Mr and Ms McDonnell's Beach Municipal Federal Credit Union account dated April 12th of 2011, correct?

A Right

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, as soon as we get that one redaction done, we would offer Exhibit 806 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, sir, this is a check to that USAA credit card for $2,181 62 Right?

A Right

Q And that's from Mr and Ms McDonnell's account, right?

A Right

Q If we could go back to Exhibit 809, and zooming in again on the transaction history, what this one shows is that same, the check that we were just looking at, $2,181 62, combining with that balance transfer to pay this card off, right?

A That's right

Q Now, if we could turn to the second page of this document and zoom in on the lower half, that shows that the interest rate on this account was 7 75 percent, right?

A Right

Q And so essentially, what we see here, Mr Kosowsky, is that in order to avoid hitting the 7 75 percent, they pay four percent on a balance transfer fee to move it over to another card, right?

A Right

Q But that four percent, of the card where they had to pay that balance transfer, eventually they would have to start accruing interest on that card, right?

A Sure

Q And we said earlier that even a promotional rate typically doesn't last for three years, right?

A No, that's right

Q What would you say is about the average?

A Usually six months, sometimes a year

Q So after that they would be hitting whatever the interest rate is

A If the balance remained, sure

Q So if we could go back to Exhibit 807, if we could go to the second page, third page, and zoom in on that there So that shows that after whatever promotional period would have ended, the interest rate on this had nothing changed would have been right around ten percent, right?

A Right.

Q But instead, what you know happened from looking at the records is that they used money from Mr Williams to pay off this credit card that's in Mr McDonnell's name

A To pay this one off? This was the balance transfer and the $2,100 from the Beach account?

Q Right, sir So they transfer the USAA balance over to this one, right?

A Right

Q And then in the next month, May of 2011, they use $9,900 to pay the rest of this card off, right?

A Thank you for refreshing my recollection That's right

Q So they used the money from Mr Williams to avoid having to hit this ten percent interest rate after the promotional period ends

A That's right

Q You are aware, of course, that Mr Williams' loan didn't require any sort of regular monthly payment, right?

A That's right

Q And there was no interest charged on that loan until after the loan was -- until the time that the loan was ultimately paid off, right?

A I don't think there was any interest charged and paid. It was paid at the time that it was discharged

Q Got it When it was, it was about two percent or so, right?

A I think that's right

Q All right Now, I'd like to turn your attention now to the chart that you talked about yesterday, RM-0274-0009 Now, moving away from credit cards for a moment, this shows what you calculated the cash available to be as of May 1st, 2011 in Mr and Ms McDonnell's accounts, right?

A For those three accounts, right

Q And you calculated it as $12,861 26 Right?

A Right

Q Now, to be clear, May 1st, 2011, that's before the money comes in from Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

Q And the money from Mr Williams that comes into one of these accounts that you are grouping in here, the MM Wells Fargo; right?

A I believe that's right

Q You would agree with me that this number here, sir, this is not enough money to pay off $20,000 in credit card debt?

A Oh, no

Q You would agree with me that this is not enough to buy $30,000 in Star stock.

MR. SMALL: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: That would be correct

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And this amount here, that's not enough to pay a $15,000 deposit on a catering contract, is it?

A No

Q But, sir, you are aware that after they got the $50,000 from Mr Williams, they did each one of those three transactions that I just mentioned.

A I'm not completely aware of the catering, the $15,000 catering

Q You are certainly aware that there was a $15,000 check from Mr Williams to pay for the catering for Mr McDonnell's daughter's wedding, right?

A I believe that's right, yes

Q And that that was also on May 23rd, 2011?

A I don't recall the date, but I remember the $15,000 amount

Q And you are certainly aware that that, the refund from that, went back into Ms McDonnell's Wells Fargo account here, right?

A I'm not sure about that, no

Q Sir, are you aware that Mr McDonnell had signed a contract for that wedding catering?

A I might have seen something like that in my review of documents

Q And you are certainly aware that signing a contract for a bill, that creates liability, right?

A Sure

MR SMALL: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled

THE WITNESS: Yes

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q And you are saying to us here today that you don't know whether or not the refund from that wedding catering came back into one of these accounts?

A I don't have any recollection of that, sir

Q But regardless, if you take $50,000 and add it to $15,000, that's $65,000, right?

A Yes

Q And you would agree with me that that is more than quadruple what the cash available is in the May 1st, 2011 date, right?

A Right

Q Now, you are picking this date because that's a moment in time that you were trying to capture what the accounts were, right?

A An illustration as of that moment

Q I'd like to go to another chart that you showed us at a different moment in time, and that's RM-0274-0011 One chart back, Mr Starnes 0010

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q All right, now, this chart, Mr Kosowsky, this is the moment in time of March 11th of 2012, right?

A Right

Q And the reason you picked this one, of course, is that it is right before the $50,000 from Mr Williams into MoBo, right?

A Correct

Q But you would agree with me, sir, that the balance shown here for $67,274 24, that's after the May, 2011 $65,000 from Mr Williams that was given to the

McDonnells

A Well, it is after the 50 that was given that went through the accounts, and then however you are accounting for the $15,000

Q So just assuming that the $15,000 is $15,000, that's $65,000, right?

MR. SMALL: The 15,000 was a wedding gift It has nothing to do with --

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q You would agree that this $67,000 number comes after the $50,000 payment and whatever payment went towards the wedding

A Right

Q If you subtract $65,000 from this number, you are left with about $2,000, right?

A Right Assuming there were no other sources of money in that intervening one-year period.

Q And you aren't aware of any other sources of money that were tapped into in that intervening period, are you?

A Well, I think there were some distributions from his father's estate's IRA among other things

Q But this number includes what those were when they were put into the account

A Money is fungible, so whatever the comingled amount of salary and everything else was that led to this balance

Q You would agree with me that $67,000 minus $65,000 is about $2,000?

A Yes, sure

Q This is the day before the $50,000 from Mr Williams goes into MoBo

A That's right

Q That's one of the accounts that you have listed here

A Right

Q Now, you would agree with me that if you took 2,000 and subtracted 50,000, you would be down to negative 48,000, right?

A Of course

Q Now, this chart here you have as March 11th, 2012 I'd like to fast forward now to your next chart, which is RM-0274-0011 Now this, sir, shows that between the chart we were just looking at in March of 2012 and May of 2012, the total number goes down by $26,000, right?

A Right

Q Now, that's not including any money from Mr Williams being deposited into the top three accounts, does it?

A Right

Q But sir, you would agree with me that if you took the number of 65 plus 50, 115, and subtracted it out of this, you would be at well less than $70,000 negative, right?

A Yes, if you are including that 15, sure

Q But then the day after this, $20,000 comes over from Mr Williams, right?

A To MoBo, right

Q And if you add that on to negative 70, you would get down close to negative 90, right?

A That would be the math.

Q But nonetheless, sir, you are aware that the $50,000 and the $20,000, they went into the MoBo account, right?

A Right

Q And that money was spent out of the MoBo account

A Yes.

Q So let's go to the last chart of yours that I would like to discuss, and that's RM-0274-0014 All right Now, sir, this was essentially your snapshot of the 2012 liquid assets for the MoBo officers, right?

A Right

Q Now, I'd like to talk specifically just about the top two lines here, Mr and Ms McDonnell If we do just zoom in on those two, Mr Starnes All right Now, again here, I guess, it shows March 21st and December 31st, right, two different dates?

A Right

Q You didn't go in and calculate what those would have been if you actually tried to match up the dates, did you?

A No Unfortunately, I didn't have sister Maureen's records

Q Sir, right here we are looking at just Mr and Ms McDonnell, the wife, right?

A No, this is the sister Maureen

Q These two rows you are saying is the sister Maureen?

A Oh, no, I apologize This includes the Governor's retirement accounts

Q Right And zooming out for one moment, the bottom two rows, that's sister Maureen, right?

A Yes My apologies

Q So scrolling up to the top two rows, that's just Mr McDonnell and his wife

A Correct

Q What this basically shows is $65,000 in cash available in the accounts, right?

A In March, correct

Q And then about $210,000 in savings by the end of the year

A Right And in the retirement accounts

Q Like we talked about earlier, savings, that doesn't mean like a normal savings account

A That's right

Q So withdrawals from that, that would involve penalties or taxes

A It would have involved taxes at least Maybe penalties, depending upon the date of his birthday

Q Got it You haven't calculated how that would have been at different points in time?

A No.

Q All right So I think the number that we left off at was about $135,000 You'd agree with me that if you subtract that money from what's combined here, the combined here is about $265,000, right?

A 275

Q And if you take 135, subtract that out of 275, we'd be looking at about 140, right?

A Correct

Q And that would have required tapping into the retirement accounts, right?

A Yes

Q All right Well, then, sir, I'd like to show you what's been previously admitted as Exhibit 609 Sir, you'd agree with me that you reviewed this chart from Special Agent Hulser's testimony, right?

A I did read it Yes

Q And this has a total on this chart of $177,000?

A That's what it says

Q And you're obviously aware, sir, from reviewing Mr Hulser's testimony that he did not include some expenses that were paid for by Mr Williams on this chart, right?

A I believe that's right

Q Some dinners and things like that?

A Yeah There's some small incidental things

Q A $1,400 dinner at La Grotta?

A I don't remember

Q Okay Now, if we could go back to your chart, RM-0274-0010 Oops I apologize 014 All right And again zooming in on those top two rows All right So you had said about $275,000 if you total those two up, right?

A Right

Q And, obviously, sir, if you subtract $177,000 from that, that would be under $100,000?

A If you made that subtraction, yeah, that would be the math

Q And that number, whatever it is, under $100,000, that would still have to be added on to it any fees or taxes associated with tapping into a retirement account, right?

A Of course

Q But to be fair, sir, of course -- I think you've hesitated on a couple of my questions -- it's possible that the McDonnells could have not chosen to spend money on the things that Mr Williams bought for them, right?

A I -- I wouldn't know I mean, that would be a choice

Q But as far as you're aware, all of those items from Mr Williams were either paid over or purchased, right?

A That's what the schedule shows

MR FAULCONER: One moment, Your Honor

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR FAULCONER: No further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right We'll go ahead and take the break now Fifteen minutes

(Recess taken from 11:03 a m until 11:21 a m)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right Go ahead

MR SMALL: Thank you, Your Honor

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR SMALL:

Q Good morning, Mr Kosowsky

A Good morning, Attorney Small

Q You were asked some questions about Exhibit 653

MR SMALL: If we could call that up, please, Victoria

BY MR SMALL:

Q And the prosecutor asked you some questions about whether you were friends with Bob McDonnell such that he would give you this information Do you recall those questions?

A I do

Q Well, let's be clear, sir Have you ever gone on a family vacation with the McDonnells?

A Oh, no

Q Have you ever mentored Bobby McDonnell?

A No

Q Have you ever exchanged 1,200 text messages with Ms McDonnell?

A No

Q So you're not close friends, correct?

A I'm not a friend of either of them

Q And this was a -- a call pursuant to your involvement as an expert witness?

A Yes It was a call from Attorney Asbill

Q All right And then you were asked a bunch of questions about a chart, which is Number 6

MR SMALL: If we could call that up, please 274-6

BY MR SMALL:

Q Now, let's be clear We did not offer this chart during your testimony, correct?

A I don't believe so

Q And am I correct that that's because before we came to court, you noticed there was an error?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor Leading

THE COURT: Overruled

A Yes

BY MR SMALL:

Q Yes Okay So let me be clear You pulled the data together, that's right, for the chart?

A Yes, sir

Q But you didn't actually do the -- I'm not a computer person If this is a PowerPoint, you didn't do the -- you didn't do the actual chart itself, right?

A No, I didn't -- I didn't use PowerPoint to do it I was focusing on the data and the inputs and the format

Q All right But before your testimony, you noticed that the arrow was in the wrong place, right?

A Yes

Q And that's why we didn't use it?

A Right

Q Because it would be misleading to spend a lot of time talking about a chart where the arrow was simply in the wrong place?

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I would object to that

THE COURT: Sustained

MR FAULCONER: We were given that chart

THE COURT: Sustained

MR FAULCONER: We were never notified of an error

BY MR SMALL:

Q You were asked some questions about credit cards No question, credit cards can be a very important part of people's lives, right?

A Well, they are

Q They can be used to buy all kinds of things, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And credit card capacity is a valuable resource for many Americans being able to buy things, right?

A Right Or, you know, be able to get over, you know, a rough spot here or there or an -- you know, an unexpected expense

Q And there's nothing wrong or illegal or improper about having credit card debt, right?

A No

MR SMALL: So if we could call up 274-0005, please

BY MR SMALL:

Q It's clear, isn't it, that the McDonnells, starting from a peak in August 2010, were successful in bringing down their credit card debt, right?

A That's what the chart depicts and the data shows; that it went from the peak of 90,000 in August of 2010, and then picking the date of April 2011, 31,876, if you just want to focus on that time period

Q You were asked to do a lot of math on cross, but let me just ask you, if you saw two payments that Maureen McDonnell apparently made to pay off credit cards -- or pay down credit cards after she received the loan from Jonnie Williams, right?

A Yes

Q And those totaled about 20,000?

A Correct

Q What's the total amount that the McDonnells brought down their credit card debt between August 2010 and August 2011?

A Well, it's roughly $85,000, if you use that time frame

Q So if we ignore that $20,000, what's the total amount that they brought it down having nothing to do with Jonnie Williams?

A Well, that would be the difference between the 90,928 and then the -- to use the 31,876, April 2011 figure, is roughly $59,000

Q And, in fact, even after the loan, they continued to bring it down, correct?

A That's what it shows

Q Now, lots of people manage credit card debt, right?

A Yes

Q And am I correct that there are companies that provide a service of providing credit scores, right?

A Oh, yes

Q And, in fact, one important reflection of success in managing credit card and other debt is your credit score, right?

A Overall creditworthiness, yes

Q Okay And are you aware that in 2011, the Governor had a credit score of 830? Do you recall that from the documents?

A I believe I remember seeing a credit score that may have been in that area Yes

MR SMALL: Can we show -- just to refresh memory, can we show just the witness RM-84-0001

BY MR SMALL:

Q In showing you this, do you recognize this as an Equifax credit bureau report?

A Yes

MR SMALL: Offer into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR SMALL:

Q And it --

THE COURT: What's the number? What's that number?

MR SMALL: I'm sorry, Your Honor RM-0084-0001

BY MR SMALL:

Q And you see that it actually provides three different credit scores?

A Yes

Q And two of them are excellent, and one is very good, right?

A Yes

Q So three different credit agencies evaluated Bob McDonnell's credit, and all of them found it either very good or excellent, right?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained Mr Small, really, it's getting --

MR SMALL: I'll move on

THE COURT: No But it's getting a little old You need to do better than this You asked the question to the witness was the sky blue Yes, the sky was blue And your next question was so the sky was blue

MR SMALL: All right I understand

THE COURT: So, you know, you do that over and over again, and it begins to waste time

MR SMALL: I understand, Your Honor I'll move along

BY MR SMALL:

Q Now, cash --

MR SMALL: You can take that down, Victoria

Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q Cash is also a liquid resource, right?

A Of course

Q But if you spend cash, you're in a worse position, right, because the cash is gone?

A Of course

Q All right Now, you take on debts, in part, based on your experience and expertise, take on debts, in part, looking to the future, right, to pay them off?

A Well, that's usually the optimistic point of view; that people take them on with the view that they can support them and pay them off

Q And so in 2012, Bob McDonnell, am I correct, knew that he only had a little over a year left in his term?

A I'm not totally familiar with Virginia term limits, but I'll accept that

Q All right And so he knew he could look forward to his prospects after he got out of office, right?

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: The objection is sustained And I guess I should explain it so it doesn't happen over and over again

He can't know what somebody else knew

MR SMALL: All right

BY MR SMALL:

Q The -- now, you were asked --

MR SMALL: Let me just go back, just briefly, to 653, if I might.

BY MR SMALL:

Q You were asked about the duration of this call Do you recall those questions?

A Yes, sir

MR SMALL: And if we go to the last paragraph, please Well, that's fine right there

BY MR SMALL:

Q The last paragraph says it lasted roughly 30 to 45 minutes Do you recall that?

A Yes, sir

Q And the next part of that sentence says that "Mr Kosowsky using a substantial part of that time to provide an update on the status " Is that, in fact, what happened?

A Yes That's what the purpose of the call was

Q All right So -- but in addition, you received some information from Mr McDonnell as set forth here?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR SMALL: Okay You can take that down Thank you

BY MR SMALL:

Q Now, you were asked what might happen if Mr McDonnell pulled money out of a retirement or other account Do you recall those questions?

A Yes, I do

Q And you said that -- at one point you said that that would be speculation, right?

A I forgot the context of the question So --

Q Do you recall using the term "speculation"?

A Yeah I might have

Q All right

MR SMALL: Let's pull up 274-0014

BY MR SMALL:

Q Mr Kosowsky, are any of the numbers on this speculation?

A No They are -- these are documented with statements

Q And you testified, I believe yesterday, that you would take this 1,091,000, you would add in a little over 300,000 from the testimony of Maureen, sister Maureen, right?

A Yes That's right

Q And that would get you a total of about $1 4 million, right?

A Somewhere in there

Q So the various addition counsel was having you do, if you took out -- well, let me ask you If you entirely took out the first two lines, would that affect your opinion of the viability of MoBo?

A No

Q And if you deducted the 174 or 177, or whatever the numbers we were talking about, would that affect your opinion of the viability of MoBo?

A Well, the 174, I believe, is a -- a long laundry list of a lot of things that didn't have any -- some of which had nothing to do with MoBo

Q And most of that are loans, right?

A Beg your pardon?

Q Most of that are loans, correct?

A Right

Q The 174?

A Right

Q All right So would that have any impact on -- substantial impact on this 1 4 million and the soundness of MoBo?

A Not based on what I've seen and heard

MR SMALL: One moment, Your Honor

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR SMALL: If I may have just one moment, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sure

Nothing further

Thank you, Mr Kosowsky

THE COURT: Mr Burck, do you have anything?

MR BURCK: No Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

Thank you, sir You may stand down

THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: Uh-huh

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: Call your next witness, please

MR BROWNLEE: Your Honor, we call Dan Cook C-O-O-K

DANIEL COOK,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Good morning

A Good morning

Q Would you please state your full name, and spell your first and last name for the court reporter

A Daniel Stephen Cook D-A-N-I-E-L, C-O-O-K

Q And, sir, what do you do for a living?

A I am a financial advisor and certified public accountant

Q And do you have a small business that you run?

A I do I have three separate businesses Cook Financial Designs, Incorporated, which is a fee-based financial planning firm Daniel S Cook, PLLC, which is an income tax preparation firm And Richard James, LLC, which holds real estate properties

Q Okay And have you prepared the taxes for Mr and Ms McDonnell and some of the extended family?

A I have

Q Okay And have you also prepared the tax returns for an entity called MoBo?

A I have

Q Okay Now, I want to begin with some procedural questions When -- in preparing -- I want to focus on Mr and Ms McDonnell's tax returns

A Yes, sir

Q Generally, would you meet with Mr McDonnell each year to begin the tax preparation for the filing of that year?

A I would

Q Okay And would he bring certain records with him so that you could prepare the return?

A Yes

Q All right And tell us a little bit about what he would bring to you

A Typically, the way Mr McDonnell would bring his information, he would have a summary sheet information that he wanted to either discuss with me, points of discussion, summarized information on W-2s, mortgage interest, charitable contributions But in addition, he would also bring original documents, W-2s, 1099s, 1098s Documents that taxpayers receive from financial institutions that need to be included on their tax return

Q Okay And then fair to say you would take that information, prepare a return There would be some reviews, and then ultimately, it would be filed?

A That is correct

Q Okay Now, pretty obvious question What is tax day?

A Tax day is April 15th, 2000 -- well, April 15th

Q And if folks ask for an extension, what would be -- what's the date?

A You need to have the extension filed by April 15th for individuals That gives you a six-month extension to get your taxes filed, which, in most cases, is October 15th

Q Okay And in working with the McDonnells, did they, from time to time, seek an extension?

A Yes

Q Okay And so when an extension would be requested and granted, what time period -- what period of year or -- excuse me What -- generally, what month, then, would you begin to work with him to prepare the taxes?

A It would vary from year to year But I'd say anywhere from maybe the June time frame to the August time frame

Q Okay I want to talk about the 2011 taxes

A Okay

MR BROWNLEE: If we could pull up RM-282, please

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q And what are -- if you look at the screen, sir, what is that?

A That is the first page of a 1040 for tax year 2011

Q And is this for Robert F and Maureen G McDonnell?

A Yes, sir, it is

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: And if you go to the next page One more

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Down at the bottom, is this the document that was filed?

A Yes, sir, it is

Q Okay And did you prepare this?

A Yes, I did

MR BROWNLEE: Okay Your Honor, at this time we move RM-282 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR BROWNLEE: Thank you

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, sir, I want to go back a little bit and ask you about some of the information that Mr McDonnell, for 2011, provided to you

MR BROWNLEE: Can we pull up RM-1378-0004 1378-0004

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Okay And, sir, what is this?

A This is a 1099 that Davenport & Company submits All financial institutions are required to submit 1099s to taxpayers that have dividends, interest that has been earned, or any stock or mutual fund trades that have taken place

Q All right And did Mr McDonnell give you this document in the summer of 2012 so that you could prepare the tax return for 2011?

A Yes, sir, he did

MR BROWNLEE: All right Your Honor, we move in RM-1378-04

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, explain to the ladies and gentlemen of the jury, first of all, this is a 1099 for who?

A This is for Maureen McDonnell

Q Okay And in the block there, what is this informing you?

A This particular page is telling me that a stock trade for Star Scientific, Incorporated was sold on December 20th, 2011, for $15,279 And it also has a tax loss of around 18,000

Q Okay And Mr McDonnell gave you this document in the summer of 2012?

A Yes, he did

Q Okay Now, when you have a tax loss or a loss like this on the sale of a security, what -- how does that potentially impact the tax return?

A Well, in this particular case for 2011, the IRS limits the amount of a loss that can be taken on a tax return to $3,000 So this about $18,000 loss, only 3000, per IRS regulations, is permitted to be deducted on the tax return

Q Okay So if you have taxable income, then you can reduce that by, in this case, $3,000, and it reduces your taxable income and, thus, your taxes?

A That is correct

Q Okay Now, when you have a tax loss, do you have to take it?

A I guess technically, no You do not have to take a tax loss if you choose not to I've had clients that have made charitable contributions and have chosen not to deduct them on their tax returns So I would say it's at the discretion of the taxpayer

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: You can take that down

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, for 2011, did Mr McDonnell, though -- in providing you this 1099, was it reflected on the return?

A Yes, it was

MR BROWNLEE: All right If we could pull up again RM-282, and pull up Page 21 That's not the page I'm sorry Let's look at -- if you go to the next page There it is

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, sir, this is a Form 8949 Can you tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury what that is?

A An 8949 is a document that itemizes every single stock transaction or mutual fund transaction, a sale of those items, during the tax year It is then summarized on the Schedule D, but the 8949 lists the itemized transactions, or sales

Q Okay And this is part of the return --

A Yes, sir

Q -- that was submitted to the IRS?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay And if you look here in the highlighted portion -- if you'll highlight that -- what does that reflect?

A It says Star Scientific, Incorporated

Q Okay And so -- now, this was made -- as I said, this was made part of the return and was submitted to the IRS Do you know the date it was submitted?

A I think what I saw on the 1040 was October 10th

MR BROWNLEE: Okay Can we go to the second page -- the third page, I guess, down at the bottom

A Yes October 10th

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q And Mr McDonnell authorized you to send this to the IRS?

A As did his wife Yes

Q Okay Good

MR BROWNLEE: You can take that down

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, let me talk a little bit about 2012's tax return

A Okay

Q Do you remember having a telephone call with Mr McDonnell in January to discuss those returns?

A I do recall having a conversation with Mr McDonnell in January of 2013. Yes

Q Okay And was his sister on the line as well?

A Yes Maureen and Eileen, as I recall, were both on the line

Q Okay Now, did those -- did that call -- part of that call discuss the books of MoBo?

A Yes

Q Okay Tell us a little bit about that call, and what you all talked about

A Okay In 2012, Michael Uncapher, who was keeping the books, who was our point of contact previous to this, was no longer going to be our point of contact Bob was going to be taking over MoBo His sister Eileen was going to be taking over Blue Ridge Heaven

The way my practice is set up, for business returns we prefer to have a bookkeeper involved in preparing the books for us We're not a bookkeeping service We'd rather get information directly from the bookkeeper

So one purpose of that phone call was to strongly recommend that they would retain Brenda Chamberlain as a bookkeeper for both MoBo and Blue Ridge Heaven

Q And fair to say, you had recommended Ms Chamberlain to the McDonnells several years before that?

A Yes

Q Okay And they -- did they decide to keep her?

A They did

Q Okay During that call, did you also have an opportunity to talk to Mr McDonnell about his 2012 taxes?

A Yes

Q Okay And what did he tell you what he wanted to do for that year?

A That we were looking to file the returns in a timely manner for 2012, as well as Blue Ridge Heaven And I also note, in 2012 a new entity called Wagon Wheel Road, LLC also needed to be filed So we discussed the preparation of filing all of those returns in a timely manner

Q Okay And so did you then kind of set up a schedule from which you would receive information and set up meetings with Mr McDonnell so that you could get the taxes prepared in time?

A As I recall, a date was not set But the intention was for us to meet within a short period of time after that January meeting

Q Okay Did you ultimately meet with Mr McDonnell in March of that year?

A Yes, I did

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: And let me pull up RM-1749

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q All right This is a --

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, may we approach on this briefly?

THE COURT: Come on up

(At Bench)

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I don't know which pages Mr Brownlee intends to offer, but the third page of this document lists the charitable contributions that you excluded yesterday for that year So we'd just ask that the third page not be admitted of this document

MR BROWNLEE: I'll introduce -- I'm really interested in the last page anyway

THE COURT: Sure

MR BROWNLEE: We'll have it redacted, sir

(In Open Court)

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Can you tell us what -- what this is?

A This is a summary sheet that Bob gave me for his 2012 tax returns listing income, different points of discussion Things of that nature

Q I apologize Can you say that one more time?

A Sure This particular document is a summary document that Bob prepared outlining different tax points, information that I would need to prepare the return, real estate taxes, W-2 information Things of that nature

Q Okay So these are his, basically, notes to you that he provided to you in March of 2013 so that you could prepare the taxes?

A That is correct

Q Okay And if we look at the last page I think it's a four-page document Okay Now, what does this page reflect, sir?

A This right here is a summary of loans that were made for MoBo during 2012

Q Okay If you could move a little closer to that microphone

A I'm sorry Okay

Q I'm having a little trouble hearing you

A Sorry about that

Q Go ahead, sir What is this again?

A That particular document shows loans that were made to MoBo during 2012

Q Okay

A As well as some items that were purchased within the entity

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: Your Honor, at this time we move in, subject to the limitation discussed by counsel, RM-1749

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR BROWNLEE: Thank you

And if you could just blow up the top part there

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q If you could just take a look at the top two, the highlighted portion there, March 12th, 2012, what does that reflect?

A A $50,000 loan from Starwood

Q Okay And then down at the bottom, it's not highlighted, but the May 22nd, 2012?

A $20,000 loan from Starwood Trust

Q Okay And these were provided to you in the normal course so that you could do the taxes by April; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

MR BROWNLEE: Okay You can take that down Thank you

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, how long had you been working with Mr McDonnell in preparing his taxes?

A Since tax year 2005

Q Okay And during that time, did, according to you, he always provide you with the information you believed you needed to properly prepare his taxes?

A Yes

Q In dealing with the loans that we discussed, Starwood, based on your review, did he ever take any effort, from your perspective, to try to hide or conceal those loans from you?

A No, sir

Q How about with regard to the sale of Ms McDonnell's stock?

A No

Q Any efforts to try to hide or conceal that from you?

A No, sir

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: Okay Thank you, Judge

THE COURT: All right

Mr Burck?

MR BURCK: No questions, Your Honor Thank you

THE COURT: Anything from the government?

MR FAULCONER: Yes, Your Honor

THE COURT: Go ahead

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q Good morning, Mr Cook

A Good morning How are you, sir?

Q It's still morning

All right Now, Mr Cook, as an accountant, and then I guess in the work that you do -- I know you do many things The work that you do for your clients is only as good as the information that they give you, right?

A Yes Also based on information or discussions that we have Sometimes opening up discussion about information, clarification Things of that nature

Q Got it So you rely on --

A I'm sorry Just for clarification I don't rely solely on the information they give us There's an interaction of discussion points, and things like that

Q Got it But in terms of the information that you're using to perform your work, it typically is either paper documents that your clients give you, right?

A Correct

Q Or verbal conversations that you have with them?

A That is correct

Q And typically, you won't go out and conduct interviews of people other than your clients to try to verify that information?

A That is correct

Q Now, with Mr McDonnell, you've received documents from him for his returns back since 2005, right?

A That is correct

Q And you've spoken with him on the phone a lot, right?

A Yes Several times

Q Probably dozens even?

A Yes

Q Now, you've also met with him in person a number of times?

A I have

Q But to be clear, the information that he gave you on any of those occasions, you don't just give it out to random strangers, do you?

A No, I do not

Q In fact, even for law enforcement, you require a subpoena before you'll hand documents over, right?

A That is correct

Q And you're not trying to be difficult?

A Right

Q You're just trying to protect your client's confidentiality?

A That's correct

Q And, in fact, in this case, that's actually what happened You got a subpoena, and it was only after that that you produced documents to the government, right?

A That is correct

Q And if we had just come and asked you to do it voluntarily, would you have done it?

A No

Q All right Now, I'd like to hand up a copy of what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 498 Mr Cook, this is a packet, essentially, of Outlook calendar entries that you produced for meetings that were scheduled with Mr McDonnell in 2012 and 2013, right?

A Yes Uh-huh That is --

Q Is that a yes?

A -- correct Yes That's correct

Q Sorry

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 498 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Mr Cook, looking through these entries -- these documents --

MR FAULCONER: If we could just go to the next page

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, I'm not going to go through every one of these, but you'd agree with me that there are some of these entries that refer to Maureen McDonnell, the sister of Mr McDonnell, right?

A Say that again, please

Q There are some of these entries that refer to Maureen

McDonnell the sister; is that correct?

A I am not sure

Q Well, let's -- look at the numbers at the bottom

A Okay

Q And if you could go to the one that says 790 And this is March 19th of 2013, right?

A Yes, sir Uh-huh

Q And there, that says, "Dan make conference call to Governor and sister," right?

A Correct Yes

Q And you interacted with the sister Maureen McDonnell a decent amount too?

A Yes

Q But to be clear, Mr Cook, your point of contact for the tax returns wasn't Ms McDonnell the wife, right?

A It was not No, sir

Q And about how would you compare your volume of interaction and communication about taxes with her to the same with Mr McDonnell?

A It was quite minimal I think over the years, I've spoken to her maybe a half dozen times

Q And in any of those conversations, do you ever remember discussing tax consequences of stock sales with her?

A No, sir

Q If you had had a conversation like that, it typically would have been with Mr McDonnell, right?

A Normally, yes That's common with most of our clients

Q And Ms McDonnell, she wasn't your point of contact, the sister -- or sorry, the wife, for MoBo or Blue Ridge Heaven or Wagon Wheel, right?

A No, sir She was not

Q All right Now, we'll come back to those calendar entries in a moment But I'd like to first show you on the Elmo, with Ms Taylor's assistance, what's been previously admitted as Exhibit 663

MR FAULCONER: All right If we could zoom out just a little bit

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Mr Cook, this is a page from those source documents that Mr McDonnell gave you for his 2009 taxes, right?

A Okay It looks like it Yes

Q And do you recognize the handwriting on there as his?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Now, if we could switch back over to the other system, and I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 405

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, Mr Cook, this is an e-mail from you to

Mr McDonnell, right?

A Yes

Q And this is dated August 28th, 2012?

A That is correct

Q And this, essentially, is you sending back to him some of the source documents, copies of them, that he had given to you?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 405 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR FAULCONER: All right Now, if we could look at the second page of this document And zoom in there at the bottom

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q That is an e-mail from Mr McDonnell to you, right?

A Yes

Q And then he says -- on the second line he writes, "Also, call Maureen when you can, and you and I may need to discuss the stock transaction and loss from '11," right?

A Yes.

Q And that's consistent with what you said earlier; that if you were talking about stock stuff, it would typically be with Mr McDonnell?

A Correct

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Now, if we could go to Page 3 of this document, you recognize that as Mr McDonnell's handwriting, right?

A That is correct

Q And then going to Page 4 of this document, that also appears to be Mr McDonnell's handwriting?

A That is correct

Q And number 1 on that list on that page, that refers to that stock loss that Mr Brownlee asked you about, right?

A That is correct Yes, sir

Q But to be clear, sir, you don't recall ever having any conversations with Mr McDonnell about changes in rules related to tax -- or to stock sales for tax purposes in 2011, do you?

A Not that I recall

Q And you certainly don't recall talking to Ms McDonnell the wife about it?

A I do not recall

Q But you did receive some paperwork that we saw earlier from Mr Brownlee that showed the stock sale, right?

A That is correct

Q And that showed the sale as being December 20th of 2011?

A Yes That is correct

Q Now, if I could show you what's been already admitted as Exhibit 278 Now, this is a Davenport & Company statement from the following month That's January of 2012, right?

A Yes, sir

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And if we could turn to the fifth page of this document Now, this shows, here in the middle, a repurchase of the Star Scientific stock on January 20th of 2012, right?

A That is correct

Q And with 31 days in December, that would be 31 days after the December 20th sale?

A That is correct

Q And to be clear, sir, the statements for Davenport, both the 1099 that you got and the -- this statement that we're looking at here, they have Ms McDonnell's name on them, right?

A That is correct Yes

Q But you don't recall any conversations with Ms McDonnell about something called a wash sale rule, do you?

A No, sir

Q Could you explain, briefly, just what a wash sale rule is?

A A wash sale It's the IRS' rule that if you sell a stock for a loss and you repurchase that stock within 30 days after that sale, the loss is disallowed You are not able to take it for income tax purposes

Q But here it's 31 days, which means that you could take the loss?

A That is correct

Q Do you recall having any conversations with Mr McDonnell, your point of contact, about that in this time frame?

A No, sir

Q But you certainly don't recall any conversations with Ms McDonnell the wife?

A No

Q But if that transaction date had been a couple of days earlier, earlier in January, you wouldn't have done the tax loss?

MR BROWNLEE: Objection, Your Honor Calls for speculation

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, I'd like to turn to the 2012 taxes You also prepared those for 2013, right?

A I beg your pardon?

Q Sorry You prepared the 2012 taxes in 2013?

A That is correct Yes, sir

Q All right Now, earlier you said that you typically would do Mr McDonnell's tax returns on an extension, right?

A That is correct

Q And as best you can recall, that was pretty much every year until this year?

A Yes, sir

Q "This year" being --

A '12 Understood

Q -- '12 taxes?

A Uh-huh

Q Now, I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 497 This is a page of handwritten notes that you recognize as Mr McDonnell's handwriting, right?

A That is correct

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 497 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, sir, we'll zoom in on some of this in a moment But this says, "2012 Tax Issues - Dan" towards the top, correct?

A That is correct

Q And the date at the top, it says 3/11/13?

A Yes

Q Now, in the stack of the Outlook entries that I handed you earlier, I'm correct that the first date of the appointments that you at least had on your calendar for 2013 was March 11th, right?

A That is correct

Q And I think you talked about, on direct examination, that there was a call in January, but then no meeting until March of that year?

A That sounds correct

Q Now, looking at this document, this appears to reflect at least some conversation between you and Mr McDonnell, right?

A Correct

Q Do you see there at the very top where it says, "Answers from meeting of 3/11/13 with Dan"?

A Yes

Q And then there's an arrow from that down to everything that's written in the margin, right?

A Correct

Q All right

MR FAULCONER: Now, if we could zoom in on that portion there Thank you

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q Do you see there what is listed right under where it says "2012 Tax Issues - Dan" what word is written there?

A "Personal"? Is that what you were referring to?

Q Yes

A Okay

Q And so if you go down a little bit, number 3 under Personal says, "Loan from dad's estate 115K, correct?

A That is correct

Q And then right under that, again, still under Personal, it says Dr Davis 50K?

A That is correct

Q Again under Personal, right below that, it says, "Starwood 70K"?

A That is correct

Q And then over to the right it says, I think, again, "Treatment personal 50K loan from Starwood"?

A Okay

Q Is that right?

A Yes, it is

Q And then if you scroll down on this document, down there it says, number 2, MoBo/BRH, right?

A That is correct

Q And there's no reference to Starwood in those items listed 1 through 6 there, is there?

A I do not see that

Q All right

MR FAULCONER: Now, if we could go to what's been marked for identification as Government's Exhibit 654 652 Let's try that

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q And this is a single page that is the fourth page of that document that Mr Brownlee showed you, right?

A That is correct

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 652 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, Mr Cook, this is the page of handwritten notes we were looking at earlier, right?

A That is correct

Q And this appears to you to be Mr McDonnell's handwriting?

A Correct

Q Now, looking at this document, at the top it says, "2012 Owners Capital Loans," right?

A Correct

Q And who did you understand the owners to be?

A Maureen his sister and Bob himself

Q And beneath that where it says the "3-12-12, $50,000 Starwood Trust," it doesn't say Jonnie Williams there, does it?

A It does not

Q When you go down below to May 22nd of 2012, and it says "5-22-12 $20,000 Starwood Trust loan," it doesn't say Jonnie Williams there either?

A No, sir It does not

Q All right I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 500 Now, this is a printout of a March 20th, 2013, e-mail from you to Mr McDonnell?

A Yes, it is

Q And it has some handwriting on it that you recognize as Mr McDonnell's?

A Yes

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 500 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, the date of the e-mail is March 20th, right?

A Yes, it is

Q And then the handwriting there says, "Reviewed with Dan on 3-21-13"; is that right?

A Yes It looks that way

Q Now, in your e-mail you say, "Below is a summary of our conversation and action items for MoBo," right?

A Correct

Q And typically, you would have written this pretty quickly in time after the conversation?

A Yes

Q Certainly it would have been sometime in March?

A Yes

Q And then could you read us what you say on the third bullet point there, starting with, "Can you provide "

A "Can you provide us the written agreement with John Williams (Starwood) loan? We do not need this to prepare the" -- it says the "loan," but the tax return "simply for our records "

Q Now, to be clear, the handwriting next to that says, "Don't have," right?

A Correct

Q And you never, in fact, received any written documentation for the loan with Starwood, did you?

A No, I did not

Q All right Now, I'd like to show you what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 502 Now, sir, this is a printout of a Word document that you produced as part of your subpoena response in this case, right?

A That is correct

Q And this is a summary from your records of a conversation with Mr McDonnell?

A That is correct

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, we'd offer Exhibit 502 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, sir, could you just read what's written there after "Starwood Loan"?

A "Per Dan's phone conversation with Governor McDonnell, this is a balloon payment loan Interest is 2 percent, to be repaid in a total of 3 years All interest will be deducted in the year of repayment "

Q And, again, this is based off of information from Mr McDonnell?

A That is correct

MR FAULCONER: Your Honor, I'd like to show what's been marked for identification as Exhibit 503 And, Your Honor, this is what Special Agent Huff testified about earlier We didn't offer it at the time, but we'd offer it now into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR FAULCONER:

Q All right Now, sir, I know you're not a computer expert, but the creation date shown on this document for that Word document we were just looking at says March 21st of 2013, right?

A That is correct

Q And based on the e-mail we were looking at before, as well as your own recollection, does that seem like about the time when you would have had that conversation with Mr McDonnell?

A I would say so Yes

Q But to be clear, sir, like we talked about earlier, you didn't speak to anyone from Starwood Trust, did you?

A No, I did not

Q You didn't speak to Mr Williams, did you?

A I did not

Q And you never received any sort of written loan agreement for any Starwood loans?

A No, sir

Q And at the time you were having these conversations with Mr McDonnell, you were not aware that his wife had been interviewed by law enforcement about Mr Williams on February 15th of 2013, were you?

A No, sir

Q You weren't aware of a loan application that he sent in to PenFed with those loans listed on February 18th, 2013, were you?

A No, sir

Q And, of course, at no time were you present for any meetings between Mr McDonnell and Mr Williams, were you?

A I was not

Q And Mr McDonnell never talked to you about any conversations he had with Mr Williams about Mr Williams' product?

A I do not recall

Q He never -- he never talked to you about any meetings he arranged or events he hosted for Mr Williams?

A No

MR FAULCONER: One moment, Your Honor

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR FAULCONER: No further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: Redirect?

MR BROWNLEE: Yes, sir

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, Mr Cook, Mr Faulconer asked you about your knowledge regarding Ms McDonnell's interview with law enforcement on February 15th, 2013; is that right?

A That is correct

Q Okay So -- and he asked you if you knew that, and you said you didn't know that she was interviewed on that date?

A That is correct I did not know

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: Let me -- let's pull up RM-1378, Page 4 It's in evidence Blow that up

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, this is a 1099 that Bob McDonnell gave to you in the summer of 2012; is that correct?

A That is correct

Q Okay So that's like six months before Ms McDonnell's interview, right?

A That is correct

Q Okay And on it, it reflects that Ms McDonnell sold Star Scientific stock?

A That is correct

Q Okay And I believe you testified you took this document and then put it on the tax return; is that correct?

A That is correct

Q All right

MR BROWNLEE: Can we pull up RM-282, Page 22

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, and this is that Form 8949 that you talked about; is that correct?

A That is correct

Q Okay And you took the information from the 1099 that Mr McDonnell gave you in the summer of 2012 and you put it on that form; is that right?

A That is correct

Q And then I believe -- then you, on October of 2012, now four months before Ms McDonnell was interviewed, you sent this document to the IRS?

A That is correct

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: Now, let's go back to RM-1749, the last page I think it's Page 4 If we can blow up that top part

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Okay Now, this is the information Bob McDonnell gave you for his 2012 tax returns; is that correct?

A That is correct

Q Okay And in it, it reflects the loan from Starwood Trust, is that correct, in March?

A That is correct

Q Okay And it also reflects the loan in May of 2012; is that correct?

A That is correct

Q Okay And then did you take that information and put it on MoBo's tax returns?

A We made sure it was on MoBo's tax return Yes

Q Okay And where did you send that?

A That also was sent to the internal -- to the IRS

Q The IRS?

A Uh-huh

Q Okay Did you also send that to the PenFed?

A Yes The MoBo returns were e-mailed to PenFed

Q Okay And PenFed was a bank that Mr McDonnell was trying to refinance a loan with?

A That is correct

Q Okay Just to be clear, Mr McDonnell never at any time asked you to conceal any of this information from the IRS or anybody else?

A He did not

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: Now, let me pull up Government's Exhibit 502 If we could blow that up

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, these are notes that Mr Faulconer asked you about memorializing a conversation that you had with Mr McDonnell; is that correct?

A That is correct

Q Okay And Mr Faulconer asked you if you went and talked to anybody at Star Scientific or Starwood?

A No, I did not

Q You did not Did you feel you should or you had to go do that?

A No It's not required

Q Is that because you trusted the word of Bob McDonnell?

A Absolutely Yes

MR FAULCONER: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled

MR BROWNLEE: Thank you

Thank you very much, Your Honor Court's indulgence

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR BROWNLEE: That's all Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: Mr Burck?

MR BURCK: No Thank you, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

Thank you, Mr Cook You may stand down

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: Call your next witness, please

MR BROWNLEE: We call Todd Haymore, Your Honor H-A-Y-M-O-R-E

TODD HAYMORE

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Good afternoon, sir

A Good afternoon

Q Would you please state your full name, and spell your first and last name for the court reporter

A Todd Patterson Haymore T-O-D-D, H-A-Y-M-O-R-E

Q And how are you currently employed?

A I am Virginia's Secretary of Agriculture and Forestry

Q Okay And how long have you served in that capacity?

A About five years

Q So for your present position, who were you appointed by?

A My present position, I was appointed by Governor Terry McAuliffe

Q Okay And before that, who were you appointed by?

A Governor Bob McDonnell

Q Now, can you give the ladies and gentlemen of the jury a brief background of your education?

A Educated in Danville, Virginia, in private schools and public schools Went to undergrad at the University of Richmond Graduated in 1991 with a degree in political science, and have a master's in business administration from Virginia Commonwealth University

Q Okay And after you graduated from school, where -- tell us a little bit about your work history leading up to your appointment

A I actually did some professional work while I was at the University of Richmond for a state senator And then from there, after graduation, I went to Washington, D C , to work for former Congressman -- then Congressman L F Payne from the Fifth District of Virginia Spent the better part of the 1990s with him He retired, ran for Lieutenant Governor I was with him on that campaign That was an unsuccessful campaign

After that, I went to work in the private sector for a company in Danville, Virginia, called Dimon, Incorporated, a global leaf tobacco dealer And about 16 months later, I was hired by a Richmond-based company, another global leaf tobacco company, called Universal Leaf Tobacco Spent the latter part of the '90s, better part of the 2000s at Universal, until Governor Tim Kaine asked me to be Commissioner for the Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services That was in 2007 Served in that capacity as Commissioner until then Governor-elect Bob McDonnell asked me to be Secretary And that's bringing up to 2010

Q Okay Tell me a little bit about the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture and Forestry for the State of Virginia?

A We redefined them in the McDonnell administration It was a relatively new position It was created in 2004 It had never been part of the Governor's overall economic development strategy

Governor McDonnell had ran his, on the campaign, Bob's For Jobs And as Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, I had seen a lot of missed opportunities for Virginia's largest industry, agriculture, to be sitting at the table for economic development

So we changed the format, and I essentially, through the strategic plan that the Governor and Chief of Staff and several of us developed, became the Chief Marketing and Development Officer for agriculture and forestry, which were, at the time, the two largest industries in the State of Virginia So it was very much an economic development, domestic development focus, but also a global trade focus in moving products into the global marketplace

Q All right And with regard to products related to agriculture and forestry, give us a sense of some of what that means Clearly tobacco would be one, but what else?

A Everything from -- I use my grandfather's line Everything from apples to zucchini, because we're growing it, producing it in here in Virginia, but we market and promote not only here in Virginia, but around the country and around the world everything from peanuts, ham, pork, poultry, leaf tobacco, wine I mean, it really does run the gamut because Virginia has a very, very diversified portfolio of agricultural products

Q Okay Now, before joining the administration, did you know the Governor's Chief of Staff?

A I did

Q And that's Martin Kent?

A Martin Kent Yes, sir

Q And I believe the jury has met him Tell us a little bit about how you knew Martin Kent

A Martin and I are both from Pittsylvania County My father and his father have known each other for years Martin and I did not meet until we were both at the University of Richmond I'm a year older than Martin So I came back to, sophomore year, to the University of Richmond, and my father had told me about Martin And we met then and kept in casual touch over the years Saw each other at different things

Obviously, we were moving in different circles after graduation from University of Richmond, but reconnected in the -- after I became Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture in 2007

Q All right During that time period, did you also have a chance to meet Bob McDonnell?

A Yeah I met then Attorney General McDonnell -- excuse me A candidate for Attorney General I think I met Bob in 2005 when he was running for Attorney General

Q Okay Now, during Mr McDonnell's campaign for Governor, did you have a chance to have any input on his campaign, and did that -- tell us a little bit about that

A Yes I was -- as Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, I -- and the relationships that I had with Martin Kent, obviously, and then Jasen Eige had been my attorney for a period of time from his role at the Attorney General's Office, he was overseeing, providing legal guidance to the Department of Agriculture, I offered, a number of times, advice and counsel on agricultural issues that would come up during the campaign

I talked to them There was e-mails, so forth Really was planting the seeds that there were a lot of opportunities for economic development and global trade that a candidate who is running Bob's For Jobs should take advantage of, if he should win

So there was the general advice and counsel provided particularly to those two gentlemen

Q Okay Now, once he was elected, did you, with his help, undertake any particular initiatives related to agriculture?

A We did As I mentioned earlier, we changed the dynamic for agriculture and forestry And as I said earlier, the two largest industries in the State of Virginia had historically not been a part of an overall economic development strategy from the Governor's Office, and I thought that was -- I thought it was wrong

So we decided -- and going back to -- he was then Governor-elect, decided to put together a draft of -- of an idea that I thought that every Governor going forward should do and include ag and forestry into economic development So we put together a strategic plan that focused on increasing domestic development for agriculture and forestry and increasing global trade

And as far as I can tell, that had never been done before, at least in modern history And we traced it back 40 to 50 years, and we wanted to be able to say that he was the first Governor in modern Virginia history to do this, and it yielded some incredible success that we continue to build on now

Q Okay As part of that, was there created something called the Agriculture and Forestry Industries Development Fund?

A Yes

Q Okay What is that fund?

A It was a specific economic development fund created for agricultural and forestry projects I saw, from my time in the private sector at Universal and also at the Department of Agriculture, where a number of projects, specific to agriculture and forestry, were not qualifying for some of the incentive packages that the State of Virginia had And Virginia is constantly ranked best for business, and we have a wide variety of tools that help make us one of the most attractive states in the nation for doing business

But I saw these projects that weren't qualifying for some of those funds And I approached the Governor, shortly after we were getting into office, about my desire to create an economic incentive fund dedicated to promoting agriculture and forestry, again, creating new investments in the state, helping existing industries expand, but also trying to get more products in the global marketplace

Q All right And this fund, how are the grantees chosen?

A A grantee would have to apply, in coordination with a locality They would have to be making a certain amount of investment in Virginia They would have to be creating a number of jobs, and they would also have to be purchasing at least 30 percent Virginia-grown agricultural or forestry products that they would be adding value to and then selling into the marketplace

So it was -- again, it was very similar to the Governor's Opportunity Fund, which a lot of people know about, but it was dedicated specifically to agriculture and forestry so they would qualify for some of the incentives as well

Q All right And how big -- about how large was that budget?

A At the end of the McDonnell administration, it was $2 million I think we had basically a million dollars in the first year of the biennium, and a million dollars in the second year of the biennium

Q Okay And about how many grants have been awarded since this program?

A We just awarded the 14th on Monday

Q All right And can this money go towards the tobacco agricultural industry?

A Yes, if they meet the predetermined qualifications

Q Okay Now, in working with your time, did Mr McDonnell -- first of all, does the Governor have -- what's the Governor's role is this fund?

A The Governor's role is at the very end He's going -- there's a vetting process that starts with my staff in agriculture and development at the Department of Agriculture They're going to be working with the private sector in the locality that are applying for the grant They are going to be vetted There's going to be a whole series of deep questions to be sure that they are going to do what they say they are going to do There's a return on the investment to the State All the qualifications have to be met

Ultimately, that's going to be signed off by the staff at the department It's forwarded to me My Deputy Secretary and I will review it, and we'll make a recommendation -- in the case of the McDonnell administration, it was always to move forward It would be sent from my office and the Secretariat to the Chief of Staff where he would review He may ask questions Then he would send it to the Governor for final approval

Q All right Were there any of these grant moneys that ever went to Star Scientific?

A No, sir

Q All right Did -- were you aware if Star Scientific ever applied for any of these funds?

A No, sir

Q All right Did Bob McDonnell ever come to you ask you to support getting any of these funds for Star Scientific?

A No, sir

Q Okay Let me ask you just briefly about meetings As your time during Secretary of Agriculture, were there times when Mr McDonnell would ask you to meet with various people to hear them out on whatever issue they may have that's related to your duties?

A Yes All the time

Q Okay And give us, just briefly, a little sense about how some of these requests would come in

A Most of the requests that I had to follow up on for the Governor would be through a business card that he had picked up along the way I would say probably 75 to 80 percent of the follow-up that I had to do with -- with folks in my sector, or my sectors of ag and forestry, came from those business cards where they would say, "Please see me Follow up Please call "

And over time, I learned that a lot of times you just went ahead and followed up directly with that You didn't need to go see the Governor, because a lot of times my schedule didn't match up with his because we were both in different directions

So that's how we would start the process And most of the time, I would do the follow-up, and they would be sent back down to staff Then the process would start over again, because it was very rare that I could help them They needed to go through a process to get where they wanted to go

Q Okay So -- and in setting up these meetings and meeting with these various folks, did you ever find that to be inappropriate?

A No

Q Okay And fair to say that Governor McDonnell trusted you to use your best judgment on how to handle these things?

A Yes, sir

Q And you did so?

A Yes, sir

Q Now, sir, do you -- are you familiar with a man named Jonnie Williams?

A Yes, sir

Q All right Can you please tell me how you first became aware of Mr Williams?

MS ABER: Objection, Your Honor Can we approach on this?

THE COURT: Come up

(At Bench)

MS ABER: Your Honor, the government interviewed Mr Haymore early in the investigation Mr Haymore's exposure to Jonnie Williams is secondhand, thirdhand He worked for a gentleman who years ago told him, at Universal Leaf, that Mr Williams wasn't to be trusted; effectively, he shouldn't be in the same room with Mr Williams, but offered no additional explanation or reasoning

Mr Haymore subsequently conveyed that to Mr Kent in like the second year of the administration, but nothing else came of it Mr Haymore hasn't even met Mr Williams, I believe

MR DRY: It's like thirdhand opinion.

THE COURT: Is that all you have?

MR BROWNLEE: What that is is that Mr Haymore would testify that when he worked at Universal, that he was told being in the room with Mr Williams alone is a fireable offense

THE COURT: That objection will be sustained

MR ASBILL: Going forward, the second part is that he conveys that information, in early 2012, to Martin Kent, who never talks to Mr McDonnell about it

THE COURT: Well, you'll have your opportunity The objection is sustained You can't get to it from this witness

(In Open Court)

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Let me ask you about the Virginia Tobacco Commission

A Okay

Q Are you, as your duties as Secretary of Agriculture, on that Commission?

A Yes

Q Okay And tell us, briefly, a little bit about the Commission and your role on it

A I would be considered, I guess, as a member ex-officio because of my -- not because of my name or personal, but because I'm Secretary of Agriculture And I think it was created that way and is established and put in code

I -- I sit on one subcommittee, part of the larger Committee, but have not been the best member of that Committee because of scheduling I try to send my deputy when I'm not available

Q Okay But you are -- you sit on the Commission And are you one of the 31 members?

A Yes

Q Okay And do you have a vote on whether or not grant applications are either approved or disapproved?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay And as far as your time on the Commission, has there ever been an application advanced that you're aware of involving the research of Anatabloc or something called anatabine?

A No, sir

Q Okay And has Bob McDonnell, as Governor, did he ever come to you as the Secretary of Agriculture and ask you to support such research or to advance such research?

A No, sir

Q I think it fair to say in order for the Board to consider such a request, there must be an application filed; is that right?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay Just finally, with -- as your role as Secretary of Agriculture working with Governor McDonnell, did he ever at any time ask you to meet with anyone from Star Scientific?

A No, sir

Q Okay Did he ever ask you to do anything, support anything for a guy -- for Jonnie Williams?

A No, sir

MR BROWNLEE: Okay That's all I have, Your Honor Thank you

THE COURT: All right Mr Burck

MR BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR BURCK:

Q Good afternoon, Mr Haymore My name is Bill Burck, and I represent Maureen McDonnell

A Yes, sir

Q I just have a few questions for you

A Yes, sir

Q Are you familiar with a program called FLITE, F-L-I-T-E?

A Yes, sir

Q That's the First Lady's Initiatives Team Effort?

A Yes, sir

Q And that was a program that Ms McDonnell initiated when she started off as First Lady?

A Yes, sir

Q And you -- did you assist her in aspects of FLITE, particularly pertaining to the Virginia wine industry?

A Yes, sir

Q And economic development, tourism, that kind of thing?

A Yes, sir

Q And Ms McDonnell, she traveled with you or went to events with you where she was promoting the Virginia wine industry, for example?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay

MR BURCK: Could you just show for the witness RM-0142

BY MR BURCK:

Q Now, sir, this as this is an article that's reflecting "Governor McDonnell Joins First Lady, Sheila Johnson at Salamander Resort Reception Touting Wine Industry"? Do you see that?

A Yes, sir

Q And have you seen this article before?

A Yes, sir

MR BURCK: Could we publish it for the jury, Your Honor?

THE COURT: What's the number?

MR BURCK: I'm sorry It's RM-0142

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR BURCK: Thank you

BY MR BURCK:

Q And who is Sheila Johnson?

A Sheila Johnson owns the Salamander Resort and Inn and also another gourmet market in the Middleburg area As my recollection, she was a former executive and co-founder, perhaps, of BET

Q Got it And is it fair to say that this was an event at which Ms McDonnell and the Governor appeared with you to promote Virginia wine industry?

A Yes, sir We were promoting the Virginia wine industry, wine tourism, and the -- unveiling a wine -- the Northern Virginia wine region sign initiative that we had worked on, in cooperation with the Secretary of Transportation, to promote more wine tourism to that area of the state and other areas of the state This just happened to be signage for the Northern Virginia region

Q Great And do you recall if Ms McDonnell made any remarks at this event?

A I don't recall

Q Okay Did you go on --

MR BURCK: You can take that down Thank you

BY MR BURCK:

Q Do you recall if Ms McDonnell went on other events as well, promotional events that you attended?

A Yes, sir

Q And do you recall if she made remarks at some of those events?

A Yes In general, absolutely We did a lot of speaking together at these wine, wine tourism promotion events

Q And these were for Virginia businesses; is that right?

A Yes, sir

Q And did she mention the Virginia business names in her remarks?

A Certainly if we were at a particular railway, the winery that we would have been speaking at would have been mentioned But generally, the things that we were doing were about the larger region or the cluster of wineries that were -- again, we were trying to promote wine, wine tourism trails and so forth But certainly there would be a business mentioned, particularly the one we were located at

Q Okay Thank you Do you know someone by the name of Mary-Shea Sutherland?

A Yes

Q And who is she?

A She was the First Lady's Chief of Staff for a period of time during the McDonnell administration

Q Do you recall -- putting yourself back in 2011, the summer of 2011 Do you recall having conversations with Mrs Sutherland -- Ms Sutherland, excuse me, about Jonnie Williams?

A Yes, sir

Q Can you tell us what you recall about that?

A Mary-Shea and I did a lot of work together We spent a lot of time together in Richmond, but also around the state for these events to promote wine and wine tourism as part of the First Lady's FLITE initiative and became close

Mary-Shea told me that she was frustrated, wanting to do something different I think all of us that have worked in government and closely at the Governor's Office know there's a burnout factor And I think Mary-Shea had -- was experiencing burnout She was ready to move on And she mentioned to me that she was looking to seek other opportunities and there was some specific discussions And I think she was partially confiding in me, getting advice and counsel, again, as two friends, professional colleagues would do, but also somebody you'd consider as a friend

Q Do you recall if she mentioned going to an event at Gibson Island?

A I do

Q And what did she tell you about that event?

A She told me that she was going to -- going to this island that I had never heard of I was embarrassed at the time, but as a lifelong Virginian, I would have thought I would have known something about an island in the Chesapeake Bay, even though it was in Maryland

And she was going to be flying in a private jet and was going to be talking to Jonnie Williams about future opportunities And I remember it very distinctly because of my background in the tobacco industry and knowing who Jonnie Williams was

Q And when you say "future opportunities," what did she say about future opportunities?

A I took it as job opportunities, future employment opportunities. Things that she would do after leaving state government

Q And this, again, was in the summer of 2011 that she brought it up?

A This would have been at some point during the summer of 2011

Q And did she ever talk to you again about Mr Williams, about the opportunities that she mentioned?

A Just the job opportunities weren't playing out as quickly as she had wanted, that things weren't moving as quickly as she would have liked Nothing specific about failed attempts or -- it was just sort of general conversation following up on something that she had said to me earlier in the summer

Q And that was, again, in 2011?

A Yes, sir Summer of 2011

MR BURCK: Thank you

I have no other questions Your Honor Thank you

THE COURT: Any questions from the government?

MS ABER: Very briefly, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MS ABER:

Q Good afternoon, Secretary

A Good afternoon

Q Now, in reference to Mary-Shea Sutherland, she had told you that she owned Star Scientific stock, didn't she?

A I believe she told me that she had purchased it recently during a conversation that we had at some point during 2011

Q She wasn't hiding that from you, was she?

A No No No, ma'am

Q Now, as a Cabinet Secretary in both of those administrations, you reported to -- directly to the Governor, right?

A I would say I reported directly to the Chief of Staff Because, again, the Governor's schedule is such that he's not there all the time The Chief of Staff generally is, and you have easier access to the Chief of Staff than you do the Governor

Q But the only person who could fire you would be the Governor, right?

A I would guess so But if Martin Kent came to me and told me that my services were no longer needed, I would have probably packed up and left as well

Q Understandable Mr Kent can be the bearer of bad news, but the Governor technically is your boss, right?

A Yes, ma'am

Q Okay And when the governor in the McDonnell administration or the McAuliffe administration directs you to meet with someone, says, "Secretary Haymore, I want you to do X," do you do it?

A I did Unless I had a reason to not do so, which I would follow up with the appropriate person, either counsel or Chief of Staff, someone -- or the Governor directly if I had that opportunity

MS ABER: Okay One moment, please, Your Honor

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MS ABER: Nothing further Thank you

THE COURT: All right

Anything else?

MR BROWNLEE: Just one question

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Just very briefly, if given the opportunity again, would you work for Bob McDonnell?

A Yes, sir He was a very good person to work for The things that we did for agriculture development and forestry industries were outstanding And part of the reason that I'm working with Governor McAuliffe today is because of all the good work that we did under Governor McDonnell's leadership

MR BROWNLEE: Thank you

Nothing further Thank you, Judge

THE COURT: All right Thank you, sir You may stand down

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: Call your next witness, please

MR BROWNLEE: Your Honor, we call James Burke B-U-R-K-E I believe we're collecting him, Your Honor

JAMES BURKE,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Good afternoon, sir

A Good afternoon

Q Would you please state your full name, and spell your first and last name for the court reporter

A Sure It's James Michael Burke J-A-M-E-S, B-U-R-K-E

Q And can you please tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury where you're currently employed and your job?

A Sure I am at Virginia Commonwealth University I'm Director of the Performance Management Group And it is located within the Wilder School of Government

Q Okay And can you please tell us a little bit about Performance Management Group What does that mean?

A Sure It's basically a small consulting firm We do anything from individual leadership development, to team building, to helping organizations perform better, facilitate communication within organizations, things like that We also do a lot of leadership development, training development that way

Q And is it fair to say that it is common for you to work with state agencies and entities to help them improve their performance?

A It's about 93 percent of our business Yes

Q And have you worked with prior administrations before you worked with the McDonnell administration?

A Yes We've usually work with Cabinet Secretaries on down That's fairly common for us

Q Okay And I forgot to ask you Can you give us just a brief sense of your educational background?

A Yes I have a Ph D in clinical psychology from Georgia State University

Q Okay Did there come a time where you were asked, Performance Management Group and you personally, were asked to come in and assist the Office of the First Lady?

A Yes

Q Okay And can you tell the jury a little bit about how that happened?

A Sure Martin Kent, Chief of Staff for the Governor, called me and asked if I would be willing to assist in putting together a team for the First Lady to assist her with her initiatives

Q Okay

A And we had a very brief conversation and then met a few days later

Q Okay And so Mr Kent, the Chief of Staff for Governor McDonnell, contacted you to see if you'd be interested in coming to help out?

A That's correct

Q And is this something that was fairly common to what you did for other state agencies?

A Yes Yes You know, building -- helping to hire people is not something, necessarily, we get involved in a great deal But assisting in building the team, fostering connections, and also in terms of enhancing processes within teams, that's very common

Q Okay So you agreed to do this; is that correct?

A Yes, sir Yes, sir

Q All right And can you give us a sense of how you understood your assignment or your mission in coming in to help the First Lady's staff?

A It was assumed, at least on our part, it would be a -- probably a brief engagement And so we would just come in, interview the staff and kind of assist, find out what gaps were there, assist them in filling those gaps, and move on from there

Q Okay And so you agreed to do this?

A Yes

Q Can you give us a sense of -- well, did you first interview or speak with Ms McDonnell and I believe Martin Kent in a meeting as kind of an introductory meeting?

A That was our first meeting was with Martin and the First Lady We met in Martin's office at the Patrick Henry Building

Q All right And just tell the ladies and gentlemen of the jury about that meeting

A It was a meeting that Martin helped to facilitate heavily, just to give us background information He mentioned that there had been some changes in the staff and that there was a desire to build better processes, assist the First Lady achieving her initiatives, the things she wanted to do through the Office of the First Lady

And it seemed to be relatively straightforward We were going to -- we made plans to meet with the rest of the staff to get to know them and to go from there

Q And this was -- so we get the time, this was in October of 2011?

A Yes I believe around October 6th or so Something like that

Q All right And you have a partner who works with you in this named Linda?

A Linda Pierce

Q Okay And Linda was with you as well; is that correct?

A She was Uh-huh

Q Okay So give us a sense of some of the things that you and your team did to try to make this staff better

A Okay We met with the staff early on, and we heard that there were some difficulties in terms of communications, in terms of just getting things done And they really wanted to build a good team around them

We met at that time with -- Sarah Scarbrough was there Elizabeth Mancano, and I'm not sure if Tutti Townes, the butler, dropped in He may have dropped in

But it was clear that we needed to develop a team, find out what they needed first, where the gaps were, and what kind of expertise would be needed in order to be of good service to the First Lady, in this case

Q All right And I believe you stated that this first meeting was little awkward Ms Sutherland was there Tell us a little bit about that

A Yes We really didn't know much about what was going on in the office But Mary-Shea Sutherland was moving her office out at that time, and we are really hadn't kept up on any of the things that were going on there So it was a little awkward having -- discussing the future, as it were, while somebody is moving out of the office So we kind of moved our meeting to the back of the cottage

Q All right Do you know an individual named Kristen Kaplan?

A Yes

Q Can you tell the jury who Ms Kaplan is?

A Kristen Kaplan used to work for me at the Performance Management Group, and she and I both worked for somebody else there before I took over Performance Management Group

I called Kristen early on because I saw her as a very competent, organized individual who could really help make a difference But I didn't call her for the job I called her because she knows what was needed So I asked her if she knew anybody who would be interested in a position like this Described the position, described that it was going to be a difficult position and pretty demanding She had a few young children

So I didn't even -- it didn't even occur to me I thought she would be a great person for the job, but it didn't occur to me to say, "You should do this " She called -- she said she would think about who would be good and called me back, I believe it was the next day, and said, "I would like the job "

Q Okay And so Ms Kaplan is someone that you were familiar with So she came on board Were there any other people that -- after you came on, that joined the staff?

A Sure Before Kristen actually came on, we brought in Audrey Trussell, who was just also an excellent individual, somebody that Linda Pierce knew And she accepted the position as well And then we brought on Kathy Scott after -- I believe it was after Kristen I can't remember the exact order, but I think it was after Kristen Interviewed her and brought her in

Q And all this was done to try to help the staff improve and get better?

A Yes

Q Okay Give us a sense of the first couple of months, in your opinion, how things were progressing for the staff

A It was clear early on that this was going to require a great deal of organization Hence, when Kristen accepted the position, I knew the First Lady would be in excellent hands because she would be able to help bring some organization and processes to a number of initiatives We tried to keep the initiatives small, keep the work manageable

We were concerned that -- early on, we had heard that there were a lot of ups and downs in the office, and there was an undue amount of chaos, if you will, that we were trying to bring order to And our hope was, again, to build the team and to step away, but we got called in several times to assist the team and also assist the First Lady in a few different things

Q All right I want to pull up, and if you'll look at -- this is just for the witness, RM-0272

A Eyes over 50 here, John

Q We'll blow up the bottom part

A That would be great Thank you

Q This is an e-mail --

A Uh-huh

Q -- from Ms Kaplan to you?

A Right

Q And this is November 30th, 2011?

A Uh-huh

Q So fair to say you've been working here now six weeks or so?

A Yes That's correct

Q Okay And then if we scroll up, this is your response?

A Yes

MR BROWNLEE: Okay We move in RM-0272

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR BROWNLEE: Okay If we could go back down, Victoria

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q So tell us what Ms Kaplan is asking from you here

A The goal was to -- after doing several different process improvements, largely focused in November, around November 21st is the memo that she described, a lot of process improvements And this one was the next leg of the journey, which was the retreat

And although we really did enjoy working with the team very much and with the First Lady and were very excited about helping her be successful, we also are a soft money funded organization within VCU, and so we require paying jobs to keep our group afloat

Q All right So let's go to your response, if we can

A Uh-huh

MR BROWNLEE: If we can scroll up

A Yes

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q So she was basically asking you to -- if you wanted to be involved in this retreat And your response is as follows "We will give it some thought, but I am not that interested in helping at this time without some significant change I am very busy and have put my priorities in more fruitful endeavors "

A Yes

Q Can you just give the jury a sense of what --

A Yes

Q -- was going on at this point?

A It's 10:47 at night I'm feeling a little tired probably and rather irritable, more than likely, and I'm feeling a bit put on for another event At the same time, we had agreed to assist them with it in different ways, but clearly I was ambivalent at this point I felt ready -- like we are done We did our part We're done

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: You can take that down Thank you

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q So let me advance a couple of months to January of 2012 So I guess at this point you've been in this effort for about four months?

A Yes

MR BROWNLEE: And let me pull up an e-mail for you RM-0269

A Uh-huh

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q And is this an e-mail that you wrote to --

A Kristen

Q -- Ms Kaplan?

A Yes

MR BROWNLEE: Your Honor, we move in RM-0269

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: Your Honor, we would object on hearsay

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Can you give us a sense of what this -- this e-mail is about here?

A Yes Can you scroll -- can you do the preceding?

Q I think this is --

A Okay

Q I think this is it

A Okay At this point, my understanding, if I remember correctly, was that Kristen -- which was rather unusual I believe it was early on, the First Lady was feeling somewhat overwhelmed with the demands that were going on and -- or that she was experiencing

The Governor, which was very unusual, had put -- or Kristen at least reported feeling put -- blamed, if you will, for the First Lady's upsetment And she had written about that and was very -- wrote to me very upset about that It was very unusual, since the Governor was typically extremely supportive of the staff and went out of his way to support them

So I was just giving her some support and offering her some humor, if you will, just to soothe her a bit I went on to certainly state -- talk about the Governor and Maureen And as I said here, that Bob -- make a reference to that the Governor does not throw people under the bus And that's one of the things I admired about him

Q Let me focus on --

A Yep

Q -- that second paragraph there where it says, "I have to say"?

A Uh-huh Yep

Q And if you start with -- just go ahead and start and read that to us

A Sure "I have to say, I have" -- I always love reading late-night e-mails

"I have to say, I have been happy to" --

MR DRY: I'm sorry Object I'm sorry, sir

I'm going to object to him just reading wholesale something that was just admitted

MR BROWNLEE: Just a very short piece of it

THE COURT: Go ahead

A Okay Tell me when to stop

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q I will

A "I have to say, I have been happy to truly try/want to help Bob and Maureen Integrity, regardless of party, matters so much So does the heart to care We reached out because we needed and did not care anything about politics, but about people I think you have that same genuine care that is so pure Thus, it hurts all the more when there is a lack of understanding I admire Bob's refusal to throw his staff under the bus Most politicians do not have that courage "

Q All right Let me stop you there

A Okay

Q Now --

MR BROWNLEE: You can take that down Thank you

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Now, after this, did there come a time where you sought a meeting with Mr McDonnell?

A Yes, there was

Q Okay And -- first of all, who was at that meeting?

A That was Linda Pierce, the Governor, and myself

Q Okay And just tell us a little bit about -- tell us about that meeting

A Okay Just to provide framework, if I may

Q Yeah. Just provide framework

A This was a meeting on February 1st, and it was understood to be a private meeting So talking about it in this way is, quite frankly -- it causes me some anxiety and discomfort

Q Well, let me ask -- let me lead you a little bit here

A Uh-huh

Q And subject to counsel's objection But fair to say that you described for him some of the issues that you were seeing within the staff?

A Yes

Q Is it fair to say that some of those related to Ms McDonnell?

A Yes

Q Okay And is one recommendation you had for him was the possibility of her leaving the Mansion and living in her private residence?

A That was briefly mentioned

Q Okay

A And the reason being that she was under stress

Q Okay Now, after that meeting, did you write -- well, let me show you RM-270

A Uh-huh Yes Uh-huh

Q Is this an e-mail that you wrote after that meeting?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR BROWNLEE: Your Honor, we'd move RM-270 into

evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Okay And is this the e-mail you wrote following that meeting to members of the staff?

A That is correct

Q Okay And just briefly, it says, "And hats off to our Governor Thanks, everyone, for laying the groundwork that allowed for a truly productive conversation"?

A Yes

Q And you felt that the conversation with Mr McDonnell that day was productive for this team?

A I thought so Yes Uh-huh

Q Okay All right

MR BROWNLEE: You can take that down Thank you

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Let me fast-forward, I guess, to the next -- to the end of the -- later that month Did your services end?

A Yes

Q In February of 2012?

A That's correct

Q Okay Just tell the jury how those -- what happened that kind of precipitated you guys deciding that your time there was finished?

A Well, I wouldn't say that we decided that our time was finished

Q Okay Go ahead

A The -- what happened is there was a letter that was going to be sent to the Governor from the team, the Mansion team

Q Let me stop you Let me back you up

A Uh-huh

Q You're aware, and I think the jury has seen, a letter that was prepared by the staff for Ms McDonnell?

A That's correct

Q Okay And you understand that letter was never delivered to her?

A Yes

Q Okay Now you're talking about another letter?

A This -- I think this was the letter Because it was -- it was not -- it did not go to -- directly to -- or it seemed -- it was my understanding that there was a letter There may not actually have been some other letter that was --

Q Okay

A -- that came up

Q And you had a phone call with the staff Tell us about that call

A Yes What they were going to do is basically take a letter to the Governor They had felt that they were not listened to by Martin Kent or Janet Polarek, and they were starting to not feel listened to by us And by "listened to," I mean that we were taking action to make a significant change, an intervention, if you will, with the First Lady

They were going to take a letter, in a very uncharacteristic manner, because they were very, very professional, top group But they were going to take a letter to the Governor and basically make sure that the Governor knew of their distress and their un -- discomfort and their willingness to walk off en masse, as apparently everybody has seen

Q Okay And what did you tell -- so this was a call, and it had members of the staff on it?

A Yes

Q And what did you tell them?

A It was a very brutal conversation I would not say I was pleasant or nice But we tried to stop them from this because we wanted them to contain the issue, the problems that they were having and deal with the First Lady directly and let us assist certainly with them Let Martin and Janet assist, or whatever

But our goal here was to let the Governor govern Their role was to assist in containing difficulties and problems and allow him to do his job so that he could really serve the state at that time and also to help the First Lady achieve her initiatives, which were tremendous and which came from her desire to make a difference in the lives of people We wanted them to stop the drama, to contain the drama, and to go back to business as usual and to show their exceptional professionalism

It was clear that they did not want to follow this path They wanted to take it up to the next level And it became -- it was on Main Street in front of the Richmond Public Library, and it became sort of a shouting match over the phone Not a moment I'm super proud of, but we were trying to put an end to the drama

Q And it's your understanding that after your call with them, they did not forward that?

A We did not follow up in terms of that We were -- we didn't get feedback from Kristen

Q And did that pretty much end your work there?

A Not only did it end our work there It ended a friendship for a while, too, which was very sad But we were operating under the service of what we thought was the greater good

Q All right And that friendship was with Ms Kaplan?

A Yes, and restored Kristen, Sarah, the whole team They are just great But it has restored

MR BROWNLEE: Thank you

THE COURT: Mr Burck

MR BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor Just very briefly, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR BURCK:

Q Good afternoon, Mr Burke We're -- I'm Bill Burck I represent Maureen McDonnell We're not related, right?

A Correct

Q Just a few questions

A Sure

Q You spent roughly how long, five, six months, at the Mansion or helping with the First Lady's Office?

A That's correct.

Q And you had an opportunity to spend time with Ms McDonnell?

A Yes Quite a bit

Q You spoke to her You met with her?

A Yes

Q Did you have any impressions of her from that time that you met with her?

A Well, I think we were all very fond of the First Lady We loved her energy, her spark, her drive, and her desire to make a difference, and we wanted to help her with that.

Q Well, let me ask you this

A Yeah

Q In terms of the difficulties that you learned about in the management of her staff --

A Uh-huh

Q -- did you see any basis for the -- for those difficulties being expressed by the staff?

A We never witnessed the First Lady in being aggressive verbally or otherwise to any staff member We would get e-mails from staff --

MR DRY: Your Honor, I'm going to object for anything other than his personal knowledge, if he's talking about what other staff members reported to him

MR BURCK: Your Honor, I can just ask -- that's fine I just --

THE COURT: All right Go ahead See what he knows

MR BURCK: Yes, sir

BY MR BURCK:

Q What were your impressions of Ms McDonnell, based on your observations of her?

A She was often very nervous, very anxious She worried about things quite a bit She and I spent a lot of time on the phone, and a lot of it was really trying to help her kind of take perspective, keep calm and to do what she saw as her job as First Lady effectively And so we spent a lot of time assisting her with that, and we were hoping that we could be helpful and effective

Q Now, you testified, in response to a question from Mr Brownlee, that you had said to the Governor that he might want to send her back to their home? Is that what you testified to?

A That was one thing that we thought of; is there a way of decreasing time at the Mansion

Q And why did you make that -- let me ask you this Was that a recommendation or was that suggestion? How would you characterize that?

A An idea

Q An idea Why did you have that idea?

A She was clearly stressed She was not happy Something that she told us and other people was that this is not what she signed up for, but she did it because of the Governor and her relationship

But it certainly was not home territory to her She was very uncomfortable in public speaking And so we wanted to ultimately try and minimize her big public speaking events to things where she did exceptionally well, which is one-on-one with people, engaged with children She was a star She could do great work that way

MR BURCK: Thank you very much
No further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: Cross?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR DRY:

Q Good afternoon, Mr Burke

A Good afternoon

Q You had several interactions with the First Lady?

A Yes

Q And those interactions began in late fall and continued through early spring of 2012; is that right?

A That's -- it really ended largely in February I think we would see each other periodically here and there and had some contact

Q Okay And some of your conversations related to her being unhappy?

A Yes

Q And when she was describing her unhappiness, at any point did she ever blame Mr McDonnell for her unhappiness?

A No

Q And, in fact, in all of your conversations with Ms McDonnell, she never mentioned the name Jonnie Williams to you once, did she?

A I'm happy to say no

Q Okay. And in those conversations, did she ever express that she had any kind of crush or romantic feelings for anyone other than her husband?

A Never

Q And you had no sense of that?

A No, sir

Q Now, I want to go back to this February 1st meeting you had with the Governor I believe you said that it was an idea that maybe to lower her stress level, to minimize her time at Mansion Was that right?

A That was one idea

Q And you expressed that to the Governor?

A Uh-huh

Q Is that accurate?

A That's correct Yes

Q And did you express to the Governor his wife's anxiety?

A Yes

Q And you expressed her stress at appearing at public events?

A I'm not sure if we referenced that specifically But her stress level, yes

Q Okay But you're telling the Governor that she's stressed in her role as First Lady, right?

A That's correct, sir

Q And that included public appearances with him?

A Yes Public appearances We were focused on her own work, separate from the work she was doing with him

Q Okay In that conversation, did you mention to the idea -- the idea to the Governor that maybe Ms McDonnell could lower her stress level by having counseling?

A Yes, we did

Q And what was his reaction?

A He -- and this is one of the reasons why -- as mentioned there in productive conversation, he did not say -- he did not -- some people, when you say that, they will object firmly

He said -- he listened He heard that But his answer was that he needed -- basically, he needed to take responsibility for a problem he caused He took responsibility for her distress and wanted to spend more time with her

Q Okay Is it fair to say that the Governor was not inclined to follow this idea of Ms McDonnell getting counseling?

A He didn't give indication, that I recall, that he would support it, because we did not follow up with a recommendation for a specific person, which is what we typically would do in this

Q Okay, sir I'd like to refresh your recollection --

A Uh-huh

Q -- just for a moment, with Page 4 I'm sorry

MR DRY: I don't want you yelling at me

BY MR DRY:

Q At the bottom

A Okay Could have printed this a little bigger Okay

Q I didn't print it

A Yes Uh-huh Okay Oh, I printed this Yes Okay Here we go Yes Go ahead

Q And, sir, is it a fair statement that in your conversation with the Governor, that he was not inclined --

A Uh-huh

Q -- to have Ms McDonnell go to counseling?

A That's correct

Q Okay And, again, this is February 1st of 2013?

A 2012

Q I'm sorry 2012 You're right

Now, I'd like to go -- well, first of all, in your conversations with Ms McDonnell, she explicitly told you that one of the reasons that she was anxious was because of having to give speeches?

A That was one of them Yes Uh-huh

Q And --

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 650, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, sir, this is an e-mail from you to Ms McDonnell on January 17th of 2012?

A Yes

MR DRY: Move for government's admission of Government Exhibit 650

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR. DRY: Let's go down to --

A Uh-huh

MR DRY: And, actually, let's go to the second page and kind of set this up

BY MR DRY:

Q Is it fair to say that you're discussing with Ms McDonnell, at this point, assisting her with one of these speeches?

A Yes I had been assisting her It is now 1:02 in the morning, and I had been assisting her for several hours via e-mail

Q I can understand your earlier e-mail

MR DRY: Let's go to the first page, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And at the bottom, Ms McDonnell writes to you and congratulates -- or expresses her appreciation for your assistance, right?

A Uh-huh Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to the e-mail right above that

BY MR DRY:

Q You're talking to her some more about this?

A Uh-huh Yes

MR DRY: E-mail above that And then -- please stop right there

BY MR DRY:

Q Please read what Ms McDonnell's response is at 1:55 a m in the morning on January 17th of 2012

A "I really wouldn't be doing this for anyone else but that man of mine " Smiley face

MR DRY: Now let's go to the top e-mail

BY MR DRY:

Q What's your response to her?

A "Ah, love It is a wonderful thing "

Q And from what you've observed of Mr and Ms McDonnell, it seemed like they were in love?

A I -- you know, I was not privy to much of their relationship in terms of personal He seemed very gentle and very kind toward her, and she seemed very receptive and enjoying that very much

Q Okay

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 649, please And then let's go to the bottom e-mail

BY MR DRY:

Q And on this one -- on this one you're saying, "Like we always say, trust yourself"?

A Yes

MR DRY: And then let's go up to the top e-mail

BY MR DRY:

Q "Long speeches go," right, the context of this? Do you need to see it?

A No I remember it Yes

MR DRY: Okay Let's go to the e-mail right above this

I'd like to offer Government's 649 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: Okay Thank you

Let's go to the e-mail right above this, please Stop right there

A Uh-huh

BY MR DRY:

Q And Ms McDonnell talks about editing her speech and that she just gave the speech to the Governor so he could make his final edits?

A Yes

Q And that was part of what you were talking about earlier Mr McDonnell was supportive in helping his wife?

A Very

Q Okay

MR DRY: And then let's go to the top e-mail, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And this is you expressing support for Ms McDonnell?

A Yes Uh-huh

MR DRY: Now, I'd like to -- do we have RM-269 into evidence? 269

MR STARNES: Yeah

BY MR DRY:

Q I believe Mr Brownlee talked to you a little bit about this e-mail, and I think -- if we go to the bottom portion, that paragraph that Mr Brownlee had you read from

A Yes

Q I think that you said that the genesis of this e-mail was Ms Kaplan was reporting to you that the Governor was blaming her for the First Lady's anxiety Was that accurate?

A I believe that that was the previous e-mail I don't have that in front of me

Q Okay And you're trying to give your thoughts to Ms Kaplan and express support for her?

A Yes That's correct

Q Okay And I'm sorry I just wanted to make sure I understood Here you write, "I admire Bob's refusal to throw his staff under the bus " Is that accurate?

A That's accurate

Q Well, let me ask you about that From your observations of the Mansion staff, your interactions with the Governor's other staff, you thought that they were a professional group?

A Yes

Q And they were dedicated to their jobs?

A Absolutely

Q And they were trying to assist the First Lady in any way they could, right?

A That's correct

Q And you know nothing about what happened, let's say, February of 2012 and -- February 29th? You have no idea because you weren't really engaged at that point, right?

A That is correct

MR DRY: Thank you, sir

THE COURT: Anything else?

MR BROWNLEE: Just very briefly, Your Honor

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q Sir, let me go back to this February 1st meeting that you and Ms Pierce had with Bob McDonnell Mr Dry asked you about some of the recommendations that you made that day You talked about counseling?

A Yes

Q There were more; is that -- there are more recommendations; is that right?

A We had talked -- we had just had a discussion It was generally about how things were going And talked about, you know, possibly the move, possibly -- and certainly about therapy as an intervention

Q And that -- for who?

A For Ms McDonnell

Q All right And -- and what did -- therapy related to what?

A That would be making reference to things that other people said in e-mails So --

Q Okay Well, this would be from your evaluation You were at this meeting?

A That's correct

Q You were talking with Bob McDonnell?

A Uh-huh

Q And tell me the type of treatment and for what you were recommending

A For anxiety, for -- we thought for some of the difficulties, the interpersonal difficulties that she was having --

Q Depression?

A -- reported having

Q Depression?

A And possibly depression that might have been underlying this We had heard that she would often stay up

Q Okay Let me ask -- and I think what -- was Mr McDonnell supportive of you and Linda and your efforts?

A A hundred percent

Q Okay But at that time you've testified that he felt that he would try to spend more time with her; is that right?

MR DRY: Objection He testified that the Governor stated that he would try to Not what the Governor felt

MR BROWNLEE: Fair enough, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right

BY MR BROWNLEE:

Q He said that he would try to spend more time with Ms McDonnell?

A Yes

Q Now, did you have any knowledge at that time about any other type of treatment she may have been in at the time?

A No knowledge of any other treatment, no

Q Okay Let me ask you this In your experience in dealing with these things, is it fair to say that multiple types of emotions can be in existence, can co-exist at the same time?

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor Now he's asking for expert --

THE COURT: Sustained

MR BROWNLEE: That's all Thank you, Judge

THE COURT: Mr Burck?

MR BURCK: Just two Thank you, Your Honor Just very -- two short questions

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR BURCK:

Q You were asked by Mr Dry --

MR DRY: Your Honor, is he recrossing?

THE COURT: He has another opportunity to examine his witness

MR DRY: Your Honor, that wasn't -- he isn't -- that witness is not --

THE COURT: I know I understand that

MR BURCK: Your Honor, I can call him back in my case, or just two minutes

THE COURT: No I --

MR BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor

BY MR BURCK:

Q Just very briefly

A Sure

Q You were asked certain questions by Mr Dry about whether or not Ms McDonnell told you that she had a crush on Mr Williams Do you remember those questions?

A Uh-huh

Q And you were there for work purposes, right?

A That's correct

Q Did you consider yourself to be a friend or a close friend of Ms McDonnell?

A No We were there for work We became close as a result of this in terms of a work closeness, if you will

Q Did you view that -- did you think that you had a relationship with Ms McDonnell where she would tell you about her personal feelings for other people?

A I would not assume that would be the case

Q Did she talk to you about her friends a lot?

A No

MR BURCK: That's it, Your Honor Thank you

THE COURT: Thank you, sir You may stand down

THE WITNESS: Thank you, sir

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: All right We're going to stop here for lunch

MR ASBILL: Your Honor, may we approach on the schedule?

THE COURT: In a minute

You all may leave now Thank you We'll have you back at 2:15

(The jury left the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right You all want to come on up

(At Bench)

MR ASBILL: I have good news and slightly bad news Which do you prefer first?

THE COURT: Give me the bad news

MR ASBILL: Bad news, I've got a -- I've got a witness who's character, slash, fact who's flying in from Chicago I expect him to be here by 3:00 I have one other character witness who is available, and after that, it's Mr McDonnell And we're sort of well ahead of schedule in terms of the plans And I'd ask if we can resume at 3 instead of 2:15, and I'll put the two of them on and then I'll start with Mr McDonnell

MR DRY: Your Honor, the government objects to any further character evidence They have gotten character evidence in through basically every witness that's testified There's got to be some limitation at this point It's cumulative

THE COURT: No I -- I don't agree with that
You have somebody who's available, you say?

MR ASBILL: We do have somebody who's available that would probably be 20, 30 minutes, and then the next person, if we start at 2:15 I think there would be a gap before the other person arrives, who's flying in from Chicago as we speak

MR DRY: Is Mr McDonnell the last witness?

MR ASBILL: Yes, Mr McDonnell is the last witness

THE COURT: Well, this is what I'll do I'll -- I'll change our return time to 2:45 and we'll get started And then if you finish with this witness, hopefully the other one will be getting here

MR ASBILL: Thank you, sir I appreciate it

MR DRY: Thank you, Your Honor

(In Open Court)

(Luncheon recess taken from 1:16 p.m. to 2:45 p m.)

THE COURT: All right, let's bring in the jury, please

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, call your next witness, please

MR. ASBILL: The defense calls Reverend Timothy Scully

REV TIMOTHY SCULLY,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Would you tell us your full name, please, and tell us where you live?

A Father Timothy R Scully, C.S C., and I live on campus in a residence hall at the University of Notre Dame

Q C.S C stands for?

A Congregation of Holy Cross It is my religious community in the Catholic tradition.

Q Did you come from there today?

A I came here last night

Q Okay Why are you here?

A I'm here to provide testimony for my friend, Bob

McDonnell

Q How long have you known Bob McDonnell?

A 42 years

Q Okay Before we get into that, would you please tell us a little about what you do for a living?

A Sure I'm a Professor of Political Science at the University of Notre Dame for the last 26 years I am the Director of the Institute for Educational Initiatives, which is an institute which provides services to at-risk children in inner city neighborhoods across the United States and in some cases across the world. And I serve as a Fellow of the University and a Trustee of the University and a few other things

Q Have you had any administrative positions at Notre Dame?

A Yes I served as Academic Vice President for about eight years, and Executive Vice President for four-and-some years as well

Q All right And would you tell us a little bit about your educational background?

A Sure I am a product of Jesuit Prep School in Chicago, Illinois, where my family grew up. I studied for my Bachelors degree in Economics at the University of Notre Dame, and entered the seminary at that time After I graduated, I received a Master of Divinity degree at the University of Notre Dame in the seminary there, became an ordained Catholic priest, and after about four years in Santiago, Chile as a young priest, I was sent by my religious community to get a Masters and a Doctorate in Political Science at the University of California in Berkeley

Q All right You said that you have known my client for over 40 years; is that correct?

A Yes, sir

Q How did you two first meet?

A Oh, Bob and I were assigned at random in the same residence hall in 1972 at the University of Notre Dame in Flanner Hall, the same floor, the same -- we ended up rooming for four years together there

Q Now, since that time, this was in 1972 when you all first met?

A Yes, sir

Q And since that time, have you had regular contact or have you kept in touch?

A Oh, yes Absolutely Bob has been a great friend ever since then, and not just Bob, but many of our classmates have hung together, especially those six people who ended up living for four years together We have been very close friends

Q All right Do you know his family?

A Bob's family?

Q Yes

A Oh, yes I knew his mother, his father, his siblings I know his wife and children. In fact, I am godfather to his first child, Jeanine

Q Does he know your family?

A Yes

Q Now, can you tell us some of the more important sort of milestones in your life or in his life where you two were together?

A You bet I was a seminarian when Bob and Maureen got married, so I was privileged to be a lector I read at their wedding And then when Bob was in the military service, of course, went to Germany, I was sent to Chile to serve as a young priest So we diverged a bit But when I came back from Chile, Bob and I reconnected. And of course, you know, I was privileged to be the godfather to his first child, and Bob came to my ordination to the priesthood and brought little Jeanine In fact, we didn't know, it was his first child, so we ended up, I didn't have a crib, you know, as you can imagine, so we ended up putting little Jeanine in a sock drawer, lining it So anyway, I've known him for some time So his first child, I was involved in the baptism.

And, you know, I've been involved as a spiritual partner to Bob. I was privileged to give the invocation at his inauguration as Governor of Virginia I prayed with him before that inauguration at his request together with a Baptist minister And we have been great friends for four decades

Q Okay You spoke about Jeanine. Did you attend Jeanine's wedding?

A I presided at Jeanine's wedding

Q All right How about his daughter, Cailin? Did you attend her wedding?

A No, you know, Cailin had invited me to preside at her wedding, but I had prostate cancer and was unable to preside at the wedding because I was undergoing surgery at the time

Q Now, in terms of your communication over the four decades, has that been in person and by other means as well?

A Oh, yeah. Yeah.

Q What sort of other means?

A Well, you know, we have been friends for 42 years So, you know, for much of that, the only means was personal contact letters and phone calls occasionally But, you know, as connectivity got denser, we were able to e-mail and text one another with some frequency

Q All right

A And Bob is a big Notre Dame football fan I should mention that And I'm not, but he is And so I would --

Q Are you for Michigan or something?

A No, I mean, it is the sport I'm not that crazy about it I think it is a little violent, whatever Don't let that get out to the Notre Dame community, though; they will hang me So Bob would come up, you know, almost once a year to a football game and I would be obliged to spend the game with him and he would get all fired up about it

Q When Bob -- obviously you are aware that Bob has run for a number of political offices during his career?

A Yes

Q Were you present -- I know you talked about being present at his inauguration as Governor Were you present at any other events? For example, when he became Attorney General, things of that nature?

A No, I was not

Q Once he became Attorney General -- you knew he became Attorney General, correct?

A I did.

Q Once he became Attorney General, did the level of your contact with him increase or decrease or stay somewhat the same?

A Probably increased.

Q Okay How about when he became Governor? Did your level of communication increase or decrease?

A Probably increased.

Q Okay The friendship that you have described, is that a friendship that's based on ideology?

A No. I mean, I grew up in Cook County There are no Republicans in Cook County as far as I know And no, I like Bob a lot, but we would not necessarily always agree politically

Q All right Do you believe that you know his heart and his core character?

A Yes

Q And I'm going to ask you a series of questions about whether or not you have a personal opinion about particular character traits that in your view may or may not apply

A Okay

Q Do you have an opinion about whether Bob is a truthful person?

A Absolutely

Q What is your opinion?

A Well, Bob has never erred from the truth to my knowledge, ever I've never heard Bob utter anything that would resemble a falsehood.

Q Do you have an opinion about whether he is a law-abiding man or somebody who tries to follow rules?

A Absolutely

Q What is your opinion?

A Bob has never even suggested being involved in anything that would be considered or he would knowingly understand is unlawful

Q Do you believe he is an honest person or do you have an opinion about that issue?

A Very much so Bob is a thoughtful, honest, virtuous, graceful person.

Q Do you think he is a man of integrity?

A Absolutely

Q How do you define that term?

A You know. Bob is a role model for all of us For the University of Notre Dame community, he is a role model For all of our friends, he is a role model He always has been. He is a leader He embodies virtue I understand virtue to mean that you create habits in your life, like truthfulness and saying the truth and doing the right thing, and those habits create dispositions which create a virtuous person, and he is a virtuous person.

Q Have you ever heard of a term with respect to someone called "The Watched"?

A Yes I understand that

Q What does that mean to you?

A Well, Bob has always been looked up to, not just by his children and family, but by his friends and community At Notre Dame, we honored Bob, we were honored by honoring him as the Alumnus of the Year He is a person of great moral character and strength of character

Q Is he someone in your opinion who has the courage of his convictions?

A Always Always From the minute I met Bob I remember things that he did in the residence hall, I know this is whatever, 42 years ago, but I remember him breaking up fights and just -- he is a conciliator He is always looking for the middle ground. He is always looking to bring people together He is a lover He is a person of enormous strength of character and courage

Q You say you know the family I'm going to -- wait a minute, one more thing before I get to that Is Bob someone, do you have an opinion about whether or not he is motivated in any way by material goods?

A No No, by gosh. I mean, Bob, look, I mean some of my classmates were interested in wealth and pursued wealth. But Bob could never care less about that He wouldn't know -- he wouldn't even know what, you know, fancy clothes or shoes or -- he wouldn't care about that

Q All right You say you know the family, obviously You obviously know Maureen, his wife?

A Of course

Q You have known her for almost as long a time?

A Yes, almost, about 40 years

Q Do you believe that Bob loves her?

A Absolutely

Q Do you believe that she loves him?

A Absolutely

Q That said, do you know whether or not there were any difficulties or problems in their marriage?

A I would only be able to surmise that from my personal observation, because Bob would never say an unkind or uncharitable thing about anybody, and especially his wife So no, I mean, so from what Bob would have told me, I have never heard him say a negative thing about Maureen in our 40 years of knowing her You know, that said, you know, one could see that, you know, there was a certain mercurial character at times to the partnership And, you know, so I would worry and pray about that a little bit

Q Okay Has he ever, has he, my client, ever discussed with you personal financial issues?

A No, never

Q Has he ever discussed with you any personal issues, if there were problems in his marriage of any kind, are those things that he has ever discussed with you?

A Never

Q You say that you know other people who know my client How many would you estimate you know who know him?

A Well, several dozen. You know, first of all, you know, the President of the University, Father John Jenkins and I know Bob very well We were all classmates All of the classmates that we hung round with know Bob, and many have stayed in touch with Bob. Many were here for the inauguration. Other friends from Chicago, who, since that's my hometown and Bob would sometimes go to my home for Thanksgiving break and things like that, he would get to know my friends, and a number of them came to the inauguration and have a great fondness for Bob. I know a number of Bob's friends through celebrating Jeanine's wedding, through being part of Bob's wedding myself, through Jeanine's baptism, through the broader McDonnell friendship networks So I know a number of people who know and love Bob

Q And would I be accurate in saying that to your knowledge, those folks know about the existence of this case?

A Oh, gee, sure. I don't think there is anybody in the country that doesn't know about this case

Q And do you have an understanding of what these people that you say, you know who know Bob, do you have any idea of what their opinion is of Bob with respect to the traits that you have described?

A They would be in agreement with my description, in very strong agreement, and I wouldn't know anyone who wouldn't share that opinion.

MR ASBILL: Thank you. I have no further questions

THE COURT: Mr Burck?

MR BURCK: No, Your Honor, no questions. Thank you.

THE COURT: Anything from the government?

MR. HARBACH: Yes, please, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. HARBACH:

Q Good afternoon, Father Scully

A Good afternoon.

Q I'll admit to being a little nervous But I'll be brief

A That makes two of us This is a whole new thing for me

Q I can understand that Let me ask you: The character traits that you described for Mr McDonnell, including truthfulness, honesty, integrity, and being a man of character --

A Yes.

Q -- would you agree that part of being a man of character or a person of character is the ability to remove oneself from questionable moral situations?

A Yes

Q The ability to say no?

A Yes

Q And you would agree with me that at least in your view, Mr McDonnell possesses those qualities as well?

A Yes

Q And my only other question is, I take it when you learned about the allegations in this case, excuse me, not the allegations, the newspaper articles that broke in the spring of 2013, I take it you were very surprised by what you read in the papers?

A Yes.

MR. HARBACH: Thank you, Your Honor No further questions

THE COURT: All right Anything else?

MR. ASBILL: No, Your Honor

THE COURT: Thank you, sir You may stand down.

THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: All right Your next witness?

MR. ASBILL: Joe Damico.

JOSEPH F DAMICO,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Robert F McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Good afternoon.

A Good afternoon

Q Would you please tell the court reporter and everybody else your full name and where you are from?

A My name is Joseph F Damico. I'm from Libertyville, Illinois, a suburb outside of Chicago.

Q Have you come from there today?

A Yes, sir

Q And why?

A To be a character witness for Bob

Q Okay Before we get into that, would you tell us about your educational background?

A Bob and I actually went to the same high school, Bishop Ireton High School I went to James Madison University for an undergraduate degree I received my MBA from James Madison University as well

Q Would you tell us about your employment background?

A Out of graduate school I worked for Pfizer Pharmaceutical Company for a couple years, and then I worked for a company called American Hospital Supply

Corporation for a number of years We changed names, meaning we merged, were acquired, spun back out, but basically it was American Hospital Supply Corporation for 22 years And then we started our own private equity firm in 2000 called RoundTable Healthcare Partners

Q That's where you are today, at RoundTable?

A Yes, sir

Q Have you held board positions in your business career?

A A number of them. Do you want me to elaborate those?

Q Just give us some examples

A The old American Hospital Supply Corporation was at one point under the name Allegiance Healthcare. I was the President of that company and on that Board. I was on the Board of all of our different companies that we own today We are a private equity firm. We own medical device and generic pharmaceutical companies I'm on the Board of all of those, Chairman of five of those, Board of Northwestern Memorial Hospital, on the Board of a regional bank, and some other philanthropic organizations

Q All right And you say you went to high school with my client?

A Yes, sir

Q And what years were those that you first met?

A 1968 to 1972

Q All right And you were friends at that point in time?

A Yes, sir

Q And have you been friends ever since?

A Yes, sir

Q What is the level or what has been the level of contact that you have had with my client over the last 40-some years?

A Well, I would consider Bob one of my closest friends We were great friends in high school That's where our friendship started. It continued on into college We didn't go to the same universities, but we would go to visit each other He then did serve his military duty, went to Germany for a few years I did, obviously, not see him in Germany But I helped him get a job when he came back with American Hospital Supply Corporation For two years they were in the Chicagoland area They spent a couple years in Kansas City before he moved back to Virginia Then we periodically would see each other, certainly talk around the holidays And in the last six or seven years since we have all become empty nesters, it has become much more viable to see each other more frequently, so we probably physically get together two or three or four times a year

Q When you get together on those occasions, for how long would you get together?

A Three or four days

Q Okay Would you keep in touch by other means, for example, phone or e-mail or text?

A All the time We talk on the phone quite a bit We text, we e-mail But mainly on the phone

Q Okay And do you know his family or did you know his family in high school, going all the way back to then?

A I knew his dad, Jack, his mom, Emma, his brothers and sisters I knew the family well We were not just casual friends We were very close friends There was a group of four of us that hung out a lot together, and he and I were two of those four

Q I take it he would know your family as well?

A He does

Q Do you know Bob's children?

A I do. Actually, I'm the godfather of one of his children, his daughter, Cailin, and I know the others quite well

Q And do you know Maureen, his wife?

A I have for a long time

Q All right With respect to their marriage, and in terms of your observations of it these four decades, do you know whether or not or do you have a sense of whether Bob loves Maureen?

A I would say Bob does absolutely love Maureen.

Q And how about vice versa?

A I have no reason to think that she wouldn't love him.

Q All right Did you ever witness or do you have any knowledge of any kind of difficulties or dysfunction in any way in their marriage?

A Well, certainly there were times of stress or tension when we were all together; not the type that people are throwing things or yelling, but there was clearly stress and tension, and I think more so in the last six, seven years than prior

Q All right Did Bob ever talk to you about any difficulties, any personal difficulties in his marriage?

A We did, we did have a few conversations about that One most recently would have been in March of 2014

Q Okay Recently this year, you mean

A Yes, sir

Q Okay With respect to his personal finances, are those things, are those issues that Bob has discussed with you or are those things that he doesn't discuss with you?

A To be honest, he does not discuss that much. His personal life and his financial life are two things that most people, I think, keep relatively private, and he was no different

Q Okay And you were the same way with him with respect to those issues?

A Yes, sir

Q All right Do you think you know Bob's core character?

A Better than just about anybody else you could find.

Q Do you think Bob or do you have an opinion about whether or not he is a truthful person?

A I am positive that he is a truthful person.

Q Do you have an opinion about whether or not he is an honest person?

A Absolutely in my heart of hearts I believe that he is an honest person

Q Do you believe that he is a law-abiding person?

A Without a doubt

Q Do you believe he has integrity?

A Yes, sir

Q Do you believe that he is devoted to his family?

A He is a tremendous family person, yes He is absolutely devoted to his family Always has been.

Q Do you believe he was devoted to public service?

A Absolutely It is what he chose to -- how he chose to spend his life, and he put 110 percent into it and has done an excellent job.

Q Do you believe in general that he is a man of integrity?

A I mean, I do Again, I've known him for 46 years And when you think of integrity, I mean, if I can just expand just a moment --

Q Tell me what you think that means

A I think, simply put, integrity is doing the right thing the right way for the right reasons Not for political expediency, not for the photo shoot, not for the great public relations, but it is because it is the right thing You know, I think character is at the heart of this, and you haven't asked that and maybe you are not going to. Maybe just indulge me for just a second, let me talk for a second about character, because I think that's at the heart of a lot of this

Bob is one of the best human beings I know I don't say that lightly And you guys are all thinking, "Okay, he is one of Bob's best friends; of course he is going to say that " I wouldn't say that if I didn't believe it Character is not doing a few big things right Character is not making a great speech. Character is doing a thousand little things each and every day It is what you do when nobody is watching It is the sum of one's habits And those habits become predictors of future behavior I have been able to watch Bob and all the little things he has done over almost five decades Has he exhibited some poor judgment? We all do, and he is no different And absolutely he did, and he admitted it and apologized. Did he knowingly do something illegal? No chance

Q Let me ask you this finally: If Bob were in financial trouble and he went to you for help, would you be willing to do that?

A Yes, sir He has come to me twice to ask for money, once for his gubernatorial campaign, and I gave him $10,000 on the spot; and he came to me a few months ago as it relates to all the expenses from the trial and the legal things, and I gave him some money then. But yes, to answer your question, absolutely

Q And if he needed money from you in terms of your easy ability to do something for him, would there be a limit?

A Now, this is going to sound arrogant, and I don't intend it to, but I've been blessed. We have been very, very fortunate I could write a check if I had my checkbook with me on the spot for seven figures Yes, sir

MR. ASBILL: Thank you very much. I have no further questions

THE COURT: Mr Burck?

MR. BURCK: No questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: Anything from the government?

MS ABER: Yes, Your Honor

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MS ABER:

Q Good afternoon, sir

A Hi

Q I'd like to sort of start at the end of what you just said.

A Okay

Q Were you aware or did you start reading of the media accounts of this investigation last Easter-ish of 2013?

A Sporadically

Q Sporadically Did those reports surprise you?

A Shocked me

Q And then I think at the beginning in the explanation of your career, you said that you had worked at American Hospital Supply

A Yes, ma'am.

Q You got Mr McDonnell a job there as well?

A I helped.

Q Did a gentleman named Jonnie Williams, to your knowledge, ever work at American Hospital Supply?

A Not to my knowledge

MS ABER: Thank you. I have no further questions

THE COURT: All right Anything? All right, you may stand down, sir Thank you very much.

(Witness stood aside)

All right

MR. ASBILL: The defense calls Bob McDonnell

ROBERT F McDONNELL,

a defendant herein, called as a witness by and on his own behalf, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Good afternoon.

A Good afternoon, Mr Asbill

Q It may be redundant, but would you please give your full name and spell it for the court reporter?

A Sure Robert Francis McDonnell, that's C-I-S, McDonnell, M-C-D-O-N-N-E-L-L

Q I'd like to start by asking you to go back in time to November 3rd, 2009 Do you remember that day?

A Sir, I remember it very well

Q What about it stands out for you?

A That was the day I had the privilege of being elected Governor of Virginia.

Q And on that day, just sort of in general, what happened that day in the morning?

A We had a busy day planned to travel around the state to various polling locations I was very fortunate

Unlike the Attorney General's race, the polls were looking fairly good, so I was feeling very positive about the day So my family and I had several stops, the first of which was my home polling place here in Glen Allen, Virginia, where I was going to vote

Q Okay Did you make any other stops after that?

A We did. I have to say, that certainly was a highlight, though, going into that polling place in Glen Allen and seeing my name on the ballot as Governor of Virginia and casting the vote, and then moving on from there We went to Northern Virginia, where I grew up, in the Mount Vernon area.

Q What did you do there?

A We had a group of people from my old neighborhood in Riverside Estates, in the Mount Vernon area, a place where I lived since I was eight years old. We have a house there It is still in the family now And there was a group of friends and supporters that were at the Mount Vernon polling precinct It was a place where my mom had worked when I was a kid as a Democratic poll worker Now I'm a Republican candidate for Governor And so I wanted to go there and just see some of the friends that I had grown up with and make that our Northern Virginia stop. It was a very special stop for me

Q What was the last stop that day?

A The last stop was Virginia Beach It is where I had lived for twenty-one years, where I raised all my kids We moved there in 1985, until the time I became Attorney General and we moved to Richmond. So we stopped at the Green Run Precinct in Virginia Beach. That was very special to me It is where we lived for about twelve years, bought our first house, where three of our children were born And it was the place I really got my start in politics I was on the Green Run Homes Association Board of Directors for about three years, my first elected office of any kind. And then that was a precinct that really carried me when I became a member of the House of Delegates in 1991

Q This election for Governor of Virginia, what number election was that for you?

A It was my ninth election.

Q And had you ever lost an election?

A No. I've been very fortunate I won all those elections

Q Any close calls?

A One extremely close call The one for Attorney General in 2005 was one that went into overtime I got declared the winner three days before Christmas in 2005, and that was a 360-vote margin, which is about one-eighth of one precinct And I am very, very fortunate to have won that race

Q The day you were elected, do you recall what time during the day the race was called?

A Yes Unlike the previous race for Attorney General, that race was called fairly early after I got back from Virginia Beach My wife, my kids and I went to the Marriott Hotel right here across the street -- that's where we were going to be for the victory celebration that night -- and started watching the returns And I believe it was shortly after 8 o'clock, maybe 8:15 or so, that we were declared the winner We won by a fairly healthy margin, so we were able to start the celebration rather early that night

Q Who did you run against?

A I ran against Creigh Deeds, the same gentleman I had run against for Attorney General I have known Creigh since 1991 We both got elected to the House of Delegates together He is a very, very fine person And he competed against me both of those elections

Q Did you talk to him that day after the election was called?

A I did Creigh was very gracious Like I say, I had known him for 18 years or so by that time He called me about 8:30, quarter of nine, and very kind, said, "Look, you worked hard. We have competed against each other twice now I've known you a long time You will do a good job as Governor " But I could sense the disappointment in his voice It is not easy running for statewide office You run for three-and-a-half years, you spend a lot of time, money, a lot of time away from home And obviously he was disappointed, but he was very kind in his remarks to me and wished me the best And he stayed in the State Senate, so he said, "I'll look forward to working with you in the Senate as you start your time as Governor "

Q Let me move forward to the next morning after the election.

A Yes

Q Tell us about that next morning

A Well, I was still running on adrenalin a little bit I was obviously incredibly happy about the results from the night before But at the same time, I knew I had just two-and-a-half months to complete a transition and be ready to govern by the second week in January But I think we were all up early My kids, my wife all had a suite in the hotel, and we were getting ready for the day I had a transition press conference scheduled that day to announce my transition team for Governor

Q Did anything unusual happen that morning?

A I remember getting up, getting dressed I think I was in the bathroom just a little bit early and came out and talked to my wife for a minute and told her I had to get ready I knew I was going to have a lot of calls I needed to make, a lot of calls I was expecting the day after the election. And I could tell that she was not as happy as I was about the result

I know she was tired. She had worked so hard herself during the campaign, traveled all over the state, was incredibly supportive of my effort But at the same time, I could sense some tension with her about this impending role that she was going to have as First Lady She was, I know she was fatigued, but she was yelling at me about something I don't know if it was about what she was going to wear or do that day, but it clearly exhibited some stress about what lay ahead for her in her new role as First Lady

Q So you were exhilarated and she was less so?

A I know she was happy, because she had worked so hard for the campaign. But I sensed, based on what she said and her reactions that morning, that she was certainly fatigued from the campaign, as was I But she was, she seemed to be upset, concerned about her role, what she was going to wear, how she was going to face some of the public duties that she might have That's what I heard from her I finally said, "Maureen, I'm expecting some calls this morning, and we will have time to talk about this We will make sure we get you off to a good start You are going to do a great job as First Lady I've got to get on with making these calls and to get ready for my press conference "

Q Aside from making calls that morning, did you receive any calls?

A I did I received a number of very nice congratulatory calls I think during the time I spoke with my wife, I had my cell phone go off and I saw a 202 number on the phone, so I knew it was someone from Washington D.C I'm very familiar with that area code I answered the phone and the voice said, "Can you hold for the President of the United States?"

Q Tell us a little bit about that call

A Well, it was remarkable, because just a week before the President had been campaigning with my opponent, Senator Deeds, in Charlottesville And now I have President Obama calling me to congratulate me And the reason it was so nice, it was because the call wasn't, "This is the President," it was, "Hello, Bob, this is Barack." And then it was very generous, very nice, very friendly He said, "Look, you ran a great campaign. Obviously, I was on the other side But for me, me, the President, to be able to get things done in this country, I need to work with governors You are the CEO's, the executives of your state, and I'm trying my best to run this country and we've got to work together " And obviously, being my neighbor across the Potomac, he said, "Especially Virginia, Maryland, you are the governors closest to me and I want to make sure we have as good a working relationship as possible " I said, "Mr President, I think that's terrific That's kind of the way I look at the world anyway Once the campaign is over, it is time to govern. And it doesn't matter if it is Republican or Democrat "

So anyway, it was just a very nice call And I realized that while I understood a little bit after 18 years in office about the role of a Governor, it now was dawning on me that I was in a very new phase of my life, as Governor-elect, and to have the leader of the free world call me to spend five, seven minutes on the phone and asking me to work together was just an experience I won't forget

Q You talked about Mount Vernon. I want to go back to there a little bit That's where you grew up After you grew up and got out of high school, I mean, you went to high school in the Mount Vernon area?

A Alexandria, Bishop Ireton High School You heard my classmate there I graduated from high school in '72 and went on to the University of Notre Dame.

Q When you went to Notre Dame, did you pay for it or did you have to get financial help or how did that work?

A I was very fortunate I received an Army ROTC scholarship, and looked at several schools, had a couple of military academy appointments as well But I took a trip that Easter with my father My father was a subway alum, Boston Irish Catholic and World War II vet, and he always wanted one of his kids to go to Notre Dame So long story short, we took a tour out there I saw the place, met people, and said, "This is the right place for me " So I was fortunate to attend Notre Dame on an Army ROTC scholarship.

Q Let me go back a second to your family Why don't you tell us a little bit about your mom and dad and siblings

A My dad, he was a tough guy He enlisted in the U S Army right before Pearl Harbor, about three months before Pearl Harbor, got commissioned in the military, spent three years over in England during the war, and spent 23 years in the Air Force, retiring as a Lieutenant Colonel, married my mom in '51 She was really a Texas farm girl, had moved up in 1949 to work for a congressman in D.C They met, got married, and had five children. I'm the oldest of the five We have five, 11 years apart

My sister, Nancy, who is here with us today, is the second. She is a schoolteacher in Amherst I think you got the rundown. My second sister, Eileen, has been a long time federal employee and now a government contractor My brother, Ken, is a physician, retired Air Force Colonel And then my younger sister, Maureen, who testified the other day, she is my younger sister and has been a career businesswoman. We grew up in a real average middle class house in Fairfax County, in the Mount Vernon area In fact, my mom worked at Mount Vernon about 18 years before she died. She was a translator, tour guide there My dad was, after he retired from the Air Force, did another 18 years with the Naval Investigative Service before he retired with about 40 years of service The whole idea of serving in the the public, whether it was the military or the federal government, or my mother with Congress, was something that got ingrained in me as a kid when I was growing up

Q In a nutshell, were there any life lessons or maxims or anything you learned from your parents?

A I got the belt from my dad and kind of a velvet glove from my mom. That was the combination. I think that's kind of made me who I [illegible] today, that combination My dad taught me discipline, hard work, the value of education, no excuses, get things done, get results And my mom taught me, you know, everybody is created in the image and likeness of God, everybody deserves a fair shot, treat people well, follow the Golden Rule, and that's the way she lived her life She was a remarkable woman and died much too early in 1994 But that's the parents that I had I am just incredibly fortunate that I had that kind of upbringing

Q Going back to Notre Dame, when did you graduate?

A 1976

Q With what sort of a degree?

A Bachelor's in Business Administration.

Q And what did you do after college?

A Well, went in the Army I had that Army ROTC scholarship I had a six-year commitment, four years Active and two years Reserves in the Army I requested to go to Germany because that's where my dad was stationed when I was a kid from 1959 to 1962, and my wife and I had just gotten married, and right after I graduated, in 1976 And we did a three-month basic training course down in Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and then I ended up in Germany for three years So I spent three months there by myself before we found housing and my wife came over after that

Q All right. What did you do after Germany?

A After the three years there, I had another trip to Fort Sam Houston, Texas to get an advanced course in medical logistics management, and then I spent the last year at Fort Eustis, Virginia, just down the road here, Newport News, Virginia, and I was the medical supply officer at McDonald Army Hospital on the post at Fort Eustis Then I got out in April of 1981, but I still had a couple years left in the Reserves

Q Okay When did you ultimately retire from the military?

A I went back in the Active Reserves in 1985 when I was in law school, and ended up retiring in 1997 as a Lieutenant Colonel with 21 total years, some good towards retirement and some not, but 21 total years' Active and Inactive Reserve

Q In a nutshell, were there any things you learned from your service in the Army that you carried over with you into the political positions that you have held during the years?

A Yes Some of the same ones my dad had taught me Focusing on the mission; don't put the hill behind you in front of the one in front of you, take on the objective in front of you; use of the chain of command. That's an important tenet in the military But these basic principles that the Army officers are trained to learn. Patriotism, it was love of country, it was just taking care of your duties above all else

Q Okay Did you pursue any further education after Notre Dame?

A I did. When I was in Germany for those three years, I was very fortunate, Boston University had an overseas program in the two places I was I was in Grafenberg, Germany for two years, and up in northern Germany, Bremerhaven, Bremen, so I pursued a Master's in Business Administration, which I received in 1980 upon leaving Germany I worked and went to night school and my wife worked on base for the government And then in 1985, of course, I went back to law school

Q Okay And after active duty, did you have any employment before you started law school?

A I did.

Q What was that?

A I really liked the medical field, because my branch in the military, I was a Medical Service Corps officer I was in the 2nd Armored Division I ran a MASH unit essentially for a couple years, and then a troop medical clinic when we weren't in the field. So I really liked that area, especially medical logistics management So I got a job for the American Hospital Supply You heard Mr Damico talk, he was with them at the time and he gave me some referrals and I was fortunate to be employed and started my career with them in May of 1981 down in Atlanta, Georgia.

Q Did you stay in Atlanta, Georgia with them or move to other cities?

A No, at that time, people were getting moved around quite frequently, if you were successful in your position. So I spent about ten or eleven months there We'd just had our first child, Jeanine, at that time, and then moved to Chicago to the corporate offices for a year And then I was asked to take a position, the American Custom Products Manager in 1982 in Kansas City, Overland Park Kansas, so we moved out there and had some responsibilities for some operations in Kansas City and St Louis and Minneapolis at the time, so we were there for three years

Q At that point in time, did you have one child or more?

A We had our second child while we were there, born in Kansas City, Missouri Cailin was born in 1984 out there

Q After that, what did you do in terms of where you were living? Where did you move?

A You know, we had kind of a watershed year in 1985 I had the GI Bill benefits I was in the Vietnam-era GI Bill benefit group. So those benefits, education benefits, expired in 1989 And so my wife and I had to make a decision about, you know, we had two children, I was 31 years old, and if I was going to pursue any advanced education at that point and use those benefits, this would be the time to do it So we wanted to get back to Virginia. Both of our families were living in Northern Virginia And we had been gone now nine years, and felt it was time to get back to our beloved home state here So we chose to leave American Hospital Supply at the time and I came back to Virginia Beach and entered a graduate program in public policy and communications at CBN University at the time, but now Regent University, in Virginia Beach. And after a year, I decided to join the law school program, which had just started at the time I was there for four years with both a law and a public policy degree that I earned in 1989

Q How did you afford law school?

A That was a tough time I went back in the Active Army Reserves, which meant about 52 days a year full-time military duty But that was good compensation. I worked a part-time job about 20 hours a week with the Virginian-Pilot, a newspaper I was the Crewe sales manager And then my wife and I worked a toy franchise that we had gotten involved with, we worked that together, and sold toys My wife also did some waitressing at the time, and I was also fortunate to have the GI Bill pay for the tuition. But we had all these other expenses with housing and children that we had to earn money to do, so it was a tough time We worked very hard and my wife was incredibly supportive of what I was doing

Q Did you get much sleep?

A We called that "The Years Without Sleep " Because between the 52 days or so a year of being in the Reserves, and working the three jobs and going to school, it was a lot of time But, you know, that's sort of what my dad taught me, is you work hard, you give everything 110 percent, and that's what we tried to do during those four years in law school

Q Did you get any outside financial assistance from family at that point?

A I did I also had a part-time scholarship called the Dooner Scholarship while I was at Regent University But you know, even with all of that, there were times that were tough. And a couple times my mom would send $100 or $200 My sister, Maureen, who was here, would send $100 But at that point, that was important And they would always -- I don't think we really asked for it, they just knew that we were really struggling at the time with working as hard as we could, but they were kind enough to help us from time to time, and I was very grateful for that But we made it through.

Q All right When did you graduate from law school?

A 1989 I graduated with an M.A. in Public Policy and a J.D in Law

Q And what did you do after you graduated?

A My goal was to be a prosecutor I had done a third-year practice internship in the Chesapeake Commonwealth's Attorney's Office That's the prosecutor's office down in Chesapeake And I really, really liked it I really enjoyed working with the Commonwealth's Attorney down there I liked being in court I liked being on the prosecutor's side of the table And so I interviewed for positions in Portsmouth and Virginia Beach, and got offers from both those Commonwealth's Attorneys, and started as a prosecutor out of law school in 1990 for Bob Humphreys

Q Did Maureen support that ambition, to be a prosecutor, or did she want you to do something else after you graduated from law school?

A No, Maureen was very supportive of that idea because she knew my heart was in public service That had been her background, too. Her dad is a World War II vet and her mom worked at the State Department Maureen was at the State Department when I first met her So she had come from a family of public servants as well And she knew when I got out that I was going to likely go back into public service, I think. She was a little surprised, maybe disappointed, that we had looked at the salary that

I was making as a prosecutor and it was considerably less than what I had made four years before when I left business to go back to law school So we had some challenges We had our third daughter during law school, so we had three girls at the time And so it was tough, but this was -- this is what I felt I was equipped to do, it is what I wanted to do as a prosecutor, so Maureen was supportive of that idea.

Q Did you leave the prosecutor's office to run for public office at some point?

A I actually ran while I was in office In 1991, early in 1991. I decided that I was going to run for the Virginia House of Delegates to represent the 84th District in Virginia Beach. And I had done an internship while I was in graduate school at Regent up on Capitol Hill, worked for Congressman Lewis in California And I just really enjoyed that as well, the formation of public policy I really like that So after two years, after just a year of prosecuting, really, I thought I would really like to get into the fray of being a policymaker And there was a group of us that were all sort of young lawyers, police officers, that decided to run for seats in the House of Delegates back in 1991

Q All right And obviously you won that election?

A Yes

Q How many terms did you serve in the General Assembly?

A I served seven terms, which is 14 years The House of Delegates is two-year terms

Q Did you continue working in the legal field while you were in the General Assembly?

A Yes, I did. At that time, you could not be in the General Assembly and work as a prosecutor because you would be in two different branches of government That was the law at the time It has changed since then So I had to leave being a prosecutor back in 1991 and I was fortunate to get an offer from the law firm of Huff, Poole & Mahoney in Virginia Beach. So in 1992 when I came back from my first legislative session, I started that job.

Q When you are in the legislature, how many days a year would you be in Richmond in the legislature?

A It depends on the year and it depends on your seniority Early on, for a freshman legislator like I was, I didn't have a lot of additional duties Maybe three committee assignments But I had, the way the legislature works is the odd-numbered years it is 45-day sessions, and in the even-numbered years, because other years we craft the original budget, those are 60-day sessions So it is 45 or 60 days, typically back on the weekends, not every weekend, but most weekends, some of those weekends I had to be in the law firm. But it is essentially two months, and then depending on your other responsibilities, you get called back for committee meetings or other legislative functions during the course of the year, special sessions and so forth.

Q So if you are 14 years in the legislature, that would take you in that position up to about 2006; is that right?

A 2005 Yes The 2006 session, that's right

Q The 2006 session. While you were in the legislature for 14 years, were there any particular initiatives that were significant for you or things that you got enacted or worked on hard?

A Well, there were a number The first couple years they were all almost criminal justice That's the area I knew, the area I was motivated about Victims rights, reforms in the drug sentencing laws, the DUI laws, and so forth. Then over the years, I did a number of things in some other areas, tax reform, transportation, carried a number of seminal reforms for Governor Allen that I worked on: parole abolition, welfare reform, juvenile justice reform, some of those kinds of things; and then later on, spent a lot of time on things like child support enforcement and civil justice reform. In 2002 I became Chairman of the Courts of Justice Committee in the House of Delegates, which is a committee that handles about 20 percent of the legislation, and most of it dealing with civil and criminal justice reform measures So I went back those three years to focusing a lot on those kinds of things

Q Okay At some point, you tell me when, or let me ask you first, did you meet anybody during that time frame, up to 2005-2006, that you later hired for your campaign for Attorney General or for Governor? Any other folks, staff people that you met at that time that carried over with you? Any folks --

A Several Janet Kelly actually worked on my 1999 reelection campaign for the House of Delegates I think everybody has met her She went on to become my Campaign Manager for Attorney General Tucker Martin was my Communications Director at the Attorney General's Office, went on to become my Communications Director for the campaign. Phil Cox, who had been with me since 1999, worked through my Attorney General's race and became my Campaign Manager for Governor And several other people during that time as well But those became really the principal leaders of my campaign for Governor Some of those people I met during those years

Q Okay And when did you decide to run for Attorney General?

A 2002 The way the cycles run in Virginia, you have to decide early, because it is a huge state And there is often competition for the nomination. The nominating contest is June, in the election year, so June of 2005 would have been a nominating contest So I knew that there would likely be competition for the nomination, so I talked to my wife about the run, my kids, and I said, "If I'm going to do this I have to start now and I have to give it 100 percent " So I think I went to my first event in February of 2002, Prince William County Republican meeting That was the first thing I think I did. It was three-and-a-half years out from the nomination.

Q Okay Tell us just a little bit about the campaign for Attorney General What was that like?

A It was a real eye opener I had represented a district in Virginia Beach, the 84th District, that was one of nine districts in Virginia Beach, so that the district was a half-an-hour drive apart from one end to the other But living in Virginia Beach and running for Attorney General was a completely different thing Because for Virginia Beach to the tip of Virginia, the Cumberland Gap, is 11 hours It is 575 miles I drove it one night coming back to make sure I could see my boys before they went to Boy Scout camp, so I know how big it is You are away from home an awful lot, especially those last couple years before an election.

Statewide campaigns are incredibly taxing on families personally, financially, emotionally, because it all comes down to 13 hours on Election Day So I learned a lot I made an enormous number of new friends, spent a lot of time asking people to support me, to raise money But it was something that I knew, I had counted the cost early and knew and told my wife, and she knew that to run this kind of campaign was going to take this immense sacrifice

Q Was everybody up for that in your family?

A Yes Absolutely I told them the best that I could at the beginning what I thought was involved, just from talking to previous Attorneys General, Mark Earley and others who I had talked to "Tell me honestly, what is this like? I have to talk to my family and let them know what this is like " So I had a sense But I have to say, until you actually start doing it, and you get on the road and you are staying in a different hotel every night for a week, and you are going to six, seven, eight events a day, and have to be on all the time, it is different doing it than it is just thinking and talking about doing it

So the answer is yes, they were incredibly supportive, all my children, my wife But we started to understand a little bit better, I think, about the cost once we got into it

Q Cost in what sense?

A The time The time commitment to run. I was at that time still a partner in a law firm, and I had obligations to bill hours and bring in business and also to try to run as much time as I could for Attorney General It was tough. So it certainly puts a strain on the marriage It is soccer games you miss, it is a lot of other things that I would have liked to have done had I had a nine-to-five job. But this was the calling I felt I had on my life, and it was something my family supported. But we all knew that there was going to be a collective cost in terms of emotions and time with husband, dad, and the other things that went along with it

Q Did you have to raise money for that AG campaign?

A Yes

Q How much did you raise?

A We raised $6 million. $2 million for the primary I did have a very tough and well-funded primary opponent that year who ran against me, Steve Baril, a lawyer here in Richmond, and he was a very worthy opponent, worked very hard, and he also raised $2 million for the primary So we had a pretty hotly contested primary I was fortunate to win fairly handily in June, but then you've got four-and-a-half months for the general election But we raised another $4 million for that And I had a finance team helping me, but I spent a lot of time talking to donors, calling people on the phone, going to individual meetings, you know Like other statewide candidates or federal candidates, you have to spend a lot of time fundraising, because in the state finance laws there's no federal contributions All the money spent on a campaign is privately donated or comes out of your own pocket So I had to raise the money I wasn't able to fund my own campaign.

Q Was that a new experience for you, that kind of money raising, or did you have that before when you were in the General Assembly?

A I had been raising money for seven terms, for 14 years, but nothing at a level like that I had a very competitive race in 1999 It was the first million-dollar race for the House of Delegates in history I ran against the Sheriff of Virginia Beach that year, and it was very competitive and very expensive, but I raised a little over $400,000 But that's not like raising $6 million for an Attorney General's race So it was a whole new level We had to have a couple full-time fundraising staff that worked with me, and they were able to do a lot of the coordination, set the events But I ultimately, on a lot of the major asks on the phone, I had to do that

Q Okay When you became Attorney General, what was that job like? What is the job of Attorney General like?

What do you do in that?

A It is a remarkable job You are the state's chief legal officer You run the state's law firm. And I had been a partner in a law firm in Virginia Beach, but it was fairly small We had about 30 lawyers and about 120 people But this is a law firm with 160 people, about 250 total employees But it was a remarkably great job, because it was small, it was manageable I had some bad habits of being a micromanager, as you have heard, and I could still do that a little bit as Attorney General But I could actually get to know all my people I could get a pretty good handle on most of the things that were going on in the office during that period of time

But the thing I really liked was not only was I a lawyer and being able to make, help make legal decisions and issue opinions and so forth, but I also got to interface constantly with the General Assembly That was my first love, was the policy front And the Attorney General gets to make policy recommendations to the legislature and ask legislators to carry legislation for them. And so I felt like I had just a great job being able to advance legislation and practice law at the same time

Q Did you ever get into court in that capacity or really were you managing --

A No, I didn't I got into court, but I was not the -- I didn't litigate myself That's one of my regrets I wish I had handled a few cases But we had 160 lawyers They were incredibly well-trained, competent lawyers So I would be involved with some of the decisions about what cases we were going to do or not do, and settlement strategy, and what the posture ought to be with various cases But I did not handle cases myself A couple times when we had major cases in front of the United States Supreme Court, I would attend those cases, but I did not actually argue those cases

Q How long were you Attorney General?

A Three years and a month-and-a-half

Q That would be 2006 to 2009; is that correct?

A Yes.

Q When did you resign as Attorney General?

A It was one of the hardest days of my life I resigned on February 20th of 2009 And the reason for that is, it had been a trend for almost 35, 40 years in Virginia that Attorneys General who chose to run for Governor would resign their office The reason being there is too much potential for conflict of interest, for advocating various policies as a candidate and still running the office And, you know, the taxpayers deserve a full-time Attorney General I thought I could do it

My advisors said that was not a good idea, and after some discussion, I reluctantly agreed.

But it turned out to be the right decision and best not only for me, but it was the right decision for the citizens to have a full-time Attorney General And my Deputy, Bill Mims, moved into the job

Q Okay So you resigned in February of 2009 to run for Governor, correct?

A Yes

Q Did you have any -- you had to obviously give up your state income at that point or your Attorney General's income?

A I did

Q What was your income at that point in time from the Attorney General's Office?

A The income is publicly known It is in the budget It is $150,000 as Attorney General of Virginia

Q Okay Were you able to supplement that when you gave up that income? Were you able to supplement it in whole or in part or exceed it?

A Yes

Q How did you do that?

A I was fortunate My old law firm, my partners down in Virginia Beach at Huff, Poole & Mahoney agreed to hire me back in essentially a part-time capacity And I don't remember the exact salary, I think it was maybe $120,000, $125,000, something like that that I was paid during that time, which was exceedingly generous to me because I was gone so much of the time campaigning It was very nice of them to do that And I got benefits, medical benefits for my family and so forth. Otherwise, there is no way I could have afforded to run without that And I also sold my equity shares, I believe at the time, in the law firm and received, I think, a cash, a one-time cash payment for that

Q Did you have to use any of your own money to run for Governor?

A Some, but -- some Not a lot Mostly it was from very generous people that donated to the campaign, $6 million

Q Moving on to the campaign for Governor, when did you really decide that that's what you were going to do?

A It was 2006, probably, middle of 2006, end of 2006 When I became Attorney General I moved to -- I had to move to Richmond. And I stayed in an apartment for six months while my wife and kids stayed down in Virginia Beach so my children could finish school Then they moved up in the summer So for the first six months, I essentially tried to get the office organized, tried to do the things I wanted to do, set the culture for the office to have them perform at top ability And then after we got settled in, probably in that fall, I felt I had to make a decision about whether I was going to make the run for Governor I knew the Lieutenant Governor was strongly considering it as well, and as I mentioned, like the run for Attorney General, if I was going to do this, again, it was going to have to be full attention to a campaign and have to start early, so I would expect that I would have competition, obviously, and I wanted to make sure I was 100 percent ready Because you only get really one chance at doing this, and if I am going to do it, I wanted to be prepared and do it right We started talking about that in September, and I think I decided shortly after that, after consulting my family, that I would run.

Q Attorney General, AG, has that often been described as an aspiring Governor?

A Yes That's what some call it, yes

Q Was that true for you, too?

A That's fair Certainly by fall I was an aspiring Governor Yes

Q And who in particular helped you with that campaign that has come here into court?

A I mentioned Phil Cox. Phil had been my top political advisor for a number of years I knew him, I trusted him, and I knew that with this battle, that you have to have people that are going to be 100 percent loyal and are incredibly smart and will work the long hours that it took. Phil was my top advisor So early on, I asked Phil to consider consulting and then eventually he became the Campaign Manager Janet Kelly became, who had been with me in the Attorney General's Office, also became the Office Manager, Operations Manager Tucker Martin became the Communications Director Jasen Eige came in to be Counsel for the campaign And that happened over a period of time We ratcheted up staff as the campaign became more intense, kept staff and expenses low early, but then certainly by 2009 we had geared up to a pretty full contingent of 30 to 35 staff people And many of the people from the Attorney General's Office came over and worked in the campaign.

Q And what sort of hours did you folks work during the campaign for Governor?

A You know, I guess you would say as long as you could go. There is always one more event you can do. There is always one more voter you can talk to. So it was a very high energy, very strong work ethic on the campaign. I give the credit to Phil Cox. He instilled that in people and was a very excellent Campaign Manager, focused on both tasks and people So I traveled a lot, obviously Many other people stayed back, but I had to be out of the office most of the time, going to events, campaigning, talking to voters, speaking at events, raising money That's what campaigns are all about

Q The time spent on the campaign, did that take away from your time with your family?

A Well, sure

Q More so than when you were running for Attorney General?

A Yes, because it still is a statewide campaign. You still have to hit every corner of the state on repeated occasions There's still far more events the people ask you to go to than you can possibly go to. But when you are at the top of the ticket, as I aspired to be, there is just that much more focus and attention on the campaign I was very focused on policy initiatives That's why I ran. I was interested in ideas and helping to advance certain things that I thought would make the state better

I had been doing this for about 18 years now, and I knew we had some challenges in certain areas, so we spent an enormous amount of time planning the policy announcements that we would make It wasn't that demanding for Attorney General because you don't have that many policy initiatives But as Governor, there was an expectation. But more so, I wanted to be able to outline a pretty comprehensive vision for the Commonwealth. And of course focused on the idea of job creation because people were hurting so badly at that time of the recession in '09, '08 and '09 We spent an immense amount of time, if I wasn't traveling or raising money or going to events, working with my top team or legislators who volunteered to talk about the ideas, what's going to make Virginia better over the next four years And we spent a very substantive amount of time on that

Q Is that where the slogan Bob's For Jobs came from?

A We talked very early that that was going to be the key focus of the campaign. But the more I traveled around the state, especially in places in the southern part of Virginia, Danville, Martinsville, Pittsylvania, Henry County, other places like that, rural parts of the state, there was an immense amount of suffering Unemployment rates in Martinsville were 21 percent It was chronic Tobacco, textiles, furniture had been mashed for a long time, 15 or so years And I really saw an immense amount of pain and hurt in people in Virginia.

I decided and we all agreed that we have to focus this campaign and my time as Governor, if I was going to be elected, on economic development and getting people back to work and creating better opportunities for the American Dream. All these things that I had been fortunate to participate in in my life I really wanted to do during those four years to expand those opportunities for other people So one of my advisors, I think, as a result of that, came up with the Bob's For Jobs idea to sort of encapsulate the message of the campaign.

Q Were there other issues besides the economic ones that you were concerned about in terms of your vision when you were running for Governor?

A Sure That drove it, I believed always the top priority of government, though, was public safety So we came up with a series of public safety announcements dealing with drunk driving and sexually violent predators and repeat drug dealers and prison reentry and restoration of rights. kind of a total approach to improving our criminal justice system. The transportation system, I believe, was falling apart in some of the key areas of the state, Hampton Roads and Northern Virginia, particularly It was impeding our ability to be competitive The pension system was running up against a wall and was only about 60 percent funded. I knew that that had to be fixed. We had significant multi-billion-dollar budget deficits over the three years before I became Governor, so we needed to turn that around and make some tough decisions about spending and budget management

So there were a variety of things that we talked about Chesapeake Bay clean-up. There was a pretty comprehensive list of things But everything we focused on really revolved around this idea of economic development and job creation.

Q Okay I take it during this campaign, like when you were Attorney General, you also had to raise money?

A Yes. Substantively more Our goal for the campaign was about $25 million. And we ended up raising about $24 million, and then other donations and groups, the total spending for that campaign was about $31 million of our own and I think outside groups together And so obviously, whether it was direct mail or individual meetings, phone calls, it was a tremendous amount of time that went into meeting with donors, meeting with groups to try to convince them that my ideas for Virginia were right. and then ask them to invest in the campaign. It is a huge part of what a candidate does during a campaign

Q What are the limits on donations in Virginia or gifts in Virginia?

A Virginia has no limits It is one of the handful of states that's like that There are no limits on donations They can be in-kind, they can be cash. They can be from corporations, from individuals, from PACS Virginia's campaign finance laws really are no limits, but campaign finance reports on a fairly regular basis And the same is true in some measure, you asked about gifts as well, is that the limits, there are no limits on gifts, either, in Virginia Those just have to be disclosed or loans or stock, but they just have, there are just reporting requirements for those So we were able to raise a fair amount of money because you could ask for a thousand dollars or $500,000 from a donor, whatever they felt they wanted to invest in your campaign.

Q Okay

THE COURT: All right Mr Asbill

MR ASBILL: Thank you, Your Honor

BY MR ASBILL:

Q I think where we left off, we were talking about campaign for Governor and the topic of campaign finance reports Were those things that you had to personally review when you were running for Governor?

A The law gives the option of the candidate signing or a treasurer or, I believe, maybe one other person But more often than not, I did not review those The treasurer reviewed and signed those for me

Q Okay Let me move on to the sort of topic of donors when you were running for Governor and while you were Governor Generally speaking, what's your -- what's your relationship with donors or how does that work in your job, your former job?

A Well, raising money is one of the key things that have to be done to win a statewide office And so meeting with donors, convincing them to invest in your campaign because you've got the right ideas is a huge part of every campaign So meeting with them, maintaining relationships -- donor maintenance, we call it -- finding new donors to support you as you go through the campaign are all critical parts of -- of the function

And over the years, many of those donors have gotten to be friends Many of them have gotten to know my family, my kids In fact, especially after Governor, in those four years up here, many of those folks became part of our circle of friends But donors are obviously just a key part of a campaign

Q All right You heard Janet Kelly testify?

A Yes

Q And did you, in fact, tell her, basically, any motto of yours or any rule of thumb for dealing with donors?

A I did That's something we learned and adopted early in the legislature, and that is if you can't take somebody's money and be willing to vote against their interests the next day, you don't belong in the business

And that was a shorthand way of saying that the ultimate test is really in somebody's mind and heart and conscience And that is if you -- you have to take significant amounts of money to run a statewide campaign, Republican or Democrat But you've got to be able to separate the receipt of a contribution from what you believe is the right thing to do on a particular policy issue

There are multiple meetings that I know that I had with donors It might last a half an hour, an hour And within that same meeting, they'll want to talk about policy issues, something important to their business, and then I know in that meeting, I'm going to make an ask for money And so you've got to know where those lines are And I had some meetings, I know, where if I felt the line was being crossed or somebody was asking me for something that was so specific, I just would not make an ask in that meeting I'd call back later because it would make me uncomfortable

Q What sort of things would donors ask you for, typically?

A My -- my rule of thumb is every contributor wants something The reason they donate is they expect something And for many of them, it's just they expect good government They expect clean government They expect -- they want to invest in me or Tim Kaine or Mark Warner because they like them personally or want to see them advance

Others invest simply because they are Republican or Democrat and they want to invest in their team Some -- maybe a little more particular is that they may be in a particular industry that they know that you have the right views on, generally, and that if you're elected Governor or Lieutenant Governor, that you're going to advocate those interests

Others might have more particular requests; that they know that there's legislation that might be considered during your term for or against a particular item that's important to them personally or important to their business And so they want a chance, while they've got half an hour or hour before they make a contribution decision, to decide where you stand on a particular issue

So the mixing of requests for money and discussion of issues is something that every elected official has to -- has to grapple with And I certainly learned early on, but particularly when I was raising copious amounts of money for Governor, $25 million, that I just had a -- I just had to know that if there were discussions about policy or business or permits or anything particular with a -- with a donor, that I had to separate that during the course of the discussion from a particular ask or it would make me uncomfortable And I think that's, frankly, been the general rule of thumb of most people I know in Virginia

Q Okay While you were running for AG or as AG and while you were running for Governor and as Governor, do you have an estimate of the total amount of money that you raised from donors?

A I think in the last -- in the last eight years, I've raised about $58 million: 6 million running for Attorney General, 8 million for our PAC, 20 million with the Republican Governors Association during the time I was Chairman or Vice Chairman, and 24 running for Governor I've asked people for a thousand dollars I've asked people for a million dollars when I was head of the Republican Governors Association

Q Okay With respect to the concept of donors or non-donors, did people, when you were AG or when you were Governor, give you gifts?

A Yes

Q And what was the rule of thumb with them?

A Well, with gifts --

Q Was that any different? I mean, were they distinguishable? Some people were both donors and gift givers or some people were just gift givers?

A Many of them were both, yes

Q Okay

A But, again, there's not a limit in Virginia, just disclosure

But I tried to apply the same rule of thumb Most of the donations for gifts were relatively small compared to the amount of money people would donate for a political campaign, which was significantly -- significantly greater But the -- I think the rules of thumb still applied, the same ones

Q In terms of asking for money, how many asks, essentially, have you made in your political career for money?

A Thousands

Q Now, with respect to donors or contributors or gift givers, have you ever vacationed with them or had dinner with them or relaxed and went to a game or things of that nature with them?

A Yes Several of them Many of them

Q Did folks who were donors or gift givers, after you became Governor, did they lobby you, try to lobby you hard for various things that they may want?

A Sure And members of my staff and Cabinet

Q All right And were there times when you said no?

A Sure

Q Was that frequent or infrequent?

A It depended on the issue I -- many of the decisions -- when we had people coming into the office, for instance, to meet on a particular issue, more often than not, it wouldn't just be me by myself It would be me and at least one or two other staffers or more to listen to them

I mean, I think providing access to government, it's really a fundamental duty of a Governor And I don't care if they are Republican, Democrat, black, white, rich, poor, donor, non-donor I mean, having access to government is a fundamental responsibility of an elected official And they should be able to make their pitch on their idea or ask for their help I mean, that's what government exists to do, in large measure, serve constituents

But most of those I'd have groups there to help me make a decision But so many of these meetings that took place with people that were donors took place without me It was Cabinet It was senior staff And they would make countless decisions without me Particularly when it came to legislation Lobbyists would regularly come from every major interest group, for profit, nonprofit, others that would come into the State Capitol and meet with people in my administration and make an ask for or against a bill or for an amendment and so forth And I met with some of those, but many of those people met with my staff

Q Okay Are there folks who have given you gifts or given you contributions or campaign contributions that were friends of yours that you've had to say no to when they wanted something?

A Absolutely

Q And can you give me some examples of that?

A Sure You know, one of the chief things that many people that are donors or gift givers that they ask for is Board appointments Secretary Kelly was here the other day and testified that we have about a thousand appointments that I get to make a year That's 4,000 during the life of a Governor There are many of them that are viewed as rather prestigious and that are very important Boards to universities, boards to the Port Authority or Transportation Authority, things that are very high profile

And Will Sessoms was in here the other day, for instance He expressed an interest to be on the ODU Board of Visitors He's a banker He's a donor He's a gift giver And I told him I didn't think it was proper for a mayor to be on that Board So we told him no

I have another donor from Virginia Beach, Bruce Thompson Wanted to be on the UVA Board, wanted me not to support a bill to change the rule against pre-Labor Day school opening.

Q Why would that be? What's the --

A Well, because people in the hotel industry were -- wanted to keep the school opening after Labor Day because they felt it was better for their business

I felt it was better for kids if we give flexibility to school divisions to be able to open when they wanted without having to get a waiver from the State And so I championed a bill the last two years to have -- have that law killed, and they were very much against it, as were many other donors Not just Mr Thompson Many donors were against that But I thought that was the right thing to do

There have been companies, MeadWestvaco, Dominion, others, that are big Richmond companies that have asked for amendments or changes to bills And I felt that those were not right, and I haven't done that

So, I mean, there's many examples And that -- that happens -- that's a regular part of the legislative process is people, whether they are donors or non-donors, have an opportunity to ask state government to do something or not do something And then ultimately, me, my staff, my Cabinet has to make a fundamental decision on what we think is right, and particularly whether it fits the whole objective of creating better opportunities and jobs in Virginia

Q   How about Bill Goodwin?

A   Yeah Mr Goodwin, the only thing -- he's been both a significant donor and also has given gifts He asked me to -- the only thing he ever asked me to do was wrote me a letter and asked me to put his son-in-law back on the Board of the University of Virginia And I knew his son-in-law asked to be reappointed, but I did not think that he would support the higher education reforms that I championed back in 2011 and '12 And so we declined to reappoint his son-in-law And so -- there are, again, many of those kinds of things And, you know, at the end of the day, I think people understand

And sometimes I deliver the message A lot of times people on my staff deliver the message, but we try to get back to everybody, whether it's a yes or a no, and tell what the decision was and, generally, why

Q When you say "we," are you delegating these decisions to someone else and then walking away from it or are you ultimately making the decision when you say no?

A No Many of those I make the decision I mean, virtually every Board appointment, Secretary Kelly and her staff would bring me the recommendations But the buck stopped with me I made the decision, with a lot of input from her and others on my staff Generally, the Chief of Staff would help and make his recommendations as well, but I made the decision I'd stand by that decision But just because in the interest of time, Secretary Kelly and her staff would more often than not, call the person

If you have four appointments to the University of Virginia -- in my first year, there were 102 people that wanted to be on the University Board at UVA, and I could only appoint four So they had to make over a hundred calls and tell people, "You're not getting an appointment " And many of those were donors Some were gift givers But we tried, during that process, to be -- to not look at that, not consider that

That's one reason that during the time I was Governor, I didn't sign and review my PAC report My staff actually did that Jane Wortham was my Treasurer and my maintenance person for that She did that

I was aware of the large gift givers because I would write personal thank you notes to the ones that donated significant moneys But for the most part, we tried to make the decisions based just on what we thought was the right thing to do

Q Now, can donors donate during the General Assembly session, you know, if there's legislation and budget pending?

A They used to be able to do that When I first got elected in 1991 to the General Assembly, I think until mid or late '90s, you used to be able to actually donate to a candidate -- or to a legislator right during the middle of the General Assembly session There are 45 days when they're voting, and we -- many of us decided that was -- that it just -- there was an appearance of impropriety in doing that And so we changed the law I know I supported -- I can't remember what year, but in the late '90s, to change that.

So right now, you can no longer donate, either solicit or receive any moneys while the General Assembly is in session That applies to the Governor It applies to -- to the legislator You can still receive gifts, however, during the General Assembly session

So, for instance, legislators, others, go out to dinner with donors during the course of the session, and those are reported on that Statement of Economic Interest But you no longer can donate to a campaign or a candidate

Now, it's not to say the night before the General Assembly starts is when the largest fundraisers of the session seem to be here in Richmond But during the session itself, there are no donations, for the last 10, 15 years

Q But with respect to gifts you can give gifts in an unlimited amount?

A Yes

Q While it's in session --

A Yes That's still the law

Q -- is that correct?

A Yes

Q That's still in the law in Virginia?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, the day you were elected Governor was November 3rd, 2009 --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

And you were actually inaugurated in January, on January 16th --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

And coming into office, what was that like for you?

A It was -- I mean, it was exhilarating I've been in public service now for 38 years, since I was a lieutenant in the Army, and to have the same job as Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry was -- I mean, it was just unbelievable I can't describe the feeling of being inaugurated and having friends and family from around the country and having a big celebration at the State Capitol and having a parade with a VMI band and knowing that for the next four years I had this immense privilege to govern, to advocate ideas, to help people, to serve people, to be able to meet leaders from around the world, Heads of State

It was -- it was just a remarkable, remarkable day for me And in particular, with my dad and my wife's dad were both ill at the time, and both were able to attend and -- but they both died that first year after I got inaugurated But they both got to come on that day because it was 61 degrees outside in January So it was just a day I will never forget, and I know my family will never forget either

Q Aside from the exhilaration, talk to us about how busy you were, or not, when you became Governor

A Well, the duties of the Chief Executive of any state in the Union are significant And you can -- I think you can do as much or as little as you want I've always had a pretty strong work ethic, something my dad taught me And it was -- you know, from day one, I mentioned the transition We made an announcement of the transition team on November 4th and basically had two and a half months to build a government I had to hire a Cabinet, hire senior staff I had to get all the legislation ready for the General Assembly session

The way Virginia works is when you come into office, the General Assembly has already been in session for three days So you've got to be ready The budget is already introduced by the outgoing Governor, and you've got to get up to speed on that because the budget bill is the biggest bill in Virginia

So there's a significant amount of work that has to be done right at that time coming into office and hitting the ground running for that 60 days for the General Assembly So fortunately, I had remarkable, dedicated staff You heard the phrase I told everybody, "Go hire the best and the brightest." Several of the key people that you've met here, Secretary Cheng, Secretary Hazel, Secretary Haymore, these are people I didn't know really at all before I knew who they are, but I didn't really know them like I knew Secretary Kelly and Martin Kent

But I wanted the very best people that would adhere to a core philosophy of government, who would work tirelessly for the citizens, who would be self-starters, who would be independent, who would be able to take a vision and go run with it And, you know, that's the kind of people I was really fortunate to have working So I was -- I didn't -- I just had to wind it up and kind of let them go, and they did a great job

Q With respect to the kind of folks that you wanted to hire, were you looking for people who are yes, men; yes, women?

A No

Q Folks have come in here that testified Are there any that are classic examples of independent thinkers?

A I'd say that everyone you heard testify is pretty independent But I know they had fidelity to the objectives of our campaign and our mission; that is, job creation, the economic development, servant leadership, fixing problems, working tirelessly I knew they had loyalty to that

But beyond that, there's no way -- there's 110,000 state employees It's a $96 billion budget There's 132 state agencies There's no way that a Governor of any party can micromanage, that can get things done without remarkably talented, independent people who are going to get those things done In fact, I think that's true with every Governor that's served in my lifetime That's the kind of people they hire

Q Earlier on in your career, were you a micromanager? Did you try to be?

A Tried very hard to be Yes

Q And was that more difficult when you became Attorney General?

A More so I still tried

Q And when you became Governor?

A It was impossible I had 12 Cabinet members that really were the chief people, along with Martin Kent, the Chief of Staff Those were the people that I counted on to get the mission done

The first thing I asked them to do is come up with a strategic plan You know what the goals are generally You figure out, in writing, now, how are you going to get this done You got four years to do it, 1500 days, whatever that comes out to How are you going to implement these things and get this accomplished in the next four years And then tell me what the resources you need to do it And then let's work together these first six months, implement that strategic plan And then I counted on them to do it

Q You say "four years " I mean, was -- people have testified about some sort of a sense of urgency?

A Yes

Q That's because you can only run for one term or be a Governor for one term?

A Yeah Virginia is very unique It's the only state in the Union where you can only serve one four-year term All others are multiple terms or two four-year terms or no terms limits But Virginia has no -- no succession Has been like that for 160 years

So you do have, on the one hand, a sense of urgency, but you also have political freedom to try to do the right thing because you're not running for re-election So it's got its pluses and minuses But I would constantly remind our staff that, you know, the clock is ticking We've got to get things done

Q All right With respect to that, I know you had to get things done, but was there some overriding -- aside from the Bob's For Jobs issue, was there any overriding philosophy that you had that you tried to instill in the folks that you hired when you came in?

A There was And I tried to hire people that I knew would really embrace that --

Q And what was that?

A -- in their heart And it was this concept of servant leadership, which is just something that grew out of my own faith tradition, which is to be able to serve other people that -- because it is -- after all, this is about public service, which means putting other people's needs and desires and concerns above your own and that in serving other people the best that you could, in return, they would achieve and reach their highest and best potential

And that's the way I try to act towards my staff, and that's the way I asked them to act towards their constituents and towards the people that worked for them

Q Okay

A And it turned out to be pretty effective I actually bought them a little sign that says, "Serve like a champion today," after my Notre Dame alma mater, just to remind them of that day, just a little thing so they would keep that in mind as they worked through the term

Q Okay I believe you testified a little bit about traveling around the state as you were campaigning --

A Yes

Q -- and talking about Martinsville and some of the economic suffering that you saw?

Were those the only regions that had problems or were there other regions as well in the state that had economic issues?

A You know, I think everybody knows, in 2008, '9 or so, there was immense pain and job loss throughout the entire country The President had very tough work to do My predecessor, Governor Kaine, had a lot of heartache he had to face with budget deficits and unemployment going up

But I embraced that as really the chief challenge that I had to try to do everything possible to make Virginia more competitive and more job friendly and more business friendly so that the private sector would grow, as opposed to creating more government spending and more government jobs

And so Martinsville, Danville, I mentioned that southern part, for 15 years, it had unique challenges because of --

Q We've talked --

A -- declining tobacco and, yeah, textiles, furniture

But even in Northern Virginia, the most affluent place in the state and one of the most affluent in the nation, because of declines in some of the tech sector and government contracting, even they had depreciation -- declines of 20, 25 percent in property values They had layoffs and so forth

So it was a statewide problem It's just the big unemployment rates and, thus, the bulk of the suffering was in the more rural areas and the inner cities in Virginia

Q With respect to trying to implement this Bob's For Jobs idea --

A Yes

Q -- and to deal with these economic problems, did you take any specific actions when you became Governor to try to implement a plan or a vision for dealing with those issues?

A Yes It was -- the first thing I did when I became Governor In fact, five minutes after the inauguration was over, I actually signed two Executive Orders on the platform out on the dais in Capitol Square

And it was -- Executive Order 1 was the commission on job creation and economic development And I named, I think, Secretary Cheng and Lieutenant Governor Bolling to head that up, and named about 50, 60 businesspeople and education leaders and others to get together and say, "Tell me" -- "what are the things that state government can do" -- there's a limit to what we can do, but, "Tell me, what can we do in order to incentivize the private sector to grow and strengthen and create more jobs " So that's what they did They gave me some immediate ideas

The second Executive Order was one on government reform Finding ways to basically make government work better and more efficiently

But the other thing I did besides that was to put a significant amount of money in the first year operating budget to amend Governor Kaine's budget We asked for about $75 million that first session in new programs for job creation, for international trade offices, to expand the Governor's Opportunity Fund, to have more money going to the Main Street Program, to improve the Office of Minority Business Development, and many other things that I thought would be an immediate impact on our economy

Q Okay And in connection with that, did you personally try to promote Virginia business?

A Oh, absolutely

Q We saw, during the -- it's so long ago It's hard for me to remember it's so long ago We saw in the opening statements in this case by the lawyers two videos relating -- first relating to Hardywood Brewery?

A Yes

Q Do you remember that video?

MR ASBILL: Judge, they've seen it Can I move that into evidence at this point? The Hardywood Brewery video that was displayed during the opening statement

THE COURT: All right You want to move it in?

MR ASBILL: Yes I'd like to move it in I think the jury has already seen it

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR ASBILL: Thank you

THE COURT: What's the number?

MR ASBILL: RM-161

THE COURT: Okay

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And with respect to the concept at Hardywood of promoting business, what did you do at that brewery? Basically, what were you there for?

A Well, that was actually a bill signing You saw the other legislators that were there But there was a bill that -- I think Senator McWaters' patron -- that would make it easier for craft breweries in Virginia to be able to grow and expand The craft brewery industry, the wine industry, some of those things were already core strengths of Virginia we targeted as potential growth areas And so this bill just helped them with that And no better place to do a bill signing than at the location of one of these breweries So -- it's just right downtown here in Richmond

And it just -- when I'm out there with legislators doing a public press conference on-site, it just calls more attention to the issue that, you know, all things considered, I'd rather have people buy Virginia wine or

Virginia beer or Virginia peanuts than something from California, Oregon or Massachusetts And so we promoted Virginia products all over the world

Q How does that event, the Hardywood Brewery event that we've seen, compare or contrast with a Mansion event?

A It just depends on how they're set up The benefit to having something outside is you have an open press conference You have coverage that that business would be able to get from the presence of the Governor and legislators there You've got -- for that specific business, you've obviously got some goodwill built up You call more public attention to the cause that is embodied in the piece of legislation And so I think those are positive If you have a Mansion event, normally, those are without press, and they are generally private, by invitation only

So in terms of the impact overall for the industry or the company, I'd say an event at a location would be probably more beneficial

Q Okay Besides press events, what other vehicles did you use to promote job development?

A Well, there are many of them Obviously, the significant investments in the budget to allow many programs to improve in state government was -- was a huge thing that we did out of the blocks We started a long-term process of revising state regulations There were 24,000 pages of regulations We wanted to reduce regulatory burden on businesses so that they could expand a little bit better We opened up nine agricultural offices around the world We opened up Virginia businesses offices in Shanghai and Mumbai And I personally visited India and China to open those up

We significantly expanded the Governor's Opportunity Fund, which is the actual -- what we call the Deal Closing Fund That's how you get businesses to either expand in Virginia or move to Virginia

But there are other things There's photo opportunities that you could do either on-site or at the Governor's conference room There's -- there's just many things that can be done to help promote business And having a secretary go out and do things on-site was also one of the things that we would do

Q With respect to the Governor's Opportunity Fund, Deal Closing Fund, how much money was in that fund?

A I think when I became Governor, it was only -- maybe about 14, 13, $14 million I made a campaign pledge to double it We came close to that The General Assembly cut it back a little bit But that was the primary discretionary fund that I had, and I had pretty much full control over, based on recommendations from the Economic Development Partnership where I could make a decision to basically give meaningful money to a Virginia business that wanted to expand or to a company coming to Virginia

For instance, one of the first things I did is -- Governor Kaine had done a great job marketing Northrop Grumman, a California company, to come to Virginia And within a couple months, I finalized an agreement that gave them I think a total of about $16 million I called the President a couple times, and they agreed, just a couple months after I became Governor, to move their whole corporate headquarters from California to -- to Virginia So that was just one of the things It was one of the bigger ones, because we had to put so much money on the table, combined with local government money, in order to make that happen But that's -- that's the way the markets are right now Almost every state has something like this, and to be competitive, you have to do that

Q All right Would you give grants out of that fund to donors, non-donors?

A I mean, it was -- it was -- it was blind in that respect The recommendations came from the Economic Development Partnership, which was specifically put in the code to be independent of the Governor

I appointed most of those members, but they were on their own in making the decisions so that they wouldn't be influenced by fiscal or political or geographical constraints and what they thought was best And so most of the times, I would follow their recommendations But if I had something that I really wanted to do, I could ask them to go work it up And it might have been a couple times we did things like that But most of the time, they did an assessment of what the payback period was, the number of jobs, the fiscal tax revenues for the state, and that's how we made the awards

Q Okay And you've talked about this process and how it works, but at the end of the day, did you have total discretion --

A Yes

Q -- over that fund?

A Yes

Q Now, there's another video that we saw during opening statements I think an ICF video; is that correct?

A Yes

Q All right And we've seen it

MR ASBILL: And I'd ask the Court for permission to move that into evidence as well That's RM-162

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Can you tell us just a little bit about that?

A Sure

Q We don't want to see the four-minute video again, but just tell us a little bit about that, briefly?

A Yeah One of the programs that we decided to come up with, and it was my staff that really had this, I think, very positive idea, and that is to help people down in the tobacco region and the southern part of the state, or basically the rural areas, generally, is we wanted people from the prosperous areas of the state, particularly Northern Virginia, when they expanded their business, to expand in rural Virginia

Governor Kaine had kind of started that model with a couple projects that he recruited down to Southwest Virginia So Secretary Cheng and his team talked to a number of Northern Virginia businesses and tried to ask them to do the same thing And Mr Kesavan, Sudhakar Kesavan, the president of ICF, agreed that he would open up a new operation in southern Virginia, I think in the Martinsville area, because of the pressing unemployment rate And so that was a big victory It was one of our first major successes in convincing a Northern Virginia expansion in southern Virginia That's why I was glad to go down with the Lieutenant Governor and to celebrate the opening of that facility down in southern Virginia

Q Okay The Governor's Opportunity Fund and the

Virginia Economic Development Fund or grant, are those distinct or one in the same or what?

A No The Economic Development Partnership is an entity, an agency, who has a variety of functions, but among those is to recommend expenditures out of the Governor's Opportunity Fund to me, and then I make the decision on the final allocations

Q Okay Out of this fund, did you ever give any grants to Star Scientific?

A No

Q Were there any other programs through which you could provide money to a Virginia business, where you personally could provide money or direct money or influence the direction?

A Sure Did a line item in the budget There was the Agriculture and Forestry Industries Fund we heard Secretary Haymore talk about There was an Economic Contingency Fund There were several things to do that, but, obviously, the budget would have been the biggest

But the aid for the fund, and the Economic Opportunity Fund, and the Governor's Opportunity Fund I had complete discretion over

Q In terms of a budget, explain to us how that works You wanted to do -- help a Virginia company

A Yes

Q Do you put a line item in the budget? How does that work?

A Secretary Brown was here and explained the process It takes an extraordinary amount of time to do that well He and his team do a phenomenal job working that up

And then over a period of literally months, from probably August through November, meeting in a conference room with probably about 10 or 12 of us, the senior leadership team, to review the budget And then a long series of recommendations that have come through each Cabinet member about spending they want to add or delete maybe from the previous year's budget or from the base operating budget

But, for instance, if I wanted to target the amount of money, when I was Governor, for a particular company, I would simply put a line item within the budget It could have the name of the company or it could simply have a category that might be exclusive to one or two or more companies

So, for instance, Governor Kaine, I know, I think, provided about $22 million for Osage Biofuels, a specific company that we were recruiting to do a biofuels project here in southern Virginia

I put in, I think, at one point, $7 million for Genworth Financial here in Richmond because of the retaliatory tax problem that they faced, and we were very much concerned that they would move to another state because of some of the adverse tax policies in Virginia And so this money helped to fund a repeal of this retaliatory tax policy But it only affected Genworth

So there were things like that that I did And then there were others on multiple different types of grants that might affect broader -- broader sections of the industry But I would have discretion to recommend in the budget, and then the General Assembly would decide

Q All right And were your recommendations generally followed?

A Most of the time We had a pretty high success rate I think it was about 88 percent of our recommendations on amendments were passed And on the original introduced budget, I think probably more of that would remain intact

Q All right The -- turning to Star again for a second The prosecution claims that what you did for Star was different and unique What's your view of that?

A When you say what I did for Star --

Q Yeah

A -- can you be more specific?

Q Anything you did for Star In your view, was that different and unique than what you did for a lot of companies?

A Well, I mean, first, say "I," my administration did very little of it other than provide them what I thought was the routine access to government that any donor, non-donor, gift giver, non-gift giver would be able to get in terms of meetings, having the Governor present for a check presentation, having people to Mansion events That's an example

I think we had probably about 300 or so Mansion events during the time that I was Governor My rough estimate is we probably invited 25,000 people Every time we had a Christmas tree lighting, I'd open up the Mansion for three hours and shake hands with a thousand people

So these Mansion events, like the Healthcare Leaders event that we talked about, were routine Because we had the 200th anniversary of the Mansion in 2012, we decided that we wanted to have as many people come and see this remarkable, historic house During the time I was Governor, when I had people over for events, I would, quite frankly, take a lot of pleasure in saying, "How many people have never been here before?" And a lot of hands would go up

I thought that was a very cool thing It's a remarkable house where some of the founders have walked I wanted a lot of people to come I wanted to do a lot of events there

Meetings You've heard some of the testimony, Mr Asbill, but I think probably 1,000 to 1,200 times a year I'd give a card to somebody or ask Chief of Staff Martin Kent to go have somebody have a meeting I myself would have hundreds and hundreds of personal meetings a year The Cabinet, on their own, would choose, without me or any direction, because they were self-starters, to have thousands of collective meetings during the course of the year

I brought back business cards from multiple trips and said, "Here Call this person Go meet with this person See me about this " I said, "Go give people access to government " So I would say things like meetings and Mansion events, having a staffer go over to the Mansion to meet with the First Lady's Office, Secretary Cheng, Secretary Haymore Secretary Suit would do with some frequency So, you know, I certainly viewed those as the mere basic, routine access to government and nothing at all special It's what I was supposed to do

Q In terms of what you thought about what Star Scientific was all about, did you think it held some promise with respect to economic development in depressed regions in the state?

A I did I mean, particularly early on, when I met with Mr Williams back in 2010, on a plane ride he gave me a very long discussion about his company and the potential and their move from smokeless tobacco to healthcare products and what he had -- he and his research team had delivered with this product of anatabine

I understood that this was actually a substance coming directly from a tobacco plant and that if this really held any promise and could in some way not only deliver some human good by its nutritional or healthcare efficacy and it could create jobs in the tobacco region of the state, that that would be a positive thing

I just remember the several times that I went down to that tobacco region, especially early on as Governor, I met with some of the leaders down there We had a little consortium down there at the New College Institute in Martinsville where I brought in a lot of people and said, "What can I do to help you? How can we try to turn this around?" Twenty-one percent unemployment They were killed A whole textile mill closed Tobacco was down "What can I do to help you?"

And they gave a series of ideas, and, of course, things like converting tobacco fields to other bioscience products was a good thing New uses of the tobacco product they recommended I mean, anything that we could do to help that region of the state I thought would be a very positive thing

Q We've heard testimony about something called a stop-by

A Yes

Q What's that?

A It's something that gets added to the schedule sort of at the last minute that might not be on there when Monica or Katherine made the schedule at the beginning of the day and kind of got added in at the last minute Or it could be something that was already planned in advance, but my scheduler would tell them, "Look, the Governor can just stop by for 15 minutes because he's got a lot of events that night "

I mean, I just tried to go to as many things as I possibly could, and so a lot of the events were short.

Q All these sorts of things, press conferences, photo ops, events at the Mansion, stop-bys, et cetera What was your policy on whether or not you would attend those types of events?

A I gave general direction to my scheduler, Monica, Katherine, Adam, my Travel Aide, about what I'd like to do And basically, it had to fit one of the core themes of our government, which was economic development and job creation, public safety, transportation, healthcare, I mean, the core functions of government that I was responsible for

If I could go by a business group or an individual business or a trade association or something that my presence might do something to help that group and I could fit it in the schedule, I'd like to do it And so we went to a lot of events both at the Mansion, at least, I think, 300, and outside, around the country, around the state and around the world to be able to talk about the good things about Virginia

Q And these are announcements or you would make some sort of announcement at many of these events?

A I did a lot of announcements

Q What does that concept mean?

A Many times it would be me announcing one of these economic development grants If I was going to give a check to the company, be able to give them a little bit of goodwill and about what we were doing and what the partnership was Because it was usually between the state government and the local government -- it wasn't just state grants -- that we would combine together to be able to help a region MicroAire, Northrop Grumman, Lipton Tea There were just countless ones that I would do like that And I would go I'd announce the check presentation or the economic development grant from the Governor's Opportunity Fund, and we'd be able to call attention to that area of the state And it was usually something significant for the company because it meant they could expand an assembly line They could grow some -- grow some more jobs

You know, one of the biggest ones we did was the one that you -- that you mentioned earlier for Sabra, the consortium between the Israeli and American company, PepsiCo and Strauss Foods that got together to create the hummus manufacturing company Sabra So I had a big event with the Mansion with the President of the Strauss, the President of PepsiCo Had a big celebration at the Mansion for breakfast And then I went out to Chesterfield County where they were doing the groundbreaking for their new facility out there, and we had a big event out there And we did a check presentation for the Governor's Opportunity Fund

So that would be one of the bigger events I've done to promote a specific company using both the Mansion and a site visit But it really depended on what the opportunity was And Secretary Cheng or Chief of Staff Kent, somebody would make the decisions in advance about what's the right thing to do for this particular event But I'd try to go to as many as I could

MR ASBILL: Let me pull up RM-0093

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Is this an example of -- do you recognize this?

A Yes, I do

Q And what is it?

A This would be one of the traditional press releases that might be put out I think this one was actually put out by the Economic Development Partnership, as opposed to the Governor's Office

But this was announcing a major expansion of the Health Diagnostic Laboratory facility just down the road here in Richmond, where they were going to create 213 new jobs and $4 2 million in capital investment

So I participated in that event and tried to do as many of those kinds of things as I could

Q Are there other -- if you scroll, are these other examples of these types of announcements in this exhibit?

A Yes The DuPont facility in Chesterfield County, a battery facility expansion I went down there and met with -- did a plant tour of the DuPont facility and met with some of those folks back in early 2000 -- 2010, I think

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: This exhibit I'd like to move in, Your Honor I believe it's 279 pages, and we're not going to go through anymore

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you ever do an announcement for Star?

A No

Q Did you ever do any press conferences or site visits for Star?

A No

Q Some of the events at the Mansion You've talked about the Sabra one Are there others that come to mind in 2010 and 2011 for specific companies that were events at the Mansion?

A So we did -- the majority -- the most events we did for any particular sector would have been -- would have been the business sector for economic development I think public safety might have been second

So we did a lot for the Chamber of Commerce or Virginia Free or other types of business groups there at the Mansion But we did a couple ones that involved only specific companies I mentioned Sabra I mentioned -- I think Volkswagen was mentioned earlier And there are probably -- I think there were a handful of others that were introduced earlier in the trial of things we did that might have only had a connection with one -- one particular company

Q All right And you've talked about doing tours, et cetera, of Virginia businesses?

A Yes

Q All right Now, did you do any of those in the -- in 2010, 2011, 2012?

A I did a number of tours of the state And I would -- typically, when I would tour, try to go by and see businesses, listen to business owners Honestly, the more I listened to business owners, the better ideas we got about how to address some of these economic development problems And mostly we had a designated time, usually in August, every summer we'd do this Listening Tour of Virginia Something I just borrowed Governor Kaine and Governor Warner did that successfully So I borrowed their good idea

But we'd go to and listen to Virginia education institutions and businesses and stop by -- stop by a lot of businesses along the way, from ice cream shops to pharmaceutical operations

Q Did you ever stop by Star during one of these tours?

A No

MR ASBILL: Judge, I'm about to go into the topic of the marriage as a separate topic Is this a good time to stop or do you want me to go forward?

THE COURT: We'll stop now

All right I'd like you to come in tomorrow morning at 9:45 And, again, please don't discuss the case with anyone, allow anyone to discuss it with you Don't let your guard down Continue to be vigilant against anyone approaching you or you being exposed to media items relating to this case

You all have a good evening, and we'll get started at 9:45

(The trial adjourned at 5:28 p m)

OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

P-R-O-C-E-E-D-I-N-G-S

THE CLERK: Day nineteen, Case Number 3:14CR12: United States of America versus Robert F McDonnell and Maureen G. McDonnell The United States is represented by Michael Dry, David Harbach, Jessica Aber, and Ryan Faulconer Robert F. McDonnell is represented by John Brownlee, Henry Asbill, Daniel Small, James Burnham, and Christopher Iaquinto Maureen G. McDonnell is represented by Heather Martin, William Burck, Stephen Hauss, and Daniel Koffmann. Are counsel ready to proceed?

MR. DRY: The United States is ready to proceed.

MR. ASBILL: Mr McDonnell is ready

MR. BURCK: Maureen McDonnell is ready, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Let's bring in the jury Would counsel approach? I just have one brief inquiry

(At Bench)

THE COURT: Mr Burck, I just wanted to ask you, what are your plans? I'm trying, I'm starting to do these instructions

MR. BURCK: I think we will have maybe three or four witnesses that will be right after they are done with their case I don't think it will take more than six hours at the most I think less Maybe five hours

THE COURT: All right

MR. DRY: As far as the rebuttal case goes, we are not sure yet A lot is going to depend on today I would say that we should have at least about two days, worst case

THE COURT: That's the absolutely worst case

MR DRY: Right

THE COURT: Okay All right, that gives me some idea

(In Open Court)

Good morning Good to see you. Mr Asbill?

MR. ASBILL: Thank you, sir

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Cont'd.)

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Good morning, Mr McDonnell How are you?

A Good morning, Mr Asbill

Q I'm going to start talking to you about the marriage issues as we left off yesterday, but I first want to talk to you about one thing that you testified to yesterday I don't know whether I misheard you or not, but you were talking about the issue of whether or not gifts are legal in Virginia And is there a distinction between the time when you were Governor and today concerning the amounts of gifts?

A Yes The reporting limits for gifts were unlimited during the time I was Governor, but I know the legislature made some changes this year that went into effect last month, July 1st, that actually put some caps on tangible gifts, if I remember what the law was, but still it is an unlimited amount of gifts for intangible gifts So that law did change after I left office

Q What's the distinction between tangible and intangible as you understand?

A I didn't actually look at the statute that was passed, but I think it is just the ordinary definition of tangible versus intangible, is my understanding But there was a change after I left But the law was the same, unlimited but reporting, during the time I was Governor

Q Okay Let's turn to the marriage Is it going to be easy or hard for you to talk about this issue?

A I think it is going to be very, very difficult Very hard.

Q I'm sorry?

A It is going to be hard for me to talk about this

Q Why is that?

A Because, you know, I've been in public life now for 22 years in elected office, and a couple things that I have always kept very close to me have been my finances and my marriage. And to the degree that my wife and I were having troubles over the years, we would try to work these things out among ourselves We didn't generally try to talk to the children or my friends These are things that I felt were between my wife and I to address

Q Are you willing to answer questions about it now?

A Yes I feel in light of these charges that have been brought, I have to talk about it, yes

Q When did you first meet your wife?

A I met Maureen in 1973, July of 1973

Q And did you start dating at that time?

A We did. We met at a party I did have to ask her a couple of times, but we finally started dating in, I think, late July It was right after my freshman year at Notre Dame I was home for the summer, and Maureen was working at the State Department in Northern Virginia And she lived in McLean, I lived in Alexandria, and we met at a friend's house, one of my high school friends

Q Was she in school at the time or working?

A No, she was an administrative assistant at the State Department

Q Had she pursued higher education at that point?

A No, she hadn't

Q All right And you said you asked her and she said no Asked her out?

A A couple times But I persevered.

Q And did you date over the next several years while you were in college?

A We did, dated three years, a long distance relationship I was at Notre Dame, she was in Northern Virginia, and she came out to Notre Dame, I would see her at the summer on breaks, and that was out courtship for three years

Q When did you get engaged?

A We got engaged after my junior year Maureen had been over in Vienna for, Vienna, Austria, for a Law of the Sea conference that she was involved with, or maybe the SALT talks, I can't remember, but anyway, when she came back, I had just gotten back from a summer camp from the Army ROTC program and decided at that point I would ask her to marry me, and she said yes

Q When did you get married?

A We got married a month after I graduated from Notre Dame on July 24th, 1976

Q Who paid for the wedding?

A Maureen and I paid for virtually all of it She was one of nine kids Both of her parents were public servants and didn't have great means, but it was something, Maureen was working and I was working during the summer and saved up a little money and we wanted to do that, so we did.

Q During the first couple years of your marriage, what was the relationship like?

A It was very good. My first assignment, as I mentioned, was over in Germany for three years, and was kind of like an extended honeymoon. We got to travel frequently all over Europe, and it was just the two of us We didn't have any children And it was a great time

Q You came back from Germany, and is that when you started to work for American Hospital Supply?

A Yes, it was, in May of 1981

Q And was your wife working at that time as well?

A We just had our first daughter, Jeanine, and Maureen was working at a restaurant as a waitress in Georgia when we started, when we moved down there, yes

Q And any other types of outside employment for Ms McDonnell at that time?

A I don't think so, not at that time No

Q When did she become interested in selling nutraceuticals?

A It goes back 30-plus years I believe the first company she worked with was Shacklee, just primarily a vitamin nutraceutical company, and that was early in the 1980's I think that was after we left Atlanta, either when we moved to Chicago or maybe into Kansas City in 1982, 1983, in that area, is when I think she first started working with the company But from the very first time I met her she was interested in it because of the health event she had when she was 17 with a breast tumor

Q Okay Going forward to when you were in law school, was your wife working at that time when you were in school?

A She was working very hard on a lot of the work that I was doing She prepared all of my papers She was incredibly supportive I had three jobs Sometimes she would actually work one of the jobs for me, this job I had with the Virginian-Pilot She would actually help do that a couple times We worked together on this toy franchise And like I said, she was taking care of, at that point two, and the third daughter born during law school She was very, very busy and helped get me through law school

Q After you graduated from law school, I believe you said you became a prosecutor; is that right?

A Yes

Q In the Commonwealth's Attorney's Office?

A Yes, in Virginia Beach, yes

Q Was that something that Ms McDonnell thought was a good idea?

A She was very supportive She knew I wanted to do public service She knew I loved that internship that I did during law school and that I wanted to prosecute, so she was very supportive She was surprised and I was surprised at the fact that I had actually a lower salary than I had had when I was in business four years before that But I think we got off to a good start in 1990

Q Okay Going forward to when you first got into the General Assembly, that was 1991; is that correct?

A That's when I got elected and started in 1992

Q I believe you said yesterday that your wife was supportive of that decision that you made; is that correct?

A She was It was a difficult time We actually decided about a year out, and then shortly after that we found out that she was pregnant with twins during the beginning of that campaign So obviously that made the challenge of running for office a little bit tougher But she was a great campaigner, and did a lot of door to door, even on her own. She did a lot during that campaign

Q You were also working at a private law firm at that time; is that correct?

A No, I was still a prosecutor during the campaign After I got elected, I went to the private law firm.

Q And then the combination, at that point, were you able to -- did you make more or less money than you had made as a prosecutor?

A I made more money when I went into private practice

Q Okay At that point in time, the start of your

General Assembly career, what was the status of your wife's interest in nutraceuticals or any business efforts with respect to nutraceuticals?

A It was still very strong I think at that point she had just begun to work with a company called Starlight International It was a national company And she worked that business while taking care of five kids while I was involved in law and politics, and did a lot It was good for her. A couple of the kids were in school by then, but she was able to do a lot of that business from home, so it was a good fit But she was very enthusiastic about the Starlight products and working for them.

Q When were the twins born?

A They were born September 24th, 1991, six weeks before my first election.

Q Okay As I understood your testimony yesterday, you said at this time when you were going into the General Assembly that you also had Army Reserve obligations; is that correct?

A I did Yes I went back into the Active Reserves when we moved from Kansas City to Virginia Beach in 1985 I had to look for ways of supporting the family And so in addition to the toy business and the Virginian-Pilot work, I went back into the Active Army Reserves, which is one weekend a month, sometimes a Saturday, Sunday, sometimes Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and then a two-week summer camp each year So it was 50-some days a year that I was gone on Army Reserve duty

Q How much time during the year were you gone attending to your duties in the General Assembly?

A Well, either 45 or 60 days during the session But as I was getting more senior, and especially in the late 1990's, I became the Assistant Majority Leader and then later I became the Courts of Justice Chairman So as I got more responsibilities in the General Assembly, there were other meetings during the year There were travel obligations that I had There were special sessions There were just other things that I had to do that took more than that 60 days So it would almost be the equivalent of three to four months of General Assembly business that I had to attend to

Q Three to four months of General Assembly plus the Army Reserve; is that correct?

A Right And I had a full time law practice, too

Q So how much time were you spending away from home in Virginia Beach while you were in the General Assembly? What's a rough percentage estimate of a year?

A I would say it was well over a hundred days, maybe approaching a third of the year

Q All right And at that particular time, your wife stayed in Virginia Beach while you were away, obviously; is that correct?

A Yes We had five children, a couple of them were still very, very young then, yes

Q And with you being away so much, did your wife start to develop, in essence, a separate life?

A In a way, yes You know, I had law and Reserves and the General Assembly that I was doing, and put my full effort into that She was doing a great job raising our young children, and working her nutraceutical business So the time that we had directly for each other, for dates and working on the relationship, got to be less frequent

Q And during this time when you were in the General Assembly, tell us about the level of your communication between the two of you and the nature of your communications Just the general nature and the level, frequency

A Well, it was, obviously being gone as much as I was, particularly with the Army Reserve business and other things, and the two months of almost constantly being gone in the winter with the General Assembly, we would spend more time on the phone and less time in person, which obviously has an impact on the relationship And so much of our life now began to revolve around our five children It made the house very, very busy with soccer and swimming and music lessons and the different obligations that we had with the children And so we began to focus more on their needs and their logistics and so forth as opposed to what she and I -- our own relationship.

Q Did your communications start to break down at that point?

A They became less frequent and substantive and more, I guess, logistics, children, schedules, and so forth

Q Privately, were there arguments or disagreements?

A I could see the tension and some of the anxiety growing between us starting in those early 1990's as I was gone, gone more, and the substantive nature of the communication was not as good Particularly I remember times in the mid-1990's that I sensed a decided change in our ability to communicate well with each other Even on vacations, I remember a couple of them were, the angst of daily life would carry over into the vacations I remember particularly one at Disney World when I was surprised that we just weren't able to communicate and relate, and Maureen was very anxious even during the vacation period down in Disney World. It was mid to late 1990's, so that was just a time frame that stands out in my mind where things became a little more strained.

Q Now, in terms of the strained relationship, did it manifest itself in anything other than anxiety? Any other manifestations about that?

A I think we began to have some arguments privately, a little more frequently Nothing really substantive But I seem to remember especially the late 1990's that those became a little more frequent And much of it was driven by the fact that I was just more and more physically and to some degree emotionally unavailable because of my combination of legislative and political duties and law duties

Q Were you angry at her during that time frame?

A No

Q Was she angry at you?

A Sometimes But it was primarily driven by the fact that we didn't have much time together at that time And that's what she would say to me, you know "I want a relationship I just don't want to talk about kids and logistics and so forth I want more time "

Q Going forward through your General Assembly career, I believe in 2005 is when you decided to run for Attorney General

A No, 2002 The election was 2005, but I decided right after the 2001 elections, as I mentioned, that after talking to other people that had run, and successfully, for Attorney General, that to do this right, I really had to run for three years I certainly expected I would have competition even for the nomination We had a primary in June of '05 So if I was going to have a chance to be successful, I had to start early. I started in early 2002 with a campaign committee and started raising money, going to events And being in Virginia Beach, when you are in a corner of a state and you've got to travel the whole state, it is just that much more time on the road

Q I believe you said yesterday that Ms McDonnell was generally supportive of your trying to get that job as Attorney General?

A Sure I tried to talk to my family about any decisions of substance like that, because I knew it was going to have an impact on our family, the time that I would have for any number of things with my wife and my children And so we did talk early in 2002 and Maureen was supportive of that decision She knew in my heart I wanted to do more in public service But at the same time, I mean, she expressed those reservations about what does this mean, what is a campaign going to be like, and I gave her my best assessment in '02 But until you get into a statewide campaign, you feel it, you live it, you breathe it, and you see what it does to you, it is hard to describe what that's [illegible]

Q Did she participate in the campaigning?

A Very much so

Q And did she seem to enjoy that aspect of running for Attorney General?

A She liked parts of it

Q Which parts?

A I think some of the social events that we were able to go to, some of the interesting people that we were able to meet along the way Some of the public events where we were in the spotlight or there was press around, or if I asked her to speak, which we didn't do much of that for her in the 2005 campaign, those were the areas where she would be more anxious about her public role Because she was a mom, and she did it very well, and the public life was one that caused more stress

Q So the social aspects of the campaigning she liked; is that fair to say?

A I think so And I did, too.

Q And aside from the speech part of it or having to speak publicly, were there any other aspects of the campaign that she did not like participating in?

A I think it was mostly the public glare and things that we had to do in public But as I told her, this was going to be clearly part and parcel of a statewide campaign for Attorney General There's a lot of visibility and that was mostly it I also, though, had to tell her that, you know, this might change what she could do with her business, with the nutraceutical business

Q Why is that?

A Well, that it was going to limit her ability to do some of the type of marketing that she had done I mean, these businesses were basically home businesses. They were the direct sales or multi-level marketing kinds of businesses, where networking is a key part of your success in the business; and that to avoid conflicts, that we would have to be sure that the marketing didn't carry over to the campaigning or to any kind of public events that I was doing, because I thought that's where the line should be drawn

Q Okay You get elected and you are Attorney General Then you've got to move to Richmond; is that correct?

A Yes I moved shortly after the election I think, well, the election lasted until right before Christmas because of the recount But I moved up to Richmond early in January, but Maureen and the children stayed in Virginia Beach because the children were not out of school yet until that December -- until June So we didn't want to take them out of school Each of the children were completing -- my daughter was graduating from high school, my sons were graduating from eighth grade All three of them were going on to new schools anyway, and we didn't want to pull them out So Maureen stayed there And so for the first six months I was up here by myself in Richmond. And I tried to make it home most weekends, but I was up here And then the family moved up in July, so about seven months later

Q That move, was that easy or was that difficult for your wife?

A It was a difficult move It was difficult for both of us We had lived in Virginia Beach for twenty-one years We had been married at that time for, you know, close to 30 years We had had, I think, 18 different addresses during that time between business and the military We had moved a lot and had some separations But that was our roots, Virginia Beach. We put down a great anchor there We had a lot of friends We had a good church. We liked it there I had gone to law school there She had her support structure there with some good friends she had made. The kids had their best friends there And so while I was very excited about starting the new role as Attorney General, the move to Richmond from Virginia Beach with new people, new circle of friends, new church, all the things, and the new job as Attorney General, was a difficult move

Q With respect to your wife, did the move require her -- I mean, she had no sort of a customer network for her nutraceuticals business when you moved?

A Then that was another thing Even though I told her it that it would have to be pared back, most of her customer base and most of her contacts were in the Virginia Beach area

Q All right Would it be fair to say that Ms McDonnell found that move and the changes essentially very stressful?

MR DRY: Judge, I object He can talk about communications or observations, but he can't opine on questions of feeling

THE COURT: Sustained.

THE WITNESS: She told me that it was, yes

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Okay Now, while you were Attorney General, how did being Attorney General affect favorably, unfavorably, in between, your marriage?

A I put my heart and soul into that job It was a remarkable opportunity for me to serve in that capacity, and I felt running the state's law firm, I had a very, very high duty to run a good law firm.

Q But how did it affect your marriage? How did taking that job affect your marriage?

A Because I put so much time into that job and it required more travel, I was essentially the head of the Republican Party, so I had additional duties that I had to attend to And so I would say that it, once again, further diminished the time we had together It hurt the marriage It hurt the communications Because I was working very, very long hours at the Attorney General's Office And in that first year, I also then made that decision to run for Governor, which meant I had another full time job of running for Governor while I was Attorney General

Q Okay. This was the first time, when you became Attorney General, that you had essentially lived together for the full year in 14 years?

A Yes

Q Is that correct?

A Yes Because we had had, during those other 14 years, I had been in Richmond for essentially two months out of the year, but now we were back together Even though I was traveling a lot, we were under the same roof twelve months a year, yes

Q And did the fact that you were living together essentially for twelve months, aside from the travel you have described, did that improve the level or the nature of communications between the two of you?

A No I found that there was increasing amount of time, again, spent on talking about the kids' schedules and the soccer games and what I needed to be doing on our campaign, what I would like her to do to help me on the campaign for Governor, on issues maybe with bills or finances that I needed to talk to her about, about just the operations of running a house, a private residence, while I was gone So we spent more time talking about sort of the business of living as opposed to our relationship

Q All right And while you were Attorney General, did you talk to her at all about whether or not she could continue to sell nutraceuticals?

A I did.

Q And was there anything that precipitated that discussion?

A Well, I talked to her early on about some of the potentials for conflicts, and that she would have to, I thought, be just more discrete with her events But I know we had one event while I was Attorney General that was, it was brought to my attention by staff, where I think one of the lists, one of our campaign lists, Maureen had used to essentially promote her product and make reference to the Nu Skin product She was now finished with Starlight and into a company called Nu Skin I think she started that in '03 or '04 She has been working with them about ten years And the e-mail that she sent out was using that list and actually talking a little bit about her products And it was brought to my attention I felt that was completely inappropriate We had to have that pretty clear separation between my campaign lists and my political lists and what she was doing in her network to be able to market the products and try to attract new business And so I was very upset about that, and Maureen and I did have a conversation I told her, "You can't do that You can't use that list. My office now knows that that's happened, and you've got to really keep the marketing of the products to a minimum, do it discreetly You can't use these lists "

Q The marketing of the products that you have described, and whatever she sent out, did it include the use of your photo or your e-mail address?

A Yes, it may have I don't recall exactly

Q All right And you say you talked to her and you had a discussion with her about it?

A I did And I know at that time she was not happy about that, because this was her job. This was the thing she really enjoyed, that she was passionate about She was good at it She really believed deeply that these, and told me, that these nutraceutical products were good. I took them regularly I have for some 30 years or so And yet now I was telling her, "Maureen, because of my career and my political campaign, you just have to have a separation here You can't be advancing your products, and especially not using my campaign lists That's just not appropriate " And I think I was telling her no, and kind of essentially in furtherance of my own business was hurting her business, and I think that that was not well received

Q Going forward to when you became Governor, when you decided to run for Governor, again, I think you said yesterday that generally she was supportive of your choice to run?

A Yes I know, even though I was Attorney General, that when I got to a campaign for Governor, and having run with Jerry Kilgore and seeing what he had to do at the top of the ticket, that the Governor's campaign really drives a lot of what's happening It drives the policy agenda; it drives the schedule of travel and so forth And so I knew this was going to be a big deal So of course I talked to my wife, my children, said, "I would like to do this I think I would be good at it," and basically that I would like their support Maureen understood and supported my decision, but I certainly could tell with what she said to me that she had increasing concerns about what this meant in terms of less time at home and more visibility and more loss of privacy because of the public nature of a political campaign

Q All right So she had essentially the same sort of mixed emotions that she did when you ran for Attorney General?

A Yes, I think that's fair

Q All right During the campaign for Governor, was that different than the campaign for Attorney General in terms of staffing for her or for you?

A Oh, very much so Our campaign for Attorney General, I think we had five or six staff. For Governor it was 35. Far bigger budget It went from 6 million to 24 million, plus the outside spending, much more visibility And so we had -- and more asks that I and my staff made to Maureen and my children to campaign on my behalf The more a McDonnell was in some place in the state campaigning for me, they were my best surrogates So I asked Maureen and I asked the kids to do more

Q And did she have her own staff at that time when you were running for Governor?

A Primarily that last year, I think in the year 2009 when we really ramped the staff up We tried to be frugal the first couple of years, but the last year, 2009, that ten-month home stretch of the campaign, we dramatically ramped up staff and allocated at least one staff or two to Maureen.

Q How did she manage to deal with the staff that she had?

A We went through two or three different staff people to try to find the right fit for Maureen She hadn't managed a staff before, although this was small, it was just one person, maybe two at the most And this was really the first year that she was going to be out away from the children and being on the campaign trail for me and actually having to give public remarks on my behalf. And I certainly knew from talking to her that this was creating additional stress and anxiety for her And it certainly played out in angst and trouble with the staff in having them be able to work together well

Q Angst and trouble By trouble, are you including, you know, anger or anything like that?

A There were times we got the reports that she would yell at staff and be disappointed with staff Oftentimes it was over fairly small things that really were not material to the substance of the campaign And so, again, I was so busy generally traveling, I mean, I had some discussions with her about that But I think Phil Cox and the other leaders of the campaign would try to manage those things and make whatever staff adjustments that they needed to make

Q You heard Janet Kelly testify in this trial that she was working on -- obviously she was working on the campaign for Governor with you?

A Yes

Q And essentially, when you became elected, she said that she wouldn't come with you; she couldn't work with Maureen if she came with you.

A Yes.

Q And what did you think about that when Janet said that to you?

A Well, that really hurt, and I was disappointed. Janet was my longest-serving staffer. She had been with me at that point fifteen years from the 1999 campaign. She was one of the people, she and Phil were the people I trusted the most, that I wanted the most in my Administration. I had decided to offer her the job of Secretary of the Commonwealth. So for her to say that to me after being intimately involved with the transition was really tough, and I realized then what I needed, I was going to need her help with some of the issues with the First Lady's Office in helping set that up But, too, I needed to make sure that I had great people in that office to work with Maureen so that the things that they wanted to do over there were perfectly complimentary of my goals as Governor

Q Did Janet lay out for you the sort of nature of the concerns that she had and the problems or the reasons for not being willing to go forward with you if she had to work with Maureen?

A Some It was temperament It was anger It was sweating the small stuff It was sort of inability to try to focus on the big things of the mission. There were those kinds of things. I know Janet knew that in her job as Secretary of the Commonwealth she was going to be very busy, and so she told me, "I'm not going to have time to do a lot of the things that I did on the campaign if you expect me to do this job well "

Q Did she, Janet, express to you any concerns in those discussions about potential emotional problems or illnesses of any kind?

A I believe she did, but I know she did at a later time

Q All right At that point in time, did you think that there were any emotional issues or problems that needed to be addressed in some medical way or counseling way?

A I wasn't quite sure Maureen had lost her mother Her mother died of a heart attack unexpectedly in the middle of the campaign in June, and she had been working so hard during the campaign and trying to manage family and do the things we asked her to do. And I know I felt that stress going up towards Election Day And so everybody obviously was taking a deep breath after the campaign was over But I know over ten, fifteen years, it had been very difficult for Maureen to handle stress and pressure and anxiety, and obviously being a mother of five, that's a very tough job And I know she had sought some medical attention in Virginia Beach before we moved up here

Q Had you two ever discussed counseling over the years?

A A couple times, yes

Q And was your wife receptive to that thought?

A No

Q When you were elected and became Governor, did you talk to your wife again about the issue of selling nutraceuticals?

A I did

Q And what did you tell her?

A Well, it was early on as we were setting up her staff And I tried to give her my advice, the best I could, about what I thought the role of the First Lady would be And we embarked on a process of helping her and her staff that we began to hire work with mine But I told her, as I had with Attorney General, that I really felt that her business essentially needed to be put on hold. There were just too many opportunities for problems, for conflict First of all, I didn't think she would have the time But secondly, I just didn't think that the First Lady of Virginia ought to be doing this kind of business Because it was a networking business It was a direct sales and a multi-level marketing business And there just appeared to be a little bit of a potential for conflict with her role So I said, "Listen, if you do things out at our house," where we maintained a house out in the western part of Richmond, "if you do a couple things there or maybe with a couple of your very, very good friends from Virginia Beach, that's probably okay But other than that, I think that -- I really think you need to put this on hold."

Q Was she receptive to your telling her that?

A I would say she understood. But again, this was her 30-year passion, and again, I'm telling her, because of my job, I'm telling her, "No, you really can't do this It is going to interfere with my job and the perception people might have of me if you are mixing First Lady business and nutraceutical business " And so again, she understood but was not happy about that instruction.

Q When you say "not happy," does that mean there was anger?

A Yes, there was some I guess angry self resignation that this was going to have to happen.

Q Did she appreciate your telling her what she could or couldn't do?

A No. But she is my wife She is not a staff member And I tried to tell her that not as a directive, but as, you know, a partner; that this is what I thought was best really for both of us, but obviously particularly for me and what I was trying to accomplish as Governor

Q All right Going forward, when you became Governor, did you try to help her transition into that role in any way, for her role as First Lady?

A Yes

Q How did you do that?

A Early on, Martin Kent, Chief of Staff, who has been here to testify, and I talked a little bit about the organization of the First Lady's Office because the Chief of Staff was really the one in the chain of command, the Chief of Staff and the Mansion Director, Ms Scarbrough, and others actually reported to Martin Kent You ultimately, everybody, all 110,000 people report to me, but there is a chain of command, and really, only the Chief of Staff reported to me on our organization chart Everybody else reported through that. So the First Lady's Chief of Staff reported to Martin Kent So Martin and I talked a little bit about how would we best set this up so that everything that the First Lady did, first of all, it was something that she really wanted to do. But secondly, how did it measure with the specific campaign promises and objectives that I had and the things that I was going to be doing on jobs and economic development and transportation and budget management, how could we make sure that her objectives were consistent with mine So I think we had some initial meetings with Maureen and Martin and I to just talk about that a little bit, and then how we would hire staff for her

Q And what kind of staff and how many were you looking for?

A There was only a couple The First Lady's staff is very small: the Mansion Director, there is a Chief of Staff, there was another aide, and then there was essentially the Mansion staff, which was a chef, housekeeper, and a butler Governor Kaine had the same people, and that had been, as far as I know, that had been the staff for a long time So the biggest thing for me was to have a person to be the Chief of Staff who Maureen really liked, who I knew that I could trust to help manage things over there Because I knew Maureen had a lot of good ideas, things she wanted to do, but she hadn't managed an office before So I wanted somebody that I knew and trusted who had been in an office environment recently that could do well and help Maureen get her objectives, and somebody who had experience in state government

Q Were you hopeful if you had such a person in place as the Chief of Staff for the First Lady that the issues that had arisen during the campaign, that Janet Kelly talked to you about, would abate or ameliorate in some way?
A Yes
Q All right. And so who was it that you hired as her Chief of Staff?
A There were several people that were interviewed and considered. I think Martin Kent helped to facilitate that process to be able to get the top candidates for the First Lady to interview directly, because it had to be somebody that she really felt comfortable with as well And one of the people I think I recommended was Mary-Shea Sutherland, because I had worked with Mary-Shea when I was campaigning for Attorney General She had been one of my fundraisers, she had been an event planner, I liked her, I knew the firm well at Benedetti & Farris She worked both with Governor Allen and Governor Gilmore, so she had experience in state government And Maureen really hadn't, and I wanted somebody that really knew that pretty well So she was certainly high on the list of candidates And after a discernment process with Maureen and the Chief of Staff and me, we offered her the job
Q Okay Going into this time frame, I'm talking about the beginning of 2010, that's when you start your Governorship, right?

A Uh-huh.

Q Going into this time frame, as between the two of you, as between you and your wife, privately, what was the communication, if any, like?

A I had 65, 70 days to build a government I mentioned, you know, the event on Election Day where there just seemed to be a total disconnect about what was going to happen. I'm exuberant about winning and talking to the President and having a press conference to announce the transition, and Maureen is, I think, fearful and anxious about what that day and what the rest of her life was going to hold. So I knew that we had sort of a different view of what this next four years was going to be like right from the day after the election. So I think I had to really focus on getting ready for that General Assembly session, starting to learn the budget, hiring a Cabinet and 300 political appointees and really getting ready So, I mean, I would have to say we worked tirelessly with Phil Cox, Janet Kelly, and others to get this staff built by Inauguration Day So we talked some about the inaugural and the plans for the inaugural Maureen had a lot of input into what she would like to see in the inaugural events, as did I, so a lot of our communication was really around the logistics and the inaugural event

Q When you had time to communicate with her on anything other than logistics, how did that work? Did it work out well or not?

A We had some trouble making decisions on some of the most rudimentary things We talked about children, we would talk talk about the logistics, talk about the inaugural, talk about the beginning of our time together in this office, that we had one four-year term that we had to be able to get some things accomplished for the people And I think she began to sense that, from what she told me, that there were some positive things that she could do. And I think she began to realize that while the time that I was going to have with her was going to be very limited, which is what she was most anxious about, that through her separate work at the First Lady's Office, there were some things she could do that would be consistent with her love and her passions, dealing with veterans and healthcare Those were things she had always loved. So I think to some degree she appreciated that But the quality of the communication individually between the two of us was not particularly good.

Q You say not particularly good. How did that manifest itself?

A I know we had a couple of arguments about an inaugural dress At one point during December, in the midst of our transition, a time that we talked about dealing with Mr. Williams, it was very poor communication and we had a couple of very unpleasant conversations about that I know the stress of what she was going to wear and getting everybody ready for the inauguration weighed very, very heavily on her, and she expressed that to me. So I was very much looking forward to starting this process of governing. I had done it for 18 years, so I was more comfortable with the role that I was about to step into Maureen told me and expressed to me through, in many ways, that she was very uncomfortable with this new role but interested in some areas that she wanted to pursue

Q Did some of the expressing take the form of anger or yelling?

A It did.

Q On your part or her part or both?

A Hers I mean, I typically don't yell at anybody

Q Moving on to the middle of the year, in 2010, did anything happen in your wife's life that was particularly eventful?

A There was a series of events The first half of the year was, Maureen started to develop her FLITE initiatives She was very interested in some of the wine, film, tourism, healthcare, women in business, veterans issues that she was beginning to work up as her platform.

But there were some very traumatic things that happened in 2010 Her father died on June 19th of 2010 He had been sick In fact, we found out three days before the inaugural that he was diagnosed with terminal cancer So he passed away in June And Maureen was very close to her father She is not particularly close to other members of her family, but she loved her dad. Her dad wrote poems about her Her dad was a World War II vet I loved her dad. He was a tremendous person And I know it was so hard for her

Q Was her mother still alive at that point?

A No, her mom had died unexpectedly almost a year earlier, almost to the day, of a heart attack during the campaign. So all of a sudden, I know she told me, "I feel like an orphan Both parents are gone "

And then a month after that, our two kids, our last two children leave for college in August, and this is also the time where I'm asked to do a lot more for the Republican Governors' Association. I'm on the Executive Committee We had 36 governors' races in November of 2010, so I've been asked now to travel a lot more around the country doing some campaigning Maureen now, after six months, had her FLITE initiatives pretty well set, so now she is beginning to do a lot more of her own work publicly to promote her FLITE initiatives with tourism and film and healthcare and veterans, et cetera And I noticed a real difference after all those things started happening that summer, particularly with her father It was tough for me I loved him. And it was very tough for Maureen

Q Did that improve or hurt the level of personal communication between the two of you? Those things?

A It hurt. She sobbed for weeks about her dad. She just, I mean, it just really, really hurt He was 88 He had been at the inaugural And it was just such a joyful day for us there with him, him and my dad being there But then to lose him just five months later, it really, really took the wind out of our sails and it was hard to console her for quite a bit of time after that

Q You tried as best you could with the time you had?

A I tried, yes

Q Later on that year, in November, early November, did there come a time when, because of the death of her father early in the year, as you described, she inherited some money?

A Yes

Q And how much was that and was that from her father?

A Yes It was about -- a little over $25,000 I think her brother, Tom, administered the estate By that time, they had made an initial distribution to her for $25,000

Q And what happened to that money?

A My father died on November 2nd, and we had been up in Northern Virginia for a couple days I was the executor of my dad's estate So he was buried at Arlington, so I had to be up there making some arrangements And he wasn't buried until January of the next year, but I had to start making the initial arrangements for my father and working with the rest of my family on some initial issues I remember pretty distinctly, we got back that Friday, November 5th, and we had gotten mail and I think that's when the check showed up. And Maureen and I were talking about what we should do with that money It was her money. But I told her at that time that we had, you know, a pretty significant amount of credit card debt I think at that time it was about 70-some thousand dollars And I told her that, you know, it was my goal during this time as Governor that this debt that we had amassed for kids, for personal choices, for spending, for other things, for personal expenses during the campaign, all the run-up of this credit card debt, that we should, the best decision for the family was to put that money, that $25,000, towards credit card debt abatement

Q And did she agree that that was a good idea?

A No

Q What did she want to do with it?

A For 15 or 20 years, she had been talking to me about buying stock Because my dad bought us stock for our wedding He gave it to us, I think, right about the wedding It was, oh, I don't know, it was 100 or so shares of Citizens Utility Board. I will never forget it, because I had never owned stock before and I was 22 years old and my dad gave us this stock for our wedding And we held onto it and held onto it We ended up selling it, I believe, through Mr Piscitelli at the time I was in law school, a time when we were very financially strapped. That stock really became sort of a godsend to us during that time in law school because we got, it seemed like a couple thousand dollars That was a lot of money to us back then. It was the time when we were having our third child And I know that meant a lot to Maureen, that we were able to use that money So she had always said, "I want to buy stock for the kids at some point I want to give it to them as a wedding present I want to do what your dad did for us " So she told me, you know, "I want to use this money for -- I want to do something for our kids I want to buy stock for them like your dad did."

Q Did this discussion or debate turn into an argument?

A It did. And I was wrong But I prevailed on the use of the money I remember it pretty well She left the room and came back in with the check and she was crying

She threw it down on the desk and she said, "Here, pay the bills " And so I did I thought that was -- I thought that was the right decision for our family, to pay down these credit card bills I didn't think that we needed to buy anything at that time We still had eight or nine months before my daughter's wedding, and we could deal with it, deal with a gift idea at a different time So I knew even then, and I certainly know now, that that was the wrong decision for my wife and for our marriage It was her money It was her father And I convinced her to do something that she did not want to do with her money

Q You say it was the wrong decision for your marriage Do you think it was unfair to her?

A It was Yes

Q Was it around this time in November of 2010 that Maureen started to have problems with her staff at the Mansion?

A Yes I've been -- I was aware of some things The Chief of Staff would tell me about things occasionally But Martin was an excellent manager, and like a lot of things during my time as Governor, he would say, "Governor, I can handle this I've got this under control " Not just with the First Lady's Office, but with the multitude in state government He knew how busy I was, and he was the Chief of Staff He would bring things to my attention, but he would say, "You don't need to do anything I've got it under control "

Q So some things would filter up to you about what was happening in the Mansion, but Martin says he has got it?

A Yup

Q Did that at any time going into the end of the year there start to come to a head?

A Not as much in 2010

Q Going forward into 2011, did you continue to get any kind of reports about issues among the Mansion staff?

A Yes, I did.

Q And generally, what were the nature of the reports that you learned?

A It was yelling at staff, it was not being organized, it was frequent changes of mind and plans It was not taking responsibility for certain decisions that were made and blaming other people I know I personally had a few times where Maureen would talk to staff on the phone, particularly the chef or the Mansion Director, about very, very small stuff: the food, the cable TV, the whatever that was not working the way she wanted it to work And she would say things over the phone that I would hear that I knew were just absolutely inappropriate, and I would talk to Maureen and say, "Maureen, you can't treat our staff like that I don't treat my staff like that

You've got to take care of them. You have to love them. You have to encourage them. These are public servants that don't make a lot of money You can't do that I told her, "I know you are working for free, Maureen, and you are a volunteer, but you've got to take care of your staff and they will take care of you " And so I think she listened, and from time to time we would see improvements But I was aware that there were some things going on that I think were not proper

Q Were there any permanent improvements or did these reports continue?

A It would come and go

Q And you said that at times she would listen to you Were there times that she wouldn't?

A Yes

Q And when she didn't listen to you, how did that affect, you know, you all's communication and your relationship?

A Well, I mean, it hurt it She would remind me several times, "I'm not staff I'm your wife " And she was absolutely right And so I tried to have my communications with her It wasn't like I was talking to my Chief of Staff or Mary-Shea or someone; I would talk to her as somebody who had been in state government for 18 years and somebody who had managed people for 40 years about things that I thought that would be helpful to her, to advise her on how to just take care of people better Because she hadn't been in a management environment She had been out of kind of the office workforce since about 1979. Our last year in Germany she worked at an office for the government over there, but she had been out of it now for some 30 years, and I was trying to help her to understand how to work in that kind of environment.

Q Was that message one she wanted to hear from you?

A It became increasingly clear that I was not the right messenger for Maureen

Q When you say it became increasingly clear, how did it become clear?

A Well, she would challenge me about the things that I really felt in my heart I was trying to do to help. All I wanted, I wanted that office to run well I knew Maureen had a lot of very, very good ideas What I saw starting in the First Lady's Office was very, very good. Publicly, they were getting a lot of acclaim, especially in the area of veterans and tourism and some other initiatives The reports were very good publicly But I knew privately there was just chaos over there And I would talk to her about those things, but she would yell at me She would tell me I was taking the staff's side of it, that I didn't understand what was really going on over there, that they weren't doing things they needed to do. And there may have been some truth to that, but the bottom line is, as the First Lady and as the head of that office, you cannot treat people in a way that's derogatory You will not get the results you need to with your staff if that's the way you do it So I was emphatic and firm, because I thought that was helping her. But oftentimes, sometimes she would listen and many times she just would not accept the message from me

Q So at this point in time, you were going into, I guess, 2011?

A Yes

Q Is that what you are talking about?

A Yes

Q And the sort of level of personal communication between the two of you about things other than logistics or scheduling or kids or whatever, did that improve?

A No, it was very infrequent We tried early on. I asked my scheduler, "Put things on the schedule, put time for a lunch on the schedule I've got to, I hate to say it, but I actually have to schedule this time to set aside from the rest of my many duties Put time on the schedule for a lunch or on a birthday or Valentine's Day Put a dinner on there that I am going to make sure nothing gets in the way and I'm going to try to spend time with my wife "

Q Let me talk about that You had the schedule, lunches with your wife, because of your time commitments as Governor?

A Yes

Q How frequently would you try to schedule something? Once a week, once a month, what?

A We would try to do a couple, maybe, a month that we would put on the schedule I would ask Monica to put that on the schedule. I know Maureen talked to Monica about putting things on the schedule But there were some of those times that, through my fault, I either came late or some I had to cancel because there were other things that came up at the office that I had to do that I thought were important And Maureen told me, you know, "You have put your job over time with me "

Q Did you?

A I did. That was my fault

Q How often would you end up having lunch with your wife a month?

A I mean, it might have been once a month More frequently for dinner and I was in town, but more nights than not I was gone or I was at the office until ten or eleven.

Q Aside from a birthday event or some special event like that, how often were you having dinner with your wife at night?

A Very infrequently

Q How many times a month?

A A couple times a month And that was more often than not, it was usually on the couch watching one of the late night news programs

Q How late would you work at night on a regular basis?

A Many, many nights I had events late or I was traveling, I was traveling out of town. Especially in August of 2011, I became the Chairman of the Republican Governors' Association. And I was doing, managing my dad's estate. I was executor of his estate We had a major construction project at my dad's house My duties, apart from being Governor, went up dramatically So I had a lot of duties away from Richmond A lot of travel But at the office, I would spend a fair amount of late nights Sometimes my schedule would say "Private Time" or "Depart for the Executive Mansion " That was just a guide That didn't happen most nights

Q That was aspirational?

A That was aspirational, yes

Q During your term as the Governor, how many days did you travel?

A I think in 2011 and 2012, there was about 470 days, I think, I was either gone all of the day or traveling outside of Richmond a part of the day It was substantial Some of those were in-state, some of them were around the country And many of them, I did nine international trade trips Maureen went, I think, on maybe half of those, but I was gone a lot

Q She went on half of the international trade trips?

A I would say about half of them, yes

Q With respect to the rest of the travel, were you generally with her or not?

A The majority of those, not, especially political travel for the Republican Governors' Association. If I was doing fundraising for the RGA or campaigning for another candidate, most of those I was with Phil Cox, generally, because he was the head, he was the Executive Director and I was the Chairman of the RGA.

Q When you were in town at the Mansion at night just on a regular basis or whatever, what is the schedule; how late do you work; when does she go to bed; et cetera? Is there a gap there, simultaneous, or what?

A You know, it differed. We got in different routines Maureen works out a lot The last couple of years I've been working out more And she would typically do it in the morning She is more of a morning person; I'm a little bit more of a night person And she would, so she would go to bed a little earlier, sometimes ten, eleven, and that's the time I would have my time, no phones I would be at my office desk in the Governor's Mansion and I would be able to think and think about the next day or think about long term strategy or read my read file or return e-mails or make phone calls or just. you know, actually have time just for me to think, pay bills, help my kids with their college problems, whatever. I spent a lot more time, the things that my children needed, as they got older, I spent a lot more time having to do things with them, particularly with college, jobs, finances, things that they had questions about So that was really my time to be able to do that That's why you see a lot of late night e-mails and texts with people and staff, because that's when I did a lot of my better thinking

Q So your schedules did not match in that sense, either?

A No

Q Did you purposely, you know, regardless of obligations or emergencies or things you absolutely had to do, did there come come a time in this relationship when you just stayed away because it was difficult?

A Yes

Q Did that include going to bed late or getting up early or what? What did that mean?

A It included staying in the office later But there was always plenty to do. It wasn't like I had to make anything up to do There was always much more to do because I wanted to get a lot of things done in those four years And a lot of my staff were there My staff was incredibly hard working They were often there until seven, eight, nine themselves. My scheduler would be there almost until 8 o'clock at night My folks were incredibly dedicated and hard working We had many, many things to do There was a stretch there particularly in 2011, sometimes 2012, when the frequent conversation when I would come home would be a complaint about somebody on her staff or somebody on my staff And I remember telling Maureen, "Maureen, I can't deal with this We've got great staff These are good people That's why we spent time hiring them. I just -- I can't have you complain about staff We've got to take -- let's take care of them and encourage them. And, you know, if you've got something specific, I'll ask Martin to deal with it " But I got to the point where I just couldn't come home and listen to that So there were nights I have to say I spent more time at the office than the schedule might have demanded because I just had a hard time dealing with that

Q Because of your job duties, did you have the time in the day to deal with, to interact more with your wife, or was that all-consuming in general?

A Well, there were events Maureen was a very good hostess when we had Mansion events She traveled with me on some events around town.

Q I'm just talking about generally Generally, in terms of communication, you had a lot to do in your job; is that correct?

A Yes. Exceptional amount, yes

Q In terms of trying to make time, one way or another, for efforts at personal communication, did you have not only the temporal, the time bandwidth, did you have the emotional bandwidth to deal with that?

A No, I didn't I had one four-year term. I had a huge number of things that I had promised to do. I hired people that I knew were 100 percent on board with me. They wanted to get things done And I thought I'll do the best I can to work with Maureen, to get things done that she wanted to do with her FLITE program, but I'm going to focus on getting my job done and doing it the very best I can

Q So would it be fair to say that basically, for those four years, or particularly in 2011 and 2012, that you put your marriage on hold?

A Yes I just couldn't make progress

Q Going forward into 2011, did there come a time in that year, September particularly, when you learned about difficulties between Mary-Shea and your wife?

A Yes

Q Tell us about those

A I think it was about maybe the second week in September of 2011 I don't know if Maureen first called me or when I came home, but she was very, very upset And she told me that Mary-Shea apparently had been working behind her back to try to get a job with Jonnie Williams, and she felt like she was using the government database and our political database to find clients for her job, that she had been planning to leave her

And Maureen expressed this great sense of betrayal to me, this person, you know, that I had recommended and I had hired and I really believed would safeguard Maureen's interest, and I had not really, for the most part, to my knowledge had

Q Let me stop you there

A And she was very upset about it Very upset

Q Did you have any personal knowledge of whether or not Mary-Shea had done these things without your --

A No Absolutely not I mean, I knew that she -- there were staff issues over there I knew Mary-Shea felt that she was having trouble dealing with Maureen on a day-to-day basis But in terms of her looking for a job with Jonnie Williams or looking in our database or having some contract or anything out there, I had no knowledge of that

Q And at this point, did you do anything to try to get

Mary-Shea to stay?

A Well, I talked to Maureen for a few days first to see what her view was I know she had several meetings with Mary-Shea and they went through, I think, her computer to find out if there -- what else, were there other people that she might have been trying to approach for a job or whether there was any breach of our security or whatever

And I knew that this was a precarious situation I didn't know if the relationship could be restored at that point because of the betrayal that I heard from my wife about this; that she was planning to sort of leave her behind her back and not say anything to her

So on the 16th of February, I --

Q 16th of September?

A I'm sorry Excuse me I talked to Martin Kent, actually, before that, and I said "Martin, I" -- you know, I said, "This is what I found out " I think Martin was aware of it because he talked to Mary-Shea about it So this is -- this is a bad situation You know, it's been bad for a while over there with communication But now that we've got this plan of Mary-Shea to think about leaving with this contract, I said, "I" -- "I don't know whether this relationship can be salvaged I mean, I feel, all things considered, I'd like to have Mary-Shea stay, but I don't know if Maureen really, at this point, wants her to stay, and I don't know if Mary-Shea is able to stay So I'd like to have a meeting, just the four of us, and let's talk about it and see if we can try to find any way to save this and put this relationship back together "

Because, you know, I had trusted Mary-Shea. I had known her for years, and I thought she was the right person

Q And you had that meeting, I take it?

A I did Yes

Q And the result of the meeting was what?

A Well, Martin and I did most of the talking And it was pretty evident after that meeting that there was not going to be a reconciliation with Maureen and Mary-Shea And so I told Maureen -- I told Martin, I said, you know, "We have to effectuate her termination It's just not going to work "

Q Okay And that all occurred in October of 2011?

A It did Mary-Shea --

Q The final termination occurred or --

A It did

Q -- she finally left in October; is that correct?

A She left sometime in October I mean, she wanted to resign But I think it actually -- the official action was a termination But she left in -- sometime in early

October of 2011, yes

Q All right And going forward at the end of 2011, were there plans to find a new Chief of Staff for Ms McDonnell?

A There was In fact, there was a decision made I think sometime in October, and there was a new person brought in But it became evident within a couple weeks that it wasn't a good fit, and I think she only lasted a month and she left

Q When you say "it wasn't a good fit," does that mean that the new person had trouble dealing with Ms McDonnell?

A I think it was both ways But it -- for whatever reason, it just became evident immediately, both to my wife and to -- and to Martin Kent, that this was not going to work, and so we -- she left

Q Going into the first part of 2012, the early part of 2012, were you aware at the time -- we've seen the letter in court from the -- from all the Mansion staff where they, in mass, basically are saying if things don't improve, we're going to leave, all leave

Were you aware of that? Did you see that in realtime?

A I learned about it, I think, shortly after it was given to the Chief of Staff What I understood is it never went to my wife

Q Martin intercepted it?

A I think maybe that's a fair characterization

Q It was addressed to Ms McDonnell, but Martin got it?

A Yes

Q Is that because the staff -- did you understand the staff was afraid to give it directly to your wife?

A I don't -- maybe I don't really know Probably

Q All right So anyway, Martin talked to you about it. Did you read the letter at that time or did you just hear about the general contents or what?

A I think both Shortly after that But I was more briefed on the contents And at some point, and I don't remember when, but at some point Martin actually gave me a copy of the letter

Q Were you surprised about all this?

A Well, by early '12, we had already -- Martin and I had already coordinated for Mr Burck and Ms Pierce to come in, these Ph D s from VCU I knew we needed help after that second Chief of Staff left in a month So that had happened in late October, early November, but -- so I thought we're making some -- some progress But -- so to hear about this in 20 -- January, February 2012, that it was that acute and that everybody over there was thinking of quitting, I -- I was -- I was surprised

Q Give me some context here, just briefly, about that time frame, January, February 2012, in terms of your business duties Just what were those like at that -- without great detail --

A Yeah

Q -- just tell me what was going on Was it a more difficult or less difficult time in your governorship?

A I think that was probably the most -- the most difficult time that I had as Governor I had -- coming off the 2011 elections, the Senate of Virginia was split 20/20, Republican/Democrat, with a Republican Lieutenant Governor The Senate Republicans had essentially taken over the -- all the committees, and there was a great deal of partisan angst in the Senate

So I knew from the first day of that legislative session in January of 2012 that we were in for a rough road This was the first budget that I had introduced as Governor, because you only introduce the budget every two years So I had introduced this budget And you need 21 votes to get a budget And if I didn't convince some of the Democrats to work with us, I'd have no budget And the worst thing that a Governor can do is to have a fiscal breakdown in the Commonwealth And it was evident, well, again, right at the beginning, that's where we were headed and that's what happened

Secondly, I was asked to do an awful lot right then for Mitt Romney That's why I endorsed him in January and started traveling to South Carolina, Florida, a lot of other places

I had just been elected for a full term as the Chairman of the Republican Governors Association in November. We had a number of races that year. And so I had the duty of managing that organization, a goal of raising $55 million that year for the Republican Governors Association

I'm still working on my dad's estate My sister had a crisis in her marriage with Mike Uncapher, and I had more duties that I had to get engaged with with the MoBo business And now I've got a disaster at the Governor's Mansion with people saying they are going to quit

And I'm a pretty strong guy, but that was a lot I had a lot -- a lot on my plate right then And I had all of the bills that I wanted to get passed We had major priorities in 2012 on higher education reform, on pension reform, on transportation, on K-12 reform, on a number of things that I wanted to get done, which would take a considerable amount of emotional energy to meet with legislators every day

And it was okay I signed up for this, but it was a lot And the letter and the crisis with the First Lady's office was -- was another major hit

Q At this time frame, in the January 2012 time frame, how is your marriage doing?

A It's -- you know, there's -- there's limited, very limited communication Again, it was just almost solely logistics I know Maureen is -- the amount of stress, particularly after all of the public speaking that she had had -- she did in '11 and the new things that she was having to do now in 2012 and the significant amount of travel that I was now doing and away from home, I mean, as bad as -- as much as I had done during the campaign and during my early years as Governor, this was probably the peak of the time that I was gone and emotionally, physically unavailable to her

And I know -- you know, she was doing a lot more public speaking, and she had almost -- on most speeches she'd ask me to edit the speech for her Even though my speechwriter would help her with that, many nights when I'm, you know -- if we were -- many nights she'd ask me -- I would be trying to work on something else, and she'd say, "Can you edit my speech?"

And I have to say, I didn't react very well I didn't handle it well very I said, "Maureen, you've got a Chief of Staff You've got my speechwriter They can help you with this " And I wasn't very good with her about that And I know I pushed her away But she -- many times, I would, though I'd edit her speech once or twice And she would fret over these speeches for days before she'd give it, but then she'd give it incredibly well I heard a lot of them But she would -- the stress buildup for her was intense And I -- again, I was only able to offer her very limited help on this issue

Q With respect to bringing in the professionals, Jim Burke, who testified here in court --

A Yes

Q -- was that -- was that an effort, in part, by you to have a different messenger?

A Well, in part, that And, in part, that the problems were exceeding my skill set when it came to organizing the First Lady's office Mary-Shea left The other lady was there for three or four weeks and left And I talked to Martin and I said, "Martin, there's some organizational dysfunction over there I'm not able to help Maureen the way I think that I need to help her in terms of managing this small staff " And so I -- you know, "What do you think? What can we do?"

So collectively, we came out with the idea of bringing in some outside help Martin is the one that actually found and suggested Jim Burke I knew Jim a little bit from time in the Attorney General's Office

But he found Dr Burke and Ms Pierce and said, "I think these people" -- "this is what they do They are organizational experts They are crisis managers I think these would be the right people to come in and help analyze the office "

We knew we were going to need new staff because we had the chief staff person leave And, "I think they can be the ones to help " And I said, you know, "Martin, that's a good idea Let's do it "

So in very short order, Mr Burke was brought in and came over And I think he's described to some degree yesterday what he started doing And I -- I talked to him a little bit at the beginning and said, "Hey, this is my view of the situation, and, you know, I need your help I need your help not only in the organizational things, but I'm having a tough time effectively communicating with my wife on a myriad of things, but particularly about how" -- "how" -- "how her role as the First Lady She's not a public official Mary-Shea is in charge" -- "or the Chief of Staff is in charge of the office, but everybody looks to the First Lady because it's her initiatives, and I need your help with her communicating how to deal with the staff "

Q Did you ever talk with him, to Mr Burke, about counseling issues?

A I believe at one point, after he had been there a couple months, he brought that up to me Yes

Q And what was your reaction to that or what was your side of it?

A Well, I wanted his advice I mean, I hadn't been able to be particularly successful at that point I thought, again, the public part of the First Lady's office was going well The private part was a disaster It just was constant chaos And so I said, "I need your help telling me what I should do Not just with the office, but in a personal basis and working with Maureen " And so he made a couple recommendations So the -- he did recommend counseling

I was -- I listened, but I -- you know, I had recommended and talked to my wife several times before about counseling, especially during my time as Governor And I was willing, as busy as I was, to try to do something to help, particularly after all of the things that happened to her in 2010 She was so much more anxious about the job And so I talked to her about it, and her reaction was, "We're not going to be able to keep that private We can't keep it confidential If we go to a counselor, people will talk " I explained to her, "They have a clinical duty, they have a privilege" -- "we have a privilege They can't talk " But for that, and other reasons, she just -- we just didn't do it

And so while I listened to Mr Burck, I had suggested that before, and we -- we didn't get anywhere on that

Q Let me go back --

THE COURT: We're going to stop now --

MR ASBILL: I'm sorry.

THE COURT: -- for morning break Fifteen minutes

(Recess taken from 11:17 a m until 11:38 a m)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right Mr Asbill

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Mr McDonnell, with respect to Dr Burke and the issues that you discussed with him and also with your wife, the counseling issues, did those include mental health counseling?

A I understood him to suggest that too Yes

Q All right

MR ASBILL: I want you to turn -- I want to pull up an exhibit, RM-290 Would you please pull that up

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize this document?

A Yes

Q That's an e-mail to you from Dr Burke?

A Yes, it is

Q On February 2nd --

A Yes

Q -- 2012?

MR ASBILL: I want to move the admission of this

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR. DRY: Objection Relevancy as to what Mr Burke is --

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And in summary, what does Dr Burke and Linda, his colleague, say to you?

A He's responding to a meeting we had that day, and it says, "Thanks for your complete candor and authenticity today "

I had told him that in addition to -- and I had told him before, but I said, "In addition to the organizational problems," I said, "Jim, I need your help I can't communicate with my wife Our marriage is" -- "is" -- "you know, we're having trouble And I've got two more years to govern, and we're having trouble with her staff And Maureen is" -- "she's got this great job, but she's angry She doesn't treat staff right She's, you know, hurting my ability to govern in a way because I'm spending too much time having to put out fires over here at the Governor's Mansion I need your help "

Q All right

A And this was -- this is his response to me

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: We can take that down.

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me go back, for a second, to the September 2011 time frame, the sort of start of the Mary-Shea issues and the ramping up of that, as you've described, into -- into the January 2012 time frame And I want you to take a look at --

MR ASBILL: I want to pull up RM-111

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize this?

A Yes, I do

Q What is it?

A This is -- this is an e-mail I sent to Maureen on Labor Day of 2011

Q That's Labor Day, Monday, September 5th, 2011?

A Yes

MR ASBILL: I move the admission of this, Judge

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is five days, or so, after the Mansion lunch that we've heard so much about?

A Yes

Q And this is an e-mail from you to your wife?

A Yes

Q On Monday of Labor Day weekend; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And before we get into the details of this e-mail, was there anything in particular that precipitated this e-mail?

A Yes

Q What was that?

A I had, for the first time in I don't know how long, actually blocked an entire weekend to be home Typically, on Labor Day, I go and do different events But I had canceled those things, and I was going to spend three days at home with my wife

And after my last event on Friday, I came up -- and I was planning on doing some fun things for the weekend We'd watch a movie or we could walk down by the river We could talk We could catch up on things And starting right away on Friday night, Maureen was angry I didn't even know what it was about It was something small, which it usually would be

And, you know, I told her, "I've taken this weekend off so we could actually spend time together " And -- and she continued to be upset and not really wanting to engage with me on anything, and so I sort of spent Saturday apart from her after that I was -- I was hurt I was upset with her because I had allocated this time finally to be able to spend a little time together. And so we had a real meltdown on Friday, and then the whole time Saturday -- Saturday basically apart

Q How about Sunday?

A Sunday, as we typically do, we went to church, and --

Q Other than that, were you together or apart?

A Well, we were in the same house But I tried to reengage her and see if we could do something constructive together, and --

Q So let me --

A -- I just didn't get anywhere We just were not able to communicate We were not able to talk about anything of any substance And she was yelling at me She had almost uncontrollable anger I had seen it before, but this weekend was particularly pronounced

And I was -- I was upset with her I was feeling heartbroken that, you know, maybe this was the end of my marriage Maybe we were done because I just couldn't talk to her

Q So you chose to write her an e-mail?

A I did

Q And this is the e-mail?

A It is Because I could not talk to her If I began to talk -- and I had been down this road before for many times to try to talk to her about things of substance that I thought we needed to change, improve, things that she needed to do differently, I needed to do differently And this is yet another example of things going back many years of it not working But this -- this weekend was particularly heartbreaking to me because I thought there was some hope that we'd spend some productive time together

MR ASBILL: Judge, if you'd permit, I'd like my client to read this e-mail to the jury

THE COURT: No, sir They can read it for themselves

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Can you -- can you summarize, then, for us some of the points that you were trying to make?

A Well, I -- many of the things that I talked to her about, I'd always try to talk to her by saying "I love you " We had been married for 38 years I've known her for 41 years We've raised five children And I made -- I made a vow that I would love her for life But I told her that --

Q Did you make mea culpas, in general, for anything that you -- co-mission, omission, that you may have done during the course of the marriage?

A Yeah I sought forgiveness of anything that I had done to hurt her that explains this anger I'm sorry

Q Did you talk about her anger and hatred for you?

A I did I had told her, for a while, that the way she was responding to me, that this was not a marriage I felt -- I felt hatred I felt anger for her I was -- I thought I was trying to help her to get some things done

And this particular weekend, she had -- I used the term "fiery anger and hate from you" and threats to wreck my things She had said some things that were just completely irrational to me about wrecking my things And I was -- I told her it was one of the lowest points in my life I mean, I tried I would try to do some things to be able to keep this marriage on track, but it looked like -- it looked like, at this time, that despite everything else that was going positive with our governance, that my marriage was -- was about done

A She -- she was angry She would not talk to me about problems that we were facing Because if you don't confront them, I felt there's no way to -- to be able to fix them And I was -- I was hurting very badly And because I couldn't talk to her, I had to write the e-mail I had to get it off my chest I had to do it in a way that I knew that I didn't have to worry about her response right then I could just tell her everything and let her read it and absorb it But it -- these were things that just had to be said

Q Did you tell her that, you know, she tells you that -- how bad her life has been with you and how unhappy she is? Just a yes or no

A She did

Q Did you tell her how spiritually and emotionally you were exhausted?

A I did This was -- this was like the end of the rope, in a way, for me I just -- I had heard these complaints about people, about things, about me just so many times I just didn't -- I just didn't feel like I could take it anymore, and she needed to know that, and that if we weren't going to have a marriage, then I'm just going to -- I'm just going to keep putting my heart and soul into governing If she wanted to work with us to try to fix the marriage, I'm a hundred percent in I'll do whatever it takes to try to make this work, but I can't -- I just couldn't take it anymore

Q Okay

A I just couldn't take this anger, yelling, and sweating the small stuff, you know Let's talk about the big stuff

Q Okay

MR. ASBILL: We can take that down

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Did you ever get a response from your wife to this e-mail?

A No

Q Do you -- you now know that, from the events in this trial, that -- that your wife, on that same day that you sent this e-mail, had four contacts with Jonnie Williams that day?

A I learned that about a month ago

Q With respect to any difficulties in your marriage while you were Governor, did you try to put on a good face to the public --

A Sure

Q -- about your marriage?

A Yes

Q Why did you do that?

A You know, I'm not going to -- I'm not going to air my personal problems in public I was the Governor And I didn't really even talk to my children or my close friends about problems that Maureen and I were having I felt that -- especially after this -- this e-mail, that, you know, I might have to wait until after I'm out of office and then go back and try to deal with this

But at this point, you know, when we're out in public, Maureen -- I think Maureen seemed to still enjoy public events And she understood, at least, you know, in some part, her role as a public First Lady And so, obviously, when we were out or hosting people at the Mansion or doing events at different places, we -- we put on the best face that we could And, you know, obviously, there were some things we enjoyed as well, doing some things that we got to do as Governor

Q With respect to the personally difficult issues in your marriage, those were things that you didn't want to share Is that fair?

A Absolutely not

Q All right Today, as we speak, what's the state of your marriage?

A I mean, we -- we don't communicate much It's, I think, basically on hold You know, the last 18 months have been incredibly difficult for each of us personally And with all the other challenges we've had in the marriage, the strain of investigation, indictment, has been -- has been just a crushing event in our lives And so we've -- it's been very hard for us to really communicate about really anything substantive

Q At present, are you living together?

A No

Q And where are you living?

A I'm living with my pastor/director at St John's Church -- at St Patrick's Church.

Q And when did you start living there?

A About a week before the trial

Q Why?

A Because I knew that there was no way that I could go home after a day in court and have to rehash with my wife things that happened in this trial I needed to be able to focus I knew that I was going to testify to the jury and in this court, and I knew that I had to be fresh I had to think through things I had to look at documents I needed -- I wanted to be close to my legal team And I just didn't have the emotional ability to go home and revisit things every night with Maureen

Q Are there things that you've learned during the course of this trial or from the documents that have been provided in discovery that you didn't know about various things your wife was doing?

A Many things

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor Relevancy as far as what he's learning about during the trial

THE COURT: Overruled

A Many things Yes

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Has it been hard for you to hear some of those things or read some of those things?

A Yes

Q Knowing what you now know today, from whatever sources, do you think that your wife had a physical affair with Jonnie Williams?

A I don't -- I don't believe so

Q Do you think she had a strong emotional attachment to Mr Williams?

A Yeah Probably Probably so Yes

Q Was she getting that kind of emotional support from you?

A No

Q Were you aware that she was friends with Jonnie Williams or good friends with Jonnie Williams?

A Sure Yes, I was

Q And -- and what was your reaction to that?

A Well, I trusted Jonnie Williams I mean, I liked him from the first time I met him He was an entrepreneur He was a dreamer He was a Virginia business CEO And what I liked is he had this same passion for nutraceuticals that my wife had

Q Let me stop you right there What did you think about his relationship, whatever it may have been, with your wife?

A Well, I thought it was -- I thought it was healthy The bond over nutraceuticals was, I think, what started it And he's kind of a charming, funny guy He's married, four kids I don't think there was going -- there was any problem with that And my wife seemed to light up around him, seemed to enjoy time that she spent doing things and talking about his company And so I thought it was okay

Q Was she in a better mood when she had talked or seen Jonnie Williams?

A Yeah She seemed to be Yes

Q And was that helpful to you?

A It was And, you know, the things that I was dealing with with Maureen, it was a lot of arguments, a lot of yelling, a lot of unpleasantness in private And if her time with Mr Williams was going to make her affect better, then I thought it was a positive Yes

Q Okay Let me turn to -- let me turn to some of the events that have been testified to in this case The first one I want to talk about is the New York City RGA event in December of 2009 We've heard a lot about that And is that -- you know, how did Mr Williams get invited to that event or why did he get invited to the event or how did that come about?

A I'm not -- I'm not sure I just knew I had it on my schedule that there was a -- we had a quick stop-by, that we were going to visit with him when we went to New York I was up there for other business with the RNC, the Republican National Committee, but I knew I had on my calendar a stop-by to see him

Q All right And at that point, in December of 2009, Mr Williams, as I understand it, had offered his plane on several occasions?

A Yeah. I looked at him as the plane guy We had 15 or so people that let us use planes during the campaign, and he was one of them

Q And did you personally choose the person to ask for a plane --

A No

Q -- or how did that happen?

A Well, Monica, who was my scheduler during the campaign, kept a list of all the people that had agreed to let us use planes A couple of them I might have called in advance just to say, "Could we use your plane at some point during the campaign if I needed it?" And then Monica kept the list, and she would select the -- whoever had the plane available for whatever event I needed to go to

Q Up until this point in December of 2009, do you recall ever meeting with Mr Williams?

A I don't think so I mean, I may have seen him in an airport or something once, but I don't think I -- I can't say that I remember any meeting with him No

Q Okay So was December 9th of 2009, to your knowledge, actually the first time you met him?

A Yes

Q All right In general here, you know, what -- where were you on that day and how did you get to New York, et cetera? What was going on?

A Well, as usual, I'm sure I had some -- I had an early morning -- this is during the transition So I'm working on building a transition team for taking over government in about 45 days And we were asked to go up to New York for me to speak at a Republican National Committee meeting with a bunch of the national donors and so forth And I don't know, I think we had a pretty long day, and we got in that evening Had a couple events that we were supposed to go to, but we had this stop-by scheduled for Mr Williams

Q All right Did you come up on his plane or get there some other way?

A No

Q Which one?

A Oh I -- some other way

Q Okay So you saw him that night at the hotel; is that correct?

A I did

Q All right And you -- you saw him twice that night; is that correct?

A I did That I remember, yes

Q In between, there was a play; is that right? You went to a play?

A There was We had, I think, a 10- or 15-minute greeting that I remember, and then I left My wife and I left to go to one of the -- I think the political donor event I think it was a play And then came back a little later that evening

Q All right With respect to setting up a meeting with Mr Williams as you've described, this initial 10- or 15-minute meeting, did you set that up or did your wife set that up or how did that get set up?

A No It was either -- it would have either been Monica or Adam Zubowsky, one of the two scheduling people, that set that up

Q All right Who was there at the first meeting? Who was present in the room?

A That's five years now But my best recollection is that initially it was Mr Williams And I had Adam Zubowsky and Phil Cox with me, and Maureen, my wife

Q All right When you come back after the play intermission, essentially, what happens then?

A Well, I remember coming back, and he had another gentleman with him that he introduced as Brad, who was a male model in New York

Q Okay And then what occurred after that?

A Well, we were -- we were hungry so we sat down and just got a quick bite to eat and continued to talk with Mr Williams and his friend, Brad And then Phil and Adam were still there We wanted to make it quick because I had a number of early morning TV interviews in New York starting at about 7:00, so it was -- it was not going to be very long

Q And your wife was with you as well?

A Yes

Q All right And do you remember anything about expensive Cognac?

A I do

Q And what do you remember?

A At some point I saw the bottle on the table, and I don't know if it was Mr Williams or somebody else said that he had bought this, I don't know, Louis XIV, I think it was, expensive Cognac And he said he paid $5,000 for the bottle and asked me if I wanted to have a sip

I mean, the purpose of me meeting with him was just basically to thank him for using the plane during the campaign, and so I think I agreed to have a -- have a glass as we were having -- having dinner But that was clearly on the table Yes

Q Well, did there come a time when there was a discussion about an inaugural dress?

A Yes.

Q Tell us about that

A Well, one of the reasons we had gone up there, my wife had -- at that hotel, had actually been measured for a dress She had a referral from Virginia for a seamstress, I think in that hotel, that she met with a referral from I think Ms James or somebody from Richmond

So she started talking about what she was doing up there, about getting measured for the inaugural gown It was 40-some days out from the inaugural And Mr Williams immediately piped up and said, "You need to get a" -- "you need to get a really good dress, and I know Oscar de la Renta " And I remember him taking out his cell phone and holding it up and showing us on his contacts that he had Oscar de la Renta's phone number

Q Let me stop right there Did you know who Oscar de la Renta was?

A I mean, I had heard the name Yes I knew it was a brand name of clothes

Q Okay And Mr Williams does what when he talks about Oscar de la Renta?

A My recollection is he actually placed a call He dialed the number, and he left a message My wife, I know, really lit up because she didn't think he actually knew Oscar de la Renta And then he makes the call But it was all in the context of -- of a gown for the inaugural

Q Did he offer to buy one, or what was your understanding of what he was saying?

A My clear understanding is he said, "I want to get you a gown You need a nice gown for the inaugural, and you don't need to get a local seamstress You ought to" -- "we ought to get you an Oscar de la Renta gown for the inaugural "

Q And what was your reaction to that?

A Well, I knew it wasn't going to happen

Q Why?

A Well, because I wasn't going to let that happen We had -- we had already discussed the inaugural plans, and I just campaigned on a job in economic development platform because I knew people were hurting and we had a very high unemployment rate And we already made a decision to ratchet back the fundraising for the inaugural We were going to try to tame down some of the inaugural balls We were going to have the Food Banks involved in the inaugurals and so forth And so to have my wife in a New York designer gown was really at odds with -- with what we were trying to accomplish at the inaugural for the theme.

Q Did you say no on the spot, right there, to your wife and/or Jonnie Williams?

A No, I didn't

Q Why?

A Well, I could tell she was very -- very excited about that possibility Because she hadn't had the gown yet She was talking to a couple of these seamstresses about possibly doing it And I knew -- I had been talking to Phil Cox earlier I mean, he was with me, and I knew his -- I knew his advice would be the same as mine; we just can't do that

So I figured I -- I said, you know, it was a very nice offer and, you know, we really appreciate that But I figured we'd just tell him no at some point But that just wasn't something we could allow to happen But I wanted to make sure I talked to my wife first and not bring that up in front of her and have the possibility of an argument right in front of this person

Q Was there any discussion about nutraceuticals during this meeting?

A I didn't really know much at that point at all about what Star Scientific did, what their company was all about And, you know, most people, if they get time with me, that's what they're going to talk about They're going to talk about their company, their business, their charity, whatever the case might be

And so Mr Williams did talk about -- before the dress came up even, and the first time when we were there for that first 15 minutes or so, he began to talk a little bit about his company and what he did And it was really just a little bit of a get to know you My purpose was simply to thank him and say, "I appreciate the work" -- "the plane contributions you made to the campaign." But he talked to us a little bit about his company

Q Did your wife and he talk about their mutual interest in nutraceuticals?

A Yes

Q Okay This meeting didn't last long; is that correct?

A My best recollection, it was 30 to 45 minutes Somewhere in that area Because it was starting to get to 11:00, and I knew I had to get up about 5:30 that next morning because I had -- I had early morning interviews

Q And your initial impression of Jonnie Williams was what?

A Well, I mean, I liked him He was -- he was -- he was gregarious He was funny He was charming. He -- in my mind, though, he was a Virginia business guy that had some ideas about creating jobs He was an entrepreneur I like entrepreneurs, and he seemed to have a -- a common connection with Maureen. So, I mean, I liked him

Q Okay. Did you later talk with Phil Cox about the dress issue?

A This was about December 9th At some point after that, I think it was a quick conversation because he and I both agreed that that just wasn't something we could do

Q All right

MR ASBILL: Let me pull up GX 54, which has previously been admitted Blow that up, please This has been admitted into evidence

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you receive this e-mail? Or what do you know about it? Did you know about it in realtime?

A I -- I don't believe I did I -- Maureen talked about the dress I had told her shortly after that that, "We can't do that dress It's just not" -- "it's not right We'll find you a nice dress You continue to pursue things, but we can't get an Oscar de la Renta dress," especially from somebody I really didn't even know

And I found out sometime after this December 21st -- this is right before Christmas and right -- I found out either from Mr Eige or someone that Maureen had written -- had written an e-mail about this, yes

Q You talked to Jasen Eige about this e-mail or about the contents of it?

A I think -- I think I did, yes

Q All right With respect to the things that are said in the e-mail --

MR ASBILL: Let me blow up the second sentence forward Right up above that, please

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Your wife reports to Jasen Eige that you are screaming at her about the thousands that she's charging up in credit card debt Was that true?

A It was half true

Q In what sense?

A Well, I don't scream, so I wasn't screaming at her But I manage the family's finances, and I was aware of what our financial situation was I knew that our credit card debt was -- was very high, and I wasn't comfortable with that level of debt at all

I had -- I had spoken with Maureen on and off really for years when I'd see credit card bills that I thought were too high or I thought there was unnecessary spending And I wouldn't scream at her, but I would say, you know, "Maureen, I" -- "we can't" -- "you can't" -- "I don't think you ought to be spending this money It was too much " And whatever it was, it just seemed like we were -- there was too much stuff that she was buying I said, "You've got to cut back We can't have thousand-dollar credit card bills every month "

So yes, I talked to her about it. And yes, it was -- the debt at that point after the campaign was high.

Q With respect to the "we are broke" language, was that your view?

A No Not at all

Q With respect to the "this inaugural is killing us, explanation point" comment, was that your view?

A No Not at all It was an incredibly joyous thing for me to get ready for that, and -- I mean, we had some expenses we had on our own, but we also had an inaugural fund We had raised about a million, about 1 2, 1 3 million dollars for the inaugural And we had a lot of the expenses for the inaugural that were being paid by the inaugural fund So I thought we had everything fully under control

Q Okay Would that be fair to say from a personal perspective, in addition to the inaugural budget?

A Yeah Sure I knew that I was going to embark on a plan of reducing this credit card debt as we got into the governorship, but it was high It was more -- much higher than I was comfortable with at the time, but that's the situation we had found ourselves in with the campaign and raising kids, et cetera. But I -- I felt I had it under control We weren't missing payments I was paying everything on time It wasn't a problem But I had gotten after Maureen a fair amount and said, "You can't spend like this You need to cut it back."

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Let me take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you hear anything more about the whole dress issue later that year?

A Yes

Q When?

A I called Phil Cox on the day after Christmas and talked to Phil, just to wish him a Merry Christmas And he told me that he had just gotten an e-mail on Christmas Eve from Maureen that was very negative and said that Maureen wasn't -- that Phil was not looking out for my best interests and --

Q Your best or your wife's best?

A My best interests -- and that she ought to be able to get this dress and so forth And that Phil was very upset about it He usually wouldn't bring these things to me, but he was very upset about it

And I was furious with Maureen because no one had been more loyal to me than Phil Cox He had busted his chops for three years to get me elected Governor, and to find out that my wife is questioning Phil's loyalty made me incredibly upset, especially that she would do that on New Year's Eve -- I mean on Christmas Eve

So I told her, I said, "Maureen, this is absolutely inexcusable You can't treat my top guy like this. Phil loves me Phil has done every sacrifice so much for me these last 15 years working on my" -- "or at that point it had been 11 years, working on my campaigns You know, it cost him his marriage He had done everything he could to get me elected We won by 17, 18 points You can't send these e-mails This is ridiculous "

I mean, I was very, very upset with her And I said, "You just" -- "you just can't" -- "you can't treat people like this This is wrong "

Q Do you think she got the message at the time?

A She did I remember a day or two after that I also consulted with one of the legal folks that had been looking at this dress issue, just to make sure I understood legally that we might have some challenges with it, and I went back to Maureen and said, "Look There might be some legal reasons why we can't do this, but this is the end of the dress issue And we can't" -- "this is it " And that was the end of it

Q Let me move forward from there to 2010, to October 2010

A Yes

Q We're going from December 2009 to October 2010 Do you remember being in California then, early October?

A Yes, I do

Q And why were you there?

A Well, again, we had 36 races for Governor in the country that year in November And being on the Executive Committee, the Republican Governors Association, and I knew I was going to take over as Vice Chairman in a month or so, I was asked to do a number of trips to help campaign for candidates for Governor So I was out there to campaign for Meg Whitman She was our candidate for Governor in California

Q And were you out there to also present her a check from the RGA?

A Yes We had a half-a-million-dollar-check we presented to her And I spoke at her -- she had a big rally on a farm, and I presented her a check for a half a million dollars

Q All right And had you had any -- between this December event and New York City in October, some ten months later, had you had any contact with Jonnie Williams?

A No

Q All right Did you use his plane to or from California?

A Yes Again, it seemed like it was sort of a last-minute request Maybe less than a week So it makes it harder to get a plane, especially on a cross country trip So I think -- I'm not even sure who arranged it Either Monica or somebody at the Republican Governors Association But like most events, I find out maybe the day before whose plane it is And we flew out on Mr Williams' plane

Q Did you ask anyone to try to get a plane from Williams --

A No

Q -- or is that just the way it happened?

A No Monica made all those decisions usually

Q Okay And was Mr Williams on the plane in either direction?

A Coming back

Q And where did he get on the plane?

A We were out in Sacramento The event was in the

Sacramento vicinity And I traveled out -- it was -- very rarely I traveled without a staffer Adam -- I believe Adam was supposed to attend, but because of the short notice, he was not able to go And so I think I just went out with my state police officer, a member of EPU

Q And who else was on the plane with you and the VSP person and Mr Williams, aside from the pilots?

A I think that was it, coming back

Q Just the three of you?

A Yes That's my recollection

Q And did you -- so that takes, what, five hours or so?

A Well, it was about six I think we had a couple of refueling stops. So I think it was about six hours coming back

Q All right And during that trip, did you talk with Mr Williams?

A Extensively

Q Were you talking to him or was he talking to you or both?

A I think I did a lot more listening on that trip

Q And, in general, what was he talking about?

A Well, again, I had only had a chance to meet him that one time before in New York about ten months earlier And it was typical Every time I'd fly on a plane with a donor, I'd say half the time, or so, there would be a donor or a representative of the company on the plane, and they'd typically talk about their business

So Mr Williams, we exchanged some pleasantries, talked a little bit more about our families and so forth and backgrounds But he started -- he actually had a PowerPoint, I think, with documents, and he started to run through some of the things about his company, but particularly focusing on the fact that he and his researchers were focusing on a product in the tobacco plant called anatabine The nicotine and others were sort of the bad things, and they had isolated anatabine And his company was now looking at moving from tobacco and smokeless tobacco products into sort of the medical healthcare area, and he was doing a lot of work on this anatabine compound

Q All right And you say this kind of conversation, essentially, not necessarily on anatabine, but in general with respect to donors and they're being on planes with you, was common in your experience?

A Oh, yeah During -- whether it was during the campaigns or during my time as Attorney General, especially as Governor, when I'd fly on a private plane, I'd say at least half the time there was a representative of the company on there Sometimes it was the owner Sometimes the owner was the pilot People like John

Rocovich or Wayne McLeskey, people like that would actually fly the plane and they were the owners People like -- some companies like Dominion had a policy that they wouldn't even let you go on the plane unless there was a company representative on there. Of course, we'd talk about their issues So there was -- people did that as a matter of routine

Q Did Mr Williams talk about his own background and his sort of life story or business experience?

A A little bit I knew he had had a 20-, 30-year career in medical -- the medical area. He talked me about VISX that he had helped to found, in refractive surgery, back the late '80s, and he made a lot of money in selling that business He, I think, told me a little bit about his early days in Fredericksburg when he was in the automotive business It was a little bit of a get to know you, because I really hadn't had that much time yet to know his story

But he clearly had PowerPoint or a series of documents that he took me through about the anatabine plant, some research that was going on I think he said at Hopkins and maybe Roskamp at the time And I remember him specifically talking to me about -- he knew I had -- well, he learned on the plane I had a medical background being a Medical Service Corps Officer in the Army, and then working for American Hospital Supply So I think he understood I learned a -- knew a little bit about this And he talked about this C-reactive protein

Q What's that?

A Well, it's a marker that -- in your blood that measures a particular level that's related to tissue and system inflammation; that if you can reduce C-reactive protein, you reduce inflammation, and therefore, you reduce a lot of systemic, chronic, negative things that could happen in somebody's body

So it was actually -- the science was interesting I understood at least some of it And he was kind of marching through his exhibits And we had six hours on the plane so we had a lot of time to talk about it And so it was actually a fairly -- it was a pretty interesting discussion, for the most part

Q Was the C-reactive protein issue one that was -- that's personal to you as well?

A I remember it because I had had a couple of full -- full lab analyses done of my own because of just some of my own issues, medical issues And so I knew that marker from -- I think, actually, Health Diagnostic Laboratories had done a marker for me And I knew a little bit about that particular marker, and he said that that would reduce that level in your blood

Q Okay Did you all talk about your families?

A We did some I mean, I got to learn he had four children, that we got married about the same year, we're the same age, and that -- talked to me a little bit about his wife, Celeste But not as much as we did maybe at a later dinner together, but a lot of it was -- he spent a lot of time about his business And I did have -- I did take a nap because it was a long trip

Q Did he talk to you about Bar Harbor, Maine, at all?

A I don't think then I think that was at the dinner we had at the Mansion later on

Q And what was the -- what was the issue --

A We both -- we had both honeymooned at Bar Harbor, Maine, my wife and I, in '76 And I think a year -- he was '76 or '77, but at some point he told me that So, I mean, it was just -- we had some common connections with our honeymoon, the number of kids There were just some things that were interesting about him, about the same age.

Q Did Mr Williams ask you for anything on that plane trip?

A I don't remember an ask I do just remember telling him at the end, though, you know, his story was interesting and that I'd be glad to refer him to Dr Hazel I don't remember if I volunteered or whether he asked But in any event, at the end of the trip, I told him he ought to go see Dr Hazel He was the Secretary of Health and Human Resources

Q And why did you think that that would be appropriate?

A Well, he clearly had something that he thought could help grow a Virginia business. It could create jobs It could be -- maybe do research in Virginia And Dr Hazel was probably the only one on my staff that would really fully understand all of the things that he was talking about because he was a physician and he was in charge of health and human resources.

Q Did Mr. Williams have to give you anything for you to make that suggestion that you ought to talk to Hazel?

A No This is something I did literally thousands of times during the time I was governor People always had ideas Every time I was out or meeting with them, there was always something somebody wanted to talk to me about because I had -- I was the Governor and --

Q Did you expect Hazel to do anything other than to meet with the guy?

A No I expected him to listen That's why I hired such great Cabinet people They would listen, evaluate, and, you know, unless I told them something differently, they'd take whatever action that they believed was appropriate

Q All right Did Dr Hazel oversee the universities or the medical schools?

A No That was Secretary Fornash, Secretary of Education

Q Did Dr Hazel oversee the Tobacco Commission?

A No. My appointees or Secretary Cheng, Commerce and Trade. Secretary Haymore from Agriculture And then Secretary Brown from Finance So he didn't have anything to do with Tobacco Commission.

Q With respect to the universities, UVA, VCU, did you ever suggest Jonnie Williams or make a referral for him to Laura Fornash?

A No

Q All right Did there come a time when you -- you were aware or became aware that Mr Williams had actually met with Dr Hazel?

A I don't think it was till much later Because that next -- that next month my father died, just a couple weeks after that November 2nd And so I was getting ready for the session and also having to do a number of things to attend to my dad's affairs And they -- apparently they met right around -- a day or two after my father died So I don't -- I don't remember any discussion with Dr Hazel in that time frame

Q Well, were you aware that the two of them had actually met and connected or did Hazel call you? Did Williams call you?

A Not anywhere near that time that I remember No

Q All right

A But that wouldn't be unusual People meet all the time, and they don't follow up with me I don't -- I don't -- usually I don't ask for follow-up

Q All right Do you recall Mr Williams sending you some sort of press release about Roskamp in the October time frame, October 2010 time frame?

A I mean, I don't at the time I remember seeing an exhibit in court But, again, I got hundreds of those kinds of things where I'd put somebody's name on it and send it out But I don't have any real independent memory of it

Q How many of those kinds of documents would you receive that you'd put in some read folder, as has been described in this case?

A Well, there could be hundreds of those, hundreds of documents a week that I'd get in the read folder to look at

Q Now, did you go through them all or go through them all carefully?

A I'd usually go through them all But, I mean, there was -- depending on how much time I had, which was always the variable Some I'd throw away Some I'd just put the name of a secretary on it, if I thought they might be interested in it Some I'd say, "Read and evaluate " Some I'd say, "See me " But for the most part, I knew that -- unless I felt strongly about some issue in that read file, I would -- I would typically just leave it up to the Cabinet Secretary to make whatever appropriate decision they thought was right

MR ASBILL: Let me pull up RM-267. Go back to the cover e-mail

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize this e-mail?

A Not really

Q This is Pam Watts sending something to Bill Hazel?

A Yeah She would do these things routinely for me Yes

MR ASBILL: Go to the second page

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you understand what she is sending?

A Yes This is -- this would have been a note that I would have put just, "Dr Hazel, please advise," on an issue with Virginia Association of Durable Medical Equipment They had raised an issue here about something they wanted to have done And I -- this would have been something I had done literally thousands of times as Governor, just to send something to a Cabinet Secretary

Q All right. Are these typical of things that you just described in terms of forwarding something on to the relevant --

A Yes

Q -- person?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: I move the admission of this.

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR ASBILL: You can take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me go to another event I want to forward to -- or forward or backwards or whatever Forward to April 13th, 2011, the New York City shopping spree that we've heard so much about --

A Yes

Q -- during the course of this trial In a nutshell, what were you working on early in the first quarter, first third of 2011?

A Well, I had just finished the General Assembly session That 90-day stretch, usually from mid-January to mid-April, is almost totally consumed with the General Assembly 45-five or 60-day session And then I've got 30 days to review 900 bills, resolutions, the entire budget and decide if I'm going to sign, veto or send things back And then the General Assembly usually leaves by mid-April or so First -- in that -- that was a short session So they would have left about the first week in April So I had just finished that, and I'm transitioning into a thousand Board appointments and getting ready for an economic development trip

Q Okay That was -- was that a big year for your party?

A It was also a tremendously important year for me politically in terms of state politics Virginia has off-year elections In 2011, all 140 members of the House and the Senate were up for re-election, and many of them were asking me to campaign for them And I also wanted to try to win back the Virginia Senate for my party because I thought it would be easier to get things done the second half of the year At that point it was 20 -- I believe 22/18

Q What do you mean it was 22/18?

A Oh, I'm sorry Twenty-two Democrats, 18 Republicans I believe that was the -- or maybe 21/19 I don't -- but anyway, I was working on trying to elect more members of -- more Republicans to the Senate So I was spending a lot of time raising money for our Political Action

Committee and traveling and campaigning for people as well

Q Okay Let's go to the 12th or the 11th of April Do you recall a Union League event around that time?

A Well, it was a PAC event at the Union League building in New York Yes

Q All right First, I want to talk to you about the 12th That -- do you know what was going on that day?

MR ASBILL: And let me pull up RM-0178-0559, which has previously been admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is your calendar?

A Yes

Q All right So what was going on for you that day?

A I mean, this would be a typical day Meeting with legislators I met with the President of the University of Richmond I had a couple hours, as I mentioned, dedicated to filling Board appointments with Secretary Kelly there at 10:00 I had some meetings with some of the House Republican leaders I was working on this issue with the VCU parking lot and the former slave grave site here in Richmond I had several calls I had to record some videos I had a Government Reform Commission meeting talking about redistricting, because that was a redistricting year And then we had to depart about 4:00

I went up to a fundraiser in Northern Virginia for the Governor of Louisiana

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: You can take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And ultimately, do you go to New York?

A Yeah And then we leave after -- after the event for Governor Jindal, we went to New York, flew up to New York that night

Q Whose plane?

A It was the private plane because I was doing some political fundraising in New York so we couldn't -- we don't use the state plane for that So I believe that one was Doug Combs He was one of the 15, 20 people that would let us use their plane

Q Okay And who went with you to New York?

A Maureen went Her Chief of Staff, Mary-Shea Sutherland went Paige Hahn, who was my -- she was my fundraiser because we knew we were doing a number of meetings with donors in New York, in the New York area Because one of the chief reasons I went was to raise money for my Political Action Committee with some people in New York and cultivate new donor relationships in New York And so she was organizing these events and the dinner that night at the Union League, and so she was with me And as always, a member of the State Police Executive Protection Unit

Q Did you have any meetings that day before the event that you recall?

A Sure. I had a full day of meetings

Q With donors?

A Donors and potential donors Yes

Q All right Do you recall anybody in particular that you met with at that time?

A Yeah. That day I know we went to meet, I think, with Mr McInerney, distinguished businessman in Connecticut, and then Paul Tudor Jones, who is a big benefactor at UVA, and several others

We were talking to people that had Virginia connections or were University of Virginia graduates That was primarily the people that I was talking to that day

Q Paul Tudor Jones is a big hedge fund guy?

A Yes The Jones Arena at UVA is named after his dad

Q Okay And what was your wife doing that day, the 13th?

A The 13th She was -- she was doing some shopping

Q With Mary-Shea?

A I understood she was doing some -- in the morning Yes

Q And did you have any understanding that she was -- shopping for what? Just in general or for some event?

A Well, the primary thing she was looking for was a dress for my daughter's wedding My daughter got married on June 4th, and so that was a couple months out And she was looking for -- primarily for a dress for the wedding and maybe another dress to wear during that wedding weekend

Q Okay So you knew that Mary-Shea and your wife were going shopping; is that right?

A Yes

Q Did you know that they were meeting with Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q And what was your understanding of that?

A I didn't know Again, I usually don't plan my wife's schedule She's doing that on her own But I knew that they were going to meet with Mr Williams either for lunch or sometime in the afternoon and that he was going to show them some New York stores

I knew from that time we had seen him in New York with that male model that he knew -- and talked about Oscar de la Renta, that he knew fashion and he knew some of those stores up there and that he was going to just show them a couple stores, Mary-Shea and Maureen, where she might be able to find that dress

Q Did you have any idea that -- that there was this rain check conversation between your wife and Mr Williams?

A No I absolutely didn't No

Q No idea that -- going back to the inaugural dress, that your wife was having communications with Mr. Williams saying, "Now it's okay" -- you know, we're in April '11 "It's now okay with my husband for you to take me shopping in New York"?

A No No

Q You understood that they -- they did shop that day; is that right?

A I do Because I finished -- when I finished my last -- yes, I did

Q Okay Did Mr Williams ever tell you or ask you whether it was okay with you for him to buy clothes for your wife?

A No

Q Did you see any shopping bags that Mary-Shea or your wife may have had as a result of shopping that day?

A Yes

Q Did you know what was in the bags?

A No

Q Did you ever see what was in the bags?

A No

Q Did you talk to her about what she had purchased?

A I did briefly She told me she had gotten a couple of items, a couple of dresses

Q Did you ask her what the cost was?

A I didn't

Q Why not?

A One, I figured I'd probably -- I'd see it on the credit card, if it was my credit card that she had used And I figured after the many discussions we had about credit cards, that whatever she got, that she would keep it within appropriate limits

And I saw -- when I was heading to the Union League dinner, I went in a separate vehicle, and she and Mary-Shea were going back to the hotel And I saw two bags that they were carrying I think they each had one bag, a big bag But I didn't know -- I didn't know what was in it But Maureen told me she -- I think she told me she got a couple of dresses

Q Okay Did you know that Mary-Shea was bought a dress by Jonnie Williams?

A No

Q Did she ever tell you that?

A Did Maureen tell me? No

Q No Did Mary-Shea ever tell you that?

A No, Mary-Shea didn't tell me either No

Q That night you went to the PAC event at the Union League?

A Yes

Q And there was a reception in advance of the dinner; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And how did you get to that event?

A When I finished my last meeting, I think it was around 4:30 or 5:00 that night, Maureen and Mary-Shea, there was a -- I think two New York state trooper cars They usually were courteous and let us use their cars when we're up in New York And Maureen and Mary-Shea went back to the hotel, I think, to put their bags down and to change And then I went -- Mr Williams and I and my fundraiser, Paige Hahn, went to the event at the Union League

Q And during that trip when you're going over to the event at the Union League, would I be right in thinking that Mr Williams told you that, "I have just had the most awkward day in my life with your wife"?

A No He didn't say anything like that

Q Did he say anything at all about buying anything for Mary-Shea or your wife?

A No No, he didn't

Q At the event, did he sit next to you?

A Yes He was at my table I think Paige Hahn coordinated the seating, which she would normally do at an event like that She's my fundraiser, and she does the events And typically at my table would have been anybody who was a big donor By that time, Mr. Williams had donated about -- I think probably 70, $80,000 in flights to my campaign and my PAC So that would have been normal to put him there

And then the New York organizers of the event were there I think there were about five or six New York people that had Virginia connections that were also at my table But I -- I didn't spend a lot of time at the table

Q Did Mr Williams have to do anything for you or your wife to get that seat at that table?

A No

Q Anything with a shopping trip in New York?

A No I mean, he was -- probably would have been assigned there anyway because he probably was the largest donor there with his airplane contributions at that point

Q Did you have anything to do with seating him next to you?

A No

Q At any time going forward until the investigation broke in this case, did your wife or Mary-Shea or Mr Williams ever tell you that Mr Williams had purchased $20,000 worth of clothing --

A No

Q -- for your wife or Mary-Shea?

A No I didn't know until maybe a month or so after the investigation

Q What did you do the next day, April 14th?

MR ASBILL: I'm going to pull up RM-0178-0561 that's previously been admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is your calendar for the 14th?

A Yes

Q In essence, what did you do that day?

A Well, I left early Maureen, I think, was still asleep in the room because I had a very early -- I think I had a 5:30, or so, wake-up, with 6 department, because I had these two national interviews on MSNBC and FOX News So I left very early

I had a couple meetings And I actually had another fundraising lunch there with another hedge fund manager, Mr Griffin, at noon And then I had to go to New Jersey -- I had a couple other meetings, and then I had to go to New Jersey for -- a couple of Governors, I think, were there We did a -- we spoke at the annual Board meeting of PhRMA, which is the Pharmaceutical Research Manufacturers Association And so I had to go over to New Jersey for that And then I believe we -- I think we met back at the airport after that, and Maureen and Mary-Shea and others met us back at the airport

Q Were they already -- were their items already packed on the plane or did you see that?

A That would be typical They would have packed, and they would have already had their stuff loaded on the plane And I think my stuff would have been loaded from my vehicle and put on the plane at that point

Q And on the way back, did you all go together to the same place?

A Well, we flew from New York, but I -- I got dropped off in D C because I had other events in D C that next morning And my best recollection is Maureen and Mary-Shea continued on to Richmond But I got out in Northern Virginia at -- I think at Dulles

Q All right What -- do you know what happened to the clothes that Mary-Shea and Maureen got on that trip?

A No

Q Do you have any sense or did you at any time have any sense of the cost of women's dresses, shoes, et cetera?

A No I mean, I occasionally by myself -- I buy Maureen some things, but, you know, I'd shop at a department store and buy her something for a hundred dollars or so I mean, I -- I rarely would shop for Maureen because -- the answer is no, I really don't

Q How about yourself, in terms of your own clothes shopping?

A JoS A Bank is my place I usually go

Q That's your designer?

A Yeah And -- yes

Q Did you know that after this trip, in the middle of April of 2011, that your wife and Mr Williams began contacting each other one way or another on a -- multiple times a day or on a quasi regular basis?

A I knew there were a couple of contacts after that But, I mean, I had no idea until about a -- maybe a month and a half or two months ago when I saw the phone records there were 1,200 or so conversations or communications completed or attempted over the last couple years I was -- I was really shocked to see that number

Q All right Let's move on to the April 29th, 2011, dinner at the Mansion

A Yes

Q Tell us about that event

A Yeah After --

MR ASBILL: You can take this down, please

A Sure I mean, after the session ended in April of

'11, I had been in office now for about 15 months We were getting geared up to go to a lengthy trade mission in China And I told Maureen, probably in March or so, that, you know, I've been Governor for 15 months We ought to -- we really hadn't seen many of our friends in Virginia Beach We really hadn't had a lot of people over

We had a lot of events at the Mansion, but they were hundred, 200 people I told her, "We got to try to, if we can, try to start being normal Why don't we try to" -- "let's try to invite some people over that are friends or that we'd like to maybe get to know a little bit better And, you know, why don't you come up with a couple ideas, and I'll come up with a couple " So I made a list and, I think, gave it to Monica or somebody and said, "Let's start having some small dinners," either one couple or maybe just two or three couples that we'd have over because I wanted some sense of normalcy in our life where we could actually talk to people one-on-one

Q Did you recommend dinner with Jonnie and Celeste Williams --

A No

Q -- or did Maureen recommend that?

A Maureen did

Q Okay And you all invited them; is that right?

A I'm not sure who sent the invitation, but yes, we invited them Yes

Q Okay The day before that, on the 28th of April --

A Yes

MR ASBILL: Let me put up RM-0178-0575, which has previously been admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Can you take a look at your calendar for that day --

A Yes

Q -- and just sort of generally tell us what you were doing on that day? Was that a Friday?

A No This was a Thursday

Q Thursday What were you doing on that day?

A Well, again, there were a variety of meetings, radio interviews, various announcements, internal meetings, lunches A lot more Boards and Commissions and so forth

But the event that I remember that day that was pretty significant was this event that we did for the VCU School of Medicine There was a major gift announcement from Jim and Frances McGlothlin giving $25 million to the medical schools And if there's gifts like that, generally check presentations, that are made to the state, I like to be there and thank people for their gifts and be part of it

Q Let me pull up RM-0236 and see if you recognize that?

A Yes That's Mr McGlothlin and I at the event I -- we both spoke, along with the President of VCU, and thanked him for his gift And, you know, building up VCU and the Massey Cancer Center was a top priority of mine from the beginning I had put a fair amount of money into the budget for VCU We had a chance to make the Massey Cancer Center one of the top one places of its type in the country, and this contribution going to VCU I knew would help with that So I -- I had known Mr McGlothlin He's a donor to my campaign, and I was glad to be there And we invited he and his wife over for dinner that night on the 28th

Q They came to your house that night on the 28th?

A Yes The two of them, yes

Q The night before the dinner with Mr and Ms Williams --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

A Yes

MR ASBILL: I move the admission of this photo

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q All right Going back to the next day, the 29th Prior to dinner, prior to dinner that evening --

A Yes

Q -- what did you do during the day on the 29th?

A It was -- that was a very, very emotional day for me I -- I went to a funeral that morning The Clerk of the House of Delegates, Bruce Jamerson, who had been a 20-year friend, had -- had taken his own life, and we had a funeral that morning for him here in Richmond And so I attended the service at 11:00 that morning with Bruce and his family, or for Bruce

And then this was just -- this was a day and a half after a very deadly tornado outbreak in Southwest Virginia, and I flew down to Southwest Virginia with a number of my Cabinet members and talked to all the first responders that had been working tirelessly for that -- almost 36 hours straight at that point, and spoke to some of the family members of people that had died in the tornadoes down in Glade Spring And it was -- I remember that very well

And then I came back, and I had a couple of meetings I was leaving for China in six days, that following Friday And so I had a couple of meetings about the China trip And then I had a reception at the Mansion for the Nascar race I think the next day, and then concluded with a dinner with the Williams family

Q Let me pull up RM- 0235 and see if you recognize this exhibit? Do you know what that is?

A Yes

Q What is it?

A That's Seth That was the young man that -- that had lost his grandmother right on that site the day before He -- that was the wreckage of her trailer There were a number of -- it hit a trailer park there, and there were a number of -- a number of people that lost homes I think two people died at this spot here

And I was -- I was just talking to him about -- about the fact that we'd do everything we could to help him, and I knew this was tough for him and that, you know, you never know --

MR ASBILL: I move the admission

A -- what's going to happen in your life, and if there's anything we could do to help him and his family recover, we would do

MR ASBILL: I'm sorry for interrupting I move the admission of this exhibit

THE COURT: What's the number?

MR ASBILL: This exhibit is RM-0235

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR ASBILL: You can take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is the backdrop to the dinner with Celeste and Jonnie Williams --

A Yes

Q -- on the 29th?

A Yes

Q Physically, emotionally, you know, where were you at the start of dinner?

A I mean, I'm always a little bit worn out on a Friday But that day in particular because of the -- the loss, the tragic circumstances with Mr Jamerson and then being able to -- this is -- I had had a number of natural disasters right after I got elected Governor There were blizzards, but we didn't -- it was nothing like this loss of life at this point that I had had to deal with in my administration And especially that young man, to be able to have to look at him face and face and talk to him about his grandmother was hard for me And, you know, thinking about getting ready to go to China and Asia for -- for 12, 13 days, I was excited, but a little anxious to go to that part of the world I had never been -- I've been to Europe, but I had never been there So I was -- I have to say, I was a little exhausted by the time that that evening rolled around

Q You talked about going to that part of the world That was -- there was a trip in mid-May that was going to be of some lengthy duration?

A Yes I was leaving on May 6th This was the 29th of

April We were leaving May 6th So it was six, seven days A week from that Friday we were leaving

Q Okay In any event, the Williams come over for dinner?

A Yes.

Q And tell us about that dinner with them on the 29th

A We left the -- we had the dinner upstairs in the library, I believe, because we had a reception for the Nascar race downstairs And generally, if we have a reception at the same time, they preferred not to have a dinner, obviously, at the same spot, which would normally be where we'd eat So we ate upstairs in the private quarters in the -- in the library room

Q And, you know, what were the general topics of discussion at the dinner?

A Well, I mean, the first topic, my wife had a very interesting day Very different than mine She -- one of her major platforms was promoting Veterans and Veterans' families, and she had done a lot of things for that just because of her own -- because of my time in the military, her dad's And so -- one of my daughters So she actually did a -- skydived with the Golden Knights, the Army elite parachute, you know, that day She and my daughter Cailin did a tandem jump with the Golden Knights And so they were exhilarated about that I certainly wouldn't have done it They were -- I was a little anxious about them doing it, but I figured they'd be in good hands with the Army Golden Knights and --

Q The EPU guys didn't want to do that with you?

A I don't think they probably wanted me to do that either No

But that was the first topic of conversation, I think Because Cailin had come back by the dinner. I think they had a video that the Golden Knights had done, and they were really -- Cailin hadn't seen it So she came back by to be able to relive that experience with my wife Maureen, to look at the pictures and see the video, which I hadn't seen it either So we watched it

Q So Cailin, at some point, stops by and --

A Yes

Q -- talks with the four of you?

A Yes

Q And what does she talk about?

A That was the first topic of conversation is, you know, what their day -- their day was very different than mine, obviously, with what they had done

And then, of course, the topic of the wedding came up because this was just about five weeks before Cailin's wedding And I remember Cailin talking about how excited she was and what a great guy Chris was I think this was at the beginning of the dinner So the chef was, I think in and out a little bit, and I think I might have been in and out a little bit But I remember her telling her -- talking a little bit about the wedding plans and how excited she was to have it at the Mansion because no -- no Governor's daughter had been married there in 20 years since Governor Wilder's daughter in '91 or so So she was talking about that

I remember going over to the window and looking out the window to show the backyard of the -- the backyard or the courtyard of the Governor's area where the actual reception was going to be held

Q Do you recall any discussion at the dinner of whether or not Chris and Cailin intended to pay for their own wedding?

A Yeah I have some recollection of that I was in and out a little bit But I know that that was important to them We had a -- you know, because we were having a family dispute about that, and I wanted to pay for it I had already made some payments at that point She wanted to pay for it because my wife and I had paid for our wedding and we felt really good about that, and Cailin thought that was very admirable And even though I clearly had the means to pay for it, it wasn't that expensive in the big scheme of things, that I remember her just discussing that just briefly I don't think there was a lot of discussion It was more about the courtyard and the use of the Mansion That was what was exciting for her

Q Did you and the Williams talk about Anatabloc or Star or that --

A Yeah We talked about his company again We had not met his wife, Celeste, before and found her to be very charming And Maureen hadn't met her And so I spent a little time with Mr Williams, and she was talking to his wife

But I remember Celeste talking about her own thyroid cancer issues that she had had and that she had started taking some of the anatabine compound and that it had a remarkable effect on her and how she had been treated at Johns Hopkins and was going to have surgery and that because she had taken anatabine for a while, that it actually had such a positive effect on her, that they had actually canceled the -- canceled the surgery So, I mean, that was the first real story that I heard about a patient taking this anatabine and having a positive health impact on her

Q Did you talk about Roskamp at all?

A I think we did I think -- I think he told us that he was having research done at Johns Hopkins -- I knew about Hopkins -- at Roskamp I didn't really know anything about Roskamp And I think he might have said a couple other places He -- I think he mentioned a Flint study and maybe the University of Pisa I mean, I remember there were several places that research was going on on this compound But none of them were in Virginia at the time

Q Any discussion, you recall, from the Williams about Star stock?

A I mean, there may have been He talked -- I mean, they both talked a lot about the company and what they were doing and how exciting this anatabine compound was and what the early trials at Hopkins and Roskamp had showed on mice Then they thought there was a lot of promise for this and this would be something really good for Virginia, to be able to use the tobacco product for something good

I mean, Mr Williams was very -- he's a good salesman He was very enthusiastic about this product, but, you know, I was worn out And I had heard a lot of this before when I was on the plane with him in October This was about eight months later, six months later or so So it was a little bit of an update on the status of research, but a lot of what he had told me I had kind of heard before on the plane

Q Do you recall whether there was any discussion about the company that you had worked for, American Hospital Supply?

A Yeah There was some We talked about, again, my background I had worked with American Hospital Supply for four and a half years in the early '80s, and Mr Williams said he had either worked for American Hospital Supply before or he had friends that worked there or knew people there I don't -- I don't remember what he said, but there was some reference to that he had some connection with them too.

Q Did you all discuss loans or your financial situation --

A No

Q -- at all?

A No Not at all No

Q Did Mr Williams, at that dinner, ask you to do anything for him?

A No

Q Did he ask you to attend the Roskamp event on June 1 at that time or sometime shortly thereafter?

A He expressed an interest, at some point, of having, if I could, if I had time, it's my best recollection that he might have brought that up or broached that subject at the dinner, about a trip to Roskamp because that's where he felt most of the major research was going on.

Again, he mentioned Hopkins and other places, but this clinical study that he had going on with the use of anatabine and its effect on Alzheimer's disease, the mice studies that he was doing there, that that's something that was really their leading effort right now

And I know Maureen expressed a lot of interest in that because of her background in nutraceuticals My dad had just died with Alzheimer's six months before So it was something that was close to our family My dad had it for about 13 years So it was something that was of interest But I knew that I -- if I had any interest, it was -- I would love to have clinical trials and job opportunities in Virginia, as opposed to Florida or Hopkins or Pisa. I mean, if they want to do clinical trials in Virginia, I thought that would be a good thing But in terms of me ever going down there, I knew I wasn't going to be able to fit that in And Maureen expressed an interest in it And I was going out of town for 12 days to China, and then I had my daughter's wedding And he had this trip coming up sometime in the near future so there was no way that I was going to go

Q Did you know that the Roskamp event was June 1 and the wedding was June 4?

A I -- I don't think there was any date discussed at all at the time I don't have any recollection of that I knew that he talked about going down there at some time in the near future, but I don't have any recollection of that

Q Before the dinner or at the dinner, did you ever see Mr or Ms Williams give any gift to your wife?

A No

Q So the purse that -- that has been introduced into evidence in this case -- or the wallet that's been introduced in evidence in this case, did you ever see anyone give that to your wife or her open that?

A No But there was times that I was just talking to Mr Williams, especially on the way out the door, and my wife and Ms Williams were together by themselves But I did not -- if that gift was given there, I didn't see it

Q Okay Did you ever talk with your wife about it having been given to her at that dinner?

A She would normally tell me something like that But I don't remember her telling me anything about getting any gift at that dinner I mean, it wasn't uncommon, if we had people over for dinner, that they'd bring something, a bottle of wine I mean, it was not unusual But I -- I didn't -- I didn't see anything and she did not tell me after the dinner that she had received anything from Ms Williams

Q At this point in time, we're talking about April 2011, what do you perceive the relationship to be with Jonnie Williams, your relationship with him?

A Mine or my wife's?

Q Both

A Well, we were friendly And my wife clearly was interested in the nutraceuticals and the -- essentially this research that he was doing, and I fully understood that It had been 30 years she had been passionate about nutraceuticals. And so here's a Virginia-based company that had this new idea from the tobacco plant You know, my interest was mostly in the job area If there was something that could be positive that could happen for tobacco and help with the tobacco region, I thought that was great

But I'd say at that point I had met Mr Williams, I guess, four or five times now And -- three or four times And, I mean, I liked him Energetic Now I had met his wife I liked them We seemed to have a lot in common I mentioned the Bar Harbor honeymoon thing The same number of kids, the same age, medical background So, I mean, I thought we had some things in common And we were friendly at the dinner, but I certainly wouldn't say we were, at that point, friends But my wife certainly was very enthusiastic about the things that he was doing and really seemed to like him a lot

Q Okay At that point did you know the extent, in terms of communications or meetings or anything else, between your wife and Jonnie Williams?

A No

Q All right. The $15,000 gift to Cailin, do you recall, sometime in May 2011, learning about that?

A Yes

Q And when did you learn about it?

A You know, my best recollection was after -- after we got back from China I was gone from --

Q Middle of May?

A Yeah I was gone from May 6th through May 17th It was China, Korea, and Japan We had a 12-day economic development trip Maureen went as well because she did some wine and tourism events and a military event in Korea while we were there She was always -- when she went, she was very actively engaged in these events

But it was sometime after I got back, I think, is the best of my recollection, she told me that she had had a conversation with Mr Williams and that she had talked to him after the dinner at some point and that Mr Williams wanted to give Cailin a $15,000 gift for her wedding

Q For what purpose?

A Well, I -- I -- what I understood is that that was the value of the reception that we were having And I knew that because I had helped -- I had helped review the contract for my daughter I had helped, back in 2010, when we initially met with the caterer she selected, to talk about the menu and what she was doing

And so I knew that was the -- I knew that was going to be the approximate amount of the contract And so that's what I understood; that this gift to Cailin would be -- was given in that amount because that was the -- that was what the reception was going to cost and that Cailin had intended and wanted to, even though I did not, wanted to pay for her wedding expenses

Q You say you did not want to pay or you did not want her to pay?

A I did not want her to pay

You know, listen, this is my first daughter getting married There was -- I clearly had the capacity to pay It was -- it was $15,000 I -- Chris and Cailin told me back in 2010 at the -- I think one of the first dinners with my wife that that's what they wanted to do, that they were going to start saving in a separate account to pay for wedding expenses

Honestly, I didn't -- I didn't take them that seriously at that time because I knew that was aspirational for them But I didn't know that they really were able to save that kind of money Chris is an engineer Cailin works for the state government -- or the county government I didn't know whether they really could save that kind of money But I knew they were very motivated because that's what -- my wife and I paid that

But I said, "Look Okay That's nice I'm glad you want to do that " But I went ahead and wrote the first two checks that were due in, I believe, December and January And I sent them in, and I didn't talk to her about it

Q And that was how much money that you sent in, roughly?

A It was about $8,000

Q All right What did you think about the idea of Jonnie Williams giving this gift to your daughter?

A Well, I had to think about it I mean, first, it was a gift to my daughter And by the time Maureen talked to me about it, she said she had already talked to Cailin and that Cailin had agreed that she would accept that gift

So I had to think about it I -- I thought it was very generous I knew Mr Williams seemed to have the capacity He obviously was buying expensive things, like that Cognac He had a plane He seemed to have -- certainly have the capacity to do a gift like that But it certainly was an incredibly generous and large amount of money We had only known Mr Williams really, at that point, for about 15 or so months, at least to talk to him to any degree But I thought if that's -- if he wanted to provide that gift to my daughter at that time, that that was -- that was okay

Q With respect to the other $7,000 or so that was due on the contract --

A Yes

Q -- that you had not already paid --

A Right

Q -- when you say you had the capacity to pay that, would that be cash on hand or would that require borrowing from a credit card line or what?

A Well, either one I mean, at that point I think we had -- I think yesterday we saw we had, I think, about $12,000 or so in the bank Between my -- the two accounts that I managed and then my wife, between -- with her account, the total was about $12,000 or so

And we had paid down our credit cards I had really been working hard on that In between my own management and my dad's estate and other things like that, we had paid the credit card balance down to about $30,000 at that point So we had about $172,000 of credit card capacity left So I would have either paid out of a -- out of my checking account or I would have written a convenience check against a credit card There were exceptionally low offers at the time It was in the 2 percent range for a year or year and a half So it would -- either way, there was not going to be any problem paying for that balance The total was due, about $8,000 was due about, I think, ten days or so before the wedding So it wouldn't have been a problem

Q Okay With respect to the $15,000 gift, did that end up being larger than the amount owed to the caterer?

A Yes Because we had the tentative contract amount that was about 15,700, I think, something like that, is what I remember from back in December, January that was sent in But I know at events like this, typically there's some add-ons There's things that aren't included in the initial contract There would be the final head count There would be a number of things that more than likely would increase the amount So I didn't know -- we didn't know at that point what the final bill would be

Cailin -- I wanted the wedding to be bigger, but Cailin and Chris actually asked for it to be smaller because the St Patrick's Church only accommodated about 180 people And she was very firm with me and telling me, "Dad, I don't want a political wedding I want my friends I want my family and I don't" -- basically, "Dad, I don't want a lot of your friends there because I don't want" -- "I don't want it to be" -- "I want to visit with people, and I don't want a bunch of people there I don't know " And so, you know, reluctantly, said, "Okay If that's what you want " And again she told me, "Chris and I want to pay for it We're starting our separate account "

And so we -- from the initial estimates, I think there were around 22, $23,000 that got ratcheted down, primarily at Cailin's request, down to about 15, a little over 15,000 with the contract that was put in in December of '10

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Judge, would you like me to stop at that point or go forward?

THE COURT: We'll go ahead and stop here

MR ASBILL: Thank you, sir

THE COURT: All right We'll stop for lunch And if you could come back at 2:15

THE COURT: All right Let's bring in the jury, please

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right Mr Asbill?

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Mr McDonnell, I think when we broke for lunch we were talking about the $15,000 gift to Cailin at the time of her wedding That $15,000, you said you had paid $8,000 on the contract and you thought the contract was going to roughly be how much?

A The one that I had reviewed for my daughter back in December or so was $15,700, but I figured that there would be some changes maybe with the last head count and then whatever add-ons might happen at the wedding, and we would see what the final number was at that point So it would be somewhere over 15

Q Okay So with the money you had put down, the $8,000 that you had put down, and the $15,000 from Mr Williams, that totals $23,000? Correct?

A Yes

Q And so you figure or did you figure that there was going to be some refund of some sort?

A Yes And whatever the refund was, I expected that to go to Cailin My $7,900 would be, that would be my contribution to the wedding at that point, and any refund after that would go to Cailin.

Q Okay And did there come a time when you learned that there was in fact a refund, and if so, in what amount?

A The work after the wedding, there was a couple of add-ons that I knew happened at the wedding with the generator, I think there was some overtime There were a couple other things that I knew occurred during the wedding And then I think a day after the wedding, I went out of town and was gone for quite -- about three, four, five days, but I know Maureen and Mary-Shea, Mary-Shea knew the caterers They were working out the final invoice with the caterer as to what the final bill was and then determined what the amount of the refund would be But I knew some money was going to come back It would probably be in that $6,000, $7,000 range, is what I assumed would come back.

Q When did you first learn what happened to the refund check?

A I didn't learn that until February of 2013

Q That's two-and-a-half years later?

A Well, almost two years

Q Almost two years later And how is it that you learned about the amount of the refund check, the exact amount of the refund check and what had happened to it?

A Well, I told Maureen, she was working up the final adjustments with the catering company, that whatever the amount of the refund was, since I had put down the $8,000, in Mr Williams' check, I understood, was supposed to go towards the catering, that whatever the refund was, that that should go to Cailin because my downpayment and Mr Williams' money was intended for my daughter And I fully --

Q A total of 23, you mean?

A Yes

Q 23 was supposed to go to Cailin?

A Yes right So whatever the refund amount was after the final amount of the bill, that that should go to my daughter, Cailin, and that's what I told Maureen Again, she worked out the details and I expected that that's what would happen. What I learned on February 14th of 2013, this was the eve before Maureen was going to meet with the authorities, I had learned the day before from Martin Kent that there was a meeting about the interview about what I thought was the chef's investigation And I asked Maureen to get the wedding documents together for the catering, because I understood that one of the things the chef had claimed is that he didn't get everything back from the wedding that we owed him, and therefore, that's why he took food. I learned that piece of information. And I hadn't seen all the final numbers for the wedding yet because Maureen and Mary-Shea had handled that I asked her to review the documents

I looked at the documents that night, and from what I saw, she did not have a copy of the actual check that came back. I didn't learn until later what the exact amount was But I asked her that night, "Did you give the money that came back, did you give the refund back to Cailin?" And she told me no, that she had not, that she had put it in her account I said, "Maureen, I told you and you told me that you had done this, that you had taken the amount from the refund from Cailin's wedding and that you had given it to her And why haven't you done it?" She said, well -- and I was talking about doing it I talked to Cailin I told her I was intending to do it But she hadn't done it I was very upset with her because it was almost two years later, and that money was rightfully my daughter's The wedding gift was intended for my daughter, not for me, not for her And so I said, Maureen, "I've got to figure out how much this refund is going to be Do you know what the amount of the check was?" I had never seen the refund check. And she told me she did not know I asked her, "Do you have the bank statements online so we can go online? Can we figure it out?" She did not have her bank statements online to figure out what the deposit was from back in June of 2011 And so I cobbled together the best estimate that I could, which I figured was about $7,300, should have been the refund based on the documents that I had. And I told Maureen, "You need to write this check You need to get it to Cailin right away It is her money " We were going to see her that weekend. We had a family event planned that Saturday on the 16th out in Charlottesville with all of our family together And I said, "You need to give her the check because it is not your money, it is not my money That was intended for Cailin."

Q With respect to that, did you have access to your wife's personal checking account?

A No., I didn't

Q All right Is it fair to say that you were upset when you found out that that had not been done, the refund had not gone to your daughter?

A Absolutely You know, there had been several examples unfortunately where I've asked Maureen to do certain things, like that, meaning some financial things, or something she told me we should do, and that she told me she would get it done and then I find out sometime after that it is not done And I thought that was a matter of just, you know, fundamental integrity, that that money was for Cailin. I understood the wedding gift was for Cailin, the $15,000 My 7,900 and some change that I deposited, that was for Cailin. And no amount of any refund that came back from that catering bill should have come to me or Maureen. So yes, I was very upset with her, and so I told her to do it And I think she delivered it within the next few days

Q All right Were you aware earlier in May, back to the 2nd of May, that Maureen had talked to Jonnie Williams supposedly at that point in time about this gift to Cailin? Did you know that date or anything?

A No

Q Okay Let me ask you this: Going back for a second to the issue of the inauguration dress that Jonnie Williams was offering to pay for, whatever amount you may have thought that that dress would be worth, in your mind was there a distinction with a difference between Mr Williams giving your wife an Oscar de la Renta dress for the inauguration, and then later him giving Cailin $15,000 towards her wedding? Is there a distinction there, a difference in your mind in terms of those two events and why one is okay and one is not okay?

A Well, I think there were a couple things One, that day that Mr Williams made this offer, I had never met him. This was really the first time that I had met him.

Secondly, as I told you earlier, we did not want this inaugural to be an overly fancy event Yes, we were going to have the balls and some of them would be black tie But to have an Oscar de la Renta custom dress at that event while I'm worried about getting people back to work and I'm worried about people being unemployed, to have my wife in a very expensive custom dress, you know, I thought was absolutely wrong So that's why we did it then. But this event with the wedding, I did, I thought it was exceptionally generous for him to consider doing that But my daughter and I had been back and forth for about six or seven months now really on who was going to pay As I said, it was my intent from the beginning, despite her wishes and Chris Young's wishes, that I was going to pay that entire $15.000 It wasn't at all a heavy lift for me to do that at the time But since the gift was actually for her, and she had intended to pay it, it was actually paying, 7,000, 8,000, $10,000 of other wedding expenses, I felt that while it was far beyond what I expected for a wedding gift from somebody at that time, if Cailin wanted to accept that and apply that towards expenses of the wedding, that that was probably okay

Q Okay Let me pull up Government Exhibit 134, which has previously been admitted. Could you blow that up, please? This is a text to you or an e-mail, e-mail from you, right?

A Yes

Q An e-mail from you to Jonnie Williams dated May 28th, 2011?

A Right

Q And in that e-mail, you basically tell Jonnie, "Thanks so much for all your help with my family Your very generous gift to Cailin and the golf tomorrow with the boys " The golf with the boys, that relates to the wedding plans basically for June 1st?

A Yes

Q Excuse me, June 4th.

A Right That was a week before the wedding I played with my sons and my future son-in-law, Chris

Q "Maureen is excited about the trip to Florida." That relates to Maureen going to Roskamp?

A Right By that time, yes, I certainly knew Maureen had planned to go.

Q And your understanding was, you know, as you say, learn more about the products and see Celeste, Jonnie's wife?

A Right Maureen told me she was going to take a tour of Roskamp and meet with doctors and see Celeste and learn more about the company, yes

Q Okay With respect to the first sentence, first full sentence, "Thanks so much for all your help with my family " What do you mean by that? What are you referring to?

A Well, at this point Mr Williams was a very generous donor already to my PAC and my campaign. I believe at that point he had contributed close to $100,000 in flights to the campaign. He had donated this $15,000 gift to my daughter And he had allowed us to play at this golf course So that's exceptionally generous I have a lot of donors that have done a lot of things for me, but this was very nice, and a couple things in a very short period of time And one thing I've always tried to do is to, in reasonably short order, when people donate or give gifts or something, I try to write a thank you note or an e-mail or something like this

Q Did that reference to the help with your family, did that include the $50,000 loan to Maureen on May 23rd that we have heard about in this case?

A No. I didn't know about it at that time

Q You didn't know anything about that?

A No

Q Did you know that that had been discussed or negotiated or a check had been given to Maureen at all?

A No

Q Jonnie Williams talked about talking to you some, I didn't know whether he wrote or called or saw you or whatever, on the 23rd of May, did you see him or talk to him that day before the check was given to Maureen?

A No That's absolutely false

Q All right Let's talk about in time here, Roskamp, June 1st

A Yes

Q That is the day, in fact, that Maureen goes down to Roskamp to see what you have described here?

A Right

Q And this was the event that you were invited to but had no intention of attending?

A Right

Q All right And the decision to go to Roskamp by Maureen, was that her decision or your decision or did you play into that at all?

A No, that was her decision Maureen, my recollection is, I think when Mr Williams brought this up at the dinner at my house, Maureen asked to go. She has been in this business for some 30 years, in the nutraceutical, vitamin, healthcare products business She had read a lot about clinical trials, but she had never been able to see one So she really lit up when Mr Williams talked about these clinical trials he had going on. In my recollection from the dinner, she actually asked whether if there was a time that he was going down there or if there was something that she could actually go and talk to doctors, see the clinical trials Again, the fact that it was related to mice studies of Alzheimer's was something close and personal to our family at the time So I didn't send her as my surrogate or anything like that She, I think, worked that out with her office, I assume, and Mr Williams to go down there Because really, I knew I couldn't go I didn't have the time to go And I didn't really have the interest in going

Q Had you already declined the invitation through your scheduler earlier in May?

A I don't know what the date was It was, I think, shortly after -- I think they got around to it after I left for Asia But at some point in that early May before I left for China, I'm sure that I told Monica -- I don't think I ever brought it up with the scheduler, but I understand that there was something that came from Ms Fulkerson to Monica that said, "Hey, I understand the Governor is going," which I had never said that I was going, but I confirmed with Monica that there was no way that I could go.

Q Something from Fulkerson, did that include some sort of description about Roskamp or about the upcoming event on June 1st, to your recollection?

A It may have But if it did, I didn't pay attention to it because I knew I wasn't going

Q Did you ever forward any information about the Roskamp event to Dr Hazel?

A I don't know about the event After the dinner and my wife expressing some interest in going, I think I asked either Pam, or I might have actually reached out to Dr Hazel just to ask him if Roskamp was legitimate I knew when Mr Williams explained the places where research was being done for him, I knew of Johns Hopkins It is very well known I knew it was legitimate and had top notch researchers I had never heard of Roskamp, and I was curious about whether Roskamp had any validity in the medical community Either I or Pam just sent an inquiry to Dr Hazel to say, "What is Roskamp? Is it a legitimate operation?"

Q Do you recall any follow-up with Dr Hazel about that?

A There may have been. Because I hadn't planned to go, so I mean, it wasn't a big deal But if he got back to me I probably would have passed some of that on to Maureen just to let her know whatever I found out about Roskamp We had already, I think we had declined by the time Dr Hazel may have gotten back to us But I don't recall specifically talking to him.

Q If you had talked to Hazel and he said something about Roskamp being illegitimate, would you have done something about your wife going there on the 1st of June?

A Well, I may have I may have told her that this is not something she needs to waste her time with.

Q You say you would have done that or you did do that?

A I didn't, no, because I don't remember what I got back from Dr Hazel, if anything

Q All right

A It was nothing that would have made me talk to Maureen about it

Q So if she wanted to go, as far as you were concerned, that was her decision and you were okay with that?

A Sure

Q This was on June 1st, three days before the wedding Is that -- was that timing something that bothered you in terms of her traveling to do anything?

A Yes It was her choice to go I didn't have any problem with her going She wasn't going as First Lady; she was going because of her long-standing interest in nutraceuticals And I thought that was good, it was healthy I had told her, again, not to be involved with her own business, but obviously keeping track of the industry and what's going on generally, and her passion for nutraceuticals, to see clinical trials, I thought that was fine. I hadn't done anything for Mr Williams, he really hadn't asked me for anything, so I didn't see any real problem with her doing that But doing it, going three days before a wedding, I wasn't particularly happy about that because we had company coming the next day

Q Had you blocked off time yourself to be with family during that wedding week?

A Yes

Q And in fact, is that one of the reasons in declining the invitation that you gave to Fulkerson, or to Jonnie Williams through Fulkerson, basically, that the wedding, that's family time? Is that sort of the excuse?

A In the brief conversation I had with Monica, I said, "I can't go, I'm going to China and then I've got the wedding Just tell them I can't go."

Q Okay And so you did not ask her, you did not ask your wife to attend in your place?

A No

Q Did you know she was going to speak or did speak at that event?

A I found out she spoke probably a month after the investigation started in March or so of last year But what I knew when she was going down there is that she wanted to see clinical trials; that she told me that she was excited about the fact that it was a mice study for Alzheimer's disease; that she was going to take a tour of the Roskamp facility; and that she was going to visit with some doctors I thought it was just maybe just a handful of people she was going to talk to I had no idea that there was going to be any lunch or press or investors or anything of that I didn't find that out until after the investigation started.

Q You had no idea that she had said something about a Mansion launch for Star?

A No I talked to her very little By the time she got back from Roskamp on the evening of June 1st, this is essentially the eve of the wedding We've got company coming the next morning So I think we may have exchanged some brief words and she told me that it was -- that she had a good time down there, she enjoyed the tour and met with some doctors, and that's really all that I remember at that point Because we've got a wedding, wedding folks for four or five days now

Q Did you know that Mary-Shea was going to the event with her, going to Roskamp with her?

A I may have But when she is going on a trip like that, to have her Chief of Staff and an EPU person go with her would have been routine So I don't know if I knew that

Q When did you learn that not only that your wife spoke at the event, you told us that, and talked about this product launch, but when did you learn that there was apparently some interest in buying Star stock and that your wife apparently borrowed $6,000 from Mary-Shea and, you know, was trying to buy stock while at that event on June 1st?

A I learned about it the day after the wedding That would have been the 5th. Most of the company had gone at that point This was the afternoon of June 5th. We were taking Cailin to the airport, I know, the next morning to start her honeymoon And I believe we were upstairs at the kitchen table There was just my wife and I And she told me that when she had been down at Roskamp, that she had bought stock in Star Scientific And, of course, I said, "Well, how did you pay for it?" She told me then that she had, on the day that Mr Williams had delivered the $15,000 check for my daughter's wedding, earlier --

Q What day was that?

A That was May 23rd. A couple days, six days after we got back from China. She told me she had received the check from Mr Williams that was going towards my daughter's wedding But that Mr Williams had also at that time given her a $50,000 check for a loan to my wife for purposes that she then described to me.

Q And what did she describe? She had gotten the money, and where was it at this point in time?

A Well, first of all, I was just very upset with her I was astounded. We didn't need any money We had about $30,000 of credit card bills by that time I had them perfectly under control We were making automatic, regular payments I don't think they were all automatic, but we were making regular payments She told me she had bought $30,000 in stock of Star Scientific because she had always wanted to have stock to be able to give to the children at their wedding She had told me that for years and years But I told her, we really, I know Cailin was just having a wedding, but we really didn't need to buy this stock now and we darn sure didn't need to borrow to pay off any credit card bills We had paid down about $60,000 in credit card bills over the last year There was no need, there was no sense of urgency to be paying off any credit card bills They were all being paid in a timely fashion And so I said, "I just don't understand why you did this There is no reason to have had to borrow this money "

Q Jonnie Williams had not talked to you about this at all?

A I had not talked to Mr Williams

Q What was the rationale for -- aside from the stock, what happened to the money? What happened to the rest of the money?

A At that point, the money was gone She had invested in the stock. I don't remember how many shares, but she had spent a little over $30,000 on the stock. And then she told me she had also paid off about $20,000 in credit card bills

Q And is there any reason at this time when she told you she had bought the stock that, you know, you don't go really ballistic?

A I mean, I expressed to you, I was extremely upset I said, "Maureen, I manage the finances I know what our financial picture is " We had a lot of credit card debt earlier coming into the Governorship, but between my work on paying it down and some proceeds of my own father's estate and some other things, we had had it down from about 90,000 to, I think, around $30,000 at that time And I told her, we just didn't need to do it and we didn't, certainly didn't need to borrow from Mr Williams, who I certainly didn't feel I knew that well yet We didn't need to borrow money to buy stock. So yes, I was very upset with her But I had to think about -- I mean, the money was spent And she told me that she looked at this money as really a substitute for the money that I had taken from her in November the year before, when I had taken her dad's $25,000 of inheritance money and I had paid down these credit card bills; that she felt that she was right to be able to borrow this money and be able to buy stock for the children because of what I had done some six or seven months before

Q And was that still raw?

A Yes, it was It was I mean, I had, I really did believe I had -- I really did believe I had made an error in forcing her to apply that money to credit card payments I mean, listen, I was upset at the time It was three days after my own father died. I was looking at these credit card bills, they were too high, some $70,000 or so back at that time And again, I told you, I felt that was the best decision. But my wife had talked about this for so long, she was still upset that I had done what I did, and she told me, "Look, I used the money to pay off some credit card bills, but I felt that this was the time Cailin is getting married. She is our first daughter to get married. I told you for 20 years I wanted to buy stock like your dad did, I wanted to buy stock for the kids when they got married. Cailin is getting married, and this is what I chose to do I wanted to buy stock for Cailin."

THE COURT: I have a question.

BY THE COURT:

Q The $6,000 that was apparently borrowed from

Mary-Shea, he asked you about that as well Did you find out about that during this time?

A No, I didn't, Your Honor I didn't know anything about that I think I learned about that after the investigation started. I didn't know there was a loan at that time from Ms Sutherland

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q How the $6,000 on June 1st relates to the $50,000 on May 23rd, you don't understand?

A I've learned after the fact that in realtime, I didn't know that there was any $6,000 that was borrowed from Ms Sutherland. My understanding, she borrowed it to cover the fact that her $30,000 or $50,000 check, I guess, hadn't fully cleared yet so she needed the resources to pay the bank. But I've only learned that after the fact I did not learn about a $6,000 loan at the time

Q All right So the $50,000, you learned the $50,000 is coming, this is on the 5th of June, basically?

A Yes

Q And is this the same day that you and Maureen drive Chris and Cailin to the airport for them to go away on their honeymoon?

A That was the next day

Q That was the next day And so it was the next day, the 6th of June, as you are driving them to the airport, that your wife gives your daughter the mock stock certificate that we heard about earlier in this trial?

A Yes, it was very early in the morning But she had come out with this mock stock certificate for whatever the number of shares were It might have been a thousand shares of stock. Again, she wanted to do this for the wedding And so she wrote up this little certificate and gave it to Cailin and Chris in the car on the way to the airport the next morning

Q Okay You talked about in terms of helping Cailin with the wedding, the $8,000 you talked about on the catering contract, and the reviewing of the contract

A Yes

Q Were there any other payments towards the wedding that you made?

A Yes, we paid for the photographer, about $600 or so that I paid. I think there were some other things that my wife bought for the wedding itself And, of course, I saw her, she gave the stock certificate that next day for the wedding There may have been some smaller items, but I guess it was probably about $8,000 or $9,000 plus the stock.

Q Okay Did any other folks help contribute towards the wedding, the cost of the wedding?

A Yes I learned a couple of those at the time

Again, as I mentioned, my daughter, Cailin, and Chris, wanted to do most of the planning for the wedding themselves Again, they wanted to pay for that reception as well So they were working with people to do most of the work on the wedding, which included not only the menu and so forth for the reception, but wine and D.J and all the other things that needed to take place for the reception itself But then they had, of course. honeymoon and other parties associated with the bridal party the night before and so forth. So they worked on most of that I know at one point, I think they told me that there was some, I believe, some donation of wine from Ms Kluge, and that Dr Davis was allowing them to use a limousine to be able to transport themselves back and forth for the wedding So I'm fairly certain that I knew about those at the time Those are the main ones

Q Were there other gifts that you were unaware of from other folks?

A I mean, there were several that obviously came to the wedding In fact, most of the gifts that came to the wedding, I would not say I was aware of at the time I think they may have told me about a couple things after they got back from the honeymoon and opened gifts At some point I learned they had a significant contribution from Chris's family for the rehearsal dinner the night before That was -- we didn't pay for that So I think there was a fairly significant donation, a couple thousand dollars for that from either the parents or grandparents of Chris

Q Okay Tell us about the wedding day

A It was a spectacular day My daughter, Cailin, is a very, very special person. She is the first daughter to get married, as mentioned. Having a wedding reception at the Governor's Mansion is something that doesn't happen very often It hadn't happened in about 20 years, which is why when I first talked to Chris and Cailin about a year out, they said, "That would really be great, dad, if we could do it at the Mansion." And my wife and I both thought it would be a great idea So it was just beautiful It was tearful for me walking my little girl down the aisle and being able to hand her off to somebody that I really respected. I thought Chris was a great young man, had good values I knew how he really loved my daughter And for a dad, being able to know that there was a man that was going to take care of her the way I tried to take care of her when she was a little girl, I really felt good about that I had gotten to know his mom a little bit I really liked her and felt this was a good guy, this is a good kid that was going to take care of my daughter for life

And so it was remarkable, they'd just got married right up the road at St Patrick's Catholic Church on Church Hill, and coming back to the reception It was very nice because she wanted to keep it small, as I told you, and it was small, smaller than I had thought, anyway, but it was just a remarkably nice day They stayed until late They stayed until 11 o'clock that night And it was really nice for people from out of town to actually have time with them before they left

Q Was it a day when you didn't, because of the way Cailin planned it, that you didn't have to be on politically and talking business basically?

A It was I mean, I think we had, I think Cailin gave me slots for maybe 12 or 13 people, 15 maybe at the most, that I could invite But everybody else were people that she and Chris wanted to have And I really respected that Because most of the things that I had done during that time, I had been doing things in political circles, and this was at least a day that was largely family, friends, and her friends, some of whom I didn't know So it really was, other than having to make my toast and my speech as the father of the bride, it was certainly a day and a weekend away from politics, yes

Q With respect to any of the things you didn't personally financially provide, the photographer, the 8,000, did you solicit or, you know, try to get people to give any gifts to her or were you consulted on whether or not people gave gifts to her?

A Not to my recollection.

Q Okay After the wedding, did you ever talk to Martin Kent about the wedding and the issue of, you know, whether or not the family was picking up the tab for the wedding, or was that something that happened before the wedding? I know Mr Kent testified about it, and I can't in my own mind place it in time

A Do you mean Tucker Martin?

Q Tucker Martin. Excuse me Did you ever talk to him? Was that before the wedding or after the wedding?

A I think it was shortly before the wedding

Q Do you recall having a discussion with him?

A Yes

Q What was your understanding of the issue that you and he were talking about?

A My understanding was there was a press inquiry Since the wedding was at the Governor's Mansion or the reception was at the Governor's Mansion, this had been somewhat unusual, it hadn't been in 20 years or so, and the question that was posed to me is, "Is the state paying for any of the events at the Mansion or is the family paying for it?" And the state wasn't paying anything So that was the question that was posed to me, and I told him "The family is paying for it "

Q You viewed that as taxpayer versus non-taxpayer?

A Yes, that was the question I got, right

Q All right The government has introduced its summary chart which shows a call between you and your wife on June 1st and another on June 4th This is Government Exhibit 578, which has previously been admitted. Can we pull that up? This indicates that on June 1st, that there is a call on which you participate for approximately four minutes And frankly, I can't remember what the star or the asterisk means And then on June 4th there is another call in which you participate Apparently that is two minutes Do you know whether or not either of those calls were Maureen telling you about the stock and asking you for financial information?

A I really don't remember those calls But she did not tell me about the stock until June 5th when I came back, when we discussed Mr Williams' loan and she told me what she had done with it So I can't say those -- well, actually, June 1st, I don't remember the call I think on June 4th, that's the day of the wedding And at 11:28, I remember I had taken her, Maureen's sister Karen, and her brother-in-law Tom, and a couple other people that were there for the wedding, the wedding was later in the afternoon, but I took them down on a tour by the river to see some things So I was gone about that time And I think Maureen called me just to check on me and see when I was going to be back or something like that But I don't remember any discussions on either one of those days with Maureen about any stock.

Q Let me pull up Government Exhibit 634, which has also previously been admitted. This is a post-it that we have seen earlier in this trial with annual income, net worth, liquid net worth, net minus or net-real estate, 400,000

Q Is that something that before this trial you have ever seen before?

A No

Q Do you know anything about it at all?

A I don't No, I don't

Q As you read it, do you understand it or do you know whether or not it is accurate?

A The annual income would be in the ballpark of what I would have been making Let's see, this was 2011, so with my Governor's salary and some unearned income through Racehorse Properties, that would be in the ballpark of my annual income I can't really -- I can't comment really on the rest I don't even know what "net-real estate" really means, so that wouldn't have been in any information I would have provided.

Q If that's "net minus real estate," that would be, in essence, that would be, is that your understanding, this is a net worth minus the real estate, so there is --

MR DRY: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained

THE WITNESS: That's my wife's handwriting, but I don't know what it means

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q All right And did you ever see this on the day of the wedding or did you have any discussion with your wife on or near the time of the wedding to give her these figures?

A No, I did not No.

Q All right Take that down, please With respect to, you know, what was your -- you have talked about this $50,000 and where it went, 20 to pay down credit cards and 30 for stock.

A Yes

Q Why didn't you tell her to just give it back, aside from the issue of her, you know, her being concerned? I mean her substituting that for what you had made her do the previous November? What was your view of this money and, you know, was it a big deal as far as you were concerned?

A I thought about that Because my wife incurring debt that in my view we did not need and she did not need was a concern I learned, though, that I just needed to pick the battles with my wife on certain things very carefully And I knew, and I just felt in my heart that I had made a mistake on November 5th when I told her --

Q You have talked about that How do you view this transaction ultimately in realtime?

A There were a couple things I thought, "I haven't done anything for Jonnie Williams He hasn't asked me for anything Star Scientific hasn't asked me to do anything I don't see any conflict from that standpoint " Mr Williams, I mean, I liked him at that time. He is the CEO of a publicly traded company He has independent fiduciary duties He is a business guy He seemed to be a very credible guy I knew my wife liked him. I knew my wife had the capacity to repay that loan.

Q How would that be?

A Because she had just received a new job. She just got an offer from Mr McGlothlin to be on the Jim and Frances McGlothlin Foundation Board, at least that's what I thought the offer was, and she was going to be paid about $36,000 a year She had been making a little bit of money the last couple years even though she wasn't actively involved in the nutraceutical business The way her business worked is she got, I guess, akin to override commissions on business that other people in her organization would do, 6,000, 7,000, $8,000, so she would have had with this new position that was starting in June, she would have had about $40,000 a year that would have come into her account So I figured she had the ability to repay that loan. And she told me that the terms that she understood them to be at that point were about two percent interest with a balloon in, at that point, four years, I guess due in 2015 The way I looked at it, from a business standpoint, was that we had -- she had a $30,000 asset, she had --

Q What do you mean she had a $30,000 asset?

A The stock that she had was a $30,000 asset She had incurred $20,000 of additional debt, if you will, from the Williams loan. But she had replaced $20,000 in credit card debt that she had written -- she told me she went in and picked out the two bills that she saw that were in my credenza where I keep the bills ready to pay, and she just took the two that were there, I think the PenFed bill and another one That's the one she decided to pay Just from our personal financial standpoint, it really netted out to be sort of zero at that point financially I think I mentioned to her, although I'm not sure, but I believe I mentioned to her that with this kind of debt that she had incurred, that this was going to trigger me to have to -- I was going to have to report the loan and I would have to report, I would have to report this stock at the end of the year But I wasn't worried about it I report whatever my asset picture is or whatever my loan and stock, whatever the picture was, I would report at the end of the year And so I believe I mentioned that to her at the same time

But after, really after looking at all those factors, I just was not going to take on that fight again with my wife I felt I had made the mistake before, and I just did not have the heart to tell her, "Give it back, sell the stock," because that's something that she had wanted to do for many, many years And I had made a decision that she was very, very emotionally unhappy about before, and I just was not going to do it again.

Q Did you ever later in the month of June speak with Jonnie Williams about it?

A There was a time subsequent to that that I had some discussion with Mr Williams I was particularly concerned about wanting to verify the terms Maureen related to me what the terms were They were good terms I mean, I had some other convenience checks I think I had available at about two percent at the time But the fact that it was a balloon payment, I just wanted to make sure what those terms were, that there weren't some payments, too. Even though it was her debt, I felt that I wanted to know what that was

I understood from Maureen that there might be, there was going to be some paperwork coming I certainly expected a loan to have some documents attending that And I understood from Maureen that she believed there were going to be some documents coming, a loan document that Mr Williams would have drawn up. So at some point, and I don't remember when, after that, I believe I had a brief conversation with Mr Williams just to be able to verify that those were in fact the terms, that it was two percent, that it was four years, that it was due in 2015, that it was a balloon payment And I did that at some subsequent point

Q In 2015 you would have been out of office?

A Yes, that would have been the year after I got out, yes

Q And going back to Mr Williams' testimony about he either talked to you on the phone or saw you at the Mansion or came through the tunnel or whatever on the 23rd, is any of that true?

A No Those are absolutely incorrect I never talked to Mr Williams before that loan was delivered to my wife I didn't know about the loan until after it was delivered to my wife I never talked to him. He never came to my office, any sneak through any tunnels There was nothing like that that occurred. Those statements are not correct

Q I want to pull up RM-0178-0600, which has previously been admitted. This appears to be a copy of your calendar on the 23rd.

A Yes

Q And you have seen in this trial the sign-in logs for Jonnie Williams on that day?

A I have, yes

Q And what's your recollection of when he was apparently over at the Mansion?

A From what I saw introduced, I believe he had signed in about, I think about noon and signed out about 1:15 Maybe that's not right It was somewhere in the noon time frame, though, that he was apparently at the Mansion. Maybe it was 11 to 12:15, somewhere in that area.

Q And as for you, you weren't at the Mansion; you were at the Patrick Henry Building that day?

A Yes

Q And what does your calendar show for that time frame, basically, up until about 1:15?

A Well, every day I meet with Pam Watts, who has been in the court I meet with my executive assistant to go over documents and whatever she needs me for I had a conference call with the Policy Committee of the Republican Governors' Association at the time, as I'm on the Executive Committee, so I was on that call And then I had lunch delivered over at the Patrick Henry Building, which happened more often or not I would have the lunch over there so I could work for lunch. Then I had a meeting with Secretary Hicks-Thomas, it looks like, at about 12 I guess that would be maybe around 12:15 I remember that being a matter of some -- that was suddenly put on the calendar It was about the issue of the parking lot down at VCU and possibly covering up some historic slave cemetery markers, and it was an issue I needed to get on top of right away so we could try to resolve that before any construction started. I remember that got added to the calendar pretty quickly

Q This version of the calendar, is that sort of the -- that's the most updated version of the calendar that exists?

A I don't know if there's others, Mr Asbill I can't say But it would not be infrequent for a calendar to have multiple changes in the days leading up to it and then even one change or two during the course of a day So I can't tell you if this is the last one But it looks like what I remember doing that day

Q Okay You can take that down, please With respect to the issue of stock, are you aware that your wife bought additional shares of Star stock later in 2011? Or in realtime?

A No, I didn't know that I learned that after the investigation started.

Q Was that something she ever discussed with you?

A No.

Q Let me talk to you about the PAC Homestead Retreat, June 23rd to 26th. Before I do that, let me ask you another question: With respect to the stock, you talked about the mock stock certificate, et cetera, on the trip to the airport for the honeymoon

A Yes

Q Was it your understanding that the stock was going to remain in Maureen's account at Davenport, or that it was going to be transferred to the kids' names in June?

A You know what? I thought what she told me was, "I bought stock for the children " She had been telling me for 20 years she wanted to So I heard "for the children." I believe that whatever she did with Mr Piscitelli, that these shares were already in the childrens' name And I may not have asked all the right questions at that time I remember when my dad gave me the stock, I actually, the stock, I think, was actually in my name, and so I assumed that that's probably whatever Maureen did to buy the stock, she had done that But that's just what I heard from her I believed that at that time, that it was actually in the name of the children And when we got closer to disclosure time, if it was something I needed to disclose I would address it then. But at that time, that's what I thought I heard her say to me

Q And the account with Davenport that contained this stock, was that a joint account or her sole account?

A No, that was her account The only business I had done with Mr Piscitelli was, as I mentioned, back in 1988 when I sold my dad's stock to Citizens Utility A. He had sold the stock for me at that time I had earlier, ten years earlier, had my own E*Trade account, but I don't think I had done anything with Mr Piscitelli before that

Q And so did you have an active account with Mr Piscitelli or an account at all?

A No

Q Nothing, nothing that went from way back when until 2011?

A No, we did not

Q And at any time, did you personally ever own a single share of Star stock?

A I did not I didn't have any interest in it

Q Let me go to the PAC Homestead Retreat, June 23rd to 26th, 2011 Tell me about that event You know, what was going on, what was it about?

A Every year in the summer, I did a retreat for the top donors to my PAC and the campaign Part of what I mentioned to you before was called donor maintenance We wanted to make sure we maintained good relationships with the people that invested significant amounts of money in my campaign and PAC So Ms Hahn, I mentioned her before, our fundraising chairman, would put this event together And it was usually about two days, from a Thursday afternoon to about Saturday at noon We tried to make it a very educational thing We would invite some congressmen, some leaders from D C I would be there, sometimes the Lieutenant Governor, some legislators, and they had to make presentations about what's going on in state government And then we would have some recreation activities, a couple dinners, and then golf in the afternoon, that kind of thing So that was, I think we did that every summer, every June during the time I was Governor

Q Before we go on about that, I know you said you had no interest in the stock. You had no interest personally or any interest at all?

A I had no interest in buying the stock for myself as an investment option, is what I meant I didn't own any stock at the time Most of the investments that I had were in real estate or in LLC's So I was interested in the stock market generally, but I had no interest in that particular stock.

Q As a personal investment

A As an investment, yes

Q All right On this PAC meeting in June, late June, how many people attended that event?

A I think there were probably maybe 120, 125 These would have been the donors that had donated $25,000, $50,000, and up to my campaign and the PAC These were our top political business supporters And so it was, you know, it was at a nice place with nice events and some distinguished people. I always brought in a governor generally from another state, Governor Jindal, Governor Barbour, other people would come in to speak It was something different because these were my top people

Q Did Mr Williams attend the event?

A He attended twice I think he attended in 2011 At that time, he had been about close to, I think, a $100,000 in-kind contributor to the campaign and the PAC, so he clearly would have been invited.

Q Did you personally invite him?

A I mean, in a manner of speaking, I invited everybody

But I think Paige Hahn, my assistant, did all the invitations

Q All right. Did you ask Mr Williams to fly your children to that event?

A No, I did not personally, but I know that he did that

Q And how did that come about, to your understanding?

A You know, I've heard some testimony in court I'm not completely certain. Most of those kinds of arrangements would have been made by my scheduler for private aircraft I think my wife had a hand in doing this But I was actually coming, I believe, from New York to go to the Homestead or something So I had gotten there a different way So those logistics were handled by either my scheduler or my wife I am just not sure

Q Was it discussed with you in terms of how it was going to be handled, to your recollection?

A I don't have a good memory of that I think I may have known that originally, that Mr Williams was going to take my wife out there That might have been the original plan. And at times, if my wife is going to an event but one of the children might also have an interest or an availability to be at an event, they might go as well But I don't have any independent recollection.

Q All right Who paid for that event?

A It was a combination. A good part of the event itself was actually paid for by the Political Action Committee These are the donors that have donated significant amounts of money to the Committee, so our PAC pays for a lot of the recreation and the meals and a lot of things I believe that we asked the attendees to actually pay for their own hotel room. But I think most of the rest of the things that we do that weekend are provided by the PAC Ms Hahn did all of that work for me, and I typically didn't get involved exactly in those details, but I was fully supportive of having a fun event to be able to reward and have some time to visit with our top contributors

Q Did you spend much time with Jonnie Williams that weekend?

A I saw him some We were in the same foursome, I think.

Q Playing golf?

A On Sunday I may be confused One of the two -- I think he came two years One of the two years I was in a foursome with he and one of my sons and with Phil Cox. We played together

Q All right Were you aware that your son, Bobby, played golf with him, that the two of them played alone at some point during that event, during that weekend?

A You know, I heard my son say that on the stand. I don't have independent recollection of him playing But he may have told me and I just don't remember I'm sure that he did. That is, I'm sure that he did play I don't remember him actually telling me that at the time

Q Were you aware that Mr Williams and Bobby had become friends?

A You know, I had some understanding of that You know, I find my son to be pretty mature for his age, and it is not atypical for him to have conversations with people that are older than he is I knew that he was -- he spent a little time with Mr Williams at a couple things They seemed to be friendly But in terms of the amount of the communication at that time, I did not know

Q Before the event, a week before the event, do you recall whether or not you received some sort of a mailing from Mr Williams about VA studies?

A Yes

Q And what was that about?

A I believe I got that in my mail folder, and I believe it came through an e-mail through the First Lady's Office, I think from Ms Sutherland. And again, mail comes from so many different places, and either my scheduler or Ms Watts, my executive assistant, would have put it in a mail folder for me to take a look at and read. So somewhere after the 20th or so of June, I think it was dated the 16th, but somewhere after that, that would have come to me And I do remember seeing that

Q And do you recall reading it?

A I remember reading the cover letter, and I may have glanced -- there were a number of pages of attachments It was more clinical information At that point I made a decision just to send it with a note to Dr Hazel This would have been like I would have done with countless other documents that I got in the read file, where people are making proposals or asking for help or telling us about something going on with their company or sending us a press release about something they were doing This was an everyday occurrence in the Governor's Office And this appeared to be a proposal about, well, the letter called it a Virginia Study And so I didn't know whether or not it would trigger the public procurement laws of Virginia or what was required. But I knew Dr Hazel might be -- again, clinically, I had asked him to meet a year ago or so, so I put a note on it, I believe, to the best of my recollection, "Dr Hazel, please evaluate and action as appropriate " Which is typical of what I would write on something like that

Q Did you ever personally call Dr Hazel to talk about it?

A No

Q At any time did you ever get up with Dr Hazel about it after that?

A No, I don't remember any feedback from Dr Hazel Again, just because I asked him to evaluate it, this would have been the usual form. Whatever they felt it was appropriate to do with that information I provided him, I would expect them to do And if they were interested, take action, if not, then don't But I don't remember any follow-up from that letter that I sent out to Dr Hazel

Q Okay After the PAC event, do you recall Jonnie Williams sending new golf clubs and a new golf bag to Bobby at the Mansion?

A Yes

Q How long after the event did that occur, roughly?

A I don't have a good memory It may have been a month My recollection is it showed up at the Mansion I didn't know it was coming I didn't have any conversations with my son. And again, I'm busy about the business of governing, and at some point I received some notice that it was, that it had showed up there Again, the Mansion, there is a fairly large house, there's three or four people that, five or six people that live there -- I mean that staff the place There is an outside area that's an old carriage house, and I think that's where these clubs ended up And somebody, I think, at some point had sent some notice over to us that these clubs were there

Q Did you solicit that or know it was coming at any time?

A No, I did not No

Q You found out about it, and you discussed that with issue with Bobby and your wife?

A I discussed it with Bobby first They were home for the summer Both of my sons, Bobby and Sean, were home for the summer I think this was after their second year at Virginia. And I don't know, it just seemed to me that I didn't realize that Bobby had any kind of independent relationship with him one way or the other, but it just, it just struck me maybe a little bit differently than the wedding present, that these kind of came out of the blue, there wasn't an event or occasion or anything like that And it was a very nice set of golf clubs It was a University of Virginia bag They appeared to be new clubs And I didn't -- I don't know, my feeling was that the gift was just a little much.

Q So what did you suggest to Bobby, if anything?

A My son was coming up on 20, 21, and I'm trying to teach them to make good decisions I knew the gift was perfectly lawful under Virginia law At that time, I hadn't done anything for Mr Williams; he really hadn't asked me for anything He sent me that letter But there was nothing that I felt uncomfortable about accepting a gift at that point or having my son accept a gift So I told him what my opinion was of that, that I felt that it was just a little much for an unsolicited gift to show up like that And we had some discussion, and I think, as he testified, I didn't know he talked to my wife, but at the end of the day he opted to retain that gift

Q And did you have any discussion with Maureen about that decision?

A I don't remember having a discussion with her about that No.

Q All right At some point, I don't know, is it at the same time that Mr Williams sends a golf bag and his used, old clubs to Bobby's twin brother, Sean?

A It seemed like it was sometime after that So maybe sometime in August I don't remember the exact time But sometime that summer that he sent that, Sean received clubs, also. You know, those did not appear to be new I think they looked like they were Mr Williams' older set I think Sean may have told me that But my best recollection, I had a similar discussion with Sean about that He told me, I think he had actually played, I believe he might have actually played golf with

Mr Williams at one point or had talked to him in person, and Mr Williams indicated that he had that set and was going to get a new one and, so, anyway, I had this conversation with Sean as well But again, he opted to keep that gift

Q Okay At some point in time, Mr Williams sent you personally a Notre Dame golf bag?

A Yes, he did

Q And was that something you asked for or did that just show up at the Mansion, too?

A That showed up, I think, sometime in July It seemed to be sometime around my anniversary I mean, as far as I knew, there were no documents with it The system was supposed to be that if any kind of gift came to the Mansion, they were supposed to be, I mean, they were in the reportable area, those were logged and then they were sent over to my scheduler or Ms Watts because those were things that would potentially need to be reported. And it seemed like we got some notice at some point that this item, this Notre Dame golf bag, had showed up and it had my name on it or it was addressed to me

Q Did you keep that bag?

A I did. I didn't use it for a while, but yes, I did keep that Yes

Q And what was your understanding of the value of that golf bag?

A What I thought would happen is that for donors that provide any kind of gifts to an elected official, there are a couple ways to make sure those things are captured for the reporting forms There is a requirement that any donation actually be logged on a form by the donor and sent, I believe, to the elected official, and also to the State Board of Elections or Secretary of the Commonwealth, I think, under Virginia law So we would have expected to get some form. If it is a trip or things like that, we actually reach out and do it So I didn't know a value of the gift when it got sent to me But typically, that would have been captured and put into the Statement of Economic Interests, draft statement for a gift like that when it got reported to me

Q Did you have your own, regardless of whether you got any receipt for it, did you have your own independent sort of assessment or guess as to what it might be worth?

A I thought it certainly was over the $50 limit It was probably a couple hundred dollars I had been playing golf for about 30, 40 years, and I certainly understand golf bags The ones I bought were usually under a hundred dollars, well under a hundred dollars But this one looked to be a custom bag because it had my university's name on it, so I figured those were pricier But I didn't have an exact value, no

Q Why do people offer, or why did they offer you gifts as Governor, just in general?

A I think it is for the same reason --

MR. DRY: Objection, Your Honor, calls for speculation on why other people are giving him gifts

THE COURT: I think he has already answered this question. But he can go ahead. But as I recollect, his answer was that everybody who gives you something wants something Wasn't that your answer?

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir I guess I would incorporate the same explanation I gave before Some people, I guess with gifts, some people do it just to be nice Some people do it so you remember them the next time they see you and talk to you. Some people might want access to you and for a phone call to get returned. It is the panoply of reasons that I mentioned about the campaign donations that I would receive during a political campaign. Some people will do it to spend time with you. Many of the gifts that I received, in fact, most of the larger ones that I accepted, I really accepted because I didn't see a ticket or an event What I saw was time with my family That was really the most precious thing that I got out of the gift I would see a ticket to a football game or I would see a ticket to a concert, or a weekend that I could spend at a lake house That's the thing that I had and the rarest commodity was being able to have time with my kids and family because of my work schedule That's why I took them.

But people give them for any number of reasons But a lot of it is they want to spend time with giving a ticket or item or flight so they could spend time with a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Senator I think that's why

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Okay With respect to the golf bag and the other golf equipment, you know, did Jonnie Williams ever ask you for anything in return for any of those golf-related gifts?

A No Mr Williams asked me for very few things directly in the whole time I've known him.

Q All right Let's go to the Smith Mountain Lake event That's July 28th to the 31st, 2011

A Yes

Q You went there for the weekend, for a three-day weekend?

A A three-day weekend. Yes, I did.

Q You stayed at Williams' house?

A Yes

Q Why Williams' house as opposed to someone else's house or not at all?

A In 2010 we stayed at Smith Mountain Lake as guests of a company called Delta Star It was about $8,000 or $9,000 I reported that on my statement in 2010 And they had invited us to come back again in 2011, my extended family And so we had originally accepted that offer from this other company Including a place of lodging, a house, that they had available through Delta Star, not Star Scientific My wife told me that Mr Williams had offered his house, also, that year at Smith Mountain Lake And she talked to me a couple times and said, "Why don't we try -- why don't we use a different house this year?" And so since Delta Star was kind enough to provide some boating and a couple of meals and a few other things like that, I told Maureen that we would use, we could use Mr Williams' house that year Then these other expenses were paid for by Delta Star And that's the way I reported it Some of the things were reported for Star Scientific and some for Delta Star in 2011 And then in 2012 we went back to Smith Mountain Lake as guests of Delta Star again. So I had another option, but we decided Mr Williams' house, that we would accept Mr Williams' offer for that year in 2011

Q What is Delta Star? What kind of company is that?

A Delta Star is a Virginia corporation that makes transformers They have offices here and the West Coast They make high voltage transformers and things of that nature for industrial use

Q Okay And so you go there on the night of the 28th; is that correct?

A The Thursday If that's the 28th, we are there -- we we were there the 28th, Thursday through Sunday night, three days

Q Did you go down with Ms McDonnell or independently?

A No I was in the western part of the state that day I was at the Greenbriar, I think, meeting with the folks out at the Greenbriar in West Virginia, and I had some other stops in Southwest Virginia. I was doing a fundraiser for another elected official down in the Smith Mountain Lake area. And I eventually met up with the family sometime that evening, 6 or 7 o'clock, I think, at Mr Williams' house So they drove down. My best recollection is they drove down separately

Q Okay Over the weekend, basically, what did you all do?

A Well, that weekend was just about all of my family and my kids being together My son-in-law came down that year My sister's boyfriend came down. And I think four out of my five children came down. That's why I accepted those Smith Mountain Lake weekends It was just three days with just my family, and all we did really was spent time on the water, played golf with my sons We had a brunch with the owners of Delta Star every Sunday for those three years We would have brunch with the owners of Delta Star, sometimes go to church. But it was really just for the family to pretty much hang out at the house and around the water One year, maybe two years we went fishing So that's what it was about It was just a three-day family weekend.

Q And you say Delta Star paid for some of that, the brunch or some golf; is that correct?

A They did, yes

Q Some of the meals or some of the cooking?

A Yes

Q The others were paid for, other things were paid for by Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q All right Do you recall the Ferrari that we have seen photos of in this case being at the house, and if so, when did you first see it and where did you see it?

A I saw it sometime over the course of that weekend I wasn't expecting any Ferrari or anything I remember hearing my wife tell me that there was a car that we were supposed to drive back; that Mr Williams had asked for a car that he had there at the house to be driven back because he was going to give it to his daughter Rachel That's what I understood

Q Not your daughter Rachel

A No, I'm sorry, he has a daughter Rachel, also His daughter Rachel That's what Maureen had told me At some point over the weekend, I learned that that car was there I think I first saw that it was actually in the garage, is my best recollection. I peered through a garage door from the house and I saw the car there It might have even been covered up, and I think we might have gone out and uncovered it And so obviously it was a very significant high performance car

Q You say you thought it was already there, essentially?

A I didn't know I didn't see it come. Nobody told me it would be delivered. I just knew there was a car there we had to drive back and that was the car

Q Did you have any discussion with Mr Williams about it being delivered there so he could drive it back or use it?

A No, because I had the Executive Protection Unit They were going to take me anywhere I needed to go We weren't going anywhere The whole purpose of going to Smith Mountain Lake was to go nowhere, spend time on the water, boat, fish, and be with my family I really didn't have anywhere to go except up to the clubhouse on Sunday to go to brunch. Other than that, we really didn't have anywhere to go So I didn't need a car, and any car I needed, the Executive Protection Unit was right there to take me

Q How far away is the club from the house?

A Less than a mile

Q Did you have any knowledge of any potential discussion between your wife and Mr Williams about getting it down there, getting the car down there for you to be able to use it in any way?

A No It was just the opposite What I understood was it was a car there that needed to be returned and driven back for his daughter, is what I was told.

Q Other than driving it back, and I'll get to that in a second, did you ever use it when you were down there to do anything with it or go anywhere with it?

A I had forgotten, I think I drove it up to that brunch, that mile or so that one day It might have been Sunday I don't remember But I might have I think I did drive it that one day to go up there So we drove up there and drove back. So it was less than two miles, I think. We really didn't go anywhere else Because as I mentioned, there was nowhere to go There was no need to go anywhere because it was a water vacation, really

Q Did you drive it home or back to Richmond?

A Yes, I did.

Q And why did you do that? Why did you do it? I mean, I understand you said that Mr Williams, you understood that Mr Williams wanted it back in Richmond, but why did you drive it as opposed to the EPU or somebody else?

A Well, because I hadn't driven in almost two years I hadn't driven any car in two years And frankly, before that, I hadn't driven much at all for probably three or four years before that So at some point, I'm entitled to be normal, to drive My kids sort of egged me on a little bit I'm not sure even who was supposed to originally drive it back I was planning to get into the back of the black SUV, and my kids did prod me

Listen, it was a Ferrari I had never driven a Ferrari I had never driven really any sports car I drive a Toyota that has 180,000 miles on it And it was fun. And I thought, look, I'm going to be with my wife, EPU is right behind me, and I'm going to spend a couple hours driving a Ferrari back to Richmond. So I enjoyed it I hadn't done anything like that before or since I only drove two other times during the whole time I was Governor after that So I was as compliant as I could possibly be with the Executive Protection Unit But it was fun. I was on a vacation. And I decided that I would drive it back, and I got back safely

Q They preferred that you not drive?

A I am sure they did. They were very polite They didn't say anything I might have got a look They didn't say anything in particular But listen, I'm sure they would prefer that I didn't go out on the ocean or didn't shoot skeet, either, or anything else that might have been dangerous My first couple weeks in office, I had an interesting conversation with the Lieutenant of the Executive Protection Unit, who said, "Listen, we are here to protect you We want you to be as normal as possible You are going to be surrounded by law enforcement all the time This is very different for any Governor Our job is to keep you safe, because if you get hurt or killed, it is way too much paperwork." And, you know, we got kind of a chuckle out of that That was Lieutenant Watkins that told me that

It is the kind of relationship that I had with them. They really did become like family They were great people They were pros every step of the way I knew that anything we talked about in the car was going to be kept just between us, because I had to make policy decisions, dial for money, so forth. I knew they would prefer that I didn't drive, but it was, you know, it was something I felt that I was -- that I wanted to do and it wasn't a big deal And I enjoyed driving it for three hours, and that was that

Q After you got back, Martin Kent heard about this and called you up short on it?

A I didn't know all the things that Mr Kent testified to the other day But I think he did have a discussion with me and told me that, you know, EPU would prefer that I didn't drive sports cars while I was Governor

Q Did you ever do it again?

A I test drove my daughter's Honda Accord driving around Capitol Square And my last year in office I drove a van in Virginia Beach for about 20 miles Those are the three times that I drove as Governor So no, I didn't drive any more sports cars, no

Q In the summer of -- I want to talk to you a little bit about golf in general In the summer of 2011, aside from, you know, you have talked about golf at Smith Mountain Lake, et cetera, did you ever play golf with Mr Williams at Kinloch?

A We played at the Kinloch club I did. Twice in 2011 as his guest, once before the wedding, and then once later on in August I only, I think I only played once when Mr Williams was actually there A couple other times, though, we played Mr Dean, the sales manager, who greeted us there. But I think I only actually played maybe once with Mr Williams

Q On the time you played with your sons before the wedding, that would have been -- excuse me, the June 4th wedding, right? You played on the 29th of May; is that accurate?

A Yes

Q Do you know how that particular golf game was set up?

A I don't Many of those kinds of events are set up by another member of the family or by my scheduler I just knew that it was a very nice offer I got time with my sons and my son-in-law, and I understood it was related to the wedding I think my son, Bobby, might have coordinated that with Mr Williams But I didn't do it But I knew he did it, and I knew he was paying for it I knew that we were his guests, because that's the reason I sent him the thank you note

Q Okay That event, that golf outing, was that on your official calendar for the day on the 29th of May?

A Yes It was on my calendar

Q It was on your calendar

A Yes

Q And did you ever get any kind of a receipt from Star about the value of that particular outing?

A I didn't Typically, for people that donate the gifts, they know that under the rules they've got to send it to two different places One is to the donee, and I think the other is the state board. That would typically be received by Monica, the scheduler, for her to do the draft SOEI statement So I don't know she got anything I just don't know I don't think she got anything

Q Did you ever talk to her personally about it to remind her that "Yesterday, I went and played golf courtesy of Mr Williams or Star"?

A No, I didn't

Q Did that particular golf outing end up on your -- this is in May Did it end up on the SOEI form that you filed the following January?

A No, it did not

Q Whose fault is that?

A It is my fault

Q Was this the first time you went golfing at Kinloch, that May 29th event?

A Yes No, I had actually gone, I think, a year or two before that with another friend out there I think that was the only other time that I had played before But typically I would take my sons up to Honey Hawk or Sycamore or one of those courses and we would play together

Q When you were at Kinloch, did you go into the pro shop and buy items?

A You know, I saw the notes the other day in court I think, I know my sons might have gone in there I cannot remember whether I went in or whether somebody gave us a bag I know we met the manager The General Manager greeted us there I think that might have been one of the times that Mr Dean, the Star Scientific manager, was there, too, to walk with us or greet us, or he might have gone to the driving range with us I'm not sure that was one of the times But somehow I know we did end up up with some shirts I just don't have any independent recollection of me going in and buying things at the pro shop I know we had a couple things to eat, once at the beginning and once at the end, I know we ate, but I don't remember a pro shop visit

Q Did you end up with a golf shirt?

A I think so.

Q Are you aware that your sons played at Kinloch on August 5th and August 11th, they and some of their friends?

A I'm pretty sure I knew about the 11th, because when I played with them two days later, my son said that he had just played a couple days before I'm not sure I knew about the other one on, I believe it was the 5th. But I certainly knew that at least on one of those occasions that one of the boys played, yes

Q Okay Any reason why you didn't pay for these golf outings or any of these golf outings?

A I understood from my sons, who had coordinated those, that Mr Williams had offered to have them be their guests at the course

Q Did you try to pay caddies or give them tips?

A I did the first time I think I offered to pay the caddies I had an idea at least of what their charge would be And they told me that, no, Mr Williams was covering that, we were his guests

Q All right Having seen the receipts in court here, do you think that that was excessive, the golf outings?

A Yes I mean, I'm used to paying $50 or $75 for a round for me and my sons That's typically where I go when I take them. I have never belonged to a country club in my life I didn't ask the questions about how much it was I did not have any idea that it was going to be in the thousands of dollars on one of those events, and I should have asked That's a significant amount of money all totaled. Those gifts are certainly more than I had anticipated, given what my understanding of a golf outing was, even at a country club. I just didn't know But I should have known

Q Did you know anything about Kinloch or in life had you ever been there before?

A Just the one time I played with another doctor friend of mine as his guest

THE COURT: All right Mr Asbill

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Finishing up golf Did you play any other times at the golf club at Kinloch with your sons in 2012?

A Yes

Q How many times?

A Twice

Q What were the dates or do you recall the months?

A I played once in January right before the General Assembly session started, and then I believe the later time was right before Thanksgiving in 2012 In November, I played And I think that's the time Mr Williams and Mr Dean played with us as well

Q And were your sons playing with -- were your sons there every time you played?

A Yes

Q So they were home from school, essentially, when --

A Yes

Q -- these events occurred?

A We -- yes That's why I played, really, because that's the thing my sons enjoy doing, and I like taking that time with them So every time I play pretty much is with them.

Q Okay Let's go to September of 2011, the Cure By

Design event about which we've heard some testimony

A Yes.

Q In a nutshell, what were you doing that month, September 2011?

A I spent a lot of time on the campaign trail Again, the elections for the State House and Senate were in November, and I was heavily engaged in the political process, doing events, raising money for candidates around -- around the state But we're also in the throes of the budget process, working with Secretary Brown to get the -- all the budget recommendations ready for a December presentation to the General Assembly and our legislation ready for the next year

Q How much did you raise for other people's campaigns?

A We raised and spent I think about $5 million in 2011 for those campaigns

Q Was there any effort by the National Governors Association, was there lobbying about whether or not the event might be held in Virginia?

A Yes

Q And did you lobby for that to be held in Williamsburg?

A I did I learned that the National Governors Association meeting hadn't been held in Virginia in 57 years, and I really wanted to be able to host that in 2012 in Virginia It was the 200th anniversary of the Governor's Mansion that same year, and I thought that would be terrific to have that event in Richmond So I spent a lot of time lobbying other Governors And they eventually, I think, unanimously agreed to host the 2012 summer NGA meeting here in Richmond -- in Williamsburg

Q Did you raise money for that event as well?

A I didn't do a lot My staff did most of it But they had to raise about a million and a half dollars for that event I did a little bit, but not much

Q Okay The Cure By Design event, what is that event or what was it?

A It was a charity event for cancer patients My wife had been asked to be the honorary co-chair woman of that event She had done several things like that for cancer and heart disease and so forth, to be an honorary chairwoman of the event

So the whole idea is this was making it a fun event by having the cancer patients themselves actually be the models, modeling clothes, walking down a runway And that would be just a unique type of fundraiser for people that were hurting and had the disease, and it would be a way of getting people to come They would do -- there was an auction, and they'd raise money for charity

Q Hence the name, Cure By Design?

A Cure By Design

Q And did you arrive at that event independently?

A I did

Q And where were you earlier?

A I was out in Charlottesville. I was at a UVA football game with my sons

Q Okay And at the event, Mr Williams was there?

A Yes I got there near the tail end But Mr Williams was there and I think sat at the table with my wife

Q Do you know how Mr Williams got invited to attend the event?

A I think -- I think my wife invited him

Q You did not?

A No

Q Did anyone attend with Mr Williams, to your recollection?

A I believe that same -- I believe the same gentleman, Brad that was -- I mentioned earlier from New York, from the December 2009 mention, I think -- I believe he was there as well

Q Brad Kroenig?

A Yes The male model Yes

Q Okay And was a vacation with you and Maureen in New York City for a weekend, was that an auction item or a listed auction item?

A No, it was not

Q If it were to be a listed auction item, would that have been something -- would that have had to have been something that you would have had to approve?

A Me or my staff in advance, yes

Q Okay And what happened? How did some weekend there in New York get into play at the auction?

A When I got there, the MC, who I believe was one of these designers from New York, asked me to come out and walk down the runway with my wife, and then to be able to make some remarks and thank the people who were there for their generosity and donating to this worthy cause

I felt it was appropriate My wife was the co-chairwoman and I wanted to support her in this endeavor So I made some brief remarks and thanked people And then the -- somehow the MC decided that he was going to add an item to the agenda, and he offered his condo in New York as a auction item to say that people could come up there and stay for a weekend

And at this point I'm a little fuzzy I don't know if it was Mr Williams then at that point that offered his plane or whether it was the MC himself that already knew that But the next comments from the auctioneer was, "And we're going to have a plane to take you up there, and you also get to spend the weekend with the Governor and First Lady "

Q So what was your reaction --

A It was a little -- well, that was news to me; that was being auctioned off at the event So I had a decision to make as to whether to kind of cause a scene right there or just to say, Look Whoever bids on this, I'll just talk to them afterwards, but I'm not going to stay in some stranger's apartment in New York for a weekend, and I'll just deal with this afterwards And if we have to give them a discount or something, we can do that, but -- so it was a little awkward I had to make a decision out there on the stage I think you saw the pictures And so I just decided I'd wait it out and see what happened and who bid, and we'd just try to work this out afterwards

Q And who ended up bidding?

A Mr Williams bid He may have been the only donor I just don't remember But he ended up -- he ended up bidding 15,000, and that was the winning bid And so he donated $15,000 to charity

Q I take it the trip never happened?

A Never happened At least not with me

Q Dinner that night After the event, did you go to dinner with Mr Williams, and if so, was that planned or impromptu?

A No That was impromptu after the charity event I mean, we're obviously appreciative that he would make a donation like that to a charity that my wife was working on And so I think a couple of us just agreed to go to dinner afterwards I believe it was in the same hotel out in the western part of Richmond where the event was held And so we had a dinner afterwards

Q And who attended the dinner?

A You know, I'm a little fuzzy on that. I knows it was Mr Williams I believe the -- I think Mr Kroenig, Brad Kroenig was there My wife, me And I'm a little fuzzy There may have been a couple other people there, but it was -- it was six or seven people, I think

Q Do you recall, generally, what you discussed at dinner?

A I really don't have much recollection of that I think it was mostly about the auction and -- and just -- just general -- just general chitchat I don't think it was a lot about business or things like that at that time

Q Do you recall at the dinner whether or not Mr Williams asked you for anything?

A No Not to my recollection, he didn't ask me for anything

Q Were you aware of how much the dinner cost or your pro rata share for you and Ms McDonnell?

A No

Q You've seen evidence in this case that according to the credit card bills, or something, there's some -- I don't know Were there any reports back from Jerri Fulkerson about the cost of that dinner and whether or not it was a gift?

A Not to my knowledge

Q All right Do you remember what you ordered?

A I don't It was a restaurant inside the hotel, the Hilton Hotel out on the West End in Henrico I don't

Q Was alcohol ordered at the dinner?

A I think so

Q Did you order it?

A No

Q Did you look at the wine list or check out anything like that?

A No

Q Who did?

A I believe Mr Williams did

Q Did Mr Williams offer to pay for everyone at the dinner?

A Yes

Q All right On that score about dinners, Mr Williams apparently also paid for a dinner after the Healthcare Leaders event February 29, 2012?

A Yes

Q It was at the La Grotta restaurant here in Richmond?

A Yes

Q Do you remember going to that dinner?

A I do.

Q Okay And who attended that dinner?

A Again, that was, I think, a fairly impromptu dinner after the Healthcare Leaders event, or it might have been scheduled right before that I think my wife asked me to -- if I would go It kind of was right in the -- sort of at the tail end of the General Assembly session, and I took a -- we decided to take a brief break

But it was a couple people that had been there at the Healthcare Leaders event I know Dr Ladenson was there, Dr Crantz I believe my wife and I, Mr Williams And it seemed like to me there were a couple other people there, but I -- I'm just not -- I can't -- I'm not clear on that

Q Did Mr Williams, at that dinner, ask you for anything?

A No

Q What did you think the dinner cost? I mean, did you look at the menu? What did you think it cost?

A Well, you know, I had been to La Grotta a couple times before during my time that I've been here for the General Assembly session So -- I don't know I ordered an entrée that was probably about $20

And what I do remember is that was during Lent, and I don't consume any alcohol during Lent So I didn't -- I think my wife and I didn't have anything to drink So I thought the bill was fairly inexpensive At least for my share of it

Q Under 50 bucks for you?

A For me, yes

Q Did you think it was inappropriate in any way for Williams to be paying for the two dinners that I've just asked you about?

A No I mean, I've had -- you know, from my 22 years of reporting gifts on my Statement of Economic Interest, I've reported multiple, multiple dinners from different people along the way I've had many people, during campaigns, offer to take me out to dinner that have been reported on other reports and so -- I didn't That's probably the most frequent gift that there is in Virginia is people -- people taking other elected officials out to dinner Because from their view, it's not -- it's about the time They get to talk about whatever they'd like to talk about that's important to them

Q All right Up until that point of that La Grotta dinner, had you -- had Mr Williams asked you to do anything for him other than connecting him with Bill Hazel or somebody that could talk to him about his company back in October of 2010?

A He did not ask me directly. He sent me the letter back in June.

Q Yeah

A And then right around that time, it may have been a little after, he asked me to call his father for his 80th birthday But short of that, Mr Williams didn't make asks personally of me He informed me about what was going on with this company on a couple of occasions, but I had no ask at that time

Q So in person ever, did Mr Williams -- I mean, whether it's by phone or otherwise, did Mr -- call his dad, is there somebody I can talk to about my company, and that's it? And he sends you some letter that you refer to Hazel Is that it?

A Right In June of 2011, yes

Q Now, with respect to your wife attending Star events, we've talked about Roskamp Let's move on to October 2011 In general and in a nutshell, what were you working on that month?

A Well, that was still the campaign cycle We were now a month out from the general election So it was a very frenetic time when it came to the campaign trail So I spent a lot of time doing that And I was, again, still traveling I was, at that point, now Vice Chairman of the Republican Governors Association and spending a fair amount of time now helping out with Republican Governors initiatives around the country

Q Okay Do you recall that your wife, in October of 2011, attended three out-of-town Star-related events?

A I know that now I knew then in part

Q What did you know in realtime about her attending any event relating to Star?

A I knew in October, she told me she was going to Michigan to observe --

Q Flint, Michigan?

A Flint, Michigan I mean, I vaguely remember Mr Williams telling us, when he was over for dinner, about something called the Flint study, which was another one of the studies He had one at Hopkins, one at Roskamp, one, I think, at Pisa, and then he had this one at Flint that, my recollection, had to do with cardiovascular disease The one in Roskamp related to Alzheimer's

But this was another -- as I understood it from listening to him and then, I guess, my wife telling me too, this had to do with similar clinical trials or research on -- with anatabine for a different treatment modality, that being -- that being cardiac issues And so my wife told me essentially the same thing she told me going to Roskamp, that she was going -- she was going to take -- see some of the clinical trials and meet with doctors

And in my mind, I'm thinking that this is a small, sort of informal event, that Mr Williams had to travel out there anyway, and so my wife was going as a guest to observe, and she was going to just be there for the day

Q That's the Flint How about the Richmond --

A Yes

Q -- Westin event?

A I didn't know anything about that until after the investigation started

Q All right And the California event, the Pelican Hill, California, trip in mid-October?

A Yes I knew a little bit -- I knew a little bit about that because my wife was going to her annual Nu Skin convention out in Utah She had been, oh, I'd say half the time over the last couple of years This was the company, the nutraceutical company that she was a direct distributor for that had a line of weight loss and beauty products, nutraceuticals, et cetera I was taking a lot of those vitamins for the last ten years She was very, very excited about going to this annual convention because they get the latest information on products and science

And I knew that sometime shortly before the trip, I think she had originally made commercial reservations I think I'm not sure But at some point, that Mr Williams told her that he would be willing to take her on his plane out there because he had other -- other business out there as well, I think in California, and he'd be able to take them My wife was going with three other -- two or three other woman that were also distributors or were interested in the nutraceuticals products, and they were going out as a group And when Mr Williams made that offer, she told me that they were going to go with him

Q Okay Now, I mean, did you think about these events -- I mean, you didn't know about the Westin. But with respect to the Flint, Michigan, and the California trip, did you think that these were things that were inappropriate, based on what you understood, for her to attend?

A Well, no Getting -- about the California event, they ended up going to California a day in advance I didn't know that she was actually attending any Star-related event for that The other ones I did, but I understood those to be, again, clinical trials, et cetera So no I thought, first of all, she's not going really as the First Lady She's going because she's got this long-term interest in nutraceuticals Just like she was going to her Nu Skin convention, she wanted to learn more She wanted to be able to get a better understanding of the clinical trials related to this substance that a Virginia company had developed

And look, if there was something to this and they could have clinical trials be in Virginia, as opposed to Pisa or California or Michigan or Florida or Maryland, I was all for it I'd much rather have those things be in Virginia If this was something that could create jobs in Virginia, I was -- I was all for it

But at that point it seemed to be such in a preliminary stage My wife told me she was just going to observe, learn more, and I didn't see any -- any conflict There wasn't anything personal that I saw, that there was an ask directly for me to do anything for Mr Williams And so I didn't -- I didn't see a problem with her going, based on what I knew she was doing

I mean, had I known that there was investors and press there and that she was going to actually speak and be introduced in her official -- or actually, unofficial capacity there as the First Lady, I would have had a very different view of it

Q Mr Williams testified that before the Flint trip, which was October 22nd, he called you to ask your permission for your wife to attend Did that call occur?

A No I did not talk to him before that

Q And did you ever know that your wife was a featured guest of some sort at any of these events?

A I learned that after the investigation started, seeing invitations on the website about a month after the investigation that I learned of it

Q So your wife never told you that she spoke at any of these events?

A No

Q Do you know whether or not there was any effort internally within your staff to prepare or help her prepare remarks? For example, did -- did your Press Secretary, Tucker Martin, your Communications Director, Tucker Martin, did he try to help her prepare any kind of remarks for any of these events?

A Not to my knowledge

Q Okay

A But if -- if she was going speak, that would have been the traditional way of doing it, if it was a planned speech, because she would want to prepare days in advance That was her custom

Q All right And so -- I mean, you've seen these We've all seen these in the trial

A Yes

Q There was a video of the Flint, Michigan, trip

A Yes

Q And there was a video of the meeting out in Pelican Hill?

A Yes

Q And you saw her speak at those events --

A I did

Q -- on those videos?

A Yes.

Q Before the investigation started, had you ever seen those videos?

A No In fact, I saw them for the first time in court I had seen some transcripts before, after the investigation started, but I hadn't seen the videos

Q All right The Pelican Hill event in particular Do you recall, from watching the video in the courtroom, that when your wife got up to spoke -- to speak, excuse me, she said something to the effect that you were an old friend of Jonnie Williams?

A Yes

Q Do you have any idea where that came from?

A No I -- I would not think that That's not accurate I was not an old friend of Jonnie Williams We had known each other for a short period of time

I can only say that, you know, the discussion we had at the Mansion --

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor Speculation

A I really can't say

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q All right In 2011, I want to talk to you about the topic of the sale of Star stock

A Uh-huh

Q Do you recall knowing anything or learning anything in November 2011 about the sale of the Star stock that your wife had previously purchased much earlier in the year, in the May or June time frame, with the $30,000 of proceeds from the loan from Jonnie Williams to her?

A Yes

Q Okay And between -- is that May when you -- I mean June when you first learned about the purchase?

A Yes June 15th when we talked about it Yes

Q Okay Between June 5th and November, you thought that she had the stock and it was in the -- already in the kids' names?

A That's what I understood from our discussion Yes

Q Okay Did you learn anything in November about her still owning the stock, and if so --

A Yes

Q -- the sale of it?

A Yes, I did

Q And tell us how that happened What did you learn, and when did you learn?

A My best recollection, it was sometime before Thanksgiving in 2011 I believe I was sitting in my office upstairs in our apartment in the Governor's Mansion, and she told me that she, of course, still had the Star stock, but it was, in fact, not yet in the children's name, that she had been trying to get it into the children's name for a while and had had some discussions with Mr Piscitelli about that but hadn't been able to find a way to do it, that her -- her goal was to have it in the children's name, but her retain that stock until the children got married and then present them with a stock certificate in their name That's what her plan was This was her arrangement It was her money

And so -- I have known Mr Piscitelli for 25 years I figured whatever advice he gave her on any of these things would be -- would be good and that they could work that out

But she told me it was still in the kids' name at that point

Q Kids' name or her name?

A I'm sorry It was still in her name and she had not yet transferred it into the children's name

So the first thing I did was to look up the value of the stock, and I found out that in that, I guess, five- or six-month period, the stock had taken a tremendous monetary hit It had gone down dramatically, and the value of her investment had gone from about 31,000 to, oh, I think a little over $15,000

So I said, "Maureen, you" -- "you know, I suggest you" -- "don't transfer it to the kids I mean, what you need to do right now, you need to sell this stock I think My advice to you, this stock has gone down tremendously It's a risky stock It's not a blue chip It's a new start-up company It's an emerging company with that anatabine, and this thing has gone down" -- "you've lost half the value " In fact, I said, "You've lost half of your dad's inheritance " I mean, because that's the way she looked at it is this money that she borrowed from Mr Williams was really the substitute for the inheritance money that I asked her to spend on credit card abatement back in 2010

So I said, "This is not a good use of it You want to have a stable stock if you're going to buy stock for the children, and this clearly is not it It's too" -- "it's much too risky, and so I strongly recommend that you sell this stock "

Q And were you disappointed that she had not already transferred it into the children's names?

A Yeah, somewhat, or I -- yes, I was I thought maybe I misunderstood her But I clearly -- I clearly believed that it was already in the children's name at that point

Now, I still might have had to report some of that for the children if they lived in the house But either way, I heard that it was in the children's name So I was disappointed that I -- either I didn't ask the questions right or she didn't tell me right But it was clear to me at that point that -- couple things I told her -- I reminded her again that, you know, "I'm going to have to" -- "I will report this stock," which is fine I didn't have any -- no reason not to report it I wasn't doing anything for Mr Williams It was $15,000 of stock, but it was over the 10,000 limit So I let her know that this would probably be a reportable event But my strong recommendation at that time was, "The stock has taken a tremendous hit, and you really need to sell it "

Q Did you have any particular problem, if it weren't sold, reporting it if you owned it at the end of the year or if she owned it at the end of the year?

A No At that time, I had reported -- I had already reported about $108,000 of campaign contributions and PAC contributions from Mr Williams I had reported a $50,000 loan to -- no I -- no Let's see I wouldn't have at that time

I would have reported all these campaign contributions That year, I would have reported the loan from Mr Williams I would have reported the trip to Smith Mountain Lake from Mr Williams So I already knew that I had to report those And if I had to report $15,000 in stock, it -- there was no problem with me doing that I would do it

Q And your understanding, just so the jury is clear, if you and your wife, if you jointly -- I mean, you have to report for both you and your wife; is that correct?

A Well, for stock, yes, you report for the office holder and members of your immediate families And under the definition, that would include my wife and dependent children who also resided with me

And also for loans I would have to report separately my loans and then also loans to members of my immediate family Two different places on the form

So, again, I already knew the $50,000 loan would have to be reported

Q All right

A The Smith Mountain Lake trip was going to be reported So if I had to report $15,000 of stock, it really wasn't a -- I didn't have any concern about doing that But I -- I told Maureen to sell it because it was just a -- a really bad investment, and she was -- she had lost almost 55 percent of the value of her money in five months, and it was not a good idea.

Q Did you know anything about a letter from Mr Piscitelli to your wife on September 9th, 2011, that's been testified about in this case?

A I saw that after the investigation started I did not know that at the time

Q Was it -- after this discussion with your wife when you told her to sell it, was it your understanding that she did sell it after that conversation?

A Maureen was not -- I mean, she was not happy about my advice to sell it She really believed in this -- in the company She really -- from all the research she did and I think her trip to Roskamp, she told me she really thought this anatabine was going to be a significant healthcare breakthrough She understood that clinical trials would really take a couple years to really come to fruition before there was really the full research to back it up But I think she believed at that time that this was something that would not only be good for medicine, but eventually the stock would do -- would do well

So my advice to sell the stock was not well received Maureen hadn't owned stock before, to my -- to my knowledge I had owned it in my name, previous stock that I had --

Q From your father?

A From my father And then from my E*TRADE account that I had a while back, I think

So anyway, I told her that -- that it ought to be sold And I think at the end of our discussion, she reluctantly agreed and said "Okay I'll" -- "I think that's probably okay I'll do it "

Q Did you follow up with her after that about this issue?

A You know, I may have, but I'm -- I'm virtually certain we would have done it by the first week in January of the following year Because when I have to fill out the SOEI report, I've obviously got to know what my reporting requirements are And I knew I reported -- well, I had a lot of things to report But I had to report the Smith Mountain Lake trip, and I reported the $50,000 loan to my wife But I think we just -- we confirmed that the stock had been sold

I may have talked to her earlier in the previous year, but typically, these reports are done at the very end of -- we start the end of December and then go into the first week and a half in January is when all the work is done with Ms Block and Ms Watts because the reports are due the 15th of January

Q Were you a part of any phone calls or letters or correspondence or discussions with Mr Piscitelli and your wife in the fall of 2011 about the stock?

A No

Q And did you see any correspondence between Mr. Piscitelli and her about it?

A No

Q But you confirmed, by the time you filed your SOEI report for 2011, that you had to file by -- what, early January?

A Yeah January 15th.

Q January 15th?

A Right

Q You confirmed with her that the stock, in fact, had been sold as you had suggested she do?

A I believe I did, because that would have been the natural course of what I would have done to be sure that, in fact, I didn't have a reportable event

Q Did you have any idea about the level of communications in early December between your wife and Mr Williams that have been testified to in this trial, and in particular, the December 4th evidence about your wife having 52 texts with Mr Williams on that day?

A No

Q You have to answer audibly

A No I -- I had no idea of the volume of the contact between Mr Williams and my wife during that time

Q Okay Let's talk about Christmas 2011 Who was there at the house on Christmas Day?

A Boy, I'm pretty sure most of the kids would have been in and out at some point during that day Cailin and Chris usually share some -- sometimes will share holidays between the families, and Adam and Jeanine as well But most of the kids come for at least a part of the time during the Christmas holiday.

Q Is this the Christmas when you received the Rolex watch from your wife?

A Yes

Q And who did she say it was from when she gave it to you?

A The package that I got said from Santa But that's something my wife typically does I mean, we've been doing that for years I do that sometimes to her, too She'll do that for the children, put from Santa on there So anything from Santa I know is from Maureen

Q Was it wrapped in gift paper?

A I believe so

Q Let me show you what's been marked as RM-276

MR ASBILL: Can you hand that to the witness,

please

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize that box?

A Yes

Q What is it?

A That's a Movado box that contained the Rolex watch that I got from my wife in Christmas of '11

MR ASBILL: I'd move the admission of 276.

MR DRY: No objection

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q You say it is a Movado box?

A That's what it says

Q Not a Rolex box?

A No

Q When you got it, was there any of the normal sort of attendant paperwork that one might get with a watch, like guarantees or list of dealers for repairs or some form to send it to register it or any of that sort of stuff?

A No I didn't -- I don't think I saw anything like that inside it No

Q And what did you think when you got this gift from your wife? What did you say, and what did you think?

A Well, my wife has given me several watches over the time that we've known each other, over the 40 years I think the Seiko that I've been wearing for 15 years was from my wife So for my wife to get me a watch was not unusual. I've never owned a Rolex I wouldn't buy a Rolex for myself I knew they were expensive. How expensive, I really didn't have any idea. I certainly knew they were more expensive than the one that I had

Q The one what you had?

A The watch that I have now, my Seiko, that she got me 15 years or so ago

So I -- and it was Christmas, and I was -- it was the -- like I think one of the last gifts she gave me She typically will save her biggest gifts for the end And so I told her that was very nice It had the inscription on it that said 71st Governor of Virginia inside on the back plate of the watch So I knew it was something that appeared to be something very special for her that she wanted to give to me And like most gifts, I know I would have given her a hug and said, "Thank you That's very, very nice "

I did notice, of course, right away that -- while it had the inscription and it appeared to be in very, very nice shape, I -- it didn't come in the original box But I didn't ask her -- I didn't interrogate her because it was -- it was a gift, I knew, from her And so I -- I accepted it, and I appreciated it

Q Did you think it was new or used or what?

A I mean, it -- it appeared to be generally new, but, again, not accompanied by the typical things When I've gotten watches in the past and they have been new, they've had paperwork and so forth in there, the warranty information and dealer -- dealer information and so forth And there was none of that there There was a time that I thought that, you know, maybe it's -- I don't know Maybe it's not -- not real I just didn't know But I -- I -- I didn't interrogate my wife as to, you know, where did you get it, how much did it cost. But I figured based on the new job she had, that she had the capacity to do this if she wanted to

Q What was your sense about -- you know, whatever you knew about Rolexes or not, what was your sense about what the potential value or possible value of the watch was?

A You know, I had never shopped for an item like that before I figured it was in the thousands of dollars, but I just honestly didn't have a good sense Four, five I just -- I really didn't -- I didn't know

Q Did you -- I mean --

A But --

Q If it were new, as opposed to used?

A Yeah I figured if it was new, maybe it was in that time frame I knew it was a very expensive watch and was sort of the pinnacle of the profession of watch making And I thought my wife was trying to do something very, very nice for me at that -- at that time as a way of, you know, trying to -- you know, we had had some hard times those previous months before that, and that maybe this was something she was doing that was extraordinary with the proceeds she got from her work at McGlothlin Foundation to say, "Listen I" -- "this is an expression of my love for you and I want you to have this really, really nice watch " But I didn't question her about where it came from or any of that I just figured she -- whatever it was, she bought it and it was probably a lot of money, but she had the resources to do that if she wanted to

Q What do you mean "she had the resources"? What are you talking about in terms of her access to cash at that time?

A Well, she -- I knew she was getting some small overrides from Nu Skin So she would have had some money in the bank But she also started, back in June of '11, as I mentioned, Mr and Ms McGlothlin asked her to be what I thought was a Board member of the McGlothlin Foundation And I think for that, that she was being paid a -- this was a charitable foundation for a Virginia businessman who was investing in charitable operations with his -- it was his money And she was paid a stipend of $36,000 a year

And she had gotten one check in, I believe, June of '11, and I believe she had just gotten her second check in December of 2011 And so I figured that whatever the cost of the watch was, that she certainly, while I believed it was a lot of money, I believe she certainly had the capacity to buy that watch if she wanted to, based on the new income that she had

Q And what was your understanding of the amount of the new income?

A That was $18,000 each -- semi -- biannually Yes So twice a year I mean So it was in June and December So she would have just gotten her second check, I think, right before Christmas

Q Did you like the watch?

A Not really I mean, it was big It was gaudy It wasn't my kind of watch I've liked -- this watch that she got me 15 years ago I really liked It's running well And that one was -- I mean, it was just too big I mean, I -- but it was my wife getting me the watch And so for a while I wore it, but it just -- it just wasn't a comfortable feel Not necessarily because it was a Rolex, but I just didn't like the feel of it on my wrist It was just big

Q This was Christmas 2011?

A Yes

Q And this was right in the middle of the difficulties you previously described, this day leading up to the attempted sort of resignation of the Mansion staff in January?

A Yes I mean, I didn't know about it at Christmas of '11 But I knew -- this was in the middle of me having -- having Mr Burke and -- Dr Burke and Ms Pierce in to do a lot of the work with the Mansion staff, because we were trying to do the reorganization and the new staff And I had had many challenges, you know, directly with my wife at that time And the last thing I wanted to do was pick a fight over a Christmas present that she obviously felt was important to buy and to give to me And that -- that's just, again, another fight that I didn't want to pick Because whatever the money she made, it was her money, and I was not going to get back into telling her what to do with her money I felt I had made that mistake before

Q Did Tucker Martin or Jasen Eige, your Chief of Staff and counsel, tell you at some point that they didn't think, from a political -- politically optics -- political optics perspective that it was appropriate for you to be wearing a Rolex?

A Yes

Q And did you accept their advice?

A Yes

Q And you went back to wearing your old watch?

A Yes

Q So how long did you actually wear this watch?

A It might have been a -- I don't know Maybe a couple of weeks. And then I'd wear it -- I wore it for some special occasions after that

Q Into 2012?

A Into 2012

Q How many special occasions in 2012?

A Oh, I really can't say Maybe Easter, birthday, Christmas, things like that I mean, I knew my wife had spent a fair amount of money on this, whatever it was, and I didn't want to completely stop -- stop wearing it So at least on special occasions I -- I -- I wore it

Q Personally, did you care anything about having a Rolex watch?

A No I've -- I mean, I've had --

Q I mean aside from the connection to your wife?

A That was the main connection My whole -- I've been Timex and Seiko my whole life That's -- as long as it was accurate Everybody knows I'm always on time

Q You say that facetiously?

A I do

Q When did you find out that the Rolex was actually from Mr Williams via your wife?

A I believe it was in -- maybe sometime in March of 2013

Q At the time that the investigation was starting to be reported in the press?

A Yeah This was well after the investigation had started and I had retained counsel And I found out a combination, I think, from my -- from counsel and from my wife

Q I want you to take a look at a photo, GX 274, Page 8, that has previously been admitted This is a picture of you with the watch?

A Yes, it is

Q And when was it taken?

A You know, to the best of my recollection, that was taken a year later It was taken at Christmas of 2012, I think We were going to -- I think we were going to church out at St Michael's maybe for Christmas I believe that's right And the picture was taken I think it was -- it looks like I was in the back of the State Police SUV --

Q How did --

A -- sitting in my regular spot

Q I'm sorry I didn't mean to interrupt you

A Yeah That's okay

Q Why did you wear it that night?

A Well, again, I wore it a couple times after that Christmas would have been one of them I kept it in my drawer most of the time But I think Christmas, again, Easter, birthdays Some special occasions if I was with my wife or my children, I'd wear that watch And this would have been one of them, the Christmas after I got it I think that's my best recollection of when that was -- of when that was taken

Q Did you know that that photo was being taken at the time it was taken?

A I mean, there's so many -- I've had my picture taken so many times by so many people the last years, Mr Asbill

But from the angle, that's -- my wife sits right next to me And so from that angle, this would have -- this looks like a picture that would have been taken by my wife sitting next to me in the SUV, in the back And I think we took some -- generally, at Christmas we take a lot of pictures In front of the tree, in the car, going to church, dressed up after church when the children are there So my best recollection is that would have been taken by my wife in the car

Q A year after the Christmas you received it?

A I think so Yes

Q Do you know how this picture got to Jonnie Williams?

A I know how it didn't get there

Q And how didn't it get there?

A It did not get there from me Because --

Q You never sent him any picture of you wearing the Rolex to suggest that, hey, you've got my chef, but I got your watch?

A No Because I did not know -- there would be no reason for me to do that because I had no knowledge that this watch was from Mr Williams at this time

And secondly, that picture was never on my phone This -- the picture, as I saw in court, was produced by my wife's counsel to the government So this would have never been on my phone

Q Did you have any knowledge that someone other than you sent it to Mr Williams on Christmas Eve 2012?

A No

Q Did your wife ever tell you that she sent this photo to -- I mean before the investigation began, did she ever tell you that she sent this to Mr Williams?

A She did not No

Q You've looked at -- I want to move on to talking about 2011 in general Have you had a chance to review some of the phone records, your phone records for 2011?

A I'm not sure which ones you might mean, but I've -- I've reviewed a fair amount Yes

Q All right

MR ASBILL: Excuse me Have I moved that box in, Judge? If I have not, I wanted to

THE COURT: Yes. 276.

MR ASBILL: Thank you, sir

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Are you aware, as we speak, of how many times you had contact with Mr Williams, text, phone calls, in 2011?

A Yes I mean, I looked at the log, and I saw one phone call

Q And how many texts?

A I don't remember that number, but it was fairly small

Q Under ten?

A Potentially It wasn't many

Q The phone call you had, do you recall the length of the phone call?

A It was two minutes I left him a voice mail I believe the day we played golf to -- just to thank him for that I think on May 29th of 2011 And I'm almost certain it was two minutes And I know Verizon rounds up So I'm almost certain it was a voice mail

Q All right Are you now aware -- were you aware in realtime of the number of phone calls or texts in 2011 between Jonnie Williams and your wife?

A I had no idea until we started getting records and documents from the government and from other places that my wife had anywhere near that kind of communication with him Absolutely not

Q And were you surprised to learn that it totaled 950?

A Yeah I was -- yeah I -- I was I was -- I was actually hurt, and I was very surprised that the minutes were more than she talked to me Yes

Q Let me talk to you about the Romney event in South Carolina in January 2012 I know you've described it, and if there's anything additional you have to add, fine But you've described the busyness of the January 2012 time frame Anything additional to what you've already testified to with respect to that month?

A No I've given the list of different things It was perhaps the most difficult time that I experienced in public life was that time there with the multiple budget, first the Mansion crisis, and just the myriad of things I had to do personally and professionally

Q Okay Let's take a look at RM-0179-0019 Do you recognize this?

A Yes That's my schedule for January 19th of 2012

MR ASBILL: I move the admission of this, Your

Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q So this is -- you've seen this before? You've seen this schedule before, this calendar?

A Yes

Q All right And, essentially, what were you doing that day? Just in a nutshell

A Yeah A myriad of things That the General Assembly had just reconvened So this is always the busiest time of the year. These 45 or 60 days during the General Assembly session So I had a number of events related to the General Assembly A meeting with legislatures I had rolled out my public safety initiatives that afternoon I had a couple congressmen calls, an event with a business at 11:00 Neustar We were doing some sort of -- some sort of event for that company

Q You said Neustar, not Star?

A No Neustar

Q All right And you have on your calendar in purple a lunch scheduled with Ms McDonnell at the Executive Mansion?

A It's on the schedule

Q Did it happen?

A Excuse me I'm sorry?

Q Did it happen?

A I don't think so And the reason I say that is I'm getting ready to go out of town for at least a day A number of these lunches, unfortunately, that I had scheduled and planned with my wife did not happen Those were my fault I either got there late or because of some other crush with a business we had during that day, something came up that I had to do So I -- I don't have any independent recollection of being there that day at the Mansion

Q Do you recall ever having lunch with Mr Williams and your wife?

A You know, there was -- I remember one time, it was sometime during that year and a half period, that I was there for lunch and Mr Williams was there But I -- I just can't place -- I cannot place when that was It was a social lunch

Q It was not on May 23rd of 2011?

A No

Q All right Let me take a look now -- or let us take a look at GX 586, which previously has been admitted, which is a government chart I believe agent -- or -- summary agent testified about This is the same day, the January 19th, 2012?

A Yes

Q Okay And this shows phone calls between your sister Maureen and Michael Uncapher while you were scheduled to be at lunch with your wife?

A Yes That's what it says Yes

Q Okay. Do you recall Mr Uncapher's testimony that he had a call with -- with your wife Maureen and Jonnie Williams around this time about buying -- about Jonnie Williams buying or potentially buying one or both of the MoBo properties?

A Yes. I remember hearing that

Q All right And were you on this call with them on January 19th?

A No, I was not on that call, or I was not present when that call occurred

Q Did you ever discuss the purchase of Sandbridge properties with Mr Williams?

A No

Q All right Let me show you an e-mail from January 27th GX 295

MR ASBILL: Can we pull that up, please I think that's also been previously admitted Let's start at the top first

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize this?

A Yes And I'm familiar with this e-mail

Q All right And that's an e-mail from you -- excuse me From Maureen your sister to you?

A Yes

Q Okay

A No That's Maureen my wife

Q Wife Okay

MR. ASBILL: Scroll down

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q And the next one -- is this between you and your wife as well that same day?

A Yes

MR ASBILL: And let's go down to the bottom before we get to that

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is an e-mail from Mr. Uncapher, and that's to you and who, your sister, or is that to your wife?

A That's a good question I think -- I think -- I don't know It's hard to tell because it just said "Bob & Maureen " Oh, well, let's see That Gmail would be -- that is my -- that is my Gmail

Q Okay

A So it may have been addressed to both of us But it's just me That's not my sister

Q Okay That's to you?

A Yes

Q All right So this is an e-mail from Mike to you and your -- you and your -- you and who? Is this it -- I'm sorry Did you say your sister or to your wife?

A No I think it's maybe addressed to my wife and me, but it says "Bob & Maureen McDonnell," but there's only one e-mail there, which is -- that is my e-mail That's my Gmail

Q The rfmva09?

A Right And just --

Q Okay

A Just looking at the context of it, it appears to be to my wife and I

Q Okay And it talks about -- the highlighted portion talks about, "For MoBo, I talked with your Mo" -- that would be your sister -- "last week"?

A No That would be my wife

Q Wife Okay "And she had me talk to the guy who is" -- "the guy who is helping us," right?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Go back up to the top, or the middle e-mail

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you respond to that comment in an e-mail on the 27th?

A Yes

Q And who are you responding to?

A Well, I had received this e-mail from Mike, but I'm responding to my wife Maureen because I'm not familiar with any discussions that have taken place with anybody about any loans for 2012 yet, and I don't know who exactly they're talking about I -- I said "Johnny," but I wasn't really sure who they had already talked to So I wanted to find out from my wife what was going on

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: You can pull that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q So on the 27th of January, you -- you did not know that Maureen and Mike were talking to Mr Williams about a loan to MoBo?

A No

Q Let's go back to your calendar for January 20th, 2012 RM-0179-0020 I think that this has been admitted

MR ASBILL: At this point, Your Honor, could I move into evidence RM-179, which is his calendar for 2012 and 2013 I think it's been stipulated to as authentication

MR DRY: Your Honor, we're fine with all the way through the indictment date But anything post the end of the conspiracy is irrelevant regarding the calendar And I think we've spoken to counsel about this

MR BURNHAM: The indictment was in 2014

MR DRY: I'm sorry Are you just going to the 2013?

MR BURNHAM: Yeah

MR DRY: No 2012 and 2013

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR ASBILL: Okay

BY MR ASBILL:

Q So on this day, what does your calendar show where you were on the 20th of January?

A This was a big day for me I was in New York in the morning I think I had flown up the night before And I had a number of -- a number of national TV shows that day in New York, because this was the day I was going to endorse Governor Romney for President down in South Carolina But I was in New York that day to do a round of TV shows for that purpose

Q All right And you were going to endorse him for the primary; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And did you do that?

A I did After the New York events, I had a number of TV shows And then I had a couple of -- I actually had one -- a couple of RGA-related events, fundraising calls and events And then I actually had a state economic development meeting, you see there at noon, to try to talk to this Broadridge company and try to recruit them to come to Virginia So I had multiple different -- different things

And then we left about 2:00 from New York, and I flew directly to South Carolina with a couple campaign aides and some Romney staff in order to meet up with Governor Romney in South Carolina

Q The two -- your staff Who went with you on that flight?

A I was with Phil Cox and I believe Tucker Martin And then Ron Kaufman, who is one of Romney's key staffers, flew on the Romney plane from New York

Q So you go directly from New York to South Carolina; is that right?

A Yes

Q And did you meet up with your wife at some point in South Carolina?

A Yeah At the airport, my wife and Janet Kelly and, I believe, Mr Williams had flown down separately And my staff met up with them, and we got into different cars and headed to the convention center in Charleston

Q Do you know how it was arranged that your wife and Janet Kelly and Mr Williams would all come down to this event?

A I don't I mean, I do now But, I mean, at the time, those are logistics that were arranged either by my wife or the First Lady's staff or my scheduler The same people that arrange my own travel So I don't -- I don't know exactly how

Q Did you expect Mr Williams to be there at the event?

A Well, if he was -- I think I might have known at some point, looking at the schedule maybe that day, that it was his plane that was taking my wife and Secretary Kelly down there So typically, if an owner of the plane was coming along on the plane, I'd -- you know, it's not unusual for them to come to events Frankly, a lot of times I invite -- if I'm going to events, I invite the owner or I invite the pilots to come to the event because they've, obviously, been kind enough to let us use an asset So I would usually invite them if they were letting us use the plane

Q Did you invite Mr Williams to attend?

A No

Q And when was the first time you saw him in South Carolina?

A I don't know if I saw him at the airport I may have At the airport, it was just using the restrooms and then getting into different vehicles And we were running a little bit late This event was at 4:00 So I got into, I believe, a South Carolina state trooper vehicle and -- I think with Maureen, and we headed off to the Romney event

Q And do you remember seeing him -- if you saw him at the airport, do you remember seeing him later at the event?

A Yes

Q All right And where was that? Under what circumstances?

A Well, after the endorsement was over, the schedule said that there was going to be a brief dinner after the endorsement And Governor Romney and I and Governor Haley and others and staff got back into a campaign bus and literally drove out of this facility into another part of the facility It's a big facility

And this is where we were going to stop for I think 20, 25 minutes and just have some -- basically some finger food before we headed to the airport to fly to Greenville for another rally that next day And at some point I saw Mr Williams come into the event with a number of my staffers I was talking to Mr -- I was talking to Governor Romney with Phil Cox at the time and just having a sandwich, and Mr Williams came in with some of my staff

Q Did you invite him to that lunch or whatever?

A I did not

Q Are you aware of who did?

A No

Q Were you aware that your wife spoke to Ann Romney about Anatabloc during this trip?

A Yes

Q You overheard some of that?

A I overheard a little bit of it on the bus I think either later that day or the next day That my wife was talking to her about her -- about her MS, and there was some mention of Anatabloc I didn't hear -- I was not in that conversation, but I overheard a little bit of it

Q And what was your reaction to overhearing that conversation?

A You know, I knew -- I knew Ms Romney a little bit She -- well, my reaction was I knew my wife was trying to be helpful because of Ms Romney's MS, but I just felt that that -- it felt very -- it felt inappropriate in that setting that we were in for Maureen to be having that discussion It wasn't -- it wasn't that long, but it was -- it just felt wrong And I know Phil -- I think I saw Phil, you know, interject in the conversation and change -- change the subject I mean, Mr Williams wasn't there, but I -- it just seemed like the discussion was out of place Ms Romney was very gracious and listened, but it was -- that part of the discussion seemed to be fairly brief

Q Did it embarrass you?

A A little bit Yes.

Q Did you try to set up a meeting between Mr Williams and Governor Romney?

A No Absolutely not That wouldn't have happened at an event like that Governor Romney's time was scripted so carefully, because I had essentially the same schedule he did, and I know we had every bit of time planned And having an impromptu meeting with somebody that he didn't know was simply not going to happen, especially at that phase of the campaign The South Carolina primary was two days later, and that just was not going to happen

Q Around this time frame that we're talking about, do you recall your wife talking to you about whether or not she could be on Star's Board of Directors?

A Yes

Q And your reaction or response was what?

A Well, her first comment to me was whether -- was Mr Williams asked whether I could be on the Board And, of course, I told my wife, "Absolutely not " I mean, I can't serve on a Board I wouldn't anyway, but that's -- as Governor, those conflicts are irreconcilable I couldn't do that, wouldn't do it

Q He never asked you that?

A No, he never asked me that

Q But your understanding was she was telling you that he wanted you to be on the Board?

A That's what she said I found that to be a little -- a little odd And then at some -- I think at some later time she asked -- said Mr Williams had asked whether she could serve on that Board And I told her that I thought that was a very bad idea, really for the same reasons that I told her why I thought the nutraceutical sales in an active participation were not a good idea while I was Attorney General or while I was Governor I knew there was a previous First Lady back in the '90s that had served on a corporate Board, and it -- there was some conflicts and she had to resign And so I -- I told Maureen that that was -- that was really a -- not a good idea at all, that she could not do that

Q There was a distinction between a corporate Board and a nonprofit Board?

A I think very much so, yeah For McGlothlin Board, giving away moneys to charity, I thought that was okay But being in a -- being on a for-profit Board I thought was probably not appropriate

Q And so you basically said that that's not a good idea And what was your wife's response?

A I think she understood that And I don't know what happened after that, whether she talked to Mr Williams But that was -- that was my -- I mean, that was very strong advice. That would affect -- I thought that would affect me directly. So I just told Maureen, "You can't do that."

Q Did Mr Williams ever ask you to be on the Star Board?

A No

Q Do you know whether or not he ever -- do you know, from talking to him or overhearing anything, whether he, in fact, asked her to be on the Star Board?

A I don't know other than what Maureen told me I don't know.

Q Let's move on to the MoBo loans These are the loans that Mr Williams gave for MoBo, but I want to ask you a little bit about --

A Yes

Q -- background questions And I know your sister testified at some length about this And, you know, just in a -- in short, what was your perception of why you wanted to -- to buy these properties or own them with your sister?

A My sister and I had talked about it for a while

We're very close, and it was -- honestly, it was sort of a long-standing dream I had lived in Virginia Beach for 21 years at that time, and we -- my sister had moved there about three or four years before we left in 2005 And we had so many fond memories when I was a kid going down to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina It was really the only luxury of any kind my parents ever -- ever really took upon themselves And so we rented the same house every year down in Myrtle Beach and took all of our kids, and usually some of my cousins would come from Massachusetts or Texas And we just remembered that that was -- it was about family It was fun It was just simple We didn't have any plans We just went to the beach every day

And so, you know, we started talking about it in 2003 or so, after my sister moved there from Ohio, about maybe buying a place We looked -- we looked a little bit in Virginia Beach, looked a little bit in North Carolina But we decided, in 2005, that -- I was running for Attorney General This was my last year I was obviously hoping that I'd be fortunate enough to be win, and if I did, I'd be moving to Richmond And so I wouldn't be in Virginia Beach anymore And so I talked to my sister about maybe looking at the market and seeing if this was a time that made sense for us to buy

Q And, in fact, you did in 2005 or 2006?

A In March of '05 is when we closed So we would have started talking about this probably in, oh, early to mid-'04

Q Did you hope that the houses would ultimately appreciate in value?

A Well, sure Absolutely I mean, the --

Q I'm sorry.

A No The primary goal was -- this was a long-term proposition We thought that at some point this would be the place where the kids would come back No matter what life dealt for my wife and I, that if we had a house at the beach, my children -- I've got five children I love them very much At some point they'd always come back because they love Virginia Beach. So that was number one

And then long-term -- real estate, in the long run, is generally always a pretty good investment If you hold on to it long enough, it's going to appreciate in value, and that would be why it would make sense

Q At the time you bought the properties with your sister, was the market on an uptick?

A It was

Q All right And that didn't last into 2008, '9?

A It did not

Q All right And did you understand -- did you understand, when you purchased these properties, that -- that you may have to lay out cash in excess of whatever -- was the idea to rent them?

A Yes

Q Aside from when the family used the property?

A Yes. And they had been rented before we bought them. So we had rental history that we could do a little pro forma to estimate what the rents and expenses would be

Q Okay And so your idea was to rent them as well; is that correct?

A Yes

Q All right And did you understand or have any sense of whether or not the rental income would cover the debt service on the purchase of the properties in addition to the expenses that you might incur in terms of either managing the properties or keeping them up?

A Yes We knew it would cover the debt service and the principal on all the loans, but it would not -- it was not going to cover all of the other expenses for the property

Q All right That is unless rents rose dramatically?

A Well, we -- yes As rents rose and -- you know, the rates were a little bit higher at that time So we figured maybe down the road we'd refinance and reduce the expenses So our -- the business proposition was that we'd have capital appreciation in the long run in the property, but also as we paid down the -- paid down the debt, that we'd -- we'd have capital accumulation as the mortgage balances on all those loans went down So long term, it would have made sense And, you know, frankly, maybe hold on to it long enough, it might be something, an asset we'd pass on to the kids at a later time

Q Okay As we talk about MoBo just to make sure that I don't confuse myself, can we talk about your sister by the nickname Mo --

A Yes

Q -- and your wife as Maureen?

A Yes

Q Okay Whose idea was it to buy the properties, ultimately?

A We both talked about it, but my sister really was the one that led the search and most of the financial deal early on

Q All right And MoBo stands for Mo and Bob?

A Mo and Bob, yes

Q All right And your sister described your relationship, her relationship with you, when she was in court the other day Is that an accurate or a fair characterization of your all's relationship?

A The best friend relationship?

Q Yeah

A You know, I've got two of my other sisters in the courtroom today so -- I've already gotten in trouble earlier for that So -- we're very close, to all my sisters, but I really -- I love Maureen a lot, yes

Q Who picked out the properties?

A Maureen did

Q And who took the lead on the paperwork and the loans?

A Maureen

Q And how did you both purchase -- how did you purchase these properties?

A You know, I -- I'm struggling to remember We had -- we had some -- obviously, we had to make a down payment, and then we had to secure a loan I think I helped to secure that initial loan through a bank called Bank @Lantec That was the initial lender on the property

I think my sister helped to arrange some of the secondary financing through Navy Federal and TowneBank But I believe our down payments came from a combination of cash and maybe a home equity loan I really don't remember for that first one back in '05, but that's how -- that's how the proposal got put together

Q If -- if running this business or whatever, if you -- was it your understanding that your sister would help out financially if that was necessary?

A Certainly She was -- we each had our strengths going into the partnership But I certainly knew that her -- with my public service and my office and the things that I was hoping to do, I certainly knew that she was going to be the stronger financial partner throughout the relationship

Q And your strengths in the partnership were what?

A Well, I was -- her husband was going to do the bookkeeping, and I was going to -- I was going to help with -- well, some of the maintenance That was good therapy for me But I could do that I would help with some of the marketing, working with the Sandbridge Realty company to help formulate a marketing plan to increase the rents the best that we could And then we'd just see how it planned out Because originally, we just bought the one property and didn't have a goal to buy a second one initially

Q When MoBo -- MoBo is the operating company; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And did MoBo itself have assets at any point?

A Well, sure MoBo has a bank account that has anywhere from zero to tens of thousands of dollars During the summer at the high peak rent seasons, it might have 40, $50,000 in there But its most valuable asset of MoBo was accounts receivable, because the rents now are $220,000 or so a year between the two properties Back then, it was less than that But accounts receivable really is the significant asset of MoBo

Q How does that work? Accounts receivable You mean there were reservations or bookings for rentals?

A Sure

Q Is that what you're talking about?

A Yeah The way these book, the rental company manages the property for us In terms of finding renters, they book either on phone, on-line, and we can see well in advance Many of the properties book a year in advance, at least seven, eight, ten weeks a year in advance, and then early in the year So we're able to be able to war game the cash flow a little bit based on the rents But all those rents, people will put deposits in well in advance So that is a real asset, the accounts receivable, that are owed for rents on that property Because most of the contracts come in anywhere from 6 to 12 months in advance

Q Okay And what was the plan in terms of who would manage the books? Was that Mike?

A Yes In fact, Mike was appointed very early on by my sister I did some of the legal work Practicing law at the time, we Incorporated MoBo You saw the certificate of incorporation back in 2005 to make it a limited liability company And my sister, as the managing member of the LLC, appointed her husband, Mike, and I agreed to that, as really the office manager He was going to run the business sort of day to day, the checks, the business, working with the accountant, the bookkeeper and so forth. And that was his contribution to the business.

Q We've heard his testimony about late fees and his role in late fees At the time that that happened, did you know that he was having difficulty, you know, getting the bills paid on time or getting whatever the late fees were?

A I mean, I had -- I had no idea there were 29 late fees I mean, I didn't get the statements at the time The statements went to my sister, who gave them to Mike and who did the books I knew very little about the late fees I think I might have had a conversation at one point with either my sister or Mr Sessoms about the late fees, that there were some But during that '08, '09 time frame, I didn't know

I mean, the way it worked, I mean, my sister and I were so busy with our respective jobs that Mike would tell us when there needed to be a cash infusion We always knew that from December through about May there was going to be a significant operating shortfall We went in with our eyes wide open knowing that was going to occur, that -- especially after the second house, that there was going to be an average shortfall of anywhere from 40 to $60,000, which meant 20 to $30,000 a piece that we'd have to come up with every year And, you know, to have two vacation homes and have a place for my kids and knowing that long term we'd have capital appreciation, that made -- that made sense to us

Q Okay When did you learn that -- that your sister and Mike were having problems in their marriage?

A Late 2011, there was an initial separation with Mike and Maureen And I remember I had a meeting with Mike to tell him that I needed to be a little bit more involved in the business now I didn't have the time, really, but I'm concerned about the fact that they are separated, and I want to make sure I have at least some handle on -- on the finances And so we had a meeting and talked a little bit about that

So I took a little more active role, for instance, in the construction project we did a couple months later and a few other things So I tried to stay a little closer with Mike on managing the business

Q Did that occur in the fall of 2011 or into 2012 or both?

A Well, that was November, December of 2011 that I had that initial conversation And then when they split for good in October of 2012, I then took on full responsibility I demanded all the books back from Mike And so about November 1st of 2012, I took on full responsibility for managing MoBo, and my sister Eileen took on the responsibility of managing the Blue Ridge Heaven, LLC, which was the Wintergreen property So we split that up Because my sister was -- my sister was very distraught over the problems in her relationship, and she just wasn't able to do it

Q You say you had to get more involved in the early part of the year, January 2012 --

A Yes.

Q -- is that right?

A I did

Q And that's -- that's the same time frame that you've talked about --

A Yes

Q -- repeatedly today in terms of --

A Absolutely

Q -- busyness?

A Yes

Q All right

THE COURT: We'll stop now, Mr Asbill

All right Ladies and gentlemen, we'll see you tomorrow at 9:45 And as I've said every day, please don't allow anyone to discuss this case with you, and don't discuss it with anyone else And please don't read any media items relating to this case

You all be safe, and we will see you tomorrow, 9:45

All right, good morning Mr Asbill?

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Cont'd)

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Good morning, Mr McDonnell How are you?

A Good morning, Mr Asbill

Q We were about to start talking about MoBo and the MoBo loans, and I have one sort of initial question for you It is MoBo, LLC; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Why the choice of that structure as opposed to a partnership or a sole proprietorship or some other form of business venture?

A That was the advice we got from our counsel, Bert Poole, back in 2005, that that was the best structure given the fact that the properties were going to be rented and that would be most favorable for our potential liability issues, so we set it up that way.

Q What kind of liability issues are you thinking of?

A Things that might occur with rental property, people possibly getting hurt on the premises, et cetera That was just the best advice of options, partnership versus limited liability company or sole proprietorship That was the advice we got so we acceded to that advice in '05

Q Okay Now, with respect to MoBo and the operating shortfalls or potential operating shortfalls, how did you plan to cover those?

A We had a line of credit initially that my sister had set up through TowneBank that we used during those first couple years We knew that whatever that number was initially, perhaps as much as 40 to 60, we were hoping as rents got greater and we could control expenses better that those numbers would shrink going forward but it was either going to be loans or personal money that we put into the operations each year

Q Is that how Dr Davis got involved?

A Yes

Q All right. And who was Dr Davis?

A Dr Davis was my wife's physician He is a radiologist, but did some work for her for many years down in Virginia Beach I got to know him, also, through political circles He donated some to my campaign and we became friends with he and his wife Betsy

Q Unfortunately he is now deceased?

A Yes, he passed away last year

Q In 2011, in order to cover a shortfall --

A Excuse me, I think it was early this year Dr Davis passed away, I believe

Q Let me go back to 2009 Did you all have to put in money for a shortfall in some way in 2009?

A Yes I think in '09 and '11 we put in our own money and the other years we made the loans

Q Okay So in 2011, you didn't take a loan; is that correct?

A No

Q You just put in cash, you and your sister put in cash?

A Yes, that's my recollection, yes

Q All right Let me talk to you about the $50,000 loan to MoBo on March 6th, 2012

A Yes

Q That was from Mr Williams?

A It was actually from Starwood Trust

Q Okay And in early 2012, were you trying to figure out whether or not to take a loan or try to fund it in some way by yourselves?

A Yes My sister and I had a brief discussion about what would be the option, should we put in money or should we use the loan route

Q And obviously you chose the loan option Why?

A Well, we had resources Combined, I think in the March time frame, I had about $67,000 in the bank between my two accounts and my wife's account and the MoBo account And had, gosh, by that time, limited credit card debt, so we had nearly 200,000 in credit card capacity We could have written the check. But we decided that since we had put money in in 2011, that borrowing money was the appropriate way to go As a small business, we thought that small loans at low interest rates would be beneficial; we could save our cash for other purposes that would come up And my sister also had, she was just a little bit concerned about conventional loans as well She had the ding on her credit report because of her husband's business and bankruptcy, or potential bankruptcy, and so it was more beneficial just to secure a private loan at that time.

Q When you say bankruptcy, whose bankruptcy are you talking about?

A Michael's He was considering that at the time, but he had several -- his business was essentially going under He was a muscle activation therapist, and at that point his business was not going well And I think he had defaulted, my sister testified to that, defaulted on a loan that she was the guarantor for, or may have actually been the principal, and she was worried about the effect on her credit report she had, and therefore, traditional credit might not be available that year

Q In this time frame, March of 2012, were you aware of any of the funneling out of money by Michael from the MoBo Corporation?

A No I didn't learn that until November when I took over the books in November, 2012, after my sister and Michael separated permanently at that time Then I took over the books and discovered these transfers to BRH and some of the other appropriations to his own business, and we realized that that's why there was a lot of money missing and why we had a larger shortfall in 2012

Q In any event, you decided and your sister decided with you to take out a loan that year; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay At that point in time in early 2012, did you do anything with respect to the Dr Davis loan? Was that still outstanding, and if so, did you do anything about it?

A We talked about paying it off The interest rate was a little bit higher, 7 5 percent It wasn't due until 2015 We were making monthly payments of $1,001 a month out of the MoBo, LLC funds. So we were paying it on time. But it seemed prudent to try to reduce that debt, and so we decided to pay it off I actually put in about $20,000 in either March or April for my portion of the payoff We had about a $33,000 balance in March of 2012, and my sister and I were each going to put in 1,500, and then I wrote a convenience check for $7,500, and that's how we intended to pay it off

Q You said you put in $20,000 at that time; is that correct?

A Yes

Q I believe, and correct me if I am mistaken, there have been charts introduced in this case both by the government, the summary agent, and also by Mr Kosowsky that reflect the $12,500 and $7,500 payment and attribute them variously to you and your sister. Are both of those incorrect?

A Yes, sir, I think they are I know I put in 12,500 out of my personal bank account, and my recollection is that the $7,500 was actually a convenience check on one of my credit cards that I got a very, very favorable rate in terms of, I think it was less than two percent at that time, over about a year-and-a-half So I put that in essentially on behalf of my sister and I We would each have 3,750, or half of that, but I wrote that check for $7,500 plus my 12,500 personal check. And later on in the year my sister paid $12,500 to fully pay off the Davis loan.

Q When was the Davis loan due?

A It wasn't due until 2015 It was a five-year loan that we took essentially in early 2010, so it would have been due in early 2015 So there was no pressure to pay it off, but we decided it made sense to do that

Q How many more years would that have been?

A It would have been two-and-a-half more years

Q Let me go on to -- when did you first learn that your wife, Maureen, was trying to get a loan from Mr. Williams for MoBo or from Starwood for MoBo?

A I learned in the end of January of 2012, the e-mail that you showed me yesterday when I got the, that e-mail from Michael Uncapher that said that he and my wife had spoken to Mr Williams And it sounded to me as though there was already sort of an agreement in principle that Mr Williams would loan money at that point to MoBo Real Estate But that surprised me I didn't realize they had had any discussions at this point

Q So you had not talked to your wife about it prior to that e-mail?

A No, I think she -- no, I hadn't talked to her anything about Mr Williams I think she certainly understood that I was going to try to secure the financing for that year

Q All right Did you have any insight into why your wife was trying to arrange this loan with Mr Williams without involving you in it?

A Maureen had been helpful in the MoBo business, every time we would go down there for maintenance, she was there, usually with my children It was both maintenance and fun, so she participated in that She was on the deed, I believe, for the properties So even though she wasn't a MoBo partner, she still had, I believe, a financial interest in the property because of being on the deed. And she had over the years gotten involved just somewhat in some of the MoBo operations just to help It was a small family business So even though Michael Uncapher and Maureen McDonnell, my wife, were not MoBo members, they still tried to do their part to help out Michael did the books and Maureen did a couple other things, maintenance And at this point, without me knowing, got involved to try to help with the loan that we wanted to get that year

Q Had your wife been involved in securing the loan from Dr Davis?

A I actually think the first recommendation was from her, because Dr Davis was her physician. I think she actually made the first recommendation on that But I negotiated the terms with Dr Davis

Q Okay Was your sister involved in trying to deal with this loan or get this loan from Jonnie Williams, Starwood?

A No This was just a couple months after the first separation that she and Michael had, and she was having some significant challenges in her own marriage, trying to save her marriage She talked about going to Jamaica I knew they were having a lot of problems So I said, "Listen, I'll take care of the financing issues for MoBo this year because I know you have got your plate full." Even though I had a lot, a whole lot going on in early

2012, I told her I would try to take care of it

Q Did you have any problem in your own mind or did you think it was inappropriate to take a loan from Mr Williams for MoBo?

A No

Q Now, if you had thought that Mr Williams was trying to somehow corrupt your office, would you have taken a loan from him?

A No, absolutely not

Q All right Let me show you RM-1355 Do you recognize this? You know what it is?

A Yes

Q All right What is it, in essence? Is that an e-mail from Mike to you?

A Yes Michael had e-mailed me --

Q Wait a minute

MR. ASBILL: I move the admission of this document

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Okay, now you can talk about it It is an e-mail from Mike to you on the 27th of January?

A No He e-mailed me --

Q On the 25th?

A On the 25th, which is the e-mail we looked at yesterday And I wasn't really sure who he was talking about, so that's when I e-mailed my wife and said, "Who are we talking about?" And then she and I talked upstairs and she told me that it was Mr Williams So this is my response then two days later to Michael, who was managing the books, and I said, well --

Q Tell me about your response Would you highlight that, please?

A Yes. Based on Michael's e-mail two days earlier and my conversation with Maureen, it sounded like he, Michael, and Maureen, my wife, had already spoken to Mr. Williams and Mr Williams said, agreed essentially in principle to extend a loan to MoBo based on their discussion. And again, I am in the middle of the session. I thought maybe he was going to have another conversation. So I just told him, "Look, get the terms of the deal in writing, and call Maureen with the address " That should be "MoBo," not "MoNo." And then on a separate matter, I said, "The BRH check is coming " That would be Blue Ridge Heaven, the Wintergreen property I was going to write my check from the equity contribution to BRH at that time

Q Okay, you can take that down Did you take a more assertive role in dealing with Mr Williams or a more direct role in terms of dealing with Mr Williams after January 27th?

A Well, I did. I wanted to be sure, since I was the principal in MoBo, and my sister was the principal, and I knew she was just not able to do this because of the marriage issues she was having, so I told her that I felt like I needed to do the negotiations with Mr Williams and find out exactly what the terms were so that I was very clear on what the nature of the loan was before we accepted any money

Q And when did you, to your best recollection, first speak to Mr Williams about it?

A It was sometime at the end of January

Q That's your best recollection, end of January?

A End of January, maybe the first week in February

Q All right And do you recall how that happened in terms of in person, on the phone, when, where?

A It was a phone call It may have actually been my wife had him on the phone and handed the phone to me to talk to him. But it was -- it might have been that first week in February

Q And when you talked to him, what did you tell him or what did he tell you?

A Well, my understanding from the correspondence from Michael Uncapher and Maureen, who had talked to him already on the phone, is that he had agreed to a $50,000 loan That was the typical operating budget, and that's what Michael told us then that we probably needed for that normal winter operating deficit from March -- from January through May. So that didn't surprise me, that that was the number that we needed. So I thought it was just going to be a cash, check, wire, to MoBo for $50,000 And that's when I talked to him on the phone That was my expectation. We would simply be talking about the terms of that loan.

Q Was that his expectation when you talked to him?

A Well, for a minute, and then he began to talk about another proposal that he made to me for that loan that involved a loan of stock

Q Okay Did you have any detailed discussion on the phone at this time with him about that issue?

A Yes

Q All right And where were you when this call occurred? What's the best of your recollection?

A I believe it was in the evening, and I was up in our apartment in the Governor's Residence

Q All right And during that conversation, did you take any notes yourself?

A Yes, I did.

Q Okay And those notes are notes that -- and what happened to those notes thereafter?

A Well, I kept all the notes in a file, because I was expecting in the end to actually have a writing I had asked, made notes about requests for writing on a couple occasions, so I just wanted to be sure if and when I got the writing from Mr Williams that the contract, or the loan documents, that I would match them with my recollection of the notes that I took to be sure the terms were what I understood them to be

Q Okay And you maintained these notes from then until now, essentially?

A Yes

Q And when you got a subpoena from the grand jury asking for, among other things, these notes, you produced them?

A Yes, absolutely I felt I had nothing to hide and I turned everything over that I had.

Q Let's turn to the notes from the first phone call This is in early February at some point, on or about the 3rd of February?

A February 3rd. I think that's right, yes

Q All right Can we please pull up RM-0431-0005 and 0004 and 0002?

MR ASBILL: I want to admit them in this form. They are also in as a government exhibit, but I want to make sure the page orientation is right.

THE COURT: They will be admitted.

MR ASBILL: Thank you, sir 0005, 0004, and 0002

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q All right. In terms of the notes essentially, trying to go time-sequentially, what's the first page of the notes? By number, of the five pages, what's the first page of the notes?

A To the best of my recollection, I had three contacts with Mr Williams, this one and two others And I tried to put these notes together a year-and-a-half later when I turned them over My best recollection is that there were three pages of notes I took the first day because Mr Williams was explaining on the phone this stock loan option, and I was doing a lot of listening and writing down his proposal to me This is the first page I remember from that February 3rd phone call

Q So this would be, in terms of the -- this would be 0005, right?

A Yes

Q And basically, what's on this page? What's this about? Can you blow that up, please?

A Yes I called Mr Williams about what I thought was a reasonably simple $50,000 cash loan to MoBo And he began to talk about this stock loan against which he suggested I could get a margin loan from a brokerage I had never done anything like that before And so I took notes I just wanted to listen to him, to hear him out So I took these notes from what -- from what Mr Williams told me on the phone And that's what's reflected here

Q All right So these notes, I'm going to make sure I understand you. You are writing down basically or trying to capture what he is saying on the phone?

A Yes His proposal

Q Are you simultaneously interjecting any of your own thoughts or are you just trying to sort of record what he is saying?

A I'm primarily recording I'm sure I asked a few questions, because I was going to ask my broker after that, I didn't even know if we could do this, but I entertained the proposal and wrote it down, what he said.

Q And either in your legal practice or personal experience, you had never had any dealings with margin loans?

A No

Q Okay Now, on the next page, let's go, this is 0004, let's pull that up Would you highlight the portion of that where it says, "To Maureen or MoBo"? Just highlight that portion. Okay, correct me if I'm mistaken, but the second page is a continuation of the same phone conversation with you taking notes in the same way?

A That my best recollection, looking back at those, is that this is the second page of those telephonic notes, yes, sir.

Q There is some text above the highlighted portion Highlight the part where it says "Lawyers "

A He told me that the lawyers --

Q Excuse me Let me get it highlighted first

A Yes

Q What's that about, "Lawyers say okay to loan"? What's that about?

A He told me that he had spoken with his lawyers and that it was okay to loan me money or loan me stock, and that's why he was making this proposal

Q Okay Down below that it says, "Loan from Starwood Aviation," which is one of his companies, to your understanding?

A That's what he told me He called it the airplane account, or Starwood Aviation was the formal name of the operation, as opposed to from him personally, and that the loan could be either to Maureen or MoBo is what he told me, the loan of the stock.

Q Did you have any idea about the structure of his various companies?

A No

Q All right And the highlighted portion to the right, is that "To," in your handwriting, the word before "Maureen," is that "To," T-O?

A Yes

Q It says, "To Maureen or MoBo"; is that what it says?

A Yes

Q What did that mean to you or what does it mean?

A His proposal was that he could loan that stock either to my wife or he could loan it to MoBo And again, I told him that I'm looking for a loan to MoBo. All I needed was, at that point, was secure operating cash. We didn't really need stock. And so the only thing that was needed is operating cash for that operating shortfall that we had at MoBo And so I circled "MoBo," that if I actually got clearance from my broker, my lawyer, that this is what -- that's what we would do I just circled it as we were going through it and writing down his proposal

Q Scroll down to the bottom of the page, please, where it says, "Shares in a few days " Is that on this page? Yes Excuse me Highlight that portion, please, Victoria "Shares in a few days-paper write in a few weeks " What does that mean or what were you trying to capture there?

A It is not very coherent I mean, I was preparing this solely for my memory and not obviously for a court appearance But what this meant was that if we had an agreement to do this, that he could provide the shares themselves within a few days to us, and what I meant was paper writing in a few weeks. He told me it would take him a couple weeks with his lawyers to be able to get documents drafted to get to me so that we could actually have a writing to memorialize the loan

Q Let me stop you right there, because I may be confused about what you have just said When you are saying from your memory, you are talking about looking at it now and trying to remember, or are you talking about he didn't say this on the phone; after the phone call, you remembered something and then wrote it down?

A No, no, no, this is what I wrote down in order on the phone as he was explaining the proposal I wrote that down, and this is what I remember that meaning at the time

Q Okay, fine What was the repayment plan, to your understanding, or what was the discussion about the potential repayment plan?

A Well, essentially, that in three years we would either, his proposal was either give back the stock that he had loaned, because it was a loan, or we would repay the value of the stock, whatever the price was at the time

Q All right And were you understanding at this point or at some point in this call how a margin loan might generate cash?

A Again, I hadn't done one before, but my understanding was, that's why I had to talk to Mr. Piscitelli would have been my next step, is that the loans would be put in an account, a separate account, at a brokerage firm, and then borrow against those loaned shares to generate actual cash that would have gone to MoBo for our operating purposes That was his proposal And obviously, I needed to evaluate that further I didn't know if that really could be done But that's what he was proposing to me on these notes

Q So the stock would collateralize a loan from the broker; is that essentially how that might work?

A Yes, that's what I understood

Q Okay Let's go to Page 0002. And at the top of the page, could you highlight the second line? Blow that up and highlight it Highlight the "Reportability " What's that about? Why did you write that at the top of that page?

A Again, I'm memorializing what Mr Williams is explaining to me And he was explaining to me his reportability requirements As a publicly traded company, he is the CEO, and he said he has got various SEC filings that he would have to do. He mentioned this Form 4 that he would have to file with the SEC Again, this didn't mean much to me because my reporting requirements were completely different from whatever his was, but I'm writing down what he told me his reporting requirements were

Q All right. So he is talking about his disclosure obligations at that point; that's what you are saying?

A Right Which is why I wrote down, I think, "For Jonnie" right here under the file Form 4, because that wasn't anything I had to do That's a requirement of a publicly traded company and a CEO of a company, not me My requirements are reporting through the SOEI or campaign finance disclosures I don't have anything to do with that

Q You don't have anything to do with reporting the corporate way for Star or Star Aviation or whatever

A No

Q You have Star Aviation or whatever company he is going to be using to give you a loan. Did you understand that what he was loaning you was Star Scientific stock?

A Yes

Q That was held in one of his companies?

A That's what he explained to me, yes

Q All right So it is not Starwood Aviation stock, it is Star Scientific stock.

A That's correct.

Q Okay. And as far as you were concerned, you know, were you concerned at all about your disclosure obligations in whatever transaction might ensue here, whether it be cash or a check for $50,000 or stock that's used to collateralize something that gets you 50,000?

A The reporting requirements would have been the same whether it was stock, cash. If it was to a corporation, I viewed that it would not be reportable If it was personal, whether stock or cash, that would have to be reportable That really wasn't an issue Especially in 2012, I didn't have any problem with reporting anything I had to do with Mr Williams.

Q All right You say it is a loan, not a gift, right?

A Yes

Q And that's exactly what you intended it to be?

A Yes

Q Is that correct?

A Right

Q All right You say, "Will have reviewed by securities and tax lawyers "

A That's what he told me that he was going to have done with any final proposal he had before he sent me any writing, any contract; that he would have his security and tax lawyers look at it He said he had already gotten a preliminary review from his personal lawyer, but that he would have a securities and tax lawyer look at any transaction if we actually had an agreement on this Yes

Q Two lines down or two asterisks down, what is this "Loan and option to purchase in three years" about?

A I can't tell you. Again, I am writing down the proposals, I'm expecting a written contract that I was going to have reviewed if I got it by my personal lawyer And this part, I'm not sure what that really means

Q Go down to the next line above the strike-out, whatever it is Where it says "To do "

A Yes

Q Is this something that, you know, is this something you simultaneously write in the phone call based on what he is saying, or do you write it to yourself regardless of what he is saying?

A I write it at the end of the phone call I don't know if it was while I was still on the phone with him or right after that But now that I at least have this proposal, again, I'm expecting a writing at some point, but I thought the two things I need to do if this is going to -- if I do something like this, I first have to talk to Mr Piscitelli, a broker, of course, that I had known for a very long time, and ask him, "Can I even get a margin loan? Will a brokerage company actually do that? If I borrowed stock, could we get a margin loan at any reasonable interest rate against that stock?" Because all I was looking for was operating cash, not stock I didn't have an interest in that stock

Secondly, I wrote down the name of Bert Poole Bert was one of my partners at Huff, Poole & Mahoney where I practiced for some 14 years He does business and securities work And if we had a writing, I was going to have Mr Poole review the transaction So this was basically my to-do list, the two things I thought I needed to do before I could talk to Mr Williams about whether or not this was going to be something that would work for MoBo's needs that year

Q Okay Right next to "Piscitelli," it looks like "accounting and loan." Is that right?

A Yes Just my shorthand to see whether or not a margin loan could come from him if we borrowed stock

Q What do you mean by "accounting"?

A I can't tell you what I meant at that point

Q Okay Going down to the bottom of the page, it says "2012 finally " What's that all about?

A There were two other times I talked to Mr Williams On February 29th I met with him briefly, and then on March 12th I talked to him on the phone And these notes were all in the same file And after I took notes on March

12th and talked to him, I just wrote down the final agreement that I had with him on this page, so the pages got out of sequence I had five pages in a file So this was really, my best recollection, this wasn't connected in time The final to-do list was the actual last thing I wrote down on February 3rd on the phone But when I finally agreed with Mr Williams on the terms of a cash loan to MoBo, this is -- I just reflected it on this sheet as opposed to the other sheet I think maybe I just ran out of paper at the bottom so I used this paper and wrote it down so I could remember what the deal was

Q Okay You can take that down. Did you think there was anything inappropriate about this possible loan, stock loan?

A I didn't think so I knew if I had any loan, any stock, that I actually had a loan during the year or stock at the end of the year, I knew it required disclosure But again, looking at Mr Williams in 2012, he really hadn't asked me for anything My Administration really hadn't done anything for him. He is a CEO of a publicly traded company I knew he had his own fiduciary obligations I trusted him. He had become a friend of my wife's I thought I knew him well enough that, just like Dr Davis, that borrowing money from a friend was not a problem.

Q All right At the time here when you are talking to Mr Williams, did you know that your wife had repurchased any Star Scientific stock?

A I did not No

Q During the call with Mr Williams, did you ever talk about UVA or VCU or any pending grant applications or being at a standstill or anything along those lines?

A No. Absolutely did not

Q Did you ever, ever, this call, any other time, tell Mr Williams you were following up with UVA or VCU about whatever he was doing with them?

A No, I did not

Q All right So after your first call with Mr Williams, in essence, the plan was to get up with the lawyers, Piscitelli, et cetera, as you have described?

A Yes

Q Let me show you an e-mail from February 16th, previously admitted, Government Exhibit 318 This is some 13 days later into the year, correct?

A Yes

Q And would you highlight the text of the e-mail, please? What are you doing here? You are writing to Mr Williams for what purpose?

A Yes, this is a brief follow-up. I was getting ready to go out of town for a while, and I had hoped that I was getting some writing of this proposal he had made earlier to me So I said, "Listen, I know you have been busy," and I asked him, basically, "Can you talk to your lawyer so I can try to find out what the status is of the writing on this?" Because I really wanted to have that before I talked to Mr. Piscitelli And I asked him can I talk to his lawyer about certificates, that would be stock certificates, and documents? That would be documents to memorialize the loan of stock. Because it seemed like a little more complicated transaction. Even though I'm a lawyer, I had not done any kind of stock loan before And as I usually do, I just thanked him for his help

Q Okay Because you hadn't heard in 13 days or whatever it was?

A Right

Q Going forward into the month, did you talk to him again, and if so, when?

A Yes I talked to him for about 20 minutes on February 29th.

Q Let me stop you right there before we get into that conversation. In the meantime here, in February, between the 3rd, and you send this e-mail on the 16th --

A Yes

Q -- do you do any transparency or insight into what your wife may have been doing with Mr Piscitelli, talking to him at all? Do you know whether she talked to him to set up an account of any kind or anything?

A I don't

Q The 29th That's the date of the Healthcare Leaders meeting?

A Yes

Q On that day, did you meet with Mr Williams?

A I did.

Q Where did you meet with him?

A I met with him in the conference room in the Patrick Henry Building

Q Okay And that was for twenty minutes, as you said?

A I think it was about 20 minutes, is my recollection

Q What was the subject matter of that meeting?

A It was to -- because I hadn't gotten any writing from him, I still wanted to get a little bit more clarity about the nature of this proposal And so at some point I learned he was actually coming to the Healthcare Leaders event, and I think somebody on my staff scheduled that meeting the day before so I could meet with him while he was in town He was living in Florida at the time So I just wanted to get twenty minutes just to talk to him face to face

Q Victoria, can you pull up the calendar, Mr McDonnell's calendar for that day, please, if you have it available quickly? Blow that up a little This is the calendar for the 29th?

A Yes

Q Go down to the 1:30 time frame Highlight the meeting with Jonnie Williams Above that Right there "Meeting with Jonnie Williams, PHB, Governor's conference room"; is that correct?

A Yes

Q That's scheduled for 1 o'clock, approximately, or scheduled for 1:00?

A It was a half-hour It was 1:30 to 2:00 is what it looks like

Q Okay Did you create this entry on the calendar or have someone create it?

A I could not tell you how to create an entry on my calendar So I assume it would have been at that point Monica or Katherine or Adam. Somebody would have put it in there

Q When you say you couldn't tell me, you are saying that technologically you don't know how to put something on your calendar?

A That would be fair

Q All right Let me show you your notes from that meeting with Mr Williams And this is Page 0003 of already admitted RM-1431

A Yes

Q That page only Okay The writing at the top is yours?

A Yes, it is I made those notes actually before Mr Williams came in I was going to actually talk to him about an RGA event. So yes, that's mine

Q Okay. And before I get into this page, I've been reminded that on the 23rd of February, did you have a conference call with Mr Piscitelli?

A Yes

Q That's six days before this event that we are about to get into?

A Yes

Q Who was on the call?

A I did most of the talking I think my wife was on the call as well But we spoke on the 23rd. So I think it was my wife and Mr Piscitelli and me

Q And what was that about?

A This was a follow-up on that February 3rd call I wanted to try to talk to Mr Piscitelli about this margin loan proposal that Mr Williams had made Even though I didn't have any writing yet from Mr Williams to review, I wanted to run the concept by Mr Piscitelli about this margin loan and whether or not if I got shares of Star Scientific stock that were forwarded to me and we created a separate account at Davenport, whether or not Davenport then could offer a loan to me or to MoBo so that we could generate the $50,000 Because that's all I wanted. I really wasn't that interested in the stock per se, but if that was what Mr Williams was offering, I wanted at least to see could it even be done That was the purpose of the call

Q Did you get any comfort about whether or not it could happen if that's the way you guys wanted to go?

A I explained it to Mr Piscitelli the best way I could, and did not get a firm answer at that time He said -- he said, "We do do margin loans " My best recollection from what he told me, because this is a small value stock, meaning a stock under $5, he wasn't sure whether or not his company would be able to extend a margin loan, but he would check and try to get back to us

Q Was that because a stock like stocks that are of that sort of value or less are too volatile and too hard to track?

A Yes I think that's what I got from him. And therefore, he didn't know if they could make the loan. So if they couldn't do it, then I had to find another option because this would not work.

Q Was tracking the daily price of Star stock with respect to a loan that you had collateralized with something that you had time or interest to engage in?

A No.

Q Let's go to the document on the screen that's previously been admitted. The writing at the top is yours, right?

A Yes

Q The writing in the middle is Mr Williams'?

A That's Mr Williams'

Q The writing at the bottom is yours?

A That's mine

Q So the writing, how did it work that you are both writing on the same piece of paper here?

A I wrote at the top a note that I wanted to talk to him. I knew that he had become friends with Freddy Couples, the golfer, and I am Chairman of the Republican Governors' Association at that time, as well as having multiple other duties, and I was going to ask him is it possible maybe to get Freddy Couples to come to an RGA tournament as a way of having an event I wrote that down. And when Mr Williams --

Q Let me stop you right there Did you write that down before you met with him?

A Yes, I did.

Q This is something you wanted to talk about when you met

A I did. Yes

Q How physically, or when in the meeting does he take the pad of paper or you give it to him and he write on it?

A It was just he and I sitting at a conference room table, and I asked him a few more questions I wasn't quite clear about how this proposal would work. He took the pad and scribbled down these notes to try to amplify further his view of how a stock loan might work. And that's his writing

Q Okay And you sort of bracket off essentially with lines what he wrote down?

A Yes

Q All right And below what he wrote down, below the 2 10 figure there, blow that up, what's that all about?

A Again, this is what he was proposing at that time as the deal or the agreement, that he would loan $50,000 worth of shares, I put "To Maureen." The value at that point, I think, was $2 10, or that's what he said his base value was I wrote down the repayment terms, which would have been four years, 2015, and that he would, if we had this agreement, he would transfer to Mr Piscitelli in a couple days

Q So let me see if I understand what you are saying You are talking to him on the 29th and that's why he put "Deal, 2-29-2012"?

A Yes, that's the day

Q The notes on March 1st, these are notes when he is not there, this is the day after, and you write those notes yourself, is that what's going on, or did you write this when he was there?

A No, I wrote all those when he was there Again, these notes were prepared solely for my recollection, not for any public purpose But I think that was the day that he would actually be able to deliver the shares

Q So the next day

A Yes. I guess that would have been the next day

Q 2-29, the last day of February

A Yes, I'm sorry, it is one day, that's right

Q This all happened in the meeting and the notes all occurred in that meeting, on this page, Page 3; is that what you are saying?

A Yes

Q Even after this meeting, did you think you fully captured or understood what he was talking about?

A No After I wrote that down, I think I told him, "I appreciate the proposal but I haven't heard back from Mr Piscitelli yet on whether or not this is going to work." I said, again, "What I really am looking for here is operating cash Because that's what I need." Stocks, I wasn't interested in Star Scientific stock per se I wasn't interested in stock because I needed operating cash So unless I could get a margin loan and Mr Piscitelli said that Davenport could do that, this agreement was to the -- this wasn't going to work; I wasn't interested in it

Q You can take that down. At this point in time, did you ever have any knowledge of somebody named McKeon who was a friend of Mr Williams?

A Mr McKeon?

Q Yes

A No, I never heard of him until a few months ago when we got some notes in the case

Q So no discussion at all between you and Jonnie Williams about that man?

A No

Q All right Did you have any, assuming that Jonnie Williams was going to give you some Star stock for this margin loan purpose that you have discussed, did you have any idea exactly what that would mean from a securities standpoint or federal securities law standpoint for Mr Williams?

A I didn't

Q And had you ever practiced securities law?

A No

Q As an AG, blue sky stuff? The state, did you ever practice securities law as Attorney General?

A No, we had some of those type of matters that would come up and we had specialists in that section that would handle that But it was not my area of expertise, which is why I would counsel with a lawyer before we did any final agreement on that.

Q Okay You heard Mr Williams testify in this trial that with respect to this transaction, he wanted to keep it just between you and him, right?

A I heard that

Q And is that true from your perspective?

A There was no such discussion with Mr Williams on the phone, at the February 29th meeting in my office, whatever If we had this agreement and I was actually going to be able to borrow stock and get a margin loan, whatever my appropriate reporting requirements would be of stock or loan, I would do that I had reported already the loan that my wife had the previous year in 2011 That was on my 2011 Statement of Economic Interests So if I had to report a loan or stock or something, I would have done it at the appropriate time

Q During this meeting, at the end of the meeting, did you tell Mr Williams that a handshake deal is no longer the law in Virginia?

A I did not That was not -- that was not what

I -- first of all, that's not true And I wouldn't have said that

Q All right Whether or not you would have, did you?

A No, I did not

Q What was your takeaway from the meeting, your ultimate, sum total takeaway from the meeting about what was going to happen?

A Well, until I got an answer from Mr Piscitelli about whether or not a margin loan from Davenport could be offered, this was still a proposal that would be held in abeyance I told him I appreciated his willingness to extend a loan, and if this was the way he wanted to do it, I would see if it would work. But unless I could actually get a margin loan from Davenport, then this just didn't make any sense I just needed to have a cash loan.

Q Going forward from February 29th to March 6th, were you aware that on that date, Mr Williams sent a $50,000 check to MoBo that ultimately -- that was addressed or was sent to your sister, that she talked about finding when she got back from her trip to Jamaica?

A On March 6th?

Q Yes Were you aware of that on March 6th?

A No

Q That Mr Williams actually sent a check or wrote a check for $50,000 and sent it to your sister?

A No. This was the last two weeks of the General Assembly session. I'm just focused on that I did not know a check had been written on March 6th at that time.

Q Were you aware of the level or the nature of any contact between March 1st and March 6th between Mr Williams and your wife?

A No.

Q Did you talk to him at all or have any contact with him March 1st to March 6th?

A I did not

Q So did you know anything about your wife texting your sister to the effect of, as we have seen in this trial, that the check was coming and don't deposit it?

A Not at the time

Q At some point later you saw that, or you saw that text, or you got some insight into that? Let me pull up Government Exhibit 594, already admitted.

A Yes

Q Is there a reference -- yes 6:11 p.m., this is sister Maureen to you, right? There is a text message?

A Yes

Q And what date is that, March 11th?

A March 11th.

Q And how does that relate in time to the Jamaica trip?

A My recollection is, she had just gotten back

Q Okay And this is her text to you?

A Yes

Q All right "Hey Bobby I'm leaving church " Blah, blah, blah "Mike called Mo earlier and got disconnected." We have heard about that "I want to talk to you about the check when you woke up." What did that mean to you?

A The General Assembly session actually ended on March 10th, as I mentioned. This was the crisis session where we had no operating budget And I had been working until that, I think late that day before to try to get something resolved on our budget This was a big problem for me in state government That day I think I was just flat exhausted and I probably was sleeping in a little bit

Q With respect to -- you received this text, obviously, correct?

A I believe so, yes

Q Did you know what she was talking about or not?

A No The last time I had talked to Mr Williams, we were still negotiating And so, you know, the next week is when I planned to try to follow up because I had the General Assembly out of town and I was going to have a little time for personal matters

Q Did you in fact call her back or talk to her that day, on the 11th?

A I believe I did, yes

Q All right And do you recall, there has already been testimony about that particular phone call?

A Yes

Q And from your perception, you know, what was it about? How did it go?

A We talked a lot about, frankly, her trip She had just gotten back. I knew that this was her attempt to try to work through some things with her husband, Michael They had been separated a little bit, I think November-December And they planned this trip to Jamaica as a way of working on their own marital issues and reconciliation. So I think that dominated the call I either talked to her probably that day or the next day on the 12th about the check I don't remember when, because as of that time, I didn't know about any check

Q Is this the call that she described in Court, that your sister described in Court, where you are trying to talk to her and your wife is yelling in the background?

A One of those earlier calls, a very short one, I think, yes

Q And in fact, was her description of that event accurate?

A Yes, it was

Q Did there come a time on March 12th when you again talked to Mr Williams?

A Yes I may have actually texted him the night before when I got this e-mail about the check, and that was news to me that there was any check because the last time I talked to him we were doing negotiations So I think I sent him a text to see if we could talk.

Q Let's pull up RM-1431-0001

MR. ASBILL: I'm reminded that I may have been remiss in trying to move in Page 3 of these notes into evidence in this case, and if I have not done that, I ask that it be moved in

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Let's pull up Page 1

MR ASBILL: And I move the admission of those notes as well

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize this document?

A Yes

Q This reflects your discussion on the phone with Mr Williams on the 12th of March?

A Yes, it does

Q All right And you are taking notes during the call?

A I am.

Q All right And what's this about, what's this "Sarbox, can't loan shares at this time" about?

A This is the Monday after that General Assembly ended and I finally again have some time I found out the night before in this text from my sister that there is a check that's been sent, so it surprised me because I didn't think, at least I didn't have any direct agreement with Mr Williams at that time So I was going to call and say, "Listen, would you be willing to do just the $50,000 cash loan? This stock deal just sounds too complicated. Can we just do that?" He told me, and again this is him talking to me about his ideas at the time, and he said that Sarbox, which is Sarbanes-Oxley, the federal law that deals with some of these matters, would actually prevent him from loaning shares at the time That's different than what he told me before about having his lawyers look at it and say that it was okay And so then we began to describe some other options for a loan

Q Go down to Number 2 Highlight that "50k to rent to MoBo " What's that mean?

A He proposed at that time also, well, maybe he could have $50,000 apply for rent and he and his members of his company could just rent the MoBo properties over the next years and just use the payment of the $50,000 as rent for the property and he would do it that way Basically, rent in advance, and that was one idea that he had.

Q Okay The third line talks about "Deal." Was that the sort of final, essentially, Line 3?

A You would have to read down further, because the actual final, the final agreement was the $50,000 loan that would be at interest rate of two percent over three years I tried to go piece this back together about what he told me, and this was late on Monday night, I think, at 9 or 10 o'clock I'm not sure, honestly, as I sit here what some of these other proposals were, but all three of these were simply negotiations It never happened. They were proposals that he was making But at the end, I was looking for $50,000 in operating cash, and so that's when I wrote down what the interest rate of the final agreement was of two percent and a three-year balloon

Q All right No discussion during this call between you and Mr Williams about anything that Jonnie Williams may have wanted from state government?

A No No. Not at all

Q All right Let's go to the $20,000 loan to MoBo. That's May, 2012; is that right?

A Yes

Q And why did that occur and what was that about?

A Late April, I had begun to get a little more involved with operations, as I mentioned yesterday, after my sister and Mike had their first estrangement in late 2011 I didn't fully take over the books until November of 2012 But I wanted to stay a little bit more abreast of what was going on, because honestly, for the first six or seven years, Mike just handled the business and Maureen completely.

Q What's the point of the need for $20,000?

A Well, an analysis that I did and talking to Mike, we still had about a $20,000 operating deficit going into May and June June is the first month that the rents kick in So I was communicating with my sister about should we go ahead and just put in operating cash or should I consider talking to Mr Williams about a $20,000 loan.

Q When you say operating deficit, did that include any kind of capital improvements or repairs or anything like that?

A It did There was a 25,000, $26,000 capital improvement that I had negotiated with Resource Building Corporation that took place in January and February of 2012, and so we had an additional expense at that time

Q All right And capital improvements for what, in short?

A We were going to make the property more marketable, improving the cabana and some more concrete and different things like that It was to increase the marketability of the property

Q How, if at all, in connection with this additional $20,000 operating deficit did Mike's diversion of funds from MoBo weigh in?

A I didn't know about that at the time I knew that we were unexpectedly short, that there was a bigger delta than we typically had of 40 to $60,000 I didn't learn until I took over the books in November and started doing the analysis that there was a net of $26,000 that had been transferred from MoBo to BRH out of the MoBo account, which obviously strapped the business a little more for cash So that clearly played into the need for that loan, Mr Asbill I just didn't know that at the time

Q Why did you decide to ask Jonnie Williams for the additional $20,000?

A He had told me on several occasions that if we needed to borrow more after that $50,000, that he would do that In fact, he sent me a text to that effect

Q Pull up RM-1481 Highlight that, please Is that the text that you just mentioned?

A Yes This would have been at the end of April

MR. ASBILL: Move the admission of this, Judge

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q And this is a text from him to you?

A Yes

Q To what effect, forget about the dinner"?

A He said, "Let me know if Virginia Beach needs cash." I guess that was his way of saying what he had told me on the phone, which is, "Listen, if you need a further loan and $50,000 doesn't cover your operating deficit, just let me know and I would extend you further credit "

Q Above that it says something about "dinner with a dozen doctors Growing fast " Do you know what that was about?

A No, I just figured it related to his business in some way

Q You again, I take it, made a business decision to take the $20,000, you and your sister made a business decision to take the $20,000 from Jonnie as opposed to trying to fund it yourself?

A Yes, I did. We had 35 or so thousand dollars in the bank, I did, and we had a couple hundred thousand in credit capable, but we decided that this would be a year we would do loans, yes

Q All right You then text, let me pull up Government Exhibit 379, which has previously been admitted. What's this text about?

A I called Mr Williams sometime in mid-May to say that, "Yes, we would like to take up your previous offer of extending another $20,000 in credit " After looking at the financials, that's what I thought it would need to get us through June

Q Please highlight this, Victoria

A Which is when the significant cash from the beach rentals would kick in. And I could not reach him. I left him a voicemail And so I normally would not obviously make a loan request on a text like this, but because I had left him a voicemail and because he had sent me the previous text saying that if we needed a loan, that he would do that, I felt it was proper to just let him know in a text

Q Okay Did he agree? You can take that down now, please

A Yes, he did. He communicated back with me shortly after that

Q Once again, from your perspective, anything inappropriate or wrong about that?

A No, he had really never asked me for anything The only thing he asked me that year was call his father for his birthday, which I did.

Q That was also in May?

A I believe that was February-March, somewhere in that time frame

Q Were the March and May loans from Mr Williams to

MoBo or to you?

A No, they were clearly to MoBo That was my request That's what they were needed for, for the operating deficit, as we had gotten five, six years out of the last eight That's where the checks were written, where the wire was done, and that's where I fully understood that was the agreement, that they were loans to MoBo

Q Did your sister pay any of her own money to MoBo that year, 2012?

A She ended up paying, at the end of the year, she put in her 12,500, which was her owners equity contribution for the remainder of the Dr Davis loan.

Q That was at the very end of 2012?

A At the end of the year I think she put that in

Q Did you consider these payments from Mr Williams or his companies to be loans or gifts?

A No, they were clearly loans, what I wrote down contemporaneously with my notes, and they were absolutely loans and with a balloon payment

Q Did you report them as loans on your SOEI statement for the year?

A I did not

Q Why?

A Well, I treated them the same way I treated the loans from my father and the way I ultimately treated the Dr

Davis loan, and that was that they were corporate liabilities. The SOEI I had been filling out for many years, and I always understood the loan section to be personal loans, that is, a loan to me or a loan to my wife or a loan to a member of the immediate family That's the way I understood the form. But a loan to a corporate entity, like MoBo, LLC, unless it had a personal guarantee, then it did not need to be reported. In other words, it was a non-recourse loan So I did not think that a MoBo, LLC loan from Starwood would have to be reported And so I did not report that

Q How about reporting these transactions to your bookkeeper or accountant?

A Well, no, those would need to be reported because those, as we did with my father's loan and the Davis loan and now the Starwood loans, these all affected the income taxes, the corporate income tax reports And so they were disclosed in the regular course of business to the bookkeeper, because she had to keep track of all of our contributions from the two owners, Maureen and myself, as well as all of the loans from third parties as part of the accounting for the business

Q All right We will get to the bank applications in a minute But have these loans been paid back?

A Yes, they have been paid back with interest to

Starwood Trust Yes

Q All right I previously asked you about -- let me pull up RM-0084-0002 Do you know what this is?

A Yes, that's my credit report.

Q For when?

A This is as of March 19th, 2012

MR. ASBILL: Move to admit this document, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And what was your credit score as of that date?

A I'm an Equifax member I check it from time to time It was 820, which is excellent That's about the highest credit rating I think I've had

Q All right You can take that down, please We talked about the birthday call to Jonnie's father That was March 9th; is that the best of your recollection?

A Yes, sir, that sounds about right

Q I think we have seen some sort of an exchange between you and Mr Williams previously in the trial, and I'm not going to pull it up again.

A Yes

Q Mr Williams, you heard him testify that he had to give you hundreds of thousands of dollars in order to get that call to his father from you.

A Yes

Q Yes or no, is that true?

A No.

THE COURT: Mr Asbill, can I get the number for the credit report?

MR. ASBILL: Yes, sir The number for the credit report is RM-0084-0002

THE COURT: All right Thank you

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Around this time, middle of March, and going forward from the exchange between Mr Williams and yourself about his dad's birthday, what did you think about Jonnie Williams? What was your perception of him at that time?

A Well, I liked the guy He was, again, a Virginia businessman We had gotten to see him a little more I knew he was friends with my wife, and to some degree friends with me at that point We had seen him at various political events We had had him for dinner So I would consider him to be -- to be a friend. At that point, he really hadn't asked me for anything Like most Virginia businesspeople, I wanted to see them succeed. So I was glad to be able to continue to hear things about what he was doing

Q Okay I'd like to turn to the subject of texts between you and Mr Williams

A Yes

Q Relating to stock, Star stock

A Sure.

Q Summer, 2012 That's the time frame and the subject matter I want to talk to you about

A Okay

Q In April of 2012, do you recall texting and e-mailing Mr Williams about that issue, about Star stock?

A Yes

Q On April 27th in particular, if we could pull up, I think it is Government Exhibit 370, it is already admitted Is this a text from you to him?

A Yes, it is

Q All right And you say in it, "The stock is doing great, Alzheimer's study announcement really helped. Thanks for coming to the Romney event and helping him."

A Yes

Q That's what you say Let me write this down Why are you saying to him at this particular point in time that the stock is going great? Why did you say it?

A I typically talk to people about things that are important to them. And in my discussions back in February with, February and March with Mr Williams, and really at other times, I learned that the most important thing to him was the value of his stock, because he owned, I don't know, 10 million shares or something like that at the time I had seen Mr Williams at this Romney event. I coordinated an event with Scott Romney to come in down to the Dominion headquarters and we invited, I think, 30, 40, 50 businesspeople, and I saw Mr Williams at that event with Scott Romney and it was just two or three days before that, I think, and as usual, Mr Williams would talk a little bit about his business. My best recollection is he told me at that time about this new Alzheimer's study and that the stock was doing well And so I think this was, the 28th was a Saturday And at that point Mr Williams is a major donor to me He is an over $100,000 donor He had loaned my wife some money He had now loaned my corporation money And, you know, people that I'm close to from either a business standpoint or a financial standpoint, I typically stay in touch with. So a couple days after the Romney event on that Saturday I shot him this e-mail

Q When you are talking about Scott Romney, I want to make sure we are clear, this has nothing to do with the South Carolina Governor Romney?

A No, Scott Romney came in for his brother, Mitt, as a special guest at an event we did right here in Richmond at the Dominion headquarters Mr Farrell and I helped coordinate this event, and Mr Williams was one of the people that was there.

Q Did you know anything prior to this from in 2011? Basically, I think you testified that at one point in November of 2011, you knew that, because your wife had bought stock and then you learned she still had it, that the stock price had dropped?

A I knew the stock had taken a tremendous beating the year before When I talked to my wife in November when she sold it, it had gone from 31 to 15,000 She had lost about 17,000 When I heard the stock had rebounded, I said that's good for the company and maybe the research he was doing at some of these other places and was now paying dividends Any time a Virginia company is doing well, I'm happy about it because it means jobs, it means opportunities, and that's a good thing for us

Q You've heard Mr Williams testify that you told him you were a shareholder of Star stock Did you hear that in this trial?

A Yes, I heard that

Q And was that true?

A No I've never owned shares of stock, and I would have never told Mr Williams that I owned stock

Q Okay Let's talk about Chatham Bars, Cape Cod, August 21 to August 23, 2012 What was that trip for, from -- to your knowledge? What did you understand that trip to be about?

A We had an offer from Mr Williams; that is, my wife and I, to spend a weekend with him after the Republican National Committee meeting over Labor Day

Q All right And was this some sort of a makeup trip, in your view, from -- was there a previous -- the previous summer was there some plan to go to Bar Harbor?

And then there's this?

A Yes

Q -- Cure By Design auction thing?

Did either of those play at all into your understanding of Chatham Bars?

A Yes, but I wasn't clear what We had -- my wife had arranged the surprise trip the year before for Mr Williams' anniversary and our anniversary, our 35th anniversary As I learned, we both honeymooned at Bar Harbor, Maine And unbeknownst to me, my wife had planned a trip to Bar Harbor with Mr. Williams and a few of our other friends I did not know that I thought we were going somewhere else. And then that weekend was -- there was a hurricane in Virginia Beach, and so we had -- we canceled any trip out of town

And then the Cure By Design event, as I told you, Mr Williams had won the bid and won this -- this trip So I really wasn't sure whether this was a makeup for the Bar Harbor anniversary trip or a makeup -- or actually, an alternative to the Cure By Design trip I think that's the way my wife looked at it was this was the Cure By Design trip except we were going to Cape Cod and not New York

But in any event, it was a nice offer He asked me if -- he allowed me to take one of my friends, and so we agreed to do that

Q He asked you -- he asked -- he told you that you could bring a friend?

A Yeah Well, I think he told my wife, and then she told me, that we could invite one other couple to come with us And that's why I invited Mr Cox and his wife and daughter

Q So who are the people on the trip?

A Mr Cox and his wife, and they had a newborn baby And so I think we got approval from Mr Williams to bring the -- have the baby come And then Mr Williams, I don't think I knew who he was going to bring, but with him was Dr Ladenson and Dr Ladenson's wife And then there was another couple, a judge from Massachusetts, who was a friend -- apparently a friend of Mr Williams, and her husband And then on one night I invited another friend of mine who was up there in Cape Cod, Doug McAuliffe, who had done all the TV on my campaign He and his wife, Ingrid, came for dinner one night

Q What did you do when you were there, in sum, and in general, what did you do when you were there?

A You know, by that time, this was -- I had known Mr Williams now, to some degree, for about two years And this was - in my view, it was just a completely get-away, relaxing weekend You know, for me, when people offered things like that -- I had multiple offers to do things But the few that I accepted were ones that meant -- meant time with my wife or time with my family That's what I saw I didn't see fancy hotels or boats I mean, I just saw time away

And this was -- I had been incredibly busy during that year of '12 that I explained I had been working on the campaign a lot for Mitt And so I had just been down in -- for about eight, ten days in Tampa at the Republican National Committee I was on the Platform Committee So this was great Right after that was over, to have the Labor Day weekend away with a handful of friends I thought was just terrific And so that's why we went

Q So the weekend was consumed by socializing or sports events?

A Dinners, golf, went out on a boat one day That's really all we did Walked around the town a little bit That's all we did

Q Did Mr Williams ever ask you for anything from state government during that trip?

A No

Q Any long discussions about Anatabloc or anatabine or that sort of thing?

A No It was very little business I do remember at one point out, we were out in the backyard, and he did tell me -- he talked about his stock, which he typically did, and that his goal was maybe to stay with the company a couple years, and the stock was going to do really well, and then he would try to cash out of the company and expected to walk away with a significant amount of money That was his -- that was his goal

Q Who paid for the trip?

A Mr Williams paid for the majority of it I paid for a part of -- a couple dinners, about $1,100 I think Dr Ladenson and I might have split a couple of the nights of dinners But I had two entries on my credit card

Q Totaling $1,100?

A Yes, sir

Q All right Again, did you think anything inappropriate about Mr Williams paying for the majority of that trip?

A No I had been fortunate to have several offers and gifts like that during the time I was Governor, and we reported that on my Statement of Economic Interest at the end of 2012

Q Okay Let me talk to you about the work that Mr Williams' brother did --

A Yes

Q -- on your residence, which I take it, you said, is about 30 minutes from -- about 30 minutes from downtown Richmond?

A Yes

Q All right We'll -- the Leabrook house Is that --

A Yes

Q Okay November 2012 Were you aware that your wife asked Donnie Williams to work on your house?

A It was not exactly that way

Q Just tell us what way it was

A My wife -- my daughter had moved out the house I believe that summer She and her husband Chris -- my daughter Cailin and her husband lived there for a couple of years We were trying to help them out as newly married couples -- a newly married couple And it was good for us because the house would have been vacant during that time And so they lived there

They moved out to buy their own little small house just down the road from us in -- in Henrico So we knew that a year and a half later, we'd be moving back in So we were hoping maybe to rent the house that last year, and so I knew that we needed to do some work

So my wife, as usual, I asked her to try to help with a couple of the things that needed to be done She always likes to have referrals, as opposed to just cold calls, somebody out of the Yellow Pages or the phone book

So she told me she had talked to Mr Williams and that his brother, Donnie, took care of his house here in Goochland and did some contracting work and that the small things that we needed done, that we could engage him to do

Q All right And the general nature of the work that you were interested in having performed is what?

A It was initially very pretty routine It was some lawn -- some lawn maintenance We had lost a couple of trees in a hurricane, small bushes, and to replace those It was painting, painting a deck, and a couple things like that

Q Was some sort of list of things created at some point?

A I made a list at one point, I think, to give to my wife, and I believe she discussed it with Donnie

Q All right Did you intend to pay for that work?

A Yes

Q Did you, in fact, pay for the work?

A Yes, we did

Q When?

A When it was done, which was -- I think it took him a couple of months We added a few things to it, and the work was done in about March And then he had engaged a couple other contractors, an HVAC contractor, a termite contractor So we got separate invoices from them that we paid But we paid them as the work was done

Q Let me pull up RM-292 Do you recognize this, or is this a series of invoices?

A Yes

MR ASBILL: I move these into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And what -- this is a multipage exhibit; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And, in essence, without reading each one of these, what is it all about?

A There were -- there were a couple other contractors that Mr Williams, Donnie Williams, as he found things that were wrong or that we'd ask him to do, he couldn't do them So he had to bring in other people to do One was the Bryant Heating & Cooling company They were, I think an HVAC contractor There was AQC Services that did these various services that were outlined here

And then we -- we discovered that we had termites in a part of the house Mr Williams replaced the board itself He could do that But we -- I think we paid about $2,900 here on this invoice to have a termite company come in and do the work So we paid Mr Williams, and then we had three other invoices that we paid in due course as the work was completed

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: You can take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let's move on to Christmas 2012 Tell us about that day, and who was present

A We tried to have as many of the family come for

Christmas, and I think this year, at some point all the children and husbands, boyfriend, girlfriend, we had everybody there at one point in time Christmas is a big day for our family and -- especially Christmas Day is usually everybody together

Q Did you learn anything from your wife about Star stock shortly before Christmas Day?

A Yes

Q What did you learn, and when did you learn it?

A I think it was sometime the week before Christmas She told me that she had bought Star Scientific stock early in the year She had rebought the stock that she had sold the previous year when I told her that it was going down, downhill, and she had sold it at the end of the year And she told me at the -- right before Christmas that she had repurchased the stock And --

Q Is that the first time you knew about that? Was that the first time you knew about the repurchase?

A That's when I learned that she still had stock, yes

Q All right And what did she tell you about why and when?

A She told me she really believed in this company and this product She believed that anatabine was the real deal and that, in time, these clinical studies would prove it She told me that she really believed in this company

And she had been following it some, and the stock had actually gone up a little bit from what it was before And this is something that she really believed in

And she couldn't find a way at that point to actually do what she wanted to do, which is to put it in the children's name without them knowing it so that she could use it as a wedding present for the children at the time of their wedding And so what she had decided to do was to give it to them as a Christmas present that year in Christmas of 2012

Q When you learned this from your wife, what was your reaction?

A Well, I knew that -- I knew of her passion I knew of her friendship with Mr Williams I knew of her real interest in the stock because she was very reluctant to sell it the year before when I -- when I told her to sell it But I was pretty upset with her I mean, here she goes buying a stock back again that I had told her to sell I did not think -- I didn't have any personal attachment to Star Scientific stock I thought if we were going to do something for the children, that her best route was to buy a blue chip, buy something a little more stable This was clearly a speculative stock It had went up and down It was back up a little bit at this point, although down from where it was at the middle of the year But I just felt this was another time she just didn't tell me something that she was doing

Now, it was -- again, it was her money that she had used for this But I told her, you know, "Listen If you have this stock, you know, this is" -- "again, triggers a reporting requirement for me I can do it, but I need" -- "I just don't" -- "I really don't appreciate you doing things that really" -- "that affect me without" -- "without me knowing about it " But --

Q Was it a friendly or pleasant conversation between the two of you?

A Well, it was tense I mean, it was -- listen, it was right -- it was Christmas season It was right after the -- I think one of the last Christmas parties that we had We had a series of them in 2012 leading up to Christmas

I was -- I was just more -- I was more disappointed, I think, would be the best description that she had this stock for all that time and just didn't -- didn't tell me

Q During the conversation, did you find out exactly when she had repurchased it in January?

A I don't know if I knew the exact date But she did tell me she had purchased it right at the beginning of the year She bought it back She bought it back in January

Q During the course of the year, during the course of 2012, between January and December, had you ever reviewed or seen her Davenport statements?

A I knew she was receiving some mail from Davenport I had - I got most of the mail, not all of it At that point we got mail from about -- I think about five different sources Some from Leabrook I had a P.O Box 406 I got some at the Executive Mansion I got some directly to the Broad Street office building Maybe four sources

So it would come in different places My recollection, at that point, was that that one came to the P O Box 406, which was the clerk's office, which means Ms Watts got it to me So I'm sure I saw Davenport statements, but I typically didn't open her mail

Q All right On Christmas Day did -- what happened with respect to the stock, if anything?

A Well, Maureen had told me when she was going to transfer the stock to the children, that she had spoken to or was going to speak to Mr Piscitelli to finally get the forms Because now she would have to disclose to the children The only way to actually put it in her name, she told me, was to --

Q Put it in her name or in their name?

A I'm sorry Excuse me To put the stock in the children's name was to have them fill out these forms In other words, her plan to keep it -- to put it in the children's name without them knowing it so it could be a surprise at a wedding was -- she couldn't find a way to make that happen So she said she was going to get the forms and present it to them at Christmas and have them fill out the forms so they could open an account for the transfer of the stock to them

Q Was there any kind of discussion of this issue at Christmas, at Christmas dinner or anything?

A Yes

Q What was that about?

A I remember at some point my wife telling the children that one of their Christmas presents -- I think it was after we had opened the regular presents around our Christmas tree I believe she told them at the dinner table -- I heard most of it, I think -- that she was also going to give them shares of Star Scientific stock, that this was something special to her, that this is what my dad had done for us at our wedding when he gave me the shares of Citizen Utilities B stock And this is what she wanted to do She was hoping to do it at the wedding, but couldn't find a way to do it So she was going to give it to them as a Christmas present, and she needed them to fill out some forms

Q All right And did she, in your hearing, tell them anything about -- tell the children anything about the source of the money that had been used or she had used to purchase these shares?

A Yes I think I heard her say -- I heard her talk about that

Q And what did she say?

A She said that this was money that was from her dad's inheritance

Q And you knew that not to be correct; is that right?

A Correct

Q And did you say anything about it to the children or say anything to her in front of them?

A I did not Because in my discussions with Maureen, I knew that -- she told me that this money that she had borrowed from Mr Williams that was the source of the stock purchase was the substitute for the money that I had taken back in November 5th of 2010 when I asked for her dad's inheritance money to be put towards -- to be put towards the abatement of our credit card bills, as opposed to her buying stock

So as I mentioned, when she got this loan from Mr Williams -- in her mind, I know she told me, "This is my dad's money This is my money, and I'm going to use it the way I see fit " So I -- one, I certainly didn't want to correct her in front of the children And secondly, I -- I knew that I was -- I was wrong in what I had done, as I've testified to before, and what I did in taking her dad's money Right decision for the family Wrong decision for the marriage And I was not going to correct her on that point in front of the children at Christmas.

Q Did your children, that night, actually sign the forms to open stock accounts?

A I don't know if they all did at that time I do remember specifically my two sons being at the Christmas table and filling it out And I -- I actually -- they asked me a couple of questions, actually, about the forms, and I -- I tried to answer the questions that they had about the forms A couple of the other kids may have But I don't know if all the children actually did it at that time

Q Was there any rush, from your perspective, to fill out the forms?

A Well, they were -- everybody was together And I think that's the other reason that Maureen told me she wanted to do it Not only to do it as a gift at Christmas, but finally all the children would be here at one spot

I mean, she had procrastinated, essentially, for a year and a half in doing this I was glad that she was finally going to do what she wanted to do, which was get it in the children's name But listen, I had a Statement of Economic Interest report due in a couple of weeks, and if the stock was still in her name at the time, it was $15,000 It was -- I would have reported it if she still had it I was going to report an $8,000 gift from Mr Williams for Chatham Bars already I had reported $108,000 of campaign contributions A $50,000 loan I mean, everybody knew I was friends with Mr. Williams My wife was So if I had -- if I reported the stock, it was not a big deal

Q Let me go back a little earlier in the fall of 2012 Do you recall an event where your oldest daughter, Jeanine, or her husband, Adam -- Adam is the one who worked for you; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Do you recall a tool party --

A Yes

Q -- for Adam?

A Yes

Q What is a tool party?

A Well, I learned at the time what it was They were getting married in May 11th of 2013 And I guess one of the things now for a groom, prior to a wedding, is to have a tool party, as opposed to, I guess -- or instead of a bridal shower, where the groom would actually get something that they wanted; i e tools

So my wife and I attended the tool party, along with Adam's parents and a handful of other friends I think it was hosted by one of Adam's friends

Q And at that party do you recall whether or not Mr Williams attended?

A He did not

Q Do you recall any phone calls between Mr Williams and your wife or anyone else between Mr Williams or anyone else at that party?

A I don't -- I don't have a -- I don't have a clear recollection of any phone call with Mr Williams at the party.

Q Did you ever overhear a phone call between Mr Williams and your wife or Mr. Williams and your daughter Jeanine or your future son-in-law Adam?

A I didn't overhear it At some point I learned that there had been a call, but I -- I didn't -- I don't remember overhearing any call

Q Did you have any knowledge at the time of the party of what Mr Williams planned to do with respect to -- did you know he had been invited but couldn't attend, essentially?

A I think so Yes, sir

Q All right Did you have any idea or any discussions with him about what he was going to give as a tool or some sort of a gift to Adam?

A Yes

Q When did you learn about that?

A I don't -- I don't remember It might have been at that party in December of '12 or it might have been shortly thereafter But I learned that he was going to get a generator for my daughter Because they lived in Virginia Beach, frequent storms, and he thought that would be an appropriate tool for them

Q What was your understanding of what kind of generator it would be and how much it might cost?

A You know, I didn't have any idea I was thinking of one of the portable generators that you can buy at Home Depot or something like that that would be provided that they could use if the power went out in a storm But I didn't have any idea of the value Maybe --

Q All right Did you know anything about --

A -- hundreds of dollars Something like that

Q Did you know anything about -- about, subsequent to the party, any efforts by people to come and look at the house or figure out where a generator could go or what kind of generator it might be?

A Not at the time

Q All right Did you have any idea that Mr Williams was talking about a $10,000 gift or -- either a generator or $10,000 equivalent?

A Not at the time

Q Did you know anything about him sending them a $10,000 check to Adam and Jeanine

A I learned after the investigation started that he had sent a $10,000 check to Adam

Q And that's the first time you learned about that gift?

A Yes

Q All right

THE COURT: Why don't we stop now for our morning break We'll take 15 minutes

(Recess taken from 11:25 a m until 11:45 a m)

THE COURT: Two things For the parties, there was a motion -- you all can come up here a second

(At Bench)

THE COURT: Okay I just took the opportunity to review the written submissions of the parties, and I've gone through the documents The government's motion to exclude these particular documents will be granted

All right Thank you

MR ASBILL: May I just make sure that my outline reflects what you've just ruled

THE COURT: Sure Take your time Take your time

And while we have this pause -- go ahead, Mr Asbill, and do what you are doing

I need to make this announcement to the media This is the third and final warning Inappropriate use of the cell phones is not going to work for you Now, I don't want any crocodile tears when your phone is taken and your privileges are ended You can only use the phones in certain areas and you know what they are, they are outside, and the marshals, if you violate it, are going to take the phone, report to me your name, and your privilege will be revoked Last warning

(At Bench)

MR BURNHAM: I just wanted to clarify Are we still allowed to ask Mr McDonnell for his understanding and his interactions post February 18th --

THE COURT: No No You --

MR BURNHAM: -- on falsity?

THE COURT: You all had -- you got a chance to do -- to make those arguments But no Not what he did since then

MR BURNHAM: Okay Thank you

MR DRY: Thank you, Your Honor

(In Open Court)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right Mr Asbill

MR ASBILL: Thank you, sir

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Good morning

A Good morning

Q I want to talk to you now about the topic of the alleged quos in this case And to the extent you've testified about it to some extent before, I'll try to move through it pretty quickly.

A Okay

Q The CigRx event

A Yes

Q This is February -- the stop-by, the CigRx stop-by?

A Yes

Q This is February 3rd, 2011 --

A Yes

Q -- correct?

At that point in time, February 2011, had you received any gifts or loans from Mr Williams?

A No

Q And we understand what that was about, et cetera I want to talk to you now about the Molly Huffstetler meeting August 1 This is right after you get back from Smith Mountain Lake

A Yes

Q Let's take a look at an e-mail on July 31 at night that you sent to Bill Hazel This is when you got back, driving back, from Smith Mountain Lake --

A Yes

Q -- to Richmond?

MR ASBILL: Could we take a look at GX 189, which has previously been admitted And blow that up, please, Victoria

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Okay This is an e-mail -- this is in response to your e-mail or this is -- below it is your e-mail to him?

A Yes At 11:29 is my e-mail

MR ASBILL: Okay Highlight that, please, Victoria

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And this is at 11:29 p m , the night you returned from Smith Mountain Lake, correct?

A Yes

Q And you tell Bill Hazel basically what?

A I ask him if he would have Keith or Matt, those are the two deputies in the Secretariat of Health and Human Resources I asked Bill if he would just send someone over there regarding a briefing with the First Lady on this issue of Star Scientific, Anatabloc trials that were planned for VCU and UVA And that was based on a conversation with my wife that night

Q All right And before we get to that, Mr Hazel responds, Dr Hazel, responds, "Will do"?

A "Will do " This kind of e-mail I would have sent many, many times to tell people to do things, have meetings, attend events I mean, I didn't consider this really out of the ordinary

Q All right. Now, back to how did you learn about anything planned for the next day with respect to Mr Williams and anyone at the Mansion?

A When we returned home, I think we got home about 10, 10:30, unpacked. And my wife came to me and said she had checked her calendar for the next day and that Mr -- that Mary-Shea Sutherland had put on an event on the calendar for her to meet with Mr Williams at, I think, 10:00 the next morning about this topic, which was Star Scientific doing clinical trials at UVA and VCU

I didn't really know -- I knew that maybe there was -- that he had told me at some point that maybe he had an interest or was exploring that, but I didn't know what the status was And I certainly did not want my wife and Mary-Shea Sutherland meeting with Mr Williams about this issue because they didn't really know anything about it They weren't responsible for UVA or VCU

And so I thought it would be -- if that meeting is going to take place, I wanted to have somebody there from the secretariat that understood what was going on with the science so that they could just monitor the meeting

Q Did you understand, from your conversation with your wife when she told you about this meeting, that policy or some sort of policy, government policy might be at issue?

A No I don't think she really even knew about the meeting, from what she told me She said Mary-Shea had set it up It might have been set while we were gone I didn't know She just told me she had saw it on her calendar She might have even said she talked to Mary-Shea I don't remember

But once I learned what the purpose of the meeting was, I wanted to have just somebody from that secretariat there just there to monitor, to see what was said so that no commitments or decisions were made unless somebody with the expertise was there

Q All right Let me back up Earlier in the weekend, were you aware of the content of any conversations, phone conversations, texts, et cetera, e-mails, that may have occurred between your wife and Jonnie Williams or your wife and Mary-Shea Sutherland --

A I knew of --

Q -- relating to this potential meeting?

A Oh, not at all No This was -- there was no ask of me to do this This was my decision, after my wife told me what the meeting was about, that I wanted to have someone there from the secretariat to monitor whatever this -- to monitor this meeting Just to be sure that if anything was offered or decided or asked, that somebody with appropriate expertise was there to monitor that meeting

Q All right And just to provide a little more context, this is the end of July of 2011, correct?

A Yes

Q And we've talked about that's the time -- or in the time frame that Ms Sutherland is, without your knowledge, talking to Jonnie Williams about a job?

A Yes

Q Okay So you -- that didn't influence this issue --

A No

Q -- in your mind; is that correct?

A I didn't know that until September

Q All right During the ride back, before you make this -- or send this e-mail to Dr Hazel, do you have -- do you have any discussion then with your wife about this issue or is it only after you returned?

A My best recollection, it was after we got back, she looked at her calendar As I would do, try to figure out what we were doing the next day And that's when she told me

Q And did -- when you discussed this, I mean, did Maureen ask you to send someone to attend?

A No

Q This was your decision?

A Yes

Q Your independent decision?

A Yes

Q Okay Now --

A But I had done things like that before in asking people to be at the First Lady's Office on Veterans issues, on wine issues, on many other issues where I knew it took subject matter expertise from a Cabinet or an administrator to be able to be there

Q All right And Mr -- Dr Hazel, excuse me, sends Molly Huffstetler And you ultimately, at some point --

A Well, I didn't know that I never heard -- other than "will do," I don't know who he sent I knew Dr Hazel would follow my request and send somebody I also knew it was last minute So I did not know who he sent until, you know, after -- really after the investigation started, I read the -- the information that Molly Huffstetler had actually attended the meeting

Q All right And did you think there was anything

inappropriate about your asking Dr Hazel to send someone to this meeting?
A No
Q This same time frame, was that part of a difficult time frame in your marriage?
A Yes
Q Now, did you talk with Mr -- excuse me, with Ms Huffstetler or Dr Hazel about the meeting after it occurred?
A I did not No
Q Did you ever speak to Jonnie Williams about it?
A No
Q Did you ever speak to your wife Maureen about it?
A I don't think so I don't believe I had any conversations Certainly not that day or contemporaneously No
Q All right Did you ever speak to Mary-Shea Sutherland about it or did you know that she was --
A No
Q -- involved or may have attended the meeting?
A No
Q Why didn't you speak to Williams or Maureen or Mary-Shea about it --
A You know, I --
Q -- if you did not?

A I make so many requests for people to have meetings and do things There's no way to possibly follow up on that I've sent, during the course of the administration, thousands of business cards, e-mails, texts, see me's, take action on this

When I give a directive like this, unless I have a real strong vested interest in that particular issue, you know, I hired people that I expect would just do that, make the right decisions, give people a hearing, and then make whatever the decision was that was appropriate

And this was -- this was no different There were three or four secretaries that routinely did things with the First Lady's Office on issues that they were working on

Q So am I correct in understanding that you did not expect any result from this meeting?

A No But -- other than knowing the topic of the meeting, I didn't know what might actually be discussed at the meeting If Mr Williams had already arranged on his own to have some sort of clinical trials already done at UVA or VCU and they were just briefing us, fine We'd have somebody listen I didn't know what the status of any of his own independent efforts with Star Scientific and UVA and VCU might have been at that time

Q All right And you heard Molly Huffstetler testify in this trial that basically after she went to the meeting, she listened, basically, and then she sent basically --

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor, to recapping Molly Huffstetler's testimony

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q The blow-off e-mail from Huffstetler Did you have any problem with her doing that?

A No It -- she would have done what I would have expected, I guess And she listened and --

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor The witness testified that he had no conversations with Molly Huffstetler

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q All right With respect -- the notes from Ms Huffstetler have been moved into this trial, correct?

A Yes

Q They are in evidence in this case?

A Yes

Q All right With respect to the entry in her notes about your promising or committing or obtaining $3 million for Mr Williams from the Virginia Tobacco Commission, did you know anything like that was said at this meeting?

A No

Q Did you ever do any such thing?

A No

Q Now, there was a -- there was a Mansion lunch that same day, is that -- the 1st of August; is that correct?

A A Mansion lunch?

Q Excuse me Yeah Did you know anything about the Mansion lunch being scheduled this day?

A No I learned about that a couple weeks later

Q All right And that was on August 30th of 2011?

A Well, that was the date of the lunch I learned about it, I think, the 15th or 16th of August of -- with a conversation with Adam Zubowsky

Q All right And we've heard a lot of testimony about the earth, wind and fire during that time, et cetera; is that correct?

A Leading up to the -- leading up the Mansion, that whole week before was earthquake, hurricanes Yes

Q All right And your calendars have been moved into evidence And do your calendars for that time frame -- have you reviewed them?

A I have

Q And do they accurately reflect what you were doing in that week leading up to that event?

A Yes From the date of the hurricane, which was a week -- excuse me, the date of the earthquake in Louisa County, a week before the Mansion event, I think the 23rd, up until the day of the Mansion event or beyond, I was completely involved with -- every day with significant events In fact, most of the days, with either hurricane preparation, hurricane damage assessment, meetings with Secretary Napolitano, earthquake scene tours So I was very busy with all those matters during that time

Q All right And you say sometime -- with respect to learning about the event a couple of weeks before it happened --

A Yes

Q -- at that point in time, what is it that you learned or what did you know about it?

A Mr Zubowsky, I think, got an e-mail from Ms Sutherland -- I think that had been moved into evidence earlier -- about a request for us to come to an event at the Mansion that the First Lady and her staff were -- were doing with researchers that had some relationship with Star Scientific

And I think Adam asked for more information and then told me what he knew about it, and I told him we'll go by for 30 minutes And that's -- that's what I told him, and that, I think, got eventually put on that calendar at that point

Q All right Did you ever get briefing materials for that event?

A Yes I mean, typically, I'd get them the night before Yes

Q All right And was the -- were the briefing materials different or were they consistent with what your understanding was in mid-August about the nature of the event?

A They were generally consistent It said update on anatabine, research, meeting with researchers, lunch at the Mansion

At some point I learned -- I don't know if it was on the briefing materials or not, but that Star Scientific was going to present checks to -- to several universities And that was for research on anatabine at those universities I don't know if I knew that it was $200,000 at the time But that would have been one of the things that would have -- would have been in my mind at the time that I went

This was a positive thing I've gone to other check presentations when people have given money to the state So that's why I thought it would be fine to go

Q All right Those briefing materials have previously been admitted I'm not going to get into them So were you involved in any way with the planning of this event?

A No.

Q Did you prepare the invite list or edit it or add or subtract folks from it?

A No I would say I never see invites or prepare an invite or have input into an invite itself

On some occasions, someone will give me a list of an invite list and ask me to review it or ask me if I want to add anybody to come to an event But to the best of my recollection, this was a First Lady Office driven event, and I didn't -- I didn't have any input into who came

Q Let me pull up one item with respect to that thought GX 231.

MR ASBILL: Please bring that up It's in evidence And can you open that up to the -- yeah Down at very bottom of that page, highlight that block, please Thank you

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And this is part of the briefing materials? Is that your understanding?

A Yeah Normally with the briefing materials, I'll sometimes get -- in fact, I usually will get an invite list of who's coming, just so I have an idea who's going to be there when I come to an event

Q Okay Is this your handwriting in the middle of the page there?

A Yes

MR ASBILL: Can we highlight that please, Victoria

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And the asterisks are yours as well as the handwriting?

A They seem to be Yes

Q And who is Carrie Cantrell?

A Carrie Cantrell was my Deputy Secretary of Commerce and Trade She would have been number two to Secretary Cheng, who was in court the other day And she actually attended the Mansion event with me, as well as my Chief of policy and attorney, Jasen Eige They were the two staffers that were chosen to go with me

Q What does the "Gov Office *" entry mean?

A That just means she was from the Governor's Office I was just looking at who was there And there was no -- there was a blank there for her affiliation So at some point I wrote in -- I wrote that in

Q And the asterisk by John Clore, Dr Clore, why did you make that entry?

A I don't know I think I may have done this when I was flying back I was in D C in the morning, and I was flying back I probably looked at what my next event was, which was this, because I had to get right off the -- I think I came right off of the flight back from D C and went right back to the Mansion. So I was probably just -- I was probably just reviewing this list to see who was coming So I -- I don't know why I would have -- I did that

Q Okay

MR. ASBILL: You can take that down Thank you

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you ever talk to Mr. Williams about this event beforehand?

A Not to my knowledge No I don't remember doing that

Q Did you understand whether or not there was going to be any press there?

A That would have been -- if there were press there, that would have been on this And I think it mentioned closed press

But if there's going to be press at an event, I usually either have a note on the briefing sheet, or Tucker Martin, my Press Secretary, will actually be there I rarely would go anywhere with press without somebody from the press office there

Q When you say "closed press," that means closed to the press?

A Closed to the press

Q Okay Did you understand that your staff had vetted this event?

A No. I mean, I learned that after the investigation about the discussions the night before But nobody talked to me about that

Q Did you understand that your staff had reviewed the event before you were going to attend, whatever the ultimate --

A Well, that would be typical Anytime we get any invite from anybody, there's generally some review done before a decision is made Many events are scheduled with no -- no yes or no from me Katherine or Monica would give me a list of events that they weren't quite sure about and let me make the final call But many things were put on the calendar without me giving an affirmative yes So the normal vetting process, whatever, would have taken place before that

Q All right Now, did -- after -- after the -- I mean, you went to the event?

A Yes

Q And we'll get to that any second But did -- either before the event or after the event -- let's say before the event right now Did Jasen Eige or Martin Kent ever discuss any concerns that they may have had with you before the event?

A No

Q How about after the event?

A No When I walked back with Jasen from the event, back to the Patrick Henry Building, there were no concerns raised

Q All right. Now, tell us about the event when you got there. Did you arrive on time? Did you arrive late or somewhere in between or what?

A Well, I'm always on time But this time I was actually scheduled to be late, which was good, because I was in D C for events that morning And so, again, I had told them about two weeks before I'd go for 30 minutes The actually scheduled time on my calendar, I think, was 45 or 50 minutes So I think I arrived pretty close, or maybe around 12:35 or 12:40, I think Somewhere in there

Q And for the record, when you say you're always on time, you were being facetious in that answer?

A Somewhat Yes

Q All right And so how long do you stay at the event? Well, let me back up How long was the event scheduled for?

A My recollection, it was a lengthier event It was probably maybe close to two hours Maybe 11:30 to 1:30 And my scheduled time was just to be there from about 11 -- about 12 -- maybe about 12:35 or so

In any event, I stayed from about 12:35, 12:40 and left about -- about 1:20 or so, because I had a 1:30 meeting So I stayed 40, 45 minutes, I think

Q Carrie Cantrell, Jasen Eige Who decided that those two would attend?

A Typically, it would either be the Chief of Staff working with the scheduler or sometimes it would just be the scheduler working with the secretary So they did a great job, Monica, Katherine, making a decision on who should go with me But those appear to be the right people

And having my Chief of Policy and Deputy Secretary of Commerce, from my viewpoint, having researchers there and having research moneys handed out to private companies was really part of the job creation focus We talked about that a lot during the administration, the healthcare and job creation So those two seemed to be fine

Q Okay How many people attended the event?

A I believe I actually counted them at one point It was 29 So 29 people showed up

Q Is that a number -- 29, is that an easy number for you to focus on with respect to an event like this?

A Well, it's a lot smaller than most events that I go to at the Mansion

Q Well, why -- I mean, do you have any idea what the size of the table is?

A Oh, yes It's -- the table -- when all the leaves are put on the Mansion dining room table, I think the maximum capacity is -- is 29

Q And was the table full?

A And the table was full, yes

Q All right Did you talk to anyone at the event?

A Sure

Q Do you recall who and what about?

A There was already -- the program was already going on when I got there I don't remember exactly what was happening But typically, what I would do, I would come in, take my seat and do a quick welcome For a smaller group like that -- I can't remember if I did it, but I usually walk around and just shake hands with everybody and say, "Hi Welcome to the Governor's Mansion "

I can't say that I did that That would have been typical for me to do But I took my seat, and the presentations were continuing I ate lunch

Q Did you make any -- did you ask any questions during the presentations?

A Yeah After -- there were a couple researchers that made presentations I know Dr Ladenson from Johns Hopkins Hospital made a presentation And then Dr -- I believe Dr Roskamp, or Ms Crawford, Dr Crawford, one of the two doctors from the Roskamp Institute -- because those were the two places that I understood that clinical research was going on on anatabine And so they both made presentations

Q Did you know at this point in time, the time of this lunch, that Mr Williams was interested in doing studies at UVA or VCU, having them done?

A Well, I knew from the meeting that my wife had a month before that there was at least the topic on the calendar that said studies at UVA, VCU

What the exact status of those was, I wasn't -- I wasn't exactly sure Mr Williams may have told me at some previous time that he was interested in Virginia studies And look, I thought it was fine I'd much rather have studies done in Virginia than having it done in Florida or Baltimore or Michigan or Pisa or anywhere else So if he was able to convince people to do studies in Virginia, I thought that was fine

Q Did you know at the time of this lunch that Mr Williams wanted to try to get Tobacco Commission funds for any studies?

A I don't -- I don't believe so There may have been some mention at the lunch I just -- I don't have an exact recollection of anything specific about that at the lunch

Q But, again, after the lunch, you never did anything with the Tobacco Commission at all, right?

A No

Q All right Now, I want to turn your attention to a February 16th, 2012, e-mail

A But you asked me one question, I'm sorry, I didn't answer

If I might, Your Honor

THE COURT: Go ahead

A You asked me if I asked questions at the research --

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Yeah. I'm sorry

A I'm sorry I didn't answer that question

I do remember that -- I had heard from Mr Williams a couple of times in his own words on that trip back from California for six hours that I had heard about his research and I heard from him when he and his wife were over to the house But I had really never heard from any researchers about their view of the efficacy and the status of the research, especially people from distinguished places like Johns Hopkins So it was -- I was interested in that

And when they talked, I did ask what I thought were some reasonably decent questions about what is the status of the research, how long do clinical trials take to get done, what is this showing so far in either the mice or other studies about whether or not this really could be a powerful anti-inflammatory, are there going to be human clinical trials

I just remember having those kinds of questions Because having a little bit of a healthcare background, I was interested in that topic So I do remember asking a number of questions of one or both researchers to have them tell me, as opposed to the company, tell me what is going on with this product

Because, again, I thought if this anatabine, which I thought was actually taken from the natural tobacco plant, could be a real scientific breakthrough, this was going to be very good for the tobacco region because it meant a new use of tobacco Not for smoking, but for a health reason And so I know -- I know I asked some questions because I thought if there's something positive that could happen here, this would be a good thing

Q Were you there when Mr Williams -- there's been testimony that he held up a leaf, a tobacco leaf during this lunch?

A Again, I got there an hour or some after the thing started I don't remember -- Mr Williams may have made some comments, but I did not see him waving any tobacco leaf when I was there

Q Or a tobacco leaf on the table that the 29 folks sat at?

A I didn't see it.

Q All right You said something a second ago about from the natural tobacco plant

A Yes

Q Did there come a time when you ever learned that Mr Williams' production or his company's production of anatabine was synthetic as opposed to derived from the natural plant?

A I did

Q And when was that, and what did you learn?

A Well, it was sometime much later than that that I learned it was synthesized, this anatabine, out of -- in some out-of-state laboratory And I was very disappointed to hear that because, you know, one of my -- besides the health benefits, a big part of my interest in any research was could it help Virginia, could it expand job opportunities in Virginia, would it have some positive impact on our economy And if I thought it was from tobacco, it would be great But if it's synthesized out of state, that lessened my interest

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Let me turn to GX 312, which has previously been admitted Blow that up, please

BY MR ASBILL:

Q What is this about? You were on this e-mail, right, at some point?

A Yes I see at the top, my wife forwarded this to me in February of '12

Q Okay Who else was it sent to?

A It was sent to Mr Eige, Jasen Eige, my counsel and Chief of Policy

Q Did you read the e-mail and its attachments?

A I mean, I think I read the -- just the first line of it, but I don't have any recollection of reading the rest of it I mean, again, this is in the throes of the General Assembly session, February 9th I've got all these other issues going on at that time in 2012

And I -- I mean, there were -- I get so many e-mails during the course of the day Generally, I might scan it And I -- I read the -- I'm sure I read that top line that said, "He has calls in to VCU and UVA and no one will return his calls " I'm pretty sure I read that

Q All right With respect to the attachments --

MR ASBILL: Let's go to Page 5 of this exhibit

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This talks about a -- discusses --

MR ASBILL: And you can highlight it for me, please, Victoria

BY MR ASBILL:

Q -- discusses a call between Rock Creek and UVA officials on November 29, 2011?

A Yes That's what it seems to say And I heard Ms Krueger talk about it

Q Did you ever talk to her or anyone else about UVA submitting grant applications to the Tobacco Commission?

A No, I did not.

Q Did you even know who Ms Krueger was?

A No

Q Did you know about that call or whether or not it occurred?

A No I -- I can't say that I ever looked at this attachment But I know -- I certainly know sometime after the investigation I saw this document But in realtime, I could -- I have a vague memory of the e-mail content from my wife to me, but -- but not these attachments about some call between Star and UVA No

MR ASBILL: Okay You can take that exhibit down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q With respect to the e-mail and the attachments, did you ever contact anyone about it or do anything about it?

A Well, I mean, about the e-mail from my wife to me?

Q Right E-mail from your wife, yeah And the attachments, basically Did you -- as a result of seeing this e-mail, did you contact anyone about anything?

A Not -- not right at that -- not on that date
Q Okay Let's turn to another e-mail from your wife on February 10th This is GX 314, previously admitted
A Yes
Q What do you know about this e-mail, if anything?
A I mean, I wasn't copied on this, and I think I probably saw this after the investigation started too I'm not -- I didn't see that at the time.
Q This is an e-mail from your wife on 2/10, February 10, to Jasen Eige, right?
A Yes
Q That reflects -- asks him to call Jonnie and fill him in on where this is at?
A That's what it says Yes
Q And "gov" -- that's you, right?
A Yes
Q -- "wants to know why nothing has developed with studies after Jonnie gave $2,000"?
A 200,000
Q "The Gov wants to get this going with VCU MCV"?
A Yes That -- that would not be accurate I did not say that to my wife; that I wanted to get these going at UVA

I knew from the day before, my wife copied me on an e-mail, and she may have mentioned something to me that I knew that Mr Williams -- or Mr Williams told my wife that there were these grants that he had given that I was aware of the $200,000 and that he wasn't getting phone calls back from anybody at UVA or VCU

This was, what, six months or so after he had given them the grant So I knew that from that e-mail the day before, and I believe my wife mentioned that to me She talked to me about it the day before But I did not see this e-mail, and it would certainly not be accurate to say that I want to get this going That was between Mr Williams and -- and VCU, UVA That was up to them

Q All right So she did not have your permission to represent this to Mr Eige; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q And this -- you said after the event You're talking about the lunch event six months --

A Yes --

Q -- six months later?

A August 30th So this would have been -- well, in the ballpark of six months later

Q With respect to making these kind of comments -- your wife making these sorts of comments to folks on your staff or in the Mansion, is that something that you were -- without your permission or at your direction, is that something that you were aware of happening in the past?

A I -- I knew that it had happened on a few occasions Yes

Q Let's move on to the next week, February 16th GX 319, also previously admitted What is this document?

A . This is an e-mail that I sent early morning February 17th I sent out a number of e-mails during that time frame I was getting ready to go out of town for, I don't know, five six, I don't know, the next ten days or so, and I was trying to clear up some things that were on my mind

So I sent this e-mail to Jasen Eige It was, from what my wife had told me, a week before She may have even mentioned it again to me on this date I can't remember But I asked Jasen to see me about this -- this issue of Mr Williams saying he wasn't getting his calls returned That was the purpose of my --

Q Okay I made a mistake in asking you the question It was not the 16th It's the early morning of the 17th?

A Yes

Q And did that meeting ever occur? Or that "see me," did that ever occur?

A I don't -- it may have I don't remember for sure Because I was -- I went out of town on the 17th for three or four days I had sent him an e-mail right before that asking him to see me about two other issues So we certainly might have met that morning

But I know what I was going to tell him, but I -- I can't actually say that we connected We may have

Q What were you going to tell him if you did connect?

A Well, when I learned that VCU and UVA, if this was true, that UVA and VCU had, in fact, gotten those $200,000 grants, which I believed they had, and, in fact, they weren't returning the donor's calls, that I was going to ask Mr Eige to find out just what was going on Should we do anything He was my lawyer Should we even get involved But at a minimum, find out from his private lawyers, you know, why weren't they getting the call returned I figured he deserved the courtesy of at least a call back if he had given $200,000

Q All right

A But I didn't know if that actually was true or not I only know Mr Williams apparently told my wife, who told me So I felt that -- I would do this constituent service multiple times for people if they felt the government wasn't being responsive in some way I felt they deserved a call back

Q Okay In the time frame that you're sending these e-mails, I want to put that a little bit into context

MR ASBILL: Would you pull up RM-0230

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you know what that is?

A Yes

Q What it is?

A Again, I sent a lot of e-mails late at night This was one that I sent the same time frame, about, what, 15 minutes before that other e-mail that you just brought up, also to Jasen, and copying my Chief of Staff, Martin Kent, and my communications director, Tucker Martin

MR ASBILL: I'm sorry If that's not in, can we move it in, please, so folks can see it

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Okay And in general, what's that about?

A Well, there were a couple of pressing matters I mean, the next day, the 17th, was going to be my last day in the office for a while And we had -- there were several pressing issues One, obviously, was the Senate budget because we were having that meltdown, as I've described many times before, and could not get a Senate budget passed

And then secondly, we were in the process of negotiating with Amazon about a settlement dealing with sales tax revenues for out-of-state corporations I was, here I also added some value to the application here because I added the rental income, the gross rental income from the Blue Ridge Heaven property, which had not been on there before, to the tune of about $45,000 a year, which would have obviously helped the application

Q Let's take a look at page 26 What changes did you make to that page?

A This is something that I -- at some point I knew that the bank would ask me to do from other applications, and that is to -- of all the loans that I was a co-signer on, that if a loan where I was not the primary obligor but was a co-signer, like all my kids' student loans or their cars, I had a lot of those

But if the payments had been made for 12 months consistently, then they would not count on my debt to income ratio That had been something on all the previous loan applications So I wanted to go through here and indicate which of these other loans that were outstanding that were on my credit report, which ones of those that I had co-signed on And then at some point when Ms -- if Ms Bolt wanted the 12 months of proof of payment, that if I needed to have those removed for purposes of qualifying for the loan, that she'd have this information as well

And so I went through that And you can see on a number of these that are student loans and cars of my children where I was just simply the co-signer, I put that on there so that she could work on that with underwriting on the final determination

Q Did this add or subtract gross income? Or did it have anything to do with it?

A No This would have actually reduced my debt --

Q Okay

A -- for those that were being paid regularly for 12 months, which would have improved my debt to income ratio, which would have improved my loan application

Q All right With respect to this -- this information that you send in to Ms. Bolt on the 18th --

A Yes

Q -- and the changes that you've described, why were those things not on the February 1 initial draft of the application or the February 15th draft of the application?

A Well, as I explained before, on February 1st I took a very cursory look at that application The only -- I changed a little bit of nomenclature The two loans that I knew were wrong, I added the $700 000 mortgage because those just jumped out at me

But I had -- as you saw, I had 18 meetings that day I just did not look carefully at the application I really believed this was going to be a process, an integral process of multiple drafts I'd give them information They'd ask me for information And with every other loan, I signed a final loan application at closing That's what I did with this one on April 19th, the first loan we closed

And so I just didn't make those changes at that time But this weekend I had more time to do it and made all these other changes and submitted it to them And we continued to share information back and forth until closing

Q In any of the communications that you exchanged with the bank during the process that you've described, did you try to deceive the bank in any way in your applications?

A Never No

Q Did you have any reason to hide the loans from Williams from Nan Bolt or any other PenFed employees?

A No I had disclosed that $50,000 loan on my Statement of Economic Interest I had already disclosed the stock to the Internal Revenue Service the year before I had given my bookkeeper free access to all the --

BY THE COURT:

Q The question was did you have any reason to hide anything?

A No I did not

Q Thank you

BY MR ASBILL:

Q All right Fast-forwarding to 2013, to March 30th, 2013 That's when the investigation -- or the news of the investigation breaks in the press This is Easter Sunday, or the night before; is that right?

A Yes

Q Okay And were you aware that -- that earlier in March your wife had delivered the gifts that Jonnie had bought her to Donnie's house, on the 11th of March?

A I became -- I did not know that from my wife I learned from my attorney

Q When did you first learn that?

A My best recollection was the -- within a couple of days after that

Q After what?

A Well, a couple days after the date that you mentioned

Q The date of the investigation --

A No No No The date -- apparently the date of -- whenever these things were delivered Based on what my attorney told me at that time, it would have been a few days after this delivery was made

MR DRY: Your Honor, can we approach for a second on this topic

THE COURT: Come on up

(At Bench)

MR DRY: I just want to make sure that if Mr Asbill's intent is to waive the privileges regarding communications between counsel and the client, that this is the plan and he knows what the ramifications might be down the line on cross-examination

THE COURT: Mr Asbill, any concern with that

MR ASBILL: I'm not concerned about the question that I'm about to ask

THE COURT: All right

(In Open Court)

BY MR ASBILL:

Q After you learned about -- after you learned about your wife returning these gifts to Donnie, did you and your wife get separate counsel?

A Yes

Q Moving forward to May 2013 You said your daughter married Adam Zubowsky Is that the time that they got married?

A Yes It was May 11th, 2013

Q All right And leading up to the wedding, how was that, or was that a difficult time for the family?

A Yes

Q At some point after the investigation or the word of the investigation was in the press, did you learn that Mr Williams had offered Adam and Jeanine, to fly them someplace with mileage points for their honeymoon?

A Yes

Q Did you have a reaction to that?

A I -- yes I called Adam Told him, "You can't do that "

Q Did you learn about -- or when did you learn, if at all, about this generator, the $10,000 generator that -- or the replacement for that, the $10,000 check that Mr Williams testified about that was sent to Adam Zubowsky after the -- at or about the time of the tool party?

A That was also sometime after the investigation

Q Did you have a reaction to learning that?

A Well, I had understood that the gift was going to be a generator, and I was -- I was surprised that he was -- that he was doing that

Q You've testified previously about returning gifts, paying back loans, et cetera --

A Yes

Q -- after this investigation commenced Had you, in your -- prior to that in your governorship, had you ever returned either the tangible item or the value of the gift that someone else had given you?

A Yes

Q And tell us about that

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor His laundry list of what he gave to other people is not relevant in this case

THE COURT: No I -- I'll let him answer that

A Yes I believe back in 2010, there was a Navy Veterans Association headed up by a gentleman named Bobby Thompson And at some point I learned that he was under a federal investigation for -- I believe a federal investigation, or maybe state investigation And so when I learned that, I donated the $5,000 that he had given to my campaign, I donated it to charity That was back in 2010

BY MR ASBILL:

Q All right. When you gave back the gifts and the loans to Mr Williams, you've talked about, I believe, you didn't give back whatever the golf trips were, a couple of the golf trips were, or a few dinners; is that correct?

A Right

Q And that's because you didn't have any receipts or information for the value of those gifts?

A Well, in part My goal was to take any tangible gift that I had, and I asked my two daughters as well and my children that had golf clubs or had a check from a wedding, anything that we had at that point, to return that to Mr Williams And so that was done in July

Q Okay Others have talked about and I would like you to share a little bit about your feelings about the final Cabinet meeting that you had that others have described in this trial

A It was a remarkable, poignant day I wanted it to be over at the Capitol We rarely used the Capitol itself The Patrick Henry Building was the office building for the Cabinet And I asked all the Cabinet members to come over It was, I believe, the last Monday of the last week in office

And I was -- I was very, very grateful that virtually every one of them had stuck with me, even though they were taking a beating in the newspaper I felt a lot of it was unfair But I felt that these people were so dedicated that regardless of all the things they saw, read, that they were willing to just stay till the very end, with just a couple exceptions People left for some good jobs

But I wanted to have a time, despite the personal agony I was going through, to really thank them for this really phenomenal dedication to the citizens of Virginia, the things that they had done to advance the ball in so many important areas I wanted to thank them for their countless sacrifices I knew the cost in my own life with my wife and my kids and other things that it took to serve well in statewide office I thought we all did a pretty good job But I knew it was really because of the team I just kind of set the ideas, but these people had sacrificed, unbelievably, the things that they did that previous four years

And it was my time to kind of go around the room, look each one of them in the eye and say, you know, "Really, on behalf of these 8 million people of Virginia, I love you I can't tell you how much I appreciate you accomplishing these big things, and you've left Virginia better "

We had a saying that our goal was to leave the campground better than we found it, and I said, you know, "You folks did that You just did a remarkably important job I'll never have an opportunity like this again in my life to work with people like you and to get such big things" -- "get such big things done " And it was very moving for me, and I think for them too

Q Did you commit any crimes while you were the Governor of Virginia?

A No, I did not

Q Do you blame Jonnie Williams for you being in this chair right now?

A In part

Q Why?

A I misjudged Jonnie Williams I thought he was a true friend I think -- I had no idea that he would come into federal court and to make the false statements that he's made about me in saying that I did anything to corrupt my office as Governor of Virginia, and apparently did it to save himself from some unrelated crimes

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you blame your wife for your being here?

A No, I don't blame my wife

Q Who do you blame for being here?

A I -- I hold myself accountable for the reasons that we're here I got my life out of balance The last four years -- well, the last eight, but particularly the last four --

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor, to the narrative answer

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q What do you think Jonnie Williams wanted from you?

A He never told me People want different things I -- he didn't tell me I think he wanted to be friends with me He liked being with my wife He wanted to see his business grow

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: No He can answer the question

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you ever do anything for Williams or Star in exchange for any gifts, any loans, any money?

A No Absolutely not I did not do that

Q Did you ever agree with Williams or your wife to do something for Williams or Star in exchange for gifts or loans?

A No

Q Did you ever promise -- and I use that term broadly -- in any way, written, oral, nod, wink, anything --

A No.

Q -- to do something for Williams or Star in exchange for gifts or loans?

A No, I did not

Q Did your administration ever provide any money to Williams or Star in any way, you know, Board appointments, contracts, line items, anything, Tobacco Commission, et cetera?

A To the best of my knowledge, we did not

Q Did you ever ask your wife or agree with her to try to help Star or Jonnie in return for anything that was ever given to you or anyone else in your family by him?

A No Absolutely not

Q Did you ever ask Mary-Shea to help Williams or Star?

A No

Q Did you ever fill out any form for any bank where you tried to intentionally omit loans from Williams that you thought were required to be reported?

A No, I did not

Q Did you ever fill out any form for any bank intending to deceive the bank about your financial history or your financial status?

A No

Q Did you ever try to fill out a form for a bank intending to hide a corrupt relationship with Jonnie Williams?

A No

Q In your heart, in your mind, are you innocent of the charges in this case?

A Absolutely I know that in my heart I've spent 38 years in state office and public service, and I would not trade that for a golf match or dinner or anything for anybody Jonnie Williams or anyone else And I did not do that

Q And finally, tangible, intangible, during your term as the Governor, what was the single, most important gift you ever got?

A It was having some time with my family

MR ASBILL: I have no further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Mr Burck, do you want to come here? I just want to talk to you a second

(At Bench)

MR BURCK: I have a couple hours

THE COURT: That's what I figured Okay

And you -- you're going to be some time?

MR DRY: A lot

MR BURCK: I'll try to cut it down over the weekend, but right now, it's about two hours or so

MR DRY: Sorry, Judge

THE COURT: That's all right

(In Open Court)

THE COURT: I have an announcement for the media The U S Marshals have asked me to make this request of you Please don't block the doors to the building Other people are trying to get in and out And I know you're trying to get your business done, but don't block the doors to this building

And for the parties, any of the parties who feel the need to interface with the media, don't do it in front of the door Walk to the corner or someplace Don't block our ability to get in and out of this building, especially for jurors and the other folks who work here You all are just visiting So please don't do that

We're going to stop for today Give you a little bit of a break, a head start Again, I thank you all so much You've been troopers You are hanging tough And we are making headway I know sometimes it might not look that way, but we're getting there So stay with us

Have a wonderful weekend Make sure your -- you know, hug your loved ones, and enjoy the weekend as best you can Please don't discuss the case with anyone or allow anyone to discuss it with you, and please don't listen to any radio, television or read any newspaper items relating to this case Just try to -- try to get your mind away from it as best you can

This is serious business that we're about, and I know that, and you all have made a tremendous sacrifice already I understand that, and I appreciate that We want you to continue to hang in there, take care of yourself And believe me, Sunday morning I'll be in church, and your name will be on my list All right?

So we will see you on Monday morning at 9:45

(The jury exited the courtroom)

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Good morning, Mr McDonnell

A Good morning, Mr Burck.

Q Last week, he you testified quite a bit about your marriage, and I have a few more questions to ask you about that Now, you wrote an e-mail to your wife on September 5th, 2011; is that right?

A Yes, I did.

Q And that e-mail was intended only for your wife at the time, right?

A It was

Q It wasn't intended to be shared with anyone else at the time you wrote it?

A No

Q Could you please publish, it is already in evidence, RM-0111? Can you just highlight the very bottom of the page? Blow up the very bottom of the page. The actual bottom of the page where the "Confidential Treatment" and the -- thank you Now, sir, you see that, "Confidential Treatment requested by Maureen McDonnell MPM-042931"? Do you see that?

A Yes

Q And you understand that that means that that document was produced by your wife's lawyers, right?

A Yes

Q You can take that down Thank you. Now, at the time you wrote this e-mail, you knew that your wife had received a $50,000 loan from Jonnie Williams, right?

A Yes

Q And you knew that your daughter had received a $15,000 wedding present from Jonnie Williams

A Yes

Q Both of those things had happened a few months earlier, right?

A Yes

Q And at the time you wrote the e-mail, you knew your wife had used the loan to pay off credit card debt and also to buy stock in Star Scientific, right?

A Yes

Q And at the time you wrote this e-mail, you had already been to Smith Mountain Lake with your wife and family, right?

A Yes

Q That was about a month or so earlier

A Yes

Q And this e-mail was about a month after Ms McDonnell and Jonnie Williams met at the Mansion with Molly Huffstetler on August 1st, 2011; is that right?

A Well, I didn't know that Molly Huffstetler was at that meeting at the time I just asked Dr Hazel to send someone, he said, "Will do," but I didn't know who went

Q So you sent -- you asked him to send someone to that meeting, right?

A Yes

Q That was about a month before this e-mail that you sent

A Yes

Q Of course, you testified this was about a week or so after the Mansion luncheon on August 31st, 2011

A Yes, that's right

Q Now, you wrote in the e-mail that, quote, "We started tough Friday night and we agreed to reset " Do you remember that? You wrote that in the e-mail?

A Yes

Q So the argument -- it is fair to say there was an argument of some sort on Friday night?

A Yes

Q So the argument that led to the e-mail started on Friday, September 2nd, just a few days after the Mansion lunch, right?

A Yes

Q And you wrote about your wife's, quote, "fiery anger and hate that has become more and more frequent " Do you remember writing that?

A I do

Q Was that an exaggeration on your part?

A No

Q You wrote that your wife told you, quote, again yesterday that she would wreck your things and how bad you are Again, did she actually say that to you?

A Yes

Q And she said, you said that "it happened again." Had she said things like this to you before?

A Yes

Q And you wrote that "I have asked and prayed to God so many times to take this anger away from you and heal whatever hurt is causing it, some going back years and years He has not yet answered those prayers " Do you remember writing that?

A Yes, I do

Q So was this true or an exaggeration, that the anger and hurt causing this had gone back years and years?

A It is true

Q And it continued to that day

A Yes

Q So, Mr McDonnell, at that time, in September, 2011, putting aside the e-mail, did you think your wife's anger and hate was based on any legitimate grievances she had?

A It didn't seem that way to me, no

Q Was she able to explain to you or did she explain to you the source of her anger and her hate?

A Not really, not that I could understand.

Q So it didn't make any sense to you; is that what you are saying?

A Yes

Q Did her reactions seem normal to you or abnormal to you, as her husband?

A Well, they were becoming more normal in terms of our -- it being the norm with us trying to discuss our relationship But they did not seem to be normal in an objective sense

Q Normal in an objective sense You mean they did not seem normal compared to other people or what do you mean by that?

A They were always about little things that didn't make any sense why she would be that angry at me

Q It seemed that way to you for many years, right?

A Yes

Q Now, you wrote in the e-mail that there was a contrast between your wife in a public setting versus your wife in a private setting with you, where I think you wrote "private heartache" is what she caused you, right?

A Yes

Q Can you explain what you mean by that, the private setting versus the public setting?

A Yes You know, I wrote in the e-mail, I told her that her job that she was doing as First Lady, which I thought she was doing such a great job on so many areas, tourism, and military families and so forth, a very gracious hostess, but privately, the way she dealt with me and her treatment of the staff was just really unacceptable, and we just had to do better

Q Now, you have heard testimony from a number of people in this trial, former staffers, Mary-Shea Sutherland, Sarah Scarbrough, Janet Kelly, Kathy Scott, others, that your wife ran hot and cold, right? You remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q Is that what you observed as well?

A Yes

Q Fair to say that at the time, your main concern about her, call it erratic behavior, was how it might affect your staff and the work they were doing for your Administration, right?

A Yes

Q You testified that after the campaign you brought in

Mary-Shea Sutherland to help out, right?

A Yes

Q But that didn't end up working well at all, right? That was a disaster?

A Well, initially I thought it was pretty good But at the end, it did not work.

Q You brought in other people after Ms Sutherland, but that didn't work, either, right?

A Ultimately, no, not privately

Q You got advice from Dr Burke, who I think had a Ph D. in clinical psychology?

A Yes

Q On how to help your wife better manage the staff, the people that she was working with, right?

A Yes Martin Kent and I asked him to come in, yes

Q But that didn't work, either, did it?

A Not ultimately, no

Q Well, the staff, three or four months after he started advising you or advising her, threatened to quit en masse, right?

A Yes

Q You testified, you told Mr Asbill that you and Dr Burke discussed mental health counseling for your wife; do you remember that?

A Yes

Q You said that she rejected it because she was worried it would get out; is that what you said?

A No No, what I meant, he had suggested marital counseling for she and I, and that's what she had told me several times that she was concerned about with my role as Governor, that if she and I had marital counseling, that those kind of counseling discussions might not remain private, and she was concerned about that But that was different than mental health counseling

Q So you did testify that you talked to him about mental health counseling, right?

A Yes

Q And did she accept that recommendation?

A Not initially, but a little later on that year, yes

Q A few months later in 2012, right?

A Yes

Q She got treatment, didn't she?

A Yes

Q And she received medication connected to that treatment the same year, 2012; isn't that right?

A Yes

Q So despite all these things that you knew, you left it primarily up to your staff to figure out how to handle your wife's problems; isn't that right?

A No

Q You didn't tell your staff about the depth of your problems with your wife, did you?

A No, I didn't

Q You didn't tell them that it went back many years, did you?

A No.

Q And Mr McDonnell, you recall Kathy Scott's testimony that she wished she had told you what she had experienced with Maureen, right? Remember that testimony?

A Yes, I do.

Q Kathy Scott was a family friend, she wasn't just a staffer, right?

A That's right

Q Do you think you should have told the staff that, the people that you worked with, that you hired, that you brought on board, that you had suffered all these problems with Maureen for so many years?

A No

Q Why not?

A Because I wanted to do some things to help her deal with the staff I didn't think I needed to tell them about my own marital issues with my wife I didn't tell really anybody about that

Q Sir, do you think you did enough to help your staff with Maureen McDonnell?

A No No, I wish I would have been able to do more I did the best that I could at the time I wish I could have done more

THE COURT: Could you speak up? I'm having problems hearing you this morning So just speak up a little bit

THE WITNESS: Yes, Your Honor, I'm sorry

BY MR. BURCK:

Q You wish you could have done more?

A Yes

Q Yes I said I wish, especially looking back now, I wish I would have done more to be able to help at the time I did a number of things I did the best I could.

Q Well, what did you do? What did you do to help your staff exactly?

A My wife and I had many discussions of things that were brought to my attention with the staff I did a number of things to talk to her and tell her how I worked things at my office and how I treated my staff, and made recommendations to her then about how she should treat her staff; to be able to thank them for what they did, to appreciate them, to be able to treat them with respect, that they were public servants, they didn't make a lot of money, they were doing a great job, she was doing a great job, and that we got a lot of positive feedback about the

First Lady's Office and that they ought to celebrate their achievements and not sweat the small stuff

I also recommended that they do a retreat just with the First Lady's Office, like I had done repeatedly at the Governor's Office, and she accepted that recommendation I think we funded some money out of the Political Action Committee to have them do a retreat I told her she should take them out of the Mansion and have a lunch, a couple of lunches outside of the Mansion to get the people away and just to say thank you. I told her she ought to write birthday cards and notes to be able to thank people and celebrate their birthdays and things like that And those kind of recommendations, I know she accepted. I had, again, not only Dr Burke and Linda come over, I wanted them to help with organization at the First Lady's Office, and also recommend new staff for the First Lady's Office But also, I had some confidential conversations with Mr Burke, Jim Burke, and I said, "Listen, I need your help, not just with organization, but I need your help advising me really on how can we help Maureen be more productive and a better manager in this office " So there were a number of things like that that I did during that time frame to be able to help things work better privately I thought publicly, things were going very well We had a lot of good feedback on the public work of the First Lady's Office But internally it was very tough.

Q You would agree with me, though, that all those things you did were not enough given what you knew about Maureen's problems, right?

A Yes I failed to do enough to be able to fix and address all the problems with the staff. Yes

Q What about Maureen? Do you think you did enough for your wife to help her?

A I should have done more there, too I did the best that I could, knowing what the challenges were privately at the time And, you know, ultimately she listened to some of my advice and we ended up getting some health counseling for her

Q I want to move on to some of the events that there has been testimony and evidence about in this case

A Yes

Q I want to start with the April 29th, 2011 dinner

A Yes

Q This was a dinner that you hosted with your wife for Jonnie Williams and his wife, right, at the Mansion?

A Yes

Q From your perspective, that was a social occasion, right?

A Yes I told my wife after that legislative session that we ought to be trying to enjoy the Mansion and invite more people that were either friends or people that we might want to be friendly with, so I invited some people and she invited some She invited Mr And Ms Williams

Q Do you recall that Jonnie Williams and his wife mentioned at that dinner on April 29th that they were looking at property, vacation property in Virginia Beach? Do you recall that?

A They might have. I don't have a specific recollection But they might have. We talked a lot about our backgrounds and things like that, yes

Q And you recall that at this dinner, the fact that you had gone on vacation, a family vacation the prior year at Smith Mountain Lake, that came up at the dinner as well, right?

A Yes

Q You recall that Jonnie Williams and his wife said to you and Maureen that they had a place at Smith Mountain Lake?

A Yes

Q And you recall that they invited you and Maureen to Smith Mountain Lake at that dinner on April 29th?

A I believe so, yes

Q Now, it also came up at that dinner that there was some connection, you believed, or Jonnie Williams believed, between the two of you relating to American Hospital Supply from 30 years before Right?

A Yes I do remember that, yes.

Q What was that conversation about?

A We had talked a lot about our backgrounds and I told him I had worked for American Hospital Supply for about four-and-a-half years in the early '80s My best recollection is, he told me that either he had worked there or he knew people that worked there during that same time I did not know him during the time that I worked there

Q But that conversation occurred in front of your wife and Celeste Williams, right?

A It did.

Q Your wife's loan, you testified that she got the loan or you learned that she received the loan on June 5th, 2011, right?

A Yes, the day after the wedding, yes

Q The day after the wedding And she told you that she had received a $50,000 loan from Jonnie Williams on or around May 23rd, 2011?

A Yes

Q Did she tell you that she had spent the money already?

A Yes

Q She said she spent it on credit cards; that's what she told you?

A Well, and stock, yes

Q And stock?

A Yes

Q And she told you that she hadn't actually asked Jonnie Williams for the loan, right?

A Right

Q She told you that he had shown up with it the same day he brought Cailin's wedding gift, right?

A That's what she told me, yes

Q She told you that Jonnie Williams said he wanted to help out because your wife had told him about high credit card debts, right?

A That's what she told me, yes

Q And this led to an argument between you and your wife?

A Yes

Q You told her you didn't need the money, right? Or you and she didn't need the money, right?

A Right We didn't

Q And she told you it wasn't up to you, right?

A She did.

Q She said that Jonnie Williams had loaned her the money, not you, right?

A Yes

Q And she said it was her choice what to do with the money, not yours, right?

A Yes

Q And part of what she wanted to do with it was, as you said, to buy stock in Star Scientific, right?

A Yes

Q And she told you at that June 5th discussion that she wanted to do it for the children.

MR. DRY: Objection, Your Honor, hearsay

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Now, the very next morning, July 6th, you testified that she provided a handwritten stock certificate to Cailin McDonnell, right?

A Yes On the way to the airport Yes

MR ASBILL: June 6th?

MR. BURCK: I'm sorry, June 6th

THE WITNESS: Yes, June 6th

BY MR. BURCK:

Q On the 5th, you testified that you mentioned reporting requirements when your wife and you had this argument; do you recall that?

A I did

Q Why did you mention reporting requirements to your wife?

A Because what she told me, she had borrowed this money, and she hadn't talked to me about it, in addition to the fact that I thought we did not need the money Our credit card debt was manageable at the time It had been down a lot But she also was doing some things that affected my reporting requirements And my best recollection, I told her, "I've got to make reports at the end of the year and if you don't tell me about these things, then I can't report when I'm supposed to at the end -- at the beginning of the next year."

Q When you said this to her, what was your understanding as to who actually held the stock as of June 5th of 2011?

A What I understood from my wife is that the stock was already in the childrens' name She had been telling me for many, many years that she wanted to buy stock for the children, at least the way I understood it from her description, was that she had purchased this stock for the children And what I understood, that meant in the childrens' name at that time

Q Okay You testified you didn't know that Maureen then bought an additional 500 or so shares in early August of 2011, a couple months later, right? You didn't know about that?

A That's right I did not know that

Q And you were also not aware of her efforts to get the stock into the childrens' names, right?

A No, because I already thought it was So no, I didn't, no, until later that year

Q You didn't know about the September 9th, 2011 letter from your wife or from Mr Piscitelli to your wife?

A No, I saw that after the investigation began

Q And you first learned that the stock was not in your childrens' names in November of 2011, right?

A Yes I believe it was right before Thanksgiving or so that she talked to me about it

Q And she said to you that she hadn't figured out a way to do it, right?

A That's what she said

MR. DRY: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes

BY MR. BURCK:

Q This triggered another argument between the two of you, didn't it?

A Yes

Q Why were you upset?

A Well, again, I thought she had already had this in the childrens' name, and now this would be an event, if it was solely in her name, this would also be an event that would trigger a reporting requirement I told her she could not -- she couldn't do things, even though it was her money and I respected that, but she could not do things without telling me because I needed to be sure that I was making the reports accurately at the beginning of the next year So I was concerned about that and I said, "You've got to advise me of these things if you are doing it "

Q Now, you testified you looked at the stock price around this same conversation?

A Yes, I did

Q And the stock had plummeted in value, right?

A Significantly It was over 50 percent So I actually told her, I said -- I knew that she, because of the argument that we had back in June, that this money that she had borrowed was really a substitute for the money that I had used from her father to pay down credit card debt, and that's why I did not want to get into an argument about the use of that money But my words to her was, I said, "You have really lost half of your dad's inheritance It has gone from 31,000," I think, to the value was down to a little over $15,000 at the time "My strong advice is you should sell the stock. It is not a stable stock. It is speculative And I know you like what's going on with the company, but you should sell the stock because it is not a good investment in my view "

Q But despite the fact you said that to her, she didn't want to sell the stock, right?

A That was pretty clear to me

Q And it was only very reluctantly that she agreed to do that, right, at that conversation?

A By the end of the conversation, she said that she would, yes

Q And was it your understanding that she was going to sell the stock the next day, soon thereafter, or how long?

A Soon after Yes

Q And when did this conversation happen? You said it was November Was it before or after Thanksgiving?

A My best recollection is shortly before Thanksgiving in 2011

Q You have seen evidence in this case that she sold the stock on December 20th, about a month later?

A Yes, I saw the records

Q Did you know --

A I learned later, yes

Q You didn't know at the time she was selling the stock on December 20th?

A No

Q When did you learn that?

A At some point, I don't have a clear memory of this, but at some point before we finished the -- when we were doing the Statement of Economic Interests that following year, I would have had to confirm certain things such as that the stock was actually sold, because if it wasn't, I would have had to have made a report So I'm sure somewhere in there I confirmed it I don't think I knew the exact date All I wanted to know is it had been sold. My best recollection, I probably saw the date when I got the 1099 at the beginning of the next year for tax purposes to be able to give to Mr Cook I would have seen a 1099 that showed a date of sale

Q Okay Let's move into January of 2012 You heard testimony from Mr Piscitelli that Maureen had expected him to buy the stock back right away in the year. Remember that testimony?

A I heard that, yes

Q But you didn't know about that, either?

A No.

Q And we heard from Mr Piscitelli that Maureen was unhappy when she found that he hadn't actually bought the stock back?

A Yes, sir

Q Did you know that she bought the stock back on January 20th of 2012?

A Not on that day Not at that time, no

Q Did you find out about it the next month?

A No.

Q When did you find out about it?

A Shortly before Christmas of that same year, 2012, when she talked to me about it

Q And the day, January 20th, 2012, that she bought back the stock, do you recall that was the day that you and -- she and Jonnie Williams flew down to meet you at the Romney event; do you remember that?

A That's the date, yes

Q Now, I want to move forward a couple weeks into early February of 2012 Actually, let's start at -- can you show Government Exhibit 295? I want to stay in the end of January for a minute Sir, this is already in evidence, Your Honor This is the e-mail that you have talked about where you asked Maureen who she is talking with -- well, let me start this way Michael Uncapher sent you an e-mail saying that "The guy who is helping us out, he wants to continue conversations about that," right?

A Yes That's what the e-mail says, yes

Q Then you respond to your wife saying that the "who" who is helping us out is Jonnie, right?

A I said, "Who are we talking about that's helping us and talking to Mike," because Mike's e-mail was a surprise to me

Q Above that there is an e-mail from your wife saying "Just got home I'll talk with you upstairs " Right?

A Yes

Q Do you recall if you had a conversation with her on that day, on January 27th, about this topic?

A Yes, I believe we did when we got upstairs

Q What was the conversation?

A She told me that she and Mike had spoken with Mr Williams Mike knew what the amount of the operating shortfall that we had, or at least we projected for the spring of 2012 was, and that she and Mike had actually spoken to Mr Williams sometime before that date and talked to him about a $50,000 loan

Q To MoBo?

A Yes

Q You can take that down. Thank you. So what was your understanding as to the state of these discussions at that point, on January 27th, 2012?

A That Mr Williams had agreed to do a $50,000 loan I understood it would be a cash loan to MoBo, or check loan, not a stock loan or anything different But I told her I was surprised -- she knew that I was busy during the session She knew that we needed that -- or that we had opted to do a loan that year as opposed to putting it in equity But I told her I needed to speak to Mr Williams and I would negotiate whatever the terms are of that loan that year

Q And so about a week later you had a conversation with Mr Williams on the phone about the loan, about the MoBo loan, right?

A It was about a week later, yes

Q Please show the jury RM-1431-0005 These are the handwritten notes that you have already testified about, right, of that conversation you had with Mr Williams.

A Yes

Q And have you had a chance to review these notes before you testified last week?

A I did.

Q Do these notes make any reference anywhere to Maureen McDonnell owning 6,672 shares of stock in Star Scientific as of that date, early February of 2012?

A No

Q Do they make any reference to her owning shares in Star Scientific at all, that she actually owned them at the time?

A No

Q You can take that down. Thank you Let's move ahead to February 23rd, 2012 And this is the call that you testified about that you had with Mr Piscitelli

A Yes

Q First of all, do you recall if Maureen McDonnell was actually on the phone call with you?

A I see the calendar has her on there I don't remember, because I wanted to talk to Mr Piscitelli about this margin loan, but I see that Maureen was on the call

Q Is it fair to say you did the talking?

A I did.

Q You were talking about margin loans and borrowed stock.

A Yes It had not been something I had done before, and Mr Williams' proposal was a stock loan, and all I was interested in was whether we could get a margin loan for operating cash for MoBo that year, yes So I did the talking

Q Fair to say you had no reason to believe that your wife would understand what a margin loan on borrowed stock would be at that point in time?

A No.

Q She was on the call because she had started the loan discussions with Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

Q And you understood at the time that she wanted to stay involved in discussions about the MoBo loan, right?

A Yes

Q But you didn't feel like you needed her to negotiate the terms with Mr. Williams, right?

A No

Q You thought you could do that on your own without her help.

A Yes

Q You met with Mr Williams on February 29th to discuss the loan without Maureen present, right?

A Yes

Q But again, you knew that she wanted to be involved.

A Yes, she had been involved with other aspects of MoBo, maintenance and other things over the years, yes

Q Didn't you have a conversation with your sister in which she told you that your wife was upset --

MR DRY: Objection, hearsay

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, I'll ask it this way, Your Honor

BY MR. BURCK:

Q You were here for testimony by your sister, Maureen, right?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, please publish to the jury Government Exhibit It is already in evidence, Your Honor

BY MR. BURCK:

Q These are the Government's summary charts of conversations that occurred in March of 2012

A Yes

Q Conversations and texts I should say texts, really, because we don't know who was on the phone But on the second page of that document, you see there is a 22-minute phone call between yourself and your sister, Maureen, 6:15 p.m.?

A Yes

Q You recall that there was testimony by your sister that she spoke to you on that phone about issues she was having with your wife relating to these discussions about MoBo

A Yes I do

Q And you recall that your sister, Maureen, had called you, that one of the principal things that your sister was saying was that your wife was concerned because your sister had called you and not her to talk about MoBo, right?

A I do.

Q And do you recall that your wife, Maureen, got upset with you while you were on the phone with your sister because you were talking to your sister and not to her about the MoBo loan?

A Yes, that's true

Q Do you recall that your wife told you that she felt like you were not recognizing her contributions to the MoBo loan?

MR. DRY: Objection

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Now, ultimately, you agreed, you agreed to final terms with Mr Williams for the MoBo loan, not your wife, right?

A That's what I thought on the 12th when I talked to him. But the check had been cut previously But I talked about the final terms on the 12th, yes

Q You can take down the exhibit But fair to say that the terms of the loan were agreed to between you and Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

Q And your wife was not involved in the second $20,000 loan to MoBo from Jonnie Williams in May, 2012, was she?

A No

Q I'd like to show you, just for the witness, RM-0558 You can blow up the text, please Do you recognize this as a text from you to Jonnie Williams on March 10th of 2012?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, we would offer this

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR BURCK:

Q This is a text from you to Jonnie Williams where you say, "Great to talk to your dad. He says you are a bunch of jokers Enjoy your time Gov " Right?

A Yes

Q Do you recall what this was about?

A Yes, I do.

Q What was it about?

A This was right after I had talked to his father for his 80th birthday, Albert Williams I had called him, I think I may have called actually on Mr Williams' phone and then he handed the phone to his father He had asked me through Adam, he had asked me to call his dad. And I was delighted to do that I spoke to him for five or ten minutes, I think, and had a very nice call with Mr Williams, his father I just followed up with Jonnie Williams after that just to say "Hey, it was really nice to talk to your dad," and just the comment his dad told me, meaning the boys, Jonnie and Donnie, were a bunch of jokers is what he told me It was just a follow-up text about our call

Q This is around the same time you were talking to Mr Williams about the MoBo loan, right?

A Yes, that would have been two days before

Q And Maureen McDonnell is not on this text, right?

A No.

Q You can take that down Can you please publish, it is already in evidence, RM-0559? Just blow up the text, please, so we can see it This is already in evidence, but this is a follow-up e-mail from Mr Williams where he thanks you, right?

A Yes I think this was actually his response to that previous e-mail, yes

Q Response to the previous text

A Or text, yes

Q You can take that down. Shooting forward a little bit into the summer of 2012, do you recall that Mr Williams sent you a text asking you to go to the Chatham Bars Inn?

A Yes

Q Please show the witness RM-1542, please Blow that up, please, so he can read it You recognize this as a text from Mr Williams to you on July 3rd, 2012?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, we would offer that

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Now, sir, this is an e-mail, again, a text from

Mr Williams It says, "Johns Hopkins human clinical trials report on August 8th. If you need cash let me know Let's go golfing and sailing Chatham Bars Inn Chatham Mass Labor Day weekend if you can. Business about to break out strong Jonnie " Right?

A Right

Q Do you recall receiving this text?

A Yes, I do

Q Can you explain what you understood the text to mean?

A Mr Williams was always giving me some update about his business, so he was telling me about the clinical trials that the company was doing at Johns Hopkins, and then this "If you need cash let me know," he had sent me a previous e-mail or text like that which was similar to what he had told me in person a couple times after the initial loan that he had given us for MoBo, that if we needed additional loans to cover an operating deficit in the spring of 2012, that he would extend another loan. And he was asking me, we had already done the $20,000 loan, and he is telling me here again in July that if there was an additional operating deficit, that he would extend that And then again this invitation to the Chatham Bars for the Labor Day weekend that we ended up going on

Q Just to be clear, Ms McDonnell is not on this text,

right?

A Right

Q She is not mentioned at all in the text

A Right No, she is not

Q Did you accept cash or, as you said, any additional money for MoBo from Mr Williams?

A No

Q You can take that down. Thank you Now, on July 15th, please show the witness RM-1554, just the witness Blow up first the text itself You recognize this as a text from Mr Williams to you dated July 15th, 2012?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, we would offer

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR BURCK:

Q This text says, "My youngest son Frankie "

A Yes

Q Then if you wouldn't mind blowing up the photo It is hard to read, but that appears to be a photo of a trophy of some sort, right?

A Yes

Q Do you recall receiving this?

A Yes, I do.

Q What was your understanding of what Mr Williams was sending you here?

A Well, I know when we had dinner we talked a lot about our families He had four children, we had five He talked a lot about Frankie and his daughter, Rachel And especially Frankie was a very accomplished high school tennis player, and that's one of the reasons that he had stayed down in Florida and kept their residence down there, so Frankie could play year round. They were obviously hopeful he would be competitive at the college level So at that time I felt we were friends He was certainly friends with my wife, and I had become more friendly with him directly about things of a personal nature And he was sending me a copy or a picture of the trophy that his son had just won in a tournament down there So I thought that was very nice. I had talked to him a lot about my sons, too, about Bobby and Sean, and he was sending me this update about how well his son had done in a tournament

Q Take that down, please, and show the witness RM-1555, just the witness Blow that up, please Do you recognize this as your response to Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, we would offer

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. BURCK:

Q This just says -- this is on July 15th, 2012 It says, "That's great, Jonnie Keep fighting Gov "

A Yes

Q Is it fair to say that in the summer of 2012, you believed that you had a friendship with Mr Williams?

A I did We talked a lot about personal things, yes

Q At this point you had a friendship with Mr Williams that was independent of his friendship with your wife, right?

A I think that's fair, yes

Q You can take that down Thank you Now, please show the witness RM-1623 Do you recognize this as a text from you to Mr Williams dated September 3rd, 2012?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: We would offer

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR BURCK:

Q Sir, this is a text from you saying, "I think wheels up at eight will work I do have a 10:15 press conference so that will work This is a marvelous break for Maureen and me. You and Celeste are so very generous and nice to us " Tell us the context of this text that you sent to Mr Williams on September 3rd.

A This is the trip we made together with four or five couples up to Chatham Bars Inn at Cape Cod. And it was, I believe, that Monday night, Labor Day evening, and he had suggested maybe we could stay, just go ahead and stay that night and leave early the next morning And it was just logistics I told him I had a press event at 10:15, so it would be really nice to stay another night, and if we left, I would need to leave by around eight so I could be back on time for my first event on my calendar on Tuesday

Q You can take that down Please show the witness RM-0571 Blow that up Sir, you recognize this as Mr Williams' response to that text you sent?

A Yes

Q On September 4th, 2012

A Yes

MR. BURCK: We would offer that

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. BURCK:

Q And that text from Mr Williams says, "Let's go back Friday " Right?

A Yes I think it was just his humorous way of saying he was enjoying the weekend, let's stay another three days But obviously we had to get back.

Q Take that down Show the witness RM-0572 Blow that up, please And this is your response to Mr Williams on that same day?

A I can't tell whether that is from me I don't see any nomenclature on that.

Q It is from you or to you, but it is between you and Mr Williams, right?

A I believe so, but -- yes I think I remember saying that, yes

MR. BURCK: We offer this

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR BURCK:

Q That just says, "Best trip ever " Right?

A Yes It was a terrific break.

Q You can take that down. Now, on September 12th, about a week or so later, you recall that you received another text from Mr Williams inviting you again to Chatham?

A Yes.

Q Show the witness, please, RM-1640 Blow that up Do you recall, this is a text from Mr Williams to you dated September 12th, 2012?

A Yes

MR BURCK: We would offer it

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Sir, it says, "Let's fly to Chatham one night to get the seafood bisque at Celestino's Let me know when you can go Jonnie " Right?

A Yes

Q What was your understanding of this text?

A It was just a week after we got back, and I think all the four or five couples had a very nice time and this was really an invite to return there sometime

Q Sir, all these texts we have been looking at, Ms McDonnell is not on any of these, is she?

A No.

Q Ms McDonnell is not even mentioned in any of these, is she?

A No

Q You can take that down. Shooting ahead a couple months to November of 2012 Mr Williams texted you again about playing golf, right?

A Yes

Q Show the witness RM-0579 Blow that up You recognize this as a text from Mr Williams to you on November 30th of 2012?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: We would offer it

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR BURCK:

Q This text says, "Nine holes with David and I Sat? Bring a fourth Jonnie " Right?

A Yes

Q This is Mr Williams inviting you to play golf,

right?

A Yes With David Dean David had met us out there a few times He is the sales manager for Star

Q Did you go on this golfing trip with him?

A No.

Q All right Please take that down and show the witness RM-0580 0580 Blow that up. Thank you. This is your response to Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, we would offer it

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR BURCK:

Q It says, "I'm out of town. Thanks for thinking of us Last Friday was great Bob."

A Yes

Q When you say "Last Friday was great," what are you referring to there?

A I think this is the time I did play golf with Mr Williams, and I think Mr Dean and my sons, earlier in November And the previous e-mail was sort of an invite back, and I was telling him I'm out of town, but I was essentially thanking him for the previous golf outing we had with him in November

Q And again, Ms McDonnell is not on any of these texts and she didn't go golfing with you, right?

A Right

MR. BURCK: I think I neglected to move RM-0579 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

MR. BURCK: Thank you.

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Moving on to Christmas of 2012, you testified this is when you learned that your wife had actually repurchased stock in Star Scientific twelve months earlier in January, or eleven months earlier in January

A Yes It was shortly, the week before Christmas

Q And this, when she told you this, this triggered yet another argument about the stock, right?

A Yes

Q And again, you mentioned your reporting requirements, right?

A Yes

Q Why did you do that?

A Because she had told me that she was selling them the year before based on my recommendation that she do that, because the stock price was so bad. She did not tell me she bought these back. And again, doing that without telling me affected me And I told her, "I can't accurately disclose things as I'm required to do if you don't tell me about that " So I was upset that she had done that with no discussion

Q Now, it was clear to you at this point that she had absolutely zero interest in selling the stock, right?

A That's probably fair, yes

Q And she told you at this point that it was still in her name, right?

A Yes

Q But she told you that she was planning to transfer most of it to the children, right?

MR. DRY: Objection.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes She told me that -- yes, she did

BY MR. BURCK:

Q And she said she wanted to do it as a Christmas present, right?

A Yes

Q Now, you testified, I think on direct, that your understanding from her in June, 2011, is that she had always intended to provide this to the children as wedding gifts and that it was in their name, right?

A Yes And she had talked to me about this for probably 20 years, about stock for the children, yes

Q So what was your understanding of what she was trying to accomplish at this point in Christmas of 2012?

MR. DRY: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR. BURCK:

Q Did she tell you what she was trying to do at this time?

A Yes

Q Please explain what she said to you.

A She said that she could not, in working with -- she could not find a way to actually do what she originally wanted to accomplish, which was to put the stock in the childrens' name, but not without them knowing it so she could make it a surprise for them at their wedding That's what she always wanted to accomplish, because that's what my dad did for me at our wedding And so she decided that she was going to just -- because I would have had to fill forms out to do that, and therefore, it wouldn't have been a wedding surprise So she told me, "Look, I just decided I'm going to go ahead and give the stock now to the children as a Christmas present, and I've got --" I think she said she had already talked to Mr Piscitelli, and she had the forms and the kids would be home for Christmas and they could fill them out then.

Q Did your wife ever tell you that she wanted to transfer the stock into the childrens' names so that you would not need to disclose her stock on your SOEI?

A No

Q Did you ever tell your wife to sell or transfer the stock so you wouldn't need to report it?

A No., I did not

Q To be clear, your wife had no reporting obligations at all, did she?

A No, only through my form.

Q Now, let's talk just a brief little more about the stock Could you show Government Exhibit 149, please, Page 2? If you blow up the middle, please Sir, this shows the Davenport account that your wife purchased the stock into on June 1st of 2011, right?

A I didn't see these statements at the time But that's what it seems to say, yes

Q But you understood she was purchasing stock at the time, right?

A Well, she told me that on June 5th, yes

Q She bought the stock at 5 18 a share, 6,000 of those, right?

A Yes

Q You can take that down. Please show the witness Government Exhibit 166, please, it is already in evidence, Page 2 Blow up the middle, please This is the purchase she made of an additional 522 shares at $3 82 on August 2nd, right?

A That's what it says I didn't know that at the time
Q You didn't know about that at the time
A Right
Q Okay Now, you said that you did look at the stock price in November of 2011 before Thanksgiving when your wife told you the shares were still in her name, right?
A I did, yes
Q Please show the witness Government Exhibit 40, the fifth page of that exhibit, please If you blow up the November time frame, please, 11-1 through 11-30 Sir, you will see at the close of this stock in this period of time ranked from a high of $2 88 is on November 15th to a low of $2 36 per share on November 22nd. Do you see that?
A I do.
Q So this is a period of time when you were looking at the stock and it seemed to have dropped in half, right?
A Yes
Q That's consistent with what you saw earlier about $5 17 a share when she initially bought it?
A Yes
Q Take that down. Thank you. Please show the witness or publish, please, Government Exhibit 247, already in evidence Page 3 It is actually the top, is where it is You will see that this is when your wife sold the stock on December 20th, right?

A Yes

Q And she sold it at $2 34 a share Right?

A Yes

Q You can take that down And you testified that you reported the stock loss on your income tax return to the IRS, roughly about $17,800, right?

A Yes

Q That was from that transaction, correct?

A Yes

Q Please show the witness Government Exhibit 278 It is already in evidence Now, you didn't know about this transaction at the time, but you have -- that's what your testimony is -- but this is the transaction in which your wife repurchased the stock on January 20th at $2 29 a share

A That's what it says, yes

Q Take that down This is what you found out about in Christmas of 2012, $2 29 a share In January you found out about the repurchase in Christmas of 2012

A Yes But I don't think I had any knowledge about exactly the share price or anything at the time But that's what she told me, she had repurchased it, yes

Q Got it Please show the witness or publish Government Exhibit 40, the tenth page, please It is going to be another page on Can you blow up the December, 2012 time period? Now, you testified that you learned about the repurchase of the stock a week before Christmas or so, right?

A Yes

Q Now, if you look at that period of time, you will see that there was a high of around $3 14 a share to a low of around $2 91 a share on Christmas Eve, the 24th of December Right? Do you see that?

A Yes

Q And then on the 26th, it closed at $2 75 a share, right?

A Yes

Q Now, so it was up about 20 percent from January of 2012, right?

A From the $2 29? Sounds about 20 percent, yes

Q It was $2 75 now on December 26th, right?

A Yes

Q That's around the time your wife transferred the stock to your childrens' name

A I don't know when -- I didn't know the time when the transfer was actually done, but she told the children at Christmas dinner about the gift and gave them forms

Q Okay And it is your testimony that you don't need to report your wife's stock holdings if she sells them by December 31st of 2012, right?

A Yes That's right

Q Now, as far as you know, your wife still owns the shares in Star Scientific to this very day, right?

A Yes

Q You can take that down. I just want to talk about a few -- let's start with the campaign and the Nu Skin issue that you testified about You said that you had concerns about your wife using a donor list to market nutraceutical products back when you were running for Governor, right?

A Yes, when I was Attorney General, actually in the office, yes

Q When you were in the office But the donor list --

A Yes, I was running for Governor That's right

Q Those concerns were not legal concerns, were they, from your perspective?

A No

Q Those were concerns about the optics, the image of having your wife using a donor list, right?

A Yes

Q It looked bad. Right?

A Well, and it just wasn't appropriate to use a donor list for that purpose

Q Okay Going forward to December of '09, the inaugural dress, you testified that you also had concerns about Mr Williams' offer to buy an inaugural dress, an expensive inaugural dress for your wife, right?

A Yes

Q But your concern, as was true of your advisors, was not that there was a legal problem, but that there was an optics problem, right?

A Yes

Q Were you aware of any legal reason why she couldn't accept a dress from Jonnie Williams as the First Lady of Virginia?

A No Not ultimately, no

Q You also talked about a Board membership issue that came up with your wife regarding Star Scientific's Board, right?

A Yes

Q To be clear, were you aware of any legal prohibition on her sitting on the Board of Star Scientific?

A No

Q In fact, she was sitting on the Board of the McGlothlin Foundation and receiving a salary of $36,000 a year, right?

A Yes

Q And you testified that you were okay with the McGlothlin Board because it was a non-profit?

A Yes

Q Star Scientific, of course, was a for-profit

A Yes, right

Q Is it fair to say that this was also another image problem?

A Essentially, yes

Q You would have had the same concern with any for-profit company whose Board she would have sat on, not just Star Scientific.

A Oh, yes, sure

Q Let's talk about the Rock Creek Pharmaceutical events that your wife attended I think you testified that you were aware of one of those events in October of 2011, the Michigan event

A Well, yes, I knew she was going to -- I knew -- yes I knew about the Michigan event, yes

Q You understood that she was going to the Michigan event to learn more about the research and the product, right?

A I didn't know there was an event I knew she was going with Mr Williams to Michigan, and she told me it was to see more clinical trials, but this time not dealing with Alzheimer's like Roskamp, but dealing with, I believe, cardiovascular-related research I think she called it, it was the Flint Study So I didn't know about any event there, but I knew that's why she was going, was to do that and talk to doctors, yes That's what she told me

Q She wasn't hiding from you that she was traveling with Jonnie Williams to go to --

A No.

Q -- for whatever you want to call it for Jonnie Williams, right?

A That's right

Q Now, you testified that you did not believe, these are the words I think you used in your direct testimony, you did not believe she was going there as the First Lady of Virginia, but she was going there in her personal capacity That's I think what you said.

A Yes

Q Now, Mr McDonnell, was there any time in those four years that you were Governor that Ms McDonnell wasn't the First Lady of Virginia?

A No

Q She was the First Lady of Virginia whether she was going to events hosted by the Commonwealth or personal events, right?

A Yes

Q That's because she was the First Lady of Virginia because she was married to you Right?

A Yes, that's right

Q And every second of every day she was married to you during those four years, right?

A That's correct

Q And FLOVA is not a job, is it?

A It is an honorary volunteer position

Q She is your wife, not a staffer

A That's right, exactly

Q So what did you mean when you said on direct that you understood she went to Michigan with Jonnie Williams in her personal capacity?

A What I meant was, she was going not at my direction, not as a surrogate for me, not because it had anything to do with any business of the Governor's Office She was going because she had this longstanding interest in nutraceuticals and she was doing it for that reason. I did not direct her to go, ask her to go, know about the business that she was actually doing there, whatever it might be It wasn't at my request or directive

Q Okay Let's turn to the PenFed forms and the PenFed application As you know, your wife is not accused of anything on the TowneBank application, right?

A Yes

Q But the PenFed forms, she was a co-signatory on those applications, right?

A Yes It was a joint application. Yes

Q And there were multiple different drafts you have testified about, right?

A Yes

Q Now, prior to February 15th, 2013, which is the day she was interviewed by the investigators, prior to that date, did your wife have any role at all in filling out those forms, those drafts?

A No

Q Did she do anything other than sign the draft?

A I think she might have been on one of the phone calls, maybe the initial phone call, but no, I completed those

Q Did you ever ask her to review the drafts?

A No

Q Did you ever see her review the drafts?

A No

Q Did she ever provide you with any comments or edits to the drafts circulated prior to February 18th of 2013?

A No

Q Fair to say that as far as you were concerned, filling out those drafts was your job, not hers?

A Yes

Q Now, I want to go through some of the things that the government has alleged occurred in this case as acts by you Now, in October of 2010, November of 2010, that's when you had the flight with Mr Williams on his plane for several hours discussing his product or he was telling you about his product

A Yes

Q And after that, you set up a meeting between him and Dr Hazel, right?

A No

Q Explain what happened

A Well, I made, at the end of the discussion, I don't really remember whether he asked me or whether I suggested, but he had given me his overview of his company and how excited he was about it And he asked, or I recommended, that he see Dr Hazel So I made a referral to him and suggested he then follow up appropriately for a meeting with Dr Hazel

Q But Maureen McDonnell wasn't on that plane, was she?

A No.

Q And she had nothing to do with setting up a meeting with Dr Hazel, right?

A Right

Q Was she even aware of it as far as you knew?

A No

Q Now, I understand that you are not charged with that or it is outside the scope of the alleged conspiracy, but again, she had nothing to do with that

A Right

Q Now, the CigRx event in February of 2011, you testified about that, the drop-by

A Yes

Q Did your wife, as far as you knew, have anything to do with setting up that drop-by?

A No

Q Was she even aware of it before the two of you showed up at the CigRx event?

A I don't think so

Q Let's move to the meeting on August 1st, the Huffstetler meeting or, as you know now, it was Ms Huffstetler who attended that meeting. Now, show Government Exhibit 179 already in evidence Sir, this is a calendar invite on July 28th, 2011 that Mary-Shea Sutherland put on Ms McDonnell's calendar for a meeting on August 1st, 2011 It is at the top of the document And it says "Appointment Title: Meeting with Jonnie Williams Location: Mansion " Right?

A Yes

Q Does that say anything about Molly Huffstetler?

A No.

Q Does it say anything about the Dr Hazel's department?

A No.

Q Does it say anybody else would be attending that meeting other than Jonnie Williams?

A It says Mary-Shea Sutherland I hadn't seen that calendar entry before the trial, so I don't know It looks like it was just the two of them or maybe Ms Sutherland, too

Q Let me ask you this: Did Ms McDonnell ask you to send anyone to the meeting on August 1st of 2011?

A No, she didn't

Q As far as you knew, did Ms McDonnell have any idea that Molly Huffstetler or anyone else from Dr Hazel's department would be showing up to the meeting on the 1st of August?

A No.

Q You can take that down Thank you. Why again did you send someone from Dr Hazel's office to a meeting that your wife set up with Jonnie Williams?

A I learned, I believe, after we got back from the Smith Mountain Lake trip that evening, it might have been 10:30, 11 o'clock, I don't remember when, but it was after we got back, I think, and my wife told me that she was -- she had this meeting on her calendar that was set up with Mr Williams and that it was to discuss clinical trials at MCV -- that is, VCU -- and UVA. And she didn't seem to know any more about that And I thought about it, and I did not want to have Ms Sutherland, Mr Williams, and my wife talking about that issue, whatever the status of it was, at that point without having somebody with subject matter expertise That's when I sent that late-night e-mail My wife may have already been in bed. I don't know I decided that I ought to have somebody that was an expert that would at least be able to monitor that well and to go to that meeting. So I asked Dr Hazel to send someone I said, "Keith or Matt " Those are the deputies I didn't know until after the investigation started that actually Molly Huffstetler had gone, because I never got any any feedback on the meeting

Q But you didn't tell your wife that anybody was coming

A Mr Burck, I don't think I did, because it was late It wouldn't be unusual It had been many times before I had asked people to go over to the First Lady's Office for whatever, for veterans or tourism or wine or something That wasn't unusual And I had done it sometimes last-minute But I don't think at that one I might have talked to my wife, and I had to get out early morning next morning So I can't remember whether I talked to her I don't think I did.

Q Let's talk about the Mansion lunch at the end of August, 2011

A Okay

Q Do you ever recall talking to your wife, talking to her, about that lunch at all prior to the event itself?

A You know, I've tried to think. I don't think so. My discussions were with Adam Zubowsky a couple weeks out about me attending And I told him we would go by for thirty minutes But I don't remember talking to my wife

Q Okay Moving ahead to the February, 2012 time frame Please show the witness Government Exhibit 312, already in evidence Blow up the top of that Sir, this is -- we've talked about -- or, I'm sorry. You and Mr. Asbill talked about this This is the e-mail that your wife sent to you and to Jasen Eige, your lawyer

A Yes

Q "Here's the info from Jonnie He has calls in to VCU and UVA, and no one will return his calls," right?

A Yes

Q Do you recall this?

A Yes

Q Do you recall receiving this?

A I do remember seeing the e-mail The one line from my wife Yes

Q Okay

MR BURCK: If we can turn to the attachment, which is -- and go to the second to last page of the attachment, please Thank you Can you blow up the numbers -- or, actually, the paragraph above the numbers and then the paragraph below the numbers Actually, sorry The numbers down, 1, 2, 3 Great Thank you

BY MR BURCK:

Q Now, sir, I think you testified, you don't recall reading this attachment at the time that you received this e-mail?

A I don't But that wouldn't be unusual for me not to read attachments I don't remember this specific one

Q Okay Well, this attachment says that "the Governor of Virginia and his wife became interested and asked the company to present the results of the symposia at the Governor's Mansion After reviewing the material, the Governor asked three questions "

Well, first of all, let me ask you, in that first sentence, "The Governor of Virginia and his wife became interested and asked the company to present the results of the symposia at the Governor's Mansion " As far as you knew, was that accurate?

A I don't know what symposia they're even talking about So that would not be accurate

Q Okay Now, there are three questions that this attachment says that you asked Do you see the three questions?

A Yes

Q Do those seem accurate to you?

A I mean, I asked a number of questions of the researchers I had heard from Mr Williams before, but I had never heard from any researchers independently And so having Roskamp and Johns Hopkins there, I asked a number of questions But I think that's probably a -- a reasonable summary of the kinds of questions that I asked at the Governor's Mansion Yes

Q Okay And then underneath the questions it says, "Hearing affirmative answers to all three questions, he" -- you -- "suggested a grant be made to the Tobacco Commission " Do you see that?

A I do

Q Did that happen?

A No

Q Did it ever happen?

A No That sentence doesn't make any sense First of all, I wouldn't make -- suggest a grant be made to the Tobacco Commission But secondly, I don't do that I think you heard from Mr Noyes on his testimony, I don't make recommendations to or from the Tobacco Commission They are an independent commission, and they make their own decisions

Q Okay

MR BURCK: You can take that down, please

Please show -- or publish Government Exhibit 314 It's already in evidence. And blow up the top, please The first e-mail I'm sorry The furthest in time The top e-mail The one that's already highlighted

BY MR BURCK:

Q Now, this is an e-mail that you talked about a bit, although you're not on this e-mail, right?

A I'm not

Q This is an e-mail from your wife to Mr Eige in which she writes, "I'm just trying to talk with Jonnie Gov wants to get this going with VCU MCV " Do you see that?

A I do

Q Did you ever say to your wife that you wanted to get this going with VCU and MCV? In other words, the anatabine project?

A No, I did not

Q Do you know if Jonnie Williams ever said to your wife that you wanted to get this going with VCU and MCV?

A I wouldn't know, Mr Burck I don't

MR BURCK: You can take that down

BY MR BURCK:

Q Now, sir, after you received that first e-mail, Government Exhibit 314, where she sends the attachment to you and to Mr Eige, after you received that, do you recall having any conversations at all with your wife about Jonnie Williams wanting to get his phone call returned to UVA and VCU and other universities?

A No

Q Did your wife ever press you in any way to get you to return -- or help him get phone calls returned?

A No

Q Moving on to the Healthcare Leaders event later that month in February Now, we've seen a document showing your handwriting and her handwriting on an invitation list, right?

A Yes

Q I think you testified that the Star Scientific people were invited by her, right?

A I mean --

Q As far as you know?

A Well, I didn't know at the time. The -- I know now, but I didn't -- that was not my -- I did not do that

Q Did you talk to her at all about inviting Star Scientific people to this event?

A No I think I knew maybe the day before, looking at the list, but I -- no, I did not

Q Did she seek your permission to bring people to this event?

A No

Q As far as you were concerned, at the time did she need your permission to bring people to an event at the Mansion?

A No Not at all I mean, she invited people regularly to events at the Mansion

Q Moving to March 2012, the staff meeting in which you showed the Anatabloc

A Yes

Q Was Ms McDonnell present for that?

A No

Q Did she know anything about it, as far as you know?

A No

Q Did you ever talk to her about it?

A No

Q Now, February 15, 2013 This was the interview -- the date of the interview of the investigators by your wife, right -- of your wife, excuse me?

A Yes It was

Q And you testified that you were angry when you found out afterwards that the interview was not just about the Chef Todd issue It was also about the Jonnie Williams issues, right?

A Yes, I was

Q And you talked about a conversation you had with your wife right after the interview with the investigators, right?

A It was probably three or four hours after.

Q And it was just the two of you, right?

A Yes

Q And fair to say that your wife was also very upset because she felt like she had been lied to?

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled

A Yes That's what she told me

BY MR BURCK:

Q She felt ambushed?

A Yes

Q And did she appear to you to be nervous and anxious even more so than normal after this interview?

A Yes, she did

Q During your conversation with her, did she tell you that she was worried that she had done anything wrong?

A No, she didn't

Q Did she tell you that she was worried you had done anything wrong?

A No

Q Do you recall that she told you that she had made a couple of efforts during the interview to contact you when they were asking about -- asking her about the loans to Jonnie -- from Jonnie Williams?

A Yes

Q Do you recall that she said that?

A I do

Q Do you recall that she said that the agents had told her not to call you?

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor Hearsay

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR BURCK:

Q Now, during that conversation, do you recall that she asked you whether or not Jonnie Williams -- this is during the conversation after the interview between the two of you?

A Uh-huh

Q Do you recall that she asked you whether or not Jonnie Williams had ever sent any documents memorializing the terms of the $50,000 loan to her?

A Yes

Q And do you recall that you said no, Jonnie Williams hadn't sent any documents?

A Yes I said -- that's what I said

Q And do you recall that Ms McDonnell said she needed to call the investigators to tell them there were no documents memorializing the loan?

A Yes

Q And do you recall that you told her not to call and not to have any further contact with the investigators until you figured out what was going on?

A Yes That's exactly what I told her

Q And you told her that you needed to talk to a lawyer first, right?

A Yes

Q Now, the very next week after this interview, you hired a lawyer for you and your wife, right?

A Yes, I did

Q Now, you were asked by Mr Asbill on direct if you eventually got separate counsel after you learned that your wife had returned the dresses to Mr Williams

A Yes

Q Do you remember that question?
A Yes, I do
Q And you said that yes, you had gotten separate counsel after you learned that your wife had returned the dresses with a note --
A Yes
Q -- to Mr Williams, right?
A That's right
Q Did you get separate counsel because your wife returned the dresses with the note to Mr Williams?
A No
Q Now, sir, at any time did your wife say to you, or suggest to you in any way, that she wanted you to do something to help Jonnie Williams in exchange for the gifts and loans and other things of value that he provided to your family?
A No No, she did not
Q At any time, regardless of what she said to you, did you believe or understand she wanted you to do something to help Jonnie Williams in exchange for gifts and loans or other things of value he provided your family?
A No
Q As far as you know, did she ever make any effort to get you to do something, anything, for Jonnie Williams in exchange for gifts and loans and things of value to your family?

A No, she did not

MR BURCK: No further questions, Your Honor

THE COURT: All right Let's go ahead and take the 15-minute break

(Recess taken from 11:09 a m until 11:31 a m)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: Government

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR DRY:

Q Mr McDonnell, you're not denying that you knew that Mr Williams paid $15,000 for your daughter's wedding expenses, are you?

A No.

Q And you're not denying that you knew that he gave $50,000 to your wife, right?

A No

Q You're not denying that you personally negotiated $70,000 of loans with Mr Williams?

A No

Q You're not denying that Mr Williams bought you and your sons golf equipment?

A No

Q You're not denying that Mr Williams paid for a bunch of expensive dinners?

A No

Q That you vacationed at his Smith Mountain Lake house?

A No

Q You're not denying that?

A No

Q You're not denying you drove his Ferrari?

A No.

Q You're not denying you went to Chatham Bars Inn on his dime?

A No

Q You're also not denying that Mr Williams wanted studies of his product at Virginia research institutes, right?

A I learned that at some point

Q Okay And you're not denying that you directed Dr Bill Hazel to send a government employee to meet with Mr Williams after you got home from driving his Ferrari? You're not denying that?

A No

Q You're not denying that you were present for the Anatabloc event at the Governor's Mansion in August of 2011?

A Yes, I am

Q You're denying that you were present for that?

A No There's two questions in there If I can answer one at a time I'm denying that it was an Anatabloc event But I was there

Q Okay Well, we'll get into that But you're not denying that you knew that Mr Williams and his company -- company's employees were at the Virginia Healthcare Leaders Reception event, right?

A No, not denying

Q And you were there?

A Yes

Q You're not denying that you pulled out Anatabloc in a meeting with secretary Lisa Hicks-Thomas and told her that she should meet with those folks? You're not denying that, right?

A Yes, I am

Q You didn't tell her, "Hey, this is working for me, and, you know, you want to meet with them"?

A That's not what I said

Q Okay All right How about this You're not denying that six minutes after e-mailing Mr Williams for more money, you e-mailed Jasen Eige to come see you about Anatabloc studies at UVA and VCU? You're not denying that happened, are you?

A Your question, there's a couple different questions in there

Q All right Well, let's break it down

A It was six minutes apart, the e-mails, yes

Q And every one of those things we just went over, there are e-mails, text messages, and testimony from your staff, friends, and family corroborating each and every one of those, isn't there?

A Mr Dry, I don't know You're going to have to -- each and every one of what? I'm not sure what you are talking about

Q Each of the things that you just said you weren't denying, sir

A Mr Dry, I don't understand your question. You're going to have to be more specific

Q Okay Everything that you just said "I'm not denying," you know that there are e-mails, text messages, and testimony that was presented in this court from your staff, friends, and family corroborating each and every one of those, right?

A You're going to have to tell me what events you're talking about, Mr Dry I don't know -- if you want to take them one at a time, I can probably address it

Q Well, let's do it this way, sir In total, how many times have you met with your lawyers in preparation for your testimony today?

A Many times

Q A dozen?

A More than that

Q Two dozen?

A I've been preparing every day since -- since you indicted me

Q Okay And you've had the opportunity to practice your testimony, right?

A I've had an opportunity to prepare for my testimony

Q Okay Before this trial even began, you've had the opportunity to read the interview reports from everyone that presented testimony, right? All the Reports of Interviews?

A No

Q You haven't had that opportunity?

A You only gave them to us 45 days before the trial I've tried to read as much as I could There were three and a half million documents I've tried to read as much as I could

Q Sir, I'm not talking about documents I'm talking about the Reports of Interview of witnesses that testified here in this trial

A Yes

Q Did you read the Reports of Interview before the trial even began?

A I read as much as I could

Q Okay And you read all the grand jury transcripts before the trial even began, right?

A No

Q You didn't read the grand jury transcript of Mr Piscitelli before the trial began?

A I think I did read that one I did not read all of them

Q Oh, okay And you've had the opportunity to sit through this entire trial and hear exactly what every witness has said before you testified, right, sir?

A Yes, I have

Q Let's -- I'd like to go a little bit into your background, sir Not -- not very much But you were Attorney General of Virginia from 2006 to 2009, right?

A Yes, I was

Q And part of your duties as Attorney General was to enforce the laws of Virginia?

A Yes

Q And those included the laws regarding disclosures of economic interest on SOEIs?

A Yes

Q And you've been filing your own SOEI, I believe you said, since you first became a state delegate And that was in 1992?

A Yes

Q So how many years is that, about 22, I think?
A Twenty-two
Q Twenty-two?
A Yes
Q And that included when you were Attorney General, right?
A Yes
Q I'd like to go back to your first -- I think you said your first real meeting with Jonnie Williams was on December 4th of 2009, right?
A I'm not sure if that was the date, but it was December '09 Yes
Q And that was at the Four Seasons up in New York City?
A Yes, sir Right
Q And you and your wife, how did you guys get up there to New York City?
A We flew
Q Do you remember on whose jet?
A I don't
Q Okay So you don't have an independent recollection that was Mr Williams' jet?
A I don't
Q Okay And at the -- I think you said there were two meetings, right, with Mr Williams?
A I believe that's right Yes

Q Okay And at one of those, the subject of your upcoming inauguration comes up?

A Yes

Q And your wife somehow mentions she needs an inaugural gown; is that right?

A No

Q She said she needed clothes?

A No

Q She said she was looking for things to wear for the inauguration?

A No

Q All right Well, what did she say?

A She said she was there to get measured for a dress that very day from a referral she got from Virginia

Q Okay And I believe you testified that Mr Williams mentioned Oscar de la Renta?

A Yes, he did

Q And at that point, Mr Williams was saying that he could get a inaugural gown for your wife, right?

A Yes

Q And you understood when he said "get," he meant he was going to pick up the tab for that, right?

A Yes That's what I understood

Q And I believe your testimony was but at that point you didn't want to make a scene, didn't want to tell

Mr Williams or your wife, "Hey, that's just not going to happen"?

A That's fair

Q Okay At what point did you tell your wife, "Hey, that's" -- because I believe your testimony is as soon as that happened, you knew that wasn't going to happen, right?

A Yes

Q At what point do you tell your wife, "Hey, that's not going to happen"?

A It was shortly after that It may have been that night

Q Either that night or within a day or two?

A I think so

Q Okay Well, let's -- let's talk a little bit about MoBo in this time frame I want to go to -- we're in December of 2009, right?

A Yes

Q Now, MoBo is having financial problems?

A No

Q No? No severe financial problems? No financial problems of any kind; is that right?

A I'm not sure I understand your question We planned on an operating deficit every year, Mr Dry, as I've said before

Q So in your mind, in December of 2009, there were not financial difficulties at MoBo Is that what you're testimony is?

A No

Q No, that's not your testimony or no, there were --

A No, that's not my testimony

Q Okay Well, what is your view of the financial situation of MoBo in December of 2009?

A As I've testified, we anticipated an operating loss each year from the beginning And my sister and I knew --

THE COURT: That doesn't answer the question Were there financial difficulties or not? We're not asking whether you anticipated a financial difficulty Were there financial difficulties? And I'm pressing you here because I don't want to get into this pattern --

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir

A No

THE COURT: -- of a question, and then a ten-minute answer Answer the question

A I didn't see them as difficulties No

MR DRY: Can we bring up Government's Exhibit 51, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, in the middle here, this is an e-mail -- this has been admitted

This is an e-mail from your sister to your brother-in-law and you, and your sister writes, "In other words, we are in trouble and need to act NOW," in all caps Then she goes on to talk about a short sale

You understood what a short sale was, didn't you, sir?

A Yes, I did

Q And she's talking about a short sale wouldn't hurt the credit, unlike bankruptcy First of all, a short sale would involve you giving these properties back to the bank, right?

A I think that's what it would be Yes

Q Okay And, in fact, basically in a short sale, the mortgage amount is greater than the amount of the value of the property, right?

A Yes That's what I understand Yes

Q And, in essence, you're basically, in a short sale, telling the bank, hey, just take these properties back, we can't make the bills, right? Isn't that what a short sale is, sir?

A Yes That's my understanding

Q Now, at the top -- can we go up to the top, please You write, "Not yet Working on a couple of ideas " Is that what you wrote there, sir?

A Yes

Q And that is the same day that you're meeting with Mr Williams, isn't it?

A Yes

Q Okay And I'm not trying to say that those are linked I'm not trying to do that, sir But by this point, you had been -- you and your sister had been borrowing money to keep MoBo afloat since 2007, right?

Let's do it this way Had you been --

A Yes We had been borrowing money

Q Okay And you borrowed $60,000 from your father in 2007?

A Yes

Q You borrowed another $50,000 in 2008 from your father?

A Yes

Q And on those $110,000 of the loans from your father, as of this date, as of December 2009, the sum total that you paid him back was $1,650; is that right?

A Yes I think that's right

MR DRY: Let's go back to Government's Exhibit 51, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Now this "working on a couple of ideas," that wasn't about Mr Williams, right?

A No

Q Okay But one of those ideas was working on a loan from Dr Davis?

A Yes

Q And initially Dr Davis had been asked whether he'd be interested in purchasing the MoBo beach houses; isn't that true?

A I don't know I don't remember that.

Q You don't remember any discussions with Dr Davis in which you asked him if he'd be interested in purchasing the MoBo beach properties; is that right?

A It may have been, Mr Dry I don't remember that

Q Well, is it fair to say at this point, sir, you're considering the idea of potentially selling the properties or getting rid of the properties? Right?

A Yes. That's right

Q And Dr Davis, he didn't buy the properties, did he?

A No

Q Okay So you asked Dr Davis for a loan?

A Yes

Q And he agreed?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 55, please It's been admitted Sorry

BY MR DRY:

Q That's a $9,900 check from Dr Davis on December 19th of 2009, right?

A Yes

Q And the deposit slip --

MR DRY: If we can come back out

BY MR DRY:

Q There was $100 of cash put in, and then the deposit slip is to MoBo for $10,000; is that right?

A Yes That's what it says

Q And you were the one that negotiated the terms of all the Dr Davis stuff, right, the loan terms?

A Yes

Q Let me do it that way

A Yes

Q I'll be more precise

MR DRY: Can we go to Government's Exhibit 54, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this is an e-mail chain between -- you're not on this It's between your wife and Jasen Eige, and that happens to be December 21st And in this e-mail, your wife writes, "We are broke, have an unconscionable amount in credit card debt already, and this inaugural is killing us "

I believe you testified you weren't on this e-mail, but at some point Jasen Eige and you discuss it, right?

A Yes

Q Now, from your vantage point, are you broke and have an unconscionable amount of credit card debt?

A There were two questions in there

Q All right First, are you broke?

A No

Q Do you have an unconscionable amount of credit card debt?

A It's higher than I wanted it to be

Q When your wife is saying "we are broke," is she just -- is she lying?

A I can't exactly tell you what my wife meant She wrote the e-mail I wasn't on it

Q Okay But from your vantage point, you're not broke, and even if she says she thinks you are, you're not broke, right?

A Right

Q Was she exaggerating your financial condition, do you think?

A Yes

MR DRY: Bring up Government's Exhibit 51, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Was your sister exaggerating the financial condition when she says, "We are in trouble and need to act NOW," in all caps?

A Yes

Q She was exaggerating when she's mentioning "bankruptcy" in this e-mail?

A Yes

Q Okay Let's go -- I'd like to go back to the inaugural gown briefly Did Mr Cox and Mr Eige have conversations with your wife about her not being allowed to have Mr Williams purchase the inaugural gown?

A I believe Mr Eige did, but I'm not sure I think she did

Q And whose decision was it to have Mr Eige talk to your wife about the inaugural gown?

A I'm not sure

Q You didn't tell Jason Eige, "Hey, can you talk to Ms McDonnell about this"?

A I don't remember, Mr Dry

Q So you might have? You just don't remember?

A It was in the middle of a transition I don't remember

Q I guess -- you knew that Mr -- you knew that your wife had complained to Mr Cox about this, right? You testified about that?

A Well, yes This is later

Q Right And Mr Cox told you about the complaint, and then you told Mr Cox that you would talk to your wife about it, right?

A Yes

Q And you testified that you were very upset with her, told her that she couldn't treat one of your most trusted advisors that way?

A Yes

Q But one of the things -- you testified later that despite the fact that you had told your wife within a day or two, "This isn't going to happen," that even after telling her that, at some point you went to your lawyers to find out if there was a legal reason to tell your wife no Do you remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q So just so I understand, you're sitting there on December 4th, and as soon as that inaugural dress conversation comes up and Mr Williams says, "Hey, I'm going to buy this dress," you know in your mind that's never going to happen You tell your wife that within a day or two, right?

A I believe so Yes

Q But then subsequently, you go to a lawyer to find out if there's a legal reason that she shouldn't get it; is that right?

A No

Q Well, didn't you just testify that you went to your lawyers to find out if there was a legal reason?

A Yes

Q Sir, you're sworn in as Governor on January 16th of 2010, right?

A Yes

Q Now, as Governor, your annual salary was $175,000?

A Yes

Q You and your family can live at the Governor's Mansion for free? You don't have to pay rent?

A No, no rent Yes, sir That's right

Q Your utilities are covered?

A Right

Q You have a butler?

A Yes

Q Food is paid for by the State?

A Yes

Q Your family's food, the family that's living in the Mansion, their food is paid?

A Yes

Q And the Executive Protection Unit, they'll drive you anywhere you want to go, right?

A Yes

Q But you get a total of $50,000 from Dr Davis, right?

MR DRY: Can we pull up Government's Exhibit

61

BY MR DRY:

Q This is the last $20,000 from Dr Davis on March 15th, 2010, right?

A Yes

Q And before -- just so I'm clear, you had had a $10,000 -- or $9,900 and $100 in cash That was done in December of 2009 February of 2010, you get another $20,000 And this is the last tranche, right, 20,000 in March?

A That's right. Yes

Q Okay. Before this check, did you have any loan documentation with Dr Davis?

A I don't believe so

Q But at this point, Dr Davis -- when it gets up to $50,000, Dr Davis asked you, "Hey, I need you to sign a promissory note," didn't he?

A Yes

MR DRY: Can we go to Government's Exhibit 60, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, this is that promissory note?

A Yes

Q Now, in the left-hand upper corner, the amount of the principal is 50,000?

A Yes

Q The interest rate is 7 and a half percent?

A Yes

Q Now, this note requires $1,001 90 to be paid each and every month, right?

A Yes

Q Now, in the second -- well, first of all, in the very first sentence, it says, "For value received, the undersigned makers promise to pay to Paul Davis $50,000 plus interest," right?

A Yes

Q And then going to the second paragraph, it says, "If the makers fail to make any monthly payment, they shall be in default of the note," right?

A Yes

Q And then on the third paragraph, it says, "Each personal liable hereon," right?

A Yes

Q Now, who signs this?

A My sister, my former brother-in-law, and me

Q And you understood that you were personally liable to pay $50,000 back to Dr Davis, right?

A Yes

Q If anything happened to your sister or anything happened to Mr Uncapher, it didn't matter You were on the hook for the full 50?

A Yes

Q Okay Sir, can you show me anywhere on this promissory note where it says MoBo anywhere?

A No

Q And after this note, you start making monthly payments to Dr Davis of $1,001 each month, and 90 cents, right?

A Yes From MoBo, yes

Q All right Well, let's fast-forward to October of 2010 I believe you testified your next personal meeting -- there's the December of 2009 meeting that we discussed Your next personal meeting with Mr Williams occurred in March of 2010? The California flight, sir?

A Yes I may have seen him at the airport, Mr Dry, at some point, but I don't have any good recollection -- but any substantive contact, yes

Q You might have met him at the airport hanger in July for like a ten-minute --

A Yes, sir

Q -- drop by kind of thing, right?

A Right

Q But the next substantive is October 3rd, 2010, the flight back from California?

A Yes

Q Okay And you had flown out that morning to California on Mr Williams' jet?

A Yes

Q And Mr Williams obviously wasn't on the flight out there with you?

A No.

Q And -- but he accompanies you back, right?

A Yes

Q Now, during that flight, Mr Williams, I think everybody is in agreement, he talked extensively about Anatabloc to you?

A Yes

Q Okay There's no dispute on that And he talks to you about the need for scientific studies of Anatabloc?

A He talked to me about some studies that he had going on at that point

Q And he told you that he needed more studies, right?

A I don't remember that

Q All right You're not denying that happened? You just don't have an independent recollection?

A Yes

Q Do you remember him telling you that he believed Anatabloc could reduce healthcare costs?

A Yes

Q And at some point, you refer Mr Williams to Dr Bill

Hazel, right?

A Yes

Q And Dr Bill Hazel was the Secretary of Health and Human Resources?

A Yes

Q So that made sense, right? I mean, we're talking about a healthcare product and we're talking about scientific studies, and we're talking about reducing healthcare costs in Virginia He's kind of the guy to see, right?

A Yes.

Q Okay And you're not clear on whether you had any -- and correct me if I'm wrong You're not clear on whether you actually set up the meeting or you just referred Mr Williams to Mr Hazel It could have happened either way, right? You might have had a staff member say, "Hey, make sure Mr Williams gets a meet"?

A I'm pretty clear it was just a referral for him to follow up with him Yes

Q So are you saying that you just think that you told Mr Williams, "Hey, go see Mr Bill Hazel," and then you didn't do anything after that to set up the meeting?

A I don't think so, Mr Dry I don't remember that clearly I don't think so

Q All right I want to fast-forward to the CigRx event We've heard extensive testimony that the legislative session is your busiest time of year, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And we've seen a lot of your schedules, and 18 meetings and 15 meetings Lots of meetings during that time, right?

A Yes

Q Now, in February of 2011, the session -- the legislature is in session, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Can we go to Government's Exhibit 708, which is not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is your schedule for February 2nd of 2000 -- February 3rd I'm sorry The e-mail is February 2nd This is your schedule for February 3rd of 2011, right?

A These are my working papers as opposed to a schedule But this appears to be that day Yes, sir

Q Okay

MR DRY: Government moves Government's Exhibit 708 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, going to the second page, because I think that will have the evening time frame on it You're not originally scheduled to go to this Star Scientific event, right?

A Right

Q This was a pure drop-by?

A Yes

Q Okay And Mr. Williams contacted one of your staff members and asked that you stop by the event, right?

A I believe that's what Adam told me Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: Well, let's -- let's go to Government's Exhibit 87 Is this admitted? No Eighty-seven is

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, this is an e-mail between Monica Block and Adam Zubowsky, right?

A Yes

Q And I want to go -- because I believe you testified, when Mr Burck was cross-examining you, that you didn't talk to your wife about this at all, about the CigRx event, right? That's what you testified

A I don't remember talking to her before that

Q Okay Well, let's do it this way At the bottom here --

MR DRY: Can you blow that up?

BY MR DRY:

Q -- Mr Zubowsky is e-mailing Block saying that, "Got the number " Knows Mr Williams' number

Then Ms Block says, "So are you guys stopping by?"

MR DRY: And going up, stop there, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Adam writes back to Ms Block, "Yes 102 loves Johnnie " 102 is your wife, right?

A Yes

Q So your wife did -- and you had some discussions about where she's encouraging you to go stop by Mr Williams' event, right?

A No

Q So you're saying that when Mr Zubowsky says, in response "Are you stopping by? Yes, 102 loves Johnnie," there were no discussions between you and your wife in which she's encouraging you to stop by the event?

A I don't think so

Q Okay

MR DRY: Let's go up Stop there

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, Ms Block responds back to Mr Zubowsky and says, "Why does 102 like him? Because he's loaded?"

Did your wife like people because they had money?

A Mr Dry, I can't comment on whether my wife liked somebody because of money She liked a lot of people I don't know

Q From your conversations with your wife and your personal observations, did your wife express interest in people when they had money?

A No

Q No?

A That wasn't the reason for friendships No

Q Did your wife have a history of making inappropriate requests of your family's friends for money for you and your family?

A Yes

Q And you knew that?

A Yes.

Q And you had known that for a long time?

A Yes

Q So you go to the --

MR DRY: Well, let's go Government's Exhibit 89, please And can we go to Page 22, please I'm sorry This has already been admitted Can we blow up the bottom there

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, you make some brief remarks, right?

A Yes, I do

Q And that's your wife standing next to you?

A Yes

Q And in the left-hand picture, that's Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

Q In the background And overall, your comments were typical They are favorable to the company, but nothing unusual about that, right?

A I went to four events that night, and I'm sure I said nice things about every company I was there for

Q All right

MR DRY: Let's take that down, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, by March of 2011, things hadn't really improved financially for MoBo, had they?

A I -- I can't answer that question yes or no

Q Okay Was MoBo still behind on paying its bills?

A I can't answer that question yes or no, Mr Dry Can I explain?

Q Let's just do it this way

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 709

BY MR DRY:

Q I'm not trying to be difficult, sir

MR DRY: I just want -- I just want to go to -- this is an e-mail -- this is not admitted, by the way

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail at the top It's -- well, you e-mail your yourself, but then the e-mail chain is between you and Michael Uncapher; is that correct?

A Yes, sir It looks to be

MR DRY: I'd like to move Government's 709 into evidence, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: Can we pull out, please

Okay Now, go -- let's go to the bottom e-mail from Michael to -- okay

BY MR DRY:

Q This is from Michael Uncapher to you and your sister, right, sister Maureen?

A Yes

Q And it says -- the date of this is March 9th, 2011?

A Yes

Q And he says, "Here is the breakdown for what is owed for February and March"?

A Yes

Q Now, NFCU, that's Naval Federal Credit Union?

A Yes

Q Or Navy?

A Navy

Q Navy Federal Credit Union?

A Yes

Q Okay And that shows payments are due in February and March?

A Yes

Q Then TowneBank 1 -- or "TB 1," that's TowneBank 1?

A Yes

Q And that's one of the mortgages that's on one of the MoBo properties, right?

A Yes

Q And that's got a total due of 6549 92?

A Yes.

Q And that includes a late fee of $163?

A Right

Q TowneBank 2, totals due, $1111?

A Yes

Q And then the Bank @Lantec, there's a late fee on the February, but the -- do you see that?

A Yes

Q And the total is $11,065, right?

A Yes

Q Now, let's go to the second page at the top The total due for February and March was $23,701?

A Yes

Q And then Mr Uncapher tells you and your sister what the minimum going forward each month was going to be, right?

A Yes

Q And that total was $11,557 23?

A Yes

Q Now, you knew that there had been late fees associated with -- with the MoBo properties for a while, right?

A No.

Q Did you have conversations with Mayor Sessoms in which Mayor Sessoms called you and said, in effect, "Hey, Bob" -- because you're friends I'm not calling you Bob But, "Hey, Bob you need to get this mortgage paid off or else it's going to go to 30 days, and I have to report to my Board " You didn't have those conversations?

A I heard his testimony I don't remember when, but I remember maybe one conversation with him on that

MR DRY: Can we bring up the exhibit again, please It's Exhibit 709 The second page

BY MR DRY:

Q So, sir, as of March of 2011, you know that you're paying late fees, hundreds of dollars of late fees, right, on the MoBo properties?

A No

Q You didn't recognize on here where it says late fees, sir? This is sent to you?

A I see one late fee Yes

Q Do you see the second one that says, "Including late fee"?

A Yes

Q Okay So you're not denying you got this e-mail?

A I'm pretty sure I remember getting this Yes

Q And you're not denying that you know that -- you recognize, oh, my gosh, there's late fees associated with these mortgages, right?

A Yes

Q You're denying that?

A No No I recognized this at the time Yes

Q Okay At what point do you go to Mr Uncapher and say, "Hey, let's put this on auto bill payment We know what's going to be needed every month Let's just auto pay this so we don't get these late fees"? Did you ever tell him that?

A We had several discussions about that

Q And did it happen?

A I think eventually He was managing that for my sister and I I think at some point these did -- several of these did go on auto pay

Q And there's been a lot of testimony from your sister and you about Michael Uncapher in charge of MoBo, right? The day-to-day operations I don't want to mischaracterize

A Yes He was the day-to-day manager Yes

Q All right But you're kind of the one that's leading the charge on trying to find refinancing for MoBo, right, the MoBo loans?

A My sister and I, yes

Q And, in fact, those weren't really MoBo loans Those were personally guaranteed by both you and your sister, right?

A You've asked me two questions there

Q Well, first of all, were the mortgages for the beach properties in MoBo's name, or were they in you and your sister's name?

A Are you asking me about the underlying mortgages for those properties?

Q Yes

A They were actually in my name and, to the best of my knowledge, my wife's name, and Michael's name, and Maureen's name

Q Okay But they weren't in MoBo's name?

A That's correct

Q I could look at those mortgages all day I'm not going to see MoBo anywhere?

A Yes That's right

Q And you're trying to refinance the mortgages at this time, right?

A Yes We did a couple years to look at whether there were better interest rates Absolutely

Q All right Well, let's do -- you had meetings -- in March of 2011, you were meeting with SunTrust executives trying to get them to present financing options, right?

A Looked at several options Yes

Q And you're talking to Ted Yoder at Monarch Mortgage?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to -- this is admitted Government's Exhibit 91, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And, in fact, let's -- the top e-mail is from your sister to you?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, let's go to the bottom e-mail This is on March 21st, and you're telling Mr Yoder to "call on the loan application Need an answer soon Left voice mail regarding the same Let's discuss options "

And the loan applications were going to be for the beach properties, right?

A Yes

Q Now, Mr Yoder tells you, "We're not going to be able to accommodate your loan request " And then he says, "I recommend that you let Bruce and I work on a private solution for you "

"A private solution" would be something -- is that like the Dr Davis loans?

A I never talked to him about the follow-up here, so I don't really know what he had in mind

Q All right Now, Bruce, Bruce Thompson is one of your best friends, right?

A He's a good friend Yes

Q And is it fair to say that Bruce Thompson is financially wealthy?

A Yes

Q Very well off?

A I believe so

Q Okay

MR DRY: Can we go to -- scroll up a little bit

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, you write, "Predictable result Will ask Ted and Bruce to give me a private proposal I've got inquiries now in to BOA and Wachovia for proposals Let's set a deadline of next Friday to decide and apply Will is helping with 2 75 percent on both loans for a year "

Let's break that down a little bit When you say "Will," that's Will Sessoms?

A Yes

Q And --

A No No I'm sorry No That's just will in the normal sense "I will ask Ted" --

Q Oh, I'm sorry

A -- "or Bruce " It's not Will Sessoms

Q No "When it says Will is" -- I'm sorry Not the "Will ask Ted " I apologize, sir

A Okay I see

Q I didn't mean to try and confuse you I'm just saying, "Will is helping with 2 75 percent"?

A Yes

Q That's Will Sessoms?

A I think so Yes

Q And when you originally got these mortgages from TowneBank, you understood that those were really -- there were stopgap measures, that you needed more permanent financing, right?

A No

Q So do you remember Mr Sessoms testifying about how you had conversations with him, and were telling him, "Hey, I'm going to look for more permanent financing"? Do you remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q Okay Well, did you ask Ted and Bruce to give you a private proposal? You said you would

A I don't -- I don't remember

Q And this is March of 2011?

A Yes

Q And that last -- "he will also look at unsecured third on Sunseeker " How many loans --

A Yes

Q How many loans did Sunseeker have at that point?

A I believe there were three loans already There was the primary mortgage, and then there were a line of credit in a second mortgage that we used for construction

Q So at this point I think that you're trying to get financing from SunTrust, or talking to SunTrust about financing?

A Yes

Q You were talking to Monarch, right?

A Yes

Q Talking to Wachovia?

A Yes

Q Talking to Bank of America?

A I think that's right Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: Can we go to -- this is not admitted Government's Exhibit 711, please

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail from you to your sister and brother-in-law, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Can we go down in the bottom

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail from Theresa Swann to you?

MR DRY: I'd like to move to admit Government's Exhibit 711, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted

A Yes

BY MR DRY:

Q And Ms Swann, what does she write in that first sentence?

A "I have completed my research, and as you suspected, we find ourselves in a precarious position with regard to loan to value and the ability to refinance "

Q And you knew at this point that the market had really gone down in the housing market -- or the property values have really gone down, and it was going to be hard to get -- and I think she calls it the L to V -- the loan to value It was going to be hard to get refinancing, right?

A Sure It was a national problem

Q Okay And you discussed that -- I mean, you gave Ms Swann a heads up, hey, I don't know if this is going to work out?

A Yes

Q That's what she's saying? "Precarious "

Ultimately, you couldn't get traditional financing through Bank of America, right?

A Yes We did not

Q Okay And you didn't get financing from Wachovia?

A Refinancing

Q Refinancing

A Yes That's true.

Q And you didn't get refinancing from Monarch?

A That's true

Q You didn't get refinancing from SunTrust?

A Right

Q Sir, throughout the trial, everybody has talked about how busy you were as Governor, and you had all these demands with the Republican Governors Association and a lot of duties, a lot of balls up in the air, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And I believe Michael Uncapher, he's really in charge of the day-to-day operations of MoBo, right?

A Yes

Q And, in fact, I believe your sister testified that MoBo -- that's just -- MoBo, from like 2009 forward, was just not a priority for either you or her, right?

A No She said it wasn't a priority for her

Q Was MoBo a priority for you?

A I tried to make --

Q I mean, you've got a lot going on, right?

A Got a lot -- every -- all my business, personal and public, I try to make a priority, Mr Dry, and take care of my responsibilities

Q Okay Well, let's go to -- well, are you involved in the day-to-day operations of MoBo in 2011, 2012?

A Yes

Q Okay And how? Explain to me what you were doing in 2011 and 2012 as it related to MoBo

A Well, my responsibilities were I did -- frankly, I did a lot of maintenance because it was fun. I -- Michael did most of the day-to-day, you're correct on that, of paying the bills and looking at all the statements I didn't even get any bank statements, I don't believe, at the time. They all went to my sister and Michael

But when it came to issues of financing, my sister and I, as the principals in MoBo, were the ones that would do things like that In 2012, after my first separation between my sister and Michael, I got more involved And I took over fully in November 2012

Q Okay

MR DRY: Well, let's -- let's -- this is not admitted Government's Exhibit 788

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, from what you just said, it sounded like you were saying, well, we were involved in refinancing But this is an e-mail between you and Sandy Munden at the top, right?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Move Government's Exhibit 788 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, Ms Munden, she's from Sandbridge Realty?

A Yes

Q And that's dated May of 2011?

A Yes

Q And going to that bottom e-mail, that's from you to Ms Munden?

A Yes

Q And you're writing to Ms Munden, "Just got April bill New carpet appeared on ECP " That's East Coast Palace?

A Yes

Q "Not Sunseeker Will it be next month on Sunseeker" -- or "SS " Did that mean Sunseeker?

A Yes

Q And "Also had asked the pest control company to bill in 60 days June "

You had asked the pest control company to do that?

A I probably did We had a big bedbug problem, and I think I probably helped to coordinate that Yes

Q Okay And you, "Also sent back today the signed rental rates with a bump in off-season "

A Yes

Q So when it says, "Just got April bill," you're the one that's actually reviewing MoBo's management company bills and trying to coordinate all that, right?

A Well, we all got the copies of the statements Yes

Q And you're reviewing those?

A From time to time Not all the time But I did this month, clearly

Q All right

MR DRY: Well, let's go to Government's Exhibit 789, then

BY MR DRY:

Q Top e-mail is between you and Ms Munden again?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government's 789 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this says -- the subject matter is "Scheduled Call," right?

A Yes

Q And, "Want to talk about some expenses on the June statement " So you were reviewing the June statement at this point?

A Yes

Q And that you wanted the -- your partners to join you by phone Your partners at that point, I'm a little confused It was definitely your sister Maureen, right?

A Yes

Q I don't mean technically I'm just trying to think in your mind, is Michael Uncapher a partner at this point?

A Not of MoBo

Q Not of MoBo? So this might have been -- oh, I see It might have been about BRH maybe? I'm just trying to figure out --

A No This would --

Q Who do you mean by "partners," sir?

A The only members of the LLC were my sister and I But my wife and Michael, I believe, actually, were -- I believe are on the deed, but they were involved with the properties Everybody did a little bit to help out Small business

Q Now, when you're talking about "plans to upgrade house to special events use," this is like the germination of the, hey, let's do an improvement, right?

A Yes

Q Okay And part of the reason for that was you wanted to increase the rental rates, right?

A Exactly

MR DRY: Can we go to Government's Exhibit 790. This is not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, you continued to work with Ms Munden This is an e-mail from you to Ms Munden, January 10th of 2012?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 790 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this is January 2010 Is legislature --

A This is 2012

Q I'm sorry '12

A Yes

Q I apologize Are you in session at that point?

A Without seeing a calendar, we may have just started right before or right after But right around that time

Q Right around that time?

A Yes

Q And even if it's not technically in session, there's a lot of buildup, or prep work, before the session starts, right?

A Yes Absolutely

Q I believe you testified that January through April, busiest time of the year for you?

A Usually Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: Can we go to the second page, please, at the bottom

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, you evidently had a meeting with Ms Munden at -- last week?

A So I was down there over the holidays, which -- yes

Q Okay But then it talks about, "Please look at June through December statements and come up with ideas that you recommend we can use "

A Yes

Q And, in fact, you were looking at each of the statements each month, right?

A I looked at most of them I was asking her to look at these

Q But you -- I'm sorry Did you say that you looked at most of them?

A I think so

Q Okay And you're asking her for ideas on how to reduce the expenses?

A Exactly right

MR DRY: And then on Page 3, please

BY MR DRY:

Q At this point, you're talking about having the upgrades done "We hope to have the construction done by mid-February, weather permitting " That's the upgrade that we just talked about?

A Yes

MR DRY: Now, let's go back to the first page, please The bottom e-mail

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, you're discussing discounting rates and all that But you said -- the last sentence, "Did you also say it might be possible to advance some rents if needed on February to pay part of the building upgrade? That would help "

Did you have a discussion with Ms Munden about, hey, potentially the management company could, you know, give you some money?

A If I could just read this?

Q Absolutely, sir Take your time

A Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: And then let's go up, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And in this e-mail, she's responding back that you wanted them to cut a check for 4,400; is that right?

A Yes.

Q And that was going to Resource Builders?

A Yes.

Q And that was going to be the deposit to begin the job?

MR DRY: What just happened? I don't like seeing myself on camera

Can we go up to the top e-mail, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And then you write, "Tell me what you can do as a float to get us to the summer rentals," right?

A Yes

Q And that was in January of '12?

A Yes

Q And, again, that -- we've heard a lot of testimony about your sister's financial condition and how great it was, right?

A Yes

Q I mean, the expert talked about all her stock and all of that, right?

A Yes

Q But you guys are making a business decision, hey, let's borrow other people's money I think your sister actually said -- did she say "OPM," other people's money?

A I don't remember that

Q Okay But --

A Maybe

Q -- she said making a business decision to borrow money from other people rather than putting you or hers in, right?

A I think that's what she said Yes

Q Was that your view too, better to just borrow other people's money?

A We made a conscious decision in '12 to borrower as opposed to put in our own substantial cash reserves Yes

Q Let's go to the -- let's talk a little bit about the improvements on Sunseeker You were the one that was basically leading the charge on that, right?

A No I don't know what you mean by "leading the charge "

Q I'm sorry That was an imprecise question, sir

You were the one that was responsible for coordinating which builder it was going to be, and what they were going to do, and things like that?

A In consultation with my sister, yes But I handled most of that Yes

MR DRY: Can we go to Government's Exhibit 792, please This is not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail between you and -- senior management, I think, is your wife, right?

A Yes

Q And sister Maureen and then Michael Uncapher, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Okay Government moves Government Exhibit 792 into evidence, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q You write, "I'm working on a plan to reduce expenses with Sandy "

A Yes

Q "I hope we can turn the corner this year "

A Yes

Q And that was because at this point these beach properties had been losing between 40 and $60,000 every year since 2006, right?

A I can't answer that yes or no Can I explain?

Q Sure

A You've used the word "losing " The cash produced by rents were 40 to $60,000 short of covering all the expenses

Q Well, hold on, sir

A That's true

Q Hold on, sir It's not just 40 to $60,000 that there was a delta between rents and mortgage expenses We're talking about rents in overall --

A Right I didn't say that

Q Okay So out of --

A No I agree with you

Q Out of pocket, how much money were you guys -- if you didn't get any loans, how much, each year, would you and your sister have had to put in?

A Forty to 60 was what they were running Yes That's correct

Q All right

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 791, please This is not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail between you and your sister on January 8th of 2012?

A I'm sorry I can't read it yet

Q I'm sorry It's hard for me to read it too

A Okay

Q The top one is from you to your wife and your sister, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 791 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, in this one, you've had several meetings and phone calls with the builder, and you're making the decision on which builder you're going to go with, right?

A I think I would say I'm making the recommendation to my wife and sister, in particular, that this is the builder we should use We looked at a couple Yes

Q And, in fact, you say, "We must do some of these upgrades and then an aggressive marketing plan to get more rents I know 22,000 sounds like a lot, but we had 14K last year of one-time improvements with bug problem, carpet, painting, and other items "

There were a lot of unexpected expenses that came along with the beach property, correct?

A Sure

Q And out of the gate, when you decided to buy these beach properties, the pro forma didn't have anything about bug problems, right?

A No

Q And it's fair to say that there had been maintenance that was unexpected, HVAC problems that were unexpected, things just kind of happened, right?

A Sure

Q So I guess my question is if the pro forma didn't have any of those things on there, then how did you know going in, in 2006 and 2007, that your hole was going to be 40 to $60,000?

A We -- the original pro forma was solely for one house without an expansion And that original pro forma was actually a much smaller amount It was like 15 to 20

After that, after we did the expansion and bought the second house, we did our own -- not really a detailed pro forma, but my sister and I just did our own estimates in figuring with all the maintenance -- we had a little bit of a maintenance record by then We figured that's what it would be

Q So I guess my question would be when you originally -- let's go to when you bought the second house

A Yes

Q Did you know that you were going to be in the hole -- that the cash outlay, without loans, would be 40 to $60,000 per year?

A We figured all told, it would be in that range Yes

Q And you were fine with that?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 793

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail between you and your sister on January 13th of 2012?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government's Exhibit 793 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is talking where you're spending an hour on the phone with Sandy?

A Yes

Q And going through the maintenance bills and ways to save?

A Yes

Q And you're in session on January 13th, 2012, right?

A That may have -- without seeing a calendar, I think that's probably the third day of the session But that's probably right

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 794, please

BY MR DRY:

Q This is a January 30th e-mail from you to David That's David Whitley?

A Yes

Q Senior management and sister Maureen?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government's Exhibit 801, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: I'm sorry I meant 794

THE COURT: 794 is admitted

MR DRY: Thank you

BY MR DRY:

Q On this one, you're telling him what type of freezer you want?

A Yes

Q And you also say, "My wife thinks bathroom closer to door and shower in the back is the best " So you're discussing the upgrades to the house, right?

A Yes

Q And she's giving you her input?

A She is

Q And she's kind of a partner in MoBo at this point Not a legal one, but you're including her, right?

A She's my wife Yes

Q And there's nothing wrong with you communicating with your wife about these things, right?

A No

Q But you are communicating with her, right?

A Sure

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 801, please Is this 801? Oh, there we go

BY MR DRY:

Q This e-mail is between you and Ms Munden and your wife at 5 p m on February 29th of 2012?

A Yes.

MR DRY: Government moves Government's Exhibit 801 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Going to the second page of this -- oh, I'm on the second page You cc your wife on this?

A Yes

Q And on the bottom e-mail, Ms. Munden is just providing you an update of the improvement project

MR DRY: Just scroll down there

A I'm sorry I can't see it

BY MR DRY:

Q Yeah, we're going to fix it Do you see that?

A Yes

Q But in your response, you tell her that, "Good update For all on the e-mail, please be sure to add Maureen (wife) on all e-mails"?

A Yes

Q Okay And that's a few hours after you met privately with Mr Williams at your office?

A Yes

Q And that was right before you recognized the healthcare leaders of Virginia, right?

A Yes

Q All right Just a couple more on MoBo You're really busy But I'd like to show you Government's Exhibit 797 This is not admitted This is an e-mail from you to Sandy, senior management, Michael Uncapher on March 22nd, 2012, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves 797 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, going to the second page of this On the bottom from Ms Munden, "I'm not able to find the Bocce ball set on Hay Needle's website with the number you provided to me yesterday "

What is she talking about there?

A We had a discussion about adding some games after we updated the cabana outside, and a way to make it more marketable And I had gotten recommendations from them about Bocce ball, horseshoes and so forth, and I thought that would be good to add

Q Did they recommend which Bocce ball set to get, or was that your decision?

A I -- I may have -- I think I probably recommended a particular one that I saw

MR DRY: Can we go up to the top

A I'm trying to keep expenses down

BY MR DRY:

Q Is it fair to say you're a pretty detail-oriented guy, sir?

A I try to keep -- I try to be. Keep all the balls in the air, Mr Dry

Q Understood Understood And then turning to the first page at the bottom, she orders the games, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: And then can we go to -- go up Yeah I had a question on this one

BY MR DRY:

Q You're talking to her about the Whitley basketball hoop Were you deciding about that too, or you wanted to make a decision about "need to see it," right?

A Yes Because I was managing this whole construction project Yes

Q All right What's the "internal filter program"? I don't even know what that means What does "internal filter program working now" mean?

A I am not sure

Q It's not a gotcha question I don't know either

A Yeah I -- I am reading this, and I don't know

Q Okay

A Unless it was -- it may have been with the swimming pool, that they told us it wasn't working prior, previously It may have been that

Q Now, on the same day that you're communicating with Ms Munden about all these details, you're also communicating with Michael Uncapher about paying for the builder, right? Do you remember that, having any e-mails -- well, let's do it this way

A If you have an e-mail, I --

Q Sure

A Yes

MR DRY: Government's Exhibit 796 And this is not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail between you and Michael Uncapher on March 22nd, 2012, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Exhibit 796 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: Now, going to the second e-mail from the top This is fine right here

BY MR DRY:

Q Can you read this, sir, or is it too small? We can --

A No I got it

Q All right

A Oh, are you asking me to read it?

Q No No No I just want to give you an opportunity to read it That's from Mr Whitley to you, and he's providing you -- that's March 8th. He's telling you that the final invoice --

MR DRY: Oh Government's Exhibit 796 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: Thank you

BY MR DRY:

Q In his e-mail, he's giving you the final invoice, right, for the work completed?

A Yes

Q And that's four days before the check from MoBo is deposited? I mean, four -- yeah, that's four days before the check from MoBo is -- or the check from Mr Williams is deposited that's made out to MoBo in the amount of $50,000?

A I don't think that's right Oh, I'm sorry On the March 8th?

Q Yes, sir

A Yes That's correct

Q Okay Now, going to the top e-mail, that's from you, and that's on March 22nd?

A Yes

Q And you're giving him the final invoice, and the amount was $16,831.94, right?

A Yes.

Q And you're telling him to send a check from MoBo ASAP?

A Yes

Q And then you say, "Call me today if possible so we can discuss the payment plan I recommend for the next 3 months "

What do you mean -- "payment plan " You were communicating with Mr Uncapher about how -- the timing of how bills should be paid, weren't you?

A I believe so Yes

Q Now, you say, "Working on other sources a well " I think that -- that should be "as well," right? "Going forward to pay off Dr Davis"?

A Yes

Q Okay So is it fair to say that the checks from Mr Williams -- or the $50,000 check from Mr Williams, in part, was to pay off the construction -- used, in part, to pay off the construction?

A It may have been Without seeing the ledger, I'm not sure But perhaps, yes

Q All right So we've spent much time on the MoBo stuff, but let's -- let's go back in time Let's go to April 2011 This is when -- the shopping trip You fly up to Greenwich, Connecticut, with your wife and Mary-Shea Sutherland, right?

A Yes

Q And you attend fundraising events while your wife goes shopping --

A Yes

Q -- the next day?

A We did.

Q You knew that your wife was going up there to shop for clothes for your daughter Cailin's wedding?

A Yes

Q And you knew that your wive -- I mean, you testified that you knew that your wife was meeting Jonnie Williams to go shopping?

A At some point in the afternoon, I believe Yes

Q And you testified that you saw her carrying shopping bags?

A Yes

Q And later on that night, you sat right next to Mr Williams at the Union League Club event, right?

A I think so Yes

Q And both of you are seated at the head table?

A No

Q There's a different table --

A There's no head table

Q Okay Was -- is there a table number 1? If I'm looking at a seating chart, are you seated at table number 1?

A I can't tell you But I can say I wasn't seated very long

Q I understand that, sir But it's fair to say that donors, big donors, they wanted to be seated at your table, right?

A That's where they are usually seated. Yes.

Q Well, and you know that they want to be seated there, right?

A I would say -- yes

Q Okay And proximity to you is valuable to donors, right?

A I can't speak for donors, Mr Dry Every -- I can't

Q Well, wait a minute, sir On your direct testimony, you testified that it wasn't unusual when you were on a plane, on a donor's plane, for one of the donors to be there?

A Yes

Q And that was an opportunity for them to speak to you?

A Sure

Q And that's what they wanted, right? They wanted access to you?

A They wanted to talk to me

Q That was valuable to them, right?

A They wanted to talk to me, yes.

Q And that's valuable to them? That's why they're paying, right?

A Yes

Q Okay They weren't paying to talk to you when you were a Commonwealth Attorney down in Norfolk, right? They are not giving you campaign contributions when you're a CA down in Norfolk, or Virginia Beach? I'm sorry

A I wasn't an assistant I didn't get any money

Q But as you progressed up the political ladder, people wanted more and more of your time, right?

A I think that's fair

Q And they were willing to pay for it? I'm not suggesting there's anything wrong with that, sir I'm just saying as part of the political process, don't they pay to get access to you?

A I think -- I think you could look at it that way Yes

Q Now, sir, you said that you didn't know that Mr Williams paid for any of the shopping, right --

A Right

Q -- that your wife did?

A That's right

Q But after that dinner, you go back and you and your wife are staying together at the Hilton Garden Inn Times Square, I think, right?

A Yes

Q And you guys are in the same room?

A Yes

Q So your wife doesn't tell you that Mr Williams paid for anything; is that right?

A That's exactly right

Q Now, the last time that you were up in New York with your wife and Mr Williams was present, you knew that he paid for a $5,000 bottle of Cognac in front of you, right?

A Yes That's what he said

Q And you also knew that he offered to buy your wife an expensive designer inauguration gown, right?

A Yes

Q And you just testified an hour ago that you knew that your wife had a history of making inappropriate requests for money from other people, right?

A I said from 25 -- 25 years ago she did that Yes

Q Okay So it didn't occur to you, hey, my wife was angry that Jonnie Williams couldn't buy me an inauguration gown I know he paid for a $5,000 bottle of Cognac, and by the way, he's shopping with my wife in New York City

It didn't occur to you that maybe Mr Williams is picking up that tab? Is that what you're testifying to?

A That's exactly what I'm testifying to Yes

Q Okay Let's go to the dinners at the Mansion So from that time, I believe we're -- the shopping spree is April 12th or 13th The next time you see Mr Williams is at the Mansion on April 29th?

A I think that's correct I think it was April 29th Yes

Q And your wife -- Mr Williams and his wife, Celeste, right?

A Yes

Q Had you met Celeste before?

A No

Q All right So that's the first time you ever met Celeste, right?

A Yes

Q I'm still a little bit unclear about this They bring over an $866 wallet, right?

A Yes Well, I've learned that after the investigation started That's true

Q And I was a little bit unclear from your direct Are you testifying that you definitely know that you were not present when that wallet was given, or are you testifying you just don't remember?

A I'm testifying I did not see any gift given to my wife

Q All right Well, let's do it this way Are you testifying that you, at no point before this investigation broke, knew that your wife had received a Louis Vuitton wallet from Mr and Ms Williams?

A Yes She did not tell me that

Q Okay And your wife had a Louis Vuitton purse that was purchased on the -- on the -- at the shopping spree Did you know that?

A I wouldn't recognize a Louis Vuitton if I saw it, Mr Dry I don't know

Q You would have no idea what a Louis Vuitton designer handbag looks like?

A No I know that after the investigation started when I saw the list

Q Okay Now, while the four of you are at the Mansion, your daughter Cailin comes over, right?

A Yes

Q And that was the first time that Mr Williams had ever met Cailin?

A Yes

Q And the sum total of their conversation, I believe you were present when she testified that they only talked for 10 to 15 minutes?

A It may have been a little longer, but that's probably about right Fifteen or 20 is what I remember, but they were -- yes

Q Okay. Now, at the time of this meeting, Mr Williams, he's not on the wedding guest list, is he?

A I know that now But I didn't make the wedding guest list So I think the answer is no, he was not

Q Well, you knew he wasn't, right?

A I can't say that I had looked at the wedding guest list as of April 29th

Q Well, hold on, sir You testified yesterday that your daughter made it clear to you that you could only invite 10 to 15 people?

A That was my -- yes That's right

Q So are you saying that you might have thought that Jonnie Williams was one of the 10 or 15 people that you invited?

A No

Q And you knew that your daughter didn't know Mr Williams, right?

A Right

Q So I guess I'm unclear On April 29th, 2011, did you know at that point that Mr Williams had not been invited to your daughter's wedding?

A Well, I had not invited him Yes That's right

Q Okay And -- all right We will just go on They talk for 10 to 15 minutes, right, or 15 to 20 max?

A I think that's about right Yes

Q Now, during the dinner, Anatabloc is a subject of conversation Fair to say?

A Yes

Q And scientific studies of Anatabloc was brought up, right?

A Yes

Q And the need for further studies, right?

A I can't say I don't remember I remember him talking about what was already being done

Q Okay So you're not denying that Mr Williams brought up the idea of additional scientific studies he needed, you just can't remember, right?

A Right

Q Is that fair?

I believe you testified that there was discussion about Star Scientific stock price?

A There may have been

Q And, in fact, Ms Williams brought out, and actually showed you on her smart phone, how Star Scientific stock price was doing, right?

A I don't remember that

Q Well, are you denying that happened?

A No I'm just saying I don't remember That after the day that I had that day, Mr Dry, I don't remember

Q Well, I guess that's a question I have You previously testified that Star Scientific stock price was the most important thing to Jonnie Williams, right?

A Yes

Q So --

A That's what he talked to me about many times

Q Is it fair to say that after this discussion that you were at least intrigued by the potential for Star Scientific, the product?

A I was intrigued that it was a Virginia company with an idea

Q And I think you testified on direct that you thought, hey, there's nothing wrong with this. If studies are going to happen, they should happen in Virginia, right?

A Absolutely I'd rather have them in Virginia

Q And in your conversations with Mr Williams, you made it clear to him that, "Hey, if there are going to be studies, it's not a bad idea to have them in Virginia," right?

A I -- it would have -- I might have I might have said that Sure

Q Well, that's what you believed, right?

A I'd rather have all business in Virginia Sure

Q Now, I think you testified that at the dinner, you think -- you think Mr Williams brought up the idea of Roskamp at the dinner, right?

A I believe so

Q And the idea was -- and specifically, he was bringing up the idea of you attending Roskamp?

A He might have I'm not sure I'm not sure I know my wife was interested But he may have talked about that

Q And are you -- is it your testimony, sir, that when he brings up the idea of you going to Roskamp, you know at that point that's not going to happen, or was it a possibility?

A It's not going to happen

Q As soon as he says it, you know not going to happen?

A I'm going to China, and I have a wedding I'm not going to be able to do that

Q All right So that means that Mr Williams had actually told you what date he wanted you to go to Roskamp, right?

A He told me that he was going down, I think, within the next, I don't know, month or two

Q Okay So he's giving you a time frame, and he tells you he wants you to go And you know at that point, no way am I going?

A I didn't have an interest

Q Did you express that to him?

A I was -- I don't think so

Q You don't think you told him no? Don't think you told him, "Hey, I'm really busy Can't do it"?

A Probably not at that time

MR DRY: Well, let's go to Government's Exhibit 107 That's admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, do you remember this, seeing this in court? This is an e-mail from your wife to you?

A I remember seeing it in court Yes

Q You don't have any independent recollection of seeing it?

A I don't

Q Okay And your wife here -- if you go down This is talking about Star Scientific as "Home Run Potential," right?

A That's what it says Yes

Q And she's e-mailing you this the day after you meet with Jonnie Williams and Celeste Williams, right?

A After the dinner Yes

Q And after they talked about the stock price?

A No

Q Well, you don't know whether they did? You don't remember it?

A I don't remember, Mr Dry

Q Okay

MR BURCK: Your Honor, just objection This is not the day after the dinner April 29th versus May 1st

MR DRY: I'm sorry Two days Leap year

BY MR DRY:

Q So that's two days after the dinner; is that correct?

A Yes

Q I'm sorry I didn't mean to mislead you on the date

So this is five weeks before you claim that you learned that your wife was purchasing Star stock; is that right?

A Not claiming it That's what happened

Q Okay Your testimony is no way do I know until June -- is it 5th, 5th you learn?

A Yes

Q Because 6th is the car ride, right?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, as of this date, you still plan on making the final payment for your daughter's wedding, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: And let's actually go to Government's Exhibit 111, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And, in fact, you're telling her -- your daughter Cailin, "Please advise me on May 20 or so the final count and final payment "
Because you're going to make that final payment?
A Yes
Q And she responds back, "I will"?
A Yes
Q Now, your wife meets with Mr Williams a day after you e-mail this -- you e-mail the bottom e-mail to your daughter, right?
A I know that now
Q But you didn't know it then?
A No
Q Okay Now, by May 5th, though, you had told Bill Hazel that you were thinking about going down to the Roskamp Institute for that event that Mr Williams invited you, didn't he?
A I don't think so I think we asked him for comments on what Roskamp was, and whether it was legitimate
MR DRY: Well, let's go to Government's Exhibit 117 Yeah, let's got to the Block e-mail
BY MR DRY:
Q This is your scheduler e-mailing Bill Hazel, and she says --
MR DRY: This is admitted I'm sorry

Government's Exhibit 111

A Uh-huh

MR DRY: Oh, I think I messed up here I need Government's Exhibit 117 And this is admitted All right

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail your scheduler sends to Bill Hazel, cc'ing Schramm, Katherine Harris You had a communication with Ms Block about this, right, before she sent it?

A I'm sure I did

Q And, in fact, you informed her that you had sent Mr Hazel, or Dr Hazel, some material on Roskamp?

A Probably did Yes

Q And that you had asked him to take a look at it, right?

A Yes

Q And that you wanted him to give you his thoughts?

A Yes

Q And that you were thinking about going down to Roskamp, right?

A No

Q You didn't tell him that?

A No

Q Okay

MR DRY: Can we go up in the e-mail chain,

please

BY MR DRY:

Q Mr Hazel says that you mentioned this to him on Thursday, so he has not gotten back to it yet "How soon do you need to make a decision?"

A I'm not copied on that

Q I understand that, sir Is it your testimony that you didn't tell Monica Block that you were thinking about going down to Roskamp?

A I don't think so. I didn't have an interest in going

Q Okay Let's go to May 23rd of 2011 On May 23rd of 2011, Mr Williams delivered a $15,000 check to your wife And it's your testimony you didn't know anything about that at the time?

A Yes

Q And on that same day, he delivered a $50,000 check to your wife, and you didn't know anything about that?

A At the time

Q At the time I'm sorry

A Yes

Q At the time?

A Yes

Q I guess one question I have from your testimony earlier today with Mr Burck is I believe you testified that your wife told you that she did not ask for the money but that Mr Williams had just given it to her?

A That's what she told me.

Q That -- that it was Mr Williams' idea to give her $50,000. Is that basically what she's telling you?

A That's what she told me

Q Did you ask her any questions about that?

A Yes

Q Well, you testified that you only learned about the $50,000 check on June 5th, and that was after your daughter Cailin's wedding, right?

A Yes, sir That's right

Q And that you testified that at some point in June you spoke to Mr Williams about this $50,000 loan?

A I tried to remember exactly when that was Sometime after my wife told me Yes

Q All right So your wife tells you on June 6th?

A Yes

Q How much later?

MR BURCK: Objection, Your Honor June 5th

BY MR DRY:

Q June 5th You're right

A I'm sorry

MR DRY: Thank you, Mr Burck

BY MR DRY:

Q June 5th, the day before the June 6th wedding?

A Yes. The day after -- the day before the honeymoon

Q The day after the wedding?

A Yes, the day after the wedding. Yes.

Q So the wedding is 4th 5th is when you learn?

A Yes

Q 6th is when you drive --

A Yes

Q -- to the airport?

A Yes

Q Okay So how much later after your wife tells you, "By the way, Mr Williams just gave me a $50,000 check," how long does it take you to reach out to Mr Williams?

A I mean, my best recollection, it was 30 to 45 days

Q Thirty to 45 days before you talked to Mr Williams about this?

A Yes We're waiting for documents

Q So you didn't immediately pick up the phone and say, "Hey, Mr Williams, you just loaned my wife $50,000, and oh by, the way we don't need it"?

A No I didn't talk to him then

Q You testified earlier that you were upset about this, right?

A Yes

Q That you had plenty of money You didn't need a loan from Mr Williams?

A No

Q Well, you didn't need a loan from Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q Okay And it takes you 30 to 45 days to pick up the phone with him and call him about the terms, right?

A Yes

Q Well, that's the question I have You testified on direct that when you talked to Mr Williams, you talked about terms How were you waiting for a contract if you haven't even talked to him about the terms?

A My wife had already told me the terms I wanted to confirm the terms, and we didn't get documents That's why I called him. My wife told me what she had negotiated It was her loan She told me what she had negotiated on June 5th when I spoke with her

Q So you're just waiting for a contract to appear and hopefully will have the terms that your wife told you?

A It's my wife's loan, Mr Dry

Q Well, let's talk about that a little bit Well, first of all, let's do this You testified that when you talked to Mr Williams, I believe on direct, that you only discussed the terms It was at 2 percent for 4 years, with a balloon payment due in 2015 Is that what was discussed in that call?

A Yes

Q And those were the terms that you understood?

A That's what I understood

Q And you were waiting for loan paperwork, right?

A When I talked to my wife, yes

Q Okay Well -- and this -- this really upset you, this conversation?

A Which conversation?

Q With your wife

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 134, please

BY MR. DRY:

Q Now, this is before that conversation that you testified to, right?

A Yes

Q And you actually sent this to Mr Williams This is May 28th, 2011?

A Yes

Q And at this point, you and Mr Williams aren't personal friends, right?

A No

Q Okay

A I'm friendly

Q Friendly, but not personal friends?

A Yes

Q Fair to say, you viewed him more as a donor than a friend?

A Yes

Q And that reference to Cailin, that's in reference to the wedding gift, right?

A Yes

Q The 15,000?

A Yes

Q And your wife had told you about that when?

A I think it was sometime after we had gotten back from China I was gone from May 6th through about the 17th on an economic development trip And at some point in there she told me about this gift that Mr Williams was going to give to Cailin

Q Let's talk about that economic development trip for a second

A Yes

Q Did your wife go with you on that?

A Yes

Q And, in fact, your wife went on a lot of economic development trips with you, didn't she?

A Yes

Q Is it fair to say that more than half of your economic development trips your wife went on?

A I think that's right

Q And when she would go on these economic development trips, she was going as First Lady?

A She was always First Lady.

Q Okay. And she had a role in these economic development trips, right?

A Yes

Q And, in fact, the taxpayers of Virginia paid for her to go on those, right?

A Yes

Q And you made the decision that she should go on the trips because having the First Lady of Virginia on an economic development trip helping promote Virginia business, that made sense, didn't it?

A Yes

Q Now, going back When did you find out about the gift to Cailin?

A Sometime after that trip

Q That was the -- you got back the 17th?

A 17th, yes

Q Okay And this e-mail is May 28th So can you ballpark me? Can we pull that down a little bit more? Do you remember a conversation with your wife about it?

A Yes

Q When?

A Mr Dry, I've told you, the best that I can remember is sometime -- we got back the 17th It might have been the 20th, 21st Somewhere in that area It seemed like I learned shortly after we got back

Q Okay And it's your testimony that your wife tells you about the 15, but she doesn't tell you about the 50?

A Yes, sir That's exactly right

Q Okay Well, let's talk about the -- the very generous gift to Cailin

MR DRY: Can we pull up Government's Exhibit 81, please This is admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail from you -- well, the top e-mail is from you to you, but it's an e-mail chain You've seen this document before, sir?

A Yes, I have

Q Now, on Page 1, that's your handwriting on the right side?

A Yes, it is

Q In your direct testimony, you talked a lot about reviewing the contract But you did more than review the contract, right?

A I'm not sure I understand your question

MR DRY: Well, let's go to the fourth page of the exhibit

BY MR DRY:

Q This is the contract, right?

A Yes

Q And whose signature is that?

A Those are my initials

Q Or your initials Okay And the total cost was going to be what?

A $15,897

Q Okay And underneath that, 25 percent installment due when?

A Immediately

Q Twenty-five percent, next installment due when?

A January 31st, 2011

Q And when is the balance going to be due?

A Ten days prior to the event

Q Roughly, when would that be?

A Last week in May

Q Last week in May So a little bit after May 23rd of 2011, right?

A I think that's right Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Page 5

BY MR DRY:

Q That's your handwriting there too, right?

A Yes, it is

Q And you went through this entire contract, and you were adding contract terms, right?

A I did

Q And then on the bottom, those are your initials?

A Yes

MR DRY: Page 6, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, that says, "By submitting this contract and signing below, the undersigned" -- basically, you know, I've read it and agree to it?

A Yes

Q "The undersigned shall be jointly and severally liable for all amounts payable pursuant to this contract," right?

A Yes

Q And you're the only signatory on that, right?

A Yes

Q Neither your daughter or Chris Young are contractually obligated to pay for the wedding, right?

A No

Q And you paid the $3,974 25 on the same exact date that you signed this contract, right?

A Yes

Q And then you pay the second deposit, same amount, on January 22nd of 2011 right?

A Yes

Q Neither Cailin nor Chris made any of those payments, right?

A No

Q Now, you testified that you have, quote -- I want to make sure I get this right -- the capacity to pay for the balance of your daughter's wedding -- capacity was the quote, to pay for the balance of your daughter's wedding reception because you had -- I think you testified 12,000 cash on hand and over 200,000 in credit card capacity, right?

A Yes

Q Question about that. The 12,000 cash on hand, that was three bank accounts, right?

A Yes

Q And one of those bank accounts was your wife's, right?

A Yes

Q And that was 4,000?

A I think that's right

Q So when you're considering what your resources are, you're including your wife's bank account balance, right?

A That was our total position at the time Yes

Q But they are all you and your wife's resources, right?

A Right

Q I mean, it's -- you're the husband, and she's the wife?

A Yes

Q It doesn't matter what it says on the bank account It's your all's money, right?

A No

Q No Well, let me do it this way You testified repeatedly that you were in charge of the finances for the family, right?

A Yes

Q And I'm a little bit unclear going through your direct testimony You were the one that wrote the checks, right? I mean, you were the one --

A Yes

Q -- that knew where the bills had to be paid and knew how to pay them, and you were the one paying bills, right?

A Most of the bills Not all of them But yes

Q Well, I guess my question for you is why are you including your wife's balance in her bank account if you've testified throughout your direct you had no access into her bank accounts?

A I didn't

Q Right That you didn't review her statements, right?

A Did not

Q Now, you reviewed the credit card statements, though

right?

A Some Yes

Q What does that mean? Did you review her credit card statements or not?

A I reviewed some Can I explain?

Q Well, hold on one second How about Davenport?

A No

Q Okay So you reviewed some of the credit card statements because you were paying her credit card bills, right?

A Some that were used jointly by the family, and then she had a couple she paid solely on her own

Q Okay Well, let's talk about those Which ones were those?

A New York Life, and I think there was one other one that she used for her business

Q Do you remember which one that was?

A I don't offhand

Q Okay Was it the Costco one?

A I don't remember

Q AMEX?

A I don't remember

Q But all of those would be for the Nu Skin business expenses, right?

A I think, I believe, two that she paid on her own

But most of the other ones I paid out of our joint resources

Q Okay So if she's going out and buying whatever, you know, that's not related to Nu Skin, then you're writing the bills for that one, right?

A That's fair

Q Okay Going back to this capacity point, sir, I guess I'm just -- did you -- did you view 200,000 in credit card capacity, that was -- did you use the term "liquid resource"? Because I think you might have in your direct testimony Did you view that as a liquid resource, capacity credit card capacity?

A I'm not sure I understand the question

Q I guess my question is when you're talking about capacity, credit card capacity --

A Yes

Q -- did you view credit cards as a liquid resource that improved your financial condition?

A That's at least two, maybe three different questions

Q All right Well --

A Did I view it as a liquid resource that I could take a convenience check and write the balance of the payment on my daughter's wedding for $8,000? Yes

Q Okay

A Did I view it as something that would improve my financial condition? It would be incurring additional debt, so the answer to that would be no

Q Well, it's just not incurring additional debt It's incurring additional debt at some pretty stiff fees, right? I mean, the interest rates are low The up-front fees of 4 percent, that's pretty -- that's pretty high, right?

A No

Q No, it's not?

A It's not the way it worked

Q Well, were you there for Mr Kosowsky's testimony when Mr Faulconer was going through that one convenience check --

A Yes

Q -- and it showed a $400 fee on a $10,000 balance transfer that was ultimately paid off within two months?

A I heard that testimony, yes

Q Was that accurate? Did that transaction -- actually, you know what Let me -- I want to go back to credit card capacity

THE COURT: All right Let's stop here

All right If you all could come back at 2:15, we'll get started with lunch -- with the afternoon session Have a good lunch

(Luncheon recess taken from 1:13 p.m. to 2:15 p.m.)

THE COURT: All right, let's bring in the jury, please

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, Mr Dry?

BY MR. DRY:

Q Sir, leaving the topic of credit card capacity, leaving that subject matter, you would agree with me at the time of Mr Williams' $15,000 check that you still had approximately $30,000 in joint credit card debt, right?

A Yes, sir

Q I'd like to talk a little bit about convenience checks Now, it wasn't unusual for you to use these credit card checks from 2009 all the way up until 2011, right?

A Right

Q And you saw or you heard Mr Faulconer walk Mr Kosowsky through one of those, right?

A Yes

Q I'd like to go back to 2010 Can we show, not admitted, Government Exhibit 825, please? And this is a credit card statement for your wife at the top, right?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves Government 825 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR DRY:

Q This account is strictly in your wife's name; is that correct?

A Yes

Q If we could go to the new balance total That shows a new balance of $12,423 24?

A Yes

Q If we can scan over to the right side of this document, please, in the account summary That shows a balance transfer of $11,843 87, right?

A Yes

Q And this statement is dated July 10th of 2010 Zoom out and just show the witness that, please It is the June to July

A Yes

Q Okay Now, the fees charged for that balance transfer was $476 81 Do you see that?

A Yes

Q Now, typically, when you would do -- when you or your wife would do convenience checks, would that be a joint decision? I mean, would you be aware if your wife was doing balance transfers or convenience checks?

A Sometimes

Q Well, let's go down in this one You see, sir, on 6-16, the transaction date, that shows a balance transfer to American Express of 2,358 19

A Yes

Q Do you know sitting here today whose American Express account that was?

A I don't think I had one I'm pretty sure it was my wife's

Q Okay And then it shows a convenience check of $4,000 Do you see that?

A Yes

Q And then a third convenience check of $5,485 68?

A Yes

Q All of those were done within two days of each other according to the transaction date?

A Yes

Q Okay Well, let's walk through where these go Starting with that first amount, 2,358 19, can you please bring up Government's Exhibit 826, please? And this is an account statement for, on the top left, your wife for a Costco card; do you see that?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves Government's 826 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR DRY:

Q That shows that first balance transfer of 2,358 that went to pay off this credit card. Do you see that on the right-hand side? It is the same amount as the balance transfer we saw earlier?

A Yes

Q Okay And then let's go to Government Exhibit 827, please This is not admitted Do you recognize this document, sir?

A Yes

Q Okay And this is a convenience check deposited into, if you go down, that's deposited into your Beach account 12591; do you recognize that?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves Government's 827 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q You know your wife's signature, don't you?

A Yes

Q Who is this check made out to?

A To me

Q And is that your wife's signature?

A No, that would be mine We talked about it, and I would have signed that for her, I'm sure

Q Right Because she would have authorized you to sign on her behalf?

A Yes

Q No problem with that And that one was deposited into your account, the 12591? Go down.

A That's our joint account Yes

Q That's your joint Beach account?

A Yes

Q Thank you And then let's go to the third convenience check for that month It is Government Exhibit 828, please Do you recognize this one, sir?

A Yes

Q And this is made out on your wife's account?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 828 into evidence.

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q Now, on this one, who is this made out to?

A MoBo Real Estate

Q Is that your wife's signature?

A No, that would be another case of me signing for her

Q Okay And up above that, if we could go up, that shows it was deposited into MoBo, right?

A Yes

Q So fair to say that you and your wife are jointly deciding to write convenience checks to pay MoBo Real Estate Partners' operating expenses

A Yes, on this occasion, yes

Q Let's do another one from the next month Let's show, not admitted, Government Exhibit 829, please Do you recognize this as a credit card statement for your wife? Upper left-hand corner?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 829 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. DRY:

Q Let's go to the left side of this document and scroll down. It says WorldPoints But this is actually a Bank of America credit card; do you recognize that?

A Yes

Q Down in the transactions page, that shows a $5,000 balance transfer? Do you see that? Actually, let's go up. It is actually in the transactions, right there, the account summary I'm sorry It shows a balance transfer? Do you see that in the highlighting?

A Yes

Q Then it shows a $200 fee charge?

A Yes

Q And then in the left-hand side, that showed the new balance total of $17,000

A Yes

Q Okay And then let's actually go to the check itself Can I pull up Government Exhibit 830, please And this is a check written on your wife's account? Correct?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 830 into evidence.

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q And that check, that's made out to you?

A Yes

Q And is that your wife's signature?

A No, I think that's me signing for her again.

Q Okay And that's deposited into your joint checking account, right?

A Yes

Q Now, from 2009 through April of 2011, you and your wife used convenience checks and balance transfers totaling approximately $40,000; does that ring any bells for you?

A We took advantage of low interest rates I don't know, Mr Dry, if that's right

Q But that doesn't seem out of the realm of possibility?

A I don't know

Q Okay Now, when you were writing these convenience checks, I think we saw some examples, sometimes that would be to MoBo, right?

A Yes, I saw one, yes

Q And then sometimes it was to pay personal expenses off?

A Yes

Q And then sometimes it was used to pay other credit cards off, right?

A Yes, balance transfer, yes

Q Now, all of those came with p-front fees, right?

A I don't know if all of them did Some did.

Q Fair to say the majority would; since you have a low interest rate, you are going to have to pay some kind of fee, right?

A Well, some of them were zero interest with a fee, some of them were an interest rate and no fee It was a combination But all designed to reduce interest rates, yes

Q But all of these would require monthly payments, right?

A Yes

Q Now, those convenience checks, that was through April of 2011 you had been writing those?

A I think that's what we just saw on the screen.

Q But you know that the first check from Mr Williams, that came on May 23rd of 2011, that first $50,000.

A Yes

Q And that was around the time of the first 15,000 -- or the $15,000 payment for your daughter's wedding, right?

A The gift, yes

Q And none of that, Mr Williams' money, that didn't require any monthly payments, did it?

A No.

Q And there were no up-front fees for those, were there?

A No

Q I want to talk a little bit, let's go back to Government Exhibit 134 Now, in this, you reference this "golf round tomorrow for the boys " That was the Kinloch, the first Kinloch round on Mr Williams' tab; is that right?

A Yes

Q And I think you testified that you played at Kinloch before once?

A I think, yes, I did.

Q Okay But it sounded like you were unclear on how this actually got set up. Did you talk to Mr Williams or did your sons, one of your sons talk to Mr Williams, or was it your wife that arranged for you to go on this particular day?

A I'm really -- I know I didn't I'm really not sure I think it was my son.

Q Which one?

A I think it was Bobby But I really don't know I know it ended up on my calendar and I wanted to go with my son and son-in-laws, but I'm not sure

Q When you went to Kinloch, you understood that this was going to be gratis, like you are not going to have to pay, right?

A Yes

Q So did your son communicate that to you, "Hey, we are going to go to Kinloch and it is on Mr Williams' tab," or was that just understood?

A I don't know, but I understood it was an offer and a gift from Mr Williams

Q That first time, can we bring up Government Exhibit 137, please? Now, the first time that you go to Kinloch, the first time that you went not on Mr Williams' tab, did you have private caddies then?

A I don't remember

Q Okay Now, on this particular time, I was a little confused by your direct testimony You said that, yes, there were four shirts, and that one of the shirts was yours But was your testimony that you don't remember going into the pro shop or that you didn't go into the pro shop?

A I don't remember going in the pro shop.

Q So it could have happened; you are just not sure

A Yes, sir

Q As you sit here, Mr Williams obviously didn't play with you, right?

A No, not on that occasion

Q And then after you got off the course you called him, and was it a voicemail?

A Yes, I tried to call him to thank him.

Q Okay And then that same exhibit, 134, it talks about your wife going to Roskamp Right? This is May 28th of 2011?

A Yes

Q Now, I think you testified that at this point, you don't know about the $50,000 from Mr Williams; that comes later

A Yes

Q Okay But you know that your wife used that $50,000 to help pay down your credit card debt, right?

A It was in my name, yes

Q Okay Let's pull up Government Exhibit 579, please You saw this exhibit before?

A Yes

Q And this was the use of the $50,000, right? That Bank of America card, what's the date of the check payment?

A According to this chart, it says 5-31

Q That was in an amount of $9,900?

A Yes

Q Did that pay off the balance?

A I don't know

Q Okay Let's go to Government Exhibit 132 This is not admitted. Now, you recognize this as the actual check, sir?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves to admit Government Exhibit 132 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q Now, that is your wife's signature, right?

A Yes

Q That's to the Bank of America credit card?

A Yes

Q That's the same account that she had deposited the $50,000 check into?

A Not the Bank of America You mean the Wachovia account?

Q The Wachovia account it is written on, sorry

A I think so That's her personal account, yes

Q But you were the one that typically wrote checks to this particular credit card, weren't you?

A Yes

Q And in fact, let's bring up Government Exhibit 802, not admitted. Do you recognize this as a check you wrote on May 1st, 2011?

A Yes

Q And what's the amount of the check, sir?

A $500

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 802 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q So just so I'm clear, this is a $500 check that you write to Bank of America for the same exact credit card that Ms McDonnell wrote the subsequent $9,900 check, right?

A Yes

Q And this one is your signature?

A Yes

Q I was a little bit unclear about your testimony. I think what you said was that your wife just grabbed a credit card statement off a credenza and then paid the credit card, the $9,900 credit card bill. Was that your testimony?

A No.

Q All right Well, go ahead

A I wasn't there, so I don't know if she grabbed it But what she told me on June 5th was she knew where I kept the bills that were in the queue to be paid. And with her $50,000 in addition to buying the $31,000 in stock, that she paid off two credit cards, and she paid off the two that were there She didn't look for any particular ones There were two in the queue that I still had to pay That's before I set some of these up for autopay She told me she got these two, Bank of America and the other one, and she made those payments for us

Q So she made the decision to pay off your credit card debt with Mr Williams' $50,000, or part of your credit card debt, without discussing it with you in any way before doing it?

A Yes, that's what she told me

Q Okay Now, you can bring that down You knew that your wife was going down to the Roskamp thing before she actually did, right?

A Yes

Q And she flew down on May 31st? The day before?

A Yes, that's right

Q Did you know how she was going to get down there before she actually did? Did you know she was going to be -- I'm sorry, did you know how she was going to be traveling?

A Yes

Q It would be on Mr Williams' jet?

A Yes

Q And did you know that Ms Sutherland would be traveling with her?

A I believe so She typically would, yes. I think I knew that

Q And you knew that somebody from EPU would be going with them.

A Yes, that would be typical for out-of-state travel, yes

Q At this point you know that Roskamp, that's affiliated with Star Scientific?

A No

Q You knew the research that Star Scientific, that was being done on their product, was occurring at Roskamp?

A Yes I knew that

Q Because Mr Williams had told you that, I believe you testified, way back on the Meg Whitman flight, right?

A Yes

Q I think you testified that he actually mentioned it again at the dinner

A I think that's right, yes

Q In fact, he invited you to go down for this event

A Yes

Q Now, did you have discussions with your wife about where she was going to be staying?

A No

Q Did you have discussions with your wife about -- well, did you subsequently learn that it was --

A I'm sorry, do you mean what hotel or what city?

Q What hotel

A No

Q So you didn't know she would be staying at the Ritz-Carlton

A I did not

Q Did you have any discussions with your wife about how she would be, who would be paying for her accommodations?

A No

Q Okay Well, did you know, did you have any discussions with your wife that it was not going to be you or her that would have to pay?

A No.

Q So as far as you knew going into that trip, you might have to pay for your wife's -- your wife might have to pay for her own accommodations

A I just didn't think about it

Q Okay Now, at the time, on the day of the event, your wife called Mr Piscitelli and ordered the stock. Is it your testimony that you had no idea on June 1st when she was doing that that she was actually ordering Star Scientific stock?

A Absolutely, yes

Q Now, in order to buy that stock, your wife had to open up a Davenport account We have heard some of that, right?

A Again, I didn't know what she had to do, but I know now what she went through But yes, I heard the testimony

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 153 This is the Davenport account statement, sir And it is opened on June 2nd or -- date opened, June 1st of 2011 And you heard Mr Piscitelli testify that he made -- she made it clear to him that the account should only be in her name; do you remember that testimony?

A I heard that, yes

Q And Mr Piscitelli testified that when he asked your wife the annual income and estimated net worth, she told him that she was going to have to talk to you about that; do you remember that testimony?

A I heard that, yes

Q And your wife later gave Mr. Piscitelli a sticky note Did you hear --

A I saw that

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 634 Now, I believe on direct you said that that annual income figure, that was roughly what your annual income would be, right?

A Yes, that's very close Yes

Q Okay And I guess what I am trying to understand is, did your wife, was your wife tracking mortgage balances and things like that at MoBo?

A I doubt it, no

Q No Okay She wasn't the financial person; it was more you, right?

A Yes

Q Okay And then there has been, I think that you testified on direct that you don't understand what this "Net-Real estate 400,000" means, right?

A No, sir, I hadn't seen the sticky note until the last couple weeks

Q Well, let's go -- it's 400,000 Let's go to Government Exhibit 106, please This is admitted. Do you recognize this document, sir? This is a Heritage financial statement?

A Yes

Q And in fact, this was as of 5-1-2003 and that's crossed out, but it is in the "Received" block, it says 6-15-11 Do you see that?

A Oh, yes I do

Q And you submitted this June of 2011; is that fair?

A That's what it says The date is six months earlier, Mr Dry I can't say when I submitted it But that's -- there is a "Received" stamp on there, yes

Q Let's go to page -- first of all, your wife didn't fill this one out This is all you, right?

A That's me Yes

Q Let's go to Page 3 Then if we could go to the top, the top block, right there Now, this is you filling out the mortgage balances, right, sir? You see the mortgage balance block?

A Yes

Q It has a Market Value block, right?

A Yes

Q Now, if you subtract out 4 2 from roughly 3 8, what's that balance? Would that be $400,000?

A Yes That would be about right, yes

Q And your testimony is that you never discussed any of that with your wife, right? At this time, that you didn't provide her the information for the sticky note

A No. I didn't talk to her about it.

Q And your wife purchased that stock about three days before your daughter's wedding; is that right?

A Yes

Q Your daughter's wedding was on June 4th, 2011 I'm going to try and be better with my dates

A Yes

Q And you knew before the wedding that Mr Williams was going to give the $15,000 check?

A Yes

Q And he got an invitation to the wedding?

A Yes

Q Did you see him at the wedding?

A No

Q You didn't see him at the wedding Other than that e-mail you sent, did you ever send him a thank you card?

A For?

Q For the $15,000

A No. I called him and I sent him the message

Q When did you call him?

A I called him, that voicemail on the 29th. It was golf and --

Q About the golf

A I think in that e-mail I mentioned the gift to Cailin in that, too

Q I understand that I guess my question is, so your message to Mr Williams in the voicemail, that was about the $15,000 and the golf, or just the golf?

A No, I said the golf, and I said, "Thank you for your gift to Cailin."

Q That's in the e-mail -- I guess that voicemail message I'm sorry

A I don't remember I probably just thanked him for the golf, Mr Dry I don't remember It was a brief call

Q Could we pull up Government Exhibit 548, please? This is a picture of the wedding, right?

A Yes

Q That's you and your wife in the background?

A Yes

Q And Mr Williams, it is your testimony that you didn't know that that Armani dress that your wife is wearing was purchased by Mr Williams

A Absolutely not, no.

Q But you are not denying that you knew Mr Williams had previously offered to purchase the inauguration gown, right?

A That's right

Q Now, at the wedding, Mr Piscitelli testified that your wife handed him a $31,000 check. Do you remember that testimony?

A I heard him say that, yes

Q It is your testimony that you had no idea that she had done that at that time

A I was not there if she did that, and I did not see it, and she did not tell me

Q Let's talk about when you did learn You testified that that happened the day after the wedding, the night before -- on June 5th, so June 4th is the wedding, June 5th is when you learn, and June 6th is the car ride, right?

A Yes, sir, that's right

Q Okay And you heard your daughter testify that you and your wife drove them to the airport?

A We did not drive We rode with them.

Q Okay And this was when your daughter testified that during that drive, your wife gives the mock stock certificate of Star Scientific

A Yes, sir, that's right

Q Okay When your wife tells you for the first time on June 5th about the Star stock, was that because she was going to do this the next day with Cailin?

A I think so

Q In your testimony earlier, I think from Friday, you testified that when you found out about the stock, I want to make sure I get this right, that, quote, "from a business standpoint was that we had -- she had a $30,000 asset " Do you remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q So from your standpoint, yes, she used $30,000 of Mr Williams' check for this But it is still a $30,000 asset that she is holding

A Essentially, from the economic standpoint I thought it was in the childrens' name, but it still was an asset just from a liabilities and asset analysis, yes

Q I guess that's the question, though. If you think, because you testified that the stock, you believed the stock was in the childrens' name from June 5th through November of 2011

A Yes

Q But you testified that it was an asset of your wife's In fact, you corrected yourself "From a business standpoint, was that we had --" then you correct yourself, "she had a $30,000 asset "

A Yes

Q So how is that an asset of your wife's if you believe that it is in the childrens' name?

A I might not have expressed that as articulately as I should She told me it was in the childrens' name My point was there was the same amount of debt, 20,000, whether it was a credit card or to Mr Williams, or whether it was a $30,000 asset You are correct, Mr Dry, but she told me it was in the childrens' name

Q Let's move forward to the June 16th, 2011 letter. Can we pull up admitted Government Exhibit 162, please? Now, you testified that you remember receiving this letter from Mr Williams sometime in June of 2011, right? We can go back to the e-mail

A What I testified to is I remember receiving it I don't know, I think it came through the First Lady's Office, is my recollection.

Q And that happened near the time of this June 20th e-mail?

A To the best of my recollection Yes

Q Okay Now, maybe I was inarticulate Are you testifying that you received this but you don't remember reading it as you sit here today?

A No.

Q So you did read it

A I would say I read -- scanned, but I had a good sense of the cover letter, yes.

Q Can we go back to the letter? And this letter, that's addressed to you as Governor, right?

A Yes

Q And that's on Star Scientific letterhead?

A Yes

Q Now, in the second paragraph of the first -- second paragraph, the first sentence, Mr Williams is writing to you, the Governor of Virginia, that what he is suggesting is to initiate the "Virginia Study" of Anatabloc at MCV and UVA with an emphasis on whatever

A Yes.

Q Do you remember understanding that at the time?

A The couple minutes I spent on it, yes, I saw that Yes

Q And I'm still unclear Was this the first time he mentioned the "Virginia Study" to you, this idea of UVA and VCU's studying of Anatabloc?

A I really don't -- that's the first time I saw the thing in writing I don't remember whether he might have talked to me about that at the dinner at the Mansion. But this is the first time I saw anything in writing from him about it I was surprised to get the letter It kind of came out of the blue

Q But at the time you received this letter, you knew that Mr Williams had paid $15,000 for your daughter's wedding?

A Absolutely, sure

Q That was just a few weeks before the letter?

A Yes

Q And you knew that he had given your wife a check for $50,000 a few weeks before the letter?

A Yes, I did

Q You knew that you had played golf at his country club on his tab?

A Yes

Q And after you received this letter and realized that Mr Williams wanted to get studies at medical colleges in Virginia which you, as Governor, oversaw, you never contacted him, did you? You never asked -- you never called Mr Williams and said, "Hey, Mr Williams, I really think I should return this money"?

A There's several parts to that question Did I contact him after getting this letter? No, I didn't

Q And you never -- well, you never contacted him after getting this letter

A Right

Q After getting the letter, did you ever attempt in any way to return the $15,000 that he had paid for your daughter's wedding?

A No.

Q Did you ever call him up and try to return $50,000 that he had given to your wife?

A No.

Q Let's go to the wedding overage Can we show Government Exhibit 159? That's admitted. This is the refund check from the wedding caterer

A Yes I hadn't seen it until after the investigation, but I know that now Yes

Q And it is made out to your wife?

A Yes

Q And I think you testified earlier that you knew that the wedding catering was going to cost about $15,000 from the contract

A Yes, from the contract I signed six months earlier, yes

Q And you knew that you had already made deposits roughly of $7,900?

A Yes

Q And you knew that Mr Williams had written a check for $15,000

A Yes

Q So total the catering company was going to be paid, about $23,000?

A Yes

Q And you knew that there was going to be a refund at the end.

A Yes

Q But your testimony is that you knew nothing about this refund going into your wife's account until the night before your wife is interviewed by law enforcement on February 15th of 2011

A Yes

Q I'm sorry, February 15th of 2013

A That's correct 2013 I'm sorry

Q No, no At the end of June of 2011, you had a political event at the Homestead, I believe

A Yes The annual event, yes

Q And Mr Williams was invited to that?

A Yes

Q And at this point he is not a personal friend, he is a donor, right?

A Yes, it was for donors, my larger donors, yes

Q And I think you testified that you weren't aware of how your son, Bobby, or your daughter, Jeanine, got to the event?

A I'm not sure, Mr Dry I don't think so I was coming from, traveling from a different direction, so I don't know if I knew in realtime how they were getting there, because the logistics are generally done by my staff So I'm not sure, sir

Q How about after, like during the event, did you know that Bobby and Jeanine had traveled on Mr Williams' jet?

A Yes I think I knew when they got there at least,

yes, sir

Q And you played golf with Mr Williams at that event? I believe you testified to that

A I believe, yes, my son and Phil Cox and Mr Williams were in the same foursome, yes

Q Did Mr Williams bring up Anatabloc during your golf round?

A I don't remember, but it would be rare when I saw him that he didn't talk about that or stock or something about his business

Q I mean, pretty much every time you were with Mr Williams, he was mentioning something about Anatabloc and progress with the company; is that fair?

A He would say something about his business Not all the time, for instance, Cape Cod, we hardly talked at all But he would have said something about what's going on with his business, I'm sure, out at the Homestead.

Q After the Homestead, I don't know that we have talked about this or that you have talked about it on direct, do you remember golf shoes being delivered to the Governor's Mansion? Let's bring up Government Exhibit 17-A, please Do you remember golf shoes being delivered to the Mansion?

A I don't have a -- I remember the bag I don't have a clear recollection of shoes But I may have seen those over there, yes

Q Do you have a clear recollection that one pair of these shoes was for you?

A No

Q You don't have any clear recollection --

A No, I don't

Q Well, what recollection -- who, according to your recollection, who are these shoes for?

A I don't know I knew the bag was for me But I'm not sure

Q Okay But you do have a recollection of the golf clubs being delivered for your son, Bobby, to the Governor's Mansion. You testified about that

A Correct I think he told me Yes

Q And I think that you testified -- well, you knew that that was more than a thousand dollars' worth of golf clubs, right?

A I mean, it didn't come with any documents, but I knew that they were a nice set of clubs and a custom bag and that they were valuable, yes

Q I mean, you testified that you had been playing golf for 30 years

A 40

Q 40 years So is it fair to say you knew the golf clubs would be worth more than a thousand dollars with the bag?

A I don't know

Q Okay And I think that your testimony was that you told your son that this was too much.

A Yes, sir I felt that just coming out of the blue like that, that I didn't know he had any other real friendship with Mr Williams at the time So that was my -- the way it hit me when I learned about this, these clubs, yes

Q So it was that it came out of the blue

A Yes

Q But, sir, your testimony was that your wife told you that Mr Williams just gave her a $50,000 check without her even asking That's out of the blue, right?

A Yes

Q And your testimony was that you never called Mr Williams to discuss that with him until 30 to 45 days after that check, right?

A Yes

Q And even then, you didn't tell Mr Williams, "Hey, this is too much," right?

A It was a loan to my wife No

Q Did you call Mr Williams about your son, Bobby's, golf clubs?

A No

Q Let's bring up 19-A, please This is the next set

That was to your son, Sean?

A Yes

Q And it was your understanding that these were out of the blue, right?

A I did not know anything about them until they showed up So I would call that out of the blue, yes

Q In fact, your son told you that he didn't ask for them, right?

A Yes

Q You recommended to your son, Sean, that he return them, right?

A Yes

Q And he didn't return them, right?

A Right

Q And in fact, you knew that neither Bobby nor Sean returned these, right?

A Yes

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 18-A, please And that's the Notre Dame bag, right?

A Yes

Q I think you testified that you knew it was worth more than $50?

A Yes

Q This was from Mr Williams?

A Yes That's what I was told, yes

Q And it was for you.

A Yes

Q And in fact, you and Bobby and Sean all played golf together where you used that bag and they played golf with the clubs that Mr Williams purchased for them, right?

A At some point we did, yes

Q Now, was that out of the blue? Did you ask for the golf bag?

A No.

Q So that was out of the blue, too.

A Yes

Q What is the timing of the golf bag?

A I don't know I believe it was somewhere around July It seemed like it was right before our anniversary I believe June, early July I'm not certain when it was reported to me

Q And at this point you are not personal friends with Mr Williams, right?

A I did not consider him at that point we -- we were friendly, had about seven interchanges, but I would not say at that point

Q Let's go to the anniversary party The next time you saw Mr Williams was at you and your wife's 35th wedding anniversary party?

A After the Homestead?

Q Yes

A Yes I think that's right

Q Okay And your wife was obviously there at this party, right?

A Yes

Q Okay And Mr Williams was there?

A Yes

Q And his wife, Celeste, was there?

A Yes

Q Can we go to Government Exhibit 550, please. This is your family?

A Yes, sir

Q Now, is it your testimony that at this time, you didn't know that your wife was wearing a designer dress that Mr Williams had purchased for her?

A No, I did not

Q Okay And that he purchased for her in April of 2011?

A No

Q Mr McDonnell, you heard Mr Brownlee say in his opening statement that you just didn't have enough time for your wife Do you remember him saying that in opening statement?

A Words to that effect, yes, sir

Q But you and your wife actually spent a lot of time together that was unrelated to your role as Governor of Virginia, didn't you?

A I tried to spend as much time as I could, Mr Dry, with my wife and my children. What limited time I got for myself, that's how I chose to spend it So, yes, sir, as much as I could.

Q Would it surprise you -- well, and you in fact went on at least 18 out-of-town vacations with your wife in a 22-month span. Do you realize that, sir?

A If you have documents to show that I don't know, Mr Dry It may be Certainly not vacations But I couldn't tell you I tried to spend as much time as I could, I told you

Q All right, well, let's do the documents then Let's bring up Government Exhibit 771, please This is not admitted This is your schedule for April 21st -- April 22nd, I'm sorry, of 2011

A Okay

MR DRY: Move Government Exhibit 771 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR DRY:

Q I think if we go to the next, yes, there we go Actually, this is a long document It is going to be on the third page Do you see that, helo from Richmond to Virginia Beach and then going to Camp Pendleton, and this was Easter weekend, right?

A Yes

Q If we go to the next page, and the next schedule shows that you are there, well, actually, the phone records show that you are there with your wife, right? You might not know about the phone records, but do you remember going to Virginia Beach on Easter weekend, April 22nd through 24th, with your wife?

A Can we see the other page?

Q Yes And I have a hard copy document if you would like, sir

A That's okay, if we can just flip back to that other page I think you are referring to, the Friday Sure, it looks like it was an Easter weekend and my wife, my two sons, probably my daughter, because she lives down in Virginia Beach. I'm not sure who else was there, but my sons and I went there and I don't see my wife on there, but I'm fairly sure she would have been there.

Q And in fact, you went on July 1st through 5th to Washington, D.C on a family vacation in 2011?

A Yes

Q Your wife accompanied you there?

A Yes

Q And in fact, July 5th through 10th, you went to Camp

Pendleton on a family vacation Your wife accompanied you there?

A That was the same vacation. We went from D C to Camp Pendleton

Q So the entire vacation was July 1st through the 10th.

A It was a week. The whole family went on that, I believe, yes

Q Then the Barboursville anniversary weekend was the 23rd and 24th of July

A It was 24 hours, I think, but yes, those two days, yes, sir

Q Then July 28th through the 31st of 2011, that's when you went up to Smith Mountain Lake at Mr Williams' place, right?

A Yes

Q And then --

A With the family

Q October 7th through 9th of 2011, you went to Wintergreen for a family weekend with your wife

A You will have to show me on the calendar, sir I don't remember that one

Q Okay Government Exhibit 776, please This is your schedule from October 7th of 2011 If you look at Page 294 -- I'm sorry --

MR. DRY: I'd like to admit Government Exhibit

776 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is 294 See where you are departing for Wintergreen? Ms McDonnell is going to meet you there?

A Yes

Q Okay

A I think, yes, Sean was there I think there were a number of family members that were there, yes

Q Then that's 7th through 9th Then October 14th to 16th, 2011, you went to the Homestead for the annual vacation with the Damicos and the Tuckers, do you remember that?

A Yes, I do remember that

Q Then March 13th through 15th of 2012, you and your wife go to the Hammock Beach Resort in Palm Coast, Florida Do you remember that?

A Yes

Q March 30th through April 1st, you go back to Sunseeker with your wife, that's March 30th, April 1st of 2012, do you remember that?

A I believe that was a maintenance weekend where we met people down there to work on the house, yes

Q Same thing with April 15th through 16th of 2012; was that a maintenance weekend at Sunseeker?

A I believe it was If you have documents, I can look at it, sir

Q May 18th through May 26th of 2012, that was at Kiawah Island in South Carolina?

A Yes That was our annual vacation I think there were ten of us there

Q And your wife accompanied you as well?

A Yes

Q How much did that one cost?

MR. ASBILL: Objection.

THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

BY MR. DRY:

Q How much did that vacation cost you?

A It was a gift from Mr Goodwin, and I paid some along the way, but it didn't cost us much.

Q Well, sir, exactly how much of some along the way? What was that?

A I probably spent maybe $1,500 or so

Q And in fact, the vacation cost $23,000

A Yes That's right

Q Was Mr Goodwin a personal friend?

A Yes

Q How often did you socialize with Mr Goodwin?

A I had known him for about ten years

Q That wasn't my question, sir How often did you socialize with Mr Goodwin?

A Couple of times

Q When?

A I had him to the house, I met with him several times, I talked to him several times on the phone about multiple things with state business, personal business

Q Hold on You had him over to the Mansion on April 28th of 2011, right?

A I don't remember the date That sounds about right

Q It was the day before Mr Williams' dinner, right?

A No. That was the McGlothlins

Q I'm sorry So when did you have him over for dinner?

A It was sometime that year, Mr Dry I can't tell you when

Q Okay So I'm still confused How many times did you socialize with Mr Goodwin?

A I'm not -- what do you mean by "socialize"? I've talked to him many, many times and met with him many times If you mean just the two, he and I for a dinner at our house? Once

Q And how many times did you call Mr Goodwin and not discuss business?

A I can't tell you.

Q How many times did he call you and not discuss business?

A Maybe twice

Q How many children does he have?

A I think he has three

Q What are their names?

A I don't know his family that well I think he's got, I know one son, I think, that works with him in the business I don't remember his sons's names I knew he and Alice, his wife I didn't know his family, his children, that well But I knew he and his wife, and I knew him from his business at CCA and his partner, Booty Armstrong, and I knew him a lot from talking about what was important about our state and we became friends through our common interest in Virginia

Q How many text messages did you exchange with him?

A Maybe just one or two. I don't think I had his cell phone until late

Q Late when?

A I don't know Maybe '12 I'm not sure

Q So did you have his cell phone number before or after the Kiawah Island, South Carolina trip?

A I don't know I think it might have actually been right about that time, because I think I called him on all three of his numbers that I could to thank him for letting us use that facility for my family

Q So there was one dinner

A Yes, that I remember, at the Mansion.

Q A couple of text messages

A I believe I don't remember how many, Mr Dry

Q You don't remember --

A We primarily communicated by phone and we communicated when we were at meetings together to talk about things But I had known him probably for, I think probably five or six years at least, at that point

Q I thought you said ten years, sir

A It was certainly sometime when I was Attorney General that I met him. I knew of him before that I really can't tell you when we first became, when I first got to know him. But it would have been sometime during my time, I believe, as Attorney General, which would have been starting in 2005 or so

Q Can you walk me through how you would define a personal friend?

A Well, what matters is what the law requires in terms of reporting

Q That's not what I am asking I'm asking for your definition of a personal friend.

A I think a personal friend would be somebody that you have common interests with, that you feel an affinity with, that you have mutual respect for, and have an interest in speaking with you about things that might not necessarily be related to your job. Some of it might be, some of it might not be I have been blessed, Mr Dry, over the years with so many friends through politics, through my church, through many different affiliations It is hard to put into words Some people I become fast friends with because of our common bond, because of our children, because of our love for this state I mean, I can't put it into words I think most people understand what a friend is when they have one So it is hard to define But that's what I would say, sir

Q Did Mr Goodwin -- was Mr Goodwin invited to Cailin McDonnell's wedding?

A I don't remember

Q Was he invited to your daughter, Jeanine's, wedding?

A I don't think so But I don't remember

Q So your testimony is that you thought that Mr Goodwin was your personal friend as of the time that he paid $23,000 for your Kiawah Island vacation on May 18th through 26th of 2012

A Yes

Q Okay July 3rd through 4th of 2012, do you remember going to Camp Pendleton with your wife?

A Sounds like a Fourth of July weekend. If you have something on the schedule, Mr Dry, you could show me It may be We typically try to take advantage of the Camp

Pendleton facility over holiday periods of time Yes

Q What is Camp Pendleton?

A Camp Pendleton is the State Military Reservation at Camp Pendleton It is in Virginia Beach, and it is a state reservation with National Guard units and so forth. And there is also a house there that probably for forty, fifty years has been a house that has been available for the Governor's use There is one for the Adjutant General, for the Executive Protection Unit, and there are multiple units and facilities on the post

Q How much do you have to pay for your family to stay there?

A No governors have to pay for that house.

Q Okay Can you look on that schedule? It is Government Exhibit 782

MR. DRY: Your Honor, this is a schedule for July 3rd through 4th of 2012 I move that into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q You can scroll through Camp Pendleton, July 3rd through 4th, July 4th weekend?

A Yes, sir Again, another time with my family

Q Including your wife

A My wife, Bobby, Sean, and it says Jeanine will meet us there, and we may have had some other friends over

But yes, sir, I used Camp Pendleton four or five times during the time I was Governor And I really appreciated it, that opportunity

Q You went back to Smith Mountain Lake on July 19th through 22nd of 2012?

A Yes We went three years in a row for a weekend, yes, sir

Q That was with your wife as well

A She did not go the first year She went the second and third years, yes

Q Right, but the 2012 --

A Yes

Q She was there

A She was there, yes

Q And then five days later you go up to National Harbor, July 27th through 29th, for Redskinettes Reunion with your wife?

A That sounds right If you have a slide, I think that sounds right, yes

Q Government Exhibit 783, please This is a schedule for July 28th of 2012

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 783 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

THE WITNESS: Yes, I recognize this

BY MR DRY:

Q Okay That's July 27th through 29th Then the next month, August 31st to September 3rd, that's the Chatham Bars Inn?

A Yes

Q Then -- and that was with your wife, obviously

A Yes

Q October 12th through 13th, 2012, that was another Homestead vacation with the Damicos and Tuckers?

A And Mullens

Q And your wife was there for that?

A It is my high school friends We try to do that at least once a year

Q Then November 30th through December 2nd of 2012, that's back to Sunseeker with your wife Do you remember that?

A I don't But if you can --

Q Government Exhibit 785

MR. DRY: The government moves Government Exhibit 785 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

THE WITNESS: Yes, that was painting and maintenance and working, yes I remember that

BY MR. DRY:

Q How about January 5th through 7th of 2013, a Miami

Beach, Florida vacation with you and your wife? Do you remember that?

A You will have to show me that.

Q Government Exhibit 786 This is a schedule for January 5th of 2013

MR. DRY: Government moves Government 786 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q Do you see that, sir? You go down, eight a m., 10:30 a.m., you are going down with your wife, Bruce Thompson, Patricia Timm, Bobby, Sean, and Cailin; do you remember that?

A Yes, there were other people there Notre Dame was in the National Championship game, and I'm a graduate and I attended the game, yes

Q It was 18 out-of-town trips with your wife in a 22-month span, right?

A Trips, not vacations There were more trips than that But those were the ones that you have outlined here

Q Mr McDonnell, I'm going to show you a few pictures I'd like for you to identify these for me Government Exhibit 768, please Do you recognize this photo?

A Yes, I do

Q That's a photo of you and your wife arriving at the courthouse together for the January 24th, 2014 arraignment in this case, right?

A Yes, sir, it is

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 769, please

MR DRY: I'd like to move in Government's 768

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR DRY:

Q I'd like to now go to Government Exhibit 769 Do you recognize this photo, sir?

A Yes

Q This is a photo of you and your wife arriving at the courthouse together for the February 3rd motions hearing in this case, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 769 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q I'd like to now go to Government Exhibit 770, please Do you recognize this photo, sir?

A Yes, I do

Q This is a photo of you and your wife arriving at the courthouse together for the May 19th motions hearing in this case?

A Absolutely I recognize it

MR. DRY: Move Government Exhibit 770 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q You can take that down, please All right, we talked a lot about vacations, but I want to talk about the Smith Mountain Lake trip in particular, which was July 28th through 31st of 2011, right?

A Okay

Q That was the weekend after the anniversary party at Barboursville; do you remember that?

A Yes

Q And can we bring up Government Exhibit 181 into evidence? This is admitted. Now, your children actually drove up in Mr Williams' Range Rover, right?

A I believe so I think I drove separately, so I'm not sure

Q So you're not sure; you didn't know that that white Range Rover sitting in the driveway was Mr Williams'?

A I did. You asked me if I knew who drove it I think my daughter, Rachel, drove it

Q Okay And I'd like to stick with that picture, please Now, when you arrived at Smith Mountain Lake, I think your testimony was that Mr Williams' Ferrari wasn't there, right?

A No, sir, I didn't see a Ferrari

Q Okay And I think your testimony was that, and it sounded like you were a little bit unsure, but that you first saw it in the garage with a car cover over it, like you peeked in and saw it

A I mean, that's my best recollection All I can tell you is I did not see any other vehicle there when I got there. I arrived in a State Police vehicle

Q So is it your testimony that you opened up the garage and went and got the car cover off of it and then you backed it out?

A No, my testimony is I don't remember when I first saw it, because I was in the back of the house We were primarily there for water sports I just don't know when I first saw it, Mr Dry, that weekend.

Q But your testimony is it wasn't there when you got there

A No, sir

Q Like it wasn't in the driveway at least

A I did not see it, no, sir

Q But you did testify -- let's go to Government Exhibit 198, please It is admitted. Go to the second page, please Now, you did drive the Ferrari not just back, right, you drove it to the clubhouse?

A Yes, my best recollection is I drove it once up to the clubhouse I think we were meeting our hosts, the Teppers, for a brunch. And that's my best recollection, as I think I drove it a little over half a mile up to the clubhouse

Q But to be clear, you didn't have to drive the Ferrari to the clubhouse EPU would have taken you, right?

A That's right Yes, sir

Q And Mr Williams had a boat delivered there for you, or rented a boat for you, right?

A Yes

Q Did you know that at the time, that this wasn't his personal boat, that he was renting a boat just for you and your family?

A Yes

Q Now then, around 7 o'clock on that Sunday night, you leave Smith Mountain Lake in Mr Williams' Ferrari, right?

A Yes, I did.

Q And your kids drove Mr Williams' Range Rover back?

A I think that's right I'm a little fuzzy I think that's right

Q Well, let's bring up Government Exhibit 185, please That's the e-mail that your wife sends to Mr Williams on 7-31-2011 at 7:47 p.m. I'm sorry

A Again, I'll take your word for it I didn't send it

I don't know

Q All right Well, can you go to the next page? You knew your wife was taking pictures of you during this, right?

A Yes, sir I think I saw her taking pictures of me, yes

Q Okay And you told Tucker Martin that you were driving the Ferrari back as a favor to Mr Williams?

A I don't believe those were my words

Q Well, what were your words to Tucker Martin?

A I don't remember the exact conversation, but I said, I told him that I was driving it back because my wife had told me that Mr Williams had asked to have the Ferrari brought back because he was going to give it to his daughter, Rachel So he asked us to drive the car back. I don't remember when I learned that, but at some point I did that He may have construed that as a favor I know we were asked to bring that car back and he would pick it up That's what I knew

Q But you heard Tucker Martin testify that you told him there was no recreational use of the Ferrari, right?

A I may have heard him say that, yes

Q So all right, in any event, while you are driving home, your wife talked to Mr Williams on the phone?

A Yes

Q And can we bring up Government Exhibit 183? Mr Asbill suggested on cross-examination of Special Agent Hulser that you might not have heard the conversation because of the wind Did you not know that your wife was on the phone with Mr Williams?

A Yes, I did.

Q So you overheard her talking to Mr Williams

A No, I said I knew she was on the phone with Mr Williams

Q How did you know that?

A Because I talked to him.

Q You talked to Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q Okay And exactly what did you tell Mr Williams?

A I said, "Thank you for letting us use your house for the weekend. That was very nice of you, and I really appreciate it "

Q And that was the sum total of your part of the conversation?

A I think so, yes, sir

Q And what did you overhear your wife talking to Mr Williams about?

A I don't know It was loud in the car But she was mostly talking about what a good time we had that weekend. That's all I heard

Q So she is not hiding the fact that she is talking to Mr Williams from you?

A No

Q Now, I think that you testified that you were unaware of any conversations between you and your wife about a meeting with Mr Williams the next morning, right? You don't know --

MR. ASBILL: Excuse me, unaware of any conversation between you and your wife

MR. DRY: Let's bring up Government Exhibit 821, then.

MR. ASBILL: My question is are you unaware of any conversation with you and your wife

THE COURT: No, no I think I heard --

BY MR. DRY:

Q You were unaware of any conversations between you -- between Mr Williams and your wife about a meeting that he was going to have the next morning

A Until I got home, yes

Q Okay And you arrived back at the Governor's Mansion at approximately 10 o'clock that night?

A That's my best recollection It was ten, 10:15, I think, because it was about a three-hour ride and we left about seven. I think that's right, yes

Q And approximately about an hour after you arrived, you e-mailed Bill Hazel?

A Yes

Q And you testified that your wife informed you that she had a meeting to discuss Star Scientific doing clinical trials at UVA and VCU

A Well, I think I understood from her that it was she and Mary-Shea and Mr Williams, I believe, is what she told me that evening

Q And so the only people that were supposed to be at this meeting were Mr Williams, your wife, and maybe Mary-Shea, or Mary-Shea was definitely going to be at the meeting?

A I don't remember That's my best recollection of what she told me, and she told me what the topic was

Q Could we bring up Government Exhibit 189, please? You sent this e-mail, the bottom one, at 11:29 p.m.?

A Yes

Q So you are telling Mr Hazel, "Send somebody to this," ten-and-a-half hours after this e-mail The meeting is set for ten-and-a-half hours after this e-mail

A Yes, sir

Q Now, I want to make sure I get this right You testified on direct with Mr Asbill that, quote, "Once I learned what the purpose of the meeting was, I wanted to have just someone from the Secretariat there just to monitor, to see what was said, so that no commitments or decisions were made unless somebody with the expertise was there " Do you remember testifying that?

A Yes, that's exactly what I said

Q But sir, throughout this trial, you and your wife's attorneys have argued that your wife was not a public official, right?

A She is not

Q And as such, she had no decision making authority whatsoever, did she?

A Not for official action. She made a lot of decisions.

Q So if your wife is not a public official and she can't make any decisions on official action, but you felt it was necessary to have someone there to make sure no decisions were made; is that right?

A Yes

Q So your testimony is that you e-mailed Dr Hazel because -- without knowing that Mr Williams wanted to have a meeting with somebody in Mr Hazel's shop.

A I'm sorry, could you repeat that?

Q Your testimony is that you e-mailed Dr Hazel without knowing that Mr Williams was in fact requesting a meeting with somebody from Hazel's shop.

A Absolutely

Q You knew that Mr Williams and your wife had meetings before this one, right?

A Let's see I may have, Mr Dry

Q I mean, to be clear, you knew by this point that he had met her to deliver a $15,000 and a $50,000 check.

A Yes

Q And you knew, you testified on direct that you knew that there was some kind of friendship, relationship between Mr Williams and your wife?

A I had an idea I didn't know how frequent the communication was at that time But yes, I knew that there was -- that they had a friendship And I knew she enjoyed going to Roskamp, yes

Q And in fact, you knew that Mr Williams didn't really need to make an appointment to have a meeting with your wife, right? I mean, they are friends

A I can't say that It is different at the Governor's Mansion Most people make appointments

Q Okay

A All my friends make appointments with me

Q Well, it is fair to say that by this point you've gotten the June 16th, 2011 letter from Mr Williams

A Yes

Q And you know that he wants studies at UVA and VCU, right?

A I know what the letter said.

Q So you are saying that Mr Williams sends you a letter recommending studies at UVA and VCU, but you don't know that Mr. Williams wants to have studies at --

A No, that's not what I said. I don't know what Mr Williams exactly wanted. He is making a proposal about something he called a Virginia Study I forwarded that on as I would the hundreds of things like that I got to the appropriate Cabinet Secretary, Dr Hazel, with an FYI, probably Action as Appropriate So I don't know what the status of Mr Williams and Star Scientific's discussions were with UVA and VCU at the time other than what I see in the letter

Q I guess my question is, did you know that Mr Williams' goal, one of his goals, was to have his product tested at UVA and VCU as of the date of that meeting?

A I knew what the letter said

Q That's -- that's not the question, sir Did you know as of the date of the Huffstetler meeting that Mr Williams, one of his goals was to have UVA and VCU perform studies of his product?

A I'm telling you, I knew what the letter said to me, that I glanced at on the 16th And I knew what my wife told me on the evening of July 31st That's all I knew

Q The day after the August 1st meeting, your wife buys more shares of Star Scientific?

A I know that now I learned that probably six or seven months ago

Q Throughout that, she is using -- the broker is Mr Piscitelli, right?

A Yes

Q Now, he is the godfather to one of your daughters?

A Yes, he is

Q And you've known Mr Piscitelli for over 20 years?

A 25, yes

Q Let's bring up Government Exhibit 199 This is admitted. This is an e-mail from your wife to you with a quote from a Patrick Cox talking about Anatabloc

A Yes

Q Did you receive this?

A I don't know I get so many e-mails during the course of the day, I don't know if I got that one or not I'm sure I got it Whether I looked at it is another story I don't know

Q So your testimony is that you had no idea at this point that your wife still held Star Scientific stock?

A No

Q Did you know that your wife held Star Scientific stock at this date?

A You asked me if I knew she bought it back, and I said no

Q I'm sorry Did you know that she held Star Scientific stock as of this date?

A I knew what she told me on June 5th, Mr Dry, which is that she had purchased Star Scientific stock for the children. I told you what I understood from her, that it was actually in the childrens' name as opposed to being in her name with a goal of getting it to the children So the answer is, I did not know that she had stock in her name as of August 4th, 2011

Q Did you think that the stock was in the childrens' name as of August 4th, 2011?

A That was my understanding

Q So it hadn't been disposed of in any way It hadn't been sold by this date

A No

Q Okay That was your understanding

A Yes

Q Okay Now, after you, a couple weeks after this, you go back and play golf at Mr Williams' country club?

A Yes August 13th, I believe Yes

Q Can we bring up Government Exhibit 200? Go to the second page Or third page, I think. Yes, right there Can you zoom in on the August 13th, that second one right there? Go up There we go This is your August 13th, 2011, the Kinloch statement for that?

A I never saw this until a few months ago

Q But you played with your son on that date; you remember that?

A I think I played with both of my sons I'm not sure But yes, I did play with at least one of them. Yes

Q Okay And I think that there was $600 in greens fees, $53 in golf balls Can we show that? Do you remember going in the pro shop on this time?

A I don't

Q So just so I'm clear, you are not denying that you went in the pro shop. You just don't remember.

A Yes, I don't

Q There was food at the snack bar, both you and your sons have your own caddies

MR. ASBILL: Is he testifying or is there a question?

THE COURT: Ask a question

MR DRY: Yes, sir

BY MR DRY:

Q Do you remember getting golf balls at that --

A No, sir, I don't

Q Had Mr Williams told you, "Charge up anything you want on my account"?

A No

Q Okay Let's go to the Anatabloc launch, please Let's go -- or the lunch, whichever, the August 30th, 2011 event

A I didn't know what you were talking about

Q At around the same time that you are playing golf at Mr Williams' golf course, your wife is involved in this, the planning for the Mansion event for Anatabloc, or this August 30th event Did you know that she was involved in the planning for that event at the time?

A Not at the time

Q Okay Mr Zubowsky is your personal aide, right?

A Yes

Q And in fact, he is like your righthand man, right?

A Yes

Q He makes sure you get to places on time and you know what you are doing, right?

A He does, yes

Q Now, I have one question on that Was it normal for people that wanted to get hold of you to call Mr Zubowsky up as a way of being able to talk to you?

A Yes, or Monica or Pam. But yes, he would be one of them, absolutely

Q So if you are on the road or you are traveling or anything else like that and somebody wants to get hold of you, they would oftentimes call Mr Zubowsky and he would hand you the phone or decide whether you actually needed to take that call

A Yes, sir, that happened, frequently

Q Did that include with your wife? Would your wife call Mr Zubowsky to get hold of you?

A Sometimes, yes

Q Well, which was more often, for her to call Mr Zubowsky to get hold of you or to call your private cell phone?

A She would usually try to call my private cell phone first

Q Okay And then were there occasions where she just didn't even try to call your private cell phone and would just call Adam?

MR BURCK: Objection.

THE WITNESS: I don't really know Probably I don't know.

BY MR. DRY:

Q Okay Now, let's go to Government Exhibit 207 This is an August 16th, 2011 exchange between Ms Sutherland and you Do you see that? I'm sorry, Ms Sutherland and Adam.

A And Mr Zubowsky, yes

Q All right Let's go down, what's the date and time of this e-mail, sir, at the bottom from Adam Zubowsky to Ms Sutherland?

A August 16th at 2:50 p.m.

Q And he writes to her, "Can you send me info on fl lunch at Mansion " Correct?

A Yes

Q The time on that is 2:50?

A Yes

Q Can we go to Government Exhibit 584, please? Now, on the 16tn, there is a phone call from your wife to you at 2:47 p.m., right?

A Well, I'm not sure I thought these asterisks meant that you weren't sure that the call happened

Q I believe that the asterisks mean that it is on one phone record but not on the other Not meaning that it didn't happen, but -- is that right?

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

I'm sorry The asterisk means that there is a one-minute time difference between the two phone records So I guess what I am asking is, do you remember having a phone call with your wife at 2:47 p.m., plus or minus a minute, for three minutes?

A I don't We were out in the western part of the state that day, had just landed in the helicopter going to an event The answer is I don't remember a call

Q So you don't recall your wife discussing the need for you to attend the Anatabloc event and then Mr Zubowsky e-mailing Ms Sutherland to get the details?

A No.

Q Are you saying that didn't happen or you just don't recall it happening?

A No, I have no -- I don't think that happened I have no recollection of any discussion about that other than me talking to Mr Zubowsky and him getting back to Mary-Shea

Q Can we go back to Government Exhibit 207, please? And then when he is talking about WTOP, that's your radio address thing, right?

A Yes, sir It is one of the shows I do -- I did once a month

Q And that occurs in Washington, D.C.?

A Yes

Q Now, Ms Sutherland, she lays this out for Mr Zubowsky, and in fact, she says the date for the lunch was selected due to the launch of the product Do you see that?

A Yes I'm not copied on that, but I see that there

Q I guess my question is, did you and Mr Zubowsky discuss this event at this time?

A I'm sure we did because I told him I would go for thirty minutes

Q Okay And in fact, you testified that Mr Zubowsky told you, quote, told you what he knew about it Right?

A I'm sure he did.

Q Did he tell you that the date for the lunch was selected due to the launch of the product?

A No

Q You are clear that didn't happen?

A I have no recollection of that happening

Q So when he testified that he told you what he knew about it, that would be he told you less than what he knew about it

A Mr Dry, I don't know I don't know what he knew I just know he told me what I thought he knew about the event, which was very brief We were in the car and we made a scheduling decision. That's all I know

Q Can we go to Government Exhibit 208, please? It has been admitted. In this e-mail, this is from Mr Zubowsky to Mary-Shea Sutherland, and that's when he relates that you want to go to the last part of the lunch, right?

A Yes

Q Okay And you don't remember having any discussions in this time frame with your wife about this event?

A No

Q Okay Let's go to Government Exhibit 231, please This has been admitted. You have seen this before, right?

A Yes I think so Yes

Q And your name is on the top left-hand corner and the subject is, "Lunch with Virginia researchers," right?

A Yes

Q "Location: Executive Mansion " The organizer on the calendar is your wife, right?

A Yes

Q It is not Mary-Shea, right?

A No Not on this document

Q Turning to Page 2, please Now, this is the Executive Mansion briefing form, right?

A Yes

Q And in the upper right-hand corner it says it was prepared on August 29th? Upper right-hand corner

A Yes

Q That was typical, that you would get these the night before, right?

A Yes

Q In your briefing book. Now, the handwriting down below, I believe Mr Asbill asked you about Carrie Cantrell

A Yes

Q She was deputy -- she was Secretary Cheng's deputy, right?

A Yes

Q You star that and then you star Clore, but I think your direct testimony was that you don't know, remember, why you starred Clore

A Other than I knew that VCU and UVA people were going to be there I didn't know Dr Clore

Q Okay Turning to Page 3, Mr Asbill didn't ask you about some of these other people I want to go through that You starred Jasen Eige, and he is going to be going to the event, right?

A Yes

Q And then you star Dr Lazo, right?

A Yes

Q And your testimony is you didn't have any conversation with your wife about Dr Lazo's importance at this event?

A I didn't know who he was No Other than that UVA and VCU were going to be invited, no.

Q Okay And then right below Dr Lazo, that's your wife's name and your name, right?

A Yes

Q Then going further down, Diane Roskamp and Bob Roskamp. You write in the Roskamps

A Yes

Q You knew that Roskamp was one of the places that was doing studies of Anatabloc?

A Yes

Q Going back to the second page really quickly, David Dean, had you met David Dean by this point?

A I am not sure I saw Mr Dean a couple -- I don't know I saw him a few times at Kinloch.

Q But you understood from reading this that he was going to be attending from Star

A Yes

Q Okay

A Yes.

Q Then let's go to the third page And you knew Mr Pokusa from Star was attending, you knew Mr Perito was attending, and then going down, you saw Mr Williams, Sr and Jr You saw Curtis Wright from Rock Creek Sir, after seeing this, did you really not understand that this was a Star Scientific event?

A No I knew what it said on the briefing sheet

Q Well, you did go to the event, right?

A Yes

Q And you flew back up in the state helicopter from your interview with WTOP back to the Executive Mansion.

A Yes

Q Or back to the airport and then drove to the Executive Mansion, right?

A Yes

Q Now, when you walked in, you saw Jonnie Williams and Star Scientific people in the room, right?

A Yes

Q And when you sat down, you were seated next to Mr Williams?

A Yes, I think so

Q Because you were at the southern end of the table, right?

A Yes

Q And your wife was sitting at the northern end?

A Yes I believe so. That's right

Q And Mr Williams was seated right next to you?

A I think so, yes

Q But you don't remember a tobacco leaf

A I don't

Q Okay But when you are going to sit down, did you see the Anatabloc at the place settings?

A I didn't

Q You didn't see it?

A I got there an hour and ten minutes after it started. I don't remember seeing it

Q Was it that you don't remember seeing it or you know it wasn't there when you got there?

A No, I'm saying I don't remember seeing it

Q Okay You knew that representatives from UVA and VCU were going to be there?

A Yes

Q And you knew they were state employees, right?

A Yes

Q And I think you testified that you listened to the Star Scientific consultants and scientists or the scientists from Johns Hopkins talk about the research and that was interesting to you

A It was, yes

Q And I think you testified on direct that having studies done of Anatabloc, that you were in favor of having that done in Virginia, right?

A Sure.

Q Did you express that to Mr Williams at this event?

A I don't know if I talked to him about it there, sir

///

///

///

///

///

///

///

///

///

///

Q Okay Did you talk to -- you don't remember talking to him at that event Do you remember expressing support for the idea of UVA and VCU studies to Mr Williams ever?

A Probably Anything I could do in Virginia, I wanted to do in Virginia

Q Okay

A Yes

Q Do you remember specific times when you told him that?

A I don't

Q Was it more than once?

A I don't know

Q Okay While all this is going on, this is a pretty difficult time in Virginia, right, as far as natural disasters go?

A We were winding up the third natural disaster Yes

Q The emergency workers are still trying to get the Great Dismal Swamp under control?

A Yes

Q And a week before, central Virginia was hit with a 5 8 earthquake Do you remember that?

A Yes

Q And that required the shutdown of the North Anna Nuclear Power Plant?

A Yes I went there to see it Yes

Q And, in fact, two days before this event, the federal government had declared Virginia a national emergency area? Do you remember that?

A Yes. I asked for it

Q And that was because Hurricane Irene hit?

A Yes

Q And, in fact, while you're at the Star Scientific -- while you're at the August 30th event, almost a quarter of a million people in Richmond were without power, right?

A I don't know if that's -- I don't know the number

Q But you knew that the hurricane was still having disaster complications for Virginia at this point?

A Yes That's why I met with Secretary Napolitano an hour later to talk about that

Q Now, at this point, Mr Williams had already paid for your daughter's wedding reception, the 15,000, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And he had given your wife a $50,000 check?

A Yes

MR ASBILL: Object Asked and answered repeatedly

MR DRY: No This is at this point

THE COURT: Overruled

BY MR DRY:

Q Out of that $50,000, 20,000 of that paid off your wife and yours credit card cards, right?

A Yes

Q The golf at Kinloch, right?

A Yes

Q Now, Mr Eige went to that luncheon with you, didn't he?

A Yes

Q And he was one of your most senior advisors?

A Yes

Q He was your policy counselor or policy advisor?

A And my legal counsel

Q And your legal counsel?

A Yes.

Q That's right But you never told him anything about these payments and things of value you were getting from Mr Williams, right?

A No

Q You never discussed any of that at this point with Martin Kent, did you?

A No

Q Phil Cox didn't know anything about this at this point, right?

A No I didn't tell him

Q Janet Kelly?

A No

Q You attend a reception at the Commonwealth Club on September 7th of 2011 Do you remember that?

A I don't, Mr Dry If you've got a schedule to refresh my memory I don't

Q Well, let's do it this way

MR DRY: Let's bring up Government's Exhibit 7 This has been admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Do you remember -- does that look like the inside of the Commonwealth Club, sir? It's the West Ballroom?

A Yes, it does look like it

Q Okay And do you remember, on September 7th, 2011, posing with a picture of Anatabloc?

A I don't

Q You don't remember that?

A No I've got hundreds of pictures of me with products I don't remember this, no

Q Do you remember who asked you to take the picture?

A No, sir

Q But that is you in the picture holding Anatabloc, right?

A Yes, it is

Q And do you think that happened in the September 2011 time frame?

A I have no idea I don't remember

Q Okay Let's go to the Cure By Design event The next time you saw Mr Williams was at the Cure By Design on September 24th of 2011; is that right? From August 30th to September 24th?

A That sounds right

Q Now, at this point --

THE COURT: Let's stop here before you get into that

MR DRY: Yes, sir

THE COURT: Fifteen minutes

(Recess taken from 3:58 p m until 4:18 p m)

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

THE COURT: All right Mr Dry

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, I'd like to go to the Cure By Design event on September 24, 2011 Okay?

A Okay

Q At that event Mr Williams was seated at the head table with you and Ms McDonnell, correct, or seated at the table right next to the stage?

A I got there very late I think that's right Yes

Q And at that point you knew that Ms McDonnell had asked Mr Williams to have Brad Kroenig, the model, come to the event?

A I believe so

Q So she communicated with you about that event before the event, right?

A I believe so I'm not real sure, but I think I knew he was coming

Q Okay And during --

MR DRY: Can we bring up Government's Exhibit 246-2

BY MR DRY:

Q During that event, you and your wife were on stage with Mr Kroenig, and I think that's Mr Garfield?

A Yes The MC

Q The MC

A Yes

Q And one of the auction items was a trip to New York to visit Mr Garfield, right?

A It turned out to be I don't know if it was at the beginning

Q Okay

A Yes

Q And, in fact, it kind of changed over time through the progression where it wasn't just to visit Mr Garfield in New York, but that you and your wife were going to be on the trip as well?

A Unfortunately, yes

Q And during this, Mr Williams, he's bidding on the trip, right?

A Yes

Q In fact, you were there with your wife watching him bid against himself?

A I think so

Q And, in fact, he bid up to -- I think it was -- you testified on direct, 15,000?

A That's my recollection Yes

Q And he ultimately won the trip?

A Yes

Q But you knew that that trip wasn't going to happen You weren't going to be going up to New York to visit Alex Garfield?

A Absolutely right

Q Right And did you tell Mr Williams that?

A I don't remember Probably

Q Well, he just won the trip, $15,000, right?

A Yes

Q You didn't tell him, "Hey, Mr Williams" --

A I'm sure I told him I knew that trip was not happening because I wasn't going to go

Q So you told him that at or near that time?

A I'm pretty sure I would have talked to him right afterwards Yes

Q Okay And the trip didn't happen, right?

A Not to New York, no

Q Okay And that $15,000, that went to the Cancer Society, right?

A I think that was the beneficiary It was a cancer-related event I think the Cancer Society, yes, sir, was the recipient

Q Okay Now, after that event, you go out to dinner with Mr Williams, Brad Kroenig, and your wife, right?

A Yes I thought there were other people there But the four of us were there, yes

Q And I was a little bit unclear Did you know how expensive the dinner was going to be, or was at the time?

A No

Q Did you offer to pay for the dinner?

A No I don't think so

Q Now, at this point, Mr Williams, he's not your personal friend, on September 24th of 2011?

A I'd say he was a friend, but -- I had seen him a number of times then I had liked him I always liked him from the beginning We were friendly, and I knew he was friends with my wife

Q So he was more friends with your wife and not your personal friend, right?

A Well, I would say Yes

Q Now, I want to fast-forward.

MR. DRY: Can we pull up Government's Exhibit 250, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And I believe that you testified that you certainly never saw this before the investigation, right?

A Not the invitation, no

Q Okay And I believe -- did you testify on direct that you didn't know that your wife was going to this event?

A That's right I did not But that wouldn't be uncommon; that I wouldn't know she was going to certain events

Q You knew that Mr Williams had originally requested that you go to this event, right?

A I learned that after the investigation started; that we declined But I don't know that contemporaneously

MR DRY: Well, let's bring up Government's Exhibit 245 that's been admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, the e-mail at the bottom, that's from Katherine Harris to Mary-Shea Sutherland, right?

A Yes, sir, it is

Q And Katherine Harris, at this time, is your scheduler?

A Yes

Q And so it looks like Katherine Harris is asking Ms. Sutherland do you need to be at this event, right?

A That's what it says, yes

Q And Ms Sutherland responds back and she says, well, it's Jonnie Williams Anatabloc dinner to tell docs about the product He wants both governor and FLOVA to attend "Jasen and Martin should discuss "

Now, who is Jasen and Martin?

A Jasen is my Chief of Policy, my counsel And Martin Kent is my Chief of Staff

Q So she's -- Ms Sutherland is recommending that your senior advisors discuss this before you commit to it, right?

A Well, Mr Dry, I'm not on this e-mail I don't know what happened I never saw this at the time That's what it says, sir

Q Did -- you heard Mr Kent testify that ultimately, he decided you should not attend the event, right?

A I don't remember If you say he said that, then he did I don't -- I don't remember that part of his testimony

Q Well, do you remember him testifying that he was uncomfortable with the idea of you attending this event because you had already done the Anatabloc Mansion event on August 30th?

A I don't remember that exact testimony

Q Well, let's -- let me try and refresh your recollection

A Okay

MR DRY: Government Exhibit 757, please This is the transcript Lines 16, and it goes on It's 2580

BY MR DRY:

Q Just take a minute Take a minute, sir Starting with line 16 And then let us know when you want us to go to the next page

A Okay Next page

Okay How far do you want me to read?

Q I think it goes down to line 9 2581, line 9

THE COURT: I can't hear you

MR DRY: I'm sorry 2581, line 9

BY MR DRY:

Q This says that Mr Kent made the decision for you not to go?

A Yeah, that's what it said Which he did on countless occasions, yes

Q Okay So as far as -- I just want to make sure I'm clear on your testimony

A Yes

Q You're saying that Mr Kent never told you that he had decided that you would not go to this event?

A No But that wasn't unusual He did that countless times

Q Okay And at this time, Mr Kent doesn't know anything about the personal financial relationship you have between -- you and your wife have between Mr Williams, right?

A Well, he would know about donations to the PAC and donations to the campaign, and he certainly knew we used the plane He may have known we went to Smith Mountain Lake, but I don't know what else he knew I certainly didn't tell him, or anyone else, about my personal finances

Q Let's go to the Michigan event on October 22nd I believe that you testified that you knew that your wife did go to this event?

A Yes

Q And --

A Well, no

Q Well --

A I didn't know it was an event I knew she went --

Q Went to Michigan

A To Michigan, yes

Q And you knew that she flew on Mr Williams' private jet?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 256 This has been admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, the bottom e-mail is Mr Caturegli to your wife, and it's laying out their discussions on the aircraft back, I believe is what it says

Can you go up to the -- and it's talking about doing studies at Virginia government employees It talks about the C-reactive protein marker that you testified about before

MR DRY: Can you go up, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, she responds that, "Thanks for your e-mail, and I printed it out and shared it with my husband He'd like to talk to some people to look into it and discern what the best approach for Virginia would be "

Did your wife print this out and share it with you?

A I don't have any recollection, Mr Dry, of seeing this contemporaneously I saw it sometime after the investigation But I don't remember that at the time, no

Q Would that be something that you would remember, if your wife had printed out an e-mail discussing the idea of testing an Anatabloc on government employees?

MR BURCK: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Overruled

A I couldn't tell you I get hundreds of e-mails a week I try to look at ones that come from my wife, but I get hundreds from staff They get put in my read file I just -- I honestly can't tell you, Mr. Dry, whether I would have -- this would have jumped out at me as something significant But I have no contemporaneous recollection of seeing this document

Q Well, let's do it this way In this time frame of October of 2011, did you have discussions with your wife in which she brought up the idea of having Anatabloc tested on government employees?

A Not that I recall No

Q And that would be something you would recall?

A Maybe

Q Okay Let's go -- let's go to your 2011 Statement of Economic Interest This is Government's Exhibit 289 It's been admitted

A Yes

Q Okay Just so we're clear, this is for year 2011, but it's -- you submit it January 15th or 16th of 2012; is that right?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, on the first page, under question 2, "Personal Liabilities," you check yes; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay And that can be personal liabilities of either you or a member of your immediate family?

A Yes

Q And then going to question 3, you check no regarding whether you or a member of your immediate family own any securities valued more than 10,000, right?

A Yes

Q And then under the gift box you check yes, received gifts in excess of $50?

A Yes

Q Okay Let's go to Page 4 of the SOEI. This is the liabilities page Do you see that, sir?

A Yes

Q Now, you list no personal debts other than from banks, correct? You've got the banks one But if we go to the "Individual creditors," there's zero, and "Other businesses," none

A Yes

Q Now, going down, though, for the personal debts of the members of your immediate family --

A Yes

Q -- again, banks is X, and then you put "Medical Services," 10 to $50,000?

A Yes

Q Now, I think you've repeatedly testified about this on direct, that this was your disclosure of the loan from Mr Williams to your wife, right?

A Yes

Q And to be clear, that's the only individual creditor that is listed -- well, that is the only entry -- this Jonnie Williams disclosure, there's no other individual creditors or other business loans disclosed, right?

A Yes Not individual Yes

Q So there's no disclosure regarding the Dr Davis loan, right?

A No

Q Well, let's go back to the prior's year SOEI

MR DRY: This is not admitted This is Government Exhibit 707 for SOEI year 2010 And just flip through that so --

BY MR DRY:

Q Are you familiar with this document, sir?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government's Exhibit 707 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q And you filed this in January of 2011; is that right?

A Yes

Q And when you filed this, Mr Williams had not given you or your wife any loans, right?

A Right

Q And on the first page under question 2, "Personal Liabilities," you check yes again?

A Yes

Q And then on Page 3, "My personal debts are as follows:" It's got "Medical Services" there --

A Yes

Q -- for your personal debts?

Now, that was the loan from Dr Davis?

A Yes

Q Now, by March of 2010, the year that this is -- this disclosure form is for, Dr Davis had given you a loan of $50,000, correct?

A Yes

Q And to be clear, he wasn't giving you this loan because he expected anything official from you, right?

A I think he expected to be paid back

Q Okay And he hadn't asked to meet with any state officials, right?

A I wouldn't always know, but I don't think so

Q He certainly hadn't asked you?

A I don't think so No

Q And he hadn't asked your wife, as far as you know?

A I don't know He was her physician --
Q Right
A -- for a number of years So I don't -- I don't know
Q He didn't have any product that he wanted tested by UVA and VCU on, as far as you knew?
A No, Mr Dry, he did not
Q Okay And you were making monthly payments to Dr Davis of $1000 90 a month, right?
A Yes Out of the MoBo account, yes
Q And he was charging you 7 percent interest?
A I believe it was 7 5
Q I'm sorry 7 5?
A Yes
Q And you and your sister and Michael Uncapher personally guaranteed this loan?
A Yes
Q Now, you listed this loan even though the checks that we saw before, those were written out to MoBo, right?
A Yes
Q Going back to calendar year 2011, Government's Exhibit 289, you signed that on January 16th of 2012?
A Yes, I did
Q Your wife didn't sign it?
A No It's my responsibility

MR DRY: Turning back to Page 4 on this, please

BY MR DRY:

Q The month that you signed this, you had an outstanding balance on the Dr Davis loan of about $43,000 Does that make sense?

A That may be about right

MR DRY: Well, let's go up to Government's Exhibit 622, please

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an amortization schedule from Michael Uncapher to himself Have you seen this document before?

A Yes

Q Okay And so going to January of 2011, that shows roughly $43,000 would be outstanding?

A Yes

Q And at the time you signed this Statement of Economic Interest, the outstanding balance on the loan to Mr Williams, that was 50,000?

A Yes

Q No payments had been made to Mr Williams on this loan?

A No

Q There was no loan agreement?

A No No, that's not correct There was a loan agreement It just wasn't written

Q Gotcha Now, there's nothing listed for your personal debts here, right, from other businesses or individual creditors?

A That's correct

Q But now we've just -- and this year we've just pushed that down to the debts of your family members, right?

A I'm sorry What's the question?

Q You just moved where it had said yes, individual creditors were your personal debts, and you said that was the Dr Davis loan Now you're disclosing the medical services, that's supposed to be the Jonnie Williams loan, right?

A Let me make sure -- would you repeat the question? Make sure I'm clear what you're asking

Q Sure There's listed on this form regarding the Dr Davis loan, is there, sir?

A No

Q And when you're saying you disclosed the personal debts of members of your immediate family, that is your reference to medical services, the X of 10,001 to 50,000?

A Yes It's a different section That's family members Yes

Q Fair to say, though, sir, I mean, looking at this form, there's no way anybody would know that Mr Williams had given a $50,000 check to your wife, right?

A No

Q Mr Eige didn't know that?

A No

Q And he was helping you fill out this form, right?

A Yes

Q And you heard him testify that, well, when he saw medical services, he thought it was some type of healthcare bill, right?

A I heard him say that Yes

Q Now, you admitted on direct that the golf outings to Mr Williams' Kinloch Golf Club in May and August of 2011, those are the things that you admitted on direct that they should have been reported on the SOEI, right?

A Yes, sir, I believe they should We had a system set up They didn't get on there, and it's my fault because I am responsible for it

Q Okay Those golf outings, they were about 3,200 bucks, right? But you didn't know the exact cost?

A That's correct

Q But you knew that they were well north of $50 a piece, right?

A Sure Yes

Q But you never fully explained why they weren't included You talked about this tracking system that you have in place that you helped -- I think the quote was you helped to craft the system for checks and balances?

A Yes

Q If it's not on the form, it's your fault. That's what you testified to?

A Yes Ultimately, I sign it Yes

Q So is it your testimony that you intentionally omitted the golf or that you just didn't remember?

A In January of the year that I filled it out, there was nothing on the sheet to indicate that the golf had done, and I did not remember that those things had occurred

Q Okay Well, let's go to -- you filed this on January 16th of 2012, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 285, Page 2 This is admitted

A Yes

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, turning to the middle of the left column, you're playing golf at Mr Williams' golf club on January 7th of 2012, right?

A Yes

Q That was nine days before you filled out your SOEI?

A Yes

Q So --

A This is an expense for the next year But yes, I was there

Q I understand that I guess my question is your testimony is that you filled out this form on January 16th, that it just slipped your mind that you had played golf in 2011 even though nine days before you were playing on Mr Williams' tab, right? That's your testimony?

A I'm saying with the dozens of things that are going on here, it was a mistake, and it should have been on there Yes

Q Now, on this one, Mr Williams didn't play with you, right? This is just you and your two boys?

A In January?

Q Yes, sir

A That's my recollection Yes

Q And as far as the Notre Dame golf bag, that wasn't on your SOEI either, right?

A No, sir

Q And that's a failure of the system again?

A No It's my failure The system requires that things get reported from the Mansion, get put on the log It wasn't on there, and I did not think of it the next year when it was done And it should have been on there, and it's my responsibility

Q Did you play -- when you played golf on January 7th of 2012 at Kinloch, were you playing with Mr Williams' golf bag that he bought you?

A I don't remember, Mr Dry At some point I had another bag that was fine, and my own clubs At some point I believe I did convert and use that bag that Mr Williams had given me, but I can't tell you when

Q Mr Asbill, on the direct, he pointed out --

MR DRY: Can we go back to the gift portion

BY MR DRY:

Q As far as the golf bag goes, did you tell anybody on your staff that Mr Williams had bought you a golf bag?

A I don't think so

Q Okay Now, Mr Asbill, on direct, he was asking you all about, well, you did disclose Jonnie Williams' $2,268, right?

A Yes

Q But to be clear, it was your staff who reached out to find out how much that cost, right?

A Yeah That was the system That was the protocol Absolutely

Q And, in fact, I think that you've repeatedly said that the donors have some obligation to submit forms?

A They do

Q So you thought that a donor that gives you a gift, they have an obligation to write in to your office and say, "This is the value of the gift"?

A I'm telling you what state law requires Yes

Q Sir, do you know that there's a distinction between a donor that is a registered lobbyist and a non-lobbyist?

A Yes

Q Okay Well, isn't it true, sir, that on the "Jonnie R Williams," here, "lodging and entertainment," even if you wanted to, you couldn't hide that, right? Because all your staff knew you had gone and that Mr Williams was paying?

A Well, there's a couple different questions in there So maybe -- can we take them one at a time?

Q Sure Could you have hidden this even if you wanted to?

A I didn't want to So I would say that's a hypothetical

Q I'm asking --

A Yes

Q -- could you have hidden this even if you wanted to?
Your staff knew about that right, sir?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to -- is this Page 8?

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, I believe that your testimony is that Mr Williams is not your personal friend at this point, right?

Well, let's just get this out of the way At what point did Mr Williams become your personal friend?

A Mr Dry, I can't tell you You know, when you develop relationships with people, at some point you believe they are your friends

I trusted Mr Williams I always believed he was a friend I thought he was a friend of my wife's in particular But I would say going into 2012 with his constant entreaties for me to call his father and to do things with him and not asking me for anything Sure, I thought he was a friend, yes

Q Well, you discussed this personal friend exception with Jasen Eige around this time, right?

A Somewhere in August I talked -- August of '11 I believe I talked to Martin Kent about it

Q Well, do you recall Jasen Eige testifying that you discussed the personal friend exception with him just about every time you filled out an SOEI?

A That may be right Yes

Q Okay And then let's go to that August 2011 e-mail

MR DRY: Government's Exhibit 635, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And this was the advice that you were given from Mr Kent, right?

A Yes For --

Q He handed you this?

A He did, through Mr Palmore, who was the Deputy Counsel Yes

Q And you also discussed this with Mr Kent, right?

A I -- I think I did Yes

Q And then if we could go down to the bottom, "When the circumstances suggest a relationship between the gift and the declarant's public position, even when the relationship is relatively distant, it is my opinion that the gift is required to be disclosed in Schedule E "

That's consistent with the advice you had received throughout, right, from Eige, Mr. Palmore later? It's a default disclose, right?

A I'm not sure what you mean

Q In other words --

A There's more to this opinion that you haven't read

Q I guess the question on the table, sir, is isn't it consistent with the advice that you received that when you're talking about the personal friend exception, the advice you received was, look, if there's a relationship between the gift and your position, even if distant, go ahead and disclose?

A That's what the opinion says

Q And was that opinion consistent with the advice that you received from Mr Eige and Mr Palmore?

A In part

Q I mean Conrad

A In part

Q In part, it was?

A Yes

Q Okay Let's go to Government's Exhibit 289, looking back on Page 8 In the Mr Williams portion, the 2,268, you understood that it's not just a -- you know, a tangible gift like a golf bag It could also be meals and things like that, right?

A I'm sorry I don't -- I don't understand the question

Q The question is that a gift wasn't -- didn't just have to be a tangible, you take it home It could also be an intangible --

A Oh, sure

Q -- something you consume, a meal or something like that?

A Correct

Q Okay But what's not included anywhere on this form is the $15,000 for your daughter's wedding reception, right?

A Right

Q And you testified that it wasn't included because, quote, it was very clear to you that it was a wedding gift to Cailin, to my daughter Is that accurate?

A Yes

Q Now, it was very clear to you, despite the fact that you were the one that signed the contract with the caterer, right?

A Yes

Q And despite the fact that you were the one that paid the first deposit and the second deposit?

A Yes

Q And despite the fact that you were the one that, at the end of the day, was contractually required to pay those expenses, right?

A Yes

Q And despite the fact you intended to pay all along?

A Yes

Q And the fact -- well, let's -- now, Tucker Martin, he's your Press Secretary, right?

A Yes

Q And he's --

A Well, it's technical, but he had a bigger title than that I had a separate Press Secretary But yes, he's the Chief of Public Relations Department, yes

Q And he's the Chief, and he's authorized to speak on your behalf?

A Yes

Q And before the wedding, reporters were asking questions about who was paying for the wedding?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 621 And then let's go to Page 3 at the top

BY MR DRY:

Q "McDonnell may have learned a thing or two from former Governor John Dalton, who was criticized for trying to charge taxpayers for a $2,500 yellow-and-white tent for his daughter's wedding McDonnell spokesman Tucker Martin said the family is picking up the tab for all wedding costs "

You authorized Mr Martin to say this?

A We had a discussion about it

THE COURT: That was not the question The question --

A I did not authorize this specific statement

BY MR DRY:

Q So in your conversations with Mr Martin, you didn't lead him to believe that the family was paying for the wedding reception?

A That was not the question that I got from Mr Martin

Q I'm asking, when you spoke to Mr Martin, did you lead him to believe that the McDonnell family was paying for the reception?

A As opposed to the Commonwealth of Virginia, yes That was the question that I got

Q So at no point did you tell Tucker Martin, "Hey, it's the McDonnell family that's paying"?

A I told the -- the question that I got, Mr Dry, was was the Commonwealth of Virginia paying, the State, because it was at the Governor's Mansion That was the press inquiry that Mr Martin gave to me; was the State paying or the family I told him the State was not paying. The family That was the question that I remember getting from Mr Martin

Q So you told him that the family was paying for the wedding reception?

A Yes Not the State

Q But you chose not to tell Tucker Martin that Mr Williams was paying, right?

A I didn't tell him that

Q And that was a decision not to tell him?

A No

Q You could have told him?

A It wasn't the question that I got, sir

Q Is it your understanding, as you sit here today, that gifts -- was the reason that this was this wasn't disclosed, I think I understand, is you're saying, well, this is actually a gift to a family member so I don't need to disclose it? Is that the bottom line?

A Yes

Q So if you can characterize a gift as going to one of your family members rather than you, then you don't have to disclose it?

A I -- I can't agree with the premise of the question Could you ask the question again?

Q Sure So if you can characterize a gift as going to one of your family members, then you can claim that you don't have to disclose it? That's the bottom line, right?

A I can't answer that yes or no Can I explain?

Q Well, let's do -- let's do it this way Today as you sit here, are you testifying that the reason that you don't -- didn't have to disclose this was because the gift was to Cailin, not to you?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, let's go back and take a look at your 2009 SOEI

MR DRY: This is, not admitted, Government's Exhibit 702

BY MR DRY:

Q This is dated January 15th, 2010, for the 2009 year, sir Do you see that?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 702 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This was actually before you became Governor, right?

A Yes

Q The calendar year is, but you submitted it when you were Governor, right?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, for part of this, you were Attorney General --

A Yes

Q -- for part of 2010?

A Yes

MR DRY: Can we look at Page 5 This is Schedule E

BY MR DRY:

Q And, sir, first of all, as Attorney General, you didn't receive as many gifts as you did when you were Governor, right?

A Yes That's right

Q But in this year you're actually reporting gifts even if they go to your family members, right?

A I'm sorry Which ones are you referring to?

Q Well, "7 suite tickets for family to attend Redskins game"?

A Yes I was there

Q All right "Flight to family for Notre Dame football game"?

A Yes

Q "Lodging for family at Notre Dame football game"?

A I was there and part of it Yes

Q So you're not pro rata-ing out, hey, well, this is my portion You're disclosing the entire gift?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go back to Government Exhibit 289, and let's go to the fifth page of that exhibit

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, on this, there's no securities listed, right?

A I'm sorry What year is this, Mr Dry?

Q 2011

A '11 Okay

MR DRY: Let's pop back out

BY MR DRY:

Q It's Government's Exhibit 289

A Okay

Q Okay And the second page will have the signature block Just so we can make sure Do you see that's

January 16th, 2012?

A Yes, sir

Q Now, you knew that if your wife or you held stock as of the end of -- well, as of the filing date -- is it the filing date or the end of the year?

A My understanding is it's the end of the year, the calendar year

Q Okay So as -- if there was stock held as of December 31st, 2012, in your name or her name or a kid that's living in your house, you'd have to disclose it, right?

A Yes

Q And I believe you said that -- and I want to make sure I've got this right -- that you find out in June 5th that she had bought the stock --

A Yes

Q -- of 2011?

A Yes

Q And then you tell her that you have reporting requirements?

A I believe I had that discussion

Q Okay

A Yes

Q And then when do you find out that -- you tell her to sell the stock at some point?

A Before Thanksgiving she told me she still had the stock in her name, as opposed to the children's Yes

Q Okay And at that point you told her to sell it?

A I looked at the value and thought she should sell it because she was losing money Yes

Q And I believe that you testified on direct that she led you to believe that she was going to sell it imminently, like quickly?

A That was what I had asked her to do, given it's her money But I had asked her to do that because I thought it was a bad investment for her Yes

Q And so your testimony is that you didn't look at the bank statements to know that money hadn't come back to her bank accounts, right?

A I'm not sure --

Q In other words, I think what I understand from your testimony is that yes, you handled the finances, but you did not have visibility into her bank account balances?

A Her personal bank at Wachovia That's correct Yes

Q Okay Had you visibility into all the other bank accounts, but not just not that one?

A I believe -- yes I think that's right Yes

Q So you wouldn't be able to see that she hadn't sold it by reviewing the bank statements for the money to come back, right? Is that what your testimony is?

A On her bank statement or her stock statement?

Q Well, you didn't -- either one

A No

Q Okay Because you don't have any visibility into the Davenport statements?

A Correct

Q Because you're not opening those?

A Right

Q Even though you told her, "Hey, this is affecting me You know, you're doing things without my knowledge I have reporting requirements," right?

A You're talking about November now?

Q I think you said in June you told her that, right?

A That's my best recollection I'm virtually certain I told her in November Yes

Q But I think you testified on direct you told her in June?

A I believe I did Yes

Q Okay And the Davenport statements were going where?

A Mr Dry, we had about five mailing addresses At the time, sir, I don't know We had a couple of P O Boxes, house at Wyndham, the Mansion, the Patrick Henry Building I can't tell you at the time where those were going

Q Well, let me ask you this If you told your wife in November to sell this stock, when do you learn that she hasn't sold the stock?

I'm sorry When did you originally tell her to sell the stock? You find out June 6th When do you tell her, "Hey, sell the stock"?

A I told her in November when she said it was still in her name And I looked it up I showed her and told her, "Maureen, you've lost essentially half of your dad's inheritance " That's the way she looked at the money I said, "This is not a good investment, and I recommend strongly that you sell the stock "

Q And sell it quickly?

A I figured she would do it eventually. We had just spent a lot of time talking about it She was very resistant, but eventually, she said she would do that And I figured that would be in due course But right away, yes

Q So you thought by December, early December, she would have sold the stock --

A Yes, sir

Q -- based on what she told you?

A I thought so

Q Okay

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 166

BY MR DRY:

Q And this is one of the account statements I think that you -- this is admitted -- that you were shown earlier And it's redacted But 5913 Leabrook Way, whose house is that?

A That's the house that my wife and I own out in the West End of Henrico

Q And your mail would go there, some of your mail would go there?

A Yes, sir

Q And how often -- how did that work? Mail comes to that address Who picks it up, and where does it go?

A It -- let me -- what's the time frame again, Mr Dry?

Q Let's talk about -- well, let's talk about June of 2011, first of all

A Yes At that time, my best recollection is my daughter and her husband live there, Cailin and Chris And from time to time, they would actually get the mail and bring it down or we'd pick it up when we'd go out there I believe, still in July of '11 when they were living there, that's what happened

Q Well, and you testified that you saw Davenport statements, that you saw the Davenport --

A I did see a couple of them over -- over the years, yes Or over the months that we're talking about, yes

Q Did you review them or just see the envelope?

A I saw an envelope But I saw a lot of mail that my wife got

Q Okay And your testimony is that you didn't open it and review it at any point?

A No

Q So if you tell your wife to sell the stock in November and you tell her to sell it quickly and it isn't until much later that you found out she repurchased it, right -- when did you find out she repurchased it?

A In December of 2012, shortly before Christmas, she had that conversation with me and indicated that she had purchased it back

Q And so had she misled you?

A Yes

Q She had lied to you, basically?

A Yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 278

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this account statement, this was also going to your Leabrook, I believe -- since it's redacted, it's hard to see The Leabrook house?

A Yes That's Glen Allen So that would be it Yes

Q And this shows that your wife had repurchased the shares?

A That's what it says Yes

MR DRY: I think it's the next page

BY MR DRY:

Q This is January of 2012, right?

A Yes.

Q Right there in the purchase date, it shows that she repurchased it on January 20th, 2012?

A That's what it says Yes

Q And you never had your conversation with your wife about wash sale rules?

A I did not

Q Would she typically be aware of such things as wash sale rules?

A No, sir

Q Okay Now, you've testified that you wouldn't have had any problem disclosing the Star stock, right?

A At that point, I disclosed over a hundred thousand dollars of different things from Mr Williams So if I had to report it, I would have reported it

Q Well, you've said that a few times, sir But when you say that you've disclosed those, in fact, what you're saying is that your PAC disclosed those, right?

A Yes

Q All right And the PAC disclosures, those are really just in kind flights that Mr Williams had given you or your PAC, right?

A It's the same -- it's a donation Just like a check

But yes, the PAC disclosed it And the campaign disclosed it, yes

Q So in your mind, there's no distinction between someone giving you $15,000 for your Governor -- for your daughter's wedding and them letting you use their jet to go to an RGA event?

A I didn't say that

Q Well, I'm asking Is there a distinction in your mind between a person giving $15,000 for your daughter's wedding reception or a donor letting you use their jet to go to a RGA function? Is there no distinction in your mind?

A Of course there's a distinction

Q And the distinction is one is personally going in your pocket, right?

A No $15,000 wedding gift went to Cailin

Q All right So it went to Cailin's pocket?

A Yes

Q Okay And you don't see that those are apples and oranges, sir?

A No, I didn't say that

Q All right Well, what is the purpose of an SOEI?

A It's to fill out the forms the way the General Assembly has passed the forms to make the disclosures for the purposes of the public knowing what moneys have gone to elected officials, what gifts, what salary they have made All the things that are in the law

Q And the reason is the -- the -- the people of Virginia should be able to tell if there's undue influence being exerted either way, by their elected officials or by a donor, right? They should be able to say, "Hey, somebody gave this," and that might affect their decision That's the purpose of the SOEI, isn't it?

A That would be one of the purposes that I would see Absolutely

Q Okay But there's no way for anybody to know that Mr Williams gave your daughter $15,000 from your disclosures?

A No

Q And there's no way, from your disclosures, for anybody to discern that Mr Williams gave a $50,000 loan or payment to your wife?

A No, because the form doesn't require anything but the occupation or principal business of the donor And that's what I did

Q And your testimony is that you didn't -- you never told any of your advisors about this, right, about your financial relationship with Mr Williams personally? Not the PAC donations, but you didn't tell them about the 50, the 15 or later on the other stuff, right?

A I didn't tell them about any of my many loans or credit cards or any of my personal finances No, I did not

Q And how many of your credit card companies had an event at the Mansion that you attended for their product?

A Some of their representatives attended events

Q No, sir, that's -- sir, was there any way that anybody would know that Mr Williams had given you $65,000 -- or 50,000 to your wife, 15 to your daughter -- as you were sitting at that launch or the event on August 30th? Other than you telling them, how would they have ever known?

A Can you repeat the question? You asked me multiple questions there

Q As you are sitting at the Mansion event on August 30th --

A Yes

Q -- would there have been any way for anybody to know that your wife had received $50,000 from Mr Williams, your daughter had received $15,000 for her wedding reception that you were contractually obligated to pay? Would there be any way for anybody to discern that unless you told them?

A No Not on the forms

Q Now, when your wife repurchased those shares of Star

Scientific in January of 2012, I believe Mr Burck showed you that it was trading between two and three dollars, right?

A Yes I remember the chart Yes

MR DRY: And let's go to Government's Exhibit 606

BY MR DRY:

Q Have you seen this chart before, sir, that Agent Hulser testified?

A I've seen it, yes

Q Okay And these are text messages that you sent to Mr Williams?

A I think some are texts Some might be an e-mail But --

Q I think you're right

A -- yes

Q I apologize for misspeaking

A Okay

Q Now, these -- Mr Brownlee kind of suggested that these were donor maintenance text messages and e-mails I think he -- you did that with Mr Cox Did you view these as donor maintenance?

A In part

Q In part?

A Mr Williams was one of my largest donors to my PAC and campaign Yes

Q Isn't it true there's absolutely no evidence in this case of any other similar text message -- that's been introduced -- any other similar text message or e-mail to donors where you are congratulating them on their stock price?

A I haven't seen any other evidence in the case

Q And at the time of each of these text messages and e-mails, the value of that Davenport account, when the statements are going to your house, that was going up each time, right, or your wife's Davenport account?

A I don't know I didn't see them at the time, Mr Dry

Q Well, the stock price is going up each of those times, right?

A That's what this chart shows, yes

Q All right Let's go -- let's go to Christmas of 2011 Your wife gave you the Rolex, Christmas 2011?

A Well, it said from Santa, but I know that's my wife Yes

Q Okay And she gave it to you in front of all of your children?

A Yes

MR DRY: That's Government Exhibit 274, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And that's a picture of you in front of the Christmas tree --

A Yes, sir

Q -- with the Rolex?

A Yes

Q And you heard your son testify that before this gift, the nicest gift that your wife had ever bought you for Christmas was a Seiko watch --

A That's my --

Q -- that he could remember?

A That's probably right

Q All right And I think you testified to knowing that you knew that there was a big difference between a Seiko watch and a Rolex?

A Yes, sir

Q I think you said it was the pinnacle of Swiss watch making?

A From what I knew about it, yes

Q Okay Now, Mr Asbill showed you --

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 274, Page 8

BY MR DRY:

Q Mr Asbill asked you did you know that the photo -- I want to get this right -- did you know that the photo was being taken at the time it was being taken And I don't think I heard a direct answer to that

Did you know your photo was being taken here?

A You know, I'm looking at a camera So obviously, I knew I think it was being taken So I guess the answer would be yes

Q Okay And I'm still a little bit unclear You said something about you thought it might be fake at some point When did you think it was fake?

A That was the previous year after when I talked to Mr Martin and Mr Eige I think when I got it in a Movado box and I didn't see any materials that came with it, I -- it made me just -- it made me wonder

Q It made you wonder whether it was fake or not?

A Well, or whether it was used I didn't know for sure But I wasn't going to inquire of my wife

Q Well, to be clear, sir, your wife had had the watch engraved, right?

A Yes I saw that, yes

Q Has your wife ever bought you a fake anything and had it engraved?

A I don't know

Q To your knowledge?

A I don't think so

Q Okay It's a pretty heavy watch?

A Yes

Q I guess what I'm -- other than the watch coming in a Movado box and not having all the tags, what else led you to think that it was fake?

A That was primarily it

Q Okay And how long did you think it was fake?

A It was a passing thought I -- I didn't probe I knew it was important to my wife It was the last gift she gave me It was for Christmas She had just gotten a new job She was making money, and I told her I appreciated it.

Q Do you know when this picture was taken?

A I know now I don't think -- if you asked me --

Q All right When was this picture taken?

A Well, I believe it was taken the following Christmas on the way to church

Q And how certain are you of that?

A Reasonably certain I don't know absolutely for sure I didn't wear the watch much after that I remember wearing it for Christmas again in 2012 because my wife asked me to wear it when we went out to St Michael's for church with our kids

Q Did your wife ask you to pose with the watch?

A I don't think so We were sitting in the back seat of a state police trooper vehicle, and we were on the way to church And I just don't remember exactly how this was taken

MR DRY: Can we click --

BY MR DRY:

Q Maybe we can jog your memory

MR DRY: Can we go forward through a few of these Some more

BY MR DRY:

Q No recollection of your wife asking you to pose with the watch?

A I don't We're in a vehicle and I have a Christmas tie on, Mr Dry So my very best recollection was that it was on the way to church in 2012

MR DRY: One second

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

BY MR DRY:

Q I'm sorry, sir

Now, you wore this -- the watch for the Richmond Times-Dispatch --

A No

Q -- interview?

A I didn't wear it for that interview I wore it the day they came to interview me in early 2012 Yes, I had it on then

MR DRY: And that's Government's Exhibit 281, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Do you recall that picture from the RTD?

A Yes At some point I remember seeing it, yes

Q And you heard Mr Eige testify that he asked you about the watch?

A Yes

Q And that was like right after it was given That was January 2012?

A Yes

Q And you heard him testify that you told him that you didn't even think it was real?

A I'm sure I probably said that Yes

Q Okay Do you recall your wife dropping hints to other people that your Seiko watch wasn't fitting for a Governor?

A I wouldn't know what she said to other people So the answer is no

Q Well, were you present when your wife raised up your shirt sleeve and commented to Mr Williams' wife that you did not have a nice watch like Mr Williams?

A I don't remember that

Q You don't remember that?

A No

Q You don't remember that occurring before you actually got the Rolex watch?

A No

MR DRY: Let's go to Government Exhibit 285

BY MR DRY:

Q We're not going to go through this I just want to -- this is another -- this is the Kinloch January 2012 statement I guess what I'm trying to get to, did you have your schedulers plan golf trips for you and your sons when you would go on family vacations?

MR DRY: You can take that down

A I mean, occasionally, they did the logistics for those, yes They scheduled personal and public events for me

BY MR DRY:

Q Okay And did you have them go through your donor list to find donors who had owned golf courses and would let you and your family play for free at a reduced cost?

A Did I?

Q Play for free or at a reduced cost?

A Did I?

Q Yes

A No

Q So you never instructed anybody to do that or expected them to do that?

A I never instructed anybody to do that

Q But did they do that?

A I don't know

Q You don't know whether Adam Zubowsky or maybe Ms Rabbitt would put together briefing books of golf courses for you to play at on vacations?

A I know that we had a number of offers of people who had invited either me or my sons, at times, to do some things like that And there may have been a time I asked them go look and see if someone made an offer to do that that we might accept

I am very fortunate A lot of people offered to do many things And there were a few of them I took advantage of because it was time with my family or my kids And so those are the gifts that I accepted

Q So it was --

A I never instructed them to do that

Q Well, did they put together briefing books of places that you and your family could play golf for free?

A I don't -- I don't remember

Q You don't remember?

A No

Q Do you remember getting briefing books and you selecting which of the nice courses that had been offered for you to play with your boys? Do you remember that?

A That could have happened I don't remember

Q Well, let's try and refresh your recollection

MR DRY: Government's Exhibit 627, please

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail from Ms Rabbitt to Adam Zubowsky?

MR ASBILL: Objection Can we approach?

THE COURT: Come on up

(At Bench)

MR ASBILL: We've already addressed this issue about the relevance of this He's not on this e-mail Never seen this e-mail

MR DRY: He's instructing his staff to go find places he can play for free He's been testifying for two days that --

THE COURT: The objection is overruled

(In Open Court)

MR DRY: I'd like to move Government's Exhibit 627 into evidence, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q All right And let's go to the bottom e-mail first This is an e-mail from Ms Rabbitt She's your scheduler at this time?

A Yes

Q And she asks, "Did you ever plan a golf trip for the Governor, Bobby and Sean? He told me to see him about it and wants to go to Myrtle Beach or Florida We decided to revisit it once we had firmed up dates for the marketing mission, et cetera I just wanted to see if you had any background before I brought up the topic with him again "

Now, that's sent on January 4th of 2013, right?

A That's what it says, yes

Q Do you recall having a conversation with Ms Rabbitt in which you discussed an upcoming trip to Florida or Myrtle Beach and wanting her to assist in planning golf?

A I probably did Yes

Q All right Now, Mr Zubowsky, who was your body man prior --

A Yes

Q -- he writes, "Yes" -- make sure I read this right "Yes Basically this means find out who we known in these cities that owns golf courses and will let me and my family play for free, or at a reduced cost Also finding out where to stay for free or reduced cost So this means go to Monica and Paige and find out about PAC donors and RGA donors who will host RFM Also, Katherine keeps a list of people who have offered to host RFM over the past 4 years, so go through that list Put everything into a nice briefing so when you meet with him, you have every offer you can think of on paper Then I'd go to the golf course websites, brief off the general info, and also copy and paste it into a briefing form, so he can pick based on the type/description of the course "

Does that refresh your recollection about getting briefing books with golf courses and picking out which one you wanted to go for free or at a reduced cost?

A I'm not on this e-mail I don't -- I remember occasionally Katherine coming to talk to me about options if I asked her to help plan a trip with my sons But I did not direct them go find places to play for free

We had -- as the e-mail says, there's offers that people had made, and I certainly asked her to take a look at those But I'm not on this e-mail, and I don't think I talked directly to Mr Zubowsky about this

MR DRY: Judge, I think the next section is going to take about 15 minutes I can do another five Up to you

THE COURT: Are you anywhere near finished?

MR DRY: No, sir

THE COURT: All right I guess we'll stop now

Maybe it's just me, but does this seem like the longest day in your life?

MR DRY: Thanks, Judge

THE COURT: All right We'll have to stop now

Obviously, continue to abide by my admonition Please don't discuss the case with anyone, allow anyone to discuss it with you, and please don't review any media items related to this case

Hang in there That's all I can say I'm with you all the way We will see you tomorrow at 9:45

(The trial adjourned at 5:26 p m)

THE COURT: All right Let's bring them in.

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

Good morning Mr Dry?

CROSS-EXAMINATION (Cont'd)

BY MR. DRY:

Q Mr McDonnell, I'd like to start with Government Exhibit 295 This has been admitted. This is the January 27th, 2012 e-mail between you and your wife And you have seen this e-mail several times before, sir?

A Yes, sir, I have

Q Okay Now, starting on the bottom e-mail, that's from your brother-in-law, if we could scroll down, please And that e-mail is actually to you on January 25th of 2012, correct?

A Yes

Q And in that e-mail, Mr Uncapher is asking you to pay your portion for the expense for your property at Wintergreen, that's the BRH?

A Yes

Q Blue Ridge Heaven. And going to the part that says, "For MoBo " You see that there?

A Yes

Q He is referencing "your Mo," that's your wife, Maureen?

A Yes

Q Okay And he is saying that she had him talk to "the guy who is," and if you could go to the next page, "helping us " Now, do you remember receiving this e-mail, sir?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, five days before that e-mail, Mr Williams was on the trip to South Carolina when you were endorsing Mr Romney; is that right?

A Yes

Q And you had seen him there?

A Yes

Q Now, on this e-mail, Mr Uncapher tells you that he needs a check next week, to get the check next week from that guy in order to keep up-to-date He is talking about the mortgage payments for the Beach properties, right?

A What language are you referring to?

Q He says, "We'll need to get that in the next week so we can keep up-to-date " Is he referring to the mortgage payments for the Beach properties?

A I think so, yes

Q Okay And it was the need for a check, because I think you understood -- well, we will get to that in a second. But he is saying that, in essence, Mr Williams has said that he is going to send a check in so that the mortgage payments can be kept up-to-date Is that the gist of this e-mail as you understood it?

A I wasn't sure I wasn't aware of any conversations I wasn't sure

Q Okay Well, let's go to where you actually respond back to your wife You send this two days later, correct?

A Yes

Q And in this, you say, "Who is helping us?" You are not talking about MoBo, you are talking about us: you, your wife, your sister, right?

A No

Q No, when you say "us," do you mean MoBo?

A Yes

Q Okay And then you ask, "Johnny?" J-O-H-N-N-Y That's the only name that came to mind when you were responding to your wife here, isn't it?

A That's who I thought they might be talking about, yes

Q And you don't ask about Dr Davis at this point

A No

Q Now, you understand today that that's not the correct spelling of Mr Williams' first name, right?

A Yes, I do.

Q So at this point, do you consider Mr Williams a personal friend of yours?

A I felt like we were becoming better friends over this time, yes

Q I guess the question is, in your mind, not becoming, is he actually a personal friend in your mind at that point?

A He is a friend.

Q Okay Let's go to the top e-mail Now, this is from your wife to you, and she says, "Just got home I'll talk with you upstairs " I believe you testified that you did have a conversation with your wife later that night, right?

A Yes

Q And your testimony was, that's basically the first time that you understood that she was negotiating with Michael Uncapher on behalf -- or with Mr Williams In other words, she and Michael Uncapher had had conversations with Mr Williams about money, right?

A Yes

Q Okay Well, I believe your testimony is that your first interaction with Mr Williams about this money was on the February 3rd phone call; is that right?

A I believe that was the date, but it was maybe a week after this e-mail exchange

Q Now, in your conversation with your wife that evening, after the e-mail, did you tell your wife, "Hey, I'm going to be the one that goes ahead and negotiates with Mr Williams"?

A She had already told me that she had reached a tentative agreement and Mr Williams was willing to lend $50,000 to MoBo for the choice that we had made for a loan. But that with regard to details, yes, I would talk to Mr Williams

Q Well, this tentative agreement, did she tell you what the interest rate was going to be that she discussed with Mr Williams?

A I can't remember She might have It was the same as before, but I'm not sure

Q When you say the same as before, that it was going to be a balloon payment?

A No, there was going to be a two percent interest rate I think that's what she may have told me And it would be $50,000 for MoBo. But I knew that I needed to talk to him because my sister and I were the principals in MoBo.

Q And so you wanted to talk to Mr Williams before you got any money from Mr Williams so you knew what the deal was; is that the bottom line?

A Yes Because it was a loan to MoBo, yes

Q Okay Well, let's go to the February 3rd conversation you had with Mr Williams This is not admitted as Government Exhibit 822, but these are the handwritten notes that I believe you testified about before It is just a different exhibit number Do you recognize your handwriting here, sir?

A Yes, sure

Q Cap you flip through that? And these have just been put in the sequence that you testified about First page of the notes and the second page of the notes and the third page of the notes, even though they are not sequentially Bates Numbered. Do you understand that?

A Yes

MR. DRY: I'd like to move for Government

Exhibit 822 to be entered into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR DRY:

Q Going to that first page, you testified that this was the first page of notes from your February 3rd, 2012 call with Mr Williams, right?

A That was my best recollection as these three pages you just went through with that first call, yes

Q So as you testify today, this is your best recollection of the order of the notes?

A It is

Q Okay You testified that you reached out to Mr Williams to discuss this; is that correct?

A I don't remember how the call was initiated, but I was on the phone with him for a while in early February, yes

Q Well, do you think that he initiated the contact or do you think you initiated the contact?

A I'm not sure I just know I talked to him.

Q I believe you testified that it was during this call that Mr Williams brought up the idea of a margin loan, correct?

A He brought up the idea of a stock loan from him to me, yes

Q And I believe you testified that during this call, you understood it was going to be some kind of stock loan where the shares could act as collateral for you to get cash, right?

A Yes

Q And you testified that that's your understanding what a margin loan is, right?

A Yes

Q Now, you testified on direct that you were going to ask Mr Williams a few questions during this; that this was mostly him talking, but you did ask a few questions because you were going "to talk to my broker about that " Do you remember that testimony?

A Yes, I did.

Q When you said "my broker," you meant Mr Piscitelli, didn't you?

A Sure, I've known him for 25 years, yes

Q Even though the Davenport account at that point was in your wife's name, you still consider Mr Piscitelli to be your broker as well

A It is the only broker I've ever had, yes

Q I thought you had an E*Trade account or Ameritrade account before

A I used Mr Piscitelli 25 years ago, the only time I used a broker

Q You didn't have an Ameritrade or E*Trade account?

A Sure, I had an E*Trade account, but I didn't have a broker for that That was me

Q Mr Asbill didn't ask you really any questions about this I'd like to go through a few The top Can we blow up the top, "Johnny Williams stock." This is your handwriting, sir?

A Yes.

Q You misspell Mr Williams' name again, right?

A Yes

Q It says "50,000 shares " And on the right-hand side of the note, you circle, if we can come out of that document a little bit, you circle $3 15 You understood that was $3 15 per share was the price it was at today?

A That's what he told me, yes

Q You didn't look that up; he just told you that?

A I believe so, yes

Q Okay Now, if he is going to loan you 50,000 shares and the share price is $3 15, then he is really discussing loaning you $150,000 worth of stock, right?

A These were his proposals Possibly, yes

Q Well, in fact, sir, if you go down the middle, it says "Today worth 150k." You understood that to be 150,000, right?

A That's what he said

Q Okay Now, it also says in the notes, if we could come out, that "certificates and split in 10," Mr Williams is telling you at that point that he is not going to give you all 50,000 shares at once, but split the shares into 10,000 share blocks, right?

A Again, these were notes from three years ago That's what he said, Mr Dry, yes

Q Was that your understanding at the time of what he was saying?

A I didn't have a good understanding, but I took the notes so I could talk to Mr Piscitelli. That's my best recollection.

Q So you didn't understand that if he gave you these 10,000 share blocks, then you could use them as you needed them. You didn't understand that at the time?

A Not well This transaction never happened

Q I understand, sir, but that's not the question that I am posing At the time, did you understand that if he gave you 10,000 share blocks, then you could use them as you needed them?

A No.

Q Okay Now, on the fifth line, it says, "Johnny paid $1 90 He can't sell them." Do you see that?

A Yes

Q You understood at the time, though, he is just telling you that he couldn't sell them without reporting the sale, right?

A No.

Q Okay Then let's go down a bit in the notes It says, "Shares are free and tradeable " He told you that, too?

A That's what I wrote down, yes, sir

Q Okay So your testimony is you didn't understand he is saying, "Look, I can sell these but I have to report them."

A No

Q Okay Well, let's go to the "Transfer to MoBo " Can we come out of the document a little bit? You see in the middle it says, "Transfer to MoBo"?

A Yes

Q And it says, "if loan shares with option to buy at 1 90 what Johnny paid for them." Do you see that?

A Yes

Q So Mr Williams is basically telling you here, I guess what I am trying to get to is, what's your understanding, was it that he would let you pay back the stock at the price he paid for it instead of the market price of $3 15; is that what you understood at the time?

A I did not have a good understanding because I was expecting documents So I can't say

Q And when it says, "Today worth 150,000 " You didn't have a clear understanding that he is telling you that he is going to give you $150,000 worth of stock but you are only going to have to pay back approximately $90,000; you didn't understand that?

A I understood what he was proposing if he lent me 50,000 shares, that that would today be worth 150 Yes, I understood that

Q But I guess the question is, did you understand at the time that he is saying, "Look, even though the stock is worth $150,000, down the line, you only have to give me $90,000 in return"?

A No

Q Okay Let's go to the second page, please. At the top, these are your handwritten notes, sir?

A Yes

Q You took these all in the same day?

A I did. Same call

Q Now, next to the asterisk, it says, "Pay back in cash at 50,000 at $1 90," which equals 90,000, and it says, "either return or 50 to 70k " Again, same question we had from before At this point in the call, did you not understand he is offering to loan you $150,000 worth of stock but only make you repay 90?

A It wasn't -- it really wasn't clear to me

Q Okay Going to the sixth line of the notes where it says on the left-hand column, it says, "Plan " In your handwritten notes it says "Split into 10k share certificates, Son deliver to Maureen." Do you see that?

A Yes

Q Do you remember him discussing that with you?

A Yes

Q And even though it is you and he are the ones that are negotiating this proposal, and your testimony is that this was a loan to MoBo, he was going to have his son deliver the shares to your wife; is that correct?

A That's what he said.

Q Did you not understand at the time that this would be a way so that physically neither one of you had to actually be involved in the actual transfer of the share certificates; you didn't understand that?

A No.

Q Now, in the next section, it says, "In two to three years repay " At that point, you would have been out of office?

A Yes In three years Yes

Q Okay And you testified that you took all of these notes at the February 3rd call

A I believe all of those pages, Mr Dry, yes

Q Mr Asbill, when he was talking to you about this, he spent some time discussing this "Maureen or MoBo"; do you remember that?

A Yes

Q I believe you testified that yes, you circled "MoBo" because that is what you needed, was a loan to MoBo You didn't need a loan to Maureen.

A Yes

Q Okay In fact, I believe you said, "And so the only thing that was needed was operating cash for that operating shortfall that we had at MoBo and so I circled MoBo " Do you remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q All right Well, can we bring up Government Exhibit 2, please? These are the black and white versions I'd like to go to the color versions I'd like to go to Page 5 Sir, you see that in the color version of these notes, the circle for MoBo, that's in blue ink?

A Yes

Q So that was a different ink than when you were writing all the rest of the notes, right?

A Yes, it appears to be, yes

Q Is it your testimony that mid-stream you decided to pull out a blue pen and circle MoBo?

A I don't remember when I did that I think maybe when I put my notes back in the file I was looking at those These were intended solely for me I'm expecting documents from Mr Williams, from his lawyers, is what he told me As I'm reviewing the notes, I'm making the choice, I'm looking at that and I'm thinking, "If this deal is going to be done, it is going to be done for MoBo," because that was my intent Yes.

Q Okay But I guess, you just said, "Well, it might have been later as I'm putting the notes in "

A Yes

Q Is it your testimony that you know that you circled that in blue ink before the investigation began?

A I believe so, yes I did it when I put them in the file These notes were solely for me, Mr Dry, when I was keeping my notes prior to talking to my broker and my attorney And as between those choices, it was clear to me that I wanted this to be a loan to MoBo And so yes, that was my circle

Q Just so I understand, you are saying that as you are putting the notes away, you are looking at the notes and then you decide, "Well, I'm going to pull out a blue pen and I'm just going to circle MoBo because that's what this is really all about " Is that your testimony?

A You have asked me several questions there

Q Sir, your testimony is that as you are putting the notes away, that's when you think that you circled this, right?

A I believe so Because that was my choice As between the two, it was MoBo Yes

Q And, sir, that you picked up a different pen and you are just -- you happened to be reviewing the notes one more time before they go in the file, right? Is that what you are saying?

A Yes I was in a different room when I had the call

Q And then you decide, Okay, well, "Of all these, I know MoBo is important," and that's why you circled it; is that right?

A No

Q Well --

A The loan had always been intended, Mr Dry, for MoBo That's the sole reason that I was talking to Mr Williams, was for operating cash for MoBo. There was never any question in my mind, sir

Q Let's go back to Government Exhibit 822-2 This is the black and white version again. Now, turning to the bottom half, it says, we are still, I'm sorry, "The loan from Starwood Aviation to Maureen or MoBo " So go up just a little bit Underneath, it says "Airplane account " I believe you testified that Mr Williams explained to you that the shares would come from Starwood Aviation, right?

A That's what he said Yes, sir

Q Okay And did you understand at the time that by the shares coming from Starwood Aviation, that that would assist in distancing Mr Williams from this transaction?

A Absolutely not

Q Okay

A No

Q Let's go to Page 3, please. This is in the same call, the February 3rd call; is that correct?

A That's my best recollection, that this is the third page, yes

Q The "reportability" there, that's in your own handwriting?

A Yes

Q You testified that Mr Williams is only talking about his own reporting requirements, correct?

A Yes

Q As you sit there today, is it your testimony that at this point you don't understand that Mr Williams is trying to explain to you how this transaction could be structured so it wouldn't be reportable by either one of you?

A That was not the discussion.

Q Okay Well, going to the "File Form 4 with SEC saying sold = doesn't disclose who sold to " I believe it is your testimony that Mr Williams told you that

A That's what he told me, yes, when I was on the phone

Q Isn't it odd when you are dealing with a businessman and he is explaining to you that, "Well, if I sell these, I don't have to tell the SEC who I'm selling it to, just that I sold it " That didn't strike you as an odd thing to say in this conversation?

A No, because I knew before I did this, if it happened, I was going to have this reviewed by my lawyer He had told me he had had it reviewed by his, so I'm taking notes, I've got a two-step process for Piscitelli and Poole, and if it is okay, then we do it This transaction never happened I'm listening to Mr Williams' proposal Yes

Q I understand, sir But at this point when he is discussing his disclosure requirements, you understand that ultimately you control your own SOEI?

A Absolutely Mine are different than his

Q And what he is explaining to you is his disclosure requirements

A Yes

Q And that didn't strike you as odd that you are having a conversation; why would you care what his disclosure requirements were?

A I didn't

Q He is just offering this up

A Yes

Q Okay Now, let's go, let's talk about the form about the lawyers The next paragraph, if we go down. I think that, well, actually, when it mentions having the loan reviewed by securities and tax lawyers, you testified that Mr. Williams was going to have that done, right?

A If we can go back up.

Q Yes "Will have review by securities and tax lawyers " He is telling you that?

A Yes, sir. That's exactly what he told me

Q But you understood at the time there is nothing inherently illegal about Mr Williams loaning you shares of stock, right?

A Well, I had never done it before, so yes, I was glad that he was having his lawyers look at it and I was absolutely going to have mine do it if this transaction was going to happen Yes

Q That was not the question. The question was --

A What was the question?

Q You knew at this time that there was nothing inherently illegal about Mr Williams loaning you shares of stock

A I didn't believe so, no, or I wouldn't have even considered it

Q And you also knew that Mr Williams went to lawyers about the transaction. Those lawyers wouldn't know about you setting up a meeting on August 1st of 2011 for Mr Williams with Ms Huffstetler, even if you didn't know the name

A I wouldn't know what he told his lawyers, Mr Dry

Q Right Unless he told the lawyers, the lawyers wouldn't know about the August 30th of 2011 event at the Mansion, right?

A I don't know, sir

Q And unless he told the lawyers, they wouldn't know that Mr Williams wanted to get studies at UVA and VCU

A I wouldn't know what he told his lawyers

Q So ultimately, him going to the lawyers, unless he informs them of the entire thing and not just half the story, that wouldn't be a problem, right?

A I don't understand the question

Q The mere fact that Mr Williams is going to talk to lawyers about this isn't going to be a problem unless they know the whole story You understood that at the time, right?

A No.

Q Let's move down. Further down in the to-do list, you talk about going to talk to Mr Piscitelli And you do that, right?

A Yes

Q And then "Bert Poole-review "

A Yes

Q Same thing with Mr Poole If you talked to Mr Poole about the stock transaction, the only way he is going to know about what Mr Williams wanted or had gotten would be if you told him that, right?

A Yes

Q And ultimately, you never talked to Mr Poole about this transaction, right?

A No, because I didn't get by step one with Mr Piscitelli

Q Okay Let's go to the Healthcare Leaders planning Can we go to Government Exhibit 629, Page 21? Now, after you talked to Mr Williams on February 3rd, you are involved in reviewing the guest list for the Healthcare Leaders Reception, correct? I believe you testified that these are your handwritten notes and yes, you did review and make additions, right?

A Yes You have asked me a couple questions there I did not review --

Q I'll break it down

A Go ahead

Q Were you involved in reviewing the guest list for the Healthcare Leaders Reception at the Mansion after you spoke to Mr Williams on February 3rd, 2009?

A No It wasn't a guest list I got a list of doctors and I was asked to choose whether there was some there that I wanted to invite So it wasn't a final list It was a doctors' list here, sir, and I was asked, and I don't remember whether it was Pam or Sarah or who, asked me to see if there is someone I wanted to invite.

Q You heard Ms Scarbrough testify that she had a personal conversation with you about adding additional people to be identified as Healthcare Leaders of Virginia

A I've heard that

Q Okay Let's go to Government Exhibit 306 This has been admitted This is an e-mail from Ms Scarbrough to Ms Schramm?

A Yes

Q And in this e-mail, Ms Scarbrough says, "The First Lady and Governor were going over the list last night for the healthcare industry event " Correct?

A That's what it says

Q And did you tell her that you wanted the head officers at VCU, MCV, UVA, EVMS and Massey Cancer Center, do you remember telling Ms Scarbrough that those individuals should be invited to the Healthcare Leaders Reception?

A No

Q And then in the bottom, did you know that your wife had invited 50 doctors to be added to the list?

A I did not

Q Okay Now, to be clear at this point, Mary-Shea Sutherland, she is long gone, right?

A Yes

Q Okay This is February 8th At the same time that this is going on, your wife is having discussions with Mr Williams about how things are going with the studies of Anatabloc at UVA and VCU, right?

A I don't know what her discussions were with Mr Williams I do remember getting an e-mail or a text from her during that time, but I'm not much aware of how much discussions she is having with Mr Williams at the time

Q Let's go to one of those e-mails Let's go to February 9th, 2012, Government Exhibit 312 It has been admitted You have seen this e-mail before, sir?

A Yes

Q At the trial And right below the e-mail from your wife, that was sent from Mr Williams' son to your wife on February 8th.

A I see that

Q And that was five days after your personal phone conversation with Mr Williams discussing the stock transaction.

A I think that's right, yes

Q And the subject of the e-mail is "Anatabine clinical studies-UVA, VCU, JHU " Right?
A Yes
Q Going to the top e-mail, well, going to the top e-mail, that's from your wife to you, correct?
A And copying my lawyer, Jasen Eige, yes
Q Okay And in there, well, first of all, your wife writes "Here is the info from Jonnie He has calls into VCU and UVA and no one will return his calls " Do you see that?
A I do
Q You heard Mr Williams testify that he nad a conversation with your wife in which she told him, "Yes, in fact, I forwarded that information that you gave me to the Governor " Do you remember that testimony?
A I did hear him say that, yes
Q And in fact, that's what actually happened, right?
A Yes
Q Okay Now, you and your wife, you had had a conversation about this before, right?
A I don't remember another conversation
Q Well, sir, the e-mails to you cc-ing Mr Eige, she is saying, "Here is the info from Jonnie "
A Yes
Q So you are saying that you did discuss it with her before this or you didn't or you don't remember?

A No, I'm saying I remember this e-mail, but I don't remember a prior conversation. The whole upshot of this is I knew from this that he was calling VCU, apparently, and nobody was returning his calls That's what I understood from all this

Q When you say "all this," did you have a conversation with your wife before this?

A I don't remember having a conversation. I remember this e-mail

Q So despite the fact it says, "Here is the info from Jonnie," it is addressed to you?

A Yes

Q Well, you did testify, I believe, that you read the text of this e-mail at the time it was sent

A Yes, I read the line, certainly read the line from my wife and knew the gist of it from that, yes

Q And in fact, let's bring up Government Exhibit 726, please This is not admitted This is your February 9th schedule Do you see that, sir?

A Yes

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 726 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, within a couple of hours of your wife sending that e-mail, I'm going to have to go back -- excuse me, Your Honor -- can you go back to the e-mail? I just need to get the time off the e-mail so we can pinpoint this It is 3:12 That was 3:13 p.m., sir? Your wife sends you that e-mail?

A Yes

Q Says 3:13 on February 9th Right?

A Yes

Q Can we go back to the schedule, please? Now, here it shows that you are going to depart for the Executive Mansion, you are going to have a weekly address, you are going to pack your luggage and then you are departing for the helo pad, right?

A Yes

Q And who is going to be departing with you?

A It looks like my wife, Tucker Martin, Adam Zubowsky

Q And in fact, you go to Washington, D.C., if you go down to the next --

A Yes

Q Okay And if you go down some further, it might be on the next page, your wife is with you and basically what happens is you attend a Mitt Romney reception that night Right?

A Yes

Q If you go further down, and in fact, you stay at the Hyatt Regency with your wife that night?

A Yes, sir.

Q So after your wife sends this e-mail to you cc-ing Mr Eige, is it your testimony you don't remember discussing any of this with her?

A No

Q Okay Let's go back to the attachments on the e-mails I'd like to discuss that now Government Exhibit 312 Now, this has two attachments And you said on direct, can't say that you ever looked at the attachment

A Right

Q But you never testified that you didn't look at the attachment, right? We can scroll through the attachments

A I don't remember seeing this in realtime, is my testimony I didn't see it

Q Okay Let me go to Page 3 and maybe we can refresh your recollection And then if you could blow up the fourth name -- well, just blow up the top portion, please Now, this is a list of Rock Creek trying to get doctors to study anatabine, right? You heard that testimony earlier in the trial?

A Yes, sir That's what it says

Q Let's go to the fourth name Sir, who is listed in the fourth name there?

A John Clore

Q And Dr Clore, he was at the luncheon event on August 30th?

A Yes

Q And in fact, he was one of the ones that you starred the name, I believe, on your briefing sheet, right?

A Starred him and the one from UVA because I knew they were going to be there to receive grants

Q Actually, sir, I think you testified that you didn't remember why you starred his name.

A No, I said that there was -- that UVA and VCU were the researchers that were listed on my briefing sheet I didn't know either one of those doctors, so I think on the way back on the flight I starred the doctors from those two universities That's my best recollection from the time

Q Okay So if you testified earlier that you didn't remember why you starred Mr Clore's name, now you have a better recollection?

A No, my recollection -- my recollection was I said that when I was flying back from the WTOP interview, I typically look at the briefing of the next things I've got to do And I saw that it is UVA and VCU researchers that are going to be there I knew that they were going to be getting, I thought, $200,000 from Mr Williams I just wanted to know who the people are at the event So that's why I think I starred those two names. I had never met Dr Clore before that event.

Q Okay Can we go to Page 5 of the exhibit? And I believe that this is the prep sheet for the call? That's what it says?

A That's what it says I saw it after the investigation started.

Q Let's go to Page 6 Now, I believe on direct you talked about, can you blow up "The Governor of Virginia and his wife became interested." I believe on direct you testified regarding these three questions that that was consistent with the questions that you would have asked at the August 30th event; is that right?

A Well, I asked many questions That may be a general summary of the type of questions I asked of the researchers, yes, sir, that's correct

Q Okay And, now, this part right here, "Hearing affirmative answers to all three questions, he suggested a grant be made to the Tobacco Commission." I know you don't agree with this --

A Absolutely not

Q -- but that's referencing you?

A It is

Q Just to be clear, at the same time that you and your wife were asking Mr Williams to provide more money, whether it is to you personally or to MoBo, and he is asking for some kind of help with UVA and VCU, you just have no recollection of reading this Is that your testimony?

A You have asked a few questions in there about timing Could we break those down to make sure I understand?

Q Sure This is an attachment to a February 9th e-mail

A Yes

Q Your wife sends you this e-mail

A Yes

Q And in the e-mail, she says no one will return Mr Williams' calls

A That's her e-mail to me, yes

Q And she specifically references "UVA and VCU Studies" in the subject line of the e-mail

A Yes, that's correct

Q And at this point, this is five days after you are personally negotiating more money from Mr Williams

A Yes

Q And I think I understand your testimony to be you just don't remember actually opening up the attachments and reading this

A Yes I did not see that I'm sure I did not see those Because if I had, I would have been upset with the lies that are in that e-mail I did not say that about a Tobacco Commission grant I did not see it

Q Okay So I guess you previously said you didn't recall seeing the attachment

A Yes

Q Now your testimony is you know that you didn't see at least that portion of the attachment; is that right?

A I didn't.

Q Okay Going back to -- actually, let's go to 314 This is the e-mail from Ms McDonnell to Jasen Eige You have seen this e-mail before?

A Yes

Q And --

A I'm sorry, Mr Dry Let me make sure just a minute

Q Absolutely Take your time, sir

(Witness perusing document)

A Sir, you are talking about the bottom one is the one that I reviewed. You are asking me about the top one now?

Q Yes, sir

A Yes

Q You are not on this

A No I saw this, I think, after the investigation started

Q And that's sent on February 10th at 9:27 a.m.?

A Yes To Jasen Eige, my lawyer, and Maureen's lawyer.

Q And your wife tells Mr Eige to call Jonnie. Right?

A That's what it says

Q And it says, "Governor wants to know why nothing has developed with studies and Governor wants to get this going with VCU and MCV," right?

A That's what it says, yes

Q Your testimony is that you never had a conversation with your wife in which you expressed that you want to get this going with VCU and MCV

A I did not That was up to Star and their folks to do that

Q Okay But her instructions, sir, here, she says, "Please let us know what you find out after we return " She is not saying, "Please let me find out " She is saying "us," right?

A That's what she said, yes

Q And it was "after we return "

A That's what she said

Q Now, as you sit there today, you are clear that that is just inaccurate, you never had a conversation with your wife in which you expressed that, correct?

A Yes

Q So your testimony is that your wife was misleading one of your most trusted advisors and assuming that the two of you would not discuss this so that he could find out what you really wanted. That's your testimony?

A There was a lot of parts to that question Mr Eige was her lawyer as well

Q First of all, is your testimony that your wife is misleading Mr Eige?

A I don't know I don't know, Mr Dry

Q You are testifying --

A I'm saying that that is not true with regard to my statements

Q And your testimony is that she would send this to Mr Eige, assuming that the two of you wouldn't talk about it; is that what's going on?

A I don't know I didn't get the e-mail

Q Well, let's look at your schedule for when the time that your wife actually sends this e-mail

A Okay

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 313, please This has been admitted. This is your schedule for February 10th of 2012, correct? We can blow it up

A Yes

Q You can see that?

A Yes

Q And then going to the bottom of Page 1, it says from 9:20 to 10:05 you are departing for the Marriott Wardman Park Hotel

A Yes

Q And on the top of Page 2, that shows that your wife is traveling with you?

A Yes

Q And then that shows that you are actually going to be in a car together for the 23 5, 36-minute drive without traffic Right?

A Yes, it looks like with Tucker Martin and Adam Zubowsky and Phil Cox and two state troopers Yes

Q And you heard Mr Martin's testimony that when you and your wife traveled together, you typically sat on one side of the SUV and she would sit next to you.

A Yes

Q And so it is your testimony that your wife is e-mailing Mr Eige about this as you are sitting next to her and you have no discussions about this to figure out what's going on

A My testimony is I don't know that this e-mail is being sent

Q You didn't have any discussions during that drive with your wife about it?

A No

Q And you didn't have any --

A It was a car full of people No

Q How about the night before?

A No

Q So when you are alone in the hotel room together with your wife, you are not discussing this

A No, I'm probably discussing Mitt Romney

Q With your wife?

A Yes She was in the hotel room.

Q Okay Well, let's go to an e-mail that you were on and you did send Let's go to Government Exhibit 318 Let's go to the bottom part You have seen this e-mail before, sir?

A Yes, I have

Q And this is an e-mail one week after the one that your wife sent to you and Mr Eige, right?

A Yes

Q And in this e-mail, you write Johnnie J-O-H-N-N-I-E, you know that's the incorrect spelling Now you know it is the incorrect spelling, right?

A Yes, sir, I do

Q He is not your personal friend at this point, right?

A He is a friend, Mr Dry

Q Let me ask you about that: Is it your testimony that for your personal friends, you just don't know how to spell their name? Is that typical, that you don't know how to spell the name of your personal friends?

A It is not typical

Q Just with Mr Williams; it was difficult

A I misspelled his name I did it repeatedly And I apparently did it in my BlackBerry and my iPhone address book, too, yes, sir

Q All right Well, sir, it is not an auto correct problem, right? It is not that it is in your address book --

MR BROWNLEE: I object

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I misspelled his name, yes, sir

BY MR. DRY:

Q But are you saying that the reason was because it was an auto correct thing because it was in the BlackBerry wrong?

A No

Q Then why did you mention the BlackBerry?

A Because it was misspelled in other e-mails that was auto addressed, it was misspelled because it was entered wrong by either me or my staff I misspelled his name, yes, sir

Q You did it in handwriting all over the notes

A I'm sure I did I've misspelled other people's names So it's not like me, but I've done it before

Q He is a personal friend?

A He is a friend, yes, sir

Q All right In this e-mail, you write, "Know you have been slammed " That's in reference to the fact that your testimony is you hadn't personally spoken to Mr. Williams since February 3rd about this, right?

A Yes, sir, I think that's right

Q Okay. And at this point, you know that MoBo needs cash; is that accurate? To pay the bills?

A My sister and I had elected to do a loan that year, yes, that's correct

Q Okay In fact, Mr Uncapher had told you "We need to get that check in so that we can pay the bills" in that e-mail, right?

A He did, yes

Q Okay Now, the check hadn't come as of this date, right?

A That's correct We didn't have any agreement yet, yes That's correct

Q And then the reference to the certificates, that's in reference to that February 3rd call that we went through, right?

A Yes If the hypothetical proposal would happen there would be certificates and documents that I would have anticipated getting from his lawyer That's correct

Q Now, when you offered to contact his lawyer, you understand at this point that in order to actually do the share transaction in which he transfers shares to you or your wife or to MoBo or anybody, a lawyer is going to have to be involved to like literally transfer the shares into a different name, right? You understood that?

A Yes I had done it with my dad's estate, yes

Q Okay And again, calling the lawyer to actually do that portion of the transaction, nothing inherently illegal about that, right?

A No, sir

Q Okay And as long as neither you nor Mr Williams told anything about what Mr Williams wanted or expected, nobody is the wiser

A I don't agree with the premise of your question at all Do you want to rephrase it?

Q No, I think what we are going to do is go to Government Exhibit 320 Now, that's sent on February 16th at 11:56, that other one

A Yes

Q Okay

A This is one of five e-mails I sent in that half an hour, yes

Q Right Now, six minutes after you send the e-mail to Mr Williams about the stock certificates, you e-mail

Jasen Eige and say, "Please see me about Anatabloc issues at VCU and UVA " Correct?

A Yes

Q You don't have anything about, "Hey, just want them to return his calls" in this e-mail You are just saying, "Please see me about these "

A Yes

Q And at this point, you know that Mr Williams wants your assistance in getting UVA and VCU to agree to help with the studies, right?

A No

Q All right So despite the June 16th, 2011 letter in which he lays out his recommendation, you don't understand that he is trying to get these studies and wants your help?

A That's not what the June 16th letter said.

Q He is not -- he is not suggesting studies of Anatabloc at UVA and VCU in the June 16th, 2011, in his letter?

A He sent in a proposal out of the blue And I've gotten hundreds of those And I forwarded it on, like I would for any other person during my four years as Governor, to my Secretary of Health Yes He never asked me for help with VCU and UVA.

Q You just said hundreds of proposals

A Letters, requests for help, yes Maybe thousands

Q I believe you testified yesterday that you had posed with products hundreds of times, right? Wasn't that your testimony on cross?

A I've been in front of signs and with products in my hand hundreds and hundreds of times as Governor Yes, sir

Q Okay, sir How many other times had anybody affiliated with those products or proposals given your wife a $50,000 check? How many other times?

A None

Q How many other of those products or proposals had given you a $50,000 loan for your company, MoBo?

A To MoBo None

Q How about $20,000 -- any of those give a $20,000 loan to MoBo?

A No

Q How many of those had let you play golf at their golf club and charge up thousands of dollars of golf expenses?

A None

Q So you didn't see Mr Williams as unique?

A Mr Dry, if you are suggesting that I got a $50,000 loan for MoBo in order to have Mr Williams' calls returned, you are completely off base

Q No, sir, that's not what I am suggesting So let's stop and stick with the documents Okay?

A Yes, sir

Q Okay Now, in this, Mr Eige responds back And responds back in four minutes He says, "Will do. We need to be careful with this issue."

A Yes

Q And you have mentioned a lot that you are e-mailing Mr. Eige, your attorney, right? You have mentioned that multiple times

A Yes In fact, I had e-mailed him about ten minutes before on Senate budget and Amazon, yes

Q But Mr Eige also wore the hat as the policy director?

A He did both. Yes

Q And he had also been at the Mansion event on August 30th and saw the discussion about the research?

A Yes

Q He had also sat in and watched UVA and VCU in that same meeting, the representatives there? He was present with those UVA and VCU doctors, right?

A At the Mansion lunch, yes He was there Yes

Q But it is your testimony that really, you are sending this to Mr Eige in his role as your lawyer

A And because he was there at the event Yes

Q So you want his advice in part for legal reasons,

right?

A Yes

Q His legal advice Okay But Mr McDonnell, you are trained as an attorney, right?

A Yes

Q And in fact, you were in private practice?

A Yes

Q And you have had experience representing clients?

A Yes

Q And you know that the legal advice that you give your clients depends on the information they give to you in your role as a lawyer, right?

A Yes

Q And in fact, it is impossible to advise a client if he fails to give you all the relevant information

A It is always helpful, yes

Q Now, in this e-mail, you are just asking Mr Eige to come see you about what Mr Williams wanted, right?

A Yes

Q But there is nothing in this e-mail --

A No. Excuse me, no

Q There is nothing in this e-mail from you to Mr Eige disclosing the fact that you are negotiating a financial transaction with Mr Williams

A No, sir I don't talk about my personal finances with my subordinates No, sir

Q And in fact, you heard Mr Eige say that he knew nothing about that

A Yes, sir I know that

Q And Mr. Eige didn't know anything about the $15,000 payment for the wedding reception.

A That's right Because we don't make decisions based on money No, sir

Q Sir, you didn't think that it might be relevant to Mr Eige, your legal counsel, to explain to him that you are asking him for advice about basically Star and UVA and VCU and that it might not be relevant to tell him, "Hey, I'm also negotiating a loan with Mr Williams" as this is going on?

A No, sir To ask him to get a phone call returned, which I've done thousands of times? It is basic constituent service No, sir

Q Okay But despite the fact that he doesn't know anything about the financial transactions or the gifts or any of that, what does he write in response?

A "Will do We need to be careful with this issue "

Q And I believe you testified on direct that you don't remember really discussing this with Mr Eige Can you keep that up, please?

A I'm fairly sure I saw him the next morning, because the e-mail I sent ten minutes before that said, "Please see me about the Senate budget and Amazon " I was going out of town for, I think, seven out of the next ten days So I'm almost certain that he would have come to see me But as he testified, I don't remember actually talking to him or what the substance of my conversation was the next day, but we probably talked

Q Well, and in fact, you testified on direct that the "We need to be careful with this issue," that you just didn't understand what he was talking about

A I figured he would tell me when we talked That's why I went to talk to him. That's why I would have talked to him.

Q Well, you didn't go to talk to him. You just testified that you thought that he could have come to talk to you.

A My testimony is, I do not have a specific recollection the next day of talking to him about this issue I believe we did have a conversation that next day, because I'm pretty certain he would have come to see me about the pressing issues of the Senate budget because we were having a meltdown, and also the Amazon economic development deal and the bill that we had before the General Assembly He knew those were pressing So I probably talked to him.

Q Sir, so when one of your senior advisors tells you, in the midst of negotiating a loan with Mr Williams, "We need to be careful about this issue," it didn't strike your mind, "My senior advisor is concerned, I need to figure out what his concerns are and I need to make sure that I understand them and that we do the right thing"?

A Sure And that's exactly what I testified on direct, yes

Q You testified on direct that you would have, but you have no recollection of it

A That's right. If I talked to him I told him what I would have said, yes

Q How many other e-mails like this did your senior advisors give you related to you getting -- where they are expressing concern and it related to somebody that you had personal financial transactions with?

A I don't know about e-mails, but there were several conversations I would have had with Martin Kent about donors and how we need to be careful about how we handle certain transactions

Q Did you consider Mr Williams a donor at this point?

A Yes And a friend.

Q When you say donor, are you talking about a political campaign donor?

A And gift giver We looked at him essentially the same But donors, all of those, we wanted to make sure that we handled people fairly They couldn't get additional consideration or no consideration. They were treated fairly

Q Sir, so I think I understand what you are saying is that in your mind, a political donor raises the same issues as someone that gives you personal loans or money for your daughter's wedding or anything

A Yes

Q There is nc distinction.

A There is a distinction, but it raises the same type of visibility, yes

Q Raises the same type of visibility?

A And concerns, yes

Q Well, hold on, sir The campaign donations, those are tracked pretty well, both ways, right? People submit the forms, the flights, those are -- there is reporting requirements for money in and money out, all of that, right?

A Yes

Q But on the SOEI, ultimately, that's really your internal process in the Governor's Mansion, right?

A The processes are the same Staff does it, I approve them.

Q Right But let me ask you this: The staff doesn't know who is paying for golf when you are out at Kinloch unless you tell them, right?

A No

Q And the staff doesn't know who picked up the dinner tab for when you go out to dinner with somebody unless you tell them.

A It is on the calendar

Q Hold on, sir. Does it typically say on the calendar that so-and-so is going to be paying for it?

A There may be information on there sometimes, yes

Q Okay Now, just to be clear, Mr Eige testified about a conversation with Mr Kilgore You didn't know anything about that?

A No, I did not.

Q Okay And you didn't instruct him to call Mr Kilgore?

A I don't think so

Q Let's go forward six days Let's go to the opening, the February 23rd, 2012 call That's what I would like to discuss next Is that all right, sir?

A Okay

Q Okay So 323, this is a text from your wife on February 22nd, 2012 to you, this has been admitted. Do you see that, sir?

A I do

Q In this, your wife texts you on February 22nd, 2012, and she says that "Jonnie texted me to say he needs our broker's name and phone number to transfer shares this week." Do you see that?

A I see it

Q She is not saying "my broker "

A She says "our broker's "

Q At that point she is talking about Mr Piscitelli, right?

A I would think so, yes

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 325 This has been admitted. This is the calendar invite for the call with Mr Piscitelli on February 23rd at 3:30, correct?

A Yes

Q And the participants are just you, your wife, and Mr Piscitelli, right?

A Yes

Q Now, you heard Mr Piscitelli testify, right?

A Yes

Q And he testified that no one else was on this call but everybody could hear each other, right?

A Yes

Q And he testified that you personally thanked him for helping out your wife?

A The previous year, yes

Q I don't think he testified that particularly I think he just testified "Thank you for helping Maureen " Or is it your testimony that you actually told him, "Thank you for helping Maureen the prior year"?

A No, that's my testimony

Q That's your testimony. And Mr. Piscitelli testified that you, you told him that Star Scientific was holding stock for you.

A I heard him say that

Q Well, did you tell him that Star Scientific was holding stock for you?

A No, sir I did not I think that was a miscommunication. I did not.

MR. ASBILL: Objection. Asked and answered.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. DRY: No, it is not I didn't go over the Piscitelli call

BY MR. DRY:

Q So your testimony is that you never told Mr Piscitelli that Star Scientific was holding stock for you.

A No, sir

Q Now, you did testify that you asked him whether it would be possible to transfer the shares and use them for a margin loan, right?

A Yes That was the sole purpose of the call, was to ask him that, because I needed cash. We elected to have cash for MoBo We didn't need stock. So yes, sir, that was the sole purpose of my call

Q When you say "We needed cash," you mean --

A We, my sister and I, and we didn't -- it wasn't need We had -- I had $65,000 in the bank. We elected that year to choose a loan, and that's why the call was made

Q Sir, Mr Piscitelli testified that during that call, you instructed him to open another Davenport account to accept the shares, right?

A I heard him say that

Q Okay Is it your testimony that you did not tell him to open another Davenport account to have the shares transferred in?

A No, because there was no agreement yet He did not even tell me if a margin loan could be done

Mr Piscitelli did talk to us about some options, if the loan were to be approved. But I did not instruct him at that time.

Q You heard Mr Piscitelli testify in fact that you instructed him to open the account in your wife's name only Do you remember him testifying to that?

A I don't remember -- he may have Yes If he said that, then he said that Yes

Q And in fact, he testified that you instructed him it should be in your wife's name only and it should be a segregated account Correct?

A I heard him say that Yes.

Q Is it your testimony that you never told him to open the account in your wife's name only and for it to be a segregated account?

A No, sir I think it had to be a segregated account We did speak about that because the purpose of this loan would be for MoBo, not for my wife, not for me So we did discuss that, if, if Davenport was able to do a margin loan. I did not have an answer on the phone at that time So we were talking in the future about what would happen. That was my understanding

Q Sir, this call was on February 23rd, 2009, right?

A Right

Q I mean 2012

A 2012, yes

Q February 23rd, 2012, right?

A Yes

Q At this point, you knew that your wife had sold the shares?

A From the previous year, yes

Q And your testimony was that you didn't know that she had repurchased them at this point

A Yes Correct

Q So if that's the case, why would you need a new Davenport account in your wife's name?

A I didn't know whether she still had an account or not Mr Piscitelli was telling us that if a margin loan could be approved, that we would have a different account for MoBo.

Q Well, Mr Piscitelli didn't testify about any of that He testified that it was your idea to open up an account just in Ms McDonnell's name. Do you remember that testimony?

A I heard him say that, yes

Q And he testified that you instructed him that the account should be segregated.

A I heard him say that, yes

Q And at this point, you testified that you did not know that your wife still held Star stock.

A Yes, sir That's correct

Q Well, sir, if you didn't know that she was holding Star stock, why did you just testify about how important it was that it be a segregated account because it was for MoBo?

A You have asked me a couple questions in there

Q Actually, let's move on.

A Would you like me to answer them?

Q Sir, I think -- let's do it this way Yes Can we get a concise, short answer?

A Okay Could you restate the question, please?

Q Okay So, this is a string that we set up But as of this meeting on February 23rd of 2012

A Phone call

Q Phone call Your testimony was that you did not know your wife still held Star stock.

A Yes.

Q And in fact, Mr Piscitelli testified that it was -- you instructed him to open up a new account in your wife's name only

A Yes, I heard him say that That was one of the options we discussed, yes

Q You instructed him to make it a segregated account

A Yes

Q And then you testified, well, that was the whole point: It needed to be segregated because this was for MoBo

A Yes

Q Okay But the account is going to be in just your wife's name only

A I don't remember that discussion with Mr Piscitelli He discussed options with us But there was no transfer at the time We had no approval He was giving us options if he could do a margin loan. Yes

Q When you just said, "I don't remember that conversation," are you saying that Mr Piscitelli's testimony could have happened, you just don't remember it?

A He discussed several options with us that if this loan, margin loan were to be approved, how it would be set up, yes.

Q Okay So just so I'm clear, are you saying that Mr Piscitelli's testimony that you instructed him to open up the account in just your wife's name, that that didn't happen?

A I don't remember telling him that, sir, at the time No

Q Okay That's different

A Mr Piscitelli testified to that I have no reason to doubt him. I just don't remember having any directive because it was hypothetical at that point There was no agreement yet on a stock transfer

Q Now, during that call, you or your wife gave Mr Piscitelli Mr Williams' phone number; do you remember that?

A I don't

Q Okay

///

///

Q Did you know that Mr Piscitelli actually did open another Davenport account in your wife's name only?

A I learned that after the investigation started and that had happened Yes

Q But before that, you didn't have any idea?

A No, sir

Q And to be clear, Mr Piscitelli is a long-time family friend, right?

A He is a very good and honorable man, and he's a long-time friend Yes

Q And, in fact, he's the godfather of one of your children?

A Yes, sir That's why I used him as a broker Yes

Q It's fair to say that he doesn't want anything -- he doesn't want any -- well, I'm going to step back from that one

Let's go to the February 29th private meeting Now, you had a meeting with Mr Williams on February 29th, 2012, correct?

A Yes, sir, I did

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 345, please

BY MR DRY:

Q And this is the calendar invite for that meeting?

A Yes

Q The meeting was at the PHB That's Patrick Henry Building?

A Yes

Q And it was going to be in your conference room?

A Yes

Q The meeting was scheduled to last between -- from 1:30 to 1:55?

A Yes

Q Okay And the topic listed was "Healthcare Group Leaders Reception Tonight." But you don't know how that came about, right?

A No, sir I don't do calendar entries It would have been -- yes, sir

Q Fair enough But the actual topic, you knew going into this call, or the meeting, that the actual topic was going to be this financial transaction, in some form, involving you and Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: Let's go to -- it's been admitted several times, but it's a new number Government's Exhibit 823

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this is the one page of notes that you've testified about before from that meeting, correct, sir?

A Yes

MR DRY I'd like it admit Government's Exhibit 823, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. DRY:

Q Now, zooming in -- or concentrating, I don't think we need to zoom in But that middle section, that's from Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q That's his handwriting?

A Yes

Q And, in fact, you handed him the pad, and he's explaining the transaction to you by writing this, right?

A Yes

Q Now, again, he's talking -- when it says "50,000 SHS," you understood that to be shares, right?

A I think so Yes, sir

Q Okay And the "M," that's -- that's discussing transferring the shares to your wife Maureen, "50,000 SHS M," or did you not understand that?

A I don't know

Q Okay Let's go down to the bottom third This is your handwriting?

A Yes

Q And it says "Deal 2/29 of 2012," correct?

A Yes

Q And the notes say that March 1, 2012, that it was going to be the loan of 50K shares to Maureen Value is $2 10 Do you see that?

A Yes

Q But, first of all, you testified on direct that really you were talking about $50,000 worth of shares But it's clear here from the notes that Mr Williams is talking about 50,000 actual shares, right?

A I don't -- I don't know I was thinking $50,000 because that's what I needed for MoBo He had -- yes

Q Again, sir, the shares are going to be to your wife Maureen wife, right?

A That's what my note says here Yes

Q Well, if -- you're the one that's personally negotiating the loan, right?

A Yes

Q And the account that's been set up by this time, that's a segregated account that's only in your wife's name?

A I didn't know that at the time that he had done that Yes

Q Well, who had done that, Mr Piscitelli --

A Yes

Q -- or your wife?

A Either

Q Okay Now, what it doesn't say here is that the shares are going to be a loan to MoBo, right?

A No

Q Now, going to the repayment section, here it says there's two options, "Return 50K shares or repay purchase at 2 20 either within 4 years " Do you see that?

A Yes

Q Now --

A That's what he told me

Q So in that first option, return 50,000 shares, basically you understand at that time Mr Williams is saying, "Look At any time in four years, just give me my shares back," right?

A That's what he proposed Yes

Q And you understood that at the time?

A Yes

Q So under that option, you could use Mr Williams' shares as collateral and not pay him any interest or anything else even after four years?

A I'm not sure This was the proposal that he had made on this date that had not been yet written up This is the best notes that I took from my meeting with him for 20 minutes

Q All right Well, let's go the "repay" -- number 2, "repay purchase at 2 20 either within 4 years "

So he's telling you that you could just give him the shares back or pay him cash of 2 20 for 50,000 shares, right?

A That's what he said Yes, sir

Q And that would be about $110,000, right, at 2 20?

A That's the math Yes

Q All right So regardless if the stock went up to $10, you're protected because you only have to pay him 2 20, right?

A "Protected"?

Q Yeah In other words, if the shares go up to -- you borrow 50,000 shares, the shares go up to $10, you're not going to have to pay Mr Williams the $10 per share four years from now You're just going to have to pay him the 2 20, right? That's what he's telling you here?

A That's the proposal that he made that I wrote down Yes, sir

Q Okay Well, let's go -- do you know what the share price was at this point?

A No

MR DRY: Well, let's go to Government's Exhibit 40, Page 7, please And we need -- it should be closing on 2/29, February 29th of 2012 It's okay

BY MR DRY:

Q Do you see where that says that the share price closing on that date was $3 75?

A Yes, I do

Q And multiplying that by 50,000, roughly comes up with 187,000 Does that sound about right?

A Yes, sir That's the math

Q So, in essence, Mr Williams is offering to give you $187,000 worth of stock, and all you're going to have to pay him back is 110,000, right?

A I don't know, sir This was a proposal that never happened I didn't do the math I hadn't talked to the lawyers I hadn't got Mr Piscitelli's approval It was discussions

Q Well, under either option --

MR DRY: I'm sorry Can we go back to the notes It's 823

BY MR DRY:

Q Under either option, it says, "Within 4 years," right, sir?

A Yes

Q And that's going to be better than the Dr Davis loan that you've been making payments on, right?

A Well, Dr Davis was five years

Q Right, sir But you're making monthly payments to Dr Davis --

A Sure

Q -- at 7 percent, right?

A Yes

Q So this sounds like a better proposal?

A Under that proposal, it would have depended on the stock price, but --

Q When it says -- that would have been after you got out of office, right, four years?

A Yes, sir

Q And when it says, "Transfer to Piscitelli, J Piscitelli 3/1," he's telling you that he was going to transfer the shares as of March 1st?

A That's what he said

Q And you testified that that didn't happen?

A I didn't have any approval from Mr Piscitelli that he was able to do a margin loan If there was no margin loan, there was no purpose of even pursuing this Because I was asking him for cash for MoBo That's all I really needed

Q I believe you testified that all of these -- let me get this right This all happened in the meeting, and the notes all occurred in that meeting on this page, right?

A I believe so

Q All right

MR DRY: Well, let's go to Government --

A I mean, I took these for myself

MR DRY: -- Exhibit 2, Page 2, please

BY MR DRY:

Q This is the color version of that Well, that 2012, that's in blue, right, sir?

A Yes

Q Which is different than the black ink that was on the other page, right?

A Yes.

Q And you just wrote that in -- when did you write that in?

A I don't know But it is -- I just wanted to distinguish my 2012 from my 2011 notes

Q Okay So you don't know when you wrote that?

A No, sir

Q But you're sure that on the MoBo one, the one we looked at previously, that you did that that day while you were putting them in your file?

A I'm pretty sure Because I had it -- there were a choice that was offered to me I believe that's correct Yes, sir

Q Okay Now, less than five hours after this conversation with Mr Williams, you see him at the Healthcare Leaders Reception?

A Yes

MR DRY: And let's go to Government's Exhibit 329, please

BY MR DRY:

Q This is the briefing form --

A Yes

Q -- for that?

A It is

Q And it says, "Leaders in Virginia healthcare industry"?

A Yes.

Q And then, "Personal doctors of McDonnells" and "doctors, friends," right"?

A Yes

Q Now, if you look -- you received this the night before the event?

A I believe so That's when I typically received the information about events and the invite list Yes

Q So going into the meeting with Mr Williams, you probably reviewed this before the meeting, right? Typically, you would?

A Most of the time I take a quick look at it Yes

Q Okay And on this briefing form --

MR DRY: If we go to the second page, I believe

BY MR DRY:

Q This shows David Dean from Star Scientific?

A It does

Q And then it's got Jonnie Williams, Jr and Sr

MR. DRY: If we go to the next page, I believe

A Yes. I see -- well --

MR DRY: Well, I think we clicked over it. I think that might have been my fault Sorry, Ms. Taylor. Can we get to the Jonnie Williams. One more There we go

BY MR DRY:

Q Do you see that, "Jonnie Williams, Jr , Jonnie Williams, Sr "?

A Yes

Q And then Dr Ladenson is on this as well

MR DRY: Can we go up, please?

BY MR DRY:

Q Paul Ladenson, right there?

A Yes

Q Doesn't have an affiliation for him?

A No

Q But you had heard Dr Ladenson speak at the Anatabloc -- or, I'm sorry, at the Mansion event on August 30th of 2011? You heard him say that?

A Yes, I have

Q So you knew he was affiliated in some way with the research of Anatabloc?

A I think -- yes From Hopkins Yes

MR DRY: Now, let's go to Government's Exhibit 334, please

BY MR DRY:

Q You saw Mr Williams at the Healthcare Leaders event?

A Yes

MR DRY: Go to 336

BY MR DRY:

Q And this is you and your wife at the event, correct?

A Yes.

MR DRY: And then 338

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, you heard Mr Williams' testimony that he talked to your wife and asked her to have you recognize Dr Ladenson Do you remember that testimony?

A I heard that Yes

Q But it sounded like from your direct that you just recognized Dr Ladenson because he was an out-of-towner Is that accurate?

A I don't know I introduced a lot of people, as I would at any event Dr Ladenson is from a prominent university I don't remember my wife telling me that So she may have I just don't know But I introduced a number of people, as I would at any of the 300 events that we did

Q Okay. So just so I'm clear, though, you're not denying that your wife may have told you?

A She might have, sir

Q You just don't have a recollection?

A Yes I don't remember. I probably would have done it anyway Dr Ladenson is from a distinguished hospital out of town Sure

MR DRY: You can pull that down, please

BY MR DRY:

Q You heard Dr Hazel testify that he didn't think that Dr Ladenson was a healthcare leader, right?

A I think he said that

Q And you heard Dr Hazel testify that he certainly didn't think Jonnie Williams was a healthcare leader, right?

A Yes, sir I heard him say that

Q In fact, he didn't have much patience for Roskamp either? And none of those people are going to be healthcare leaders?

A That's what he said

Q But despite the fact that your Secretary of Health doesn't think this guy is -- Dr Ladenson is a healthcare leader, you singled him out?

A He didn't talk to me about that before Listen, I was always trying to give courtesies to people if they were out of town He was a person I had met before from a distinguished university in a neighboring state of Maryland who has an office in Virginia I do many introductions like that.

Q Sir, you've been a member of the Republican Governors Association ever since you were -- when?

A When I started in 2010 I became a member.

Q And you've served as the Vice Chairman?

A Yes In '11

Q Served as Chairman?

A Yes In mid-'11, I became Chairman

Q And I believe you testified that the RGA raises lots of money?

A Yes, sir

Q And, in fact, you were involved extensively in raising money for the RGA, right?

A I was I spent a lot of time traveling around the country asking for help Yes

Q And, in fact, I believe you testified that you personally were involved in raising $20 million for the RGA?

A During the time I was Chairman, I think I personally raised about 20, and the organization raised about 55 that one year It was the second -- the year I was Chairma fully in '12 Yes, sir

Q And you testified that you personally asked RGA donors for million-dollar donations?

A A few

Q Okay And you would attend RGA events for donors?

A Yes

MR DRY: Can we bring up Government's Exhibit 309, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, this is an e-mail from Kristen Kaplan to your wife, forwarding an e-mail from Mr Zubowsky to Kristen Kaplan I want to make it clear, you're not on this e-mail, right?

A No

Q Okay But I do want -- effectively, this is a list of people that RGA -- you've reviewed this? It's been at trial?

A Yes I saw it in some of the documents I think you may have disclosed to my legal team Yes

Q Fair to say, this is a list of people the RGA wants to be invited to the Healthcare Leaders Reception?

A Yes

Q Is that fair to say?

A That's what it says Yes

Q Okay Now, I want to talk about these membership levels What's -- it says "Board," and then it goes all the way -- it goes "Board, Cabinet, Council, Roundtable and Statesmen " Are those different -- what are those?

A They're different fundraising levels or donation levels that people give to the RGA

Q Now, is Board the lowest?

A I don't remember

Q Is Statesmen the highest?

A I honestly don't remember I should I don't remember, Mr Dry

Q That's okay Do you remember what the breakdown is for how much somebody has to give to be a Board or a Statesmen or anything like that?

A I don't

Q Any additional information?

A But they are all significant donors to the Republican Governors Association

Q Well, let's go to -- so this is an e-mail where RGA wants to send people to the Healthcare Leaders event, right?

A Yes, sir I didn't know about it at the time But that's what it says, yes

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's 814 This is not admitted I think I might have the wrong one 815 I'm sorry Government's Exhibit 815 Thank you,

Ms Taylor

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, do you recognize this as a list of the RGA's top donors for 2012?

A If you're representing to me, Mr Dry, that that's -- you've gotten it off a website and that's what it is. Yes, sir

MR DRY: Government --

A I recognize some of the names

MR DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 814 into evidence 815 I apologize

BY MR DRY:

Q How much --

MR DRY: Can we blow up the actual chart?

BY MR DRY:

Q So WellMed, they donate $1 25 million to RGA, right? Do you see that?

A Yes, sir

Q And you see Pfizer 930,000?

A Yes

Q And you see AstraZeneca, 650,000?

A Yes

Q And UnitedHealth Group, 800,000?

A Yes

Q All right

MR DRY: So let's go back to Government's Exhibit 309

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, keep in mind those companies that we just went over. Do you see those companies on this list that the RGA wants to invite, WellMed? Do you see that? It might be on the next page Do you see that towards the bottom?

A Yes

Q And do you see Pfizer? A couple -- four above?

A I do.

Q And do you see UnitedHealth Group? Right above WellMed

A Yes

Q And do you see AstraZeneca?

A Yes

Q But despite the fact that all of those are some of the RGA's biggest donors, the RGA didn't get to invite anybody to the Healthcare Group Leaders Reception, right?

A I had no idea at the time because I -- this wasn't my request I didn't see these documents until prior to trial, so I don't know

MR DRY: Well, let's take a look at Government's Exhibit 815, please -- 6 Not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is Star Scientific's donations to the RGA for 2012 Do you see that, sir?

A I mean, if you're representing this is a document that came off the VPAP, and these are the actual donations, then yes, sir, I accept the representation.

Q That's 2011 and 2012

MR DRY: I'd like to move Government's Exhibit 816 into evidence.

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: Can we blow up that?

BY MR DRY:

Q How much did Star Scientific give to the RGA?

A The total says $23,048

Q And to be clear, a lot of these, these are in-kind flights that you took, right? I mean, some of the --

A I don't -- I don't know who took them I may have taken some, sir But they look like, because of the odd numbers, they are probably the value of a flight Yes

Q Okay So none of the other RGA donors got an invite, but Mr Williams and Star Scientific representatives did, right?

A I -- I don't -- I know that now Yes, sir

Q Let's go to the La Grotta dinner After the Healthcare Leaders --

THE COURT: Let me stop you there We'll stop now for morning break Fifteen minutes

(Recess taken from 11:20 a m until 11:42 a m)

(The jury entered the courtroom)

THE COURT: All right Mr Dry

MR DRY: Thank you, Your Honor

BY MR DRY:

Q Mr McDonnell, I think we left off at the La Grotta That was after the Healthcare Leaders Reception, right?

A Yes.

Q And I believe that you testified that you didn't really know how much the bill was Is that accurate?

A Yes

Q Did you know that you and your wife's portion would be more than -- or your portion would personally be more than $50, or did you not realize that?

A I did not

Q Okay But in any event, at no point in that meal did you offer to pay for yourself, right?

A No

Q And you didn't offer to pay for your wife?

A No

Q Now, you heard Dr Crantz -- Dr Crantz was at the dinner?

A Yes I believe so Yes

Q And you remember it being you, your wife, Mr Williams, Dr Crantz, and Dr Ladenson? Do you remember all of those five people being at the dinner?

A I do I thought there were a few others, but I do remember those five Yes

Q Okay And you heard Dr Crantz testify about how Anatabloc was part of the conversation at the dinner, right?

A Yes

Q And then after the dinner, you invited Dr Crantz and Dr Ladenson to actually stay in the Executive Mansion that night, right?

A I'm not sure if it was my wife or I But, yes, we did And they did

Q Okay Let's go -- well, let me ask you this Do you consider Mr Williams a personal friend at the time that you're eating dinner at La Grotta?

A Yes, sir He's a friend Yes

Q Let's go -- your next conversation with Mr Williams that you testified about was March 12th of 2012; is that right?

A Yes I think that's right Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: Let's show -- this is not admitted It's the same notes Just a different exhibit Government's Exhibit 824

BY MR DRY:

Q Do you recall testifying about these notes on direct, sir?

A Yes

MR DRY: Government moves Government's Exhibit 824 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q And I believe your testimony was that these are your notes from the March 12, 2012, call with Mr Williams, right?

A Yes

Q And it's not a -- it's a phone call It's not an in-person meeting

A Yes

Q Okay And, in fact, these handwritten notes are on the back of your March 12, 2012, schedule, right?

A They were Yes

Q So that helped you figure out which date it was, right?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, we've seen evidence that your sister sends you a text message on March 11th at 6:11 p m that she had received a $50,000 check Do you remember that evidence? Or we can pull it up

MR DRY: Let's pull up --

A It just said a check

BY MR DRY:

Q Yes You received a $50,000 check?

A Right It just said a check

Q Okay I'm sorry

A I don't think it had an amount.

Q You're absolutely right But I believe you testified on direct that that was news to you that there was any check because the last time you talked to him you were doing negotiations Do you remember that?

A Yes

Q Okay And both you and your sister testified that you didn't really talk about the check on that 26-minute phone call you had that night after the text message?

A Yes, sir I believe that's correct

Q That it was more social, but you're not really discussing this check that -- that's come?

A I believe that she was sick, and she had just gotten back from Jamaica I believe that's correct

Q Now, you testified that you had a call the next day, though -- well, first of all, did you understand that the check was from Mr Williams?

A I don't know

Q Okay

A It didn't say

MR DRY: Well, let's bring up Government's Exhibit 594, please Page 2, please

BY MR DRY:

Q So on the top at 6:11 p m , this is a text message from your sister to you?

A Yes.

Q And there she says, "Mike called Mo earlier and got disconnected " That's your wife Maureen, right, when it says "Mo"?

A Yes

Q "She said we needed to talk about check when you woke up Please call now if you'd like "

I just want to make sure I understand So at this point, you're not -- first of all, do you know it's a $50,000 check?

A No

Q And your testimony is that you didn't know it was from Mr Williams at this point?

A No I hadn't -- I was still negotiating terms, I believed

Q And your testimony is that this -- these conversations you have with your sister from 6:15, 6:55, 6:58, that those are not discussing the check?

A I don't think so

Q Well, how did you know who to call, then, to get the terms?

A I don't know if -- again, my wife may have told me I don't know if my sister told me I just don't remember a lot of discussion at that call about the check. I -- I learned at some point that evening, I'm sure, that it was Mr Williams

Q Okay But you don't remember whether that's from your sister or your wife?

A I don't But I must have, because I corresponded with Mr Williams at that point

Q All right But you did testify you had a call the next day, March 12th, with Mr Williams so that you could -- I want to get -- make sure I get this right -- say, "Listen, would you be willing to just do the $50,000 cash loan?"

That was the purpose of the conversation, right?

A Yes

Q Because he had been talking about the stock deal There's a check And you wanted to basically just ask him, "Hey, can we just" -- "just make it a $50,000 cash loan"?

A To MoBo Yes

Q Okay So going into this call with Mr Williams, there was no agreement regarding any terms of what is attached to the check, right?

A Not with me

Q Right You don't know whether there's a different interest rate, a balloon payment? You don't know anything about what's going on with what he expects for the 50,000, right, as far as terms, payment schedules, things like that?

A Yes

Q Now, do you remember when your phone call was with Mr. Williams?

A Sometime that Sunday night We just -- the General Assembly just ended on Saturday That's why I think I was sleeping late I was exhausted But it was sometime, I believe, that -- well, no I guess the 12th, or whatever day that was Maybe that was Monday General Assembly ended Saturday So it must have been Monday night

MR DRY: Well, let's bring up Government's Exhibit 595

BY MR DRY:

Q And do you see at the bottom it says there was two phone calls from -- one from you to Mr Williams, and then one from Mr Williams to you?

A Yes

Q Is that consistent with your recollection that that phone call between you and Mr Williams occurred at 9:52 at night?

A Yes

Q Okay. And the purpose of the call, we're going to figure out, what the terms are That was part of it, right?

A Yes

MR DRY: Can we go to Government's Exhibit 795. That's not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail chain between your brother-in-law and you on March 12th of 2012, correct?

A Yes

MR DRY: I'd like to move Government's Exhibit 795 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, turning to the e-mail where, at 3:02 p m , Michael Uncapher writes to you, and tell me if I get this wrong "I deposited the check today for MoBo as well, so I can start paying the March bills " Is that accurate?

A Yes That's -- let's see Yes That's what it says Yes

Q And then you respond back seven minutes later "Pay March and hold on any other spending till I talk to you, please " You wrote that to him?

A Yes

Q So at the time that you're on the phone with Mr Williams, you already knew that the check had been deposited and you had authorized bills to be paid from his money, right?

A Yes

Q And you didn't know what the terms were, right?

A Right

Q Let's go back to -- let's go back to your notes from that call

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 824

BY MR DRY:

Q Okay Now, on this first point, Mr Williams writes, "Sarbox can't loan shares at this time," right?

A Yes -- well, no Mr Williams didn't write that I wrote that

Q I'm sorry I apologize Mr Williams said that You wrote it, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And Sarbox, you understood, was Sarbanes-Oxley?

A Yes

Q And you understood at that time that Sarbanes-Oxley provided regulations for what CEOs had to disclose and what they could do with shares at various times?

A No, sir, I didn't

Q You didn't understand anything --

A I understood the gist of Sarbox, but not the details I'm just writing down what he told me

Q Right I guess my question is the gist of Sarbanes-Oxley that you understood at the time was that it limited what executives could do with stock at the various points, and it made them have disclosure requirements; is that accurate?

A No

Q You didn't understand even that?

A No, I did not

Q Well, what did you understand about Sarbanes-Oxley at this point, sir?

A For these purposes, that I understood Sarbanes-Oxley prevented Mr Williams from loaning shares at this time even though he told me before that he could That's what I understood

Q Okay Now, again, Johnnie is spelled with an H And then number 2 you spell with an H

I believe you testified about this "50K to rent to MoBo," that this was Mr Williams' idea?

A Yes

Q Okay And at this point, you don't understand that he's suggesting that the 50,000 be used as rent in order to hide the fact that he's actually giving you loans?

A Absolutely not

Q Okay

A No

Q And he had expressed to you on numerous occasions how much he wanted to rent your beach properties, right?

A No

Q Had he ever told you that he wanted to rent your beach properties?

A No.

Q Had he ever stayed at your beach properties?

A No

Q Had he even seen your beach properties?

A I don't think so

Q It didn't strike you as odd that he's mentioning $50,000 to rent your beach properties?

A That was one of his proposals, that he would use it for members of his company Yes, sir That's what he told me

Q That's not the question, sir The question is it didn't strike you as odd that he's mentioning giving you $50,000 to rent your beach properties?

A No That was his proposal That wasn't the final agreement

Q Now, number 3, it says "Deal - shares to me, 50,000 shares still "

So just so I have the timeline He talked about the stock transaction February 3rd You talk about the stock transaction February 29th He sends the check to MoBo that's dated March 6th for $50,000?

A Yes

Q That's deposited on March 12th, and you know that?

A Yes

Q And you authorize the bills to be paid out of that, and he's still talking about a stock transaction?

A He's talking about it That's not what we agreed upon. Yes

Q Well, I understand that, sir But I guess my question is didn't you understand at the time that he's giving you $50,000 to get you over, through these financial situations, and then you're actually talking about another infusion of capital through these stock transactions?

A No There are multiple questions there, but I think the answer to all of them is no

Q Okay Well, let's do this He's talking shares to me That would be you, right?

A Yes

Q And he's not talking about transferring shares to MoBo or your wife, is he?

A That's what I wrote down

Q And, again, 50K shares, that's not $50,000 worth of shares That's 50,000 actual shares?

A I'm not sure

Q On the option, it says, "2 20 per share " Did you understand at that time he's offering to let you pay back at 2 20 a share, regardless of what the share price was later?

A No

Q It says, "Any deal option to buy 50,000 shares at 2 20 " Same question Didn't understand that this is, "Mr McDonnell, just pay me at 2 20 Don't care if the stock price is higher now or what happens later"?

A No

Q All right Then you say -- or you write down, "Loan against shares or time applied to rent or if not used, then" -- what is R-E-P?

A I'm not sure Rep

Q Would it be repay?

A I'm not sure

Q Okay But then it's got an interest rate of 2 percent and 3 years

A Yes

Q You wrote that?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: Let's go down Stop right there

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, in "Future" you write, "Draw down stock to use as a loan " And it's still your testimony that this wasn't going to be about a subsequent transfer of shares to you?

A I had just woken up These were not coherent notes I don't know what the rest of this really means, Mr Dry It never happened I don't know

Q All right Well, let me ask you this On this, "In two years, he will loan me money to buy the shares, 50,000 shares " You didn't understand, at this point, that he is basically telling you that he's going to loan you money to buy the shares that he's lending you?

A No He wasn't lending me shares at this time

Q I understand that, sir This is the proposal that he's giving you, right?

A No -- yes That's what I wrote down Yes, sir

Q That's the proposal And he's proposing to you in two years, he's going to loan you money to buy the shares that he's already lent you?

A No

Q Well, let me do it this way Did he say that in the meeting?

A No

Q Or in the call?

A This call?

Q Yes

A I wrote down what he said Yes

Q Okay So he did say that?

A Yes If I wrote it down, he said it

Q That didn't strike you as odd; that he's offering to you loan you money to buy the shares that he's lending you?

A He wasn't lending me any shares

Q The proposal was that he would lend you shares, right?

A No, not that I understood At this point, we had agreed on a cash loan

Q Sir, so he goes on for 24 minutes in this call, it looks like, and he's got all of these discussions about rent and -- rent and share transfers, right?

A Yes

Q At what point in the call did you go, "Hey, Mr Williams, by the way, I already cashed that check, and, you know, I'm really not interested in the share transaction"?

A We may have talked about that at the beginning

Q So your testimony is that you tell him, "I cashed the check, not interested in the share transaction," and then he just talks for 20 minutes about share transactions?

A I didn't cash the check

Q Okay, sir You authorized the check -- well, you knew the check was going to be paid, right, or cashed?

A Mr Uncapher told me it was cashed that day Yes, sir

Q And you authorized the March bills to be paid out of that check?

A Yes

Q So you -- Mr Williams is calling you after you know that?

A I think so Yes

Q And you have a conversation for 22 minutes?

A Yes That's what it says

Q And my question was at what point in the conversation did you tell him, "I've already cashed the check I don't want to do the share transaction"?

A I don't know I was listening to him We had already agreed on 2 years, 3 percent This never happened

Q For the $50,000 check that you cashed, that was 2 percent, 3 years, right?

A Yes, sir

Q But he's still talking about a share transaction?

A Yes

Q And, sir, at this point, did you -- did you know that the shares were trading at $3 85?

A No, sir

Q And so when he says the $2 20 is what you'd have to pay back, basically he's offering to give you stock that's worth 60 percent more than the current value? You didn't understand that?

A We had agreed on a cash loan No

Q Okay Well, let's -- let's talk about the -- let's talk about the checks

MR DRY: Government's Exhibit 350, please That's been admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q You saw this at trial, right, sir?

A At trial I never actually saw the physical check But I saw it at trial, yes, sir And before Copies

Q Okay And this was the initial check that Jerri Fulkerson said that she wrote that had Maureen McDonnell on it, right? You were there for that testimony?

A I was Yes

Q And then that one gets voided

MR DRY: Let's go to 351, please

BY MR DRY:

Q You were there for the testimony of Ms Fulkerson where she testified that she made the same mistake including Maureen McDonnell and voided that one out too, right?

A I heard her say that Yes

MR DRY: And then let's go to the actual final check Government's Exhibit 352

BY MR DRY:

Q This was the check that was actually deposited?

A Again, sir, I never saw this check in current time But I've seen it since the investigation, and believe this is the check Yes

Q Now, the check is made out to MoBo, right?

A Yes

Q And it's been your testimony that that made this a loan to MoBo?

A Absolutely

Q Okay Now, your sister is listed in the attention line, I believe; is that right?

A Yes

Q But at this point, Mr Williams had had absolutely zero discussions with your sister, right, as far as you knew?

A As far as I knew

Q In fact, you had told your sister that you were going to negotiate this transaction?

A Yes

Q That was your testimony But the person he was talking to about this was you?

A I thought so

Q So it's your testimony that you never had any discussions with Mr Williams in which you made it clear that you didn't want you or your wife's name on these checks?

A No

Q Okay

A The loan was always for MoBo Realty, as the one from my dad and Dr Davis

Q Okay Well, let's go -- the date of this check is March 6th It's deposited on March 12th Do you remember where you were on March 13th?

A I had packed the night before So I was on the road again, traveling somewhere, I think

MR DRY: Well, let's go to Government's Exhibit 755, please This is not admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q And, in fact, this is your schedule for March 13th, correct? It's actually your schedule for March 13th through 18th

MR DRY: You can take that --

A Yes It appears to be Yes, sir

MR DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit

755 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this is the day after the $50,000 check from Mr Williams was cashed One question on that You -- you instructed him to make the check out to your sister's attention, didn't you?

A No

Q Okay. Now, this is the day after the check is cashed And your wife flies down with you, right?

A Yes

Q And it shows that you're going to go to the Hammock Beach Resort?

A Yes

Q And going to the sixth page of the exhibit It shows that on March 14th, you're going to have personal time at the resort all day with your wife, right?

A Yes, sir

Q On the seventh page of the exhibit, it shows the next day you have personal time at the resort all day on the 15th?

A Yes

Q And that was with your wife?

A Yes

Q And then on March 16th, that's Page 9, it shows that you and your wife go from the Palm Coast of Florida, you guys go to West Palm Beach?

A Yes For Republican Governors events Yes

Q Page 10 shows that you stay at the Ritz-Carlton?

A Yes That's what it says.

Q And that's with your wife?

A Yes And others But yes

Q Well, to be clear, it's just you and your wife?

A Absolutely

Q Okay

A Let's get that clear. Yes.

Q Turning to Page 13, sir. This shows that on the 17th, you and Ms. McDonnell traveled to Naples, Florida, together?

A Yes I believe we had some additional RGA events Yes

Q Okay And you had personal time scheduled with Ms McDonnell, on Page 14, from 1:15 to 6 p m ?

A Yes

Q And then had you dinner at the Waterfront Grille?

A We did

Q Do you know who paid for that?

A I don't

Q Do you know whether you paid for that?

A It was RG -- I don't I'm pretty sure I -- it was just my wife and I I don't -- well, it says, "Your meal has been prepaid " I don't know, Mr Dry

Q Okay

A I don't It sounds like someone else might have paid for it I don't -- I don't remember that particular event I do remember going with my wife, though

Q You just don't know if you paid or somebody else paid that?

A No, sir I don't

Q All right Now, it shows at the bottom that you fly back from Naples to Richmond?

A Yes

Q All right And you flew back on Mr Williams' plane?

A I don't know

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 754, please And blow that up

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an invoice, a Star Aviation invoice, showing a flight on March 18th, 2012, a manifest?

A Okay

MR DRY: Government moves Government's Exhibit 754 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q And this shows that Mr Williams is picking you up and -- you and your wife up, and then returning you to Richmond, Virginia, right?

A Yes

Q And that was six days after the check was written. And that was -- I'm sorry That was 12 days after the check was written and six days after your conversation with Mr Williams?

A Yes, sir, it was

Q And during all that time down in Florida, were you discussing the transaction with Mr Williams with your wife or not?

A No

Q Okay But if you did, that would be just between the two of you, right?

A Yes

Q I mean, because you don't discuss your marriage with other people, right?

A Rarely

Q Okay Let's go to the March 21st meeting with Ms -- Secretary Thomas and Sara Wilson Now, three days after that flight back with Mr Williams, you had a meeting with your Cabinet Secretary Lisa Hicks-Thomas?

A Yes

Q And the purpose of that meeting was to discuss ways to lower healthcare costs in Virginia, right?

A That was one of the goals Yes Specifically about the consumer-driven healthcare plan that I had asked them two years previously to begin to work on to implement But, ultimately, the State portion of the healthcare costs, yes.

Q And to be fair, I mean, the consumer-driven healthcare plan, that was going to reduce the State cost, but it was also going to be good for Virginians, right?

A Sure I thought so That's why I asked them to do it

Q Now, at no point during that meeting does Secretary Hicks-Thomas or Ms Wilson, do they bring up the subject of Anatabloc, right?

A That's correct

Q And you testified that at that meeting you were the one that brings out the bottle of Anatabloc?

A Yes

Q Okay And you told them that you had been taking Anatabloc?

A Yes

Q And you told them that it had been working well for you?

A Yes

Q And -- but I believe there was a slight disconnect You testified that you didn't have any recollection of telling them to meet with anybody, right?

A Yes

Q But Secretary Hicks-Thomas testified that you told her and Sara Wilson that you, first of all, thought Anatabloc would be good for State employees. Do you remember that testimony?

A I heard her say that

Q And she also testified that you asked them to meet with Star Scientific people Do you remember that testimony?

A I heard her say that

Q But as you sit there today, that didn't happen?

A I don't think so Ms Wilson said it didn't I don't have a good recollection It could have I was talking about something I was doing So I don't have a clear memory of that No, sir

Q But that conversation occurred nine days after the check from Mr Williams was deposited, right?

A Yes, sir

Q Nine days after you have another conversation with him about him lending you financial support?

A Yes, sir

Q And three days after you flew back to Richmond with him on his jet?

A Yes, sir

Q There's been a lot of testimony about your sister's financial resources in this case, right?

A Right

Q I'd like to talk about paying off the Dr Davis loan for a bit Okay

A Okay

MR DRY: Let's go to Government's Exhibit 369, please This has been admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q This is an e-mail chain between you and your sister and your brother-in-law, right?

A Yes

Q And in this e-mail chain, you're discussing how much you would each have to pay to pay off the Dr. Davis loan Do you see that at the bottom?

A Yes Among other things Yes

Q And, in fact, the payoff amount for Dr Davis at this point was $33,004 53?

A Yes

Q And that's on April 4th of 2012?

A Yes

Q So about, I don't know, about a month after the 50,000 from Mr Williams; is that right?

A Yes

Q Approximately Now, you're only asking your sister for 10,000 "Mo, please verify again that you can pay 10,000 on April 15 to pay off Dr Davis," right?

A Yes

Q And you're going to pay $10,000 It says, "If so, I will send you 10K from me " Do you see that?

A Yes

Q And then, "another loan check for $13,004 53 " Do you see that?

A I do

Q And that was going to be a loan you could get?

A Yeah That was going to be a convenience check against a low interest credit card Yes

Q And you suggest in this e-mail to your sister that paying the monthly payment on that loan to MoBo as long as you can and supplement as necessary Do you see that? "I suggest we pay the monthly payment of 795 for 17 months from MoBo as long as we can and supplement" --

A Sure

Q -- "as necessary"?

A Yes

Q So basically, "as long as you can" -- "as we can " You realized there was going to be another operating shortfall at MoBo Is that accurate?

A Perhaps Yes

Q And this was going to be a loan from a credit card?

A There were great interest rates Yes

Q Okay But unlike the loan from Mr Williams, you're going to have to pay monthly payments on that, right?

A Sure I mean, we could have paid cash, but I decided to make it a loan to MoBo if we do this proposal Yes

Q And the last sentence, you say, "As soon as I get the rental income from estimates from Sandy, I will estimate our shortfall this year," right?

A Yes

Q You knew there was going to be another shortfall in 2012?

A There seemed to be at that time Yes

Q Now --

MR DRY: Let's go to the top e-mail There we go

BY MR. DRY:

Q Now, you're writing to them, "Mo and Mile" -- you meant Mike there?

A That's Mike Yes

Q Okay

A I misspelled several names, apparently

Q Apparently "Just found another better loan opportunity 1 9 percent for 13 months but can only borrow 8,000, meaning we would need to pay 12,5 each toward the Davis loan," right?

A Yes

Q But then again, that's going to require a monthly payment, right?

A Sure

Q And then you write, "Can you do this or is that a stretch?" 12,5, is that a stretch?

A Yes

Q At this point, your sister -- why would 12,500 be a stretch if we've heard so much about what financial wherewithal your sister had?

A We had decided earlier in the year that unlike '09 and '11 where we put equity out of our own pocket directly into the business, that this year we would opt to do a loan And I didn't know at that point she had received the $70,000 bonus or what her other issues were She was going through some problems, obviously, with her husband at that time So it was just a -- I was just asking her This is 12:48 a m This seemed to be the best way to do it or not Can you do it or not That's all I wanted to know

Q Okay So basically it's -- you knew she could liquidate other assets if she had to But you guys just made the decision that that year you're going to use other people's money, right?

A We were going to get a loan Yes

Q From other people?

A From someone

Q And that someone was Mr Williams?

A Yes, it was

Q Okay Now, sir, by this point, you know that the losses at MoBo, they are not sustainable, right?

A No

Q You didn't know that?

A No

Q So your business plan originally in 2005, 2006, you knew that as of that time frame, 40 to 60,000 is going to be the shortfall each and every year?

A Yes, by '06 Half of that a piece

Q And you thought that that was sustainable and a good business plan?

A There are two questions in there

Q Did you think it was sustainable, first?

A Sure

Q And did you think that was a good business plan? We'll --

A Yes

Q -- do it this way Let's do it this way

A Because we would get tremendous equity built up in the long term That was the business plan

Q "Tremendous equity " But we've seen charts that show that it was very little equity repayments going on at this point

A Well, there's well over $100,000 of equity now because of the payment of principal

Q When you say "now," you mean now?

A Yes

Q But not back then?

A But that was always the long-term plan

Q If it was the long-term plan, then why weren't you paying principal back then? You were doing interest-only loans, sir

A No

Q A lot of these were interest only The lines of credit were, right?

A Yes

Q And there was very little principal repayments -- we've seen the charts -- in this time frame, right?

A Because there's always less principal in the early years of a repayment

Q Okay Now, is it fair to say that as a small business owner -- well, let's just do it this way Publicly, you know that small businesses -- it's not a good business plan to just take large losses each and every year, right?

A Sure

Q And you know that if you spend more than you have for any period of time, you're going to go broke, right?

A Yes, sir

MR DRY: I'd like to bring up Government's Exhibit 756, please

BY MR DRY:

Q You were interviewed by Sean Hannity on August 6th of 2012, correct?

A If this is it, I'll take your word for it that that's the date, sir

MR DRY: Government moves Government's Exhibit 756 into evidence, Your Honor

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR DRY: If we could publish it to the jury

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, in this interview, do you remember talking about balancing Virginia's budget and how you went about doing that?

A I probably did We had some pretty good numbers with our surplus Yes

MR DRY: Can we go ahead and play the video, please

(Video Played)

MR DRY: Can we increase the volume?

(Video Ended)

BY MR. DRY:

Q Sir, despite knowing that, despite spending more money than you had coming in, it was your business plan to rely on loans from Mr Williams; is that true?

A No

Q Well, it was your business plan to rely on loans from other people to make up the shortfall?

A In part, yes

Q I'd like to go to one of your personal financial statements Now, you testified on direct that the loans to MoBo that were not personally guaranteed by you did not have to be disclosed on your personal financial statement?

A Yes, sir That's what I understood

Q And you testified that the Williams' loans were to MoBo because the check and the wire transfer were written to MoBo, in part That was your justification for it?

A Yes

Q And you testified that you did not personally guarantee the Williams' loans because there was no loan paperwork?

A Yes

Q And you claim that the reason you didn't disclose the loans from Williams was because the loans were to MoBo and they weren't personally guaranteed That's the bottom line, right?

A In part Yes

Q But you heard Mr Sessoms testify that you never had any discussions about this with him at the time you're filling out your personal financial statement, right?

A It was to a different bank

Q Did you have any discussions with Heritage, anybody at Heritage, about the fact that you don't need to disclose these --

A No, sir The forms were clear to me about what was required

Q Okay So this is your internal thought process?

A No It's me reading the form

Q Okay

MR DRY: Well, let's take a look at how -- I'd like to go to Government's Exhibit 60, briefly

BY MR DRY:

Q And I just want to make sure that -- you testified yesterday that you personally guaranteed the Dr Davis loan, right?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: Now, let's go to Government's Exhibit 596, Page 2

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this shows a payment to Dr Davis on April 30th of 2012 of $20,000, right?

A Yes

Q So as of that date, April 30th, you owe Dr Davis -- you and your sister owe Dr Davis about 13,000? Is my math right there?

A MoBo did Yes

Q Well, hold on, sir MoBo --

MR DRY: Let's go back to Government's Exhibit 60, please

BY MR DRY:

Q This is the promissory note Can you show me anywhere on that promissory note where MoBo is even mentioned?

A No

Q So it's not MoBo that owes Dr Davis You personally guaranteed this, right?

A MoBo owes Dr Davis

Q I'm sorry MoBo is Dr Davis?

A No MoBo owes Dr Davis We guaranteed it personally is what this says

Q Well, hold on, sir It says that the makers are going to pay $1,001 each month It doesn't say MoBo is going to pay that, right?

A No

Q It does say MoBo is going to pay it?

A No, it does not

Q It says you're going to be responsible for paying it?

A Yes

Q Personally?

A Yes.

Q So I guess the question I have still is as of April 30th of 2012, are you responsible for paying Dr Davis $13,000 of the remaining balance?

A If MoBo didn't pay Yes.

Q Okay. So that is a liability that you have?

A The three of us have

Q Yes But it's jointly and severally?

A That seems to be what it says Yes

Q So you have a personal liability to Dr Davis of $13,000?

A The three of us do Yes

Q But let's -- let's assume that your sister doesn't pay it and Michael Uncapher doesn't pay it At the end of the day, that's a personal liability of yours, right? 13,000 right?

A If MoBo didn't pay, yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: So now let's bring up Government's 373, please

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, this is a personal financial statement submitted to Heritage Bank as of April 30th, 2012, correct?

A Yes

Q And Page 1, in the bottom right-hand corner, this -- and you filled this out, right, sir?

A Yes, I did

Q And in the bottom right-hand corner, if we go blow that up, this is the "Liabilities and Net Worth" section?

A Yes

Q There's nothing listed to proprietorships there, right?

MR ASBILL: Can we approach, Judge?

THE COURT: Come on up

(At Bench)

MR ASBILL: The government is trying to introduce undisclosed 404(b) evidence

MR DRY: It's not being admitted as 404(b) He came up with this justification that personal -- that loans don't have to be disclosed unless they are personally guaranteed Now I'm proving up that he had a personally guaranteed loan that wasn't disclosed, which undercuts his entire defense on this

MR BROWNLEE: This doesn't have anything to do with Jonnie Williams

THE COURT: The objection is overruled

(In Open Court)

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, there's nothing listed here for loans to proprietorships or liabilities of proprietorships, right?

A No

Q There's nothing listed for liabilities of partnerships and joint ventures, right?

A No

Q And, in fact, despite the fact that you personally guaranteed and have a personal liability to Dr Davis of over 13,000, there is nothing in there disclosing the Dr Davis loan, is there?

A No

Q Just like there was no disclosures of loans regarding Mr Williams, right?

A I don't --

Q On this form On this form, is there any liability for Mr Williams?

A No Not on a corporate loan No

Q Okay And isn't it true, sir, that, I mean, you knew that the March 6th, 2012, loan from Mr Williams was really a loan to you personally, didn't you?

A Mr Dry, that is absolutely false It is not It was a loan to MoBo That's what we negotiated

MR DRY: Let's bring up Government's Exhibit

497, please. This has been admitted

BY MR. DRY:

Q These are your notes to Dan Cook, correct, as of March 11th, 2012?

A Yes My notes Yes

MR DRY: If we could blow up the top part, please

BY MR DRY:

Q I'm sorry This is March of '13, right?

A Yes

Q And when you go under the "Personal" block, the loans that are listed are from your dad's estate, Dr Davis, and from Starwood?

A Yes All three loans to MoBo

Q Well, all right Let's take these in order Your dad's estate, there was absolutely no loan paperwork done until after this investigation broke, right?

A It's my dad Yes

Q Okay But there was also no loan paperwork for Mr Williams And he's not your dad, right?

A No He's a friend

Q Okay But there was loan paperwork for Dr Davis, right?

A Yes Some At the beginning and end Yes

Q And that was because he requested and wanted you to be -- sign on the dotted line, right?

A I think so Yes I think it was his request Yes

Q Sir, isn't this whole explanation about the loan going to MoBo and the not being personally guaranteed, isn't that just an after-the-fact, legal justification that you've come up with here?

A Absolutely not, Mr Dry No

Q So not to put too fine a point on it, though, you testified earlier that the reason the Williams' loan wasn't disclosed on personal financial statements was because they were not personally guaranteed, right?

A In part Which loans -- which disclosure are you talking about?

Q The MoBo

A Which disclosure are you talking about for the bank, sir, is what I'm asking you?

Q I'm talking about the loan application to TowneBank, Mr Sessoms

A Yes So the answer would only be in part My wife's wasn't on there because she wasn't an applicant The 20,000 wasn't on there because it happened after the date of the statement And the 50 --

Q I'm talking about the 50

A The 50 wasn't on there because it was a corporate obligation that MoBo assumed to pay back Mr Williams It was a corporate loan Mr Sessoms testified that those corporate obligations didn't need to be on there That was my understanding from the form, sir

Q No. I think Mr. Sessoms testified that it wasn't personally guaranteed, right? That if it had been personally guaranteed, it should have been on the form Isn't that what he said?

A And there was no personal guarantee for Mr Williams That's what I understood

Q But there was a personal guarantee from Dr Davis, and you didn't disclose that loan either, did you?

A My portion was paid off by that date

Q No, sir. You testified on direct that you had paid, on behalf of both your sister -- both you and your sister, that 20,000?

A Yes

Q So on direct you're not saying, "No No No I paid off my portion " You said that 20,000 was from both you and your sister, right?

A No, sir

Q That's not what you testified to?

A That's not what I said

Q Okay So in your mind, you're paying the 20, and your sister is responsible for the rest?

A No, sir That's not what I said

MR DRY: Let's -- let's go to the -- do we have it?

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

MR DRY: Excuse me, sir, Judge, just for a moment

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel.)

MR DRY: Can we bring up Government's Exhibit 821 And this is going to be the transcript, 4643, lines 5 through 15 Keep going We're looking for the --

BY MR DRY:

Q You say -- I want to make sure I read this correctly So you tell me if I make a mistake

A Okay

Q "Yes, sir, I think they are I know I put in 12,500 out of my personal bank account, and my recollection is that the $7,500 was actually a convenience check on one of my credit cards that I got a very, very favorable rate in terms of, I think it was less than two percent at that time, over about a year-and-a-half So I put that in essentially on behalf of my sister and I We would each have 3,750, or half of that, but I wrote the check for $7,500 plus my 12,500 personal check And later on in the year my sister paid 12,5 to fully pay off the Davis loan "

Is that what you testified to?

A Yes

Q And it was joint and several liability So at the end of the day, you were responsible for whatever was remaining, weren't you?

A I'm sorry Remaining on what?

Q On the Davis loan You were responsible for the remaining $13,000 as a personal liability, weren't you, sir?

A Perhaps I didn't think about that at this time Perhaps Yes

Q Okay. Let's go to the May 2012, the 20,000.

MR DRY: Can we bring up Government's Exhibit 598, please, that's been admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q You've seen this chart before, sir?

A Yes

Q And on May 18th you call Mr Williams for 2 minutes and 32 seconds, 1:22? The top one, sir?

A Yes, I did

Q And then at 1:26 p m , I think -- did you just leave a voice mail at that 2:32? Right? That's what that text message says?

A Yes I believe so Yes

Q That makes sense And he responds -- you say, "Per voice mail, would like to see if you could extend another 20,000 loan for this year Call if possible and I'll ask

Mike to send instructions Thanks, Bob"; is that right?

A Yes

Q And then you e-mail Michael Uncapher, or text him I'm sorry "Can you send wiring instructions to Johnnie for 20K to MoBo account " But before Mr Williams even knows who the check or the wire transfer is going to be going to, he writes, "Done, tell me who to make it out to and address Will FedEx Jonnie"?

A Yes

Q Within 12 minutes, right?

A That's what it says. Yes

Q He's not saying -- he's not saying, you know, "I know I'm going to send it to MoBo," right? He's saying, "Tell me who to make it out to"?

A Yes

Q At this point, you didn't understand that Mr Williams didn't care about whether it was to MoBo or made out to MoBo; that it was a loan to you, right?

A No I can't tell you what Mr Williams thought

Q Well, later on, at 4:13 p m , you write, "Johnnie Thanks so much for your help and friendship Bob " Misspelled Johnnie?

A Yes

Q At this point, you and your wife had received -- you, slash, MoBo and your wife had received about $100,000 in loans from Mr Williams by the time this is going on?

A Yes

Q And the first 50,000 was more than a year ago?

A Yes.

Q And the next one was more than two months?

A Yes

Q But at this point, there's not one shred of paper document in these loans anywhere, is there?

A No

Q And you're a lawyer, and you never drafted up a loan agreement for either of those first two, did you?

A No

Q And you never went to Bert Poole and asked him to draft up a loan agreement, did you?

A No

Q Now, talking about whether the MoBo loans were to you or -- whether the 15,000 and 20,000, whether they were loans to MoBo or to you You formed MoBo with your sister, right, Maureen Uncapher?

A Yes, sir Back in 2005, we did

Q And she's an accomplished businesswoman, right?

A I think so

Q She has a lot of business experience?

A Yes, she does

Q And you testified that when you formed MoBo, your role was going to be limited to providing some maintenance and, I think you said, sweat equity, and helping with marketing; is that right?

A I was going to do -- yes I was going to do as much as I could But given my role as Attorney General, that's probably all I could do

Q Your sister was going to provide her business expertise as part of the partnership, right?

A Yes.

Q And your brother-in-law, he was going to handle the day-to-day paying the bills, right?

A Yes

Q Now, your attorneys hired Mr Kosowsky as the expert witness -- accounting witness in this case, right?

A Yes

Q And he was hired to describe to the jury the sound financial condition of both you and MoBo and your sister, right?

A Yes

Q And he went on at length about your sister's assets, right? You heard that testimony?

A Yes

Q And he talked about the assets available to MoBo's partners? You saw those charts?

A Yes

Q And -- but he testified that MoBo's bank accounts were just an operating account Do you remember that testimony?

A I'll take your word for it I don't remember that exactly

Q Well, is that your view of it; that MoBo's bank account was just an operating account?

A I'm not sure I understand what you mean as "just an operating account "

Q Well, that it's not holding a lot of assets; that basically it's just used as money is coming in and going out It's just the operating account There's not a lot of assets in the bank account I mean, your sister testified to that, right?

A I did hear her say that

Q And is that your view too; that it's just an operating account?

A Not exactly

Q Well, explain to me your view of what the MoBo bank account was, then

A The bank account had been responsible for operations and maintenance, but it had significant cash in at certain times of the year

Q Well, "certain times of the year " But that was when -- that wasn't in the winter months, right?

A No

Q And there's been significant evidence that there was, you know, significant shortfalls that were going to occur anywhere from October through March of every year?

A No

Q No?

A More like December -- well, January through -- January, February through May

Q Okay Well, is it fair to say that if you look at all the money that is coming into MoBo from rents and you're looking at all the money that's going out to mortgage expenses and bedbugs and all the rest -- litany of expenses, that less money is coming in than is going out?

A Yes Sure

Q Okay So at the end of the day, when you say, well, MoBo's bank account had significant assets at points in time, overall, though, it's cash negative? That's why you're putting in loans, right, sir?

A Yes

Q Okay Now, Mr Kosowsky's testimony, I mean, the overall gist I got was that they were trying to establish that MoBo is going in the right direction financially Do you remember Mr Kosowsky testifying to that?

A I do

Q And he was paid for his testimony, right?

A Yes

Q But at no point throughout Mr Kosowsky's testimony as your expert accounting witness did he ever, ever utter the words "accounts receivable" as that pertained to MoBo, did he?

A I don't remember him saying that

Q But you testified about accounts receivable, right?

A Yes

Q And, in fact, before your testimony, you heard your sister, when she was on the stand, she was asked on cross-examination whether MoBo had zero assets And she said, quote, right?

A I heard her say that

Q But it was only after Mr Kosowsky testified and then your sister testified, that's the first time that we had ever heard was when you got on the stand and then came up with this explanation about accounts receivable, right?

A I disagree with some of the premises in your question

Q Which ones?

A Many of them

Q Well, let's discuss that

A Okay

Q Which premises?

A The one about that I came up with something

Q Okay Well, describe what happened, then

A No I'm not -- I'm testifying that MoBo had two assets primarily One was operating cash at certain times of the year And it also had a steady stream of accounts receivable from rental income Many of those booked well in advance My understanding, from a business standpoint, is those are assets Cash and accounts receivable

Q Okay And those accounts receivable, there was always less accounts receivable than there were liabilities, right? By definition?

A True But that does not make it an asset

Q Okay So your view is even though MoBo lost 40 to $60,000 from 2006 to 2012, that -- well, let me ask it this way

Your view is that Jonnie Williams was giving loans to MoBo despite the fact it had been losing money every year from 2006 to 2012 because he thought it was a good investment?

A No

Q Well, let's just cut to the bottom line Why do you think Mr Williams is writing checks to MoBo?

A Because he offered and we accepted the loan, like we did with banks and my father and Dr Davis, and expected to get paid back with interest

Q Well, sir, who is he getting paid back by?

A By MoBo.

Q So you think that Mr. Williams, the businessman, decided on his own, "MoBo, that's a good" -- "that's a good credit risk They have lost money for the last six years, and I'm going to pay them $70,000 in loans and expect MoBo to pay me back"?

A I can't speak for Mr Williams

Q Well, sir, didn't you know that Mr Williams was writing those checks because of you, not because of MoBo?

A No I considered him a friend He offered to do it We've seen the text where he offered to send money We accepted his offer, as we did with Dr. Davis and banks And it was a business loan to MoBo That's the way I treated it

Q Is he a friend of MoBo's or a friend of yours?

A He was a friend of my wife's and, over time, became a friend of mine

Q Okay Sir, on this $20,000 loan, again, Martin Kent doesn't know about that one either, right?

A I have 110,000 people who work in state government None of them knew about that I don't discuss my personal finances with subordinates And to my knowledge, Martin Kent didn't discuss his with his subordinates

Q But you heard Martin Kent testify that he would discuss his personal finances if he thought it could impact on his job or what you were doing as Governor, right?

A I heard him say that

Q At the end of the day, you're telling this jury that you decided not to inform any of your senior staff because it was personal financial information instead of you being worried that they would start asking questions about your relationship with Mr Williams?

A I'm sorry Could you repeat that question, please?

Q You're telling this jury that you decided not inform any of your senior staff about the loans with Mr Williams because that was personal financial information instead of you being worried that they would start asking questions?

A There was a couple of questions in there First of all, I'm telling the truth about my view of the loans with Mr Williams Secondly, I didn't tell any of my personal staff about my loans to Mr Williams or Dr Davis or my father or SunTrust --

Q Those were loans from --

A -- or PenFed

Q Those were loans from them

A I'm sorry From them From PenFed or from Bank @Lantec or from Navy Federal or from TowneBank or about any of my credit cards And none of my staff told me either

And the reason, as you heard from Secretary Cheng, is when somebody came and wanted something from my office, whether they gave a dime or whether they gave nothing or whether they gave a million dollars, it didn't matter We tried to treat people fairly and have reviews of whatever their petition might be based on the merits That's why we don't talk about money

Q Yeah Let's talk about that for a second Because at one point in your testimony with Mr Asbill, you testified that you had this kind of wall up between -- you really didn't want to know who the PAC donors were, right? You were not tracking that; is that right? Because you didn't want --

A I didn't review the reports is what I said Yes

Q Right And part of the reason that you didn't review the reports is that you didn't want to have any even suggestion that people were getting preferential treatment, right?

A Sure But I knew --

Q That was your testimony

A I knew the large donors because I wrote them thank you notes

Q Right So if you are concerned that people might think, hey, somebody could get special treatment -- or might mistakenly think people are getting special treatment if I review all the PAC donors, but you -- none of that calculus transfers over to the fact that you are getting personal money in your pocket from Mr Williams, who's getting a Mansion event, getting recognized at the Healthcare Leaders, none of that calculus transfers over in your mind?

A I'm not sure I understand the question

Q Sir, I don't -- let's go on

MR DRY: RM-15 --

MR ASBILL: Can we have a question here? Can we have a question?

THE COURT: No You had a question You didn't have an answer. So he said let's go on Come on Everybody -- let's tighten this up

MR DRY: I'm -- RM-1542, please I think this was admitted by Mr Burck

BY MR DRY:

Q Sir, this was a text message that Mr Burck talked to you about I believe it was sent on July 3rd of 2012?

A Yes

Q And in this, Mr Williams is informing you about the Johns Hopkins human clinical trials report on August 8th?

A Yes

Q And you know at this point that -- that it's very important to Mr Williams that his studies -- that Anatabloc has trials, right?

A He talked to me a lot about those. Yes
Q He did And in the same e-mail, he's saying, "If you need cash, let me know," right?
A Yes
Q He's not saying, "If MoBo needs cash " He's saying, "If you need cash," right?
A That's what he wrote Yes
Q And he's talking about going to Chatham Bars Inn, and the business about to break out strong
When you get this text message, do you call Mr Williams up and say, "Hey, by the way, Mr Williams, you know, I don't need cash You're not loaning me money You're loaning MoBo money"?
A No, sir
Q Okay Let's go to Chatham Bars, the actual thing You -- Labor Day 2012, you go to Chatham Bars Inn with you and your wife, and Phil Cox and his wife, right?
A And two or three other couples Right
Q Right That was Mr Ladenson and his wife?
A Yes
Q Mr Williams and his wife, right?
A Yes
Q Okay

A And two other couples that were there

Q At various times?

A Yes

Q They didn't stay at the resort They just came in, well, for various nights, but not throughout the entire time you were there?

A I think that's fair Yes

Q Now, before that, you and your wife were on a phone call with Phil Cox inviting him, right?

A Yes

Q And both of you are on the call and can hear what each other is saying?

A Yes

Q And Mr Cox was on the phone with his wife too?

A I'm not sure she was on She might have been

Q Okay And the purpose of the call was for you to invite Mr Cox and his wife to go up to Chatham Bars Inn?

A Yes

Q And Mr Cox testified that he asked you about how this trip came about?

A Yes

Q And he stated that your wife told him, "It was the result of Mr Williams' bidding at a trip at the charity auction"?

A Yes

Q And you heard her tell Mr Cox that?

A Yes

Q But to be clear, you knew that the trip that Mr Williams bid on at the charity auction was to New York?

A Yes

Q And you testified that was never going to happen on day one, and you knew that wasn't going to happen?

A Yes

Q And you knew that this was a trip to Chatham Bars Inn Totally different location, right?

A Yes

Q And you knew that Mr Williams was going to have to pay out of his pocket for the expenses of this? It wasn't going to be covered by his winning bid, right?

A Yes

Q So was your statement -- was your wife's statement to Mr Cox accurate?

A I think she believed it I -- I don't know whether Chatham Bars was a makeup for Bar Harbor or this But it didn't matter to me I was -- we were going

Q Well, in context, though, sir, Mr Cox was asking who would be paying for the trip, right?

A I believe he did

Q Right And that was in response -- your wife's comment to him was in response to that inquiry, right?

A I don't remember the call directly But it sounded like that from his testimony Yes

Q And, in fact, Mr Cox specifically asked you how was this going to be reported, right?

A That's what he testified to

Q And do you have an independent recollection of that?

A Not really No

Q But you're not denying it could have happened?

A No The purpose was just to invite him to come

Q And you assured him -- he testified you assured him it would be reported correctly?

A I probably did If he asked me that, absolutely, I would have said that

Q And ultimately, it was recorded, right?

A Yes

Q That was because Ms Harris reached out to Ms Fulkerson and asked for the -- for the information, right?

A Yes

Q So you go to Chatham Bars Inn We're not going to go through a lot of that But you did stay from August 31st to September 3rd of 2012; is that right?

A That Tuesday morning If that was the 3rd, yes That's when we would have come back, yes

Q And at the same time you're vacationing with Mr Williams, your daughter Rachel and a friend are staying at Mr Williams' condo down in Florida, right?

A They were staying down there. I don't know exactly where they were staying But it was a property that belonged to Mr Williams. I think it was a condo, yes I'm not sure exactly.

Q Okay And, in fact, your daughter had told you before you went to Chatham Bars Inn that she was going to be staying down in Florida at one of Mr Williams' properties?

A Yes, she did

Q And you knew that Mr Williams, in fact, had paid for the commercial flights for your daughter and her friend to go down to Florida?

A No

Q You didn't know that --

A I don't think I knew that No

Q You knew that she was staying down in Florida at his place --

A Yes

Q -- but not that he had arranged for the airline traffic -- or travel, right? You didn't know that --

A Yes I still don't think I know that

Q Okay Did you know that your daughter Rachel was going to be driving one of Mr Williams' white Range Rovers while she was down there?

A No

Q But you knew that she drove it back, I think, from Smith Mountain Lake, one of his white Range Rovers?

A Yes, I did

Q Can we -- your daughter also told you that Mr Williams had arranged for a sailing trip on a private yacht You knew that, right?

A I think she told me she went sailing I don't think I knew what kind of vessel that they were in But I knew that she had gone on a boat is what she told me Yes

Q And that Mr Williams had paid for that?

A I don't know that she discussed that, but I -- I assumed that that was the case Yes

Q Let's go to the TowneBank personal financial statement

THE COURT: Let's go ahead and stop here for lunch

If you all could come back at 2:00, we'll get started with the afternoon session

(The jury left the courtroom)

///

///

///

(Luncheon recess taken from 12:58 p.m. to 2:00 p.m)

THE COURT: All right Let's bring in the jury

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, Mr Dry?

BY MR DRY:

Q Mr McDonnell, about a month after your trip to Chatham Bars Inn, you submitted a personal financial statement to TowneBank; do you remember that?

A Yes

Q And at that point, you had two loans with TowneBank since you bought the properties in 2005-2006; is that right?

A Yes. I think one mortgage and one line of credit, right Yes

Q Both of those were interest-only loans initially?

A The line of credit was, Mr Dry I think the other one was in fact a first mortgage, because we had a slightly -- we had a declining principal balance

Q Could we bring up Government Exhibit 227, please And this has been admitted This is the Change in Terms Agreement for the 722,000 That's the outstanding -- that's the mortgage that we were just discussing?

A Okay

Q And do you see in description of change in terms, it says, "Change payments from interest only to principal and interest payments."

A Yes, sir, you are right

Q Okay. Now, that was in 2011 So at that point, you started making, paying principal on this loan, right?

A Yes

Q And in 2012, you went through another annual renewal, right?

A Yes

Q Now, at this point, you knew that the property values had declined from when you initially purchased them, right?

A They had

Q And you knew that the loan-to-value ratios were bad? Or worse than they were?

A They were, yes Yes, sir

Q And you had actually talked to Mr Sessoms, the President of TowneBank, and told him that you were going to try to get better financing or refinancing at a more favorable interest rate, right?

A At some point I did, yes

Q And Mr Sessoms was the same person that you had had some discussions with about late fees on the mortgages I believe you testified about that in cross-examination, right?

A Yes

Q You were unsure of how many conversations you had with him about late fees, but you acknowledge that you did have some discussions

A I think maybe one at least, yes

Q But as of this point, you hadn't been able to get better refinancing, had you?

A I wouldn't say get We didn't pursue -- well, I checked out several options, I think, and gosh, in '11 and '12, but for several reasons we just didn't do it We did not refinance until '13

Q Wasn't one of the major reasons that you didn't get refinancing because the loan to values were higher than what the banks would do with traditional financing?

A The conventional, that's true

Q Okay So at this point you decide that you are going to go ahead with another renewal with TowneBank

A Yes

Q Okay And can we show Government Exhibit 416? It has been admitted. And you submitted this to TowneBank, you faxed it on October 3rd of 2012; is that right?

A Yes, I see that at the top

Q Okay What you are doing here is you are using a personal financial statement that you had submitted to Heritage Bank on April 30th of 2012

A Yes They told me that was appropriate or that was proper

Q That's when you originally filled this out for the Heritage, was April 30th of 2012

A Yes

Q Now, the month before this, you had negotiated the $50,000 loan with Mr Williams?

A Yes

Q And you knew when you filled out these forms that personal loans wouldn't show up on your credit report

A I think that's right, yes

Q Okay Now, we have talked a little bit about this, but overall, you have seen this, no loans from Mr Williams appear anywhere on this financial statement, correct?

A Right

Q And I believe you said on direct examination that was, quote, because this was one from Mr Williams, it was a loan to the LLC MoBo without a personal guarantee, so I did not have a personal liability, end quote Do you remember saying that?

A Yes

Q And as we have seen, though, you had a personal guarantee with Dr Davis

A Yes

Q And that loan isn't on this financial statement, either, is it?

A Right

Q Now, to be clear, though, can we back out and then go to the liabilities section? In fact, none of your personal loans from your father, Mr Williams, or from Dr. Davis is listed on this

A That's right They were all the LLC, right

Q And as of this point, there were approximately $180,000 in loans outstanding, personal loans, that were used for MoBo? Is that accurate?

A That's close, yes I think that's right

Q And you knew that when you submitted this form to TowneBank, that they would use that in their process of assessing whether to renew the loan, correct?

A Sure

Q Moving on to another topic I believe you testified that at the time, you didn't know anything, before the investigation broke, you didn't know anything about the $10,000 check that Mr Williams wrote to Adam Zubowsky and your daughter, correct?

A Yes, that's right

Q Now, you did know that, I believe you testified that you did know that Mr Williams was going to buy a generator for Mr Zubowsky and your daughter

A Yes I knew that

Q And you thought that that was going to be in hundreds of dollars, right?

A Well, that's what I thought, yes

Q Do you remember Mr Zubowsky talking to you about the fact that Michael & Son had come out to his house to measure what kind of, you know, whole-house generator would be needed for the property?

A I don't think so

Q Okay Well, to be clear, though, you knew that Mr Williams had given your daughter, Cailin, a $15,000 check for her wedding?

A Yes

Q And you knew that he did that after meeting her for only 15 minutes?

A Yes

Q And at that point, you testified that Mr Williams was not really your friend at that point, back in April of 2011?

A We were friendly, but I wouldn't say he was a friend I hadn't known him that long

Q In fact, Mr Williams hadn't really known your wife for very long at that point, either, right?

A No

Q So I guess what I am trying to figure out is, if you knew that Mr Williams was going to give a $15,000 check to Cailin after meeting her for 15 minutes, despite the fact that you nor your wife were friends with him, did you think that he wasn't going to give a similar monetary gift to your daughter, Rachel, a year-and-a-half later?

A Jeanine?

Q I'm sorry, Jeanine I apologize A year-and-a-half later, when you are actually friends with him?

A I don't know It wasn't to Jeanine It was a tool party for my future son-in-law, Adam, is what I understood We did that in December, six months before the wedding

Q So you had no idea about the $10,000 check

A No, I think I learned about it somewhere after the investigation started. Yes

Q And Adam Zubowsky never told you?

A To

Q And Jeanine never told you?

A No

Q Now, going forward to December of 2012, you testified on direct that you didn't know anything about your wife repurchasing the Star stock, I believe you said, and was it until the week before Christmas or was it November?

A No, it was, my best recollection, a week before Christmas or so of 2012

Q Now, at this point you have testified that the account statements, you had seen account statements, you just hadn't opened them up to review them.

A I saw envelopes that said "Davenport." What the contents were, Mr Dry, I don't know.

Q But you testified on direct that you did manage your family's finances?

A Yes

Q And you testified that you knew what the credit card debt was

A Most of it

Q Other than that --

A She had a couple cards solely in her name, yes

Q For her business

A Mostly And she had a couple that she had maintained on her own. But mostly that's correct, yes, sir

Q And you would open up her credit card statements?

A The ones that I knew that I was going to pay from our joint account, yes

Q And in fact, you would personally sign her name on convenience checks from those accounts, right?

A I did on a couple occasions, yes

Q Now, when you find out the week before Christmas in 2012 that your wife, you find out that the shares are in her name at this point, correct?

A Not only that I find out she has the stock.

Q So you find out she has the stock, and the stock is in her name

A Yes.

Q And it is not in your childrens' name

A That's correct

Q And at that point, I believe you testified that you specifically mentioned reporting requirements to her, correct?

A Well, sure, because I didn't know about it and it impacted me, so yes

Q And in fact, each time, each of these conversations that you discussed with your wife about the stock, I believe you testified in each and every one of them you mentioned your reporting requirements, right?

A I said I wasn't certain about June of 2011 I think I did, about the loan But on the other two occasions, yes

Q And it is your testimony that when you are informing your wife about the reporting requirements, you are not telling your wife, "Get this out of your name so I don't have to report it"?

A No

Q Okay

A I'm telling her I need to know the information

Q At Christmas dinner, you are with your daughter, Cailin, correct?

A I think everybody was there for part of the time But Cailin was definitely there

Q Her husband, Chris? Chris Young?

A I believe so, yes

Q Rachel?

A Yes

Q Bobby?

A Yes

Q Sean?

A Yes

Q And your wife

A Yes

Q And at some point, the subject of Star Scientific stock comes up, correct? Your wife brought it up.

A Yes That's fair Yes

Q And you testified that you heard your wife tell the children that, quote, the Star stock was purchased from money that was from her dad's inheritance

A Yes

Q You testified that you knew that wasn't correct

A Right

Q And that you didn't want to correct her in front of the children, right?

A It was Christmas Day No, sir, I did not

Q But you also heard your daughter, Cailin, testify that the stock transfer, she was, your wife informed the children that the stock transfer had to occur before year-end because of some capital gains tax issues Do you remember your daughter testifying to that?

A I did. I heard her say that, yes

Q Okay Do you have an independent recollection of your wife saying that to your children?

A No

Q Do you know, do you have any recollection of your wife mentioning that?

A I don't

Q As you sit here today, you can't say that you weren't present for that?

A I'm just saying I don't remember her saying that

Q Okay But in fact, you knew that wasn't true, right? That there wasn't some capital gains tax issue that was motivating this?

A Not that I knew of What was motivating it was a Christmas present for the children.

Q But your wife, are you present when your wife says, "This needs to be done for year-end"?

A No

Q Okay Let's do it this way What exactly do you remember your wife telling your children?

A The same thing she had been telling me for 20 years And that is that she wanted to do something similar to what my father had done, which was to present a gift of stock for my children as a wedding present, but she couldn't find a way to do that so she was now going to do this as a Christmas present for them in 2012, and she was giving them each the same amount of stock I think it was a thousand shares And that because everybody was home now for Christmas, that she had the forms and she was going to have them fill the forms out So that's what she had told me four, five, six days or so before Christmas. That's what I heard her tell the children when we were at the Christmas table And frankly, I was glad that finally, gosh, after a year-and-a-half of owning that stock, that she was going to do what she said she was going to do back in June of 2011

Q But to be clear, you are testifying that you didn't hear your wife say that it had to be done before year-end

A I did not hear it, no

Q And you did not hear her say that it had to be done before year-end for capital gains tax issues?

A I did not hear that, no.

Q Did your children mention that to you later?

A They did not

Q When asked on direct whether there was any rush from your perspective to fill out the forms, I didn't hear the answer So as you put yourself back then, from your perspective, was there any rush to get the stock transferred to the children other than it was a Christmas present?

A No

Q Okay Now, were you there when your wife made it clear to the children that they needed to complete the forms before the end of 2011?

A No I was there when we completed the forms with my sons on Christmas Day

Q Now, the plan, were you there when your wife said, "I'm giving each of you a thousand shares of Star Scientific stock"?

A Yes I do remember her saying that

Q And did you know how many shares she had at that point?

A I don't know

Q You don't know?

A I don't know if she told me earlier what the total shares were, but I knew she said she was giving each one of them a thousand shares to my best recollection, yes

Q And did you know at that point that she was going to retain shares in her own name?

A I don't think so

Q Okay. So you thought that all the shares were going to your kids and that neither you nor she would have any shares

A I wasn't sure.

Q But as you sit here today, you know that she retained 1,600 shares

A I do.

Q With a market value of $3,000, correct?

A Yes

Q And that was below the $10,000 reporting requirement.

A Yes. Sure.

Q So from your testimony, it sounds like what you are testifying to is that your wife had repeatedly misled you about, first of all, the purchase of the shares; second of all, her failure to sell the shares after you told her she should; and then third, about the repurchase of the shares in January of 2012; and then about whether the shares were in your childrens' name She misled you the whole way through about all that, right?

A Yes

Q And your testimony is that yes, there were Davenport statements, but you didn't open them because you were worried about your wife's privacy

A No, I wasn't worried about it. I respected it I don't open any of her mail except for the credit card statements that I know I'm going to pay

Q Let's go to your January of 2013 SOEI You file it in January of 2013, but it is for calendar year 2012, correct?

A That's correct.

Q Let's go to Government Exhibit 459 This has been admitted. And sir, on Page 1, that's your form and I believe that this is the electronic, the first year of electronic filing, right?

A I think that's correct, yes

Q Okay Now, turning to, under Personal Liabilities, Number 2, you put "Yes," correct?

A Yes

Q And then turning to Page 3 of this form, and for your personal debts, nothing is listed for Mr Williams or the Starwood Trust regarding the $50,000 check that was made out to MoBo, right?

A Correct

Q And nothing was put on this form for the $20,000 wire transfer to MoBo from Starwood Trust

A That's correct This says "Personal Debts " That's right

Q So if Mr Williams had actually written the check to you, then your testimony is you would have had to disclose it

A If it was a personal loan to me, yes

Q I guess my question is, if he actually wrote the check to you, would you consider that a personal loan to you?

A Yes

Q And then you would have disclosed it?

A Yes

Q But sir, from that text message we saw earlier, Mr Williams asked you who to make the check out to, right, or the wire transfer to, right?

A Yes

Q And you told him MoBo

A Like I did before Yes It was always about MoBo loan Yes

Q So you are informing him who to write the check to and who to send a wire transfer to

A Sure That was the proper creditor, yes Excuse me, debtor

Q So ultimately, by instructing him to do that, that would allow you to not have to report these on your SOEI, right?

A Mr Dry, I disagree with the premise of your question That's not why I did it, if that's the inference I did it because I was -- we were borrowing money for my sister and I for MoBo That's why I did it

Q Okay Going back to Government Exhibit 459 -- well, actually -- yeah, 459, Page 3 At the bottom, this is the gift schedule Schedule E is what I want. This is the start of the gift schedule, and it kind of continues on, correct? You saw this with Mr Asbill?

A Yes

Q Okay And then going to the next page at the top, and this is the gift schedule for that year

A Yes

Q And you testified that Mr Williams was a personal friend by this point

A Yes, I felt so, yes

Q And in fact, you disclosed flights from Star Scientific on there?

A Sure

Q Were you the one that was involved in actually personally reaching out to Star Scientific to get the value of the flights?

A No, absolutely not My staff would have done that as we had instructed them to do for four years

Q Okay Now, on this, just so I'm clear, you didn't disclose the golf from Mr Williams that you played in January of 2012 with your two sons, right?

A That's correct

Q Okay And there is no disclosure regarding La Grotta on February 29th, 2012?

A That's correct

Q There is no disclosure regarding playing golf at Kinloch in November of 2012?

A That's correct

Q No disclosures regarding any work that Mr Danny Williams was doing at your house?

A There would be no need to

Q Right And that was because you hadn't been billed for it yet, right?

A Well, no There was no gift

Q Because you always intended to pay Donnie Williams for the work he was doing at your home

A And the other three contractors that worked with him, yes, and I did.

Q Just like the year before, you have heard testimony that you asked your staff again about the definition of a personal friend, right?

A I remember '11 I don't have a good memory of this But we probably talked about it when I did the forms, yes, sir

Q And in fact, that was -- Mr Conrad testified about that Do you remember that testimony?

A I have some memory of it, yes

Q In fact, you testified that he told you that those persons that he -- he advised you when you asked him the definition of a personal friend, that those persons you knew prior to running for Attorney General are good candidates for personal friends Do you remember that testimony?

A That's probably right

Q Now, at this point, you'd filled out an SOEI for 22 years, right?

A Yes

Q Had the definition of personal friend changed recently according to the instructions on the form?

A No Because there was no definition

Q But the reference to how, when you needed to disclose, that had stayed the same

A I think so

Q I guess my question is, the instructions had stayed the same You were the prior Attorney General responsible for enforcing the laws regarding SOEIs And it sounds like you keep asking your staff what the definition of a personal friend is Is all that true?

A We discussed a lot of the same things probably -- I don't have really, other than '11 when I got a written response, I don't have independent recollection of the other years, Mr Dry

Q Sir, isn't it true that you kept asking the lawyers what the definition of personal friend was because you weren't getting the answer that you wanted?

A Absolutely not

Q Well, on this page right here for gifts, there is nothing listed for any Kiawah Island golf resort gift from Bill Goodwin, is there?

A No

Q I'd like to show Government Exhibit 460 Sir, this has already been admitted in evidence This is a draft of your 2012 statement?

A Yes

Q And Ms Watts would put this together and then you would review this for this year with Mr Conrad, right?

A Yes, Ms Watts and Ms Harris and several people did, yes

Q But there would be a process and then it would go to Ms Watts with schedules and spreadsheets?

A Sure

Q Then Ms Watts would put it together and she would give it to Mr Conrad this year and all three of you would review it together

A Yes

Q Now, going to the seventh page of this exhibit, there we go, so this is what you were given by your staff, right?

A Yes

Q Okay

A Looks like it

Q And on this draft, the Kiawah Island trip, that is listed with a value of $23,312 55, right?

A Yes

Q That handwriting there, that's yours?

A It is.

Q And you were the one that crosses it out?

A I am.

Q And you are the one that writes "Personal," right?

A Yes

Q And that refers to Mr Goodwin, who you believe is your personal friend at this point

A Yes

Q Going down, though, you don't cross off Bill Goodwin, Keswick Cabinet Retreat, $920, do you?

A No

Q And then, in fact, if we go back to Government Exhibit 459 and we go to Page 4, this is what you actually file, and there is no mention of a Kiawah Island resort trip

A No, that's correct

Q But there is a mention of Bill Goodwin, $920

A Yes, that's right

Q I'd like to fast forward to February 15th Could we go to 459, Page 3? And then I don't think -- I apologize for this Scroll down and then I think we are going to need to go to the next page And the very top And this is you disclosing your wife's loan from Mr Williams, correct?

A Yes

Q And you changed the occupation from "Medical Services" to "Healthcare," correct?

A I did I thought that was a better description, yes

Q But nowhere on this form does it say Mr Williams gave your wife a $50,000 personal loan, right?

A It does not because it says, "Principal business or occupation " That's what's called for under the law, yes

Q I'd like to go to your wife's interview on February 15th. Now, you knew that your wife was going to be interviewed by law enforcement before the interview actually occurred, right?

A Yes, sir

Q And you knew that was going to be on February 15th, 2013?

A I did

Q And you testified that the night before this interview, you had a nice Valentine's dinner with your wife?

A We did

Q And that's when you found out that your wife hadn't sent the refund check for the catering bill to your daughter, Cailin, right?

A That's what she told me, yes

Q And that just happened the night before your wife was interviewed

A Yes We were going over wedding documents, yes

Q And I guess that is one of my questions At this point, I think you testified that you thought that the interview was only going to be about the thefts from the -- by the chef from the Mansion, right?

A Yes

Q But you asked your wife to get together all of the documents --

A No

Q Well, what did you ask your wife to collect?

A I didn't ask her to collect it She collected it, I think, with her staff, the wedding documents The reception documents

Q Did you ask her to do so before she did?

A I think she did it on her own.

Q Okay But I believe you said that, you testified that you went over the documents with her

A I did

Q Okay So she brings you the documents, you sit at a table and you are going through the documents together.

A Yes

Q Okay Now, the purpose of you going through those documents was to enable your wife to explain who was paying the catering bill?

A No

Q What was the purpose of collecting the documents or reviewing the documents?

A As I testified on direct, we had learned that one of the things that the chef was saying as the reason that he stole food from the Mansion without permission was that he claimed that he was not fully paid for the wedding reception. He had an affiliation with the catering company And as a result of that, that he had taken this food from the Mansion I believed that was absolutely incorrect, but I wanted to see the documents And my wife wanted to see the documents to verify that we had fully paid the catering bill So it was related to the chef investigation

Q And your wife tells you that the refund check, she deposited that into her personal bank account?

A Yes

Q And that's the first time you are learning that

A Yes

Q The day before her interview

A Yes I had asked her to do it a year-and-a-half ago and she did not do it

Q Now, after the interview, you testified that you became upset that law enforcement had asked some questions about Jonnie Williams

A No

Q Well, that it was outside -- that the questioning was not limited to the chef issue

A No.

Q Well, you testified that you felt like your wife was ambushed.

A Yes

Q Because it was outside the scope of what you understood the interview to be about

A Because of the specific representation of the Superintendent of State Police to my Chief of Staff, and he to me, about the purpose of the interview Yes

Q In fact, you complained to Martin Kent You heard him testify that within a day of the interview, you complained to him that your wife was interviewed on subjects that you had not been informed about, right?

A I didn't complain I thought he would want to know since he also was misinformed. I had a great relationship with the State Police for 22 years And yes, I was, I was disappointed and I was angry

Q Now, at that point, you realized that law enforcement was asking questions about you and your wife's financial dealings with Mr Williams, right?

A And Mr Williams himself and his dealings But yes, I did.

Q And you understood at that point that it was possible that there would be more questions coming down the pike, right?

A Potentially, yes

Q Okay I believe you testified on cross-examination from Mr Burck that your wife had actually suggested going to law enforcement to correct one of her statements to law enforcement Do you remember that?

A Not exactly that

Q Well, Mr Burck asked you, "Didn't your wife tell you that she wanted to call the FBI and you said yes?" Do you remember that?

A I said no Oh, I'm sorry I don't think we are communicating Ask me that again And I apologize

Q Okay On cross-examination with Mr Burck, Mr Burck asked you, "Isn't it true that your wife told you that she wanted to go to the FBI and explain one of the things that she had told them?"

A Yes.

Q At that point, you told her no That was your testimony

A Yes

Q But to be clear, at that point, you think that the FBI might be investigating you as well

A I wasn't sure

Q But you thought that that was a distinct possibility?

A There was one question about me I wasn't sure who actually was even in the meeting I was not sure about the total purpose of the investigation

Q But at this point, your wife had told you the FBI had interviewed her, right?

A She did, and the State Police

Q FBI and State Police So you know that at that point that there is a distinct possibility that they might be investigating you and your wife

A Maybe, yes

Q Well, let's go to the PenFed loan application Two weeks before your wife was interviewed, the two of you signed a loan application to Pentagon Federal Credit Union, right?

A Yes

Q Let's bring up Government Exhibit 480, please It has been admitted. And in fact, this is the e-mail from your secretary, Pam Watts, to Nan Bolt?

A Yes, sir

Q And you had asked Ms Watts to send this to Ms Bolt?

A Yes

Q And this contained the loan documents for you that were signed, correct?

A In some spots on the application, yes

Q Okay Now, this loan application, that was for 770 Devils Knob Loop?

A You can't see it here, but yes, Mr Dry, that was the template, the first one we got, yes

Q That's the Blue Ridge Heaven property?

A Yes

Q And at the time of this application, you were hoping to close this loan within 30 days, the loan application

A That was what they told me, that they wanted it closed by February 28th. That was on the initial form, yes

Q Now, turning to Page 9, these are your handwritten corrections on the first page of this, right?

A Yes

Q Now, on the top, I think your lawyer has pointed out at the very top of the form that you don't sign there and you don't check the boxes for whether it is a joint or a personal loan application.

A Yes

Q All right But to be clear, from day one in your conversations with Ms Bolt, this was always going to be a joint loan.

A Yes, because my wife was on the deed as well. Yes

Q It would be impossible for you to just fill out on your own, because your wife is on the deed; both of you have to be on the --

A I'm not sure about whether it would be impossible That I couldn't refinance in my own name. But the intent, sir, was to have it be a joint application, yes

Q If you look under co-borrower -- if you look at the borrower information?

A Yes

Q That says that the co-borrower is your wife

A Yes

Q Now, on Page 10 of this document, there is nothing listed for Starwood Trust?

A Right

Q And there is nothing listed for Mr Williams

A Right

Q And you testified that the reason that there weren't was because they were corporate obligations, right?

A In part But what I testified to is I just didn't look carefully at this page at all

Q Okay So you didn't review this page in any way, shape, or form?

A It was February 1st I sent it right back, and the answer is no

Q Okay Well, on the left hand -- let's do it this way On the first page, you had made handwritten changes, including the years of school, number of dependents, number of years you owned the houses, et cetera

A Yes, I did.

Q So your testimony is that you reviewed the first page dealing with this stuff, but you didn't bother to review the actual outstanding liabilities?

A No That's not what I said I said I looked at the whole form, but I looked at it very quickly And there were a couple things that jumped out on Page 4 and the last page that I was very familiar with, and that's what I changed.

Q Okay Let's go to Exhibit 480, Page 11 Sir, this is your signature and your wife's signature

A Yes

Q Okay And I believe that you testified on cross-examination that you don't know how the form actually got to your wife for her signature

A I either handed it to her or I had somebody run it over to her for her to sign so I could get it faxed back.

So I don't remember

Q You don't remember whether you were present when your wife reviewed this or not

A I don't

Q You can't testify one way or the other whether she reviewed the document?

A No, sir

Q Okay Well, let's go to Page 12 These are the additional liabilities, correct?

A Yes

Q And there is no mention of Starwood or Jonnie Williams on that?

A No

Q And at the bottom of the page, if we scroll down -- oh, one thing right on here, you do correct the lien amounts for Sandfiddler and -- 3112 and 3113, correct?

A Because those were the two we were refinancing and I knew those numbers right off the top of my head, yes

Q Right In fact, if you are refinancing them the numbers are going to have to be correct so that the refinance amount you are getting is correct, yes?

A I just knew those amounts, yes

Q Can we go down? Sir, both you and your wife signed this document on February 1st?

A Yes

Q And it makes it clear, doesn't it, right above, that any knowing -- "Knowingly making any false statement concerning any of the above facts is a potential criminal violation"?

A It does I don't think I read it at the time, but I've read them for 35 years So --

Q So you knew that

A I knew the boilerplate that's on these forms, yes

Q But you knew it was a potential federal crime when you signed this to make a knowing false statement?

A Sure.

Q You are a former prosecutor, you are a lawyer?

A Yes, sir, I did

Q Now, sir, you testified that you viewed this document as a draft, kind of I think you might have used the word "iterative process" seven or eight times Do you remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q Anywhere on this document does it say "draft"?

A No.

Q Nowhere on there is there any mention of "iterative process," right?

A No I just know I sign a final application at every closing I've ever done with PenFed.

Q Well, let's go to Government Exhibit 483, please

Now, this is an e-mail between you, Larry Blake, Nan Bolt, Debbie Naylor, your wife, and your sister are all on this, right?

A Yes, that's correct

Q Okay And this is about refinancing 3112 and 3113 Sandfiddler?

A Yes

Q Turning to Page 2, the top e-mail, sir, it says here, "Thanks again for all your great service We have decided to go forward on the 3112, 3113 " And then you write towards the bottom: "Since we provided all the data for the loans already to Nan on the Wintergreen loan application, what else do you need from us on these applications " Now, Wintergreen is 770 Devils Knob Loop?

A Yes

Q And you are telling PenFed that you provided all the information for that loan application already

A That we knew about at the time, yes

Q And in fact, in the first page of the e-mail, they tell you, in the middle part, they tell you that they are going to use that information from the existing applications for the loans on these two properties, right?

A Yes That's what it says

Q Okay At no point in this are you telling Ms Bolt that you needed to review the loan application?

A Not on this document

Q Okay And at no point -- you heard Ms Bolt testify that at no point did you ever tell her that you needed to update your loan application before the February 18th fax of the new corrected application, right? You heard her testify to that?

A I don't remember that exact testimony, but if you say she said that, then she did

Q Well, do you recall any conversation with Nan Bolt prior to February 18th of 2013 in which you told her, "Hey, Ms Bolt, I need to review my loan application and update it"?

A No.

Q Let's go to RFM-0233 Do we have that? Oh, we do have it This is an e-mail from you to your sister, Mo, and your sister, Eileen, cc-ing your wife, correct?

A Yes

Q And your lawyer showed you this on direct examination And you testified that this e-mail showed that the status of the loans, I think your words were, "was in process " Right?

A Yes

Q But, sir, this e-mail, when you are talking about "The W-2's and the bank statements, etc., must be there by 2-18"?

A Yes

Q First of all, that was for the new loan applications, the 3112 and 3113 Sandfiddler, right? That isn't talking about the 770 Devils Knob Loop

A No. That's not correct

Q So --

A I was talking about all of them. Because the closing date was the 28th, that they had planned on, for the closings

Q So the closing dates for the 3112 and 3113 were going to be the same exact as the Devils Knob Loop?

A Well, I wasn't sure It depended on appraisals and other things, workload and so forth But I certainly knew that they had intended the first closing to be for the Devils Knob Loop if they had that done on the 28th, yes

Q And in fact, sir, when it is talking about W-2's and bank statements, that's just talking about the underlying supporting documentation for the loan application, right?

A Yes But it says "etc " as well

Q So you thought that as of this date, that you were going to fill out, or you were going to update your loan application before February 18th

A Not at that time

Q Not at this time You are just saying, "I need to get -- everybody needs to get the W-2's and bank statements in," right?

A And other things, yes

Q But at this point, the other things are not the loan application update, right?

A I didn't refer to that in here, no

Q Do you think at this point, in this e-mail, when you are writing this, that "etc." includes updating a loan application?

A I can't tell you what I was thinking exactly at that time I knew I hadn't reviewed the first one carefully enough, and I had the smack middle of the session And at some point I would be looking at all these things because I considered it a draft process based on 40 years of dealing with PenFed

Q Well, let's go to February 15th This is not admitted, 765 Now, I think this was admitted in a different form earlier This is a February 15th fax from you to Ms Bolt, correct?

A Yes

MR. DRY: The government moves Government Exhibit 765 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. DRY:

Q Now, this fax contains applications for 3112 and 3113, if we go through those?

A I think that's the cover letter for those two that I sent back, because they were wrong

Q Now, on this form, you write: "Here are the forms for the loan as discussed on the phone Please disregard the ones that have the incorrect loan amounts and resend when revised." Is that correct?

A Yes. "Disregard the ones," O-N-E-S But that's right, that's what it says

Q But you are not telling Ms Bolt anything about needing to revise the original February 1st, 2013 loan application?

A No

Q Turning to Page 5, on the "Good Faith Estimate," I believe you were asked about this on direct, the update of the amount

A Yes

Q But you are updating the amount, sir, because you actually, that's the amount of loan you want, right? This isn't a disclosure saying, "Hey, no, actually, you know, it is $700,000 of liabilities" or anything like that You are just saying, "No, the initial loan amount is going to be 700,000, not 253," right?

A Right, because the forms were wrong that they sent me.

Q Because Ms Bolt made a mistake on which loan went with which property, right?

A No.

Q No?

A That's not why the mistake was made. But that mistake got made, also, yes

Q Let's go to Page 17, the loan application Now, in here, there's some more handwritten changes But are those handwritten changes from the prior one or are you making new handwritten changes on these? The 22 and the 13

A Ask me that question again. I want to make sure I answer it right.

Q Absolutely The 22 and the 13, are those new handwritten changes you are making on this before you fax it back, or are those just bleed-overs from the last application?

A Let me try to answer it this way This is a different form and I wrote them in a second time on that date, but those changes may also be a couple that I also made on February 1st But it is a new form, because this is for Sandfiddler, not Devils Knob

Q So any handwriting on this is going to be your handwriting, not Ms Bolt's

A Yes

Q And it is going to be handwriting you did for that fax, not handwriting you did back on February 1st

A They filled out the forms and sent them to me and I made a couple changes on this one

Q Now, on the second page, or the next page, Page 18, this form is almost completely blank, right? There is almost nothing filled in as far as the assets and liabilities

A Right Which is when I knew I had a problem.

Q Right I mean, there's some subtotal of real estate owned, but -- and I think there might be some liabilities in the bottom, or some assets but not liabilities, right?

A Yes

Q Yeah So you understood at this point that really, the loan application is just on computer and it just hadn't been populated, right?

A No.

Q You thought that Ms Bolt was sending you this and that this was actually going to be a loan application the way it was for 3112?

A I didn't know I just knew it was wrong, and on that day I didn't have time to deal with it But I had time that weekend

Q Okay So you know that it is wrong and there are no assets really, and no liabilities that are listed out at least But on Page 20 you go ahead and sign it anyway

A Yes Because I knew the final application would be done at closing

Q Isn't it true, sir, that you knew that Ms Bolt was just going to plug in the information from the prior --

A No No, sir This is the third form I got from PenFed that was wrong that week, and I knew I needed to spend some more time on this

Q And did you contact Ms Bolt at any point before sending that February 18th correction and tell her, "Hey, I need to update my original PenFed application"?

A No I probably talked though her 35, 40 times I probably didn't talk to her that day

Q Did you talk that to her the day before about that, the day before that?

A Probably

Q And your testimony is you think you told Ms Bolt, "Hey, I need to update --"

A No No I'm sorry I misunderstood your question. No, I did not

Q Okay Let's go to Government Exhibit 764 This is not admitted. And sir, this is an e-mail from Ms Bolt to you?

A Yes

Q And she says, "All faxes are received " Do you see that?

A Yes

Q And that's at 12:34 p.m.

A Yes

Q Now, you know that your wife's interview with law enforcement didn't begin until 1 p m.?

A I think so, yes

Q And at the time that you sent this fax, you had no idea that your wife would be questioned by law enforcement about any loans from Mr Williams, right?

A That's true, yes

Q Now, after talking to Mr Kent about this -- and by your own admission, I think you said you were angry?

A Sure

Q Okay

MR. DRY: I'd like to move in Government Exhibit 764, please

THE COURT: It will be admitted Mr Dry, we are going to take an early break. We need a break. 15 minutes

(Recess taken from 3:05 p.m. to 3:20 p.m.)

THE COURT: All right, let's bring them in

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

All right, Mr Dry?

BY MR DRY:

Q I'd like to go to Government Exhibit 487 This has been admitted. This is the loan application that you faxed on February 18th, 2013?

A Yes, it is

Q Did you personally fax this or did you have Ms. Watts fax it for you?

A I'm pretty certain Ms Watts did it for me

Q Okay But you instructed her to fax it for you?

A Yes

Q And on the fax cover sheet, you write, "Nan, I reviewed the general loan application again this weekend. I made some updates concerning information that was incomplete Please use this as the template for the loan applications for all four loan refinances we requested."

When you are talking about the general loan application, you are talking about the original February 1st, 2013 application that you had done for 770 Devils Knob Loop, right?

A Yes

Q So basically, you submitted February 1st, 2013, the application for 770, and this is you making handwritten changes on that application

A Yes

Q You are not using the applications with all the missing data on February 15th that you had signed; this was the one that you chose to update, right?

A Yes I wanted it to be a template, though, for all of them, instead of doing four different ones

Q Understood. Going to the third page of the exhibit, sir Now, for the first time on any loan application or personal financial statement that you submitted to date, for the first time Starwood Trust and J Williams appears, correct?

A First time on a loan application or a personal financial statement?

Q Yes, sir

A Yes, I think that's right Yes

Q And in fact, you put the terms down as 0 to 36 for the Starwood Trust of 70,000, and J. Williams, 0 to 24 months at 50,000, correct?

A Yes

Q Now, sir, the Starwood, the $50,000 check to your wife, that was actually made out from Starwood Trust, correct?

A Yes And I didn't know it at the time, but yes, it was I never saw the check. Right

Q And you negotiated the terms of that first loan -- well, you confirmed the terms of that first loan to your wife with Mr Williams, correct?

A Yes, I did.

Q And that was 30 to 45 days after you were informed about it, is your testimony

A That's my best recollection Yes, sir

Q And this was an unsecured debt

A That's what I understood, yes.

Q But this isn't a loan application listing liabilities for MoBo You are listing your personal liabilities at this point, right?

A Yes

Q And in fact, at this point, there is no written loan agreement between you and Mr Williams for the loans that went to MoBo, right?

A That's correct

Q And this is after you know that your wife has been interviewed by law enforcement

A Yes, that's right

Q Going to Page 4 of the exhibit, you don't re-sign this, sir, you just make handwritten changes and then fax it back. That's the same signature from before, right?

A Yes

Q On Page 5 of the exhibit, that's the same signature as well?

A Yes

Q Okay Let's go to a new topic, sir On direct examination, you testified about various disclosures to your bookkeeper and your CPA. Do you remember that testimony?

A Yes

Q Okay And you testified about giving access to Ms Chamberlain, your bookkeeper, on February 4th of 2013 Do you remember that?

A Yes, I do

Q Can we bring up Government Exhibit, actually, it is Defendant's Exhibit RM-0109

MR. DRY: I don't think this has been admitted It was shown by Mr Asbill RM-0109 Do we have it as admitted or non-admitted? I think we might need to bring up your system. I don't think we've got it loaded Oh, there it is

BY MR DRY:

Q Do you recognize this document, sir? It is from you to Ms Chamberlain?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR DRY: I'd like to move Defendant's Exhibit RM-0109 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR DRY:

Q Now, in this e-mail, you are giving your bookkeeper access to your TowneBank bank account, correct, for MoBo?

A Yes

Q Okay But you explicitly state in the e-mail that you are doing this for the limited -- let me make sure I get this -- limited purpose of providing regular bookkeeper services, right?

A Yes

Q But the bank account, that would only show deposits from Starwood Trust, correct?

A I'm not sure -- it would show a lot of things What's the specific question?

Q I guess the question is, if she had access to the bank account and there was a Starwood Trust entry, that would merely say $50,000 received from Starwood Trust Correct?

A Yes She would see that and copies of the check. That's right

Q Right She could blow up the check and see that a $50,000 check went from Starwood Trust made payable to MoBo, Attention: Maureen Uncapher, and then "Beach House" in the memo line That's what she would see

A I think you have accurately summarized what's on the check, yes, sir

Q But that would provide no information whatsoever that Starwood Trust was affiliated with Jonnie Williams in any way

A No

Q And in fact, it wouldn't even provide information that the payments were related to Star Scientific in any way It would be Starwood Trust

A Yes

Q Nor would there be any loan agreement terms readily apparent on the face of the bank statements?

A That's right

Q And the bank statements wouldn't reveal anything about the meeting Mr Williams had with Ms Huffstetler, him being recognized as a healthcare leader, or basically, really, any information regarding the relationship between you and he, correct?

A That's absolutely right I don't think those are required for taxes

Q And you wrote this e-mail before your wife was interviewed by law enforcement, correct?

A Yes, I did.

Q Well, let's look at an e-mail that you wrote to Ms Chamberlain about two weeks after that Can we show Government Exhibit 762 This is not admitted. This is an e-mail from you to Ms Chamberlain on March 3rd, correct?

A Yes

Q Now --

MR. DRY: I'd like to move Government's Exhibit

762 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. DRY:

Q Going down towards the bottom, it says: Brenda, I also would ask you to put your billing rates and arrangements in writing to me also and your standard confidentiality agreements to protect all the financial information we provide and is given via access to the bank statements " Did you write that to her?

A Yes

Q And then if we go to admitted, Government Exhibit 763, this has been -- Ms. Chamberlain writes to you on the second -- this is a March 4th e-mail from Ms Chamberlain to you in the middle Do you see that?

A Yes

Q And she says, "As far as confidentiality agreements go, this is the first time I've been asked for one " Do you remember Ms Chamberlain testifying to that fact as well?

A She may have, yes

Q And the top e-mail, you respond that you thought she might have one already

A Yes

Q After your interview, after your wife was interviewed by law enforcement, did you execute a confidentiality agreement with Ms Chamberlain?

A Yes Well, I believe my sister signed one for MoBo, my sister, Maureen, and my sister, Eileen, signed for Blue Ridge Heaven because they were the managing members of the respective LLC's But yes, I believe those were executed

Q On direct examination you also testified that you disclosed your wife's ownership of Star Scientific to the IRS?

A Yes, through my tax return process

Q That was the sale of stock on your 2011 tax returns, right?

A Yes

Q Let's show admitted Defense Exhibit RM-0282 Do you recognize this as your 2011 tax returns?

A Yes, sir Seems to be

Q And if we could go to Page 22 of this document And then if you could blow that up. So sir, that merely shows that there was a sale of Star stock, correct, Star Scientific stock?

A Yes, that's what the form requires

Q It doesn't list Mr Williams in any way?

A No, sir

Q Doesn't say anything about Starwood Trust

A No

Q Doesn't say how that stock was purchased, what money was used for it?

A No, it doesn't

Q Doesn't say anything about the repurchase of the stock?

A No.

Q The only thing that really discloses is you no longer have any financial relationship with Star Scientific, right?

A Not necessarily

Q Well, let's put it this way: That you don't have any stock in Star Scientific as of that date Well, actually --

A Not necessarily

Q That you sold Star Scientific stock in that amount Can we agree on that?

A Yes

Q Okay And by looking at this tax return, there would be no way for anybody to know that there was a $50,000 loan from Mr Williams to your wife

A No.

Q And there would be no way for -- and this is a personal tax return, right?

A That's correct And this is a capital gains form.

Q And sir, you know that tax returns, they are not publicly available, right?

A Mine is now

Q Well, before a court order had them to be disclosed, yours were not publicly available, were they?

A Yes, sir, that's correct

Q Now, you also testified about your 2012 MoBo tax return, right?

A Yes

Q And I believe Mr Asbill asked you, quote, "Would those tax documents reflect MoBo loans from Williams?" And you said, "Yes " Do you recall that?

A I'm sorry, Mr Dry, could you repeat that again? I want to make sure I understand it

Q Absolutely, sir In fact, why don't we bring up Government Exhibit 821 It is the August 23rd transcript, pinpoint site, 4816, 19 through 21 And the question Mr Asbill asked you was, "Would those tax documents," meaning the MoBo ones, "reflect MoBo loans from Williams --" 19 through 21 Right down there You were asked: "Would those tax documents reflect MoBo loans from Williams?" You responded, "Yes " Does that refresh your recollection of your testimony, sir?

A It does What I am not clear on was the reference, what tax documents?

Q We can go up

A Yes, sir

Q And I believe that this is in reference to the MoBo tax returns

A The corporate tax return, not personal

Q Not personal

A Okay

Q Well, let's do it this way Is it accurate that in your view the MoBo tax returns would reflect MoBo loans from Williams?

A As I best understand it from Mr. Cook, not by name, but by number and value is the way he has explained it to me and showed me on the form. Yes

Q And in fact, when you talk about the form, Mr Asbill asked you: "On what sort of a form would they do that?" You responded, "The corporate income tax is a form 1120S

A Yes, that's what I understood, the 1120S form, yes

Q You said one of the attachments to that form, my vague recollection, I think it is Page 4, Line 19 Do you remember that?

A Yes, I do That's what I remember from Mr Cook, him showing me that at one point

Q But let's talk about that just for a second. That form, that's not going to identify who the loan is from, correct?

A That's correct From none of the lenders, that's my understanding, right

Q All that form is going to talk about is the total amount of loans

A Right That's what the law requires

Q Absolutely So the fact that you send that form into the IRS, it is not going to disclose anything about your financial relationship between Mr Williams or the financial relationship between MoBo and Mr Williams, correct?

A Not on the loan part, that's correct

Q Okay Let's go to Government Exhibit 652, please

MR DRY: Hold on one second, Your Honor, please

(Counsel conferring with co-counsel)

BY MR. DRY:

Q Discretion is the better part of valor sometimes We are going to go on to a new topic

Sir, towards the end of your direct testimony, you talked about your family at length, and you testified, quote, that that's why I accepted those Smith Mountain Lake weekends It was just three days with just my family and all we did really was spend time on the water, play golf with my sons Do you remember that?

A Yes

Q And you testified about the Chatham Bars trip, and you know said, "For me, when people offered things like that, I had multiple offers to do things but the few I accepted were ones that meant time with my wife or time with my family That's what I saw I didn't see fancy hotels or boats I mean, I just saw time away " Right?

A Yes, that's how I felt, yes, sir

Q But sir, to be clear, you were living in the Governor's Mansion at the time, right?

A Yes

Q And you had a home in Glen Allen that cost $835,000?

A Yes

Q And you had another vacation home in Wintergreen that cost a million dollars?

A That I owned with five other people, yes.

Q You had access to it, right?

A Yes

Q And then you had a beach property that you bought in 2005 for $1 15 million?

A Yes

Q You had another beach property that you bought in 2006 that cost $850,000?

A Yes

Q You had access to Camp Pendleton?

A Yes

Q So isn't it fair, sir, that you didn't need to go to Chatham Bars Inn, you didn't need to go to Smith Mountain

Lake, you had plenty of options if you just wanted to spend time with your family?

A Sure

Q Finally, sir, during your direct testimony on that first day, you spoke about how proud you were on your Inauguration Day as Governor. Do you remember testifying about that?

A I hope I didn't use the word "proud " But it was a wonderful acceleration for my family, yes

Q And that was on January 16th, 2010?

A Yes

Q And you gave an Inauguration Address that day?

A Yes, sir

Q Could we bring up Government Exhibit 813, please? This is a printed-out copy of your inauguration speech. Is that correct?

A Yes, sir

MR. DRY: Government moves Government Exhibit 813 into evidence

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MR. DRY:

Q Turning to the fifth page of the exhibit, third paragraph from the bottom, can we blow that up? Part of your speech, you wrote: "We live in the most generous nation on earth. So many Virginians give sacrificially of their time, talents, and treasure, and rightly so The Scriptures say, 'To whom much is given much will be required '" You said that, right?

A Yes, sir

Q Mr Williams gave you and your family approximately $177,000 in gifts and loans, didn't he?

A Yes

MR. DRY: No further questions

THE COURT: Mr Asbill?

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Getting back to where Mr Dry left off, was anything required from you for Jonnie Williams in return for whatever he did for you or your family?

A Absolutely not

Q Let's talk about, go in reverse order from the things that Mr Dry has been talking to you about for the last couple of days With respect to disclosing information about Star Scientific or Starwood Trust, et cetera, to Ms Chamberlain, to your accountant, to tax preparers, et cetera, et cetera, did you think that if people were looking at you or trying to investigate you that they weren't smart enough to figure out that Star Scientific or Starwood Trust had something to do with Jonnie Williams?

A I'm sure they could figure that out, sure He was the CEO

Q Let's pull up Government Exhibit 763 that Mr Dry just talked to you about Can you highlight at the top e-mail, can you highlight the last sentence, please? Bold it and yellow it So did you provide Brenda Chamberlain with full permission to access the TowneBank account and pass all the information on to the accountant, to your tax accountant?

A Yes, I did.

Q All right. With respect -- let's pull up Government Exhibit 487 This is dated what, the 18th of February?

A Yes

Q All right And is this -- is this the final time that you have made corrections to the PenFed loan?

A No

Q Not? When was the final time?

A I had given -- if your question is had I given other information that was required for the loan application, that continued, I think, up until the time of closing We closed once in April, once in May, and once in June on these three loans, and I was continuing to provide information as requested by Ms Bolt and PenFed

Q Let me go to Page 3 of this document, not the cover sheet, but I think Page 3 This is what I am talking about Down at the bottom where it says, "Add Starwood Trust, Jonnie Williams," et cetera?

A Yes

Q With respect to that information, did you over-disclose in terms of what you thought was required on the form information about Jonnie Williams or Starwood or things that he was connected with?

A Yes I mean, the corporate obligations I had never listed on the form. I put that on there when I was told several times by Ms Bolt that they did not need to be on the form.

MR. DRY: Objection

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Why did you over-disclose at this time with respect to information about Jonnie Williams or anything that he was connected to?

A Obviously, there were a number of things I had not initially disclosed on February 1st But obviously, after I learned from my wife that there were agents of either state or federal authorities, I wanted to be sure that there was absolutely no question that anything that had -- that anything I had to do with Jonnie Williams was fully disclosed to anybody that I had to deal with, which at that time was bookkeeper, my accountant, was the bank I was in the middle of many of these transactions, trying to get my tax return done, trying to get my properties refinanced, and I did not want there to be any question at that point that even the corporate loans were outlined for Ms Bolt

Q Okay Let's go to -- let's go back to the SOEI I believe this is for 2012, the draft SOEI for 2012, Page 7

MR. ASBILL: Can you find that for me, please? Do you all know the number? Whoever has got it more quickly, I don't care

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q I think it is page -- I'm going to look for Page 7, I believe, on the draft That page I'm sorry, Page 8 Seven pages in. Okay And at the top, bold the Bill Goodwin scratched-out Kiawah Island trip, please And would you bold down at the bottom where it says, "Bill Goodwin, Charlottesville, Keswick Cabinet Retreat " Okay Bill Goodwin has -- Bill Goodwin is the person giving the gift; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Okay And with respect to the Keswick Cabinet Retreat, $920, you leave that on the form. You do not strike it from the form.

A Right

Q When you ultimately file it Correct?

A Right

Q And why is it that you left in that $920 item for Bill Goodwin?

A You know, I got a lot of different advice on what a personal friend was from Mr Eige, Ms Kelly, and others But it was clear to me that any gift that was related to your public position should be disclosed. It says that right on the form itself The personal friend exception only applies to gifts that are given that are clearly unrelated to your public position That's right at the top of this form. And I was having a Cabinet Retreat at Keswick This was another property Mr Goodwin owned, and obviously this gift was related to my public position, having a Cabinet Retreat there So I believed that that one needed to be on there

Q Okay And above it, you struck out the $23,000 or whatever the value of the gift was, in terms of your family going to Kiawah Island; is that correct?

A Yes

Q You write in "Personal," right?

A Yes

Q You make that decision?

A Yes

Q And you take it off the form.

A Yes

Q Okay You can pull that down I want to ask you about Mr Goodwin. And in general, is he a successful businessman in Virginia?

A Probably one of the most successful

Q Is he a philanthropist in Virginia?

A Significant I think he has given tens of millions of dollars to the University of Virginia

Q Did you view him at this time as a permanent friend?

A Yes

Q And you have talked about some of the reasons, you said you have known him for seven or eight years; is that correct?

A Yes

Q Has he ever given you any personal and confidential advice about anything?

A Yes

Q You said you had dinner, or he had dinner at the Mansion once with you?

A He was there once for dinner and I think he came once or twice for other events while I was Governor

Q All right You said you knew his wife's name?

A Alice

Q You knew her?

A Yes

Q And you said, I believe you said you didn't know the names or you couldn't remember the names of his children.

Is that right?

A I'm sure Mr Goodwin told me, but I knew he and Alice, more Bill, but not his family that well I think I had met one of them at one point

Q Do you have any other personal friends of yours whose children's names you do not know?

A Yes, many

Q Now, would I be accurate in saying that since you were indicted, you learned a lot about who your true friends or your real friends were?

A Yes

Q Did Mr Goodwin demonstrate that he was a true friend to you after you were indicted?

A Yes

Q In what way?

MR. DRY: Objection, relevancy

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q While you were Governor, before you were indicted, did Bill Goodwin ever ask you for anything?

A Yes

Q What was that?

A He asked me in March of 2012 to reappoint his son-in-law, Robert Hardie, to the Board of Visitors at the University of Virginia He sent me a letter

Q Let me pull up document RM-0347-0001 and 0002 Is this the letter you have just talked about?

A Yes

MR. ASBILL: I move the admission of this letter

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q What day is the letter dated?

A March 16th, 2012

Q And this relates to his son-in-law that he is asking you, Robert Hardie, that he is asking you to reappoint?

A Yes

Q Highlight just that sentence there And look at the next page, please. 0002

A Yes

Q And in the concluding paragraph, what does Bill Goodwin say to you?

A "In summary, I really hope that you will seriously consider Robert's reappointment, as I believe he is contributing a lot to the University and I know he would be greatly appreciative and honored. I would be glad to chat about this further if you would like Bill "

Q Aside from the Kiawah thing or the Keswick thing, has he been a donor to you?

A Yes, for many years

Q All right And with respect to this request from Bill Goodwin, what did you do?

A I evaluated his request with my Secretary of the Commonwealth, Janet Kelly, and determined that I would not reappoint him, did not believe his views on higher education were consistent with the vision that we had outlined in 2011 for higher education reform, and I declined to reappoint him.

Q In your view, is this an example of getting something from a donor one day and the next day telling him no?

A Yes

Q Did you ever ask Mr Goodwin to do you a huge personal favor?

A Yes

Q When and what

A Later on that year, in June, I think there has been previous testimony on this, we had a significant management problem at the University of Virginia The President was removed by the Board of Visitors, which caused a significant consternation out there at the University of Virginia I think the letter has been introduced where I told the board, "Fix this problem or you are fired " And they resolved it and reinstated the President, but I had some serious challenges after that with making sure that this board was cohesive, was functional, and was properly managing the relationships out at the flagship University So I knew we needed some senior leadership

Q And was this -- what did you ask him to do?

A I called Mr Goodwin There were only two people that I thought really could try to fix this problem as a senior advisor to add to the current Board, and Mr Goodwin was one And he has been a long term philanthropist He had served eight years on that Board already So I called him. I said, "Bill, I need your help. We've got significant problems out here SCHEV is looking into this problem. The relationships between the Board and the President are not good. I've got to get this fixed. You are one of the few guys that I know that can help fix this " And I said, "I know you are busy as heck, I need you to serve as in an advisory capacity," not on the Board at that time, "I need you to serve as a senior advisor to the Board and help me and help the Board get this process back on track "

Q And did he do that for you?

A He did It took, I think, a call or two, but he thought about it and said, "It is important " I knew he felt bad because I didn't reappoint his son-in-law Now I've got him being a senior advisor But Mr Goodwin said, "I will do it I like you I know you have got -- this is a problem, and we've got to get the University back on track " And so he did it

Q At all times in 2012, did you consider Bill Goodwin to be a personal friend?

A Yes, I did.

Q Going back a little earlier in Mr Dry's cross-examination of you this afternoon, were there ever any personal guarantees that you gave for the Jonnie Williams loans to MoBo?

A No Neither orally nor in writing No

Q All right Mr Dry asked you about was it a good investment for Jonnie Williams to put this $70,000 or whatever into MoBo And I want to follow up on that Did Mr Williams get his money back per the agreement?

A Yes I repaid him fully with interest last year

Q All right In terms of whether or not he would invest in something like MoBo, in terms of credit risk, has MoBo ever, ever in the existence of MoBo failed to pay any debtor, any creditor?

A Not in nine years, no

Q How about you personally? Have you ever failed to pay back anything you owed to anyone?

A In 60 years?

Q In 60 years

A Not in my adult life that I can remember I've tried to keep my word.

Q Mr Dry asked you some questions about Mr Kosowsky and the testimony that Mr Kosowsky gave

A Yes

Q He asked you some question about whether Mr Kosowsky was paid for his testimony

A Yes

Q Was he paid for his testimony?

A No I didn't answer that right He was paid for his time I'm sure like everybody that's in the courtroom, he was paid for his time I'm sure he has got his own ethical rules and plenty of integrity and he gave the opinion he thought fit But he was paid for his time in performing the work we asked him to do

Q Do you think the agent who testified in this case as a summary witness was paid for his testimony?

A No, I think he was paid for his time

///

///

///

///

///

///

///

///

Q With respect to the payments at the end of -- the TowneBank, basically Excuse me Let me -- let me -- let me -- let me go back to the Dr Davis loan

When was the Dr Davis loan paid off?

A At the end of 2012

Q All right

A I had paid my -- what I believe was my portion in the March and April of 2012 time frame, and that 20,000 total was paid towards -- to Dr Davis And my sister paid her 12,500 at the end of year So it was fully paid off at the end of 2012

Q All right And from your perspective, your portion of it was paid off by what date?

A By April of 2012 I paid off the -- half of the remaining balance of 17,000 and change that I felt that was my portion of it, if you will And then I actually paid a portion of my sister's, the other $3,750 That's that deposit that you asked me about earlier

Q All right Did you have any doubt about your sister's willingness or ability to pay whatever her portion of it was --

A No

Q -- to Dr Davis before the end of the year?

A Absolutely not

Q All right

A I have a very capable financial partner

Q All right And with respect to the Heritage Bank application that later serves for other purposes with other banks, that was dated April 30th --

A Yes

Q -- of 2012?

A Yes

Q And as of the date of that form, did you believe that you had any outstanding obligation with respect to Dr Davis?

A No.

Q Now, Mr Dry suggested in his cross-examination of you that Mr Williams may have been trying to get you $50,000 towards MoBo in March of 2012 to sort of get you over the -- some short-term hurdle or get you over the hump And then there was a plan afoot, or a plan in place, to give you more stock or more cash or whatever Is that true?

A No

Q With respect to the Hannity interview This is 8/6/2012 That's August 6th of 2012; is that correct?

A I think that was the date, Mr Asbill

Q Yeah

A Yes

Q And he showed you that, a little portion of that on the screen, where you said something in the beginning that you can't spend more than you have or you'll go into a hole?

A Yes, sir

Q Something to that effect?

A I did say that

Q All right This was about state deficits, state budgets? Was that the topic there?

A Yes

Q Did you, in fact, balance the state budget?

A Four years in a row. we had the highest surpluses in the history of Virginia under my governorship for four consecutive years of $2 billion

Q So --

A My team did a good job, I thought

Q So whatever you and your team had to do in order to accomplish that, you did it?

A Yes, sir

Q All right Mr Dry asked you about the meeting, I think this is the -- I think it's the 12th of March Correct me if I'm wrong I think it's GX 754 And if that refreshes your -- no Excuse me That's a different exhibit

What I'm talking about is the meeting in your office about healthcare issues, and Lisa Hicks-Thomas, Sara

Wilson --

A Yes

Q -- and you are all present?

A Yes

Q And you had some discussion, as you've described, about --

A Yes I believe that was March 19th

Q -- Anatabloc?

A Or the 21st, I think

Q I'm sorry What date?

A I think it was -- I believe it was March 21st of 2012

Q Okay Now, with respect to that meeting, do you recall whether or not Martin Kent was present or scheduled to be present?

A He was scheduled to be present And I think he was in and out, which is not unusual for a Chief of Staff

Q All right And Mr Dry asked you if you heard Lisa Hicks-Thomas testify and in her testimony where she thought that you suggested that they, meaning Lisa Hicks-Thomas and Sara Wilson, ought to go talk to the Anatabloc people?

A I heard the testimony Yes

Q All right And that's what she said that she thought occurred?

A Yes

Q And you said, when you testified, what you thought occurred --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

And did you hear Sara Wilson's testimony in this trial?

A Yes

Q And did you hear her say anything about you suggesting to them that they ought to go talk to somebody about Anatabloc?

A No Her testimony was she didn't remember any request that I have a meeting -- that they have a meeting with anybody from Star And, in fact, she already had the meeting before on her own

Q Let's go to GX 499 Back to Dr Davis for a minute And Page 6 of that exhibit

A Yes

Q Do you recognize this?

A I do

Q And what is it?

A I got this from my sister, my partner, in MoBo But this was the release that Dr Davis wrote to MoBo Real Estate regarding the loan of $50,000 to indicate that it had been paid in full as of December 20th -- I'm sorry, as of the end of the year It had been repaid in full.

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: If that -- if it's not been admitted, I ask that -- I think it is admitted But if it's not, I'd ask that it be admitted.

THE COURT: I think it's been admitted, but I -- it will be admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Mr Dry, I believe, asked you about did you understand that Jonnie Williams -- with respect to MoBo and the loan time frame, March of 2012, that Jonnie Williams had spoken to Mr Uncapher, and I believe you said "about several things" or "for several reasons " Is that right? Or did you -- what was your understanding?

A I'm sorry Could you -- I'm not sure I understand the question

Q I'm not sure I understand my notes

Did you understand that Jonnie Williams had spoken to Mike Uncapher on several occasions?

A As of what date?

Q This is the March time frame when you're talking about this loan to MoBo

A Well, I understood he had spoken to him at least once because of Mr Uncapher's e-mail to me back in January that has been introduced that said that he and my wife had initially spoken to Mr Williams about the loan And if he had spoken to him at another time, Mr Asbill, I'm not sure But at least on one occasion I knew that

Q Okay Let me go to -- because it's right here, and it overlaps with some of the things yesterday I want to talk to you about the concept of vacations that Mr Dry was talking to you about yesterday And I think he pinpointed one of them. This is GX 755 We looked --

MR ASBILL: You can pull that up again That's -- oh, I'm sorry

MR DRY: We can switch it around

MR ASBILL: Yeah If you can pull it up, GX 755

MR DRY: Oh, 755?

MR ASBILL: Yeah, I think that's -- I think I wrote down the number right

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Is this your schedule in the March 13 to March 18 time frame?

A Yes

Q And there was some sort of a trip to Florida during a portion of that?

A Yes Some was personal Some was Republican Governors Association

Q Okay And when Mr Dry asked you yesterday about the 18, quote, vacation trips during 2011 and 2012, was this one of those?

A Yes

Q Okay

THE COURT: Just hold that there for a second

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Now, of those 18 trips that he asked you about, how many of the 18 were you and your wife just alone together on the trip? I don't care about EPU people I'm just talking about without family or friends or anything else -- anyone else?

A I think this one here was the only one The other ones, there were children or others with us

Q And on how many of the 18 trips, whether or not you were alone or whether or not there were family or other people around, did you talk with your wife about the nature and extent of her relationship with Jonnie Williams?

A Probably none

Q And on how many of the 18 trips did you have disagreements or arguments about one thing or another with your wife?

A Many

Q On this particular trip that we just pulled up on the screen, on this trip to Florida, what was, if any -- or was there tension between the two of you on this trip?

A Yes This was a day after the session was out, and I know I was just flat exhausted And we spent a lot of time just reading and not doing a lot of communicating And there was certainly some tension, yes

Q In terms of tension on other times, more or less? What?

A I mean, there was in a period of time that still continues to today where we've had significant problem talking about the things that are important in the relationship And there was not a lot of -- there was not a lot of communication during that time We spent a lot of time reading

Q Were you talking about all these illegal deals that supposedly occurred between you and Jonnie Williams?

A No Absolutely not

Q Now, I believe you've testified on several occasions that you almost never, you rarely talk with anyone about any of the personal challenges that you had in your marriage; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q On one of the 18 trips, did you have one in the middle of July of 2011 to Camp Pendleton?

A Yes

Q And who else was present on that trip?

A I think at one point or the other, all my children were there, and my wife was there

Q And that occurred how long after -- this is July It's July, right? This is before the September 5th, 2011, e-mail that has been the subject of some testimony in this case --

A Yes

Q -- is that right?

A It was

Q And during that trip, did you talk to anyone about any difficulties in your relationship?

A Yes

Q Who?

A I spoke -- I spoke briefly to my oldest daughter Jeanine

Q How old is she?

A She's now 33

Q Did you get into detail with her or talk generally or what?

A It was general, although I told her what some of the challenges were She's my eldest daughter, Iraq war vet She's been a confidant and a friend, as well as my daughter So I talked to her for a little bit I just needed somebody to talk to at that time

Q And in summary, without getting into details here, what did you tell her about the nature or status of your relationship at that time?

MR DRY: Objection Hearsay

THE COURT: Overruled

MR ASBILL: What he told her

THE COURT: Overruled

A I don't think there's much I told her she didn't already know I told her her mom and I were having some significant troubles communicating I told her I was worried about her mom because of these chronic flashes of anger, that, you know, we were having some challenges with the office And I just asked for her help to continue to do everything we could to help love her mother and do everything we could to encourage her mom, tell her she was doing a good job and try to do everything that we could to embrace and encourage Maureen to try to stop the anger and the problems that I saw with dealing with my wife

Q Let me go forward to 2014 Mr Dry showed you some photos of you and your wife walking into the courthouse here --

A Yes

Q -- hand in hand, on -- it's January 24th, the day that you were both formally arraigned in this case?

A Yes

Q First day in court on this case?

A Yes

Q All right And he showed you some other photos throughout -- throughout the spring of 2014 of you all walking into court?

A Yes

Q And I think at one point, or maybe at several of the points, you were holding hands with your wife?

A Sure

Q Is that correct?

A Yes

Q Does that reflect -- do those photos and what you -- you walking in hand in hand, does that reflect some difference in the true nature of your all's relationship in the first half of this year?

A No I mean, I've known Maureen for 41 years, and, you know, we've had some very, very difficult times over the last, I'd say, ten, but particularly the last three and a half, the time I spent as Governor

But, you know, we had never -- we hadn't had more than a speeding ticket in our life, and to be charged with 14 felonies was just a crushing experience for my wife and I So, of course, I wanted to support her She wanted to support me One thing we agreed on was that we knew in our hearts we had not done anything improper or wrong or illegal, and we wanted to support each other on the day of this arraignment Absolutely

Q Is that true going into the spring in terms of other court appearances, motions hearings or various other court appearances that you both had to attend?

A Sure

Q At the time of the arraignment on the 24th of January, had you received or had your defense team received document production from the government of the 3-and-a-half million pages that have been discussed in this case?

A No, not to my knowledge They were, I think, a month late. So I hadn't gotten into much of the details of the government's documents at that time So --

Q All right

A So there were a lot of things I didn't know

Q Have you finished reading the 3-and-a-half million pages yet?

A No, sir

Q With respect to witness statements that the government produced, when did you first get access to those?

A About 45 days before trial, through -- through my legal team

Q And that -- and in fairness, that was the day that they were supposed to be produced --

A Yeah That's true

Q -- by the government --

A Yes, sir

Q -- is that right?

A That's right

Q Okay And having seen the documents and having read the witness statements as well, do you now know more about your wife, the relationships with -- her relationship with Jonnie Williams, the level of contact, things of that nature, gifts, et cetera, to your family, have you learned more than you knew in realtime?

A Yes, I have

Q All right Let me move on Mr Dry asked you about -- this is the March 12th call, I believe, or March -- when was the call with your sister Maureen when she got back from Jamaica?

A I believe that initial call was the evening of January 11th That was a Sunday night

Q And that's -- is that when you had the 22-minute call with her?

A Yes

Q All right And on that 22-minute call, I believe you -- you said -- or Mr Dry asked you a question, was that -- was that more social than MoBo business related, correct?

A I think it was a combination But she was trying to piece her marriage back together with this trip to Jamaica She had just gotten back I know she told me she was sick So it was mostly that I think she probably mentioned the check because it was in the text But we talked again the next night

Q I'm sorry That's March If I misspoke, it's March, right?

A Yes

Q I thought I said March, but --

A You did March 11th, 2012 That's right.

Q 2012?

A Yes

Q Okay And when you say "social," I mean, am I to understand correctly that that means talking about her trip to Jamaica and whether or not she was able to reconcile with her husband --

A Yeah That --

Q -- and talking about her physical illness problems?

A Yes, sir That's right As opposed to business, it was -- that was the majority of the conversation Yes

Q Okay But this is not -- social doesn't mean like chatty, fun --

A No

Q -- et cetera; is that correct?

A Right

Q All right The -- GX 815

MR ASBILL: Can we pull that up? This might be on -- I'm sorry I'm not sure whose

BY MR. ASBILL:

Q Mr Dry showed you this today. This is some sort of an RGA donor list?

A Yes That's what it is

Q All right And is this a document that before today has ever been shown in court?

A I'm sorry Would you repeat that question?

Q Yeah Before today, has this document ever been shown during this trial?

A Not to my knowledge No

Q And when did you first see it?

A Today

Q All right And you say you accept that if Mr Dry got this from the Republican Governors Association website, you'll accept the authenticity of this document and the accuracy of the figures here?

A Sure I mean, I was Chairman at the time, so I'm familiar with a number of these names I'm sure I raised some of that money So yes

Q Okay And is this something that you reviewed or thought about in realtime in terms of inviting people or not to the Healthcare Leaders event on February 29th, 2012?

A No I was not aware of any invitations to RGA people at all at the time of the leaders event

Q All right

MR ASBILL: You can take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q With respect to -- so, I mean, there was no -- let me just -- was there any effort to favor Jonnie Williams even though his contributions were in the thousands or, you know, $5,000, or whatever it was, versus much larger donors to the RGA?

A No Because I didn't invite Mr Williams or anybody from Star I circled a few of my personal physicians and asked for leaders at Massey Cancer and VCU to come And that was my contribution to the list about who I thought ought to come, in addition to whatever Dr Hazel was doing

Q Okay You said that you -- you recognized Dr Ladenson at the event --

A Sure

Q -- as an out-of-town guest, et cetera?

A Yes

Q Mr Dry showed you a picture of your wife whispering in your ear, appearing to whisper in your ear?

A He did Yes

Q Was that whisper about Dr Ladenson --

A I have --

Q -- or do you know what it was about?

A I don't know I really don't

Q Okay

A It could very well have been I mean, introducing Dr Ladenson and ten other people at the beginning of that event before I made my remarks in the place where I live, that would have been something I would have done at hundreds of events.

Q All right Now, that -- aside from Dr Ladenson's -- whatever connection he may have had to Star Scientific, did you know that he was the head of endocrinology at Johns Hopkins?

A Oh, absolutely That's why I introduced him

Q All right

A I thought that was a big deal It's a distinguished hospital

Q And did you think that that was a distinguished medical position for someone to hold?

A Sure Chair of a department at a place like Hopkins I thought was a big deal

Q Okay Dr Hazel He -- Mr Dry asked you about Dr Hazel --

A Yes

Q -- supposedly being upset about not having total control over the guest list or the invite list at the Healthcare Leaders event?

A I heard that

Q Okay And does Dr Hazel get to make that call totally on his own?

A Each Cabinet member that runs an event like this basically manages it But on some occasions, I'd add a few people I know on many occasions, the First Lady's office would do it Chief of Staff sometimes would do it So I -- I don't think I knew about any other invites other than the ones that I had made to add to the list until after this Dr Hazel never told me there was any flap about the invites

Q He never complained to you about anyone not being invited or being invited at that event?

A Not that I recall No, sir

Q All right

A And he normally wouldn't That wouldn't be the kind of thing he'd come and see me about

Q Now, he obviously had his own opinion about various things?

A Sure That's why I hired him.

Q And sometimes he shared them with you, and sometimes he didn't, right?

A He was -- he's a very skilled and capable guy and strong-willed and independent And that's why I hired him I really didn't know Dr Hazel really at all before I made him the Secretary of Health and Human Resources

But, again, I wanted the best and the brightest He's an incredibly skilled physician, had broad respect Was on the AMA Board I knew his father I knew his uncle I know he was of good stock, and I knew he agreed with a lot of my positions So I thought he was the right guy for the job

Q Did you think he was some sort of a yes, man; that if you send over Jonnie on a referral, something good for Jonnie is necessarily going to happen?

A No

Q Mr Dry asked you about all these notes, the yellow pages of notes, and he put them in chronological order, or whatever

A Yes

Q And they have been introduced in this case, and, you know, various different exhibit numbers, et cetera

A Yes

Q Just to be clear, these are ones you produced pursuant to a subpoena in this case?

A Yes, I did

Q The only existing copy, or whatever, original, of these documents?

A Yes, sir I made those just for my own personal use and my own folder waiting for documents And I don't think anybody in the world knew those documents existed but me

Q Nobody came and took them out of your office and gave them to the government?

A No I didn't have anything to hide I was glad to turn them over pursuant to the subpoena

Q There was no search warrant executed on the Mansion where the government took these documents?

A No, sir

Q Now, Mr Dry asked you a lot of questions about the discussion -- or the testimony of Mr Piscitelli and his description of the phone calls -- there was a phone call between you and your wife and Mr Piscitelli relating to --

A Yes

Q -- the MoBo stock issue, et cetera?

A On February 23rd, yes, of 2012

Q All right

A Yes

Q And at that time, whatever Mr Williams had been telling you that you took down in these notes, basically, none of that stuff had happened? None of the possible optional stock deals had happened; is that correct?

A No

Q All right And when you talked to Mr Piscitelli, were you telling Mr Piscitelli that, "I already got this stock and I want you to do something that sets up these structures based on what has already happened"?

A No

Q Well, what were you doing?

A No It was a proposal, almost a hypothetical at that point There was, again, one purpose of the call I needed to know whether, based on Mr Williams' proposal to me, whether or not Mr Piscitelli's company, Davenport & Company, if I was able to secure the stock loan, whether or not his company could afford MoBo a margin loan; i e , generating cash so that we could use that for the operations of MoBo during the spring That was the -- really the sole purpose of the call

And some of these other issues about stock -- what accounts needed to be opened I think were kind of what ifs If the loan were to happen, how could we set it up That's the way I understood it

Q So you're asking Mr Piscitelli to check within his own firm to see if various things could possibly be done?

A Yes

Q All right Did you ever direct him or instruct him during that call to actually do anything other than asking him to check on whether things possibly could be done?

A No, sir. I don't remember giving him instruction There was nothing to actually do unless the answer was yes, Davenport can do a margin loan He could not give me an answer on the phone call So he was going to do research and try to get back to me at some point

Q Well, assuming he gets back to you and says, "Yes, we can do X, Y, Z, et cetera, and give you a margin loan," would you also still have to get whatever the deal relating to the stock was with Jonnie Williams locked down?

A Yes Because my next part on the to-do list was to talk to Bert Poole, my business partner, my former law partner, and my person that did business law for me and for MoBo, I think he originally set MoBo up, I would have had him review those documents

Q All right With respect to this concept of a margin loan on volatile small cap stock, you know, the value ranged from, what -- from -- in the single digit range --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

A It was under 5 the whole time I saw it, I think

Q All right As opposed to some, you know, IBM --

A Yes.

Q -- or something like that?

Did you have any understanding about how much current value of the stock Davenport might want as collateral if they were going to give you 50,000 cash?

A That was one of the questions that I asked Mr Piscitelli My understanding, when I left that phone call on the 23rd, was he was not -- he said his company does do margin loans

And my best recollection is the reason he could not give me a clear answer on this stock at this time was that he told me that if -- for a small valued stock; i e , under $5, he wasn't sure whether they could do a margin loan on that, and if they could, whether it would be for the full value of the stock or maybe only 50 percent

I mean, that's generally what I remember him telling me In any event, I did not get an answer on that call He said he'd do some checking and get back to us And that's -- that's the last call that -- that's what happened on the 23rd

Q Well, let me ask you this At that time, did you understand sort of the basic theory of a margin loan to be --

A Yes

Q Let me ask you the question You put up stock as collateral Davenport gives you cash, correct?

A Yes

Q And if the stock value goes down below a certain point, below the value of the cash that they have given you, that Davenport is going to sell the stock?

MR. DRY: Objection Leading

THE COURT: Overruled

A I -- I'm not sure I understood that level of granularity from Mr Piscitelli He was helping to educate me a little bit. I never had done a margin loan But he did educate me somewhat on the -- on that concept when I talked to him

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you have an understanding, and if so, did you express it to Mr Piscitelli, or did you all talk about this stock, Star stock, being very volatile, meaning that the price could rise or fall dramatically in a day?

A Yes

Q All right Mr Dry asked you a question, and, I, frankly, can't remember what the question was But the answer you gave was, "We don't make decisions based on money "

A Yes

Q There was no follow-up to that, and I'm asking you what do you mean by that? What did you mean when you said that to him?

A You know, in the 22 years I've been in office, people routinely ask for things Again, some are donors Some are non-donors Some are gift givers Some are charities Some have no affinity or affiliation with government, and they just come and they need help with something

And my view had always been that government should be money blind, color blind, and try to always do what was the right thing for the State when a request was made If knowledge about one's contribution or a donation or a gift was in the purview of the decision-maker, that could either help or hurt that person's treatment before government, depending on the view Either help them because they are a donor or don't do anything for them because they are a donor

And so I think Secretary Cheng probably said it the best when he -- he testified the other day about the kind of internal rule, or at least certainly my compass and the ones that I tried to instill in our people, is try to do things that are right There are going to be people that are donors all the time walking in this office, but you've got to do what you really believe is right in your heart, in your secretariat, for the citizens and for -- for that department based on whatever the issue was

So that's a little more than you asked for, but I think that's what the people in my administration tried to do

Q Okay Let me pull up GX 320.

MR ASBILL: Would you highlight the text of the e-mail, please. It's already in evidence

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is the exchange between you and Jasen Eige on February 17th?

A Yes

Q All right And you basically -- you're the bottom e-mail?

A Yes

Q "please see me about Anatabloc issues at VCU and UVA"?

A Yes

Q And he says, "Will do We need to be careful with this issue "

And as you've described, you don't recall specifically getting up with him about it or the details of that; is that correct?

A That's correct

Q All right With respect to that, did you know -- I mean, at this point in time, had you ever talked to -- did you know what the conversation was between Jasen and Jerry

Kilgore relating back to the Mansion lunch event and the press release, or the efforts by Star to try to get a press release that made it a launch?

A On the evening before the Mansion event, no I've seen that since the investigation I heard his testimony in court But nobody talked to me, Martin or Jasen, about that eve of the Mansion event press release issue No They handled it, as I would expect them to

Q All right So when he's saying, "We need to be careful," if I'm understanding correctly, you don't know about his conversation with Jerry Kilgore, right?

A Right

Q And you don't know about Martin Kent, Janet Kelly, Jasen Eige meeting about that issue before Jasen attends the event with you --

A That's correct

Q -- is that right?

A That's right

Q And you don't know about their conversation afterwards concluding that there was no problem?

A No I just heard that in court I did not

Q All right

MR ASBILL: Let me pull up the -- if you can find it easily, Victoria, the June -- I think it's the June 16th, 2011, e-mail with the lengthy attachment

Okay We're on the same document right here, right?

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Okay This is an e-mail that is forwarded to you I believe on the 16th of June; is that correct? Or when do you get this?

A I -- it looks like the bottom, it's sent from Ms Fulkerson to Ms Sutherland on the 16th

Q Okay

A And then to my wife on the 20th I -- I'm sure I would have got it sometime, I guess, after the 20th

Q Okay So it goes from Fulkerson to Mary-Shea. From Mary-Shea to your wife, right?

A That's what this chain says Yes

Q And then ultimately, it gets forwarded to you?

A Well --

Q Even though the letter is addressed to you, the cover letter is addressed to you, it's sent by Star to Mary-Shea?

A Yes That's correct

Q Okay And this is when Mary-Shea, unbeknownst to you, is negotiating with Jonnie Williams about a job?

A Yes

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Let's pull up the attachment

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And this is a -- I'm not going to get into this letter, the details of the letter But in any event, this is a letter to you that you say -- the cover, at least, you say -- did you skim the cover at some point?

A I did -- my recollection, this was already printed out and was one of the dozens of documents that would have been put in that -- in a particular day in my read file

So I don't think I ever got it forwarded to me Somebody printed it out and put it in my read file And that comes from lots of sources So it was a hard copy that I saw

Q All right And did you page through the -- I don't know Were there 18 pages, or something, to it?

A Something like that I would have read, I think -- the cover page is what basically I remember and learned enough about it that I made a decision to send it to Dr Hazel

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Go down to the bottom of the letter, please, Victoria Very bottom of the letter Okay And bold the last sentence

BY MR ASBILL:

Q All right So, "Once you've had a chance" -- "once you've had a chance to review this" -- meaning this whole package, correct?

A Yes

Q That's what your understanding was -- "please have someone on your staff contact me "

A Yes

Q "Respectfully yours, Jonnie Williams, CEO," right?

A Yes

Q Okay Did you ever have anyone on your staff contact Jonnie Williams in response to this document?

A No

Q Ever?

A No

Q Thank you

MR ASBILL: Take that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q You got a number of questions I think from Mr Dry this morning about when you talked to your lawyers, or whatever, about the transaction, the MoBo transactions with Jonnie Williams, when you were going to talk with Bert Poole or when you talked to your accountants or other folks, et cetera --

A Yes

Q -- about whatever they were doing in relation to it, did you tell them about these, you know, loans or whatever, did you tell them basically about these things And the suggestion was did you tell them that you were engaged in some sort of a illegal quid pro quo transaction with Jonnie Williams

I take it you did not?

A No

Q And why didn't you?

A Because I wasn't

Q The information from Mr Cook, talking about him Did Mr Cook treat, tax wise, the loans to MoBo as loans to MoBo?

A Yes

Q And did he submit your taxes to the IRS with your permission or on your authorization?

A Yes And Pentagon Federal Credit Union and anybody else we asked him to send it to

Q To your knowledge, to date, has the IRS ever challenged the way you reported those loans?

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor

A No

MR DRY: Relevancy

THE COURT: Overruled

A No

BY MR ASBILL:

Q With respect -- back to the Dr Davis stuff for a second, on the -- on the bank applications, or whether or not they should have been on or not Has anyone ever accused you of wrongdoing with respect to how you reported the Dr Davis loans?

A No, sir, they have not

Q Yesterday, I believe, Mr Dry talked to you about the CigRx event, the stop-by event, et cetera?

A Yes

Q All right

MR ASBILL: I want to pull up RM-0094-0113

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize this document, or the first page of this document?

A Yes, I do

Q And what -- how many pages are in this document?

A I think there are hundreds

Q Okay Before -- I'm not going to obviously go into the hundreds

MR ASBILL: I move the admission of this exhibit, RM-0094-0113

THE COURT: Let me have the number again

MR ASBILL: RM-0094-0113

THE COURT: All right It will be admitted

MR ASBILL: And -- yeah, I want to just move the entire document into evidence, Judge I think there are 402 pages

MR DRY: Judge, we don't know what the other

401 pages are

MR ASBILL: Okay

BY MR ASBILL:

Q What are they -- what are the pages in this exhibit? I'm sorry That's fair to Mr Dry

A These are all business economic development related events I did during the time I was Governor that all have me either with a corporate executive, but in each of the cases, with a sign or with a product of a company that I was doing something with to either advocate their interests or have them jointly join with me on something that was important to the State regarding job creation, economic development

The first one is Wes Bush, the CEO of Northrop Grumman on their opening after they moved from California to Virginia

ICF That's Dr Kesavan, the CEO of ICF I think we've already showed the video

And there are many others But they are all the same of multiple events I did where I'm standing at or near a sign or logo of a company or had a product with me

MR DRY: Your Honor, I was just informed these are all pictures We're fine with that

THE COURT: It will be admitted

MR ASBILL: Thank you, Your Honor

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Now, some of these are stop-by events; is that correct?

A It could be stop-by. It could be me handing out a check for economic development It could have been them doing a check. It could have been -- I see Gamesa there We had a wind energy project off the coast.

There are multiple, multiple different things But most of them had to do with job creation, economic development or something that I thought was positive for our state

Q Okay And these were covered by the press?

A I would say almost all of them You see groundbreakings there I would say almost all these were covered by the press Some of them may have been ones that a photographer took that worked in the Governor 's Office But most of them were public events

Q All right

A In fact, I'm sure almost all of them were public events

Q Now, you can -- I'm going to get to one particular photo in a second --

MR ASBILL: Or excuse me You can take those down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q With respect to the concept of a press conference or a site visit, I think you said you never did that for Star?

A No

Q Now, I want to show you a photo that Mr Dry showed you yesterday GX 7, previously admitted

MR ASBILL: Will you pull that up, please

BY MR ASBILL:

Q It says, "Anatabloc Consumer Acceptance." This is something you said occurred at some Virginia -- at the Commonwealth Club at a PAC reception; is that right?

A Mr Dry said it was at the Commonwealth Club It looks as though that's the room I checked on the calendar for that day It appears as though I actually had a reception there for my Political Action Committee

So I guess the best answer, Mr Asbill, is yes, that seems to be what it was

Q Do you recall this event in particular?

A No, sir

Q Do you recall anything about it in terms -- like was Jonnie Williams present or was your wife present?

A I -- I don't know I haven't gone back and looked at the guest list so I don't know It would have been donors to my Political Action Committee that would have been there for this event

Q And when did you first learn about this particular photo?

A Sometime after the investigation started when Mr. Martin, Tucker Martin, my press person, came to me and asked me about this because there was a press inquiry.

Q And had -- I mean, had anyone ever asked you, from Star, whether or not they could use this photo for their promotional purposes?

A No

Q What did you do when you found out about the existence of this photo?

A My -- my Press Agent -- Press Chief asked me what I knew about this, and I said, "I don't know anything about it If they're putting it on their website and using my image and likeness in some way, it's certainly not authorized " Because we don't endorse specific products

And I think that was quoted in the paper, and then a couple days later, he told me it had been taken down

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: You can take down this photo

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Let me go to another topic Mr Dry asked you yesterday whether your wife has a history of, a history of making inappropriate requests to people for money Do you remember that question from Mr Dry?

A Yes

Q To your knowledge, before you learned whatever you learned during the discovery phases of this case before trial, when was the last time or the most recent time that your wife made one of these requests that you considered inappropriate?

A For personal purposes, not for the Political Action Committee, or something like that? You're talking about for personal purposes?

Q Right Inappropriate requests for money?

A I think back in the -- when we were in law school back in the 1980s, there were a couple of circumstances that occurred there that I thought were very inappropriate, and I talked to her about it

Q How long ago was that?

A It was 1988, 1989

Q And between then and now, or the time of this case, no other instances of which you were aware?

A I'm not aware of any No

Q Do you know whether, in relation to Mr Williams -- I mean, do you know the details of the conversations or did you ever learn the details of the conversation between Mr Williams and your wife that led to -- that led directly to the $15,000 check to Cailin or the $50,000 loan to her?

A I don't

Q Do you know whether or not she made inappropriate requests to Mr Williams with respect to those two transactions?

A I don't.

Q I want to ask you about the questions that Mr Dry asked you about yesterday with respect to your communications director That's a broad term you used to describe --

A Tucker Martin.

Q -- Tucker Martin --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

So it's not just Press Secretary?

A Yes

Q It's a broader job than that?

A It is

Q And he asked you about the paraphrased information that was reported in the Washington Post --

A Yes

Q -- about the wedding and who was paying for the wedding?

A Right

Q Is that correct?

A Yes

Q All right And he showed you that -- he pulled that up on the screen and showed you the Post paraphrase It wasn't in quotation marks, was it?

A No

Q All right And that account reported essentially, paraphrasing, Mr -- your communications director, that the family paid for the wedding; is that correct?

A Yes

Q All right And your understanding, you said, was that meant not the taxpayers?

A Yes And, in fact, the Post article that we looked at yesterday said exactly that; about a previous Governor having an event there for his daughter and getting criticized for using Mansion related budget for expenses So the question to me was was it State or was it essentially family

Q Okay And Mr Dry asked you were you here, and did you hear your communications director say exactly what's in this article?

A Yes

Q Is that correct?

A Yes

Q Were you here also when I cross-examined him about that transaction?

A Yes

Q All right And did you hear Tucker Martin say that in his view, you had never lied to him while he worked for you?

A Yes, I heard him say that And he's right

Q Let me talk to you about Roskamp that was discussed yesterday I believe you said something about that it was first brought up at the April 29th dinner between Celeste Williams, Jonnie Williams, you and your wife; is that right?

A Yes, sir That's my best recollection

Q All right And you said you knew at the time when it was raised that it was not going to happen And my question to you --

A For me

Q Beg your pardon?

A For me

Q For you You knew at the time -- not that Roskamp wasn't going to happen But you weren't going to go?

A Yes That's right

Q And what are all the reasons why you knew at that point it wasn't going to happen?

A Well, I am leaving in six days for a 13-day trip to China, Korea, Japan I had the wedding to follow I had significant travel after that in June with the RGA and so forth Further, I knew my wife had an interest in nutraceuticals But for me to go down, frankly, and see clinical trial with mice, I wasn't interested in that I was interested if there were going to be jobs created for Virginia by a Virginia company at some point But I didn't have an interest personally in going down there to see a mice study

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Let me pull up GX 114, please

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you recognize this document?

A I don't believe I'm copied on it, but I believe we've seen that in the trial

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: And yeah, going down to the -- in the chain to this particular e-mail that's now being enlarged

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is from Jerri Fulkerson to Monica Block, who is your scheduler?

A Yes

Q All right You didn't see this e-mail But in any event, you have talked about it? You've been asked about it during this trial; is that correct?

A I don't know that I've been asked But other witnesses talked about this document

Q Okay And in this e-mail from Jerri to Monica, Jerri says, "Jonnie said the Governor is going to Sarasota to Roskamp Institute," blah, blah, blah

That's not something, I take it from your testimony, you ever said to Jonnie?

A I did not.

Q Okay

MR ASBILL: Pull that down

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Do you have any personal knowledge about why Jerri Fulkerson thought you were going to go?

A Well, her e-mail said "Jonnie said "

Q But, obviously, your discussion with Jonnie wouldn't have led to that conclusion?

A No

Q And then ultimately, you get back and say, basically, in an e-mail that -- I think it's GX 118

MR ASBILL: Can we pull that up?

BY MR ASBILL:

Q And this is -- is this from Monica back to Jerri?

A Yes I'm out of the country at that point But this is a -- I guess a polite no Typical of what Monica would give

Q Because you say on the 1st of June, you have family related things that you want to do?

A Well, yes That and beyond

Q Okay And you basically ask, you know, "When is their next" -- or she asks for you, "When is their next event," at the bottom?

A Yes.

Q Okay And was there ever a next event that you attended?

A No

Q All right And did you have personal communication with Monica about this or any discussion with her about at least the nature of the e-mail that she should send to Jerri Fulkerson?

A I may have I don't recall -- recall Monica would routinely handle all the scheduling requests and virtually all of the time on her own, would give the appropriate responses So I don't have specific recollection about this event, no

Q Okay Let's go to the $50,000 loan to your wife That's the next topic I want to address that Mr Dry asked you about yesterday I have a few more questions on that I believe you testified that you said you -- you believed your wife when she told you in early June that she had not asked Mr Williams for the money when he delivered the $50,000 check to her; is that correct?

A Yes

Q And, I mean, you had no personal knowledge of whatever it was she said to you about that, whether it was accurate or not or true or not?

A You mean what she said to Mr Williams?

Q Yeah, what she said to Mr. Williams, or whatever I mean, who solicited whom --

A I don't --

Q -- or who offered what?

A I don't know for sure

Q All right And you've testified, I believe, that you didn't press her or interrogate her about that for the reasons that you've described?

A For the reasons that I've mentioned Yes

Q All right But she did give you the basic terms, the 4 years, 2 percent?

A Yes

Q No monthly payments?

A Yes

Q And why didn't you immediately call Mr Williams to discuss the loan or the loan terms?

A My basic concern was Maureen not telling me, as me being the financial manager and the potential impact of reporting requirements if she didn't inform me But it was her loan, and we were thinking paperwork was coming -- that's what I understood from my wife -- to submit the contract for the loan And I figured that with her new job making 40-some thousand dollars a year, she could pay it back in due course. So I wasn't that concerned about the financial aspects of it

And listen, at that point, I trusted Mr. Williams He -- I liked him since the time I had met him I hadn't done anything for him He hadn't asked me for anything So I thought we'd wait for documents to show and then it -- I'd look at them when they came and try to help make sure they matched the terms my wife told me

Q Well, you understand the -- I mean, whether the term was used or not, that there was no money due and payable on this loan --

A That's right

Q -- until four years from June 2011?

A Yes

Q Okay So --

A It was a balloon payment Yes

Q Were payments pay back concerns, were those an issue for you at that time?

A Oh, no, not at all These really supplanted -- when she told me she paid off credit cards, it was sort of a net net zero where we had the Williams loan supplanting a $20,000 credit card debt So that was a wash And then she had the $30,000 in stock I certainly would not have made those choices But for the reasons I've mentioned, I did not pick that battle with my wife at that time

Q Well, but she also told you that she was either planning or had taken the $30,000 and bought something for the kids; is that correct?

A The stock Yes

Q But she was not planning on giving it to them until they got married, or do you know --

A Yes

Q -- how that --

A Yes

Q Okay

A She had told me that for 20 years; that that was always her intent Yes

Q All right With respect to the credit card payments and the pay down of the credit cards, and that -- when you learned about the money, two credit cards had been paid roughly 10 grand on each credit card --

A Yes

Q -- is that correct?

A That's right

Q Okay And do you recall -- let me pull this up if you don't recall

One was PenFed; is that right? Some sort of PenFed Visa?

A That's right

MR ASBILL: Will you pull up RM-0796, please

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Is this one of the accounts that money was paid on?

A Let's see Okay This is a -- this is a February '11 -- wait a minute

Q Let me just ask it this way I can speed this up

With respect to two credit card payments, did you understand -- did you know whether or not those payments that were made -- that your wife said she made in the end of May or the early part of June, were those paid before the due dates, the next due date on the two credit cards?

A Yes That's why they were in my box pending payment I think some of these I did not have set up for auto transfer yet, auto payment out of my checking account -- or joint checking account And she took them out of the box They weren't due until 5th, 6th, 7th, something like that, in June

Q Okay The Mansion lunch event I want to quickly go to that for a second

A Yes

Q Mr Dry asked you about yesterday

MR ASBILL: Would you please pull up GX 207

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is an e-mail that you're not on, but you were asked about yesterday?

A Yes

Q Okay And this is from Adam Zubowsky to Mary-Shea Sutherland?

A Yes

Q All right And it indicates -- this is about the event; is that correct?

MR ASBILL: And yeah, would you bold that sentence below there Yeah And enlarge it

A Yes

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Okay So this is from -- this is from Adam to Mary-Shea mid-August, asking her, "Can you send me the details I know he's going to ask for details "

A Right

Q "Can you send me info "

At that point in time, did you know anything about it?

A Month

Q All right Let's pull up another government exhibit, which shows a phone call from your wife to you a few minutes before Adam's e-mail

MR ASBILL: This is GX 584, which is previously admitted

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Now, there's a three-minute call with your wife down there at 2:47 p m ?

A Yes.

Q You don't -- was that call about the Mansion lunch, or do you know?

A I don't remember the call But the first time I remember talking about that event that the First Lady's Office was putting together was from Adam, which would be typical Many events are done over at the Mansion, put together by the Mansion for Veterans and many other things that I find out through Adam.

Q Okay With respect to -- and I'll just pull up the document quickly

MR ASBILL: GX 231, previously admitted And go to the attachments Open that up

BY MR ASBILL:

Q This is the list of the folks who actually attended the lunch; is that correct?

A Yes

Q All right And you talked about putting the asterisk by various people's names, et cetera?

A Yes

Q All right And the stars, or whatever it is, you put by Virginia researchers' names, who are those folks that you put stars by?

A Those were the two -- the briefing sheet and what I knew from Adam was this was going to be an event where we'd get an update on Anatabine research, and a small group of people are going to come, and there was going to be -- there was going to be a check presentation At some point, I learned it was 200,000 I didn't stay I wasn't there for the actual presentations We left before that.

But coming back on the helicopter, my best recollection is I probably would have just looked at this real quickly to see who's coming from UVA and VCU

Q Okay You obviously knew the name Roskamp because there had been discussion about that before?

A About the trip Yes

Q All right With respect to the two people that were Virginia researchers --

A Yes

Q -- before, during, after, at any time at this lunch, did you ever ask those people to do anything for Star?

A No, sir Never did No

MR ASBILL: Excuse me, Your Honor

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you, at any time during that lunch or any other time, ever suggest in any way to Mr Williams that you would help him with whatever studies he was trying to get going or had going at UVA or VCU?

A No

Q All the conversations that you've had with him, did he ever ask you to do anything for him or his business, aside from calling his father, as you've described, or getting the initial referral from Dr Hazel?

A Well, he sent me the letter, the one we've reviewed, on June 16th

Q Yes Which you never did anything with, in terms of --

A I sent it to Dr Hazel with a -- maybe a quick note on it, like I would with any other request No

Q Mr Dry asked you if you returned the gifts to Mr Williams that -- whatever gifts he had given to you or your family that you had known about after the June 16th letter, and you said no Why didn't you?

A Because there was nothing, in my view, at all inappropriate or uncommon about me getting a letter from a Virginia businessman or, for that matter, a Virginia citizen with an idea or a proposal or an ask or a concern that they wanted state government to address

I looked at that, from what I read in the cover page, and then just seeing there were a number of technical attachments to that, felt that this would be something best to be handled by Dr Hazel That's typically what I would do I'd send it to a Cabinet member and say, "Please review, evaluate, see me, take action as appropriate " I'c put some note on it I didn't know if this was something that would need to go through the public procurement process, because we have competitive -- competitive procurement to -- maybe a study like that would fall under that So that's typically something I would send to a Cabinet member, and that's -- that's -- that's what I did

So I didn't see -- I had received many gifts from many people over the last couple of years before that, and I did my typical analysis of whether or not I thought there was anything inappropriate about a gift or the timing of a gift with regard to an ask or something, and I didn't see that there was anything inappropriate

Q Okay Yesterday there was also a discussion -- and I'm sorry to go back and forth with the topics, but they overlap for the two days -- about the MoBo loans, basically There was a -- about your notes from your first discussion with Mr Williams in early February And your notes said on one page, stock loan, and it talked about to Maureen or MoBo?

A Yes

Q And you said you circled that, et cetera?

A Yes

Q The circling of those things, the different color ink When in time, compared to the taking of the notes, were those circles put on the notes?

A The one that Mr Dry asked me about that circled MoBo, as opposed to Maureen, again, my best -- my best recollection is I was sitting on -- I was in the upstairs room in the Mansion, Governor's Mansion, taking those notes And then went to my desk to stick them in a file

And at some point before I went in, I guess I was at my desk there, and I circled -- I circled MoBo That's my best recollection, though I --

Q Okay Would giving the loan to your wife, as opposed to MoBo, exempt it from reporting requirements?

A No, sir In fact, it would be just the opposite Had a stock loan or a cash loan gone to my wife, I would have had to -- I would have had to report that, as I did with the other loan that Mr Williams and Starwood provided to her before That would have had to have been disclosed based on the principal occupation or business That's what the reporting requirement is

Q All right Did you ever tell Mr Piscitelli that you owned shares of Star stock?

A No

Q Did you say that your wife owned shares of Star stock?

A No

Q Did you know at that --

A Are you talking about the phone call, now?

Q Yeah, the phone call

A No

Q And why didn't you say that your wife owned shares of Star stock even if you didn't?

A Because I didn't know she owned shares of Star stock My understanding was she had sold it the year before as I asked her to do And when I filled out the Statement of Economic Interest, I am pretty sure I would have confirmed with her that, in fact, the sale had been made back in '11 Because if it hadn't, then I would have had to report whatever the value was at the end of the year I would have had to report that at -- on the 2011 SOEI

Q In terms of trying to get a, you know, $50,000 loan from Mr Williams, were you interested at all in trying to do some sort of stock transaction with him?

A No, sir What I understood from Michael and my wife, that it was a cash loan That's -- that's really the only need or purpose at that point was the operating funds for MoBo Because my sister and I had elected that's the route we would go that year So it was always about a cash -- about a cash loan

Q Okay I want to move on to the topic of your SOEI disclosure form There's been a lot --

A Yes

Q -- a lot of questions about that 2011, 2012, going back further, et cetera

Did you create these SOEI forms?

A No

Q I mean, did you -- did you have anything to do with creating the instructions on these forms or the definitions on these forms?

A No But this caveat is because I spent 14 years in the General Assembly, I may have voted on some changes on those forms during that time, from '91 to 2005 But they're all -- once the -- once the legislature passes the rules for the disclosures and the Governor signs the bill, then I believe the Secretary of the Commonwealth or another agency would actually promulgate the regulations and some of the definitions and so forth that are on the form

Q Does the federal government have anything to do with the SOEI or Virginia disclosure law?

A No, sir That's -- it's all state law

Q Has anyone ever accused you of violating state law with respect to any of these SOEI forms?

A No

Q Did you think that Mr Dry was suggesting that you had violated them yesterday?

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor

THE COURT: Sustained

BY MR ASBILL:

Q On cross-examination Mr Dry asked you about your SOEIs; there was no way anyone would know Ms McDonnell's loan was from Jonnie Williams based on how you filled out the form, correct?

A That's true

Q Did the form require you to fill it out any other way?

A No, sir It's occupation, principal business That's exactly what the form says, and that's what we listed on there Every -- every office holder fills it out that way It's the same

Q Did the form require you to list a wedding gift to your daughter who was not living with you at the time?

A No The forms are very clear that it's gifts to you, meaning the office holder The declarant is the one that has to list the gifts But gifts to other family members, even members of the immediate family, are not required to be disclosed on that form

Now, the law changed I believe effective July 1st, there were some amendments But during the entire time I was Governor, that was the law

Q Did you comply with the form's requirements with the exception of missing a couple of golf games?

A Yes We made some mistakes on that But to the best of my ability, based on advice I got and the forms as -- the information as provided through Katherine and my staff, I tried to do that every year Yes, sir

Q Did you ever take off any gifts from the forms from Mr Williams or Star or Starwood Trust because you were invoking the sort of personal friend definition?

A I didn't take them off for any reason, personal friend or otherwise The things that were listed on there through the information gathering process for Ms Harris and Ms Block remained on the form and were disclosed in due course

Q If you had chosen not to disclose gifts from Mr Williams or Star under the personal friend exception, you know, would that be despite -- would your staff know about those?

A Sure, they'd know about it But I could have -- if I had chosen to do that, it could have been like Mr Goodwin where it was listed on the form I made a decision, and I could have elected to remove the name

Q But you didn't?

A No

Q This personal friend concept on the form There's been testimony that you got some advice that a good starting point in the analysis is whether or not you knew the person before you got into politics, right?

A That was one bit of many bits of advice I got over the years on what that meant, because there's really no definition in the law

Q Okay And if you applied that as the exclusive test, then you wouldn't have had any new friends in the last 22 years, right?

A That's fair

Q So you analyzed it You made a decision about whether you thought someone was a personal friend or not in your judgment, based on what you understood --

A Yes

Q -- the forms to --

A I got advice from Ms Eige I got advice from Ms Kelly I looked at the Attorney General's opinion from Mary Sue Terry in 1998 that Mr Palmore had sent me in 2011 And based on those bits of advice, I made that decision, with a few people that I felt were appropriate not to disclose because they were personal friends

Q Okay I want to talk about the PenFed loan for a minute How many PenFed loans have you had before?

A I think I testified earlier, Mr Asbill The best of my recollection, if I include mortgages, equity lines of credit, HELOCs, car loans, it's got to be 10 to 12 or maybe more My recollection is I've been a member since I was a Lieutenant in the Army in 1976, or shortly thereafter.

Q On prior loans with PenFed, not the subject matter directly of this case --

A Yes

Q -- did you ever go through or back -- you know, if we go through this process, this back and forth draft iteration process that you've described in court with respect to the PenFed loans that are the charged counts in this case?

A Yes Not so much with the car loans, but I think virtually every mortgage application, which have been many, that's exactly what I did And I signed a final application at the time of closing, as I did in this case in April, May, and June Three different closings

Q In other unrelated to this -- to the direct charges in the case, back and forth between you and PenFed, were corrections made on -- by both sides during that process?

A Yes All the time

Q Did you knowingly make a false statement to PenFed or any other bank?

A No, sir Absolutely not

Q You testified, I believe, on cross-examination and a question from Mr Dry that donors would pay for access to you, access to you as the Governor; is that correct? Is that what you said?

A Perhaps inartfully But virtually every campaign event where I'm raising money and people show up, I believe that, at least in part, the reason that they are donating money like they would for any governor or any politician is they'd like to have a photo op They'd like to talk to that governor or elected official at some point So I think that's probably fair

Q Let me be a little more specific about the question This is August 25th, Page 4986, lines 16 to 21 And Mr Dry says to you about this topic, "I'm not suggesting there's anything wrong with that, sir I'm just saying as part of the political process, don't they pay to get access to you?"

And do you recall your answer being, "I think" -- "I think you could look at it that way Yes"?

A Yes

Q To your knowledge, is that any different from any other governor of any state or any senior elected official anywhere?

A I've gotten to know most of the governors in the country over the last couple of years, and especially the Republican ones, and the answer would be no, it's not

Q Have you ever heard of any governor anywhere being charged for meeting with a donor for that alone?

A No, sir

Q You've been asked repeatedly what you thought Mr Williams wanted Tell us, once again, what you thought he wanted

A It's impossible I've said a couple times every donor wants something, from good government and to see elected official do well, to a permit or something else, and everything in between It's very --

Q Did he ever tell you what he wanted?

A He did not That's what I said before He never told me specifically about something that he specifically wanted

Q And are you a hundred percent sure of that?

A Yes

Q Whatever financial issues you may have had in relevant time in this case, did you think your only financial option was to conspire either with Jonnie Williams or with your wife or with both of them to try to support his company in exchange for whatever gifts there were in this case or for a couple of low interest loans?

A No Absolutely not

Q Or for a few dinners or golf?

A Absolutely not No

Q Did you risk your entire political career, your reputation, your future, your family, by doing what you've been accused of doing in this case?

A No

Q Whenever your family, to your knowledge, or you personally was offered a gift from anyone, including Jonnie Williams, what was the analysis that went on in your mind about whether or not I should take that gift?

A Well, it was pretty clear And it was the same analysis I'd go through, too, for campaign donations And that is, is there anything about taking this gift or this campaign contribution that would in any way unduly influence me to make a decision for or against that contributor based on money And if the answer was no, then I felt that that gift could be accepted If the answer was yes, I wouldn't

Q Did you go through that process, that -- that internal mental process, every time anything came up with respect to Jonnie Williams?

A Or anybody else, especially if it was something significant Yes

Q Despite having come to that conclusion -- gone through that analysis, come to the conclusion that you're talking about, do you think that you and/or your family members took too many gifts from Jonnie Williams, or loans or whatever?

A Yes

Q Do you regret doing that?

A Yes

Q Why?

A While I only knew part of those gifts at the time because they weren't -- many of those were not related to me by family members, I'm responsible for my family I spent a lot of time talking to them, over the years, about what is appropriate conduct

I, being the Governor, allowed my life to get out of balance so that my judgment was not as good as it should have been with the acceptance of even those gifts that I knew about And so that is my error, and so I take responsibility for that

Q During the course of this trial, you've obviously been reluctant to talk about your marriage --

A Yes

Q -- and issues relating to your marriage; is that fair?

A Yes

Q Why have you done it? Why have you allowed me to ask those questions and answer them, and answer them for Mr Dry or Mr Burck?

A Because the charges claim that there was a criminal conspiracy between my wife of 38 years and me to sell my office to Jonnie Williams --

MR DRY: Objection, Your Honor, to the narrative answer

A -- and --

THE COURT: The objection is sustained

A It's -- I'm sorry I heard why

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, your Honor

THE COURT: It was an inappropriate question

BY MR ASBILL:

Q Did you feel you had to answer those questions in order to defend yourself --

A Yes

Q -- in this trial?

A I did

MR ASBILL: I have no further questions

THE COURT: All right You may stand down, sir

THE WITNESS: Thank you

(Witness stood aside)

THE COURT: All right We're going to have to have to stop there

Let me explain to you what we -- what we have left

Mr Asbill --

MR ASBILL: Yes, sir

THE COURT: -- is this your last witness?

MR ASBILL: One very short witness

THE COURT: Okay

Well, Mr Asbill has indicated we have one more, and after that, Mr Burck will put on his case And he's indicated five, six hours Maybe one day?

MR BURCK: Less than that, Your Honor Probably three hours or so

THE COURT: Okay

And then potentially some redirect -- rebuttal from the government So we're getting there, slowly but surely As we went through today, I was thinking to myself, maybe I was wrong when I said yesterday was the longest day of my life, but I'm still -- I think yesterday still wins the prize

Please don't discuss the case with anyone or allow anybody to discuss it with you, and continue to avoid all of the media coverage And we'll see you in the morning at -- let me see Kathy, is this thing still on?

We'll see you at 9:45 You all be safe, and we'll see you tomorrow And as I say, we're -- slowly but surely, we are getting there

MR DRY: Your Honor, can we approach?

THE COURT: Come up

(At Bench)

MR DRY: Our understanding is that the next witness is going to be Pam Watts, who's already testified, and she's going to be called as a character witness

THE COURT: Uh-huh

MR DRY: They were allowed to go outside the scope of her testimony when she testified on direct We view that the character testimony has gotten very cumulative at this point We object to her being allowed to testify as to character after Mr McDonnell's testimony

MR ASBILL: Judge, I didn't ask her any pure character questions when she was on the stand It was outside of the scope

THE COURT: I don't have any problem with it The objection would be overruled

MR ASBILL: Can you give us some guidance on future scheduling, in terms of charge conference and closing arguments and --

THE COURT: I have no real concrete idea You're talking about maybe two days?

MR DRY: Absolutely not, Your Honor I apologize We're cutting that way back We estimate that -- probably three to four hours at this point So if Mr Burck goes tomorrow morning, then --

THE COURT: All right Wednesday

MR DRY: -- we could be done by Thursday morning Maybe Wednesday afternoon

So we're just trying to get a sense of whether it would be possible for you to do the charge conference Thursday

THE COURT: Well, you know, if you finish Thursday morning or Wednesday night, that's when the charge conference would be

MR DRY: Is the Court inclined to have closing arguments, even if they are on Friday, with the three-day weekend, or is the Court inclined to have the closing arguments on Tuesday? I think that's one of the questions that we have

THE COURT: The answer is the Court is not inclined to be here on Tuesday

MR DRY: Fair enough

THE COURT: If we can get this evidence in tomorrow, then Thursday morning would be the charge conference And then we would go -- after we resolve the instructions, we would go into closing arguments

MR DRY: On Thursday

THE COURT: On Thursday

MR DRY: Yes, sir

MR BURCK: Your Honor, just one quick question My client will not testify

THE COURT: Okay

MR BURCK: I don't know what your particular rules are If you are inclined to inquire of her about that decision, that would be fine with us

THE COURT: Sure I'll do that at the end of your case

MR BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor

MR DRY: Thank you, Your Honor

(In Open Court)

THE COURT: 9:00

JEFFREY B KULL
OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

P-R-O-C-E-E-D-I-N-G-S

THE CLERK: Day twenty-three, Case Number 3:14CR12: United States of America versus Robert F McDonnell and Maureen G. McDonnell The United States is represented by Michael Dry, David Harbach, Jessica Aber, and Ryan Faulconer Robert F McDonnell is represented by John Brownlee, Henry Asbill, Daniel Small, James Burnham, and Christopher Iaquinto Maureen G McDonnell is represented by Heather Martin, William Burck, Stephen Hauss, and Daniel Koffmann Are counsel ready to proceed?

MR DRY: The United States is ready to proceed.

MR. BURCK: Maureen McDonnell is ready to proceed.

MR. ASBILL: Mr McDonnell is ready to proceed.

MR. BURCK: Your Honor, during Ms McDonnell's case, we intend to call a former counsel to her at the very beginning of this case in February of 2013 The purpose of it goes only to the obstruction count, Count Fourteen, because he was her attorney at the time The information that we intend to elicit goes only to conversations that Mr Flood, her attorney, had with the prosecutors right after she was interviewed in February of 2013, and then the fact that he passed that information on to her And that's all we intend to elicit

I've spoken to the government about this And in principle, as I understand it, they have no objection. They haven't heard the testimony yet, so they obviously are reserving their right to object on privilege grounds or on relevance grounds But as I've explained it to them, as I expect the testimony to come in, I don't think that there will be a dispute on privilege, relevance, or on different recollections of what occurred, at least material disputes But again, I'm not holding the government to it, of course, but I just wanted to alert the Court to that.

MR. DRY: Your Honor, just briefly, this puts the government in an awkward position, because Ms Aber and I were the witnesses to those conversations So to the extent that there's going to be factual disputes between what was said, that raises an ugly specter that we would have to testify in this case So what the government would request is that before Mr Flood testifies, that we have a short ten-minute recess in order for Mr Burck to confirm exactly what facts he intends to elicit so that we can, if there is a factual dispute, that we can at least raise that with the Court beforehand and kind of iron that out

THE COURT: That's fine Just let me know when you are about to do it

MR. BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor

MR ASBILL: Just to advise the Court, we are going to rest at this point without calling any more witnesses, subject to cleaning up any exhibit issues There may be an outstanding motion But if that results in some sort of document being admitted, we would certainly reserve that right But in terms of witnesses, as soon as possible the jury comes in, I'm going to rest.

THE COURT: Thank you. On the subject of motions, we had McDonnell's Motion Number 38 That motion will be denied There was an outstanding motion that had to do with Mr Goodwin

MR ASBILL: Yes, sir

THE COURT: And I have the defense position The government has not responded. We need their position on the record so I can resolve it

MR DRY: Your Honor, the government opposes the motion to exclude the Goodwin evidence In fact, the Goodwin evidence has become more relevant and more probative because the Governor testified that he over-disclosed when it came to Mr Williams; even though Mr Williams was a personal friend, he was over-disclosing The fact that from the Government's view Mr Goodwin was not a personal friend and he failed to put down a $23,000 vacation to Kiawah Island is probative, is admissible, and the motion should be denied.

THE COURT: All right That motion will be denied. I'm trying to, as we get toward the end, trying to clean up some of these motions that were left outstanding I think I still have to do that media motion. I've got to deal with that But all of these things, as I indicated earlier, some of them I let go because I didn't want to have opinions out that would influence what anybody is thinking about things So I will get those, everything done in due course.

All right, let's go ahead Mr Asbill, I will call on you so that you can rest in front of the jury

MR. ASBILL: Thank you

THE COURT: All right Bring them in.

(The jury entered the courtroom.)

Good morning All right, Mr Asbill?

MR. ASBILL: Your Honor, Mr McDonnell rests

THE COURT: All right Thank you very much. Mr Burck?

MR BURCK: Thank you, Your Honor We will call our first witness That will be April Niamtu.

APRIL NIAMTU,

called as a witness by and on behalf of Defendant Maureen G. McDonnell, having been first duly sworn by the Clerk, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Good morning

A Good morning

Q Could you move a little closer to the microphone maybe? Could you please state and spell your name for the court reporter, please?

A April Niamtu, A-P-R-I-L, N-I-A-M-T-U

Q Anyone ever spell your name wrong?

A Very often, not only spell it but say it wrong

Q Even people you consider friends?

A Absolutely

Q What's your occupation?

A Well, first of all, I'm a mom. I have three children Two, my youngest, have severe disabilities They cant sit, stand, walk, and they have severe seizure disorder

Q And have any other occupation besides --

A Yes, I'm also the Director of Niamtu Cosmetic Surgery Education. My husband holds two workshops a year that he teaches continuing medical education for facial rejuvenation surgery

Q I'm a fast talker, too, but I'll ask you to slow down because this guy has to take down every word both of us say And on top of that, do you do any volunteer work?

A Yes I served on the Board for Safe Harbor for domestic violence victims from 2006 to 2010 Then from 2010 to 2014, the Virginia Board for People with Disabilities And then for the last 14 years, I have worked with the Greater Richmond ARC, that assists children with disabilities, actually, from zero to the grave And I've raised, helped them raise over a million dollars over the last 14 years for children to receive therapies and equipment.

Q Do you know Maureen McDonnell?

A Yes

Q When and where did you first meet her?

A Back in the election, when he was -- when Bob McDonnell was campaigning in 2009, Maureen came to one of my husband's seminars that he gives annually It is a ladies' night out And he kind of shows what he does surgically for facial rejuvenation.

Q How were you introduced to her there?

A My husband introduced me to her

Q Did you speak with her after that?

A We actually sat together and chatted quite a bit until Joe started speaking and we had to shut up.

Q Joe is your husband?

A Joe, my husband, yes.

Q Did Mr McDonnell attend the seminar at all?

A He came maybe halfway through He picked her up on his way to a speaking engagement And when he arrived, my husband introduced him, let Bob speak for a few minutes, and then they whisked him away

Q Just to be clear in time frame, was he Attorney General McDonnell then or candidate McDonnell?

A He was candidate McDonnell He was running for Governor

Q Now, you stayed acquainted after that, I guess?

A Immediately we just started calling each other, e-mailing each other, talking to each other.

Q Would you say you became friends?

A Very quickly

Q Could you put an exact date on the day you became friends?

A No

Q Is that the -- that's not the way friendship works

A No

Q Did you at some time become aware of Ms McDonnell's passion for nutraceuticals?

A Pretty quickly I think she even mentioned it the night of the event I think she even gave me a little capsule to take home and put it on my face that night to see if I liked it

Q A capsule of what?

A Nu Skin.

Q And what did she say about it when she first started talking about it?

A She, I don't know that she really got into so much at the very beginning. She was just saying that she was very involved with nutraceuticals, she was very passionate about it Within probably a month or so, she invited me to a girlfriend's house in Northern Virginia where they kind of give a presentation about Nu Skin And I learned more about it there, not so much that she gave me a pitch, but I learned about it through this little party at someone's home

Q Did you become a Nu Skin salesman or a Nu Skin person?

A No

Q And did she introduce anyone else in your family to Nu Skin?

A My husband.

Q How did that happen?

A I'm not really sure I think she came to his office He gets called on weekly for, you know, different skin care products, laser products, whatever And she came in and asked him if he would be interested in selling that in his practice

Q And does he sell her Nu Skin products in his practice?

A No

Q Did he ever?

A No.

Q Now, moving forward to the time that she became First Lady, did you provide her any assistance with the transition into the First Lady role?

A Yes She had a good solid ten days of inaugural events that she had to attend, and I helped her match outfits She was so worried and so anxious that she wasn't going to look the part, look the right way for each event, so I kind of helped her put the outfits together I helped her packing up the Glen Allen house, at least the master bedroom part, and also, when we were talking with the inaugural things, I could tell she bit her nails really badly I told Maureen, "You have really got to stop biting your nails " I even talked her into getting acrylic nails at one point just to stop biting them.

Q How did those work out?

A They didn't work out well at all because within a week they were all bitten off again.

Q Did you have any role with helping her pick out accessories for the Mansion?

A Yes Once she got into the Mansion, I helped her go shopping for the bed linens and bath linens for putting the Mansion, the private quarters together

Q Were you sort of operating to a budget when you were helping her with her outfits and the linens?

A I don't know that there was a so-called budget, but Bob was giving her a hard time about spending and trying to really keep it curbed to a minimal amount She was really trying to stay within a budget

Q And have you ever heard Ms McDonnell refer to you as a longtime friend?

A I would say over the last couple of years she has referred to me as a longtime friend.

Q What are the circumstances when she will refer to you that way?

A When she is just introducing me to someone new

Q Has that happened more than once?

A Many times

Q And having gotten to know Ms McDonnell, have you gotten a sense of whether she is a trusting person?

A Oh, very trusting

Q And would you even say a gullible person?

A Very gullible.

Q Are you familiar with something called FLITE, F-L-I-T-E?

A Yes, the First Lady's Initiative Team Effort

Q Did you have a role in FLITE?

A I did. I was one of the first core members with

FLITE And our role was to reach out to the community and find organizations or people that were actually making a difference or a change within the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Q And what types of causes were you trying to help promote?

A The film industry, wine industry, health and wellness, our military Just all ranges across the, you know, what we were doing in the Commonwealth

Q And in what setting were those the initiatives that were decided upon?

A We had a conference meeting and we decided those -- she actually had those already in place of what she wanted, and then she asked us to help her build them up

Q And is it fair to say that part of your involvement was because of your friendship?

A Yes Absolutely

Q But also because of your experience with philanthropic causes?

A Absolutely

Q Have you contributed to her legal defense?

A Yes

Q Now, have you ever traveled with Maureen McDonnell?

A On one occasion.

Q When was that?

A That was back in October of 2011

Q And where did you go?

A We went to her Nu Skin convention in Utah.

Q Is that the only place you went?

A No. We actually did a diversion to California

Q All right We will get there in a minute

A Okay

Q How did this trip to Utah come about? You said you are not a Nu Skin person.

A No In early, I would say somewhere early August, she had asked me about going to, more towards the end of August, she asked me to, as a girlfriend, to go with her on this trip We had talked about going on trips before, but it never worked out for me And this particular one, it was a time that I could possibly work it out

Q In addition to you possibly having availability, did she state any special or particular need to have a girlfriends trip at this time?

A She was actually exhausted. She was dealing with the chef, Todd, as well as Mary-Shea Sutherland, and she was just -- she goes, "April, I just need a girlfriend there that has nothing to do with the Mansion, nothing to do with anything I just need girlfriend time Could you please go with me?"

Q This is the September-October, 2011 time frame?
A Yes
Q You said she was dealing with the Chef Todd issue Tell us a little more about what that's about
A Secretively, she told me not to disclose this to anybody, but she need needed someone to talk to. And she felt very let down by Todd, you know, making all these allegations And she didn't know what to do about it She was so blindsided
Q And then you said the Mary-Shea Sutherland incident, so what was that about?
A Basically, she, you know, behind Maureen's back she was cultivating this relationship with Jonnie Williams, and she was again blindsided by another staff member, and she just didn't know what to do She needed to find someone to replace her and didn't really know where to look.
Q So you said she confided the Chef Todd information to you in confidence Did she say anything about the Mary-Shea Sutherland --
A Everything she said to me was in confidence I didn't share that information with anybody
Q Did she also confide in you about the state of her marriage at all at that time?
A She never talked about her marriage

Q Is that something -- did you ever see her talk about her marriage with anybody else?

A No

Q Is that something you would have expected her to talk about?

A No That would have been a betrayal to Bob if she did

Q Now, so did you immediately agree to join her on the trip to Utah?

A No My 14-year-old had just recently had a pretty significant medical issue, and he actually was non-responsive for three days We were at VCU under critical care, which Bob and Maureen came and visited Joey during that time And I wasn't sure what my situation was going to be And as the days progressed, he improved and got better, but I really needed to make sure that I had my nursing under control And my mom was able to be there for that week to oversee the nursing care

Q Did you eventually get to a point where you decided, yeah, it will be okay for you to go on the trip?

A Yes Towards the end of September, I made that decision and I booked my flight

Q Can we pull up RM-0333? Is this a portion of a credit card statement of yours?

A Yes

Q Can we go to Page 2, please? Does this show you booking a commercial flight to Utah for the trip with Ms McDonnell?

A Yes

MS MARTIN: I move the admission of RM-0333

THE COURT: It will be admitted

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Now, was Ms McDonnell also going to fly commercial with you?

A No

Q What was her travel plan, if you knew?

A Her intent was to fly out with Jonnie Williams, and my intent was to fly back with them. I was just going to buy a one-way ticket out there

Q Why weren't you traveling with her?

A Because my husband and I had agreed to be guest bartenders for a fundraising event for Safe Harbor the night that she was leaving, and I had already committed to that, so I was going to fly out there the following day

Q So this document shows that you had a date of departure of October 27th?

A Correct

Q Do you see that?

A Uh-huh

Q A little to the right there And her plan was to leave on the 26th?

A Yes

Q You couldn't do that

A No

Q We can take that down Thank you Now, did you, I guess, did you know, you said she would be flying out there with Jonnie Williams Did you have any idea what their flight accomodations were going to be?

A No, I just knew they were flying out there and I knew he was meeting her

Q Did you have any contact with Jonnie Williams in the intervening time period?

A Probably a week later It was the Spielberg event that the Governor's Mansion held for the filming of Lincoln. My husband and I were guests to be a part of that And I think I met Jonnie there, but it could have been my second time meeting him. There were so many times I was around him during that time frame, I don't remember if it was my first or second time meeting him.

Q You definitely ran into him there?

A Yes

Q Did you speak with him at all?

A I did. I guess Maureen introduced me to him, and she said, "This is who I'm going to be flying out there with." I think that's when I did meet him, because now that I am thinking about this, she said, you know, "He has agreed to fly me out there and he will take us home " I was like, "Okay, that would be great " He said, "Oh, it is no big deal I fly out to California all the time My daughter lives out there I'm always back and forth to California "

MS ABER: Objection to the hearsay

THE COURT: Sustained.

THE WITNESS: It is not hearsay He said it to me

BY MS MARTIN:

Q What impression -- did Jonnie Williams leave you with an impression about his willingness to fly people to places on his jet?

A All the time He said he flew up and down the East Coast all the time and out and back to California all the time; it was no problem taking Maureen out there for her convention

Q At this point, was any mention made of you joining him on his plane?

A He said, "Oh, you should really --"

MS ABER: Objection.

THE COURT: The objection is sustained And it is hearsay And I make that call So go ahead.

THE WITNESS: I apologize

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Well, suffice it to say, at the end of that evening, did you make a decision to join them on the private jet?

A Towards the end, the week before we were supposed to leave, I decided to join them Because my husband said, "April, I'll take care of it, just go. Maureen needs you."

Q You said that was shortly before the trip out?

A The week before

Q What did you do with your commercial ticket that you had purchased?

A I just canceled it

Q Could we please bring up RM-1257? Is this an e-mail from Maureen McDonnell to you and others with an attachment, Nu Skin Reservation Chart?

A Yes

MS MARTIN: I move its admission

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

MS MARTIN: Could we just find April's name in there? Second line in the middle Can we take that down? Then can I -- please pull up RM-1260

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Is this a Nu Skin Reservation Chart with your name on it?

A Yes

Q Indicating that you were staying with Maureen McDonnell in Utah?

A Correct

MS MARTIN: I move its admission.

THE COURT: It will be admitted.

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Below you and Ms. McDonnell, who else does it show were intended participants of the Nu Skin convention?

A Jonnie and his wife, Celeste.

Q All right And below that there is a Shirley Forbes.

A Shirley Forbes

Q Did she join?

A Yes, she was on the flight with us

Q And Diana and Joe Hayes?

A Yes, Diana and her husband, Joe, yes

MS MARTIN: We can take that down I'm sorry, can I just pull up RM-1257 one more time, in evidence already? If we can blow up the recipients, please And if we could just go up to the top line and highlight who all received this e-mail

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Does that say Jonnie Williams there, Jonnie Williams, Sr ?

A Yes

Q All right We can take that down Now, once you changed your plans to fly on Jonnie Williams' jet, what did you anticipate your itinerary being?

A I thought we were just going out to Utah and back

Q And did that impression ever change?

A When I arrived at Millionaire, Maureen --

Q What is Millionaire?

A Millionaire Airport. It is a private airline at Richmond International Airport

Q So when you arrived there, what happened?

A Maureen said, "There has been a change of plans," did I mind going out to California first to drop off somebody before we go on to Utah. I said, "I don't care, this is your weekend. I'm just here for you."

Q And to drop somebody off Did she give any more information about that or did you learn any more information?

A I'm not sure if I learned that moment, but on the plane I learned that the person that we were dropping off was a research doctor from Johns Hopkins And he was going out there to give a presentation and he needed to get out there first

Q Do you remember the name of this doctor from Johns Hopkins?

A I know his first name because we chatted, but I couldn't pronounce his last name.

Q What was his first name?

A Mario He was Italian. I remember that because my husband is half Italian, and we got into a conversation about Italy.

Q Can we pull up RM-1261? If we can focus in, is this a flight itinerary that shows you, among others, going to California?

A Yes

Q And if we can go to the middle line where it says, "To Salt Lake City," it says, "Drop First Lady security" after that

A Yes

Q Is that when you arrived at the airport? Is that what you had expected your plan to be?

A Yes

Q And that's not what happened?

A No.

Q So what happened instead? We can take that down. Thank you

MS MARTIN: I'm sorry, I move the admission of RM-1261

THE COURT: It will be admitted

THE WITNESS: Okay, so when we were on the plane, so I'm sorry, what was the question?

BY MS MARTIN:

Q Well, you said that the plan had been changed and you were going to drop a doctor off, is it in California, you said?

A Yes

Q And so is that what ended up happening?

A No We ended up all staying in California We landed halfway through the country to refuel, go to the restroom, pick up food, which Jonnie had a nice box lunch for us, and then continued on to California

Q All right Sort of set the scene for the airplane for me How many people were there? Who is sitting where?

A Okay So the back of the plane was myself and the doctor, Mario. And then Shirley Forbes Maureen and Jonnie faced each other Jonnie's best friend sat next to Jonnie across the way And I, the First Lady's security, was in the very front of the plane And Shirley Forbes -- did I say Shirley Forbes already? So Shirley Forbes was on there, too So I think there was eight of us and then two pilots

Q And what was the sort of atmosphere like?

A Oh, it was extremely friendly You know, we were all talking about our families, friends, kids Jonnie was passing around pictures of his daughter and how beautiful she was and that she was, you know, an aspiring model

Just carried on very friendly, easy conversation

Q And did you specifically see the dynamic between the First Lady and Jonnie Williams?

A Oh, yeah. They were best buddies. They were just chatting away like they had known each other forever.

Q Did you have a sense at that time of how long they had known each other?

A No

Q And did you interact with Jonnie Williams at all?
